are brushed into the drawer when the wearer leaves her post.

Each section is provided with scales, and every blank must be carefully filled until it is exactly of the required weight. The amount of filings and dust collected in this room is weighed and refined quarterly. From one of its carpets, burned in 1893, $4,415 in gold and $23 in silver were recovered. All the blanks which have passed the weighing test are taken to the coiners' room and fed by hand, through a vertical tube, into the milling machine. They are carried around at the rate of 600 revolutions per minute by an automatic feeder. The milling is for the purpose of raising the edge in order that the medallion work on the surface may be protected. It also serves to render the pieces perfectly round. They are then cleaned and taken to the pressroom, where a pressman feeds them to an automatic pair of feeders, which place each separate piece on the reverse, or lower die. The obverse die, fixed on a joint above, comes down and every mark is made upon the coin at one stroke

STORES TO CLOSE.

Announcements Made of Establishments to Close on Account of Evangelistic Services.

All the druggists in Plainfield and North Plainfield have agreed to close their respective places of business this evening at 7 o'clock in observance of the union evangelistic service of prayer to be held in the First Baptist church this evening. In case of emergency the customer is requested to go direct to the church for his druggist.

The saloonkeepers with few exceptions, have also cheerfully complied with the request to close. They will not be open between the hours of 3 and 6 this afternoon and 7 and 10 o'clock this evening.

Nearly all of the butchers and grocers in the city have agreed to close their places of business this evening at 6 o'clock so as to give themselves and their assistants, an opportunity to attend the evangelistic meetings.

OLD RESIDENT.

James R. Phillips, Who Died Yesterday Was Well-Known In This City.

James R. Phillips, who passed away at his home on West Front street yesterday, had been a resident of this city for many years and leaves a large circle of acquaintances. He was one of oldest members of Plainfield Council, No 711, Royal Arcanum, and also belonged to Senate Lodge, K. of H. The deceased had been ill for many months. The case of death was paralysis.

Mr. Phillips was in his fifty-eighth year and is survived by five daughters and one son, all of whom reside in this city.

The funeral services will be held from his late residence romorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

DEATH OF MRS. DAY.

Mother of W. E. Day, of Grove Street, Died at Home in Mansfield, Mass.

W. E. Day, of Grove street, received word today of the death of his mother, Mrs. C. C. Day, of Mansfield, Mass., which occurred early this morning. She had been ill for some time. In addition to Mr. Day, she leaves one other son, Charles F., and two daughters, Frances E. and R. Annie, who resided with her.

Mrs. Day was a former resident of the borough, living for many years at the corner of Park place and Duer street. The remains will be brought to this city and interred in Hillside cemetery.

Gave Her a Chance.

The hearing in the case against Phillys Brown, a colored woman, charged with assault and battery upon Christopher Columbus Maden, of West Third street, was postponed this morning by City Judge Runyon until Saturday in order to give the woman sufficient time to summon witnesses.

Still Alarm.

A still alarm early last evening called West End Hose Co., No. 3 to the residence of Arthur Venable, on West Third street, near Plainfield avenue. There was no need of their services as the trouble was due to a smoky chimney.

SENATE HAS PASSED REDISTRICTING BILL.

Bill Reapportioning Congressional Districts Went Through the Upper House.

THE MINORITY OBJECTED.

SUSSEX COUNTY WANTED TO BECOME PART OF FIFTH DISTRICT.

Senate and House Passed a Number of Bills During Yesterday's Session of the New Jersey Legislature—Important Ones.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 12.—Although the Congressional redistricting bill is not satisfactory to everybody, there is no doubt but that it will be passed. It came up before the Senate at yesterday's session and was finally passed after an attempt by the minority either to kill or amend it.

Senator Martin, of Sussex county, offered an amendment to take Sussex out of the proposed Sixth district and place it in the Fifth district, with Warren, Morris and Union. This would leave the Fifth district as it now is. Mr. Reed said that, although Sussex might object to being put in a different district, the same conditions prevailed in many other counties. After Mr. Hudepeth, of Hudson, had objected to the bill, the amendment was lost and the bill was passed in its original form by a party vote.

The Governor sent to the Senate the nomination of David Baird, of Camden, as a member of the State Board of Assessors, to succeed General Bird Spencer.

The Senate passed the House bill permitting the closing of an alley in Hoboken to facilitate the construction of the new docks of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company. The Senate also passed the House bill appropriating $14,700 for the purchase of additional land for the Soldiers' Home at Kearny, and the following measures: Senator Stokes' amendment to the General School law; authorizing Common Councils to fix a definite term, not exceeding three years, for recivers of taxes and city treasurers; making it unnecessary for cities to submit to the approval of voters the amount of money to be raised for lawful purposes.

In the House the following bills were passed: Permitting Bayonne to build a dock; correcting errors in the act of 1890 concerning the naval and military forces of the State.

Among the bills introduced in the Senate were two by Mr McCartar, designating the method of taxing bank and trust company stock, which was determined under the existing law by a recent decision of the Supreme Court.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

A Serious Charge.

James Wilkinson, through his attorney, J P D Kirch, appeared before Justice Nash yesterday and made a complaint against his wife, Clara Wilkinson, and George Henry, charging them with a serious offense. The defendants were arraigned last evening. The woman was committed to await the action of the May Grand Jury, while George Henry furnished bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the Grand Jury. Lawyer William G. DeMeza represents Mr. Henry.

Quaint Customs in Shetland.

The only part of the United Kingdom in which the old style of reckoning time is adhered to is the archipelago of Shetland, and there Sunday, January 13, was New Year's day But Sunday being with the natives a strict dies non for business or for pleasure, the next day witnessed the high jinks incident to the occasion These included processions of "guisers," or mummers, and the drinking of various strange toasts, such as: 'Heit to man and death to da gray-fish,' and the health of the 12 apostles. In Shetland the remnants of the old Norse language linger to such a degree that the dialect is almost a sealed book—even to Scotsmen. The last specimen of the great auk, whose eggs are now valued at something like 100 guineas apiece, was done to death there, but the little auk still retains a precarious footing on the lonely islet of Foula.—London Mail.

Coldness in the Family.

The young married man was visiting at the house of a neighbor the other evening and of course he must take his wife with him.

"By the way," he remarked, during a lull in the conversation, "I was over to your office this noon while you were at dinner. I was looking over your typewriter, and I like it first rate. What's the name of it? Suppose I could get one like it?"

"Well, I guess so, "said the neighbor, "her name's Mary and she's a twin. If you'll come to the office tomorrow I'll introduce you to her sister, who comes in every day about two o'clock."

It took the young married man 15 minutes to convince his wife that he was speaking of the machine, not the operator, and he has not spoken to the neighbor since.—Omaha News.

BOROUGH REPUBLICANS WON THE DAY BUT FAILED TO CAPTURE ASSESSOR.

Assessor Elston M. French Re-elected By Fifty-six Majority After a Hard Fought Election.

REST WAS A CLEAN SWEEP FOR THE REPUBLICANS

HOT FIGHT FOR MAYOR OF FANWOOD BOROUGH RESULTED IN A TIE.

Democrats Won At Dunellen and Somerville—Honors Divided By Parties At Bound Brook—Republicans Defeated In North Plainfield Township—Westfield For Police Force.

MAYOR N. B. SMALLEY.

ASSESSOR E. M. FRENCH.

Successful Candidates.

The strenuous fight made to defeat Mayor N. B. Smalley and the other Republican nominees in North Plainfield, and thus score a repudiation of the present borough administration, resulted in the triumphant election of the whole Republican ticket by good majorities, with the exception of Horace J. Martin, the candidate for assessor, who went down in defeat before Elston M. French.

Mayor Smalley received 253 majority over Woodruff while French, the only Democrat elected, obtained 56 more votes than his opponent for the assessorship. Andrew Lutkins ran behind his ticket for freeholder. Jacob Voehl, the Democratic candidate for the freeholdership, was next highest man on his ticket. H. S. Thomas, the majority party's candidate for a justiceship, polled the highest number of votes cast for any one candidate, receiving 591 of the total vote cast, which was 924.

There were many split Republican tickets, especially in the Second district, and the "knifing" was mainly aimed at the assessorship.

The election returns can be taken as a complete vindication of the policy pursued by Mayor N. B. Smalley during his term of office The fight was made largely on the issues and personal popularity did not materially affect the contest except in the case of Elston M. French. The voters of the borough have endorsed the administration of Mayor N. B. Smalley and stamped their approval upon the progressive stand he has taken in borough affairs. The widening of Somerset street is what the people declared they wanted in yesterday's election. The slight increase in the tax rate must be taken as meeting with the approval of the voters.

The vote polled was a medium-sized one, but the unprecedented amount of cutting caused much delay in counting the votes, and it was midnight before the returns were in from the First district.

The total vote was 924. In the First district, 486 votes were cast while 438 were polled in the Second. The Democratic candidates ran away ahead of their party vote in both districts with the exception of Leander W. Hammond, a candidate for one of the justiceships of the peace. He ran eight votes behind his ticket.

The election of Elston M. French was no surprise for the defeat of his opponent, Martin, was freely predicted before the polls opened.

Jacob Voehl, the Democratic candidate for freeholder, made great inroads into the ambitions of Andrew Lutkins. In the Second district he came within 38 votes of tying the present freeholder's vote. For the collectorship, George F. Brown fell a few short of his party vote.

Justice David D. Smalley, who ran for re-election on the Democratic ticket, received but 353 votes, which is unsufficient to give him another term.

Northrop and Nichols, the two new candidates for the Council on the Republican ticket, were elected by safe majorities, Northrop running slightly ahead of his colleague on the ticket. The Democrats named no candidates for the commissionership of appeals and poundkeeper and so W. C. Smith and Israel Lewis, the Republican nominees for the two respective offices, were elected.

No fight was made on the amount of appropriation for the Board of Health, and but two votes were recorded against it. There was only one ballot thrown out on the ground of irregularity.

A few votes were cast for candidates other than those named on the tickets. Among these were two votes for E. M. French for freeholder and one for collector; one vote for J. C. Martin for assessor; one vote for D. D. Mills for commissioner of appeals; one vote for W. C. Smith for councilman; two votes for W. J. Conroy for councilman, and one vote for Wm. Campbell for commissioner of appeals.

In the First district alone there were 211 split tickets, of which 170 were Republican, and in the Second district cutting played an even more prominent part, and here again it was confined almost exclusively to the Republican voters. The Democrats in both districts, with few exceptions, voted the straight ticket, while the Republicans slashed right and left and particularly, as before stated, the assessorship nomination.

The vote in detail follows:

	1st Dist.	2d Dist.	Total.
FOR MAYOR.
N. B. Smalley, R....	321	264	585

votes were cast. Both parties worked hard to get the party support out but it was impossible to do it.

The main fight was made for the office of township committeeman for three years. The Democrats were able to return the present committeeman, Theodore Bruchman, by a majority of 38 over Wm. R. Buckley, the Republican nominee. Robert Walpole, Republican, defeated his Democratic opponent, George Vanderbilt, for the office of constable by a majority of 33. Kleineer, the Republican overseer of the poor, was retained in his office by a majority of 33. Commissioner of appeals, for two years, Henry Cook, Republican, was elected by 17 majority over John Cole, while Chas. Eller, Democratic nominee for commissioner of appeals for three years, defeated John Cole. Andrew Scheffer and Thomas S. Whitenack, Republicans, were elected surveyors of highways. All the appropriations were carried. But one ballot was rejected.

POLICE ADVOCATE WON.

Election at Westfield Was Uneventful But for Fight Over Maintenance of Police Force.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, March 13—The anti police advocates were completely routed at the election here yesterday when the Republicans carried the police appropriation of $2,500 by 199 votes.

There was but little interest shown in the election as the Democrats had placed the same names on their tickets as the Republicans and the only change was the police appropriation, the Democrats claiming the police department should be run for $1 500 while the Republicans thought $2,500 the right figure.

W. W. Connoly, who was elected to the township committee for one year last spring, was re-elected for the term of three years.

The vote was:

	1st. Dist.	2d. Dist.	Total
Republican.....	212	184	396
Democratic.....	53	100	153
$2 500 for police..	190	168	358

The following appropriations were carried: For roads, $5 000; poor, $1,000; fire department, $800; fire hydrants, $800; sewer maintenance and interest, $2 500; police, $2,500; township expenses, $2 500

AT DUNELLEN.

Democrats Elected All Their Ticket With Two Exceptions—Tie Vote For Councilman.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, March 13—The result of the election in Dunellen yesterday was almost a complete victory for the Democratic party. With but two exceptions their entire ticket was elected and one of these, Lewis Schneider, candidate for councilman, tied with Joel C. Giddis the Republican nominee. An appointment will now have to be made by the Council, having power to do so in such cases.

The entire vote in brief was as follows: For mayor, R. J. Swackhamer, D., 185, Frank Wynkoop, R., 117; for members of the Borough Council, Joel C. Giddis, R., 151, Robert L. Giddis, R., 121, Lewis Schneider, D., 151, J. F. G. Kenney, D., 175; for freeholder, P. C. Staats, D., 151, F. H. Gise, R. 145; for commissioner of appeals, J. P. Apgar, R., 147; for assessor, J. H. L. Peters, D. 160, Charles A. Coriell, R 138; for constable, C. Wesley Blaine, R., 147. The Democrats had no candidate for commissioner of appeals or constable.

REPUBLICANS WON.

Elected Entire Ticket in Piscataway Township With Exception of One Constable.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, March 13—In the Piscataway township election held yesterday, the Republicans secured every office with the exception of constable. The vote was as follows: For town committeeman, Nelson M. Giles, R, 133, C. T. Rogers, D, 114; for surveyors of highways, Albert L Boice, R, 144, Luther Boice, R, 142, Lewis Harris, D, 106, Conrad Egel D, 108; for commissioner of appeals, William T. Dayton, R, 141, Benjamin A. Letson, D, 109; for constable, William Beilly, D, 128, R. L. Pierce, R, 112; for justice of the peace (no opposition) Nelson B. Giles, 98. The appropriations were fixed by the Republicans at $5,000 for roads and $1 000 for poor which was sustained by the voters.

TIE VOTE FOR MAYOR.

Exciting Election at Fanwood Borough With Three Tickets in the Field.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Fanwood, March 13.—Who is to be mayor of the borough is a thing still undecided, after one of the fiercest and hottest elections the residents of Fanwood have ever enjoyed. When the polls opened yesterday morning the regular Citizens' ticket named at the borough primary Thursday evening, and headed by Thomas S Young, for mayor, found two opposition tickets in the field with plenty of support to give battle.

Thomas S. Young's nomination for mayor was supported by two factions, the Citizens' ticket and the Independent Citizens, the only difference in the two tickets being an opposition to Wm. E Collins in the run for Councilmanic honors, his opponent being John O. Stevens, who was also receiving the support of the third ticket, the Independent. A. D. Beeken was also named on the latter ticket as opposition to Wright Babcock. All factions worked hard all day to get their supporters at the polls and the result was 74 ballots were cast out of a registry of about 90. When the polls closed at 7 o'clock last night both sides claimed a victory, and the counting of the ballots was an exciting period in the lives of the borough residents.

The two candidates for mayor kept right together throughout the count and when the last one was counted found the borough still undecided upon the mayoralty question, as each candidate had received 37 votes, making a tie, while the honors in the Council chambers had been awarded to Messrs. Warren, Stevens and Babcock.

H. Proal Robinson had a complete walkover for the office of commissioner of appeal, as he was on all tickets.

All appropriations were carried and the vote on bonding the borough for the purpose of laying concrete sidewalks, was carried by a majority of 4 There being 32 for and 28 against.

LAD KILLED BY FAST TRAIN

WAS TRYING TO CATCH UP WITH HIS FATHER WHO WAS AHEAD.

Accident Occurred at Westfield This Morning—Boy Was Son of Prominent New York Lawyer.

Westfield, March 13—Rodman Brown, the thirteen-year old son of H. Hoffman Brown, a prominent New York lawyer residing on Clark street, was struck by a fast express on the Central Railroad near the Westfield avenue bridge at 8 o'clock this morning, and instantly killed.

The boy was running after his father who was hurrying along the tracks to catch a train at the depot. Local passenger trains were approaching in both directions while the express was on the west bound main track. In some manner he became confused and stepped directly in front of the latter train and was struck. Death was instantaneous.

The body was picked up and taken to the station. County Physician Westcott was notified and after viewing the body granted a permit for its removal to the bereaved parent's home.

JOSEPH NOEL MISSING.

Disappeared Monday Morning and Family Is Greatly Worried About His Absence.

Joseph Noel, of 409 West Third street, disappeared from the city last Monday morning at 11 o'clock and has not been seen since. His family is greatly worried about him as it is feared something may have happened to him. He was employed at Rogers' fish market and after drawing his money he left at the hour stated. He has suffered three sunstrokes, one very severe one last July. He has been ill for some time and had threatened to kill himself.

He is described as 5 feet 2 inches stout, 53 years of age, gray hair and moustache. He wore a black plush hat with an astraskan rim. He also wore black trousers, three coats, one brown, a Jersey and a dark blue one.

Rather Expensive Fun.

Eugene Britton, colored, of East Fourth street, was this morning allowed by City Judge Runyon to choose between paying $5 fine and spending twenty days in jail for bruising the eye and otherwise disfiguring the features of Clara Dawson, who boards at the same place as Britton. The prisoner's plea was that he was only playing with the Dawson woman.

Was Not Work He Wanted.

Walter Holden, a printer, of Bound Brook, came to Plainfield yesterday in search of work, but incidentally succeeded in finding too much liquor. He was arrested by Patrolman Vanderweg for drunkeness and disorderly conduct on Park avenue yesterday afternoon. City Judge Runyon suspended sentence at the hearing this morning.

Must Be Good Now.

John Williams was arrested last evening for being drunk and disorderly on Park avenue by Patrolman Lunger. He was given a hearing by City Judge Runyon this morning and sentence was suspended on his promise to conduct himself more orderly hereafter.

GREAT CROWDS STIRRED BY FINAL APPEAL OF EARNEST EVANGELISTS.

Closing Meetings In The Local Gospel Campaign Held Last Evening Were Very Impressive.

TWO LARGEST CHURCHES IN CITY CROWDED.

DAY WAS OBSERVED AS ONE OF PRAYER AND STORES WERE CLOSED.

Great Congregation Present At Meeting In First Baptist Church In Afternoon—Remarkable Farewell Meeting at The North Avenue Railroad Station.

With a fervor and earnestness that is seldom seen, the series of evangelistic meetings in this city, which have formed Plainfield's share in the great Twentieth Century Gospel campaign, came to an end last evening. The concluding meetings displayed to some degree the wonderful results of the labors of the last sixteen days. They formed a fitting climax for the greatest evangelistic movement that Plainfield ever saw. Nearly all of the business establishments of the city closed during the afternoon or evening of this last day of the active campaign. Services were held morning, afternoon and night and the day was made one of prayer that the work so auspiciously begun might continue to prosper. In the evening, the throngs which came to the meetings were so great that the two largest churches in the city were filled to their limits and other overflow meetings were necessary. It was a remarkable demonstration.

For the last sixteen days, special services have been held in this city under the auspices of the Minister's Association. All the evangelical denominations have united to assist in the work. Rev. Theodore S. Henderson, pastor of the Simpson M. E. church, of Brooklyn, addressed the meetings. Then came William Phillips Hall, the well-known evangelist. He has been in charge since his arrival ten days ago, while Rev. Mr. Henderson assisted in the work. F. H. Jacobs, W. S. Weeden and W. C. Weeden have assisted in the musical part of the services while Mr. Jacobs conducted meetings for children and for men.

While the special meetings ended last night, the Gospel campaign has not. The local pastors and the lay workers will work with zeal and energy to make permanent the impression which these meetings have made on the community.

THE AFTERNOON MEETING.

A multitude thronged the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon to hear the Gospel preached by the remarkable business man evangelist, Wm. Phillips Hall. Rev. G. W. Gardner, pastor of Grace M. E. church, conducted the preliminary service of prayer, which included the congregational singing of favorite Gospel hymns and a number of short prayers.

A few remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Gardner on the Christian duty of helping to convert sinners. Christ's command to Peter as contained in John xxi:15, "Feed My Lambs," furnished the text for the subject on which Mr. Gardner dwelt. One must first humble himself with a contrite heart and then take unto himself this same commission given to Simon Peter. Prayers by City Judge William N. Runyon and several others closed the half hour's devotions.

The main service was commenced by Rev. T S Henderson as soon as "I must tell Jesus" was rendered under the able leadership of W. C Weeden.

A general supplication for God's mercy and blessing was led by Rev M. Gardner. F. H. Jacobs sang in fine voice "He Saves Me" and was followed by W. C. Weeden who rendered "The Home Land."

"Verily, verily I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber," and "But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep" (St. John x, 1, 2.) was the Biblical quotation upon which Mr. Hall dwelt in his inspiring talk. God, said he, makes plans for man to work out and when man presumes to make arrangements for himself without consulting God he deceives himself.

One frequently thinks he can pursue the even tenor of his own way but he finds that he is grievously mistaken and it is essential for man to remember that only Christ can lead and he must follow. Holiness is what is desired and this condition is one of spiritual healthiness and, when spiritually sick, man responds to anybody, but when well only to God.

The speaker described the two classes of church members, one possessing bare spiritual life, who are in the majority, and the other having abundant spiritual life, and these are sadly in the minority. Jesus, said he, came to save people from their sins, not in their sins, and He now calls upon man to make Him master and minister of himself. Only when the spirit of God is within one can there be true liberty.

Mr. Hall concluded his address by relating his own experience as a faithful and dutiful follower of Christ. Those who were Christians as well as those desiring to become so were asked to stand up and the vast majority of those present responded to the invitation. The services were concluded with singing "Nearer My God to Thee."

AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Solemn and impressive was the closing meeting held in the First Baptist church last evening. Hymns, prayers, and the deeply earnest address by William Phillips Hall were all full of a feeling of regretful farewell. An immense congregation filled the building, many persons standing or being seated in chairs. On the platform with Mr. Hall were Rev. J. W. Richardson, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., Rev. Charles L Goodrich, Rev. G W. Gardiner, John Irving Lewis, a member of the executive committee of the Twentieth Century Gospel campaign, Frederic H. Andrews and Wm. N. Runyon.

The chorus choir, which was unusually large, the platform being filled to its utmost limits, was under the charge of F. H. Jacobs. The song service began early, on account of the rapid filling up of the church. Opening prayer was offered by Mr. Gardiner and Dr. Schenck. While the announcements were being made, Mr. Hall expressed his thanks to all who had helped to make the meetings a success, including all the committees, ushers, singers, personal workers and the press of the city. During the offertory the choir sang softly "Lead Me Gently Home, Father."

Before the beginning of his address Mr. Hall asked City Judge W. N. Runyon and F. H Andrews each to say a few words. Mr. Runyon's brief speech was a deeply earnest appeal to those who were not Christians not to resist the call any longer but to give themselves to God without delay. Mr. Andrews urged those who were Christians to a deeper spiritual life, and reminded those newly converted that they have been saved in order that they might

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

Rev. Mr. Harada, who acted as Dr. Clark's interpreter during his last visit to Japan, has a flourishing Christian Endeavor Society in his church at Kobe. Last year the society, with the help of the women's organization in the church, raised $750. The money has been used in the erection of a "Shimshukwan" or Christian Endeavor House. The purpose is to provide a comfortable boarding place where young men can be under Christian influences. It has accommodations for twenty persons and has already accomplished much good.

Christian Endeavor headquarters have been opened in Minneapolis and hereafter there will be on hand a full line of Christian Endeavor literature and supplies. The rooms will be made attractive and will be freely used as a convenient and enjoyable meeting place for northwestern Endeavorers.

The Immanuel Reformed Endeavorers, of Alliance, O., have opened a Sunday-school in a neglected and remote suburb of the city. The results have been so gratifying that a building to take the place of the rented room in which the school now meets, is in contemplation.

Many of the Christian Endeavor societies of the county and State are receiving new accessions to their membership through the special meetings which have been held in accordance with the plans of the National Gospel Campaign.

It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1 00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

"Herrmann the Great" will be the attraction at Music Hall tonight. This marvelous exponent of the black art is, without question, one of the best known and most talked about entertainers in all the civilized countries of the globe. His feats of legerdemain border on the marvelous and are startling and sensational. In fact it may be truthfully said, that he stands aloof and alone as the past master of the magic art. New wonderful and startling tricks are added each year to his repertoire and his entertainments improve as time progresses. Herrmann excels even his ancestors in the art of palming. He has more of this class of tricks and they seem more startling to the casual observer. His illusions are wonderful and the three which he will present here are new to this city. They are called "The Mysterious Tub of Neptune," "La Supplice de Lutece" and "Cremation" in which a beautiful young woman is burned alive before your eyes. A strong feature of the entertainment is the musical act of the five Nosses, wonderfully clever performers on numerous and various kinds of musical instruments. The act is a refined and highly artistic one and is beautifully costumed and mounted. The performance as a whole surpasses all previous Herrmann entertainments.

The laughing, rollicking, three act musical farce "The Governor's Son" at the Savoy Theatre, New York City has made such a hit in their rather dull theatrical season, with standing room only at a premium every night, that Manager L. C. Behman, after four successful weeks, has booked for another four. The sprightly and catchy songs are being heard all over New York. This is George M. Cohan's first production of whole evening's entertainment, and four weeks' popularity at the Savoy means that the clever four as stars are making for a higher notch in the theatrical world.

—Like Oliver Twist, children ask for more when given One Minute Cough Cure. Mothers endorse it highly for croup It quickly cures all coughs and colds and every throat and lung trouble. It is a specific for grippe and asthma and has long been a well-known remedy for whooping cough. L. W. Randolph.

You can use any letter as many times to make a name as it appears in the list of letters above; for instance Woodcock, Plover, Snow Bird, etc. To any persons who can make a list of 25 or more different names of birds, we will give absolutely FREE a beautiful Prize value 1,000, dols. or less.

BIG PRIZES AWARDED DAILY.

When you have made out your list fill out the line on the bottom of this advt, and send to us with a Stamped Addressed envelope, stamp of your country will do, then if you are awarded a prize you can if you desire get the prize by becoming a subscriber to The Woman's World We shall award a prize to every person who sends the name of 25 Birds, and our gifts will be as follows: For the best list, received each day, a Gold Watch; for the second best solution each day a beautiful Imported Tea Set; for the seven next best solutions each day, a Konrah Sakin Diamond and Ruby Ring; for the next best solution, a Gold Piece; and for all other correct solutions, Prizes of Good Value. These Prizes will be forwarded daily, you will not have to wait a long time in uncertainty before you know the result There is no element of lottery in our plan, it makes no difference whether we get your solution late or early in the day. All you need is to mail this advt. to us, and on the day it reaches us, if your list is the best, You shall have the Gold Watch, or if second best the beautiful Tea Set, and so on. We guarantee that we will award you a prize. There is absolutely no opportunity for deception on our part—we cannot afford it. We want to get 1,000,000 well-satisfied subscribers, and for that reason we don't want you to send any money until you know exactly what prize you have gained by answering the puzzles. As soon after 4 p. m. each day as possible, the examiners will judge the lists to the best of their ability, and will designate the prizes. We will write to you at once notifying you what prize has been awarded you, then if you are satisfied, you can send your subscription to The Woman's World and your prize will go by return of mail, carriage paid. To a person of narrow ideas it seems impossible that we should be able to make such a gigantic offer, but we have the money, brains and reputation, we know exactly what we are doing, and if we can legitimately gain a million subscribers by this grand idea we know that this million of well pleased subscribers can be induced to recommend The Woman's World to all friends, thereby building up our circulation still further. We are willing to spend 25,000 dollars in this contest in building up a big subscription list, and when this money is spent we reserve the right to publish a notification that the contest has been discontinued. Don't delay until it is too late. The contest will continue until July 1, 1901.

We give a Bonus Prize of 250 dollars, independent of all others, to the person who sends in the list gotten up in the best and handsomest manner. Our committee will decide and award prizes daily, but the special 250 dols. prize will be awarded in September, 1901 Any birds name found in the dictionaries accepted.

THE GILMAN MILLIONS

Some New Light Thrown on the Case.

OPPOSING INTERESTS HAVE AGREED

Mrs. Hall to Receive a Proportionate Share of the Tea Merchant's Estate—A Great Shrinkage of Values.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The fight over the estate of George Francis Gilman, who made his money in the tea business, was amicably settled yesterday by an agreement among the adverse interests, and there will be no litigation over the final disposition of the property. This agreement was arrived at after several conferences of counsel for the heirs of the full blood, those of the half blood and Mrs. Blakely Hall, who had maintained her first position that she was the sole heir to Mr. Gilman's estate.

Frazier Gilman, one of the half brothers, who is staying at the Astor House, admitted last night that a final agreement had been reached. He said that the time since his half brother's death had been largely occupied in determining the exact value of the disputed estate, both in New York and Connecticut. The investigation had been carried on by the lawyers representing each interest and had resulted in the conclusion that the whole estate, both real and personal, aggregated $2,500,000. It was found, he said, that the property in this city which the late Mr. Gilman owned was encumbered with mortgages, as is the estate at Black Rock, Conn.

In view of the fact, therefore, of the great decrease in the supposed value of the estate, which had been estimated as running into the tens of millions, it was thought advisable and in the best interest of all concerned to forestall any litigation. Such litigation, Mr. Gilman said, would result only in eating up the whole estate in lawyers' fees and costs of court, and there would be nothing for any of the heirs at the end.

When it was found that the estate would not reach a total of more than $2,500,000, and an agreement among all of the heirs, numbering about 20, and including Mrs. Hall, was reached, it was decided to reserve a certain part of the money for the purpose of carrying on the business of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and for paying costs of administration in this state and in Connecticut.

This sum, Mr. Gilman said, is to be $500,000, which it is believed will be ample to carry on the business and to pay legitimate legal expenses. This amount will be deducted from the total estate, and the remainder, $2,000,000, will be divided among the heirs.

With regard to the standing of Mrs. Hall in the matter, Mr. Gilman said that she would have exactly the same status as the others interested in the case. She will give up her claim to the Black Rock property, which will be turned into the general fund for division when sold.

Mrs. Hall was not in this city yesterday, her interests being looked out for at the several conferences held by her lawyer, E. S. Hatch.

Wants American Horses and Jockeys

MEMPHIS, March 13.—M. Nicholas Characaise of Brussels is at Montgomery park in search of thoroughbred horseflesh for racing purposes in his native country. M. Characaise is the nephew of Baron Characaise of Chateau de Mappes, Jumaris, Belgium, and a prominent factor in the affairs of the Belgian turf. He is also in search of one or more American jockeys. "We have but few race courses in Belgium," said M. Characaise, "but our people are very fond of the sport, and it is on the increase. I am here in America to buy horses and to contract with jockeys. I represent several owners who have given me carte blanche and to sign an American jockey at any amount within reason. There is a great demand for American jockeys in England, Austria and France as well, and I do not believe that the supply will reach the demand. One thing is certain, we are willing to pay for what we get and do not want something for nothing. A boy that is good enough to win races in this country can get an annual contract calling for 40,000 Belgian francs, which is approximately $8,000 in American money."

No Mining Trouble Looked For.

PITTSBURG, March 13.—Thomas Lewis, national vice president of the Union Mine Workers, is in Pittsburg attending the local scale conference between representatives of the miners and operators. He said he had no doubt but that a satisfactory settlement will be made, and he does not anticipate any trouble on April 1, when the new scale goes into effect, in any part of the mining states governed by it.

Operation on Bourke Cockran.

NEW YORK, March 13.—For a slight affection of the throat with which he has been troubled Hon. W. Bourke Cockran has submitted to an operation performed by Dr. F. H. Bosworth of this city. The operation is described as having been wholly efficacious, and Mr. Cockran has gone down to Sands Point for a week during complete recovery from the surgery referred to.

Hawaii Wants Statehood.

HONOLULU, via San Francisco, March 13.—Bills have been passed in both houses asking congress to grant statehood to Hawaii. During the debate in the senate Cecil Brown, white, was ordered removed by the sergeant-at-arms. He defied the official, and a fight was only averted by adjournment.

No Help From Barbados.

COLON, March 13.—The efforts of Contractor John B. McDonald to obtain laborers from Barbados to work on the Guayaquil-Quito railroad have been unsuccessful owing to the recent official announcement by the Jamaican government discountenancing Jamaican emigration to Ecuador.

The Marseilles Strike.

MARSEILLES, March 13.—Large numbers of strikers here overturned wagons, opened sacks of peanuts and prevented the Italian steamer Adria from discharging her cargo. The police finally intervened and dispersed the rioters, making several arrests.

Serious Wreck In Bavaria.

BERLIN, March 13.—In a railroad collision near Hassfurt, Bavaria, a passenger train was badly wrecked, and eight persons were seriously injured.

TROOPS COMING HOME

Farewell Review of the Thirty-fifth at Manila.

THE THOMAS SAILS ON FRIDAY.

Ice Plant Construction Delayed—Six Hundred Thousand Dollars to Build and Equip It—Insular Government to Control.

MANILA, March 13.—Generals MacArthur and Wheaton yesterday reviewed the Thirty-fifth volunteer infantry and highly complimented the regiment for its fine appearance, service and proficiency. The United States army transport Thomas is expected to arrive here today from Mindanao with the Twenty-eighth volunteer infantry on board and to leave March 15 for home with this regiment.

The authorities at Washington have assigned the control of the great ice plant, the construction of which has been hindered for various reasons for the last two years, to the insular government. In order to save cold storage capacity the army will be furnished with ice under contract with the insular government. Employees will be furnished with ice at approximately cost prices.

The amount for the construction of this ice plant was estimated at $400,000, but the commission found it necessary to appropriate $200,000 more to this end. General MacArthur held that although the expense of the construction of the plant was borne by the insular government the work was undertaken as an army necessity when the army and the insular government were practically one and therefore the plant ought to be controlled by the military.

The commission, without making any recommendations, submitted separate schemes for the military and civil control of the plant, and the war department approves the latter.

There is much criticism of the location of the plant, as it will be necessary to transfer by land many articles to be stored there from a joint on the Pasig river below the Bridge of Spain.

The cost of operating the plant is estimated at $150,000 a year.

Select Friends In Trouble.

KANSAS CITY, March 13.—A special to The Star from Fort Scott, Kan., says announcement is made by the supreme officers of the Order of Select Friends in this city that the lodge had been forced to suspend by the action of the Kansas insurance commissioner in revoking its license because it was considered by him to be insolvent. The lodge has a total membership of 3,600 in Kansas, Missouri and Colorado and was carrying $6,000,000 insurance. Following the revocation of the license a friendly suit was brought by the head officers of the society which has resulted in the appointment of a receiver, C. C. Dutton of Erie. No official statement of the lodge's financial condition has not yet been made.

To Visit Southern Schools.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Robert C. Ogden, philanthropist, will start from this city on or about April 15 with 40 personally invited guests on a visit to the educational institutions of the south. The personnel of the party is not yet known, except that two or three of the guests will be from New England, two or three from Virginia and the others from this city. The party will be composed of people interested in education and will make a study principally of the facilities now afforded in the south for the advancement of the negro, a matter in which Mr. Ogden is deeply interested. The trip is to consume ten days.

The New Jersey Elections.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Elections were held yesterday in all the townships, villages and boroughs of New Jersey. In most of the places the contests were confined to local issues. In Hackensack the main question was over the proposed appropriation of $8,000 to increase the police force, a move which some citizens thought necessary on account of the numerous burglaries in the town of late. In the borough of Fairview, Bergen county, the fight was over the location of a cemetery.

Niagara by Searchlight.

NIAGARA FALLS, March 13.—Experts of the General Electric company, with new and powerful apparatus from Schenectady, have tested searchlights on Niagara falls from Falls View. The Michigan Central has long desired to give its patrons a magnificent view of the falls under the electric light operation by the power of the falls itself. The first night's work in spite of disadvantages and the scope to be covered was successful and demonstrated its practicability.

More Pennsylvania Railroad Stock.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—The stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at their annual meeting decided to vote on the question of increasing the capital stock of the company $100,000,000 and to take a vote on the classification of the directors. The stock will be voted on these questions on Tuesday, March 26, when the annual election will be held. The capital stock is now $151,700,000, and the increase will bring the total to $251,700,000.

Schley Ordered Home.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Orders have been issued at the navy department detaching Rear Admiral W. S. Schley from command of the south Atlantic station and ordering him home for further orders and detaching Rear Admiral B. J. Cromwell from command of the Portsmouth navy yard April 1 and ordering him to command of the south Atlantic station, sailing from New York April 3.

President to Visit the Yellowstone.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Ex-Senator Carter was at the White House yesterday and discussed with Secretary Cortelyou some plans regarding the president's western trip. It is understood that the presidential party is to visit the Yellowstone National park, and Mr. Carter desired to make arrangements for the party when it passed through Montana and while in the park.

More Chinese Taken.

MALONE, N. Y., March 13.—The Malone officials have captured 48 Chinamen on the border north of Malone. They are in jail here. They will probably be sent to Ogdensburg. It is said 26 more are coming today.

Weather Probabilities.

Increasing cloudiness, with rain, and warmer; fresh to brisk easterly winds.

FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

A Statement of What Was Done at Both Sessions.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—F. S. Wakefield, tally clerk of the house of representatives, has prepared a detailed statement of the work of that body during the two sessions of the Fifty-sixth congress.

The house passed during the two sessions 1,411 house bills and resolutions and 793 senate bills and resolutions, making a grand total of 2,204 bills and resolutions acted upon. It left upon its calendar unacted upon 593 house bills and resolutions and 89 senate bills and resolutions. Included in the above it passed a total of 158 house bills and resolutions which failed to become laws and 17 senate bills and resolutions which also failed to become laws. Twenty-nine of these legislative acts failed of signature, two were vetoed and a few recalled.

In the Fifty-fifth congress the house passed 1,473 bills and resolutions, while 641 reported from committees remained undisposed of.

The house was in session 197 days during the Fifty-sixth congress, while the average number of days in session for the past eight congresses was 331.

A total of 6,070 senate acts were introduced, of which but 1,050 reached the house, and on these the house committees favorably reported 813. Total number of bills introduced in the house during the last congress amounted to 14,339, and reports from committees were made on 2,193.

The reports on bills from the committees on military affairs, invalid pensions, pensions and war claims constituted a large portion of those reported, as follows: Military affairs 141, invalid pensions 1,381, pensions 200 and war claims 174.

Recruiting Brisk.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—An increase of over 100 per cent in the number of enlistments for the regular army since the work of recruiting was begun Feb. 8, just after the passage of the army reorganization bill, has encouraged war department officials. They now feel confident there will be no trouble about finding all the men necessary to bring the army up to its full proportion before the date arrives when the volunteers must be mustered out. Adjutant General Corbin has been receiving almost daily reports from the recruiting officers scattered throughout the country showing the results of their work. At the end of the first week 368 recruits had been obtained. For the week ended March 8 736 recruits were obtained.

Death Penalty to Remain.

BOSTON, March 13.—Both branches of the legislature had lively debates yesterday, the senate on the proposed abolition of the death penalty, while the house took up the annual question of granting the right of suffrage to women. The senate killed the death penalty measure, 10 senators being in favor and 17 against the bill making imprisonment for life rather than death by electric chair the penalty for murder in this state. The debate on woman suffrage, or, rather, on the report of the committee on the petition of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, which report was adverse to the petitioner, was very interesting, and the house was forced to adjourn without reaching a vote.

Drowned In the Potomac.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 13.—Miss Mary Callan, daughter of Thomas Callan, a prominent merchant at Little Orleans, this county, and John McDaniels, ferryman, were drowned in the Potomac river yesterday morning at Little Orleans by the ferryboat in which they were crossing upsetting. The cable, which was moored to a tree, broke, and the boat, whirled around by the swift and swollen river, upset. McDaniels' body was recovered, but Miss Callan's body was carried down the stream and has not yet been found.

Moroccan Tribesmen Dispersed.

ALGIERS, March 13.—A dispatch has been received here from General Serviere announcing that another engagement has been fought between the French punitive expedition, consisting of French and Algerian troops, and the Moroccan Berbers in the district of Timimoun, oasis of Tooat, in which the tribesmen were dispersed with great loss. The French expedition lost 2 French officers and 23 men, including 4 Frenchmen, killed and had many others wounded.

Floods In Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, March 13.—Streets in the northwest part of the city are many feet deep in water, cellars are filled to the windows and rafts are being propelled over sidewalks and yards. Several children have had narrow escapes from drowning. The cold has stopped the rise of water, but serious results are feared when the thaw begins.

Gorman Bill Passed In Maryland.

ANNAPOLIS, March 13.—The bill to amend the election laws so as to prevent illiterates from voting passed the house shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, four Democrats, Messrs. Buckey, Pattison, Roberts and Garner, voting with the Republicans against the measure.

New Weekly Paper at Oswego.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 13.—A weekly newspaper, nonpartisan politically and called The Pathfinder, has been started here with, it is said, a large financial backing.

HARRISON DYING.

End Expected at Any Time—All Hope Abandoned.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 13.—The latest bulletin says that the condition of General Harrison remained practically unchanged, with the exception that he was resting a little easier. At 10:30 last night W. H. H. Miller, former law partner of General Harrison and ex-attorney general of the United States, telephoned to John B. Elam, who was also a member of General Harrison's law firm, to come at once to the residence, as the condition of General Harrison was such that the worst was expected at any time.

Dr. Jameson reports the condition of General Harrison as extremely critical. It is impossible at this time to accurately state how long the patient will be able to withstand the deepening of the congestion.

Late last night Dr. Jameson gave out the following statement:

"General Harrison is growing weaker. The congestion is spreading, which is alarming. He may live 35 or 40 hours, but I fear the end is now near.

"The increase in the number of respirations is an alarming sign to myself and the other physicians. It indicates that the inflammation is deepening and spreading. The present situation shows that General Harrison is battling for recovery with all the force and strength of a magnificent constitution and assisted by the vigor of a life lived according to the rules of hygiene, but battling unsuccessfully. He is gradually growing worse. Hour by hour his vitality decreases, and he is less able to resist the attacks of the inflammation. It is impossible at this hour to predict how long the struggle will endure. It may last 36 hours; it may last 48. I think the general will be able to go through the night successfully. The vitality and power of resistance manifested by General Harrison are wonderful."

Our Sanitary Methods Praised.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Dr. Louis H. Debayle, the delegate of Nicaragua and several other Central American countries at the recent Cuban medical congress, is in Washington as the guest of the Nicaraguan minister, Senor Corea. Dr. Debayle is the son-in-law of ex-President Sarasa of Nicaragua, and his prominence in the scientific world is indicated by his selection to represent a number of the southern republics at the congress which was to deal with the yellow fever problem and like subjects of vital concern to them. He says the medical delegates recently assembled in Cuba were impressed by the remarkable sanitary improvements going on through the enterprise of the Americans and particularly by the scientific experiments being conducted to learn the cause and to check the progress of yellow fever.

Telephone System Knocked Out.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., March 13.—Not a telephone is working in Ogdensburg. The guy wires broke, letting a cable drop on to the electric light wires, which so charged it with electricity as to set fire to the cable box, destroying every wire as well as the leaders. The fire alarm wires melted, opening the circuit and ringing all alarm gongs. A chemical engine was stationed at the exchange to prevent damage to its interior. Linemen and cable men have been summoned from Syracuse, Watertown and Gouverneur, and it will require ten days to repair damages.

Blizzard In the Northwest.

ST. PAUL, March 13.—Special dispatches report a bad blizzard raging throughout a portion of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. In northwestern Wisconsin a heavy snow is falling which is drifting badly and blocking roads. The temperature has fallen 50 degrees. Twelve inches of snow has fallen at Rice Lake, Minn. At Chippewa Falls, Wis., street cars are tied up and railway trains delayed by the snow.

Holland Boats For British Navy.

LONDON, March 13.—Under the heading of submarine boats the admiralty report says: "Five of the type invented by Holland have been ordered, the first of which should be delivered by next autumn. What the future value of these boats may be in naval warfare can only be a matter of conjecture. Experiments with these boats will assist the admiralty in assessing their true value."

Will Hold Court In Buffalo.

ALBANY, March 13.—The court of appeals will hold its summer session in Buffalo instead of Saratoga as heretofore. The term will last three weeks, beginning June 3. A letter of acceptance of the invitation of the Bar association of Buffalo to hold the session in the Pan-American city has been sent.

Black and White to Wed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 13.—A marriage license has been granted to Charles E. Smith, a negro of Scranton, and Miss Maude Murray, a white woman of this city. Smith is a coachman and said to be quite well to do. Miss Murray is a dressmaker with a profitable business.

Gift From Mr. Carnegie.

NEW YORK, March 13.—It is announced that Andrew Carnegie has promised to give Yonkers, N. Y., $50,000 for a public library building on condition that the city guarantees to raise $5,000 annually for its support and furnish a site for the building. The gift has been accepted.

Secretary Conti Dead.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Joseph Conti, for 26 years secretary to the Italian consul in this city, is dead at the home of his daughter in Montclair, N. J. Signor Conti was 52 years of age. Cerebral hemorrhage caused death.

Kruger Will Not Yield.

BRUSSELS, March 13.—Dr. Leyds announces that Mr. Kruger will ignore the surrender negotiations between General Botha and Lord Kitchener.

Hudson River Open.

TROY, N. Y., March 13.—The Hudson river is entirely open in front of this city. The ice in the Hoosick is breaking up.

A ONE SIDED FIGHT.

German Troops Still Killing Chinamen.

ACTIVITY NEAR THE GREAT WALL.

Berlin Authorities Puzzled to Know the Reason For the Movement of Chinese Troops at That Point.

BERLIN, March 13.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Count von Waldersee, dated Peking, March 11:

"In the fight west of Suling pass we had only one slightly wounded. The Chinese left 250 dead on the field.

"Our cavalry, with four quickfirers, pursued the Chinese 20 miles. A battalion remains at Fen-ping and westward from the great wall in order to prevent a return of the Chinese troops."

Official circles in Berlin declare that it is impossible to judge here exactly what leads to the Chinese activity around the great wall. The Russian papers are spreading reports that the movement there is engineered by General Tung Fu Hsiang and Prince Tuan for the reconquest of Manchuria. It is to the interest of Russia to circulate this view. On the other hand it is believed in Berlin that the Chinese troops near the great wall have but slight power of resistance, as the report of Colonel Ledebur's engagement seems to indicate. It is also believed that these Chinese troops are inferior to those sent against the allies before the capture of Peking.

The statement that Russia insists upon China's signature to the Manchurian convention rests upon Chinese authority, but Germany has no reason to suppress such information, and the fact remains that the agreement has not yet been signed.

Nothing is known here as to the published report that German capitalists are negotiating with high Chinese officials for the erection of arsenals at Nankin, Wuchang and other points, but the rumor is not believed in Berlin.

The Fight at the Great Wall.

LONDON, March 13.—The Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring Saturday and giving details of the storming of a gate of the great wall by Colonel Ledebur's column March 8, says: "The Germans captured the Chung-shun pass between the provinces of Chi-li and Shansi after seven hours' fighting. This result was brilliantly achieved by the Bavarian battalion, which marched 125 miles from Pao-ting-fu in four days through mountains and over difficult mule tracks. The Chinese held an apparently impregnable position on the great wall at the highest part of the pass. They had several thousand troops and artillery of all descriptions. The Germans attacked them with 600 infantry and two howitzers. The turning movement over almost impossible country occupied seven hours and was completely successful. The Chinese fled into the province of Shansi, leaving at the least 100 dead and four Hotchkiss guns. The victory will have an excellent moral effect, as the Chinese believed their fortified mountain belt impenetrable."

Unconditional Surrender Modified.

LONDON, March 13.—The Daily News this morning makes the following important statement: "We understand that the government have greatly modified the 'unconditional surrender' policy. We believe Lord Kitchener has been authorized to offer amnesty to both the Boers and the Boer leaders except where treachery is clearly proved. Cape rebels only are to be punished by disfranchisement. Loans are to be granted to the Boers for rebuilding and restocking their farms, and finally the government will offer to establish some kind of civil government so soon as all the commandoes have surrendered. Its form will probably be that of a crown colony, but with an important concession, which Sir Alfred Milner advises—namely, a council including Boers of position like General Botha, General Lucas Meyer and Mr. Schalkburger."

Mr. Bryan In Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Colonel William Jennings Bryan paid a visit to this city yesterday and was entertained by publishers and editors of the leading newspapers. He visited the big newspaper offices and several publishing houses. Mr. Bryan stated that his visit was one of business alone. He stated that he is preparing to enlarge The Commoner and that he wants advertising. "I have found," he said, "that the advertisement end should never be overlooked by a progressive newspaper man. I started small, but I am ready to expand." Mr. Bryan attended a public meeting which was addressed by Sixto Lopez of Batangas, Philippine Islands. After the meeting he left for New York.

Victim of an Assault.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Unconscious and, the physicians say, dying, Mary Paige, the pretty 16-year-old daughter of C. H. Paige, lies in her father's home, Brooklyn, the victim of an assault. Since she was found Monday morning wandering in the streets, it is said, she has been conscious only a few minutes, when she managed to gasp out that she had been lured to a livery stable by three young men, forced to drink a drugged drink and then assaulted by the three. The police acted promptly after the girl's father had reported to them. Yesterday afternoon two arrests were made.

Suspected Burglars Arrested.

HUDSON, Mich., March 13.—Four men, believed to be the cracksmen who robbed a safe in Toledo, got off a Lake Shore train here yesterday. Marshal Charles Atkinson and several deputies who were at the depot attempted to arrest the supposed burglars, all of whom were heavily armed. A desperate running fight ensued, in which more than 100 shots were exchanged. After a long chase three of the men were captured, one being wounded.

Serious Railway Collision.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., March 13.—A freight and a passenger train on the Jamestown and Chautauqua railroad collided near Point Chatauqua, both engines being demolished and derailed. Five persons were injured, none fatally.

Twelve New Plague Cases.

CAPE TOWN, March 13.—Twelve fresh cases of bubonic plague, including three Europeans, were officially reported yesterday. Another death, in this case a white person, has occurred from the disease.

North Plainfield Election.

No great surprise was occasioned by the results of yesterday's election in the borough of North Plainfield. The policy of Mayor Smalley and the Republican administration in that municipality was emphatically endorsed. The Republican ticket, with one exception, was victorious.

The defeat of Horace J. Martin, the Republican candidate for the assessorship, by Elston M. French, the present Democratic incumbent, casts no reflection on the ability of Mr. Martin to fill the place satisfactorily. It was simply due to the fact that Mr. French has proved a very efficient city official and that he is a wonderfully popular man in the borough. To these two facts Mr. French owes his re-election.

The aggressive stand which Mayor Smalley has taken in borough affairs was bound either to make or break his chances as a candidate for re-election. The Democrats worked hard to defeat him, using the management of borough affairs during the past year as their chief argument against him. Judging from the result, it is easy to see that the people of North Plainfield are satisfied with Mayor Smalley's methods and that he will be perfectly justified in continuing along the same lines in the future. Mayor Smalley polled the largest majority of any of the Republican candidates.

The fact that the Democratic candidate for the mayoralty, Hiram A. Woodruff, was so little known among the members of his own party, undoubtedly contributed in a small way to the remarkable vote which Mayor Smalley polled.

Two new men were sent to the Borough Council. Both have been successful in their business careers and should show equal success in caring for the interests of the borough.

It can be truthfully said that the greatest evangelistic movement that Plainfield ever witnessed came to an end last evening. During the sixteen days that the special meetings have been held, nearly a thousand people have been led to declare their intention of being Christians henceforth. This great band of converts will undoubtedly have its effect on the local churches and renew and increase their spiritual growth. The series of meetings here has been a part of a great movement to advance the cause of Christianity which has been started all through the country to mark the beginning of the new century. Plainfield has been remarkably fortunate in having two such able men as William Phillips Hall and Rev. Theodore S. Henderson to conduct the meetings.

Writers for the advertising periodicals evidently regarded the preparation of advertisements as one of the most difficult of arts, says the Philadelphia Record. Yet the business man who knows all about his own establishment need have no trouble about making his announcements effective. It is only necessary that he shall speak through the newspaper as he would speak to a prospective customer in person. An advertisement cannot fail of its purpose if it shall set forth in simple words and readable type the facts which it is intended to make known.

Very bright are the prospects for scholastic baseball in Plainfield during the coming spring. Last year saw three school nines in the field. While they played fairly good ball there was plenty chance for improvement. This spring, they will undoubtedly be much stronger and a series of interesting games will doubtless be played before vacation time commences. Baseball is a good game and it has proved popular in this city. The school boys are deserving of the support of all lovers of outdoor sport and their efforts should be encouraged.

The spring rains will soon be here and Green brook, now comparatively low, will be of unusual size. The rubbish now lining its banks will be swept further down stream. It is time for the city to act in co-operation with the borough and see that the bed of the stream has proper care. The present view of that water course from the new bridge, which connects Madison avenue and Duer street, is anything but pleasing and calls for attention of the proper authorities without delay.

The idea of block signals for systems of long distance trolley lines is a perfectly logical one and it is rather remarkable that they have not been put into operation long before. Of course, double track roads of that nature find little use for them but they would seem to be very important factors in single track lines. They will undoubtedly prevent many accidents which would otherwise occur.

Louis S. Thomas has taken the Plainfield correspondence for the New York and Philadelphia newspapers which have hitherto been represented in this city by William W. St. John. There is one exception. Francis E. Whiteside is now the local correspondent for the Philadelphia North American.

The next political contest in the borough comes on Tuesday of next week when the annual borough school meeting will be held. On that occasion three members of the Board of Education will be chosen and the voters of the borough will pass on the appropriations asked for by the board.

The general public is well pleased with the improvements at the North Avenue station but feels the need of two ticket offices instead of one as at present.

There is not a great deal of time left to put up the new street signs if they are to be in position before the annual invasion of house hunters begins.

The robins have arrived. It looks as if there might be an early spring after all, even if the ground hog did see fit to go back to sleep again.

It was thirteen years ago yesterday that the great blizzard swept over this part of the country and left everything at a standstill.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The vexatious delays in crossing the river on account of the fog makes a convincing argument in favor of the Hudson River Bridge. It is absurd that the gateway of the continent should be closed in this fashion, in view of the prodigious demands and resources of our civilization.—New York Herald.

It is stated that a number of Union county Democrats are going to form a company to publish a new daily paper in Elizabeth, and that they are so anxious to go into the enterprise that they have over subscribed for the stock. Perhaps, if they looked around the State and deliberated over the wreckage of many newspapers—which have been run by politicians for political purposes—they would not be so eager. We know of no paper in the State at present, conducted on these lines, which is a bona fide success, either in influence or money getting. In fact there is no quicker way to ruin a newspaper than to turn it over to the politicians. Somehow, the people have no confidence in such papers. Although they bring every influence to bear to bring patronage of various kinds, and well-paying patronage at that, into the office, the food does not have a good effect, but promotes a sort of moral and financial indigestion, which very soon ends in dissolution. A newspaper, to be a success, must have individuality. With a half dozen politicians, each taking a hand at the editorial and business management, the result is always a sorry mix up and the end is disaster.—New Brunswick Home News.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been we l ever since we started to use it.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 13.—Up to noon yesterday the vote cast in the borough was the heaviest for many elections during a similar time, there being a total of 140 polled. The largeness is attributed to the increased interest taken and the active electioneering done by the various nominees. The result was the bringing out of a large number of indifferent voters who usually allow the spring elections to pass by unheeded.

Udder the auspices of the entertainment committee the Juniors of the Presbyterian church with the assistance of a number of older friends participated in a social held in the chapel last evening. Refreshments were served at the close.

Lenten services will be observed at Holy Innocent's church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and also Friday evening at 7:45. Good music will be rendered on both occasions by the church choir.

William McMahon, of the borough, has been appointed regular fireman on one of the local passenger trains running between New York and Somerville.

George Reinhart, the obliging assistant at the depot, has commenced a course in stenography in a night class at the Plainfield Business College.

Clarence Harrison has secured a position with an insurance underwriters' firm in New York and entered upon his duties today.

Mrs. Newton Ammerman and daughter, Brownie, of Somerville, were the guests of Mrs. Annie Abbott yesterday.

Miss Helen Terry, of Westfield, has been the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Terry.

A letter remains at the postoffice uncalled for addressed to Mrs. Lillian Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Benward have been visiting relatives at Glen Gardner.

Mrs. Annie Marlow was the guest of New York friends yesterday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, March 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Randolph, of Randolphville, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding yesterday from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until late in the evening. They were assisted by one hundred of their friends and relatives from New Market, Dunellen, Plainfield and other places who passed the hours very pleasantly in various ways. The celebrants received a number of presents in honor of the occasion which will help them remember the anniversary with many pleasant memories.

Under the auspices of the Missionary Circle and the Farther Lights Society, of the Baptist church, an entertainment and New England supper will be given in Friendship Hall, Tuesday evening, March 26.

During the late freshet, a number of railroad ties were caught in the mill gates and interfered with their management to such an extent that Mr. Otto was forced to let the pond out yesterday to remove them.

The last reception of the dancing class was held last evening. It was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 13.—The family of Edward Apgar, of Park avenue, had a burglar scare Monday evening about 8 o'clock. Mr. Apgar, who was sitting in the dining room reading, heard some one prowling about the house and heard them trying to force an entrance through a window on the side of the house. He started out to investigate but the would be burglar took alarm and fled. Mr. Apgar followed him for a short distance but gave up the chase and reported the matter to Special Officer Henry Guerrier but no trace of the would be house breaker could be found.

The Exempt Firemen's Association held their quarterly meeting in their rooms Monday evening. Routine business only was transacted.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, March 13.—At the meeting of the Board of Education yesterday, all bills contracted on account of the new school house were ordered paid. This is the first opportunity that the board has had to make accounts, as Mr. Hummer, the contractor, has been ill. The building has cost $6,500, $2,500 of which goes to the mason.

The local Christian Endeavor Society held their regular monthly business meeting last night. The social committee are planning for a progressive social to be held in the lecture room next Wednesday. It was also voted to procure some appropriate music for Easter Sunday.

An administrator's sale of personal property took place today at the Agustus Blackford farm. John Morris of Piscataway, was the administrator.

Cornelius Young, of Samptown, makes but slow improvement from his severe illness.

Richard Elliot, who is ill from an attack of the grip, shows but slight improvement.

Mrs. R. B. Manning is making a short visit in New York.

Frank and Bert Soper are the possessors of new bicycles.

Daniel Laing is still confined to the house by ill health

Miss Lennie Faulks is visiting out of town friends.

Annual Business Meeting.

RAILROAD MAY RETALIATE.

AS A RESULT OF BRINGING VERDICT AGAINST COMPANY.

For Maintaining Nuisance at Middagh Street Crossing—May Give Up Local Service to Somerville.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, March 13 — Ex Judge Cowenhoven, of New Brunswick, has been retained to look after the interests of William Lupton, who was convicted some time ago of atrocious assault and battery upon Alfred Paniel. In order that ex Judge Cowenhoven may have ample time to look up his case, before the court takes further action, the date of sentence has been postponed until Friday, March 15.

March 22, the case of nuisance against the Central Railroad of New Jersey comes up for the sentence of the court upon the verdict of conviction obtained. The delay in sentencing the company is due to the absence in Florida of General Counsel DeForest, of the road. It will be recalled that this case grew out of the nuisance maintained by the company in obstructing the Middagh street crossing and also in failing to give notice of the approach of trains.

It is rumored that the company contemplates changing the terminus of the road to Dunellen and of withdrawing all local stops at this point. The first change will materially affect Somerville inasmuch as it will necessitate the removal to Dunellen of the crews of all local trains.

Michael Zayancykowski, the Italian who fatally shot his wife Josephine, while cleaning a revolver, has furnished bail for his appearance in court when wanted.

TIED FOR TROPHY

Westfield And Roselle Are Now Tied in Race For Daily Press Bowling League Trophy.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, March 13—At the Roselle Casino last evening the home bowling team defeated the Westfield Club team two out of the three games rolled in The Press Bowling League series and tied the Westfield team for first place.

The members of the two teams have decided to play the deciding series on the alleys at the Cranford Casino in the near future. Should the Roselle team succed in winning from Westfield they will have an excellent chance to retain the silver cup, offered as a trophy by The Daily Press, as this will make the second year they have led in the league and another year would give them the cup for good.

Guests at Dinner for Bridal Party.

THE FINAL APPEAL OF EVANGELISTS.

The touching Scotch hymn, "My Ain Countree," was sympathetically and impressively sung by Mr. Jacobs, then Mr. Hall announced as his text the words "In the place where the tree falls, there it shall lie"

Mr. Hall began by speaking of the closing of the series of meetings, and said that it was undoubtedly true that the present occasion would settle the question of salvation for some in the house. They had had presented to them two roads; one leading upward, the other downward; they might never come to the meeting of the ways again.

The first point that the speaker desired to make was that there could be no salvation after death; when the tree is once fallen, its position is settled. The danger of putting off the decision to accept Christ was strongly emphasized.

Mr. Hall went on to say that there was no salvation without an intelligent choice of Christ. He urged his hearers, while they were in full possession of their faculties, to make such a choice; they could not be sure, he said, of having an opportunity in the future.

Another point made by the speaker was that there could be no salvation without a willing mind. If a man is willing to put Christ's promises to the test, he will find them true.

In order to be saved, Mr. Hall continued, there must be a turning from sin to God. Men are to be saved from their sins, not in them. Everything that stands between the soul and God must be given up utterly.

"Now," said the speaker, in closing, "is the accepted time. God is calling you at this moment; what answer will you give Him?"

An impressive after-meeting followed. Those who had given themselves to God during the meetings were asked to rise; then all the Christians who had been drawn nearer to their Saviour and desired to serve Him better; then those who wished to lead a Christian life. By this time, nearly everyone in the house was standing. The usual signing of cards then took place, the choir singing "I Surrender All," after which all joined in singing the Doxology, thus closing the meeting and the series of meetings with an ascription of praise to God.

AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

There was not room enough in the First M. E. church last evening to comfortably hold all who wished to attend the evangelistic service conducted by Rev. Theodore S. Henderson in conjunction with the meeting at the First Baptist church where Mr. Hall was in charge. The attendance was so large that Vincent chapel had to be opened and Dr. Yerkes was asked to take charge. Notwithstanding this fact a great many among those who could not be seated persisted in remaining. Finally, Mr. Henderson told them that if they would go to Vincent chapel he would go there later and speak, making that the last service he would hold in the series.

There was a wonderful impressiveness at the large service and Mr. Henderson's earnest words came home to each one with double emphasis. He selected his text from a part of Acts xxvi; 29: "Almost and altogether." He said that the children of Israel were turned back into the wilderness and they never had another opportunity of again entering the promised land. This he likened unto many present at the service who would be almost persuaded to become Christians, but not altogether. "Almost a Christian is no Christian at all," said the speaker. "There are many here this this night who will go away without accepting Christ, and the opportunity may never again present itself.

"To repent is to be sorry for sins for reason of the sins. God says, 'Let the wicked man forsake his sins and the unrighteous man his thoughts.' It is then that the Lord will help you Let a man right about face and forward march. There are people in this city who have attended nearly all of the meetings and have been almost led to Christ. I pray that you may receive Him this night. God's door is never closed to you and I beg of you to come home tonight. Surrender to Him. If you believe with your heart and confess with your mouth and then shall you be saved."

When Mr. Henderson concluded he asked all Christians to stand and nearly everyone present arose. Among those who did not, several decided for Christ. The cards were then distributed and several signed. This meeting was closed by Rev John McMurray, after which many went into the chapel to hear Mr Henderson for the last time.

THE OVERFLOW MEETING.

While the two main meetings were being held in the First Baptist and First Methodist churches, a third one, smaller in point of numbers but fully as interesting and impressive, took place in Vincent chapel with Rev. Dr. D J. Yerkes in the pulpit. Taking as his text Hebrews viii, 8, "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever," the speaker drew a convincing story of the Saviour's steadfast love for all, which though they may grow in knowledge and development, always remains unchanged and is offered now as freely as when He appeared upon earth in person. Previous to and at the conclusion of Dr. Yerkes' remarks, solos were rendered by W. C Weeden and D. E. Titsworth and prayer was offered by Rev. A. E. Main and Dr. A. H. Lewis.

The congregation was still singing when Mr. Henderson entered from the church and under his leadership the most impressive point in the meeting and probably of the entire evening took place After speaking briefly from Isaiah liii:2, at the speaker's solicitation the entire assemblage knelt at their seats and with bowed heads remained in silent prayer.

Following prayer by Mr. Henderson and Dr. Yerkes, benediction was pronounced by the former and the congregation was dismissed.

THE FINAL FAREWELL.

The favorable impression which the speakers and singers of the evangelistic campaign made upon the people of Plainfield was shown in a striking way when they came to leave the city at the close of last evening's meetings. When William Phillips Hall reached the North avenue station at 9.30 o'clock he found there a company of enthusiastic young people, many of them members of the chorus choir, who greeted him with song, and spent the time until the departure of the train in singing the bright hymns that have been so popular at the meetings.

Rev. Theodore S. Henderson, Frederick H. Jacobs and William C. Weeden left later, taking the 10.17 train for New York. The crowd in the station, at the south entrance to the tunnel through which the evangelist and singers would arrive, had been at least doubled before they appeared, the young people beguiling the time by singing.

As the New Yorkers appeared, out came the handerchiefs, and the Chautauqua salute was given with a will by the singing crowd. At the close of the hymn, Mr. Henderson expressed the pleasure of himself and his party in the demonstration, and requested that there might be quiet while he offered a farewell prayer. This was concluded with tender words of benediction, then out of the platform streamed the crowd, occupying the time until the arrival of the train, which was some minutes late, with songs and farewell words with the beloved Christian workers.

As the train rolled out of the station there arose an enthusiatic cheer, mingled with the strains of the farewell hymn, "God Be with You till We Meet Again." Thus finally closed the most successful evangelistic campaign ever conducted in this city.

Snow Shoes for Horses.

When a man tells about putting snow shoes on his horse one immediately thinks that there is some joke on or that the man is talking about the arctic region, but it seems that such things occur nearer home. A farmer from Sidney was in Augusta, who said he came without much difficulty, as he had trained his horse to wear snow shoes. He said that without the aid of these it would have been almost impossible for him to have made the trip. —Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

An Awkward Question.

Sir Frank Lockwood was once engaged in a case in which Sir Charles Russell (the late lord chief justice of England) was the opposing counsel Sir Charles was trying to browbeat a witness into giving a direct answer, "Yes" or "No." "You can answer any question yes or no," declared Sir Charles. "Oh, can you?" retorted Lockwood; "may I ask if you have left off beating your wife?"—Argonaut.

"Crazyanthems."

Bessie, our nurse girl, an Episcopalian of enthusiastic temperament, had not seen the big yellow chrysanthemums on the parlor table until she brought the baby in to be inspected by the lady donor of the flowers.

"Ah, ma'am, ain't they just beautiful!" said Bessie, posing with raised hands. "My heart always do be lifted up by them crazyanthems."—Youth's Companion.

The Volcano.

"A volcano," said the teacher in a Long Island school, "is a mountain, and has a crater or deep hole in the center, from which it throws up or emits smoke, fine stones and lava. Now, children, can you tell me what is a volcano?"

"Yes, teacher," said one of the boys. "A volcano is a sick mountain."—N. Y. Post.

It Would Stick.

"This," declared the peddler, "is the best mucilage made. You may have a bottle for—"

"Why, that stuff looks like water—and I believe that's all it is."

"True, but it is water from the River Styx."—Philadelphia Press.

AT THE BOLTON DRUG COMPANY, OF BROOKLYN, N. Y.
The Bolton Drug Co., of Brooklyn, is the largest dealer in proprietary medicines in a city having a million inhabitants. In answer to an inquiry concerning the sale of RIPANS TABULES, the buyer for this company recently said: "We sell lots of them, and the demand is steady and increasing all the time. The same people buy them over and over again. When they once begin they come back for more. We will have a customer in here one day to buy a five-cent carton; a few days later he'll come in and get a fifty-cent box and after that may be a dollar bottle—physician's size. We sell a good many dollar bottles." When asked his opinion of the Tabules as a druggist, knowing what they are composed of, viz., rhubarb, ipecac, peppermint, aloes, nux vomica and soda, he said: "The formula is all right" and when asked to suggest a change that would be an improvement, he said: "It's all right just as it is."

CHILDREN AT TABLE.

Should They Eat With Their Parents or In the Nursery?

"I must say," remarked Miss Sophronia Jenkins sharply, "that it's a perfect shame the way the Whites are bringing up their children. I've been spending a week at their house, and those poor little innocents never once sat at the table with us."

"If that's the case, I wish I had spent last summer at their house instead of with Mr. and Mrs. Browne," I murmured.

"Oh, it's all very well for you to sneer," retorted Miss Jenkins, "but I declare it makes my blood boil, this modern way of treating children—as if they were not wanted. Why, the only time we ever saw Mrs. White's little girls was when they were brought in by their governess at dessert time. Poor little mites! I must say they behaved very nicely, too; stood beside their father and mother and ate the sweets that were given them and answered my questions in the prettiest way imaginable. Then when dessert was over they trotted out with their governess as demure as you please. It made my heart ache."

"Mrs. White is devoted to her children," I interposed. "She spends many hours in the nursery with them, and they have besides a most responsible nursery governess"—

"Yes, and they have to eat with that woman."

And a very good thing it is, too, for many reasons. In the first place, the nursery table is supplied with simple, wholesome food, and the nursery meals are served at early hours. Secondly, the children are spared the fatigue of sitting through a long, heavy repast, and they are free to converse on topics which interest them. Lastly, the nursery governess is supposed to instruct them in table manners. Now listen to the opposite. At Mrs. Browne's house the children sat at the family table, the youngest in his high chair. They were only allowed to eat certain dishes which were considered wholesome for them. Consequence, hardly a meal passed without a childish outburst on this account. How would you like to see people eating, before your face, nice things which you were not allowed to have? It's simply torture. Yet the family can't live on a diet to suit the children. Mrs. Browne kept her eye on the children's manners and taught them how to eat. Is it wonderful that conversation became painful under such circumstances and that Mr. Browne frequently took his meals at the club? The motto at the Browne dinner table was, "Children should be seen and not heard," and when one of the restless little mites raised his voice in some irrelevant remark this proverb was hurled at its head, frequently accompanied by a threat of sending it from the table. I suppose years from now, when the Misses Browne are invited to their first dinner party, people will wonder why they are so awkward and silent at table. They will not be the only American girls similarly afflicted either, thanks to the heathenish old proverb. Yet you can't blame Mr. and Mrs. Browne for wishing to enjoy their dinner to the accompaniment of interesting conversation, can you? And conversation which would be enjoyable to them might bore their children immensely, you'll admit. Of course I'm not even taking into account the fits of obstreperousness which would seize the youngest child. "Sheer temper," the father and mother called it, but the truth was the poor little mite was only nervous and restless. I remember he was sent from the table four days in succession and disappeared with howls of childish despair.

"Humph!" muttered Miss Jenkins. "That's all well enough for rich people who can have a nursery governess and all that sort of thing."

"I think in every home there ought to be a sunny room belonging to the children, their books and their toys," I answered. "One of my dearest friends is a little woman who manages to live on a very small income indeed. She does nearly all her work herself, and yet she finds time to give her two children their simple, wholesome supper, which they enjoy at an early hour, in the nursery. They eat this with their mother sitting by to listen to their chatter. Then, when her husband comes home tired from the day's work, he finds his wife ready to banish his worries with a bright smile and her pleasant conversation as they sit at dinner together. It is one of the happiest households I know."

GHOST PLAYS PIANO.

Indiana Town in a State of Excitement Over His Music.

Uncanny Selections, Played in the Middle of the Night, Startle the Relatives of a Young Man Who Died Recently.

Residents of Whiting, Ind., are in a state of excitement over some occurrences that savor strongly of the occult. A young and very popular man who died a month ago is reported as having been seen in his former haunts, and witnesses of undoubted probity have testified to the truth of the statements. Reports of these manifestations have been circulating in Whiting since the young man's death a month ago, and the town has been divided between scoffers and believers, his relatives—an uncle and family—declining to be interviewed.

John Langmire, the uncle above mentioned, a much respected employe of the Standard Oil company, has moved his family in most unpropitious weather from the house in which they have lived 5½ years, and he makes no secret of the fact that it was impossible to live there any longer because of the mysterious manifestations above referred to.

Barney Kessler was killed on December 29 last while employed by the Calumet railroad. He had worked eight years for the Standard Oil company, and had only just started on his new employment. His sudden death was a terrible shock to his uncle's family, with whom he spent a great deal of his time, as well as to the many societies and clubs to which he belonged.

It was while his uncle and aunt were conveying the body home to Cleveland that the first manifestation occurred in the house. Mrs. D. Ferris, a neighbor, says the Chicago American, was left in charge of Mr. Langmire's house and his little daughter, aged 12 years. Mrs. Ferris, after seeing that everything was secure, went to sleep, with the little girl, in the bedroom off the kitchen.

"I woke up," said Mrs. Ferris, "with the feeling that some one was in the house and simply thought of burglars. Presently the piano started to play, and I did not know what to make of it. I never associated the music with young Kessler, though I knew he was fond of music. I thought the burglar was very daring, imagining that the whole family had gone to the funeral. Hardly knowing what to do, I turned to the little girl, and found she was awake and listening.

"'What are we going to do?' I whispered.

"'Do,' said the child, 'why, that's Barney. I know his music.'

"In a few moments the music ceased, and the footsteps moved into the bedroom leading from the sitting-room. I heard the hat boxes moved around on the shelves of the clothes closet, and concluded that the burglar was preparing to throw the stuff out of the window. I jumped out of bed and went into the sitting-room, and from thence into the bedroom, but I found no one there. The doors were locked and the windows were fastened just as securely as when I went to bed. The floor of the sitting-room was strewn with sheets of music, that had been lying in neat piles on the piano when we retired for the night.

"The little girl was not so nervous then as she became later, and she assured me that her cousin Barney was playing. 'He always plays when he comes into the house,' she said."

Mrs. Langmire's eyes were full of tears as she spoke of the young man whose untimely death had brought them so much sorrow.

"We don't like to talk about the matter," she said, "for people don't believe us. I just couldn't stay in the house, where he was so lively and happy. No, he didn't board with us for the last two years, but he was in and out, and always went to the piano first on entering. He was so kind and good-natured that I cannot see why he should want to distress us now."

To the question as to whether she had ever seen her nephew since his death she replied in the negative.

"Barney knew how nervous I was, and I don't think he would wish to hurt me. My husband saw him quite plainly on the night of January 17. We were too nervous to go to bed, and we sat back of the sitting-room stove. About 11 o'clock I saw my husband start and stare in the direction of the room where the piano stood. He said nothing, and I did not know until next day that he had seen Barney enter the door and cross over to the piano. Then he hesitated a moment and disappeared. I suppose he was afraid to play, knowing the state of my nerves," and Mrs. Langmire looked as if she were on the verge of nervous prostration.

KILLED TWO SAURIANS.

Plucky Southern Girl Boldly Attacks a Couple of Alligators and Rescues Her Mother.

Savannah Walston is a heroine as pretty as she is brave. She lives in Tunis, Tex., on the Bayou Sarah, an arm of the Brazos river.

Last week two monster alligators entered her mother's cottage during the night. The house stands within 20 feet of an irrigating ditch, across which is a foot bridge. At the bridge the yard gate opens.

The alligators, it is supposed, were prowling in search of food, when they crossed the bridge, pushed open the gate and entered the yard. Miss Walston was sleeping on a cot on a little porch in front of the door. In the yard a negro boy was sleeping under a china tree. Mrs. Walston, who was ill, occupied a bed in the parlor, her baby in a cradle within easy reach.

When the monsters burst into the room Mrs. Walston called to her daughter. The brave girl of 18 rose on her cot, as she did so putting one of her hands on the head of an alligator. At that instant a little dog ran out of the parlor and was snapped between the jaws of another alligator at the girl's side.

In her fright she leaped over one of the brutes to reach her mother's bed. Both alligators pursued her, one upsetting the cradle. The baby rolled out on the carpet.

The noise awakened the little negro, and he ran toward the women. They called on him to run. Instead he stumbled and fell. In a moment the monster had crushed him between his jaws.

Miss Walston got her brother's rifle. The larger of the brutes was devouring the little negro. She aimed carefully at one of his eyes, fired, and the alligator rolled over dead.

Instantly the other saurian rushed into the room, with jaws wide open, straight toward the bed. Miss Walston shoved the barrel of the rifle into the brute's mouth and fired, and it fell quivering on the carpet.

BRAVE YOUNG WOMAN.

She Drives a Mail Cart at All Seasons of the Year and Is Not Afraid of Highwaymen.

From Mid-Valley, Pa., down the mountain side to Mount Carmel, a distance of three miles, the United States mail goes in a cart driven by as plucky a young woman as can be found in the state. Miss Esther Bowman, 18 years old, has been driving over this route for three years, and while she has defied highwaymen, fighting them with her revolver, she experienced her first accident only a few days ago.

NOT AFRAID OF HIGHWAYMEN.

Her horse took fright and ran away. She held on to the reins until she was thrown from the vehicle and the reins dragged from her hands. She was bruised, but not seriously injured. The horse ran on down the mountain and was caught inside the limits of Mount Carmel. The mail was intact.

The next morning Miss Bowman brought the mail in as usual, however, declaring that the runaway was only an accident.

"I have been faced by highwaymen several times," she says, "and had to use my revolver. After that I'm not afraid of a horse."

Smoking Trees in Japan.

A smoking tree is one of the natural wonders of Ono, Japan. Strange to say, it smokes only in the evening, just after sunset, and the smoke issues from the top of the trunk. The tree is 60 feet high.

ALL TO CHARITY.

Eccentric Woman Left $300,000 to Various Societies.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 13.—According to the will of Mrs. Marietta P. Hay, an eccentric widow of Tarrytown, who was in the habit of placing her money, bonds and jewels in a black bag and hanging it on a limb of a tree outside her bed chamber, she leaves an estate valued at $300,000. When she died two weeks ago, jewels and $5,000 were found sewed up in an old silk dress.

Mrs. Hay lived like a miser in two rooms of her big mansion. She bought little food or clothing, and yet she leaves practically her entire fortune to charity.

Among the largest beneficiaries under the will are the Dewitt C. Hay Library association at Lake George, Saratoga hospital at Saratoga Springs and the New York Infirmary For Women.

For the Pickering and White Chime tower at Sackets Harbor she leaves 39 shares of the New Jersey Zinc company to keep the chimes in good condition. The Tarrytown Historical society gets the bonds of the Northwestern Grand Trunk Railroad company.

Mrs. Hay had lived the life of a recluse since the death, about five years ago, of her husband, Dewitt C. Hay.

PUBLIC WORKS FOR SANTIAGO.

General Whitside to Push the Building of Improvements.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, March 13.—General Whitside has returned to Santiago from Havana, where he went to confer with Governor General Wood regarding civil matters. He secured large appropriations for public works and will push the construction of sewers, waterworks, pavements and schoolhouses vigorously.

He does not anticipate any trouble in this province, notwithstanding the threat of Senor Bravo and other radical leaders that the negro party will attack the Americans if the Cuban constitution as adopted by the convention is rejected by the United States government.

At an early date General Whitside will go on a tour of inspection into the interior of the province in order to investigate personally commercial conditions there and to inspect the military posts.

The Thirtieth at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The transport Hancock has arrived from Manila with the Thirtieth United States volunteer infantry. There were in all 875 people on board, of which number 26 are army officers and 738 noncommissioned officers and men of the Thirtieth volunteers. The regiment is composed of men from the states of Michigan, Illinois and Indiana, the Michigan men predominating. The Hancock also brought 72 prisoners and discharged soldiers who were deported on a military order.

Shot by His Friend.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Joseph Currier, aged 16 years, shot and killed Harry Franks, aged 18 years. The boys were employed as helpers on a department store delivery wagon, and both were seated in one of the vehicles when the tragedy occurred. Currier says the shooting was accidental, but tells several tales as to how he came to have the revolver. To the police he says he found it in an alley and was examining it, not knowing it was loaded, when it went off, the shot hitting Franks.

Consumption a Contagious Disease.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Consumption has been placed on the list of contagious diseases by the board of health of this city, and physicians must now report to the health officer all cases and deaths. It is not the intention of the board to isolate victims of the disease. The work of the members is to be purely educational. It will consist of offering advice on questions of precautionary methods. Medicines and disinfectants will be supplied to worthy poor patients.

Large Starch Factory Burned.

KANKAKEE, Ills., March 13.—The Archer starch factory, the largest of the kind in the world, burned yesterday. Estimated loss, $325,000; insurance, about $125,000. Louis Ruell was badly burned. Twenty-five other workmen escaped. The explosion of a large grinder started the fire. Combustion due to iron nails and wet starch caused the explosion, which blew out the sides of the largest building and caused it to collapse.

New Yorkers Win at Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 13.—The Knickerbocker Athletic club won the championship in water polo yesterday by defeating Homestead in a one sided contest at the Coliseum. The New York team outclassed all its competitors during the tournament, and its victory proved a popular one. The Brookline Swimming club of Brookline, Mass., secured second place, while third honors went to the Homestead Athletic club of Homestead, Pa.

In a Critical Condition.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 13.—James Kells, the 13-year-old orphan boy, is still lying in a critical condition as the result of alleged brutal punishment inflicted several weeks ago by Abram Campbell, a farmer to whom the boy was indentured. A portion of the boy's foot has been amputated, and his body is a mass of bruises. Campbell is in the Goshen jail.

Jessie Morrison In Jail.

EL DORADO, Kan., March 13.—Jessie Morrison, whose first trial last fall for the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle resulted in no verdict, was committed to jail yesterday in default of $5,000 bonds to await a second trial. The trial was set for the June term.

The Illinois Made Good Showing.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 13.—On her builder's trial trip yesterday the battleship Illinois more than measured up to expectations. The ship was not taken out to deep sea, but was given a run down the coast, the main object of the trip being to test her boilers.

Porto Ricans Reach Home.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Quartermaster General Ludington is informed that the transport Sedgwick arrived at San Juan, Porto Rico, Monday night. This vessel took home the Porto Rican battalion which made such a creditable display in the inaugural parade.

To Extend Treaty.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 13.—The Jamaican government has empowered the British embassador at Washington to enter into an agreement with the American government to extend for one year the time of the ratification of the reciprocity convention.

BASEBALL.

The third class of the Plainfield High School met yesterday and completed the arrangements for the formation of a class baseball team. Fred VanAuken was elected captain and Hervey Doane, manager.

At a meeting of the advocates of baseball held in Cranford last evening it was decided to have Cranford represented on the diamond the coming season with as good a team as last years. It is proposed to arrange a series of five games with the Westfield team.

ELECTION RETURNS.

Daily Press Bulletin Was First to Give Results of Yesterday's Election in Borough.

The returns from the borough election were displayed in front of The Daily Press office at 6 o'clock this morning and the early commuters had the opportunity of obtaining an exact statement of the vote in detail before leaving the city.

The election bulletin is attracting much attention. All day long crowds have gathered in front of the office and scanned the board, and much favorable comment has been elicited by the enterprise of The Daily Press

ENTERTAINED HEART CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Kirkner Proved Pleasing Host and Hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Kirkner, of Madison avenue, entertained the Evening Heart Club at their home last evening. On account of considerable illness, several members were unable to attend. Those present, however, thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess.

Mrs. Louis G. Timpson and Mrs. Mrs. Frederick W. Yates won first and second prizes for the women, while James DeGraff and James Hallock secured the first and second honors for the men. At the conclusion of the game, the usual social features were enjoyed and refreshments were served. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Edward M. VanBuren, who was to entertain the club March 26, the place of meeting was not decided last evening.

Is Marriage a Failure?

A cast of local amateurs gave a comedy drama entitled "Is Marriage a Failure?" in Reform Hall last evening under the auspices of the Reform Club. A fair-sized audience witnessed its rendition and seemed to enjoy it immensely. Those who took part were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hammill, Charles Mumford, J. H. Emerson, David Curtis, Harry Hamilton and "Little Violet."

Death of Mrs. Mary Conklin.

Mrs. Mary Conklin, widow of William L. Conklin, died this morning at the home of her son, E. W. Conklin, of First place. She was in her eighty-third year and leaves a circle of acquaintances. The funeral services will be private.

Taken to Hospital.

The condition of Adolph Bresselmair, the East Front street photographer, became much worse last evening and it was necessary to remove him to the hospital for treatment.

Mr. Bird, of 44 Elm place, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital last evening for treatment.

ELECTION RETURNS.

SEBRING WON FIGHT.

Downed Republican Candidate For North Plainfield Township Committeeman.

Charles P. Sebring, the Citizens' candidate for township committee for the two years' term, defeated A. P. Voorhies, the Republican candidate, by 36 majority, at the North Plainfield township election at Watchung yesterday. The remainder of the Republican ticket received the full vote cast, 116, with the exception of Thomas H. Taylor, the candidate for the three years' term as township committeeman, who fell three votes behind his colleagues. The vote in the contest between Sebring and A. P. Voorhies was 76 to 41, in favor of the Citizens' candidate.

Henry A. Spier, for overseer of the poor; John R. Doty, Daniel A. Ackor, and Henry Kliner, and Harry Ackor and Silas Widnans, for surveyors were elected on the Republican ticket having also been endorsed by the Citizens' party as were also Conrad Cramer and Charles Willis the candidates for pound keepers.

The appropriations were agreed upon by both parties and met with no opposition at the polls. They are: For roads, $1,500; for poor, $300, and for salary of township committeemen, $50.

DEMOCRATS WON.

Carried Bridgewater Township By a Slight Majority — Board of Freeholders a Tie.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, March 13—The Democrats carried Bridgewater township yesterday by a slight majority. Only about half the usual vote was polled.

The chief contest was over town committeeman, James Q. TenEyck, Democrat, defeating James V. Smith, Republican, by 50 majority. The following Democrats were also elected: Justices of the peace, James H. Shay, David S. Kitchen, Aivah Amerman, Republican, Wm. R. Sutphen; constables, James Conboy and Edward Farrell; commissioner of appeal, Henry Reimers; surveyors of highways, Daniel Disborough and Wm. Hamilton. Amerman was the only Republican elected, defeating Jacob Frech.

The Board of Freeholders will probably be a tie, the Republicans gaining a member in Hillsborough, electing Richard Hoagland over J. S. Everett. Edward B. Hoagland, Democrat, of Branchburgh, was re elected for the third consecutive time, defeating Henry Baird by 29. David Philhower, Democrat, is said to have been elected freeholder from Bedminster, and Andrew Lutkins, Republican, from North Plainfield borough. The other townships did not elect this year.

HONORS WERE EVEN.

Parts of Both Tickets Were Elected at Yesterday's Election in Bound Brook.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, March 13.—Comparatively little interest was taken in the borough election held here yesterday, owing to the withdrawal some few days ago of David Hastings, the Republican nominee for mayor. Accordingly, Richard H. Brokaw, the present incumbent, was re-elected as was also Robert G. Brampton for justice of the peace. Honors were about even as to the balance of the tickets as each party elected a councilman and a commissioner of appeal. The result follows:

Mayor, R. H. Brokaw, D, 315; councilmen, John G. Smith, D, 176; L. A Reppert, R, 197; James Vosseller, D, 150; F. J. Pettengill, R, 143; commissioners of appeal, Thomas Cullen, D, 189; B. F. Little, R, 171; James Spadola, R, 124; Edward Mangeot, D, 169; justice of the peace, Robert F. Brampton.

NO OPPOSITION.

The Republicans Had Everything Their Own Way in South Bound Brook Yesterday.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

South Bound Brook, March 13.—As the Republican ticket was without opposition in this place, the entire ticket was elected yesterday. For town committeeman, S. G. Voorhees received 78 votes, as did also James H. Fisher for township collector.

IN WARREN TOWNSHIP.

Democrats Elected Their Ticket While The "Uncrowned King," J. C. Cooper, Was Defeated by Two Votes.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Gallia, March 13—The Democrats carried Warren Township. The total vote cast was 156 and of this the Republicans polled but 60. Henry P Williams, who had been endorsed by the Republic caucus for township committeeman, polled the full vote.

Ambrose Mantz received 78 votes for constable on the Democratic ticket and was two votes ahead of John C Cooper, the Republican nominee. For commissioner of appeal, Rudolph Sachs was named by both parties and met with no opposition at the polls.

John Burnette, Erastus Vandermark and Alonzo C Baldwin, Democratic candidates for pound keepers, defeated C. Frank Haines, Henry Kline and George W. Sayers. The names of Antone Ammon and Jacob Koechlein appeared on both tickets as additional candidates for pound-keepers, and they polled the full strength.

The appropriations recommended were the same with both parties. For repair of roads, $1,000; for crushed stone, $1,000, and for support of poor, $500, were the items on the ticket and everyone voted in favor of the appropriations.

FLOURISHING SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting of Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Crescent Avenue Church Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent avenue church was held yesterday afternoon in the chapel and there was a remarkable attendance of members.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Samuel Milliken; first vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Myers; second vice president, Mrs. Halloway; third vice president, Mrs. W. R. Richards; secretary, Miss Scribner; treasurer, Miss Tracy; superintendent of collectors, Mrs. D. N. Groendyke.

All the reports were encouraging. The treasurer reported that $1,100 was raised last year for the work of the society, which is $138 over all pledges. The society is supporting two missionaries, and helping to support two others.

After the reports, an excellent address was made by Mrs. J. Frazier, of Elizabeth, one of the vice-presidents of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. During the session the members signed a petition to have the Pan-American Exposition closed on Sundays. An informal social was held at the close when considerable literature was sold, also some of the articles not sold at the sale held by the Boys' Mission Band a short time ago.

QUIET AT TRENTON.

Little Done at Yesterday's Session of the New Jersey Legislature.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 13.—On account of the township elections through the State yesterday, both Houses of the Jersey Legislature adjourned for the day at the close of the morning session.

Little business of importance was done in either House during the morning session. The were a number of bills passed but none will particularly affect Plainfield. Both Houses are again in session today.

An Appeal.

The officers of the Woman's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital appeal to the public and to the members of the board for the sum of $40 to pay for a brace which has been purchased for a little girl who has been a patient at the hospital for a number of months with a diseased hip. It was found that she could never walk again without the brace, and the committee deemed it wise to buy the brace before the next meeting of the board so the child could use it at once. As an expense of this kind cannot be met from the regular funds of the hospital, the board rely upon the generosity of the many friends of the hospital to aid them in raising the desired amount. All donations may be sent to Mrs. Henry Lapsley, treasurer of the board, 816 First place.

NIGHT GANG LAID OFF.

Small Reduction of Force at Pond Tool Works Will Take Place Next Saturday.

Owing to the completion of a number of large orders and the gradual accumulation of stock, the night gang at the Pond Machine Tool Works will be discontinued beginning with next Saturday morning. About fifty men are affected, only half of which will be thrown out of work, the remainder having been notified that they will be retained in the day shift.

The night gang has been running since 1898, it having been made necessary in order to keep up with orders received from the Government during the Spanish war.

THATCHER ROBBERY.

Silverware and a Safety Box Were Taken by the Burglars.

The valuables stolen in the robbery of George Thatcher's residence at West Seventh street and Central avenue, have not been definitely ascertained as yet.

Some silverware, consisting largely of knives and forks which was stored in a chiffonier in Mrs. Thatcher's bedroom, is miseing and the contents of a safety box is also gone. Just what papers were contained in this box is unable to be learned at present.

A remarkable thing was that the burglars did not touch anything on the first floor. The silverware in the dining room was found intact by Mrs. Thatcher on her return.

The Travel Cure.

Under what conditions is travel of benefit in the treatment of mental diseases? This question was under discussion at a recent meeting of the Medico-Psychological association. Dr. Savage, physician in charge of mental disease at Guy's, held that to move a patient suffering from a severe mental disorder, either from a sea voyage or other form of traveling, was very inadvisable. The fresh surroundings very often caused weariness where the need was for absolute rest. On the other hand, he recognized that a sea voyage might do good to one suffering from melancholia due to a love affair or to a failure at examination. Sir. Hermann Weber agreed with Dr. Savage's opinion, and referred to the case of a coachman who had become mentally affected. It was believed that he might recover if he were seated on a four-in-hand. The experiment was tried and succeeded. Dr. Robert Jones took the view that sea voyages do not always benefit convalescents. He said he knew of a case of a mentally afflicted patient who was ordered a voyage. When Marseilles was reached the patient had a delusion that his attendant was insane, and declined to go further with him.—London Chronicle.

The Queen's Name.

One of the panegyrists of the queen said that not even the reign of Elizabeth exceeded in glory that of Victoria. The allusion has a significance which perhaps was not present in the mind of the writer. For Elizabeth was the name which the duke of Kent chose for his daughter, and chose it with a reason. He thought it would ingratiate a girl sovereign with her people, and that Elizabeth II. would bear a strong recommendation as a link with Elizabeth I. The queen's mother, however, disliked the name, and chose Alexandrina in its place—the Victoria, which is now inscribed so large on the page of history, and on the map of the world, being thrown in at the font as a sort of afterthought.—London Chronicle.

Future of the Capital.

The future of the national capital is as bright as the future of the nation. It is certain to grow in size and beauty, and to have continued prosperity. At the end of its second century it may have 1,000,000 inhabitants, and it will certainly have such wealth and attractiveness as can hardly be imagined now. It may become necessary to enlarge the present District of Columbia not only by securing again what Virginia gave and then took back, but perhaps by enlarging the original boundaries, with the cooperation of Maryland and Virginia. It will be the most splendid capital in the world.—Henry B. F. MacFarland, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Florence Nightingale.

It will be a surprise to many readers to hear that Florence Nightingale is still alive. She lives near Hyde Park, London, in a modest boarding house. The room to which she is confined is large and airy and is always decorated with flowers, while her favorite books are ranged on handy shelves. Writing materials are also within easy reach, although she uses them but little of late years. She is an invalid, having never thoroughly recovered from the mental and bodily strain of the Crimean campaign.—Golden Days.

Man Behind the Mules.

During Gen. White's sortie from Ladysmith, the British battery mules on the left were stampeded. The captain of one of the batteries, seeing his first sergeant flying by with the first gun, shouted, angrily:

"Hi, sir! Where are you going?"

To which the gunner curtly replied: "Hanged if I know! Ask the mules!"—Collier's Weekly.

Cause of the Delay.

Teacher—What made you so late?

Tommy—I had to wait for ma to wrap up a bundle for me to leave at Mrs. Brown's.

"Surely, it didn't take your mother nearly an hour to do that."

"Yes'm. You see, the paper she was wrappin' it up in had a love story in it."—Philadelphia Press.

ELEVEN INJURED IN CAR'S WILD PLUNGE.

Serious Accident Occurred On Trolley Line This Side of Westfield Yesterday Afternoon.

BRAKE WOULDN'T WORK.

SO BIG CAR JUMPED TRACK AND FELL AGAINST TROLLEY POLE.

Wreck Caught Fire From Stove and One Man Badly Burned—Drs. Cooper and Sinclair Attended Victims—Two are Very Seriously Injured.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Westfield, March 14.—The most serious accident which has occurred on the Plainfield and Elizabeth division of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway, since the completion of the line a year ago, took place at 3:30 yesterday afternoon when car No. 71 became uncontrollable and leaped a curve at the corner of Prospect street and Newton place, this place, and turning almost completely over, brought up with a terrific shock against an iron trolley pole. Fifteen passengers were in the wrecked car and when order was finally restored from chaos, it was found that all had miraculously escaped instant death, but eleven were badly injured, two of whom may prove to be fatally so.

The injured passengers are:

HART, Mrs. B., of Cranford, nose and arm fractured; severe shock.

HART, Miss Edna, her daughter; concussion of the brain; considered serious.

HAWES, Rev. C. H., colored, of New York city; fractured shoulder blade.

HOLMES, J. B., of Mountainside; badly bruised about face and back.

KELLEY, Miss Anna, of Westfield; severe bruises and shock.

KLEMANN, Mrs. Theo., of Newark; skull fractured; badly bruised; condition serious.

KITCHEN, John A., of Plainfield: bruised and shocked.

LAMBERT, Mrs. Simeon, of Westfield; body badly bruised; contusions; knee fractured.

MOFFETT, Albert, of Rahway; bruises, head and hands gashed and arm burned.

SEELY, Mrs. Samuel, of Harrison, N. J., bones in neck and shoulder blade fractured; spine injured.

SEELY, Miss, her daughter; severe shock, cut and bruised.

The wrecked car, which was in charge of Motorman William Reynolds, of Westfield, and Conductor Samuel Cobb, of Elizabeth, left Plainfield at 3 o'clock bound for Elizabeth. Everything was in perfect working order as far as Reynolds knew but just before reaching the fatal spot it is said that something broke beneath the car and he stopped to investigate. Nothing was found and an official, who was a passenger, ordered him to proceed.

Reynolds obeyed and sent the car ahead at full speed until Prospect street was reached, down which is a steep grade. On nearing the corner of Newton place he sought to apply the electric brake, but it failed to work. An attempt at the hand brake met with a similar result and the huge car struck the curve with full force.

The rear end of the car leaped high in the air scattering the passengers in every direction and the next instant the top crashed against a corner trolley pole. It then slowly settled on one side in the mud.

Reynolds was thrown some distance but strange to relate, escaped serious injury. Cobb was hurled with terrific force against the platform but also escaped unhurt. Miss Hunt was struck on the head and remained unconscious for three hours while Mrs. Klemman swooned soon after being taken out and was revived with difficulty. Miss Kelley was struck by the flying stove. The other passengers were thrown about until they were piled in one corner while splintered wood and pieces of glass rained upon them.

As soon as possible the crew of the car and those who had escaped unhurt, hurried to the rescue of the less fortunate passengers who were making mad struggles to release themselves. To add to the already indescribable terror of the unfortunate victims, the wood work of the car caught fire from the overturned stove and threatened them with death in a more terrible form. Fortunately the blaze was extinguished in its infancy before any serious damage resulted. Albert

ECHO MEETING.

Held in the Congregational Church by the Christian Endeavor Society Last Evening.

A Gospel campaign echo meeting was held last night at the Congregational church. Hymn books similar to those used at the union meetings have been purchased for the church, and were used for the first time. Members of the chorus choir were present, and the singing was a most enjoyable feature of the evening When the meeting was opened for testimony, many present told of personal help received at the meetings, of relatives or friends brought to Christ, or of some feature of the meetings which had particularly impressed them. There were a large number present.

OPEN-AIR CONCERTS PLANNED

LE VERE'S BAND HAS BEEN REORGANIZED THIS WINTER.

If the Funds Are Contributed the Usual Open-Air Band Concerts Will Soon be Given.

Although it is a trifle chilly yet to begin talking about open air band concerts, Benjamin LeVere is now considering plans for the coming summer season. The general feeling seems to be that the concerts should be continued on North avenue instead of at the City Park as was suggested. The question of financial support is, of course, the most important and will probably largely influence the location of the concerts.

LeVere's band, of which Mr. LeVere is the conductor, has been completely reorganized this winter so that it now classes with the best in the State. All the members of the concert band of the National Phonograph Company, which plays for the Edison records, had been secured together with the pick of the local talent and a few others. The band will number twenty three pieces in all Two-thirds of the members are eminent soloists. Al Sweet, the well-known cornet soloist, will also be a regular member of the organization.

Last season's open air concerts cost Mr. LaVere over $71 out of his own pocket. This year the necessary amount will have to be subscribed before the concerts are started. Already merchants on North avenue and other public-spirited citizens have agreed to contribute $250 if the concerts are given on that street. A new and more commodious band stand has also been promised. If $200 more can be collected the concerts can begin in June and continue every Friday evening all through the summer.

The reorganized band will make its first public appearance May 3 in Music Hall, when a programme of both high class and popular music will be rendered.

HACKMAN IN COURT.

Claimed He Was Accommodating an Undertaker by Asking For People Expected on Train.

Walter Thompson, a hackman, was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with soliciting business on the railroad company's property at the North Avenue station.

Thompson, in his plea of not guilty, explained that he was merely accommodating a driver for Undertaker DeMott in inquiring for parties expected to arrive on a west bound train in time for a funeral. Thompson's testimony was corroborated by a number of witnesses. The decision of the court was reserved until tomorrow morning.

FIVE YEARS WEDDED.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bush Celebrated The Anniversary of Their Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bush, of Watchung avenue, entertained fifty friends at their home Monday evening. The occasion was the fifth anniversary of their wedding. Guests were present from Brooklyn, Newark and Jersey City.

The couple received a number of anniversary remembrances. Music and dancing occupied the evening and refreshments were served before the guests departed at midnight.

Sisters Ill With Same Trouble.

Miss Mary Miller, of LaGrande avenue, who recently underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital for appendicitis, is doing very well and she will probably be able to go home soon. Her sister, Miss Annie Miller, who is a student at Wellesley College, is a patient in the infirmary at that place, under treatment for appendicitis.

To Satisfy a Judgment.

To satisfy a judgment obtained by Margaret E VanNest against Charles Barry, a constable's sale of an alderney cow will be held by Wm. N Pangborn at 79 Somerset street Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

WINTER HOCKEY SEASON AMONG SCHOOL BOYS

Review of the Winter's Sport Shows Leal's School Team The Local Champions.

FOUR TEAMS COMPETED.

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL BOYS MADE A GOOD SHOWING.

Leal Boys Played Five Games and Lost One of Them—Robert Tilney Made the Best Showing of Any of the School Boys.

The past winter has seen unusual interest shown in the game of hockey by the school boys of the city and borough. There were four school teams organized and a number of exciting contests were the result. Unfortunately the skating did not last long enough so that all the teams met but, from the matches which were played, it seemed perfectly fair to concede the city scholastic championship to the hockey team of Leal's School. The Leal's School boys played five matches and won four of them. They were defeated by the Plainfield High School team but made up for that defeat by winning two subsequent matches from the High School.

The schools represented by teams were the Plainfield High School, the Whittier public school and the North Plainfield High School. Second honors undoubtedly should go to the Plainfield High School, as their showing was next to that of the Leal boys. Had the skating continued a week longer, other games would have been played which would have shown up the work of the different teams more satisfactorily.

Now that the season is over, Manager Brown, of the Leal's School team, has announced the members of the team who are entitled to wear school caps. This honor is accorded to those who are regular members of teams of that school. They are Robert Abbott, G. Abbott, Corwin, Mellick, Frank Rogers, Ralph Schoonmaker, William Schoonmaker, Howard Wright and Robert Tilney.

The showing made by the Leal's School both in individual and team work, has been good. In the five games the Leal boys have scored eighteen points and only two goals have been scored against them. Their offensive work was particularly strong and their defence was good. Much credit is due Tilney for his fine playing, both individually and with the rest of the team. He has been probably the best local player on the ice this winter.

Ralph Schoonmaker played a good offensive game, but was a trifle weak on his defense. Will Schoonmaker and Howard Wright while strong in their defensive play, were somewhat unfortunate in their attempts to score. Robert Abbott was a very clever player, particularly steady and always to be depended on. At goal, Corwin was a very useful man and did not allow a single goal to be made on his team. Mellick, in the same position, was not quite so lucky. Other of the boys played, but not frequently enough to allow a good chance to judge of their merits.

High Praise for Miss McClaran.

Wellington Putnam, lecturer in rhetoric, Columbia University, who recently gave readings from David Harum in the Y M. C. A. Star Course says: "I want to express my delight with Miss McClaran's reading of 'The Sign of the Cross.' No one can hold and move a critical audience for two hours the way she did without having marked ability. Her impersonations showed skill and good taste." Miss McClaran will appear with Miss May Vincent Whitney, pianist, in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course Monday evening.

Mowing Machine Gone.

On his return from Scotland a few days ago, Expert Brown, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, was surprised to find that during his absence an enterprising individual had visited the tool house and decamped with a mowing machine and a hay rake. The man evidently must have had assistance in removing the mower but there is not the slightest clue which might lead to the identity of either of the parties.

Public Exhibition Today.

The public exhibition of manual training work in the North Plainfield school, will be given this afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock and between 7 and 10 o'clock in the evening. Various classes in the many lines of manual training will be at work. The public is cordially invited to attend.

AFTERMATH OF THE BATTLE OF BALLOTS.

Various Opinions as to the Whys and Wherefors of Tuesday's Election.

SMALLEY'S FRIENDS HAPPY.

ROLLED UP MAJORITY OF 253 COMPARED WITH 13 TWO YEARS AGO.

Exciting Features of the Count Tuesday Night—Principal Cutting in the First District—Vote Was Not as Heavy as Two Years Ago.

The results of the election held a monopoly as a topic of conversation in North Plainfield yesterday. Mayor N. B. Smalley's friends were elated over the victory achieved by their leader who won out himself by 253 majority on a total mayoralty vote of 917 as against thirteen majority on a total vote cast two years ago, exceeding that of Tuesday by fifty four.

That the people were interested in the outcome of the election could be seen during the count of Tuesday evening. Large crowds were present at both polling places and they generally remained until the election was settled to a certainty.

The only exciting feature of the counting was the way in which the vote of Martin and French tied from time. First, Martin was ahead and then French and this was the case at the early stage of the count in both polling places. In the First district French gradually forged ahead and long before the returns were complete in the district, it was a foregone conclusion that French was going to poll a phenomenal vote.

In the Second district the closeness was more marked, and the excitement of this contest was the only thing that lent any interest to the count. When the vote was all summed up in the Second district it was found that French was only two votes behind his opponent.

The principal cutting was in the First district and Martin's friends claim that the influence of its Park residents was largely responsible for his defeat.

The vote given Brown is highly complimentary when it is considered that he made no canvass whatever.

The total vote cast this election was considerably lighter in both districts than that of two years ago, but it was sufficiently heavy and as pronounced in its leaning to be taken as a complete vindication and approval of the policy pursued by Mayor N. B. Smalley during his incumbency of the Mayor's chair. The Mayor now intends to continue the course he has pursued and do everything that will promote the interests of the borough

The summary of the party vote in the election is as follows: Republican, First district 334; Second district, 269; Democratic, First district, 150; Second district, 170. Total Republican vote, 603; Democratic, 320. Total vote, both parties, 923. One vote in First district rejected.

MINING FOR COPPER.

Men Are Working Quietly About the Old Copper Mine at Feltville.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, March 14.—Prospecting at the old copper mine at Feltville has again been resumed. Several men are employed about the mouth of the mine drilling and blasting. The same secrecy is maintained about the work as was maintained by the men working around the mine last summer.

Many think that the capitalists back of the exploration have been assured that copper can be extracted from the rocks at a paying profit and that in the near future the active work will begin. No amount of questioning can draw out any information on the subject from the men employed and strangers are not welcomed very cordially around that locality while they are at work.

Proposed Officers for Company.

The members of Co. K will meet Saturday evening to elect officers and transact such other business as may be necessary. The slate is now fixed to include Dr. W. Kempton Brown for captain, first lieutenant, Harry Kitchell or John H. Lewis; second lieutenant, Robert M. Clark. These men are prominently mentioned, although it is possible there may be a change.

HOW THE TROUBLES OF FANWOOD BEGAN

What Led to the Hot Fight in That Borough and Brought About the Tie.

HAS NO MAYOR NOW.

HASTY WORD PASSED AT CITIZEN'S PRIMARY STARTED THE FIGHT.

That Was Why Mr. Young Entered Fight Against Mr. McKeown for Mayor—No Sign of Settling the Tie—Deadlock in the Council.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Fanwood, March 14.—The residents of the borough of Fanwood are having plenty of trouble and discussion is waxing very warm over who is to be their mayor. The vote Tuesday was a tie between Alfred McKeown, acting mayor, and ex Mayor Thomas S. Young, the first mayor of the borough.

This trouble has been caused by a remark made at the borough primary held last Thursday evening. Those who had been favoring a Citizen's ticket had tendered the nomination for mayor to Mr. Young. Mr. Young at first refused to allow his name to be used. Up to the time of the nomination, it was not a certainty that he would allow his name to come before the primary. Nominations were in order.

Acting Mayor McKeown had been nominated when the name of Mr. Young was brought forward A strong partisan of Mr. McKeown jumped up and in a hasty manner made a remark which roused Mr. Young's fighting blood.

As soon as the speaker had finished, Mr. Young said: "I did not intend to accept the honor of the nomination for mayor this evening if it had been tendered me. But now I say I am in the fight and there I will remain until the last vote is counted."

Mr. Young won out in the primary and the opposition adjourned to a nearby residence and the Independent ticket was launched into the field and the fight waxed warm. House to house canvass was made by supporters of both tickets. Secret caucuses were held and no stone was left unturned to get every available vote out at the polls Tuesday. Then, after all the trouble, the last vote counted found the mayoralty question still unsettled and the borough government practically without a head.

When Mayor George Kyte died May of last year, Henry L Hall, president of the Council, was appointed acting mayor by the Council. During the early fall Mr Hall was seriously ill for several months with typhoid fever. During his illness he felt as though he was unable to perform his duties as mayor, so tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and Alfred McKeown was appointed to fill in the unexpired term, which ends very soon.

The residents are at a standstill in the matter as to who will be mayor. If the matter is left to the Council, it will probably cause more trouble as the members of the Council are said to be evenly divided upon the subject, and would be unable to agree. Some propose a new election for mayor but this meets with opposition owing to the trouble and expense.

The question of whether the residents will walk upon concrete or crushed stone is causing more trouble. Those in favor of bonding the borough for $4 000, for this purpose won out at the election by 4 majority. But nothing can be done in the matter without an action by the Council. Here is said to be another deadlock as there is another tie vote and this will no doubt side track the plan for the present at least.

Some of the residents are wondering if there is another borough in the country, with a registry list of less than 100, that can find half the political troubles that Fanwood can.

New Badges for Janitors.

The janitors of the public schools, all of whom are special policemen, received handsome new badges yesterday afternoon from Chief Kiely. Heretofore, some of the janitors had no badges and Mayor Jenkins thought it best to equip all the men. They are of the regular size and style.

BODY BROUGHT HOME.

Funeral of Lieut. Stewart Will be Held This Afternoon—It Will be Private.

The body of the late Lieut. Walter E. Stewart, Jr., arrived in Plainfield last evening from San Francisco, and arrangements were made to hold the funeral private this afternoon at 2 o'clock. A short service at Hillside Cemetery will be conducted by Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, no one being present but the immediate family

Lieut. Stewart died in San Francisco a little over a week ago of cerebral appoplexy, while on his way home from the Philippine Islands. He had been suffering with head trouble due to an accident in being thrown from his horse while in the service.

ROBBED ON CENTRAL TRAIN.

DARING THIEVES REMOVED CASH AND WATCH FROM FANWOOD MAN.

E. A. Hall Lost $80 and Gold Watch and Chain—Men Crowded Around Him as He Tried to Alight.

A bold highway robbery and theft occurred at the Fanwood station of the Jersey Central Railroad Monday evening. E. A. Hall, an aged man residing at Fanwood and doing business in New York, was returning to his home. He rode in the car next to the smoker. He afterwards remembered that three passengers were in the head car, and there was only one man besides himself in the car in which he was riding.

When Fanwood was reached Mr. Hall started to leave the car. Upon reaching the platform he was surrounded by the three men from the smoker and the fourth man from the other car. He made several attempts to alight, but was unable to get off. Finally, one of the strange men said to Mr. Hall, "Why don't you get out of the way." He replied that he would, if they would step one side. He was then allowed to leave the train.

As soon as Mr. Hall reached the station he felt for his money, when to his dismay learned that he had been robbed of $80 He also discovered that his gold watch and chain had been stolen. He reported the theft at once to the station agent and the police in this city were notified by telephone to look out for the men upon the arrival of the train at Plainfield. They must have left the train at Netherwood, for they were not on board when this city was reached. Every effort was made to capture the strangers, but without avail. Mr. Hall believes that the men followed him from New York, and that they knew something about the money he had.

NO EXPERT.

Hillside Club Has Decided to Dispense With Services of a Golf Professional This Year.

The management of the Hillside and Golf Club has decided not to engage an expert and green keeper during the coming season, and Matthew Roger Brown, who held that position at the club last year, has not been re-engaged. Steward Ivamy has been re-engaged by the club and he will continue to serve the members in the usual satisfactory manner. The members are anxiously waiting to open the course, and if the weather remains favorable an early opening is promised.

OPPOSING ABANDONMENT OF THE MORRIS CANAL

Senator Pitney Introduced a Measure To Refer It To a State Commission.

OTHER IMPORTANT BILLS.

BOTH HOUSES WERE BUSY YESTERDAY PASSING BILLS.

Some of the Most Important Measures That Were Considered by the Legislature at Yesterday's Session.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 14.—An attempt by President Pitney, of the Senate, to defeat the bill providing for the abandonment of the Morris canal, by introducing another measure was the chief feature of yesterday's session of the Legislature. There were, however, a number of important bills passed by both Senate and Assembly. The Senate adjourned for the week and the House until today.

Mr. Reed introduced a bill for President Pitney providing for the appointment of six commissioners to examine into and report upon the proposed abandonment of the Morris Canal, and all questions relating thereto. The committee will determine whether it is expedient for the State to own or control the water supply of the canal. The compensation of the commissioners is to be fixed by the Governor, and their expenses shall be paid by the State. The report is to be made to the next or any subsequent Legislature. Senator Pitney has been strongly opposed to the abandonment bill now pending in the Senate, and the purpose of the bill introduced is to defeat it for the present at least.

The House passed, with the Senate amendments, the bill authorizing Hoboken to vacate an alley to facilitate the construction of the new docks of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, and also the following measures: Disqualifying judges from sitting in a cause in which members of their family are interested in any capacity; providing for the promulgation of the State and national census; appropriating $14,700 for the purchase of additional land for the Soldiers' Home at Kearney; appropriating $3,000 for the protection of oyster beds in South Jersey; providing for the appointment of an additional vice-chancellor by the chancellor for a term of seven years; providing that a passenger arrested in consequence of any dispute as to his railroad fare may demand a hearing before the nearest justice of the peace.

In the Senate the following bills were passed: Enabling counties having no county hospital to assist in constructing or enlarging hospitals in such county at a cost not to exceed, $15,00; authorizing cities to issue bonds not exceeding $400 000 for the funding of water debts; providing that where husband and wife have a joint deposit in a savings bank, and have agreed that either may draw upon the account, this arrangement shall hold good in the event of the death of either of them.

MR. HARNEY'S MEETINGS.

Spoke to a Fair Crowd at Reform Hall Last Evening.

The evangelistic meetings conducted by Rev. Gilbert L. Harney, of Maine, were resumed in Reform Hall last evening. The subject, "Christ For All Men," was chosen for the purpose of calling attention to the character of Christ as manifested in His dying for all, and to the fact that those who are Christ's have His Spirit, are becoming like Him, and love all men and labor for their salvation.

The Disciples seek to cultivate this spirit, not only toward all Christians, but toward all men. Mr. Harney's sermons, while he is here, will hold up Christ in His life, death, resurrection and reign, and seek to draw men to Him to the end that they may not only be saved from guilt but also from the love and practice of sin. He believes thoroughly in practical Christianity.

The meetings will be continued this evening when Rev. Mr. Harney will preach on "Temperance." The meeting begins at 7:45 o'clock.

Plainfield Woman Arrested.

A Plainfield woman, whose name cannot be learned, was arrested in Somerville last Tuesday for riding a short distance on the sidewalk on her bicycle. She was in a great hurry to catch a train and rather than ride through a very muddy portion of the street she used the sidewalk for a short ways. She was haled to court and a fine of $5 imposed. This caused her to miss her train.

Military Show in New York.

From March 25 until March 30, Madison Square Garden, New York, will be occupied by soldiers, and the fifth annual military and athletic tournament, given by the Military Athletic League, will present a scene of beauty and animation that the public are glad to see. The details of cavalry, infantry, artillery, engineer corps and men from the navy, ensure a programme full of life and with great interest. The engineer corps will build pontoon bridges, while under an infantay fire, and artillery, cavalry and infantry will cross the bridge in a battle scene true to life. There will be reviews every night, Monday, March 25 being for Vice-President Roosevelt, and Tuesday night for Admiral Dewey. The athletic events begin the programme, the splendid military show following. The regulars, the volunteers, the navy and the national guard will be in the list each night. The evening performances will begin promptly at 8 o'clock; the matinees, with an entirely military programme, will be given on Wednesday and Saturday at 2 o'clock. It will be military rule in earnest at the Garden for a week, and the veterans who have seen service in the Phillipines, Cuba and in China will be seen at their best in aid of the league and the good work it does for the soldiers and the sailors.

THOUSANDS TAKE OATH.

Ilocans In Great Number Accept American Rule.

MANILA, March 14.—More than 20,000 Ilocans took the oath of allegiance to the United States last week.

Lieutenant John L. Hines, with Company K, Second United States infantry, encountered a body of insurgents south of Buenavista, Marinduque island, one American being killed and three wounded. The insurgents lost 6 killed and 13 wounded.

A combined effort is being made to crush the insurgents in Marinduque island, and ten expeditions are operating in that territory.

Major Edward C. Carey of the Forty-second volunteer infantry captured one insurgent officer and two brass cannon near Norong.

Major Elmore F. Taggart of the Twenty-eighth volunteer infantry captured about 25 miles south of Cagayan the following members of the revolutionary cabinet:

Auselino Abejechuca, jefe militar (military chief), and Gusto Jaclan, Ramon Nerz, Santiago Costello, Ramon Chavez and Fausto Piode.

The Mindanao prisoners have arrived at Manila.

Paymaster Major Pickett, with $75,000 in gold and an escort of ten mounted men from Company D of the Sixteenth regular infantry, was attacked by a party of 30 bandits on the road between Bayombong and Echague in the province of Nueva Viscaya. A hard fight ensued, and the robbers were routed. The funds were saved. Corporal Hooker was killed and a private was wounded.

Great Storm In Michigan.

DETROIT, March 14.—A special to The Free Press from Grand Rapids says: Raging along the entire coast of Lake Michigan north of Grand Rapids and reaching out over the Saginaw valley is one of the most disastrous storms in years. Railroad reports here show that all lines are blocked and that not a train on the Grand Rapids and Indiana or the Pere Marquette north and northeast of here is able to move. The strength of the blizzard may be understood when it is known that the windows of the coaches and the cabs of the engines were in some instances broken in. The trainmen in reporting from the north say that their situations are perilous, and they ask for immediate aid. They say the snow is falling in clouds and that they are unable to assist themselves.

Colombia Favors Canal Building.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Senor Martinez Silva, minister of foreign affairs for the republic of Colombia and at present accredited as Colombian minister to Washington, has had another conference with Secretary Hay in connection with the informal discussion concerning the Panama canal route lying within Colombia. It cannot be said that any formal negotiations are under way or are even open, but the presence of Senor Silva here at this time gives assurance that if there is any disposition on the part of the American authorities to take up the canal question with the Colombian government the latter government is now disposed to remove any obstacles on her part in the way of the adoption of that route.

Negro Burned at the Stake.

CORSICANA, Tex., March 14.—John Henderson, colored, who brutally assaulted and murdered Mrs. Younger, a farmer's wife living just outside this city several days ago, was burned to death in the Courthouse square here at noon yesterday. A written confession of the crime, attested by Justice Roberts, was secured from the prisoner. Five thousand people witnessed the burning, and business was practically suspended for a time. Henderson was captured Tuesday after a long chase. He was trailed by bloodhounds from the Younger homestead many miles back and forth across the country and was finally captured near Hillsboro.

Old Kentucky Feud Settled.

LONDON, Ky., March 14.—The factions in the Baker-Howard feud in Clay county have been pacified, including the Whites, the allies of the Howards, and the Garrards and Philpots, who sided with the Bakers. Through the influence of E. B. Tinsley, the newly appointed circuit judge for this district, the warring factions have been brought together and have agreed to lay down their arms and to let the law take its course. Already 22 of the warriors have enlisted in the army at the recruiting station here.

Bridge Strikers Are Out.

NEW YORK, March 14.—President Roberts of the New Jersey Steel and Iron company has notified the men employed on the East River bridge who went on strike that they are no longer employees of the company and therefore no discussion of rates or any other matters can be had with them.

A FIVE MILLION GIFT

Carnegie Remembers Pittsburg In Princely Style.

BUSINESS RETIREMENT ANNOUNCED.

This Latest Benefaction of the "Steel King" Eclipses All Others—A Fund For Superannuated and Disabled Employees.

PITTSBURG, March 14.—Two communications from Andrew Carnegie which are officially made public today tell of the steel king's retirement from active business life and of his donation of $5,000,000 for the endowment of a fund for superannuated and disabled employees of the Carnegie company. This benefaction is by far the largest of the many created by Mr. Carnegie and is probably without a parallel anywhere in the world. This fund will in no wise interfere with the continuance of the savings fund established by the company 15 years ago for the benefit of its employees. In this latter fund nearly $2,000,000 of the employees' savings are on deposit, on which the company, by contract, pays 6 per cent and loans money to the workmen to build their homes. The letters of Mr. Carnegie follow:

"To the Good People of Pittsburg:

"An opportunity to retire from business came to me unsought which I considered it my duty to accept. My resolve was made in youth to retire before old age. From what I have seen around me I cannot doubt the wisdom of this course, although the change is great, even serious, and seldom brings the happiness expected. But this was because so many, having abundance to retire upon, have so little to retire to. The fathers in olden days taught that a man should have time before the end of his career for the 'making of his soul.' I have always felt that old age should be spent, not, as the Scotch say, in 'making mickle mair,' but in making a good use of what has been acquired, and I hope my friends of Pittsburg will approve of my action in retiring while still in full health and vigor, and I can reasonably expect many years for usefulness in fields which have other than personal aims.

"The pain of change and separation from business associations and employees is indeed keen—associates who are at once the best of friends, employees who are not only the best of workmen, but the most self respecting body of men which the world has to show. Of this I am well assured and very proud.

"But the separation, even from a business point of view, is not absolute, since my capital remains in Pittsburg as before, and indeed I am now interested in more mills there than ever and depend upon Pittsburg as hitherto for my revenue.

"I shall have more time now to devote to the institute and to the technical school which are in the higher domain of Pittsburg's life, and these I have long seen to be my chief work, the field in which I can do the greatest, because the highest, good for Pittsburg.

"For all these reasons and for another more potent than all—viz, that Pittsburg entered the core of my heart when I was a boy and cannot be torn out—I can never be one hairbreadth more loyal to her or less anxious to help her in any way than I have since I could help anything.

"My treasure is still with you, my heart is still with you, and how best to serve Pittsburg is the question which recurs to me almost every day of my life."

"To the President and Managers of the Carnegie Company:

"Gentlemen—Mr. Franks, my cashier, will hand over to you upon your acceptance of the trust $5,000,000 of the Carnegie company bonds in trust for the following purposes:

"The income of $1,000,000 to be spent in maintaining the libraries built by me in Braddock, Homestead and Duquesne. I have been giving the interest of $250,000 to each of these libraries hitherto, and this will give a revenue of $50,000 hereafter for the three. Braddock library is doing a great deal of work for the neighborhood and requires more than Homestead. Homestead, on the other hand, will probably require more for a time than Duquesne, but I leave it to you to distribute the funds from time to time according to the work done or needed.

"The income of the other $4,000,000 is to be applied:

"First.—To provide for employees of the Carnegie company in all its works, mines, railways, shops, etc., injured in its service and for those dependent upon such employees as are killed.

"Second.—To provide small pensions or aids to such employees as after long and creditable service through exceptional circumstances need such help in their old age and who make a good use of it. Should these uses not require all of the revenue and a surplus of $200,000 be left after ten years' operation, then for all over this workmen in mills other than the Carnegie company in Allegheny county shall become eligible for participation in the fund, the mills nearest the works of the Carnegie Steel company being first embraced.

"I make this first use of surplus wealth upon retiring from business as an acknowledgment of the deep debt which I owe to the workmen who have contributed so greatly to my success. I hope the cordial relations which exist between employers and employed throughout all the Carnegie company works may never be disturbed, both employers and employed remembering what I said in my last speech to the men at Homestead: 'Labor, capital and business ability are the three legs of a three legged stool; neither is first, neither is second, neither third; there is no precedence, all being equally necessary. He who would sow discord among the three is an enemy of all.'"

Carnegie Off to Europe.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Andrew Carnegie sailed on the steamer St. Louis yesterday with his wife and daughter and Miss Whitfield for a seven months' visit to Europe. His countenance was as ruddy and cheery as ever as he walked up and down the promenade deck of the steamer with Charles M. Schwab, the president of the Carnegie company, stopping occasionally to bid a friend farewell.

A Thirty-four Days' Snowstorm.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 14.—Many storms during the past month have caused a serious blockade on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad. The yards of the eastern and northern divisions are congested with freight. The snow has fallen in northern New York daily for 34 days, and a heavy snowstorm prevailed last night.

BENJAMIN HARRISON

Former President, Statesman and Soldier Dead.

VICTIM OF AN ATTACK OF PNEUMONIA

The End, Expected For Many Hours, Came at 4:45 Yesterday—Arrangements For the Funeral—Notable Career Sketched.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 14.—General Benjamin Harrison died at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon without regaining consciousness. His death was quiet and painless, there being a gradual sinking until the end came, which was marked by a single gasp for breath as life departed from the body of the great statesman. The relatives, with a few exceptions, and several of his old and tried friends were at the former president's bedside when he passed away.

News of the death spread quickly through the city, and several of the more intimate friends at once hurried to the Harrison residence. The word was flashed from the bulletins of all the newspapers and thus communicated to the people on their way home in the evening. The announcement produced the greatest sorrow. Within a few moments the flags on all the public buildings and most of the down town business blocks were hoisted at half mast and other outward manifestations of mourning were made.

The group at the bedside included Mrs. Harrison, William H. H. Miller, Samuel Miller, his son; Rev. Dr. M. L. Haines, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, which General Harrison had attended for so many years; Secretary Tibbett, Drs. Jameson and Dorsey, Colonel Daniel M. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate and a close personal friend of the dead ex-president; Clifford Ar-rick and the two nurses who have been in constant attendance.

Steps were at once taken to notify the relatives and friends outside the city.

General Harrison had been unconscious for hours before his death, the exact time when he passed into a comatose state being difficult to determine.

The funeral of ex-President Harrison will take place next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be held in the First Presbyterian church, of which General Harrison was a member for nearly 50 years. Rev. Dr. M. L. Haines, pastor of the church, will have charge of the services.

The body of General Harrison will lie in state in the rotunda of the state capitol all day Saturday.

General Harrison's wealth is variously estimated, public opinion rating it as high as $500,000. Those who are best informed about the ex-president's affairs, however, say he was worth about $250,000 or $300,000. At the time he was elected president he was reputed to have accumulated a fortune of $125,000 from his law practice, and this has been doubled at least since that time. Of late his practice, owing to his great reputation as a constitutional lawyer, was very lucrative. His fee in the Venezuelan boundary dispute, in which he represented this government, was $125,000.

In one of the last public speeches which the late Benjamin Harrison made he said:

"This country of ours is worthy of our love. It should be before everything else but God. Wife, children, mother, lover—all these men have put aside for it."

These words of Mr. Harrison were the sincere convictions of his heart, and the sentiment they contain is that of good patriotism. The future historian, in estimating the character of this remote successor of George Washington, will not judge Benjamin Harrison by what he has said, but what he has done, and he will find no paucity of deeds in his search for material.

It was one warm June day nearly 33 years ago when Harrison gave his first and greatest proof of devotion to his country. Governor Oliver P. Morton of Indiana met him in the street and said, "Ben, I want you to raise a regiment." Ben did not hesitate a moment. He raised the regiment and went to the front with it. As a gallant, intelligent soldier he stood in the first rank.

Benjamin Harrison was likewise a politician. But that fact did not interfere with his patriotism. He came of a stock about whose devotion to country there could be no question. It was in his blood to stand firmly by the cause which he espoused and which he believed to be the right one. One of his ancestors in a direct line was an adherent of Oliver Cromwell in the great revolution for constitutional liberties. This Cromwellian Harrison was commissioned as a general. He was one of the commissioners who tried King Charles I for treason and who signed his name to the death warrant of the king, but when the restoration came Charles II sent General Harrison to the gallows. He was hanged, drawn and quartered.

Relatives of the ill fated Cromwellian Harrison, believing that liberty was dead in England, emigrated to America and settled in Virginia. From this stock was descended the ninth president of the United States, and the son of this ninth president was John Scott Harrison, father of the former president who lies dead in Indianapolis today.

History shows us a Benjamin Harrison as a member of the Virginia house of burgesses in Revolutionary times, as a signer of the Declaration of Independence, a three times governor of Virginia and a member of the constitutional convention that ratified the federal constitution. He was the great-grandfather of the man who is now mourned all over the country.

Thus it will be seen that the late Benjamin Harrison could not help being patriotic. He was in at the birth of the Republican party and ever after was an uncompromising party man.

In Indiana Harrison was always a favorite, although he was born in Ohio at North Bend in the year 1833. He was 7 years old when his grandfather was elected president of the United States. His energy was noticed in his early years at school. He learned his A B C's at a country school not far from the Ohio homestead. Then he went to Miami university, where he graduated at the age of 18 and very soon after married Miss Lavina Scott, becoming a father before he was 21.

He elected to study law and entered the office of Judge Bellamy Storer in Cincinnati. He forged ahead so rapidly in his studies that he was admitted to the bar before he was of age to vote.

His legal reputation was made by Governor Joseph A. White, who assigned him to a legislative investigation, in which he acquitted himself with such credit that soon after he was made associate of the district attorney in a celebrated murder case. These legal triumphs brought him clients. That he was a good lawyer is shown by the fact that for a period of 10 or 15 years he was regarded as the head of the Indiana bar.

In later years all this kind of work and more did not prevent him being an active church member. Indeed, for years he taught a Bible class in a Sunday school. He was one of the pillars of the Presbyterian church.

He laid the foundation for his greatest honor, however, in 1876, when he emerged from private life to take again an active part in politics and became the candidate for governor. He was defeated, but in the campaign made hosts of friends by his intrepidity, and four years after, in 1880, he received the reward of party fealty by being elected to the United States senate. He served the full term.

Mr. Harrison was nominated for the presidency in 1888 and was elected after an unusually exciting campaign against Grover Cleveland. The tariff was the great issue of the election. Mr. Harrison was president of the United States from March 4, 1889, to March 4, 1893. In the course of his administration there were many important achievements. A large increase in the navy was one of these.

In 1896 Mr. Harrison married Mrs. Mary Lord Dimmick, a niece of the late wife of the Indiana statesman.

Mr. Harrison was defeated for re-election by Mr. Cleveland in 1894 and retired from public life thereafter, writing occasional magazine articles and resuming the practice of law.

An English Tribute.

LONDON, March 14.—All the morning papers publish long memoirs of the late General Benjamin Harrison and editorials dealing with his career. The Daily Chronicle says, "It may be long before America finds another president as capable, honorable and conservative."

President to Attend Funeral.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President McKinley will attend the funeral of General Harrison. The exact time of departure has not been positively determined. The party will stop at Canton, while the president and Mr. Cortelyou proceed to Indianapolis.

Cashier Johnson a Forger.

NILES, Mich., March 14.—The directors of the suspended First National bank have filed a declaration against Charles A. Johnson, the missing cashier of the bank, alleging that forgeries amounting to $100,000 against leading citizens of this county have been committed by him. It was found that there was a great quantity of forged paper held by the institution. Bank Examiner Selden filed papers with the county clerk at St. Joseph attaching all of Johnson's property, but it will not cover the shortage by many thousands. No trace of Johnson was discovered. So many local manufactories and business firms are embarrassed by the suspension that it is vital to the town that the bank's affairs be settled up with all possible speed. The report of the bank examiner is being feverishly awaited by the anxious depositors. The funds of both the city and county are tied up in the bank and all municipal business is practically at a standstill.

That "Blood Rain" In Europe.

BERLIN, March 14.—Much speculation has been caused in scientific circles by the colored rain and snow which fell Monday in various parts of Germany, leaving a sandy deposit. Scientists here connect the phenomenon with the "bloody rain" which fell in Sicily and the southern parts of Italy, attributing it to sandstorms from the Sahara. Some Hamburg scientists believe the phenomenon due to a volcanic eruption in Iceland.

Wharf Fire In Boston.

BOSTON, March 14.—In a cluster of storehouses on Union wharf, owned by the Union Wharf corporation and leased to between 40 and 50 tenants, a fire last night caused a loss estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000. One two story wooden shed was completely burned, a five story brick building was badly gutted, while several sections of a long one story storage shed were invaded by fire and water.

More Troops From Manila.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—The United States transport Buford has arrived from the Philippines. She brought 75 discharged soldiers and civil employees from Manila and 855 men of the Thirty-seventh volunteers. On March 10 Private Gustave Zewer of Company I jumped overboard with suicidal intent. His body was not recovered.

St. Louis Fair Appropriation.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 14.—The bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the Louisiana Purchase World's fair at St. Louis, with senate amendments incorporating an emergency clause making the money available at once, has passed the house. The bill now goes to Governor Dockery for his signature.

A Fast Torpedo Boat.

QUINCY, Mass., March 14.—The torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence went out on its fourth builders' trial trip yesterday and for two and a half hours maintained a speed of 23 knots per hour. The boat went over the course off Eastern point, Gloucester, where the official trial will take place.

CANAL LEGISLATION DOUBTFUL

A Previous Tax Resolution Seems Likely to Block the Way.

ALBANY, March 14.—There is a curious condition over proposed canal legislation. Governor Odell sent in today a report on canal improvement made by State Engineer Bond.

The assembly has already passed a concurrent resolution amending the constitution relative to the taxation. If the senate, which seems likely, passes this resolution also, it will prevent any consideration of a canal improvement bill, the most significant being that Governor Odell is rather relieved to have the canal matter held in abeyance by the Lewis resolution without leaving the responsibility for such delay thrust upon him.

Senator Hill of Buffalo, who has counted noses, says that the Lewis resolution cannot pass the senate. Senator Ambler, who leads the anticanal men, says it will and that canal legislation this year will be impossible. It is said that Governor Odell has been advised that it would be unwise just as he is accomplishing great reductions in taxation to pass a bill for canal improvement that will put it all back.

Sharp Fight With Burglars.

FARMINGTON, Mich, March 14.—Four hundred men and boys had a pitched battle yesterday afternoon in which over a thousand shots were exchanged with three burglars who were hiding in a patch of woods three miles west of the village. After a desperate resistance the men showed a white flag from behind their cover, and when the posse swarmed in upon them it was found that all three were badly wounded. They gave their names as George Smith, John Taylor and Jim Williamson and their residence as Port Huron. Williamson had been shot through the back, head and one elbow, Smith was wounded in the back and legs and Taylor in the face and legs. The trio was handcuffed and brought to the village, where their wounds were dressed.

Instructions to Rockhill.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Instructions of a definite character were sent by cable yesterday afternoon to Mr. Rockhill, the president's special commissioner to China. They concern the demands of the ministers of the powers for the punishment of a number of Chinese provincial officers accused of being concerned in the massacre of missionaries, foreigners and native converts. The instructions are important in that they express the desire of the president that moderation will prevail in the demands of the ministers and reiterate the president's hope, previously communicated to Minister Conger, that the shedding of blood in China will cease.

Shoemakers' Strike Off.

NORTH BROOKFIELD, Mass., March 14.—The strike of the 1,100 operatives at the shoe factory of E. & A. H. Batheller at this place has been declared off after a conference between members of the firm and the strikers. The help went to work this morning under the old scale of wages. The strike was instituted against a 10 per cent reduction.

Boston Building Six Feet Too High.

BOSTON, March 14.—The full bench of the supreme court decided that the Westminster chambers in Copley square must come down to 90 feet, the height established by the legislature for structures in the square. The building is six feet in excess of the height limit. The defendants are given until October to comply with the law.

Toledo Freight Business Blocked.

TOLEDO, March 14.—The Wabash, Lake Shore, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and Michigan Central railroads have notified shippers that no freight will be accepted until the waters have receded. The freight depots of those railways are close to the water front, and in some of them the water is two feet deep. All have dismissed the clerks.

Large Shipment of Steel Rails.

PITTSBURG, March 14.—Nine barge loads of steel rails and 2,134,000 bushels of coal were shipped south yesterday. Ten million bushels of coal and 50,000 tons of rails are awaiting shipment as soon as boats to carry them can reach the harbor. The river is falling slowly, but good shipping water is expected for a week to come.

Cornell Student Dies.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 14.—William De Grant, 25 years old, a Cornell student in the class of 1903, who lived at Barre, Vt., is dead in the Ithaca hospital. His death was due chiefly to injuries sustained in a fall on the ice near the Cornell armory a few days ago. An operation which was performed proved fatal.

Bay State Women Denied Suffrage.

BOSTON, March 14.—By a vote of 132 to 29 the house rejected the proposition for extending suffrage in this state to women. The majority against the suffragists was the largest for many years and was somewhat remarkable in view of the fact that the debate, which covered two days, was also one of the longest.

Treasurer Stanley Guilty.

LEBANON, Pa., March 14.—George M. Stanley, former treasurer of the defunct Economy Building and Loan association of this city, has been found guilty of embezzling $4,315.89 of the funds of the institution. Stanley had been treasurer of the association since its organization ten years ago.

Girl Strikers Win.

PATERSON, N. J., March 14.—The Haledon velvet mills in this city have granted the 50 girl strikers an advance of 15 cents on every bundle of 200 yards of velvet they handle, and the girls have returned to work. There is no change in the situation at the other mills affected.

CONCERT IS BROKEN.

Russia Opposes Further Punishment of Chinese.

FOREIGN MINISTERS SURPRISED.

Up to Date 240 Foreigners and 30,000 Natives Have Been Murdered by Boxers—Severe Punishment Considered a Matter of Justice.

PEKING, March 14.—The foreign ministers have sent to the Chinese plenipotentiaries a list of the towns and cities in China where examinations for the civil service would not be permitted for a period of five years. They also requested these Chinese authorities to appoint a commission to act with a man appointed by the ministers to assess the value of the private property taken for legation purposes.

The ministers held a meeting yesterday and discussed the question of the punishment of the provincial officers who are regarded as responsible primarily for the Boxer troubles and who are directly implicated in the massacre of missionaries and converts.

To the surprise of everybody the Russian representative appeared as an opponent to any further punishment of Chinese officers, no matter how guilty they may have been. This is the first decided break in the concert of the powers.

The Russian representative got his orders from St. Petersburg. It is understood that he was told to aid China in every way in return for China's signature to an agreement recognizing Russian predominance in the whole northern part of the empire. The Chinese peace commissioners have attempted to minimize the importance of this agreement in the hope, it is thought, of provoking discord among the ministers.

The move made by Russia will please the Chinese for two reasons. In the first place it means that the punishment of the provincial officers will be staved off temporarily, to say the least, and, secondly, it will have a tendency to break the unanimity of the powers. As the matter stands now, Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Austria, Belgium and Holland are at one that these officers should be punished. The position of Japan and America is uncertain.

The action of these two countries is deemed most important in settling the policy of the allies. In the opinion of a majority of the ministers it is simply a question of whether strict justice shall be administered and a policy adopted that will bring security to the country or one of laxity that will lead to more danger and trouble.

Investigations made up to date go to show that at the lowest calculation 240 foreigners and 30,000 native converts were murdered as a direct outcome of the Boxer troubles, which had official connivance.

Most of the foreign ministers believe that the perpetrators of these outrages deserve severe punishment and that it should be imposed in order to maintain justice. The list contains the names of 140 officers whose strict punishment is demanded, even so far as the imposition of the death penalty, but the ministers insist on the beheading of only 11.

Peace Negotiation Rumors.

LONDON, March 14.—"We understand that there has been an active interchange of telegrams between the home government and the Cape authorities and Lord Kitchener," says The Daily Chronicle, "concerning the negotiations with General Botha and also that immense quantities of food stuffs are reaching Pretoria by way of Delagoa Bay, which are destined to feed the Boers when the final surrender is made." The Daily News says: "In addition to the modifications announced by The Daily News yesterday in the 'unconditional surrender' policy, we understand that the government has authorized Lord Kitchener to give a distinct promise that the government of the new colonies shall culminate in a complete grant of free institutions."

New Election Bill Certain.

ANNAPOLIS, March 14.—The Democratic leaders are breathing more freely, for when the senate adjourned at 11 o'clock last night it was practically certain that the new election bill popularly known as the "disfranchisement bill" will become a law. Nothing but an accident which cannot be foreseen can now prevent its adoption and in such form as to fully carry out the purpose of its promoters, which is to make it almost if not not quite impossible for an illiterate voter in Maryland to cast his ballot intelligently.

Lives Lost In a Fire.

NEW YORK, March 14.—One woman and a child were killed and two persons badly burned at a fire which started at 1:30 o'clock this morning in the five story brick tenement house 230 Atlantic avenue, between Hoyt and Bond streets, Brooklyn borough. The fire originated in a baker's store on the ground floor and is believed to have been caused by an overheated flue. The flames spread rapidly through the building, leaving only the four walls.

Miners' Convention.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 14.—In executive session yesterday the miners' convention considered the wage scale and the refusal of the operators to enter into a conference. A committee on scale was appointed. Immediately after the adjournment of the session the scale committee went into secret session. President Mitchell gave out a statement last evening, but it was merely a synopsis of the day's proceedings.

Arabs to Take Strikers' Places.

MARSEILLES, March 14.—The shipping companies, in view of the dockers' strike, have decided to import Arab labor, and the first batch of 400 Arabs, French subjects, will soon arrive here. There were several fights yesterday between strikers and workers, one of the latter being seriously injured. A few arrests were made by the police.

Marconi on the Majestic.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The White Star liner Majestic, from Liverpool and Queenstown, which was sighted southeast of Fire island at 12:34 o'clock this morning, almost a day behind her schedule time, has on board Signor Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy.

Many New Cases of Plague.

CAPE TOWN, March 14.—Fifteen new cases of bubonic plague, all colored persons, were officially reported yesterday.

A Tunnel Needed.

The New York Tribune of yesterday has an extended editorial on the project of the Pennsylvania Railroad to construct a tunnel under the Hudson, and urges the scheme with much good argument.

There seems no reasonable doubt that this and similar tunnels in the near future will be built. Such enterprises will mean much to real estate values of New Jersey. Any plan, whereby passengers may step in a railway car at the New York City Hall, and without change, be landed at his home station in New Jersey, will mean millions of dollars to the value of New Jersey real property and at the same time solving the matter of rapid transit and congested terminals at the present East River bridge.

While the construction of New York's subway involves the question of much rock blasting, displacement of sewer, water and gas pipes, and, too, the jeopardizing of house foundations, the Hudson tunnel would be free from these difficulties, and present little engineering obstructions. While railroad facilities are today good, the riddance of ferry boats and the lack of a necessity of a change would facilitate travel, and be the means of building up the beautiful sites in Union, Hudson and Essex counties, with homes combining the blessings of suburban life, with all the conveniences of the city.

Full Election Returns.

The Daily Press was able to give its readers yesterday the best and most accurate account of the election in the borough of North Plainfield and the other municipalities of this neighborhood that has been published. From the leaders of both parties there came only words of praise for the complete and impartial statement of the results in North Plainfield.

Besides a full report of the election in North Plainfield, The Daily Press covered with much care the elections in all the townships and boroughs in this vicinity. The excellence of these reports caused a large demand for Daily Presses yesterday afternoon and evening, and the regular edition had to be considerably enlarged to meet the demand.

Another piece of enterprise was the bulletin which was posted in front of The Daily Press office at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. It had the complete returns from the North Plainfield election and enabled the commuters, on their way to the trains, to obtain facts and figures regarding the borough election. All day a crowd gathered about the bulletin and words of commendation for The Daily Press were heard on every side.

A recent decision given in the United States Court at Cincinnati, O., by Judge Jackson will be of interest to Plainfielders who have followed the details of the fight in this State between the railroad companies and the express messengers. The decision was a victory for the corporations. The "Big Four" line asserted that William White, a commuter, carried from Cincinnati daily to Middletown and way points articles under the guise of baggage, which really did not belong to that classification, and that he was a "walking express company" for merchants along the line. All this is in violation of the plaintiff's contract with the American Express Company. The court ruled that a passenger may carry only such articles as he needs for his journey or individual use, and enjoined White from carrying all else.

The suggestion has been well made that the evangelical churches of the city unite once a month for a union service and that some clergyman of prominence in the land be secured each month to address these meetings. It is believed that in this way, material aid can be given to continue the work of the recent Gospel campaign. Rev. Theodore S. Henderson, of Brooklyn, who assisted Evangelist William Phillips Hall in his work here, promised that if the young people's societies of the city and borough would arrange for a union service in May, he would come to this city to address it. There are undoubtedly many of the leading clergymen of New York and vicinity who would come here on a similar errand if invited.

A few years ago it was considered unnecessary if not undignified for an insurance company to advertise in the newspapers further than to publish the formal and unattractive official statement, says the Philadelphia Record. Then a small and little known company of Newark, N. J., engaged an experienced advertising man to test the efficacy of newspaper publicity as used by merchants. As a result this company now ranks first in the world in its volume of business.

For such a little municipality, the borough of Fanwood appears to be having its full share of excitement. The voters of that place attempted to elect a mayor Tuesday but they failed simply because thirty-seven men wanted one candidate and thirty-seven another. It will probably end in another election being held and that one will undoubtedly be fought with a fierceness not expected for a place of that size.

The wreck of yesterday afternoon on the line of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company was the most serious that has yet occurred there. The company officials are reported to have said that the motorman was not to blame but that the refusal of the electric brakes to work was the cause of the accident.

Dunellen Republicans are not particularly harmonious at present. They claim that the cause of their defeat was the lack of support of the men in their own party.

The Legislators at Trenton still continue to pass bills and transact business. The session is drawing to a close, however.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

What is known as the school bill, introduced by Senator Stokes, of Cumberland county, and which provides for apportioning the fund raised by the school tax according to the attendance in the schools, appears to be meeting with much favor in several parts of New Jersey. The present system of appropriating the school money according to the number of children shown by the census returns has long been regarded as unjust, largely because the fact that the census takers are paid so much a name is an inducement to commit fraud in making these returns. The new bill would, if it should become a law, eliminate frauds of this kind and offer inducements to the school officials to get as many children as is possible to attend the schools.—New York Tribune.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Considerable has been said about the excellence of the local postoffice and the expeditious manner in which the mail is handled there. Comparatively few people, however, know what excellent service is given to New York from the local station. An instance with a comparison very favorable to Plainfield recently occurred. A letter from J. W. Yates, postmarked Plainfield, 7:30 a. m., was received at 38 Wall street, New York at 10:30 a. m., while a letter postmarked Station J, New York city, mailed at the same hour, reached 38 Wall street at noon. The difference was just an hour and a half in favor of Plainfield.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 14.—While the result of Tuesday's election in the borough was for the most part accepted with complacency, considerable indignation has been expressed by the majority of the Republicans over the manner in which their candidates were supported by their own party. The defeat was due, not to the Democrats, although their campaign was ably conducted, but to the Republican cutting which predominated. A number of the more energetic of the defeated have declared their intention of remaining aloof during all future campaigns and of allowing the cutters to name and support their candidates.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Presbyterian church, will give their entertainment in the chapel this evening at which the "spelling bee" will be the feature. Refreshments will also be served and a thorough good time is promised.

The last reception of the dancing class which has been conducted by Miss Smith will be given in Apgar's Hall this evening Dancing will be the feature and at the close refreshments will be served.

William Hall, of Belle Meade, has rented a house on Grove street and will remove to the borough next week.

A number of the borough young people will give a dance in Apgar's Hall tomorrow evening.

Mrs John Herbert and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton were the guests of New York friends yesterday.

Mrs. Edward Teel and Mrs. F. T. Dickerson enjoyed a pleasant trip to New York yesterday.

S. B. Merrill has returned from a brief visit with relatives at Newark.

Mrs. Maurice Barick has been the guest of relatives at Freehold.

NEW MARKET.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 14.—The pupils and teachers of the Baptist Sunday-school are preparing to observe Easter Sunday in an appropriate manner. Special music will be rendered and besides this an interesting programme of responsive readings and recitations will be given. The superintendent and teachers hope that the parents and friends of the school will accept a most cordial invitation to attend the exercises and encourage all in the work.

Rev. C O Woodruff of Little Falls, a former pastor of the Methodist church, will occupy the pulpit of that church at both services on Sunday. Mr. Woodruff will, no doubt, be greeted at both services by a large audience.

Election is now over and the next excitement along this line will be the annual school meeting which will be held in the assembly room of the school, Tuesday evening, March 19

The Epworth Literary Society held an enjoyable Bible reading and study in the class rooms of the Methodist church last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, March 14.—A business meeting of the Middlesex Athletic Club of South Plainfied, was held last night in Higgin's Hall. An appropriation was made for the support of a ball team and a committee appointed to arrange for an evening social. The monthly dues were placed at twenty-five cents and the initiation fee at one dollar. The fee for charter members is fifty cents. This club starts in with a membership of eighteen and will exist for the maintenance of all kinds of athletics. Negotiations are under way for the procuring of a suitable ball field and it is expected that a team will soon be in readiness to meet all comers.

The time of the social to be given by the Christian Endeavor Society has been changed from Wednesday to Thursday. The affair will take place in the lecture room of the church, where music, recitations, and dialogues, together with light refreshments will give the public an enjoyable evening.

Bert and Frank Soper, who will be thrown out of good positions at the Pond Tool Works in Plainfield by their closing down nights, will go to Connecticut, where they expect to secure positions. They will be joined by Hiram Hummer, of New Market.

SUPREME COURT ACTS AT ONCE

GIVES A DECISION IN CONTENTION OVER ANTI-SPRING ELECTION LAW.

Done so That it Might be Brought Before Court of Errors and Appeals Without Delay.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 14.—By consent of counsel and an agreement with the court a formal judgment was entered in the Supreme Court yesterday dismissing the proceedings instituted to set aside as unconstitutional the anti-spring elections act. This was done in order that the cases might be brought directly before the Court of Errors and Appeals, where they will be argued next Monday.

Also by consent the formal judgment was announced by Justice Garretson, Justices NanSyckel and Garrison, who also sat in the Supreme Court, retiring from the case in order that they might sit in the Court of Errors and Appeals. By this arrangement the case will be heard by the full court, with the exception of Justice Garretson. While the decision of the Supreme Court stands as a declaration that the act is constitutional, it, of course, is not to be construed that such is the court's opinion on the merits of the case.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Owing to sudden cancellations and inability to secure suitable attractions to fill the dates booked for balance of this and the forthcoming week, Manager Maze Edwards is unable to announce any performances at Music Hall before Saturday, March 23, when Frank Cushman's Minstrel Vaudeville organization will appear in a great bill of novelty. This organization is under the direction of "The White Rats" Association, and every member a "head-liner" in all the principal vaudeville houses of the country. Meantime, however, there may be other performances before this. A number of offerings have been made, but they have been of such inferior quality that Mr. Edwards feels justified in keeping his house closed in preference to foisting doubtful "pick up" organizations upon his clientle, and thereby forfeiting his general good reputation for giving "good shows."

. . . . .

It looks very much as if the Clyde Fitch play, "Lover's Lane," at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, would outlast any other current attraction of the season. It is nearing the end of the second month and is drawing overflowing houses. The great popularity of this dainty pastoral again emphasizes the public demand for clean wholesome plays that blend quaint comedy with simple pathos and delightful stage pictures. It has had a tremendous clerical endorsement and yet it appeals to the worldly. There are not many serious moments in this portrayal of life in a small town, but those few are strongly dramatic. William A. Brady has never presented a more thoroughly delightful play—not even his famous "Way Down East"—and he has given it the benefit of a remarkably fine cast and unusually beautiful pictorial embellishment. As the Evening Sun puts it, "this is one of the few plays that you want to see more than once." Silver candlesticks, with shades and tinted waxen tapers to match, are the artistic souvenirs for the fiftieth performance next Monday.

While There Is Life There Is Hope

I was afflicted with catarrh; could neither taste nor smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it.—Marcus G. Shautz, Rahway, N. J.

The Balm reached me safely and the effect is surprising. My son says the first application gave decided relief. Respectfully, Mrs Franklin Freeman, Dover, N. H.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by druggists at 50 cts. or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

Deep Spiritual Interest.

The prayer meeting at the First Baptist church last evening was largely attended, and there was a deep spiritual interest. Rev. Dr. Yerkes, the pastor, conducted the services, and several persons recently converted were present.

HER DREAMS COME TRUE.

Los Angeles Woman Sees in Visions the Death of All Members of Her Family.

The dreams of Mrs. Sarah Garrity, of Los Angeles, come true. She has seen in dreams the death of several members of her family, some of whom died many thousands of miles away from her, and with whom she had absolutely no communication, and her dreams occurred at the same moment the death she saw in a vision was taking place in reality.

Her strange power was brought to public notice a week ago in Los Angeles, when her dreams served to clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of her sister, Mrs. Edward St. Claire. Mrs. St. Claire stepped out of her home late one night to go to a neighbor's. She never returned, and after some days search was instituted, but no trace of the woman could be found. When Mrs. Garrity was notified she burst out crying. She said she had seen her sister's death in a dream on the night Mrs. St. Claire disappeared. She said that in her dream she had seen Mrs. St. Claire go from her home, and, losing her way in the darkness, walk into an old well, which had caved in on top of her and smothered her to death. The well was located, and in the bottom under several feet of loose earth which had fallen in from the top the police found the body of Mrs. St. Claire.

Thirty-four years ago, soon after she had married and left home, Mrs. Garrity dreamed that she saw her father riding along a country road in the night. He attempted to ford a stream, but the rushing current carried him off his horse and he was drowned. A few days later Mrs. Garrity received a letter telling her that her father had died exactly as seen in her dream.

Six months ago Mrs. Garrity dreamed that one of her sons, who was up the coast with a railroad crew, had been kicked in the head by a vicious horse and killed, and this, too, proved absolutely correct.

Soon after her first child was born Mrs. Garrity dreamed that her dead mother came to her and said: "The baby is dying." She awoke, but the baby seemed in good health. But the next day at one o'clock the child died.

An Odd Tombstone.

With all its remarkable monuments in stone and tributes in bronze, Arlington contains nothing more striking than the memorial that has just been erected over the bones of the battleship Maine's men. It is a huge, old-fashioned anchor, probably made a century ago, and recovered from the deep near Boston harbor. This relic of the sea is roughly welded out of iron, with an immense wooden crossbar, and, as it reposes above Capt. Sigsbee's brave fellows, rears itself ten feet in the air. It rests on a spacious concrete base, raising it from the level of the hundreds of mounds, and can be seen from the Potomac outlined against the sunset sky. Very appropriately the huge anchor, with its eloquent inscription, is flanked on either side by a ponderous looking Spanish mortar of antique bronze and showing the signs of great age. The mortars are mounted on low piers of masonry, and, though either would be imposing in itself, they appear diminutive in comparison with the giant anchor.—Chicago Chronicle.

Weimar. Anhier starb Oberbaurath Ernst Kohl, Präsident der Deutschen Ingenieur-Gesellschaft und Direktor der Eisenbahn Weimar-Gera, im Alter von 76 Jahren. Er war einer der bekanntesten Ingenieure Deutschlands und besonders ein Bahn- und Brücken-Ingenieur von Ruf. Ein Sohn des Verstorbenen, Martin Kohl, ist Kaufmann in Denison, Tex.

Altenburg. Der Gefreite Seiferth vom 96. Infanterie-Regiment hatte die Aufsicht über eine Korporalschaft beim Gewehrreinigen. Bei letzterem hatten die Mannschaften leere Patronenhülsen in den Lauf gesteckt, um das Abfließen des Putzöls zu verhindern. Plötzlich ging das Gewehr eines Musketiers los; der Schuß fuhr dem Gefreiten, der dicht vor der Mündung des Gewehrs stand, in den Unterleib und verletzte ihn derartig, daß er wenige Stunden darauf starb. Die Untersuchung ergab, daß die eingeschobene Patronenhülse ein sogenannter „Versager" einer Platzpatrone war.

Hamburg. Beim Hamburgischen Erbschaftsamt wurden im Jahre 1900 an Erbschaftssteuer 3,730,269 Mark eingenommen. Das zur Versteuerung gelangte Kapital betrug 106,012,074 Mark, die Testamentsstempeleinnahme 110,829 Mark. Dem Fiskus fielen als herrenloses Gut 456 Mark aus drei Verlassenschaften zu.—Zum kaufmännischen Senator wurde Dr. Heinrich Traun, Inhaber der Harburger Gummi-Kamm-Fabrik, gewählt.—Bei Kuxhaven wurden im verflossenen Jahre 368 Schiffe desinfizirt, und zwar 337 wegen Pestgefahr und 31 aus sonstigen Gründen. Die Desinfektion von beweglichen Sachen, als Kleidung der Seeleute u. s. w. erstreckte sich auf 57,587 Stück. Im Hamburger Hafen wurden 70 Desinfektionen ausgeführt und zwar 2 wegen Pestgefahr, 20 wegen Erkrankung der Besatzung am Darmtyphus, 2 wegen Diphtherie, 16 wegen Tuberkulose und 20 wegen verschiedener Krankheiten. Die Zahl der hier desinfizirten beweglichen Sachen betrug 3773. Außerdem wurden noch auf 36 Schiffen die Viehställe desinfizirt, und zwar in 35 Fällen wegen Erkrankung des darin transportirten Viehes.

Bremen. Aus unbekannter Ursache ertränkte sich dahier der Kaufherr Cornelius Klipp.

Lübeck. Unter den deutschen Städten marschirt Lübeck auf dem Gebiete der öffentlichen Beleuchtung mit in vorderster Reihe. Es erfreut sich einer opulenten Straßenbeleuchtung, durchweg mit Gasglühlicht. Demnächst wird nun noch die probeweise Beleuchtung einiger Straßenzüge mit Lukaslicht erfolgen. Lukaslicht ist ein überaus intensives, das Bogenlicht weit übertreffendes Licht, welches sich aber nur etwa halb so theuer stellt wie dieses.

Güstrow. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den Gutsbesitzer Glanz aus Großkelle, der am 14. Oktober v. J. auf dem Anstand seinen jüngeren Bruder erschoß, den er für ein Stück Wild hielt, wegen fahrlässiger Tödtung zu drei Monaten Gefängniß.

Braunschweig. Lippe.

Harlingerode. Drei Schwurgerichte hatten sich binnen Jahreszeit mit derselben Anklage zu befassen, und jedes Mal war der Ausgang ein anderer. Der Bäckermeister Gust. Müller und Frau aus Harlingerode waren der Brandstiftung beschuldigt. Das erste Schwurgericht setzte die Sache aus, um die Frau auf ihren Geisteszustand untersuchen zu lassen, im Juli v. J. verurtheilte dann ein zweites Schwurgericht beide Angeklagte zu je drei Jahren Zuchthaus und drei Jahren Ehrverlust. Nach eingelegter Revision hob das Reichsgericht das Urtheil wegen eines Formfehlers auf. Neulich standen die Angeklagten wieder vor einem anderen Schwurgericht und wurden freigesprochen.

An elderly gentleman, living in Island Heights, Ocean County, N. J., recounts a troublesome state of affairs in which he was involved. He says: "I am seventy-four years of age, and for years have been a great sufferer from intestinal indigestion, and no matter how careful I might be in my diet I still was troubled with flatulency. I tried a number of remedies but received no benefit. Last fall I tried Ripans Tabules and in a very short time I was rid of the pain, and I can honestly say that they are all they are represented to be."

WANTED—A case of bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on each box. A dozen boxes (a family supply) may be had at any drug store. Ripans Chemical Co., New York. Sample vial for 5 cents, or twelve boxes for 60 cents, if ordered by mail to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York. IT IS SERIOUS

Some Plainfield People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back,
The weariness, the tired feelings,
The pains and aches of kidney ills
Are serious—if neglected,
Dangerous troubles follow.

A Plainfield citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Mr F. D. Smith, of 686 West Front street, contractor for painting etc., says: "There was a distressing pain across the small of my back which clung to me all the time. When I got seated at times if I moved a sharp pain struck me in the back and loins and almost made me exclaim. Any change in the weather or if I caught the least cold it always aggravated the trouble and caused me to suffer severely. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by one of my employes, who had been cured of a long standing case of kidney complaint by their use. I commenced the treatment, derived benefit from it immediately and before I had finished the first box I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Outdone.

In almost every small town there is some person who is known and despised for his inquisitive habits. Ever children delight in thwarting the purposes of such a man, as is shown by the following incident, which a correspondent furnishes:

Mrs. Stocken wished a friend to share her cider vinegar, and sent her eight-year-old son to deliver it. He returned quickly, his face wearing a satisfied smile.

"Mrs. White was much obliged, ma, but I met Mr. Perkins just before I got here. He said: 'Hullo, bub! I wonder if you've got molasses in that jug?' and I said: 'No sir, Mr. Perkins.' He said 'Got vinegar?' and I said: 'No, sir, Mr Perkins.' Then he asked: 'Got cider?' and I told him: 'No, sir, Mr. Perkins.

"Last he said: 'Well, that's a jug in your hand, ain't it, Caleb?' and I put my jug on the ground and said: 'No, sir Mr. Perkins!'"—Youth's Companion.

Queer Affinities in Names.

The mysterious affinity sometimes existing between a man's name and his trade is a peculiarity often noticed by those who have to do with business directories. A Canadian town boasts of an undertaker named Death, and in an English town the firm of Foot & Stocking manufactures hosiery. In another town in England Mr. Toe is a shoemaker and Mr. Heel a clogmaker. Philadelphia has several lawyers named Law, one named Lex, and one Judge. Among the teachers in a well-known boys' college preparatory school the music master is a Prof. Scales; and it follows as a matter of course that in a western town Mr. Corner is a broker and Mr. Pie a pastry cook.—Saturday Evening Post.

The Musical Doorkeeper.

A German inventor has invented a substitute for the warning bell which now announces the entrance of a customer into many small shops. It is called "the musical doorkeeper." As its name implies, it announces the coming of a visitor by sounding a tune as the door is opened. Another tune is sounded when the door is closed, so that one can always tell whether it has been opened or shut. One can also tell by the quick or slow succession of the sounds whether the door has been opened or shut rapidly or slowly. In addition it is possible to change the device that fresh tunes may be substituted when desired.

Wages Rising in Great Britain.

According to elaborate statistics just published in the Labor Gazette of London, the year 1900 in Great Britain was one of rising wages. The upward movement, which began in the autumn of 1895 and continued without break throughout the four succeeding years, culminated in 1900 in advances, exceeding the records of any recent year. There was a slight falling off during 1900 in the total number affected as compared with the previous year, yet the computed net amount of increase in weekly wages was more than twice the total for 1899.—N. Y. Sun.

Hard-Handed.

A London paper announces that the bishop of Liverpool has requested girls who are candidates for confirmation not to wear hairpins, as they prick his hands in the act of laying them on.

When Dr. Creighton, the late bishop of London, was asked some time ago how he solved a similar problem, he replied:

"I confirm all the boys personally, and transfer those young porcupines to my suffragan, who is an old varsity oarsman, with the cast iron hands of a blacksmith."—Youth's Companion.

Thibet and Its Religion.

Thibet is larger than France, Germany and Spain combined, and has a population of 6,000,000. It is ruled over by Dalai Lama, who acknowledges only nominal allegiance to China. He is the head of Lamaism, which is the oldest and strictest sect of Buddhism. Nearly all Mongolia is of the religion of the Dalai Lama of Lassa, and an ambitious man in the place could make trouble for China.—N. Y. Sun.

EVENING DRESS.

Brilliant Effects Those Now Most Eagerly Sought.

Whatever is rich or dazzling is utilized for evening toilets. Fur is combined with lace, jeweled effects are used on fur, belts are of gold, spangles and gems of various kinds, and similar bands serve as sleeves or shoulder straps for decollete bodices. Byzantine and oriental schemes of ornamentation are the mode, and if all that glitters is not gold or genuine jewels there is the consolation of knowing that only a princess out of a fairy tale could possess veritable adornments of equal splendor. The imitation gems, in their various arrangements and combinations, are by no means inexpensive, however; indeed, they cost so much that the woman of moderate means cannot afford them unless she manufactures such accessories herself. The actual gold thread, cabochons, metal beads and spangles are not so costly, but the embroidery and application of them, which is done by hand. It is a dainty sort of fancy work and one easily accomplished at home if one has leisure.

A picture is given of a ball gown of pink peau de soie. The skirt is close and long and is trimmed with two groups of three bands of black velvet. Large pink roses are placed at intervals along the bands of velvet and also upon the train. The blouse bodice is trimmed around the decolletage with bands of velvet and roses to match the skirt, and this decoration passes around the top of the arms in place of sleeves. The wide, draped belt is of pink satin. The fan is of white silk gauze embroidered and spangled with jet.

HOUSEHOLD LINENS.

New and Up to Date Styles Preferred to Large Reserves.

An immense store of house linen was formerly the pride of good housekeepers, and wardrobes and drawers were stored full of damask and linen of all kinds and were always replenished as fast as portions of their contents were worn out. Now these vast accumulations are no longer made, and it is as well, since they required a great deal of attention and occupied much room. The present day housekeeper is satisfied to have stores according to her needs, actual and possible, and prefers to renew her stock frequently in order to keep pace with fashion, which now governs the style of household linen as it does the wardrobe. One year damask will be universally employed, while at another time plain linen embroidered or trimmed with lace is preferred. Napkins differ in size from season to season. Even shades vary, as sometimes all tinted linen is tabooed, while at other times delicate shades are not only sanctioned but demanded for the breakfast and luncheon table and are even seen at teatime, although they never encroach upon the dinner table.

Today's picture shows a new design for an underbodice. It is of nainsook and has a square, tucked yoke, the corners of which turn over to form revers. Two bands of valenciennes insertion are set horizontally in the front, and the armholes and edges are trimmed with valenciennes. The bodice is tucked at the waist in front and has bows of ribbon at the shoulders and bosom.

ROUTED BY CANNON.

Hailstorms Vanquished by the Employment of Gunpowder.

United States Consul at Lyons, France, Tells of Grape Owners' Experiments—One Big Gun Will Protect 75 Acres.

John C. Covert, United States consul at Lyons, France, has made an interesting report to the state department regarding the use of cannon in France to prevent the destruction of grapes by hailstorms.

Mr. Covert describes his visit to the towns of Dentce and Bois d'Oinget to see how the grape owners vanquished their most dreaded enemy—the hail.

Consul Covert says: "Two long cannons were displayed in each place, almost identical in shape. Each gun is of the shape of an inverted cone, the opening at the mouth being 28½ inches wide. It is planted upon a tripod three feet high. The gun itself is six feet six inches high above the tripod. It is made of thin boiler iron. At its base is a forged breech, which holds a forged iron block.

"In the center of this block is an aperture six inches long, about the size of a large dynamite cartridge, in which is placed a metallic cartridge containing 80 grams of blasting powder, wadded with a cork and tamped like an ordinary miner's blast. It is discharged by a needle on a lever attached to the base of the forged iron holder.

"The detonation is very loud. As soon as the lanyard is pulled flame is visible at the mouth of the gun, followed immediately by a wreath of smoke. A shrill whistling sound immediately follows the firing of the cannon and is heard for 14 seconds. At a distance this whistling is much louder than near the gun. I am told that it travels at a speed of 330 metres per second—4,620 metres in 14 seconds, which is nearly 2½ miles. During the firing a few drops of rain fell."

"I interviewed from 20 to 30 large wine growers who used the cannon

HAILSTORM CANNON.
(Gun Used to Vanquish Wind and Hail in France and Italy.)

last summer. They were all emphatic in their belief in the efficacy of fighting hail with gunpowder. They said that if the weather were hot and they saw the clouds forming, they prepared for a charge. If the clouds were moving rapidly their direction was changed or the movement was stopped by the firing. They were torn asunder and broken into shreds, and a copious fall of rain soon followed.

"In localities where great losses from hail have been incurred every summer the cannon were used last summer, and no hail fell. Two or three miles distant, where no cannon were fired, the hail was very destructive. One cannon protects nearly 75 acres of land.

"The expense of equipping a shooting station is:

One cannon	$25 00
Cabin for cannoneer	10 00
Ten cartridge case	6 00
Ramrod	10
A needle	10
Horn and lantern for signaling	1 90
Freight	1 90

"The cost of operating a gun for 500 shots, not including labor, is $15.50.

"An agricultural paper announces that a vast defensive alliance has been formed in the French Alps, including the grape growers of five departments, for the purpose of buying cannon and powder for war against the hail next summer. The grape growers everywhere believe in the cannon.

"In 1899 2,600 cannon were engaged in cloud shooting in Italy. Last year the number had swelled to 15,000. The Italian government goes so far in recognizing the efficacy of the cannon as to furnish powder to grape growers at three cents per pound.

"The director of the Agricultural Societies of the Southeast of France says in his report that 'we cannot conclude that in all cases the use of cannon will afford complete protection, but it is undeniable that the results obtained are most interesting and give veritable hopes for the future.'

"Before the present improved destroyers were in use vine growers shot powder from a sheet iron case fixed in a strong box in the trunk of a tree. In some parts of France they rang, and still ring, church bells, believing that the vibrations in the atmosphere affected the elements."

For the Good of Young Men.

The first Y. M. C. A. was organized in 1844 by George Williams. There are now 1,429 associations in North America alone, with 230,000 members. The American associations own and occupy 344 buildings of their own and their total property is valued at $20,000,000

HAZING EXTRAORDINARY.

Girls at a New England College for Women Treat a Man Caller with Terrible Cruelty.

"Talk about hazing with tobasco sauce and gymnastics, it isn't in the same class with the test through which the students at a New England college for women put a masculine visitor," said the man with bashful tendencies to a New York Sun reporter. "I was near the college and concluded to kill two birds with one stone by viewing the building and calling on a friend, a student there at the same time. I presented myself at the hall where my friend lived and sent up my card. An intellectual looking girl, who I guess was a student, ushered me into a parlor and left me.

"I found myself in a corner of the room with a door at my right and another further along at my left. I had just time to glance around when a young woman came in at the right and passed me by with an intent look which just escaped being a stare. She didn't stop but disappeared through the door at the left. Another followed and another, and finally they came in a regular procession. I didn't believe that so many persons could be housed in a building twice the size of that hall, and I am sure that most of the young women passed twice. As each went by she gave a glance which took in all of me from the part of my hair to the style of my shoes.

"By and by, when everybody that could be alarmed had inspected me often enough my friend came down. I learned that I had been suffering from one of the college customs. She had not received my card until my inspection was about ended. I thought one inspection of me would satisfy them and I called again to undergo the same ordeal. Now I have other acquaintances there and as soon as one appears in the line I stop her and make her talk to me until my friend comes. The tete-a-tete doesn't stop the procession, but it relieves the embarrassment."

CONGRATULATED HIM.

Fat Man Was His Worst Enemy and the Lean One Knew All About His New Bride.

They met in front of the Read house, says the Chattanooga News. One was fat and black, with a wonderful expanse of mouth and a voice like a couple of fog horns. The other was black and lean and wizened.

Said the fat black to the lean black: "Why doan yer 'gratulate me, Brudder Johnsing?"

"What fur I 'gratulate you?" said Brudder Johnsing.

"What fur you 'gratulate me? Why,

"YAS, I 'GRATULATE HIM!"

man, kase I done mar'd de widder Jeff's'n."

"You is—you dun mar'd de widder Jeff's'n?" squeaked out the lean one.

"I sho' is done mar'd dat lady," said the fat one with an air of great satisfaction.

"Den I does 'gratulate yer, wif my whole heart, I sho' does."

The two separated, when the lean one turned to a knot of white gentlemen who had been interested and amused auditors of the conversation and remarked:

"Yas, I 'gratulate him! Haw! haw! haw!—he! he! I sho' does. He's de wus en'my I has, an' I certainly 'gratulates. Why, boss," he said confidentially, singling out one of the spectators, "I wus mar'd to dat 'oman fer a year myself. Yas, I sho' do 'gratulate dat man," and he moved off toward Market street, chuckling and muttering to himself.

Hard on Titled Foreigners.

Organ-grinding has struck a snag in Boston. In that city there is an ordinance which gives the right to any citizen to object to an organ-grinder playing his instrument within 300 feet of the objector's residence. If the musician fails to move on, the police are required to enforce the law.

WONDERFUL GROWTH.

Christian Endeavor Movement, Organized in 1881, Without an Equal in Religious History.

Twenty years ago the first Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor was formed in Portland, Me. Its constitution was printed by hand on a hectograph pad for local distribution. From the Williston church the idea soon spread to neighboring churches in Portland and elsewhere. Since then 20,000,000 copies of the constitution and 100,000,000 copies of the pledge have been printed in at least 60 different languages. They have been translated into all the languages of Europe, into the chief languages of India, Burmah and China, into the barbarous tongues of the South Seas and into the tribal speech of the North American Indians. The movement has girdled the earth and become one of the potent forces for good in the world.

Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder and president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, briefly tells the story of this remarkable movement in the latest number of the Independent. He says the active membership of the society in the world around at the present moment is nearly 4,000,000, and the organization is growing steadily at the rate of 2,000 societies and 100,000 members every year. He estimates that fully 10,000,000 young people have belonged to the Christian Endeavor society in the last 20 years, most of whom, of course, have been graduated into other forms of church work. The society has proved a powerful stimulus to religious life, and the churches that have large Christian Endeavor groups to draw from are the most certain of healthful growth.

The Christian Endeavor movement is doing—in a more enlightened grade of society—the same kind of practical work that the Salvation Army is doing in its sphere. Its spirit of democracy is one of its best features. Its meetings provide a place where rich and poor can meet in a common cause and where the college graduate and the unlettered apprentice can and do unite in the same high aim. Another important work it is accomplishing is that of drawing all the evangelical denominations more closely together. No more powerful influence for church unity is at work today than this creedless and undenominational society, which links together all the evangelical denominations in English-speaking lands.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE.

Rumor Has It That He Will Soon Succeed Lord Salisbury as British Prime Minister.

The duke of Devonshire, who is mentioned as the probable successor of Lord Salisbury as conservative leader and premier of the British government, has been prominent as a statesman in England since 1857, when he was first elected to parliament. Many years ago he was conspicuous as a member of the liberal party and was leader of that party during Mr. Gladstone's temporary withdrawal in 1875. In 1886 he joined the unionist liberals and has since that time closely identified himself with Lord Salisbury. The duke is the eldest surviving son of the late seventh duke. His mother was a daughter of the sixth earl of Carlisle. He succeeded to the title and estates of the duchy in 1891, and he is 68 years old.

End of the Century Gold.

Reports just completed show that the last year of the nineteenth century broke the gold record, with a production valued at $307,000,000, an increase of $400,000 over the yield of 1899. The great increase of the last two years was $6,690,400 in the United States, $7,685,600 in the Klondike and Alaska, and $15,900,000 in Australasia. These were, indeed, wonderful gold producing years, with the latter only a little in the lead, and this notwithstanding a great falling off in Africa by reason of the war in the Transvaal, where for each of the years 1899 and 1900 the output was $7,000,000 below that of 1898.

MONEY IN PATENTS.

The Progressive Development of American Inventive Genius.

About One Invention in 25 Pays for the Expense of Patenting It, But Some of Them Reap Considerable Fortunes.

An article by the late E. V. Smalley, in the Century, tells how patents are taken out in Washington, what they cost, and what some of them yield to the inventors.

The progressive development of inventive genius in this country, as indicated by the number of patents issued each year, has been by successive waves rather than by a regular and continuous advance. Taking the first year of each decennial period, we find that in 1880 the number of patents granted was 4[illegible]; in 1810, 223; in 1820, 155; in 1830, 5[illegible]; in 1840, 473; in 1850, 995; in 1860, 4,5[illegible]8. The great increase in inventions during the decennial period 1850-60 is a remarkable feature in patent office history. This period was one of rapid national development, and was characterized by the great extension of steam-transportation, the general introduction of the telegraph, and the perfection of the sewing-machine, the reaper, the mower and many other valuable devices. During the civil war the production of patents fell off, but no sooner had the volunteer troops returned to their homes than a wonderful fertility of invention was displayed. Ideas that had been developing in the minds of the soldiers during their life in the camps were put into models by the thousand and sent to Washington. In 1865 the number of patents granted was 6,616, and in 1867 it had run up to 13,026. It remained for a time at about that annual figure, being, in 1870, 13,947; but in 1876, the year of the Centennial exhibition, which powerfully stimulated inventive genius, it reached the highest number yet attained, 17,026. Then there was a steady recession, and by 1880 the patent crop had fallen back to 12,947. Since 1883 the number of patents annually issued has exceeded 20,000. During the calendar year 1899 there were issued 25,527 patents.

One of the old examiners in the patent office estimates that about one invention in 25 repays the cost of taking out a patent. Yet inventors as a class are sanguine men, and no knowledge of the enormous percentage of chances against them will deter them from multiplying ingenious devices. Every one expects a fortune from his particular piece of mechanism. Every one has heard not only of the enormous sums realized from the great inventions of the last half-century, but also of the large returns yielded by things apparently trifling which have struck the public fancy or met the public need. The toy called the returning ball, a small ball attached to an elastic string, is said to have produced a profit of $50,000 a year; the rubber tip on lead-pencils has yielded a competence to the inventor; more than $1,000,000 has been earned by the gimlet-pointed screw, the inventor of which was so poor that he trudged on foot from Philadelphia to Washington to get his patent; the roller-skate has yielded $1,000,000 after the patentee spent $125,000 in England fighting infringements; the dancing Jim Crow is set down for $75,000, and the copper tip for children's shoes at $2,000,000; the spring window-roller pays $100,000 a year, the needle-threader $10,000 a year; from the drive-well $3,000,000 have been realized; the stylographic pen is credited with $100,000 a year; and the egg-beater, the rubber stamp and the marking pad for shading different colors, with large sums. These are only a few examples among hundreds that might be cited. No wonder inventors are hopeful when they reflect that comfort for life and fortune for their children may come from a single fortunate idea.

Buried in a Deep Well.

Two men, or rather a man and a boy, were digging a well in a New Jersey village, when the well caved in, as is not unusual. Being in sandy soil, the precautions had been taken to board the well as it was being sunk, and it happened that the planks fell over the digger, and the sand on the planks. The boy, who was doing the hauling with a bucket and windlass, started to dig out the man, but only succeeded in bringing down more sand. So he ran for help, and, although it looked like a hopeless task, a tunnel was run in a slanting direction, and the digger was rescued alive. He was found huddled up, with his knees touching his chin, in which position he had been for nearly 30 hours.

SPORTING.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

A team shoot between Plainfield and New Brunswick men, twenty birds to a man, will be held at the Hotel Pines, on the Metuchen road, this afternoon, commencing at 1:30 o'clock. The teams will be composed of five men each.

BASEBALL.

The Plainfield High School baseball team commences practice Saturday.

The members of the Third class of the Plainfield High School have been assessed for the purpose of defraying expenses of the class baseball team.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

Park Avenue Baptist Church Will Celebrate Its Twenty-fifth Birthday With Special Services Tomorrow.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be appropriately commemorated tomorrow afternoon and evening by special services and a church supper.

In the afternoon the service will commence at 3:30 o'clock. The organ prelude will be played by the first regular organist, Mrs. Alice C. Johnson, Rev. Chas. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, and Rev. Geo. A. Francis, pastor of the Westfield Baptist church, will deliver addresses and an historical sketch will be read by the church clerk, Thomas A. Cuming.

The church supper, given to invited guests and members of the church, will be held at 6 o'clock.

The devotional exercises in the evening will be led by Rev. Dr. J. C. Buchanan, who officiated as clerk of the council in the Recognition services twenty-five years ago. An address of greeting will be delivered by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes. The P. O. S. Quartette have arranged to sing several selections from Mozart and Haydn.

HELPING HIS FATHER.

Mayor's Son Tried to Mow Down Tree on Somerset Street Yesterday.

Clarence Smalley, the thirteen-year-old son of the Mayor, attempted to assist in the work of widening Somerset street by ploughing his pony and gig into a telegragh pole on that thoroughfare above the intersection of Jackson avenue, yesterday noon. The pony was frightened by the noise of a passing trolley and, in its fright, headed for the telegraph pole which came in contact with the gig, upsetting and smashing it. The Mayor's son was uninjured.

To Speak at Atlanta.

William Phillips Hall, who has been been conducting evangelistic services in this city, left yesterday for Florida. From there he will go to Atlanta, Ga., where he and Rev. F. B. Myer, of London, will conduct a Bible conference for ten days. Mr. Myer arrived in New York last Tuesday and he proposes to take up the work of the late Dwight L. Moody.

To Select Eligible Ones.

The Board of Directors of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association will meet this afternoon for the purpose of compiling a list of the members of the association entitled, under the constitutional amendment lately adopted, to wear the school insignia, P. H. S. on their sweaters and caps.

Charged With Fast Driving.

On the charge of fast driving, Nathan Feinberg appeared before City Judge Runyon this morning. The hearing was continued until tomorrow morning in order that Roundsman Flynn might have an opportunity to testify.

At Hope Chapel.

At Hope chapel preparatory service will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. The communion of the Lord's Supper will be held Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

PARKS BEAT THE CASINO.

SECOND MATCH WAS ROLLED ON PARK CLUB ALLEYS.

Great Work by Home Team Which Fairly Swamped The Visitors From The Casino.

The ten men team from the Park Club rolled the second game in the series of three games with the team from the Casino last evening and gave the visiting team a severe drubbing, much worse than in the first contest on the Casino alleys two weeks ago. The Parks rolled the best game in their history, each man averaging a score of 158, and making a grand total of 1,583. F. H. Ball, of the Parks, was high man with a score of 211, and Charles R. Thiers came next with 192. George Worth rolled the lowest score, 122. The home team was in superb form and from start to finish they rolled a steady game.

For the visiting team Glenney was high man with a score of 175. The other scores were fair. The Casino men tried very hard to cut down the lead of their opponents, but they failed utterly. They are not discouraged, however, for they will roll the third game two weeks from last evening on the Park alleys. The place of bowling was decided by a toss of a penny.

Last night's score follows:

The Plainfielders present were Quartermaster John R. Naylor, Adjutant Andrew Cox, Col. A. G. Perry, Lieut.-Col. Wm. C. Drake, Comrades John Wagner, Edward M. Devine, Edward Vanderweg, Patrick Finney, Patrick Moran, James V. Clarkson, T. B. Titsworth, Charles Rothenhausen and Henry Frazee.

The Cushing Command tendered a banquet and after dinner speeches were made by J. R. Naylor, A. G. Perry, A. Cox and H. C Drake.

Card of Thanks.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Please announce through your columns my sincere thanks and deep sense of gratitude to the many friends who have shown their great kindness during the lingering sickness of my late husband and the timely help extended to me upon the occasion of his death and burial. I shall ever regard as sacred the memory of these friends and their many acts of kindness so long as life shall last.

Mrs. Sarah C. VanHorn.

Fell While Exercising.

Lewis Sheridan, of West Second street, while exercising in the Boy's Club gymnasium last evening fell from the top of a ladder. It was thought at first that he was injured severely and Dr. Hedges was called. The latter found the boy badly bruised but he was otherwise uninjured.

Attachment Issued.

Justice Mattison last evening issued an attachment under the absconding debtors' act in the case of Wm. H. Kirch, of Duer street, against Frank B Strauss, of Grove street. Mr. Kirch's claim is for rent due. The attachment was placed in the hands of Constable Wm. N. Pangborn.

Easter Vacation Fixed.

The date of the Easter vacation of the North Plainfield public schools has been definitely fixed by the school board It will begin at the close of session of Friday, April 12, and will end Tuesday morning, April 23.

Fined by the Mayor.

A fine of $2 was imposed on Henry Woodruff by Mayor N B. Smalley at a hearing given him last evening, on a charge of drunkeness and disorderly conduct yesterday. The arrest was made by Marshal Wynn.

Chance to Sober Up.

Frank Moncton was drunk and disorderly on Somerset street yesterday and was placed in the lockup by Marshal Emmons. This morning Mayor N. B. Smalley gave him a sentence of two days to sober up.

Getting Sweaters and Caps.

Marshall on Duty Again.

Marshall Campbell is able to be around again after an attack of the grip. He will resume his duties next week.

ELEVEN INJURED IN CAR'S WILD PLUNGE.

Moffett being the only one who was burned.

The injured were picked up and carried to the home of Daniel Boyle, directly opposite, where they were made as comfortable as possible until the arrival of Drs. Sinclair and Cooper, who had been summoned from Westfield. The injuries were dressed and the sufferers were thence taken by carriage to Grogan's hotel after which those who could be were removed to their homes.

Mrs. Kiemann, who was formerly a resident of Plainfield, where she has a son, David Curtis, Rev. Mr. Hawes and Miss Seely, are still at the hotel, as their condition will not warrant removal. They are receiving the best of medical attention and speedy recovery is looked for in all the cases with the exception of Mrs. Kiemann and Miss Edna Hart. The latter is at her home in Cranford. Mrs. Seely was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, this morning.

As soon as all were removed in safety the work of replacing the car, which was minus its trucks and in a state of delapidation, was commenced by a wrecking crew of twenty five men who worked until after midnight before it could be removed.

The officials of the road attach no blame to Reynolds for the accident. He has never been accused of negligence and is one of the oldest men on the line. The point where the accident occurred is about one mile out of Westfield toward Scotch Plains, where there are three curves close together in the tracks, the centre one being at Prospect street and Newton place.

The car was one of the new large double truckers, sixty feet in length, and is the third one to be wrecked since they were placed in service last fall. No. 71 is the car which crashed into No. 69 at the corner of East Second and Berckman streets, Plainfield, a few months ago, which demolished the platform of the latter.

AT NEW PROVIDENCE.

Election There Tuesday Was Void of Any Special Features.

The election at New Providence last Tuesday was void of any special features. Frank Sohl and Henry S. Fullerton were elected town committeemen by a majority of 4. George Herbert was elected commissioner of appeal, and Michael Amedio and J. Frazer were elected surveyors of highway. The appropriation for township purposes, $500, was carried, and there was a tie vote of 38 on the appropriations for poor and health.

FUNERAL OF J. R. PHILLIPS.

Held From the Late Residence on West Front Street Yesterday.

Funeral services over the remains of James R. Phillips, were held from his late residence on West Front street yesterday afternoon. Rev. E. M. Rodman, of Grace P. E. church, was in charge and spoke impressively. Several solos were rendered by the choir from the Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest composed of Miss Ida Tallamy, Miss E. A. Sears, Fred Tallamy and Lewis Tallamy. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were several set pieces from Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, and Senate Lodge, K. of H.

Those who acted as pallbearers were W H. Brokaw, Albert I. Littell, Isaac F. Randolph, M. Leichtentritt, Fred Green and James King. Interment was made at Hillside cemetery.

Funeral of J. W. VanHorn.

The funeral services of John W. VanHorn were held from his late residence 171 Duer street, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. G. W. Gardner and Rev. Wm. C. Nelson conducted the services at the house and those at the grave in the soldier's plot of Hillside cemetery were in charge of comrades of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Jennie Elizabeth Frentz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Frentz, of Scotch Plains, and Charles Jackson Fell, of New York, is announced. The wedding will probably take place this spring.

Social and Parlor Sale.

The Ladies Aid Society, of the German Reformed church, will give their sociable and parlor sale including entertainment and refreshments tonight and tomorrow evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

To Perfect Organization.

The machinists of this city who are interested in the organization of a local lodge as a branch of the International Association of Machinists, will hold a meeting Saturday evening to perfect an organization.

—The Congregational Junior Endeavor Society will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, instead of at 3:45.

Use of Insects in Agriculture.

The extent to which science can be applied to everyday affairs is well illustrated on reading the reports of the various divisions of the United States department of agriculture. Of particular interest is the statement that the division of entomology is having considerable success in introducing insects and parasites. In California an insect has been introduced which fertilizes the Smyrna fig, and as a result more than six tons of these figs have been produced in one locality alone, and it is believed that they can be produced in such amounts as to cause this country to be an important competitor in this field. The entomologists have also done a valuable service to the olive groves of the same state by introducing a parasite which destroys the olive-scale that has proved a most troublesome pest. To destroy locusts a fungus disease has been introduced from Natal, which has been the means of destroying the injurious swarms of these insects, and efforts have been made to introduce from Europe parasites of the gypsy moth.—N. Y. Post.

Velocity of Light.

The velocity of light has recently been redetermined by M. Perrotin, who has performed a series of experiments, using Fizeau's method. The distance between the two stations was nearly 12 kilometers, and after 1,500 observations a mean value of 299,900 kilometers per second was obtained. In Fizeau's original experiments a distance of 8,633 meters was experimented with, and the velocity obtained was 315,000 kilometers per second. In 1871 M. Cornu, with improved apparatus, made similar experiments and announced the result of his determination at 300,400 kilometers per second. In the United States, with somewhat different apparatus, Michelsen, in 1882, found the velocity to be 299,853 kilometers, and Newcomb in the same year, in another series of determinations made it 299,810 kilometers per second.—Scientific American.

Hint to Suburban Smokers.

"I seldom advise my patients to stop smoking, because I know it's a waste of breath to do so," remarked a suburban physician. "In many cases I do advise moderation in the use of the weed, and when a patient has a weak throat there is but one thing that I positively insist upon and that is that he shall not ride in the smoking cars attached to railroad trains. Breathing that atmosphere for half an hour will do a man more injury than smoking half a dozen cigars in the open air, or in a properly ventilated room that is not crowded with other smokers. Smoke if you must, I say, but steer clear of smoking cars."—Chicago Chronicle.

Curious Russian Sulphur Mounds.

There have lately been discovered near the Amu river, about 100 miles from Khiva, in the Transcaspian province, huge mounds of native sulphur scattered over an area of about 23 square miles, says the Youth's Companion. The mounds are described as dome shaped and about 300 feet in height. It is estimated that they contain more than 9,000,000 tons of sulphur, making this one of the richest sulphur deposits known. The "ore" is for the most part sandstone and yields about 60 per cent. of sulphur.—N. Y. Times.

To Escape Conscription in France.

The magistrates of Moissac are engaged in investigating cases of voluntary mutilation practiced by a band of quacks and sharpers in the district of Quercy on young conscripts. By means of a bandage these quacks produced anchylosis of the toes, causing infirmities that necessitated the discharge of the young men, or at any rate their transfer to the auxiliary services. Each of these operations brought the operator a fee of from 1,000 to 1,500 francs.

An Error of Judgment.

"I thought, count, that you were a dead shot?"

"I am."

"And yet, though you said you would shoot your adversary through the heart, you hit him in the foot."

"It was an error of judgment. I thought his heart was in his boots; it turned out to be in his mouth."—Tit-Bits.

CAUGHT ON BRIDGE.

Thrilling Experience of a Somerville Baker and Two Men Near North Branch.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, March 14—A thrilling tale of a narrow escape from drowning during the recent high wrter is related by William Yach, of this place. He was driving home from North Branch, when he picked up John Vanderveer, a New York lawyer, and Samuel Littlepage, of North Branch, who wanted to get across the river.

They drove across the bridge to find the road completely flooded. Then they attempted to return to find their way of escape cut off. They were compelled to remain on the bridge all day until the water fell low enough for them to drive along the road. They ate up all of Yach's stock of pies and cakes.

TROLLEY VICTIMS ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Mrs. Theo. Klemann is Still at Grogan's Hotel, Westfield, in a Critical Condition.

HER SKULL IS FRACTURED.

INJURIES OF REV. C. H. HAWES ARE CONSIDERED VERY SERIOUS.

Mrs. S. W. Lambert is at Her Home on the Fanwood Road Badly Hurt—Only One Victim at Muhlenberg Hospital.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, March 15—Mrs. Theodore Klemann, of Newark, who was one of the most severely injured in the trolley wreck which occurred near here Wednesday, still lies at Grogan's Hotel in a critical condition. She sustained a bad fracture of the skull, while nearly every part of the body was bruised and cut. The sufferer is under the care of Drs. R. R. Sinclair and Sherman Cooper who are in constant attendance. Mrs. Klemann is a sister of Miss A. E. Lincoln, the Plainfield florist, who in company with the former's son, David Curtis, also of Plainfield, has remained at the victim's bedside most of the time.

Rev C H. Hawes, of New York, the colored minister, is also at the hotel and is injured much worse than was at first thought. He is suffering from a fracture of the shoulder blade while several bones in the neck and shoulder were crushed, causing intense pain. An effort will be made to remove him to his home tomorrow.

Mrs. Simeon W. Lambert is at her home on the Fanwood road and is reported as being badly hurt. Her knee was fractured and she sustained contusions in many parts of the body.

Mrs. Hart and daughter, Miss Edna Hart, are at their home in Cranford and though the latter was one of the most severely injured, her recovery is looked for. The remaining victims are at their respective homes but their condition is not serious.

Mrs. Samuel Seeley, of Harrison, the only injured passenger who was taken to Muhlenberg hospital, was reported today as resting easily although it will be many weeks before she will recover completely, if at all. The bones of the neck and shoulder blade were fractured and the spine was injured to such an extent that partial paralysis has developed. Her daughter, who was with her at the time, escaped with a severe shock and bruises.

DIME SOCIAL.

Begun in Parlors of the German Reformed Church Last Evening and Will Be Continued Tonight.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the German Reformed church, gave a dime social in the church parlor last evening. The affair was in charge of a committee consisting of Mrs. Francis Angerbauer, Mrs. S. Blimm and Mrs. M Bach.

The fancy table was in charge of the committee of arrangements and the cake table of Miss Katie Betzhold. Mrs. Hook and Mrs. Mary Claus had charge of the candy table, while Mrs. Moehring acted as grocer.

An interesting musical programme was carried out by Miss Emma Almer, violinist, and Miss Margaret Almer, who played the zither. This evening the sales and entertainment will be continued.

WALTER DREIER DEAD.

Passed Away at His Home This Morning After a Lingering Illness.

After lingering for the past sixteen months with a wasting illness, Walter Dreier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dreier, of West Front street, passed away at an early hour this morning. He had been sinking rapidly for the past few weeks and his relatives were prepared for the worst.

He was born in this city in 1880 and after passing through the public schools adopted law as his profession entering the office of William Newcorn. He had been studying law but a short time when illness compelled him to terminate his course. Although he suffered greatly at times, he bore it all patiently and made no complaint.

In addition to his parents the deceased is survived by three brothers, David and Harry, of this city, Garret, of New Brunswick, and one sister, Miss Bertha Dreier. The funeral services will be held from his late residence next Sunday morning. Interment will be made at Bound Brook.

—Fred Endress, the butcher, when asked what is your sausage made of he replied the freshest, juicest, sweetest corn-fed pork. Try it.

CHEERFUL IN JAIL.

Prisoner Wanted to Entertain Judge Runyon in City Court With Shakespearean Quotations.

Peter Campbell, a painter, was brought before City Judge Runyon this morning on a charge of drunkenness. Campbell is an eccentric character and took a cheerful view of the position in which he was placed.

He insisted on rendering for the Judge the court scene from the "Merchant of Venice." When asked whether he had been intoxicated Campbell quoted Biblical condemnation of strong drink.

City Judge Runyon decided to give him his choice between $5 fine and twenty days in jail.

WORK AT ASHVILLE SCHOOL.

MISS REDWAY, A TEACHER, TOLD OF THE LIFE THERE.

She Addressed Annual Meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society, of Warren Chapel, Yesterday Afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of Warren chapel, held its annual meeting in the chapel parlors yesterday afternoon.

The gathering was not restricted to the society's members alone but was well attended by those interested generally in missionary work. The current business of the society occupied the fore part of the meeting.

An interesting and instuctive talk was given by Miss Redway, a teacher in the Ashville Farm School, N. C. The address was confined principally to a sketch of the noble work being accomplished in the North Carolina institution. Miss Redway related the school life and characteristics of the eager pupils and of the results so far obtained by the instruction given in the school. She also spoke of the work done by Miss Daly and Miss Kugle, two of the teachers, at Paint Rock, N. C.

Miss Redway has been deputized by the board of directors of the Farm School to address various societies throughout this part of the country on the aims and needs of the institution and in this manner to elicit such support as can be obtained.

At the conclusion of the missionary address a social time was spent by the members during the remainder of the afternoon, and dainty refreshments were served to the members and their guests.

At the annual election the following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman; first vice-president, Mrs. J. O. McKelvey; second vice-president, Mrs. S. M. Finney; treasurer, Mrs. L. C. Ely; secretary, Mrs. J. W. Gavett.

KNIGHTS WERE HOSTS.

Third Annual Reception and Ball of Goodwill Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Held Last Evening.

Goodwill Lodge, No. 8, K. of P., gave their third annual reception and ball in Washington Hall last evening. Visitors were present from Newark, Elizabeth, Cranford and Westfield, while this city was represented by a large number.

The fore part of the evening was given up to speechmaking in which the main address was made by Sir Knight J. H. Mason, past grand chancellor and supreme lodge officer, of Newark. His remarks were greatly enjoyed. The grand march was given at 10:30 and was participated in by twenty-five couples with Mr. and Mrs. Mason leading. Dancing followed and was kept up until an early hour the only stop being made at midnight when refreshments were served.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of J. H. Saunders, Joseph A. Cox, Henry Jackson, Rev. Wm. H. McLean, L. L. Croom, Rev. G. W. Johnston, A. J. Booth, Raleigh Cruse, Herbert Smith and Charles Hughes.

To Institute Branch Lodge.

The International Association of Machinists will hold an open meeting tomorrow evening in the lodge rooms over Washington Hall on West Second street, at which time the district officers will be present to institute a branch lodge. All machinists are requested to attend.

Date of Meeting Changed.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church has decided to hold the annual business meeting next week Friday instead of this evening as arranged. This evening there will be a consecration meeting and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

To Talk New Building.

The members of Wetumpkah Tribe, No. 229, I. O. R., who are on the building committee, will hold a meeting this evening to discuss the matter pertaining to a new building.

MANY VIEWED WORK IN MANUAL TRAINING

Public Exhibition of That Department of Borough Schools Held Last Night.

SCHOOL HOUSE CROWDED.

GUESTS WERE FED WITH PRODUCTS OF THE MODEL KITCHEN.

Exhibits of Drawings Shown—Pupils at Work in Various Classes of the Manual Training School—Members of The Board Present.

The harsh and uninviting condition of the weather did not prevent the public-spirited citizens of the borough from attending the public exhibition and practical demonstration in manual training given in that particular department in the Somerset street school yesterday afternoon and evening.

The idea of the exhibition originated in a borough School Board meeting some weeks ago and it was arranged for the purpose of giving the general public an opportunity of enlightening themselves on the real meaning and the immense benefit to a child of a course in manual training so that they may be able to vote more intelligently at the school meeting next Tuesday evening on the appropriation desired to carry on this particular line of work in the schools. The people at large generously responded to the invitation to be present.

In the one short hour of the afternoon exhibition over three hundred people, mostly parents and friends of the pupils, were present, and in the evening from 7 until 10 o'clock the building was continually crowded. As soon as some would leave more entered, and at no time was there much vacant space in the halls and rooms.

The walls of the hallway and rooms were covered with exhibits of exceedingly well-executed work of the pupils in crayon and water color. The great progress made by the children under the able tuition of Miss Sydenham, the instructor in drawing, could be seen at a glance.

Every department of manual training was in full operation. In one room on the first floor, Robert Sanders, the instructor in woodworking, explained to the visitors the course of instruction and some of his pupils were busy with hammer and hatchet while others were engaged at mechanical drawing. Miss Elizabeth Sum, the capable teacher in chemistry and physics, was supervising the work of a number of High School pupils. Burning phosphorus under water and reducing a ferric compound to a ferrus was the lesson in chemistry.

The physiology and the food of plants was the instruction in botany while in physics the work was confined to magnetism and statical electricity.

The little folk in the sewing classes, on the second floor, were busy in weaving, hemming, apron making and pillow case working. Classes in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades were thus engaged under the careful guidance of Miss Minnie Green and other teachers of North Plainfield's schools. This was the first attempt of the children in weaving and the result obtained was very gratifying.

It was difficult to get into the room adjoining where Miss Taylor, the bright young teacher in cooking, and her corps of industrious cooks, were dispensing dainty biscuits and delicious chocolate to everyone. As soon as the supply of the refreshments was exhausted the little mechanics of the model kitchen were ready with a fresh lot and no one went away hungry.

Assisting Superintendent Wightman in reciving the visitors were Dr. J. H. Cooley, E. A. Overton, A. V. D. Honeyman, J. H. VanWinkle, R. M. Fountain and other members of the School Board. Unfortunately S. St. J. McCutchen, the president of the Board, was unable to be present on account of the meeting at Trenton of the State Board of Education of which he is a member.

LOCKED UP BECAUSE HE DIDN'T PAY TAX.

Tax Collector Smith Began His Active Campaign to Collect Back Taxes.

FRED BIRD WAS THE FIRST.

WENT TO SEE COLLECTOR YESTERDAY AND HAD ARGUMENT.

Bird Arrested This Morning and Then Paid the Tax—Said He Supposed That It Had Been Included Under Martin Act—Several Others.

Collector Frank H. Smith's campaign against delinquent tax payers, plans for which have been underway for a few weeks past, was opened yesterday a little sooner than was expected. Mr. Smith has been arranging under the direction the Common Council to collect delinquent taxes, and he has prepared a list of many who will be either called upon to pay or accompany a constable to the lockup until the same is paid.

As a preliminary measure Mr. Smith has been sending notices to those on the delinquent list. Among those who received one of the notices was Fred Bird, of East Front street. A few days ago he met the Collector on Park avenue and told him he would pay up in a few days. Mr. Smith said that was too indefinite, that he could not make such a return to the Common Council.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Bird called at the collector's office and asked for a memorandum of his taxes. This was furnished him. It included personal and poll taxes for six years from 1895-1900, amounting altogether with costs to $44 17. Then one word followed another and soon the two men became involved in a heated argument. According to the collector's story, Mr. Bird told him that since he had been in office he had got the swelled head and said other things that would not look well in print. Mr. Smith ordered Mr. Bird from his office and in a short time he left.

In the meantime, Collector Smith sought City Judge Runyon and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Mr. Bird for the non-payment of his taxes. This morning Constable W. R. Mattox went to Mr. Bird's house, and when the latter told him that he had no property upon which he could levy, he placed Mr. Bird under arrest and took him to police headquarters.

In court, Mr. Bird sought the advice of Judge Runyon and asked if he was obliged to pay the tax. The Judge told him that if Collector Smith had proceeded according to law he would have to settle. After some delay Mr. Bird paid the amount named in the tax bill and $1.88 costs for Constable Mattox's services.

This was Collector Smith's first experience under the new order of things, and it is not likely to be the last. There are many yet to be seen and further trouble is looked for. The Collector is determined, however, to do his duty as directed.

Mr. Bird called at The Daily Press office this morning and said that by way of explanation that he believed that his taxes were included in those collected under the Martin Act. He says that he went to Collector Smith's office yesterday afternoon with the intention of paying the tax, and would have done so had not he and the Collector engaged in a heated argument over the matter.

DISPLAY OF PRINTS.

Fine Collection of Prints Suitable For School Room Purposes.

A. W. Elston & Co., of Boston, displayed in the Franklin School building yesterday afternoon a fine collection of excellent carbon prints of a size and nature suitable for schoolroom purposes. The collection contained designs and specimens of Greek and Roman architecture, ancient sculpture and reproductions of famous ancient and modern paintings.

The exhibition was well attended by many interested in art. The special value attached to the carbon prints in this collection is that they are the work of Elston & Co.'s own agents and are not mere copies from old plates.

TRYING TO DISCOVER TROUBLE WITH WATER.

Efforts of Plainfield Water Supply Company to Find Cause of Bad Water in Borough.

WATER IS BEING ANALYZED.

MANY BELIEVE THAT STORAGE RESERVOIR IS REALLY RESPONSIBLE.

Peculiar Fact That One House Will Have Bad Water and Next Door Neighbor Will Not—Only Offensive When Water is Warmed.

Despite the best efforts of the officials of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, the trouble with the borough water supply still remains as great a mystery as ever. The fact that the trouble did not occur until after the storage reservoir on the side of the mountain was built gave rise to the general impression that the reservoir was to blame. Such is the present opinion of the health authorities of North Plainfield, and there are doubtless many others who take the same view.

As soon as the trouble was discovered, the officials of the company began an investigation. They found that the water became offensive only when warm. Then it had a bad odor and contained a sediment, in some cases. A rather remarkable fact was that the offensive water would be found in one house while there would be no trouble in the houses on either side.

An analysis was made of the water at the pumping station to see if it maintained its previous excellent condition. There was no change. An analysis is now being made of some of the offensive water to discover, if possible, the nature of the impurities. From this report, the water company officials hope to be able to gain some idea of what is causing the trouble.

Many believe that the arrangement for using the reservoir on the mountain should be changed. Under the present method, the water is simply stored in the tank until the water in the main standpipe at Netherwood is lowered when the supply in the tank on the mountain drops a corresponding distance. The water, which has been standing in the tank, is thus allowed to mix with the other coming direct from Netherwood and goes to supply the citizens of the borough.

It is possible that the paint used on the mountain stand pipe has something to do with the water, and it may be affected somewhat by the use of new pipe. In any rate it has been decided by those competent to judge that the mountain stand pipe was a bad investment and it should be removed. A better location is considered to be near the Nethwood standpipe. In the opinion of these same people, who know something about the condition of affairs, the present trouble will never be remedied until the mountain reservoir is removed. The system of piping in the borough is all right and has never given any trouble and it stands to reason that with the removal of the reservoir former conditions would exist and no trouble experienced from the water supply.

A good authority in this matter has vouchsafed the foregoing opinion and he says that all trouble would disappear with the abolishment of the mountain reservoir. Under the present circumstances, he declares, the water does not get the right kind of circulation to be free from the stench which now accompanies it.

Smalley Brothers' New Building.

Now that the work of the Smalley Bros.' new building on North avenue is fairly underway, a large crowd of onlookers can be seen in that vicinity every day. They watch with evident interest the progress being made. The work will now be hurried along as fast as possible so that the building may be completed during the early summer.

Will Open New Clothing Store.

M. Leichtentritt will open his handsome new clothing store at 205 West Front street, tomorrow morning. The store is stocked with up-to-date clothing, fine quality at reasonable prices. An inspection is invited.

Covenant Meeting.

A covenant meeting will be held in Warren chapel tonight at 8 o'clock. All the members and those attending the chapel, who have recently accepted Christ, are earnestly requested to be present.

No Meeting of Anchor Lodge.

There will be no special communication of Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., this evening, as was expected.

Davis, Arthur Denton, H. K. Doane, Leroy Hollock, C. H. Kinsman, Richard Lovell, Fred Mason, D. T. Mason, Robert Meeker, J. S. Mosher, Ray Miller, H. Moynihan, D. S. Pond, C. Robert, C. Roeap, Harry Scull, Lawrence L. Tweedy, P. L. Ughetta, and Fred VanAuken.

NO DEADLOCK IN COUNCIL.

COUNCILMAN YOUNG, OF FANWOOD EXPLAINS THE SITUATION.

He Was Formerly Only Opponent to Plan of New Sidewalks and One, at Least of New Councilman, Favors Plan.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—While the statements of your correspondent in relation to the recent election in this borough are substantially correct, his predictions of a "dead lock" are entirely unwarranted by the facts.

The old council stood five to one on the question of flag or concrete walks, I, myself, (still having one year to serve), being the only opponent. That opposition came from the belief that it was not the desire of a majority of property owners (in assessed valuations) that we should put so heavy a burden upon them in the way of assessments.

A notice was sent out asking the property owners to meet the council and express their sentiments on the question, but a few only attended, and the vote was eleven in favor to ten against, the parties owning about one-third of the frontage on streets through which it was proposed to lay the new walks not being represented, notwithstanding their known objections to the plan.

Then a special meeting of the Council was called, and a resolution, which I eagerly seconded, was presented to put the question to a vote at the coming election. The vote stood 32 in favor to 28 against.

I stated at the citizen's meeting that if a majority of property owners desired the plan carried out, I should feel it my duty to cease opposition to it.

In view of the fact that it is generally understood that one, at least, of the newly-elected members favors the matter, I see no reason to expect a "deadlock." Thos. S. Young.

WORKING FOR CHRIST.

Rev. Gilbert Harney Made Strong Plea at Evangelistic Service in Reform Hall Last Evening.

The evangelistic service at Reform Hall was well attended last evening and considerable interest was manifested. The song service was conducted by Edward P. T. Smith, after which Rev. Gilbert Harney, an evangelist, from Maine, gave a soul-stirring Gospel talk. He urged all to live manly and womanly lives and this they could do by giving their hearts to Christ and serving Him. He urged temperance in all things and plead with all to come out and take a stand for God, Whom he held up as the ideal to be followed.

After Mr. Harney's talk, a pleasing solo "Out on the Deep," was sung by Oscar Moore, a member of the choir of the First Baptist church. Before the meeting closed Mr. Harney gave all an opportunity to decide for Christ. Several signified a desire to live a better life.

DISMISSED THOMPSON.

City Judge Runyon Was Satisfied That Hackman Told the Truth.

This morning City Judge Runyon dismissed the case against Walter Thompson, a hackman, who was given a hearing yesterday for trespassing in soliciting business on the railroad company's property on North avenue.

In discharging Thompson, the Judge said that he had satisfied himself of the truthfulness of the prisoner's explanation of the affair.

May Move Telegraph Office.

There is some talk of the Jersey Central Railroad moving the telegraph office from its present location at the North Avenue station to the place formerly used as a ticket office, the idea being to concentrate everything as far as possible.

HEAVY PUNISHMENT FOR JERSEY KIDNAPPERS.

Assembly Passed Bill Providing for Sixty Years Imprisonment and $10,000 Fine.

OTHER BILLS ARE PASSED.

THEN THE LOWER HOUSE ADJOURNED FOR THE WEEK.

Latest Novelty in Line of a Bill is One Providing for a State Board of Barbers—Resolutions of Sorrow on Death of Ex-President Harrison.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 15.—No measure of great importance was brought up for action at the concluding session of the week in the Lower House of the Jersey Legislature held here yesterday. Of the bills which were passed, probably the one of the most general interest was that providing a fine of $10,000 and an imprisonment of sixty years for kidnapping.

Among the other measures passed were: Providing that when $1,000,000 has been expended on roads in any county under the State road act, no more shall be spent in that county; authorizing county physicians, where there is such an officer, to take charge of dead bodies, instead of the coroner; authorizing Boards of Freeholders to adopt ordinances regulating the use of county roads by automobiles and other vehicles; authorizing the licensing of any honorably discharged soldier or sailor to peddle merchandise in the county of which he is a resident; permitting banks to loan money on first mortgage bonds as collateral; amending the school law so that the appointment of members of the State Board of Education shall harmonize with the proposed new apportionment of the Congress districts; preventing usury or extortion on the part of persons or corporations lending money on chattel mortgages; providing for the appointment of three lake and park commissioners in each county.

The latest novelty for the consideration of the Legislature is a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Mr. Fleming, providing for a State Board of Barbers, to be appointed from practicing barbers, whose duty it shall be to examine and license all duly qualified tonsorial artists. A fine of from $10 to $50 is prescribed for barbers plying their trade without such license.

The Assembly adopted a resolution, introduced by Mr. Lewis, expressing a sense of the deep public loss the nation has sustained in the death of ex-President Harrison.

DUNELLEN BOARD OF TRADE.

Preliminary Step Towards Its Organization Was Taken Last Night.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, March 15—At an informal meeting of a number of the borough citizens last evening, steps were taken toward the organization of a local Board of Trade for the purpose of advancing the interests of the place. It was decided to extend a call for a public meeting to be held next Friday night at which time active measures will be taken toward banding the business men together for mutual benefit.

ENLARGING MEMBERSHIP.

Meeting of Master Mechanics' Association Held Last Night.

The Master Mechanics' Association held a meeting last evening and discussed matters pertaining to the advancement of the association's interest. Several signatures were obtained to the charter list and the prospects are that the association will be composed of nearly all the master mechanics in this city.

It was expected that some action would be taken regarding the settlement of the trouble that existed between W. H. Brokaw and the union men, but the members did not reach the matter. Another meeting will be held at an early date, when considerable unfinished business will be taken up.

Borough Council to Organize.

There will be a special meeting of Mayor-elect Smalley and the new Borough Council Monday evening, when an organization for the coming year will be effected. It is likely that Mayor Smalley will appoint the regular standing committees and such other preliminary work necessary at that time will be performed. His Honor will also make his usual appointments.

DENY STORIES OF STRIKE ON CENTRAL.

Officials Say That There Is No Trouble With Telegraphers as Has Been Reported.

MAKING NEW SCHEDULE.

CHANGES IN CONDITIONS HAVE MADE THEM NECESSARY.

Conferences Between Officials and Men to Arrange New Wage Schedules Have Given Rise to False Reports—Mr. Wentz Talks.

During the past few months there have been repeated rumors concerning dissatisfaction among the employes of the Jersey Central Railroad and threatened strikes. Another rumor was heard this week in Wall street that the telegraphers of the road had demanded an increase in wages and a decrease in working hours, together with free passes, etc

A representative for The Daily Press interviewed W. W. Wentz, Jr, superintendent of the Central division, also C. P. Adams, superintendent of telegraphers, and learned that there is absolutely no truth in the rumors.

Mr. Wentz said that sometime ago, at the solicitation of the railroad company, the various orders were asked to prepare new wage schedules, and during the past five months conferences have been held between the railroad officials and conductors, brakemen, engineers and telegraphers for the purpose of discussing plans for the best interest of all. The conferences have been harmonious in every respect, both sides being very fair.

A week ago one of the conferences was held with the telegraphers and it is the opinion of Mr. Wentz that the present rumor is due to that meeting. He said that no demands have been made, nor are any likely to be very soon. With the exception of a small number of cases of grievance, there is no trouble and Mr. Wentz believes that all trouble can be adjusted without a strike. He pronounces the rumors as "round-house" gossip, and not worthy of consideration. It breaks out frequently, sometimes starting at one end of the road and then at the other end, and is usually the result of some discussion among a few persons who think they have grievances that ought to be settled.

Mr. Wentz stated further that the Jersey Central Railroad Company is paying more money to its employes than any other road in this part of the country, and as much as the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, with possibly a few exceptions. The reported troubles on the Jersey Central, Mr. Wentz, said, are no different from those on other roads which officials and employes have to settle from time to time, and the conditions on the Jersey Central at present are harmonious.

In individual cases the wages of telegraphers as well as those of other employes have been raised when the officials deemed it advisable to do so. This has been done in a number of instances during the past year. Changes in rolling stock make a change in the conditions of the road meaning more work and consequently more pay.

The superintendent said that the operation of a railroad was not different from any business requiring the employment of a large number of men, and differences are always sure to rise.

C. P. Adams, superintendent of telegrapers on the Jersey Central, voiced the sentiment of Mr. Wentz in most respects, and said that these constant rumors are very annoying to railroad officials. He apprehended no trouble, and also denied the report that a demand had been made for increased wages and decreased hours for work. Neither one of the officials felt at all alarmed as to a strike, and thoroughly believed that any grievances would be settled amicably for all concerned.

Miss Lucy Adams, of New York, has returned after a visit with borough relatives.

Frank Marcley, of Woodhull & Martin's store, who is enjoying a week's vacation, has returned from a visit with out-of-town friends.

Miss Lillie Knight, of New street, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday afternoon, where she will undergo an operation for appendicitis.

THE THROUGH TROLLEY LINE.

RUMORED THAT WORK WILL BE STARTED EARLY NEXT MONTH.

Line will Connect New York and Philadelphia—Jersey City Terminus Is Still a Secret.

It is stated with a fair degree of authority that work will be started early next month to build the new trolley line between New York, Trenton and Philadelphia. The projectors are now busy treating with the various City Councils in the towns through which the road is to pass.

Despite rumors to the contrary, Col Shaw, of Boston, is a prime mover. The Johnsons, of Cleveland, are also interested. They have secured important rights of way along the proposed road, and also the inter-state bridge leading into Trenton and spanning the Delaware river near Yardley. This bridge was the key to the situation, because no other similar structure can be built within many miles of it, according to an agreement between Pennsylvania and Delaware to its original contractors.

The line is expected to come into Philadelphia by way of the Bristol turnpike, and connect with the Philadelphia Traction cars near Cedar Hill cemetery, Frankford. Just how the line will get into New York or where a terminus will be established in Northern New Jersey has not been revealed, because of opposition from the Consolidated Traction Company, of New Jersey, which controls most of the lines.

It is stated that the fare between Philadelphia and New York will be $1. Heavy rails will be laid and the road bed constructed to facilitate fast traveling. The idea is to make the time between the two big cities five and a half hours. While great speed can be attained in the country, time will be lost in the cities and towns.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind.. "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1 00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1 00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

President Earle, of the League of American Wheelmen, has made arrangements for a special train carrying the latest improved road making machinery of all kinds, with a car for the road experts who will make the trip. A road congress will be held in two places in each state, and after a meeting at which the subject of high way improvement will be discussed there will be a demonstration of practical road building Sample roads will be built to demonstrate the value of improved highways and the economy in using the machines. The manufacturers of these devices will have representatives in the party, and it is expected that they will enliven the proceedings by their competition for orders. President Earle will be director-general of the train, and with him will be Marton O Dodge, director of the office of road inquiry, department of agriculture. The train will start June 15, covering the Eastern and Southern States first and then proceeding westward. It will be a complete "exhibition on wheels," and is expected to do more towards enlightening the country upon the benefits and econmy of modern roads than anything that has heretofore been done in the movement to secure them. That there is an urgent necessity for better country highways is shown in the statement of a competent authority that $600,000,000 are annually wasted in this country because of the miserable condition of roads.

HONORS TO THE DEAD

Funeral of Harrison to Be a National Affair.

CONDOLENCES FROM FOREIGN NATIONS

President McKinley and Governors of Many States Will Attend the Memorial Services to Be Held on Sunday.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 15.—The arrangements for the funeral of General Benjamin Harrison, ex-president of the United States, have been completed. The body will lie in state at the capitol tomorrow from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening, and the funeral services will be held from the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. M. L. Haines officiating.

The event will not only be one of national significance, but of international importance. Cablegrams are reaching the family of the dead statesman from all parts of the world offering condolences in the hour of bereavement. General Harrison was a man of international reputation and was held in high esteem throughout the civilized world. He had been entertained by the crowned heads of Europe, and his death is felt keenly not only throughout the United States, but throughout the civilized world as well.

The funeral will be attended by many of the noted men of the United States. President McKinley and members of his cabinet will be here. Governor Yates of Illinois telegraphed yesterday that he will be here, attended by his staff. Governor Nash of Ohio, with his staff, will attend the funeral. Governor Durbin yesterday afternoon sent a notice of General Harrison's death to the governors of many of the states, and it is the belief that the majority of them will be here.

All the members of General Harrison's cabinet have been heard from with the exception of Redfield Proctor, who is now in Cuba. Telegrams have been received from Benjamin F. Tracey, ex-secretary of the navy; Charles Foster, ex-secretary of the treasury; John W. Noble, ex-secretary of the interior; S. B. Elkins, ex-secretary of war; John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state, and John Wanamaker, former postmaster general.

Mrs. Harrison received a telegram from President McKinley as follows:

"In the death of General Harrison the country has lost a distinguished statesman, a devoted patriot and an exemplary citizen. The people of the nation mourn with you. You have the heartfelt sympathy of Mrs. McKinley and myself in this hour of overwhelming sorrow in your home."

The Merchants' association of Indianapolis held a meeting and drafted a memorial on the death of General Harrison. Arrangements have been made for a joint meeting of the State and Marion County Bar associations, to be held in the senate chamber at the statehouse this afternoon.

The vault at Crown Hill, where the body is to be placed, is now being constructed. General Harrison will lie at the right side of the first Mrs. Harrison, whose remains are buried in the family lot. This lot is located in one of the loveliest spots in the cemetery, which is widely noted for its beauty. It is situated immediately at the foot of a grassy knoll that rises toward the west and is surrounded by shade trees which in summer add greatly to the beauty. Not far away are the tombs of Oliver P. Morton, Thomas A. Hendricks and William H. English and the graves of the unnamed heroes who gave their lives for their country in the civil war. A stone marks the lot. General Harrison himself selected the monument, a solid piece of granite ten feet high and six feet square, wihch marks the grave of his departed wife and which will also stand above his head. "Harrison" is the simple inscription on the plain but lasting stone.

All was quiet at the Harrison home yesterday, as a reaction after the strain of the last few days, but there was no oppressive hush or air of depression. Numerous callers, all intimate friends of the family, came during the day to express their sympathy. They were received in the parlors by General Harrison's sisters and brother, John Scott Harrison, who arrived during the afternoon. Mrs. Harrison, however, was seen only by one or two of her most intimate friends.

Mrs. Mary Harrison McKee, General Harrison's daughter, arrived at noon yesterday from Saratoga, with her husband, and was at once driven to the home of R. S. McKee.

During the afternoon she visited the Harrison home, where she remained for some time viewing her father's body.

MOURNING FOR HARRISON.

Special Proclamation Issued by the President.

WASHINGTON, March 15. — The president has issued the following proclamation:

"To the People of the United States:

"Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States from 1889 to 1893, died at his home in Indianapolis. In his death the country has been deprived of one of its greatest citizens. A brilliant soldier in his younger manhood, he gained fame and rapid advancement by his energy and valor. As a lawyer he rose to be a leader of the bar. In the senate he at once took and retained high rank as an orator and legislator, and in the high office of president he displayed extraordinary gifts as an administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen.

"In testimony of the respect in which his memory is held by the government and people of the United States I do hereby direct that the flags on the executive mansion and the several departmental buildings be displayed at half staff for a period of 30 days and that suitable military and naval honors under the orders of the secretaries of war and of the navy be rendered on the day of the funeral.

"Done at the city of Washington this 14th day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-fifth.

"WILLIAM M'KINLEY."

The national capital is in mourning for ex-President Harrison. Flags are at half mast not only upon all the public buildings, but upon the hotels, stores and many of the private residences.

POLYGAMY BILL DEAD

Governor Wells Vetoes the Evans Measure.

UTAH SAVED FROM DISGRACE.

The Obnoxious Bill Granted Immunity From Prosecution to All Persons Living in Polygamy.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 15.—Governor Wells has vetoed the Evans bill relating to the making of complaints and commencing of prosecutions in criminal cases. The following is in substance the veto message sent to the senate last night:

"I have the honor to return herewith without approval senate bill No. 113, 'an act amending section 4611 of the revised statutes of Utah, 1898, in relation to the making of complaints and commencing of prosecutions in criminal cases.'

"No official act of my life has been approached by me with a sense of responsibility so profound as is involved in the consideration of this bill. It is a measure of the supremest importance, and in its consequences for good or ill it easily surpasses any other proposition that ever came before this commonwealth for legislative and executive determination. It has been argued in both branches of the assembly with splendid force and ability, while its provisions have doubtless been eagerly discussed in the remotest hamlet of our state. With due allowance for the exaggeration that may be expected from those who warmly support and from those who with equal warmth antagonize the measure I accord to all of them without any reservation whatever full credit for absolute sincerity, breadth of sympathy and a desire for the public welfare, which of themselves render it a noteworthy and unique piece of proposed legislation. But these conditions only serve to make the responsibility of the executive the more weighty, and I could have wished to be spared the test.

"Nevertheless the recommendation of my oath of office, the requirements of my duty as I understand it and the conviction of my own best judgment and my conscience unite in demanding of me that I withhold approval from this bill. If I know myself, I can sincerely say that I am anxious that the very best and wisest thing shall be done in respect to all matters that have vexed us so much in times past. And, knowing this whole people as I do, it is my firm conviction that whatever the present feeling may be they will be sincerely grateful in the days to come if this measure is not written upon the statute books.

"The patience, loyalty and conservatism of our citizens are so widely recognized that only by the passage of such a bill as this can their reputation be injured.

"The broad minded and intelligent everywhere accept the situation here as it exists and are content to let time complete the solution of the problem. Even the bigoted and the meddlesome have to admit that with rare exceptions the conduct and integrity of the people are above reproach.

"In my opinion nothing can be clearer than this bill, if passed, would be welcomed and employed as a most effective weapon against the very classes whose condition it is intended to ameliorate. Furthermore, I have reason to believe its enactment would be the signal for a general demand upon the national congress for a constitutional amendment directed against certain social conditions here, a demand which under the present circumstances would surely be complied with.

"I yield to no one in affection for those my people who from the highest motives and because they believed it a divine command entered into the relation of plural marriage. Born and reared in Utah, myself a product of that marriage system, taught from infancy to regard my lineage as approved of the Almighty and proud today, as I have ever been, of my heritage, it will be granted, I trust, that every instinct of my nature reaches out to shield my friends from harm and to protect them from unjust attacks. Their cause is my cause, and when they are hurt I am hurt, for I am part of them. But in that same heart which is filled with sympathy for them I find also the solemn feeling that this bill holds out only a false hope of protection and that in offering a phantom of relief to a few it in reality invites a deluge of discord and disaster upon all.

"For these reasons, briefly and imperfectly stated, and for many others which might be given at length I am unable to approve the bill now before me."

Resubmission Denied.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 15.—After the most interesting of any hearing held before the legislature for years the house last night by a decisive vote of 84 to 34, with 20 paired and 13 absent and unpaired, refused to resubmit to the people of Maine the prohibitory amendment to the constitution. The senate will concur without debate. Speaker Joseph H. Manley presided over the house in its hearing as a committee of the whole.

The Anti-imperialists to Protest.

BOSTON, March 15.—The Anti-imperialist league is arranging for a meeting to be held in Faneuil hall March 30 to protest against the policy of the McKinley administration. Former Governor George S. Boutwell, Senor Lopez and others are expected to make addresses.

Votes For Disfranchisement.

ANNAPOLIS, March 15.—The Democratic majority in the senate, after a tedious session yesterday lasting from 11 a. m. until 8 p. m., aided by the application of the closure rule, succeeded in passing the disfranchisement bill by a vote of 14 to 11, in strict party division.

French Torpedo Boat Lost.

BREST, March 15.—A French torpedo boat which had been sent to meet an incoming transport, the Lerhin, sprang a leak and suddenly began to fill, sinking in a few moments. The crew narrowly escaped in the boats.

Miners' Convention.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 15.—The miners' convention remained in executive session the entire afternoon and in the absence of any report from the scale committee accomplished little work.

The Red Sand Came From Sahara.

BERLIN, March 15.—The official laboratory at Hamburg has discovered that the sand which fell during the recent snowstorm in northwestern Germany came from the African Sahara.

COLONEL SANGER APPOINTED.

Senators From New York Acquiesce. A Clash Avoided.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Colonel William Cary Sanger of New York was yesterday appointed assistant secretary of war and immediately entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office. His commission was made out at the war department in the morning and was signed by the president during the forenoon. Soon afterward Colonel Sanger appeared at the war department and was immediately ushered into the private office of Secretary Root. There in the presence of Lieutenant General Miles and Chief Clerk Schofield he subscribed to the regulation oath of office. In it he states his residence as Sangerfield, N. Y.

Colonel Sanger's appointment as assistant secretary of war will not be opposed by the New York senators.

Senators Platt and Depew had an appointment to meet the president at 10 o'clock. They were at the White House promptly, and they were at once admitted to the cabinet room, where they were soon joined by the president. All other callers were excluded, and for more than half an hour the subject of Colonel Sanger's appointment was discussed.

At the conclusion of the interview the New York senators declined to make any statement on the subject and referred all interviewers to the president.

Leaving the White House, the New York senators proceeded to the war department. They were evidently expected there, for they were at once admitted to Secretary Root's private office, where the subject of Colonel Sanger's selection was renewed.

The conference lasted more than 25 minutes, and the result was apparently agreeable to all concerned, for Senator Platt stated as he was leaving the secretary's office that the New York senators had consented to Colonel Sanger's appointment.

Castellane Will Fight.

PARIS, March 15.—Count Boni de Castellane, husband of Anna Gould, thrashed M. de Rodays, editor of the Figaro, yesterday. The latter has challenged him to a duel, and Castellane has accepted. The article in the Figaro to which Count de Castellane objected said that it was hinted in various quarters that the supposed emissary of the royalists who, according to M. Deroulede, visited him on the eve of President Faure's funeral in 1898 and whose visit was followed by the disclosure to the government of the details of the royalist plot was a young deputy who, though on the point of leaving for America with his wife, had most properly postponed his departure in order to be able to reply, if the occasion demanded it, to any questions that might arise.

The Evarts Will.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The will of the late former United States Senator William M. Evarts has been filed for probate in the office of the surrogate by the testator's son, Allen W. Evarts. The value of the real estate is said to be unknown, and the personal estate is said to be over $10,000. The will is dated Jan. 22, 1892. Like the senator's famous legal sentences, the will is a lengthy and involved document, covering many pages of printed matter. Among the specific bequests the senator leaves $20,000 to his daughter, Mary Evarts, and $10,000 to his son, Prescott Evarts. The famous Bailey farm in Windsor is bequeathed to the son Maxwell.

A Michigan "Smasher."

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 15.—Billiard tables, pool tables, cards and other fixtures of a country gambling joint went up in smoke in the small hours of the morning at the little village of Fulton yesterday, while hundreds of townspeople held a jubilation around the bonfire they had kindled at the instigation of the women of the W. C. T. U. Their leader, Mrs. Peter Dir, president of the local union, is the Carrie Nation for the Michigan raiders. She acted along more enlightened lines than her Kansas prototype and compelled the proprietor to sell his paraphernalia at a ridiculous figure before it was turned into kindling wood.

Bubonic Plague Spreading.

CAPE TOWN, March 15.—Owing to the increasing gravity of the outbreak of bubonic plague in Cape Colony the authorities here purpose confining the soldiers to camps and barracks. The number of European cases is increasing, four having been officially reported yesterday. In addition to these there were eight colored cases reported. Thus far there have been 37 deaths, all told. Wholesale inoculation was begun in Cape Town, and 2,000 natives were treated. The plague has made its appearance at Malmesbury, Cape Colony.

Machinists Want Shorter Days.

TOLEDO, March 15.—May 1 the International Machinists' Association of America will enforce a demand for a shorter work day. A decision has just been reached by the international organization. In towns where machinists are compelled to work ten hours they will strike for nine hours, and in towns where they work nine hours they will demand an eight hour day. In every case they will attempt to secure the same wages as those now in force.

THE CORPORATION TAX.

Senator Krum's Bill Dropped—A Substitute Reported Today.

ALBANY, March 15.—The general corporation tax bill of Senator Krum has been abandoned, and the assembly committee on taxation will report today a bill drawn on lines suggested by former Corporation Clerk Frank White. The new bill provides for a tax of one-eighth of 1 per cent on the amount of capital employed by a corporation in this state during its first year of existence. The only exemptions are banks, savings banks, insurance companies and trust companies, all of whom are taxed specially, and laundry and manufacturing companies 50 per cent of whose capital is invested in this state. It is believed the tax imposed will bring to the state about $1,000,000. The original bill which this is to take the place of would have netted the state $7,000,000.

Great objection has developed to the bill introduced in the senate by Senator Raines providing for an apportionment of the congressional districts of the state, and it is probable that a substitute bill will be introduced in the assembly which will meet many of the objections raised to the former measure. The objections mainly come from congressmen representing districts in the northern, central and western parts of the state, which are affected by the senate bill.

The Morgan bill repealing unconditionally the extraordinary powers of the Ramapo Water company was passed in the senate by 49 affirmative votes. There were no votes in the negative, Republicans and Democrats voting together. The bill was passed out of its regular order to satisfy the public demand, though a wrangle in the senate over the proper course preceded the final action. The bill was passed in the assembly Wednesday and now goes to the governor, who will sign it.

Miles Starts For Cuba.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Lieutenant General and Mrs. Miles and their son, Sherman Miles; Quartermaster General and Mrs. Ludington, Colonel H. H. Whitney, artillery corps, aid-de-camp to General Miles; Colonel Albert A. Pope of Boston, Mr. Frank Wiborg of Cincinnati and General Miles' secretary and orderly left here for Cuba last evening at 9:15 o'clock in private car No. 104 over the Southern railway, traveling via Savannah, Jacksonville and Palm Beach. After spending about two days at Palm Beach, Fla., the party will embark at Miami for Havana. It is the purpose of General Miles and General Ludington to inspect the principal military posts in Cuba, but their itinerary will not be arranged until after their arrival in Havana. It is stated with the utmost positiveness at the war department that General Miles' visit has no connection whatever with the political affairs of Cuba.

Print Mills to Curtail Output.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 15.—The agreement to curtail production in Fall River print mills will be practically unanimous by tonight, and because of a shortage in the supply of raw material many mills will begin upon the curtailment period, closing their doors Saturday afternoon. The majority of the mills in the agreement will run one week and curtail the next, but some will adopt the plan of shutting down two weeks at a time. It is probable the Bourne mill will adopt the four days a week plan pursued by that corporation during the shut down period last year. The Arkwright, which cannot curtail within the time fixed by the selling committee, has agreed to close four weeks between now and the 1st of July, its contracts preventing a shut down before May 1, as the curtailment agreement stipulates.

Discussing Platt Amendment.

HAVANA, March 15.—Yesterday afternoon the committee on the Platt amendment held a private session in the convention hall and discussed the amendment at great length. There was considerable diversity of opinion, and it was decided to hold another meeting today, when each member will submit a written opinion. The various written opinions will then be amalgamated in a final report to be made before the convention. The committee expects to finish its work Saturday, but definite action by the convention is not looked for within a week.

Mrs. Botkin to Have a New Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—The state supreme court has granted a new trial to Mrs. Cordelia Botkin, who was convicted of the murder of Mrs. J. P. Dunning in the summer of 1898 and sentenced to life imprisonment. The trial resulting in the conviction of Mrs. Botkin was a noted one in criminal history. Mrs. Botkin was tried on the charge of sending through the United States mail from this city to Dover, Del., a box of poisoned candy which caused the death of Mrs. Dunning, to whom it was addressed.

A Prosperous Steamship Line.

BERLIN, March 15.—The annual report of the Hamburg-American Steamship company which has just been published shows net earnings for 1900 of 23,866,924 marks, or an increase of 6,011,885 marks upon the figures for 1899. The dividend declared is 10 per cent as against 8 for the previous year.

Diaz Stories Baseless.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 15.—Alarmist reports regarding the health of President Diaz and conspiracies here are absolutely baseless. These reports are believed to be fabricated by men who are hostile to the government and for stock speculation purposes. There is no political agitation here.

Tried to Kill Himself.

MONTREAL, March 15.—A man who says he is Arthur B. Townsend of New York attempted to commit suicide in room 167, St. Lawrence hall, yesterday. He arrived here Tuesday and spent a large part of his time around the hotel lobby.

BANK CASHIER SHOT.

Death Follows Noonday Encounter With Robbers.

MURDERERS PROMPTLY CAPTURED.

Halifax, Pa., Scene of the Attempted Robbery—Banker Ryan the Victim of a Fierce Struggle, but Saved the Funds of the Institution.

HARRISBURG, March 15.—Charles W. Ryan, cashier of the Halifax National bank, was shot to death by Henry Rowe and Weston Keiper of Lykens at noon yesterday in an attempt at a daring bank robbery.

The robbers were captured by a party of citizens soon after the crime and were brought to the Harrisburg jail, together with F. B. Straley of Lykens, who is suspected of being an accomplice. Rowe and Keiper drove to Halifax from Elizabethville yesterday morning and, hitching their team on the outskirts of the town, entered the bank. Each had a revolver and demanded the attaches of the bank to throw up their hands and turn over the money. One of them held in check Abraham Fostenbaugh, the president; Isaac Lyter, the teller, and ex-Representative Swartz of Duncannon, who was in the bank on private business. The other covered Cashier Ryan, and under the menace of the revolvers the cashier collected the cash in the drawers to the amount of $2,000 and placed it in a satchel the robbers had brought with them. Rowe, with the cash stuffed satchel in his hand, backed out toward the door, and Keiper also moved toward the entrance to the bank. Just when it seemed that the robbers would succeed in getting away Cashier Ryan leaped forward in an attempt to knock up the revolver of the man with the money. In the scuffle several shots were fired, and Ryan fell to the floor, shot through the groin by a bullet from the pistol of Rowe. Mr. Fostenbaugh grabbed Rowe and after a short scuffle threw him to the floor. Keiper ran out the door. The noise of the shots attracted J. F. Lyter, who has a store near the bank building. He ran out with his shotgun and pursued Keiper for one block and shot him in the back of the head, when the robber surrendered.

The wounded cashier was taken to his home after the capture of the desperadoes, where he died early last evening.

Rowe and Keiper are unmarried and formerly worked in the coal mines at Lykens. Rowe is 19 years old and has been considered a dangerous man. Keiper is 20 years old and was always looked upon as honest and harmless.

They were brought to Harrisburg in the afternoon. At the jail Keiper said that he did not shoot with the intention of killing anybody.

No Trouble With Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Venezuelan charge, Senor Pulido, says there need be no fear of any governmental complications growing out of the recent asphalt affairs in Venezuela and the course of Mr. Loomis, the United States minister. Any criticisms which have been made of Mr. Loomis are said to come from private sources and not to be shared by the responsible officials of Venezuela. The local papers of the country have reprinted articles appearing in the United States arraigning Venezuela as a "bloodthirsty country," and these have caused considerable irritation and adverse press comment. But so far as the Venezuelan government is concerned frequent communications to Senor Pulido show that the most friendly sentiment continues to be entertained for the United States.

President Leaves Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—President McKinley left Washington at 7:45 o'clock last night by the Pennsylvania railroad for Canton, O., whence he will proceed Saturday night to Indianapolis to attend the funeral of General Harrison. With him were Mrs. McKinley, Secretary Cortelyou and Dr. P. M. Rixey. Mrs. McKinley will not go to Indianapolis, but will await the president's return at Canton. The return trip from Indianapolis will be made Sunday night, and although the matter has not been finally determined the probability is that the chief executive will make only a very brief stop at Canton and come back promptly to Washington. The party occupied the private car Yale, attached to the regular western express.

The Marseilles Strike.

MARSEILLES, March 15.—There were several slight conflicts yesterday between the strikers and the police at the docks, but nothing serious. The teamsters and bakers have decided to make common cause with the dockers, and a settlement is not likely to be reached soon.

A Stormy Voyage.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 15.—The Furness-Allan liner Ulunda, Captain Chambers, which left Liverpool Feb. 23 for St. John's, has arrived here after a frightful passage, the worst in the experience of all on board. She had boisterous weather during the entire voyage.

Alaskan Troops Are Well.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—General Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has received a dispatch from St. Michael's, Alaska, dated Jan. 12, which announces that the officers and troops at that post are all well.

Silk Manufacturer Dead.

PATERSON, March 15.—Benjamin Eastwood, a well known resident of this city, dropped dead of heart disease yesterday. He was 70 years of age and chief of the silk manufacturing firm of Eastwood & White at Lake View.

Relief Needed.

The attention of the members of the New Jersey Legislature is respectfully called to the unique situation in the borough of Fanwood. There was an election in that municipality Tuesday and among the other borough officials to be elected was a mayor. There were two candidates, Acting Mayor Alfred McKeown and Former Mayor Thomas S. Young. When the votes were counted, it was discovered that each candidate had received thirty-seven votes.

A careful examination of the statutes governing borough elections fails to reveal any provision for such a contingency. The situation is without precedent and the lawyers are by no means of one mind as to what shall be done. The subject was referred to Frank Bergen, the borough counsel, and he stated that he could find no provision to govern the situation.

Naturally Fanwood wants a mayor and is not at all anxious to be involved in any lengthy legal controversy to untangle the present troubles. It is not a partisan matter but is deserving of the attention of the members of the Legislature, as some means of relief from the complications existing at present is greatly desired by the members of both parties in the borough.

If the passage of any bill through the Legislature can provide an easy settlement for Fanwood's troubles, then it is the duty of the members of the Legislature from Union county to act an once and introduce the necessary legislation before the present session comes to an end.

Ex-President Harrison.

Notwithstanding all the unpleasant things people are wont to say regarding politics and politicians, it is most delightful to note the deference and respect that is paid to he who may obtain the majority in an election contest. No matter how bitter the contest or ungenerous the words and feelings that are aroused in a campaign, we, as Americans, bow to the will of the majority.

The untimely death of former President Benjamin Harrison is a case in point. The campaign against him and the Republican party was waged with relentless fury. He was caricatured and belittled, but, elected as president, he was respected and his moral courage admired and applauded.

And now, since death's great reaper felled him, all Democrats and Republicans express their sorrow, and willingly pay tribute to his many virtues and worth as the president and a great American citizen.

A day has practically been agreed upon by both Houses of the Legislature for final adjournment. And yet nothwithstanding the urgent appeals from all parts of the State, nothing decisive has been done to save the Palisades! To delay action longer is almost a crime, for another season of blasting will mar beyond repair that beautiful wall of rock, which stands as a great silent teacher of the mighty forces of nature and the handiwork of Eternal God. Men of New Jersey rise above local selfishness and the comparatively small money cost required to save this grand monument. Future generations will bless you and the present approve your course. Don't delay longer!

"Act, act in the living present Heart within and God o'erhead."

It will not be long before a decision will be given in regard to the Anti-Spring Election law, over which there has been so much talk. The Supreme Court has made a decision without going into the merits of the case so that it could be referred to the Court of Errors and Appeals in time to have a decision handed down before the time for some of the elections is here.

The newspaper correspondent who is always seeking after sensation at the expense of the truth, is particularly dreaded by the officials of the railroad companies. Such correspondents are largely to blame for much of the talk of differences and strikes on the Jersey Central Railroad which have been going the rounds of late.

The citizens of the borough of North Plainfield had another opportunity last evening to see something of the practical side of the work now being done in the public schools of that municipality.

RELATIVES HERE.

They Scout The Idea That W. W. Blackford, The Lehigh Valley Towerman, Committed Suicide.

Wesley W. Blackford, the Parkview towerman, whose mysterious death is puzzling the police of Newark and Elizabeth, was a relative of a number of Plainfield people, among them being F. A. VanNess, the Park avenue restaurant keeper, Mrs Charles Conover, of Elmwood place and Jeremiah TenEyck, of Watchung avenue. One of them when seen this morning scouted the theory that he had committed suicide, as the young man has had no serious troubles and has always enjoyed the best of health. He leaves a wife and one child.

Blackford's body was found in the basement of the Parkview tower, which is situated on the Lehigh Valley Railroad between Elizabeth and Newark, early yesterday morning, by a freight conductor who failed to understand the danger signal displayed from the tower holding his train back. A bullet hole was in his left breast while a revolver with one cartridge empty lay near the stove a short distance away.

When the county physician examined the body he announced that death was accidental and expressed the belief that Blackford carried the revolver with him when he went to fix the fire, as a protection against tramps known to infest the isolated spot.

FINED FORMER CHIEF.

Recent Head of Fanwood Police Force Appeared Before City Judge Runyon for Drunkenness.

S. G. Traynor, formerly chief of the Fanwood police force, was arrested early this morning at the North Avenue station for drunkenness.

Traynor, it is alleged, occasionally gets intoxicated, and when in that condition he makes it a practice to sober up at the railroad station. Of late he has been a nuisance to the local attaches of the railroad company.

This morning City Judge Runyon imposed the option on him of $5 fine or twenty days in jail.

DEATH OF MRS. THORNTON.

Passed Away at Her Home on Westervelt Avenue Yesterday Afternoon.

The death of Mrs. Isabella Thornton, aged 63 years, occurred yesterday afternoon at her home, 56 Westervelt avenue. She had been ill for a few days with pneumonia, but her condition was not considered very serious, in fact, her recovery seemed assured. During the early part of the afternoon there was a change for the worse and death soon followed.

Mrs. Thornton was the wife of William Thornton. She was born at Hubbardston, Mass., and lived for several years in Brooklyn and for eighteen years she resided at Cranford. For sometime past she lived on Westervelt avenue with her son, E. W. Thornton They were preparing to move back to Cranford when Mrs. Thornton was taken ill. The deceased was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church at Cranford. She is survived by two sons, E. W. Thornton, of this city, and H. C. Thornton, of Philadelphia, and a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Voorhees, of Hartford, Conn.

The funeral services will be held from the late residence Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be at Westfield.

Striked a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your GRAIN-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain-O every week. I am ten years old.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 15 — In a very quiet manner Ambrose James, Dunellen's genial marshal, was married last evening to Miss Helen Stucke, of New York city, at the latter place. Only a few intimate friends of both parties witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the bride's pastor in the family church. Mr. and Mrs. James returned to the borough after a short reception was held at the bride's home on Eighty-sixth street. They will take up their residence on North avenue.

The entertainment and spelling bee given in the Presbyterian church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, afforded several hours of amusement for a large audience. The "spelling bee" was the feature and proved instructive as well as entertaing. Two sides were chosen with F. T. Dickerson and R. F. Bogardus as captains and Revs. N. J. Sproul and S. K. Doolittle as judges. The words were given out and the contestant, who failed to spell properly, retired from the ranks. Some of the mistakes were very laughable but all was taken good part. The winner was Mrs. L. B. Meseroll. Refreshments were served at the close.

A number of small dogs were romping about the trolley tracks on North avenue yesterday morning when a trolley car crept upon then unnoticed. One of them was bowled over but escaped injury while a pet terrier belonging to George Smith, of Washington avenue, was run over and killed.

The annual election for three members of the Board of Education will be held in the Whittier School building next Tuesday evening. The nominations will be made just previous to the election. As yet no names have been mentioned in connection with the former.

The reception of the dancing class which was held in Apgar's Hall last evening was fairly well attended by the young people of the borough, all of whom were greatly pleased with the evening's pleasure.

Rev. Mr. Fulton, of Perrineville, N. J., returned home yesterday after a brief visit with Rev. N. J. Sproul. Mr. Fulton spoke in the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening.

W. L. Larrabee, of the borough, is attending the annual convention of the Ancient Order United Workman which has been in session at Trenton for the past few days.

The postponed meeting of the Dunellen Gun Club will be held at Garretson & Gray's office this evening, when the election of officers will take place.

The Hetfield building is undergoing a process of exterior decorating under the direction of George Coriell, of New Market.

Mrs. Cheshire, of Oyster Bay, L. I., is the guest of her daughters, Mrs. John Huff and Mrs. Martin Lewis.

Thomas Mohan, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is now slowly recovering.

Miss Annie Burke has been entertaining her sister from High Bridge.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, March 15.—Owing to the unpleasant weather, the dance held at the home of H. L. Patterson last evening, was not as largely attended as was expected. The affair proved very enjoyable, however, to all who were present.

The anniversary of the Sunbeam Mission Band of the Baptist church which has been announced to be held tomorrow evening, has been postponed indefinitely owing to the illness of one of the leaders.

Clark T. Rogers, in company with W. L. Larrabee, of Dunellen, has gone to Trenton as representative of the A. O. U. W., of Plainfield, at the Grand Lodge meeting being held at that place.

The Christian Endeavor social held at the residence of Mrs. H. C. Gaskill, last evening, was well attended and the young people enjoyed themselves in a pleasant manner for several hours.

Miss Kate Finger, of Plainfield, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Mitze.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 15—The many friends in town of Louis A. Goodenough, a former popular principal of the public school but now principal of one of the Jersey City schools, will be pleased to learn that he has received the appointment as superintendent of the Paterson schools. Mr. Goodenough takes with him in his new position the best wishes of all.

It is reported that John G. Cook has sold his stone-crushing business to Hetfield & Waldron, the proprietors of the crushers near his. Messrs. Hetfield & Waldron will still continue the work at their new plant, as their increasing business demanded more facilities for supplying their orders.

The Township Committee will meet in the town rooms this evening for the purpose of swearing in the newly elected township officers, and to transact such other business as may be brought before the meeting.

A general review of the Sunday-school lesson for Sunday will be the subject of the Friday evening prayer meeting in the Baptist church this evening. Rev. Mr. Shott will lead.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held a large and interesting meeting in their rooms in Excelsior's building last night.

Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company will hold their regular monthly meeting in their rooms Monday evening.

Joseph Gray, of East Front street, who has been quite ill for several days, is reported as improving very nicely.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, March 15—At a special meeting called by the president last evening, the P. O. of A., decided to give an invitation dance Wednesday, April 3. The committee of arrangements is Mrs. Ella Brantingham, Mrs. George Reighton and Jessie A. Dayton. The reception committee is Miss Carrie Dayton and Miss Georgia Brantingham. The music will be furnished by Prof. Guttman's orchestra.

The new officers of the Middlesex County Game Protective Association are: President, Frank O. Nelson; secretary and treasurer, William Fletcher. The board of directors is now composed of Dr. W. J. Nelson, Peter Osman, Frank VanNuis and William Fletcher.

There will be an entertainment given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church this evening in Washington Hall. This will be an affair which will please all who attend.

The South Plainfield Junior base ball team is practicing for a game to be played with the New Market aggregation, at some future date.

The Farther Lights Missionary Society will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. R. B. Manning.

Richard Elliot is improving very slowly from his attack of the grip.

Peter G. Emmons is confined to the house by severe illness.

Miss Maud Harris, of Easton, Pa., is visiting friends in town.

The Christian Endeavor social will be held Monday evening.

Miss Carrie Dayton has recovered from her recent illness.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Unlängst starb der Landtagsabgeordnete Brunner, Mühlenbesitzer in Stockheim.

Alzey. Der flüchtige Theilhaber der Alzeyer Nudelfabrik, Paul Langfeld, schoß sich im Gasthaus „Zum Dreibund" in Kastel eine Kugel in den Kopf. Er wurde sterbend in das Rochusspital gebracht.

Mainz. Die Weinbau-Kommission für Rheinhessen beschloß, in großem Maßstabe Experimente mit amerikanischen Reben zu machen, um die Phylloxera zu vernichten.

Wixhausen. Vor der Strafkammer hatte sich der Schmied Becker wegen fahrlässiger Tödtung zu verantworten. Er hatte eine Flobertflinte, mit der er Spatzen zu schießen pflegte, in der Ecke eines Zimmers stehen lassen, spielende Kinder waren daran gerathen, und ein zehnjähriger Knabe erschoß dabei das dreijährige Töchterchen des Becker. Das Urtheil lautete auf Freisprechung, da nicht nachzuweisen war, ob die Flinte, als Becker sie wegstellte, geladen war, oder ob der Junge sie vor dem Schuß geladen hat.

Bayern.

München. Durch Stürme sind letzthin in den Staatsforsten im Süden der Kreise Schwaben und Oberbayern im Ganzen etwa 310,000 Ster, zumeist Fichtenholz, angeworfen worden.—Hier ist ein Verein für Kinderschutz gegründet worden, dessen Ausschuß aus Vertretern der staatlichen und städtischen Behörden, aus Gelehrten, Aerzten und Damen der ersten Gesellschaftskreise besteht.—In der Riemerschmid'schen Spiritusfabrik war der 45 Jahre alte Fabrikarbeiter Cyrillus Schmid mit der Reinigung eines leeren Spiritusfasses beschäftigt. Als er mit einem Lichte in dieses hineinleuchtete, erfolgte eine Explosion, wobei Schmid so schwere Verletzungen erlitt, daß er starb.

Amberg. In einer Nacht brach in einem Hause auf der Stieglitzerhöhe ein Zimmerbrand aus, bei welchem eine Wittwe, Namens Walter, und ihre zwei Kinder den Tod durch Ersticken fanden.

Augsburg. Die Augsburger Diözese zählt nach dem neuesten Katalog nahezu 762,000 Katholiken. Im Ganzen sind 1328 Geistliche thätig. Erledigt sind zur Zeit 319 Seelsorgeposten.

Cefrees. Der frühere hiesige Pfarrer, Schriftsteller und Afrikareisende, Dr. Schwarz, ist auf einer Tour in Wiesbaden plötzlich verstorben.

Ingolstadt. Der Direktor der Abtheilung „Altnürnberg" auf der panamerikanischen Ausstellung in Buffalo, Deutsch, hat die Kapelle des 10. Infanterie-Regiments in Ingolstadt unter Leitung des königlichen Musikmeisters Max Schott für „Altnürnberg" engagirt.

Kulmbach. Im Schorgasthale bei Wirsberg hat man ein großartiges Lager Grünstein bester Qualität erschlossen. Es wird durch Anlage einer sogenannten Steinquetsche industrieller Verwerthung zugänglich gemacht.

Münchberg. Aus der hiesigen Schulsparkasse können heuer an 101 Konfirmandenkinder nicht weniger als 12,700 Mark Spareinlagen zurückgezahlt werden.

Neuburg. Der verstorbene pensionirte Bezirksamtsregistrator Xaver Wernhammer hat durch letztwillige Verfügung verschiedene gemeinnützige Vereinigungen mit Legaten im Gesammtbetrage von 8900 Mark bedacht und die Summe von 5000 Mark der Armenkasse der Stadt Neuburg zugewendet.

Oberviechthal. Im Orte Stadlern läßt das königliche Kultusministerium eine Fachschule für die aus Böhmen eingeführte Spitzenklöppelei errichten. In Stadlern und nächster Umgebung beschäftigen sich nicht weniger denn 500 Personen mit Spitzenklöppeln.

Wasserburg. Das hiesige Schöffengericht hatte einen Landgastwirth, der einen katholischen Geistlichen einen „Pfaffen" genannt hatte und gegen den deshalb Beleidigungsklage erhoben war, freigesprochen. Das Landgericht verurtheilte ihn dagegen zu 30 Mark Geldstrafe, da das Wort „Pfaff" wohl im Mittelalter keine Beleidigung gewesen, aber heutzutage eine solche sei.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Germersheim. Die in der hiesigen Kaserne ihrer Zeit ausgebrochene Typhusepidemie kann jetzt als vollständig erloschen gelten. Die zur Pflege von Würzburg hierher kommandirten Krankenpfleger sind wieder zurückgekehrt. Die verseuchte Kaserne ist noch nicht wieder bezogen worden. Zur Verhütung einer ähnlichen Epidemie hat sich die Militärbehörde mit der Stadtverwaltung zwecks Herstellung einer Kanalisation in's Benehmen gesetzt.

Landau. Die ausgedehnten Bekämpfungsversuche des Heu- und Sauerwurmes, der in den rheinischen Rebgefilden schon einen nach Millionen von Mark zählenden Schaden verursacht hat, haben bis jetzt noch kein durchaus wirksames Gegenmittel zu Tage gefördert. Church and At-Home Gowns for Lenten Season

And Some Information About the Styles for the Coming Spring Season

Interest Now Centers in the Gowns for Spring

NO MORE will the winter gown of this season attract the attention of either modiste or the woman who has been so fortunate as to wear them. In their place have come thoughts of gowns for the Lenten season, and to follow them gowns for the coming spring. The gowns of the winter season have followed quite closely the English modes, but in this respect the spring will bring a change and French form and finish will be the vogue. This promises not so much a greater variety as a greater elaboration and color. There is much that may be said in favor of the French mode, but though we can welcome it as a change, we shall miss the fascinating simplicity of the English that we have learned to elaborate just enough to make it attractive to us.

The models so far shown for the new spring skirts show more fullness at the back, and especially at the foot of the back, where they fall in large godet folds. Some of the models show broad-shaped flounces, far deeper in the back than in the front; others have plaitings both wide and narrow in clusters of either three, five or seven. So decided seems this preference for odd numbers in plaitings that it is almost safe to say that the woman who desires something out of the common run may secure it by simply using an even number of plaitings. Between these plaitings there is used either applique, braid or guimp between or to finish at the bottom.

The jacket models portray a more dressy garment than those we have been seeing during the winter. On them the collars and cuffs are often faced with velvet in self-color or a vivid red embroidered in fine gold braid. They are shown both double and single-breasted, and with rows of steel, gilt, carved ivory or enamel buttons down the front.

There is no decided change in sleeves. The ones for spring are much more elaborately trimmed than have been the winter ones, and are gradually growing fuller. In fact we seem threatened with another reign of the balloon sleeve of which it seemed we had seen the last some three years ago.

Some Charming Gowns for the Lenten Season

BUT of more immediate importance are the Lenten season gowns. There are house gowns, tea gowns, church gowns, and all of them unusually dainty and made along lines that range between the winter fashions and those that are coming with the spring season.

The season in New York has been an exceptionally brilliant one in many respects, and it is with something like a sigh of relief that the society woman welcomes the coming of Lent, and puts away her elaborate evening and reception gowns to be replaced by the home and church toilette.

The church gowns as a rule run to tailor-made effects, and they are charming. I have been privileged to look upon some of them while yet they were in the hands of the makers. One that I saw in this way was of broadcloth in a castor shade, trimmed with peau de soie in olive green. The skirt seams are strapped with the peau de soie with machine stitching. At the hem there are three strappings of the peau de soie in deep scallops. The jacket is double-breasted, comes just to the waist line, and finishes with a spade front. The seams are strapped with the silk, and a strapping around the bottom. A scalloped turn-over collar of the silk, covered with guipure lace. A high stock and vest of the lace. Six gold buttons, enameled in green, to finish the front.

TWO CHARMING LENTEN CHURCH GOWNS.

A second of these church gowns is of fine French serge in blue, trimmed with pipings of velvet. The skirt of this gown has one of the new broad-shaped flounces, with strapped pieces every so often, piped with blue velvet, and a piping of the blue velvet for a heading to the flounce. The jacket is to the waist line with a rounded front. A deep collar extending to the shoulders, of cream velvet, with strappings of the blue velvet. Six fancy steel buttons to finish. The coat sleeve has a strapping piped with the velvet at the top, and finished at the wrist in a bell shape.

One of the pretty at-home gowns is of fancy black silk, hem-stitched with a stripe effect. At the foot there are four plaited ruffles of liberty silk, edged with narrow ribbon ruching. The bodice is of white silk, gathered at the neck, and, slightly full at the waist line. Real French lace, caught at the throat, and brought down over the bust in a deep cascade. A girdle of black velvet, with long loops and ends. The sleeves are puffed with four rows of black velvet fastened with buckles.

A BLACK SILK HOME GOWN.

Pretty Accessories for the Spring Toilettes

COLLARS for the coming season are all straight on top. A few are found that have a point in front below the neck band, but this is practically the only departure from the perfectly straight collar.

Gold will continue to be popular as a trimming, and the stores are displaying great quantities of gold applique effects, both scalloped and zigzag.

Handkerchiefs of white sheer French linen, French hand hemstitched and more elaborate French handkerchiefs are all selling well, so the merchants say, and it is predicted that their popularity will continue.

Popular fancies in stockings for spring wear are those of blue and black lisle with three clocks embroidered; silk stockings with lace instep patterns, and silk stockings with duchess lace inserted or appliqued.

In the new neckwear are many embroidered polka dots and hemstitched effects.

SARAH DAVIDSON.

Another Bird.

"Don't you think it's a duck of a bonnet?" said Mrs. Taddells to her husband, whom she had dragged to a milliner's shop.

"What's the price?" asked Mr. Taddells, warily.

"Only fifty dollars."

"No, it's not a duck of a bonnet; it's a pelican."

"Why do you say that?"

"A pelican has a bigger bill than a duck."—Judge.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 17, "Christ Our High Priest"—Text. Heb. vii, 24-28.

"He is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him."

More insistent than all other needs of human nature is the craving for soul rest. Deep as the foundations of being is the consciousness of personal ill desert and wrongdoing. Covered up for a time may be the expectation of retribution and smothered all acknowledgment of error, fault and guilt, but the soul's recognition of its own sin waits only a touch of God's truth revealing spirit, when it will flash up in fearful distinctness. No denial, no excuses, will expel it. In varying degrees of distinctness and intensity it appears at different times and in different persons, but consciousness of sin in some form and degree is the common experience of mankind. It is not viewed as was error, simple mistake or infirmity; it is realized as deathly to soul peace and power. Of all ills of earth, none is so utterly agonizing as the recognition of sin guiltiness.

Every expedient which human ingenuity could devise has been tried to secure peace—no price too great to pay for pardon, no suffering too great to endure, no exertion or labor too exacting. But no solitary instance has been pointed out in all the countless millions who have sacrificed in all the ages to gods of every form and attribute; no case has been found of any one who had in any of these ways found peace and consciousness of pardon for sins; no reasoning could remove the guilt, no ransom could free the soul.

Jesus Christ calmly declares himself "the Way, the Truth and the Life," and that no man comes to the Father but by Him, and that whoever does come by Him shall not be cast out. The language is so simple and the meaning so plain a child need not misunderstand. The fact is so certain that any one who will can be assured of its truth by the simple test of coming. No one who has honestly and faithfully fulfilled the conditions Christ lays down has ever failed to receive the gift of peace with God and pardon for sins and power to live purely and righteously.

Ages have debated the nature of the atonement as it affects God, and we are little wiser today than in the beginning, perhaps can never know how the death of Jesus brought salvation to mankind. But if we cannot construct a philosophy of redemption we can possess an experience of salvation, which for us is the all essential thing.

Not how much you can understand and explain of the science of saving a world, but how profoundly Jesus has possessed you, is the vital issue of life.

"To the uttermost." Saved to the uttermost! What meaning has that for you?

Uttermost Salvation.

First, it means that it is adapted to all men, in all time, in every land and under all circumstances and conditions. It is limitless as the soul needs of the race. He came to seek and to save the lost, whether gentile or Jew.

He comes to make his blessings flow
Far as the curse is found.

It means also that all the guilt of the soul can be cleansed. It is a perfect salvation in that "where sin abounded grace did much more abound." Soul and body shall be redeemed and "delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the sons of God." Perfect love can cast out all fear. He can make us able to love God with all the heart and our neighbor as ourself.

It is an uttermost salvation in that it continues as long as man and God exist. It goes beyond all time limits into the limitless eternity of heaven.

Heavens visible and earth may pass, but His loved ones purified and glorified shall inherit the new heavens and new earth and possess the kingdom for ever and ever.

He saves to the uttermost because He ever liveth to make intercession. Intercession is more than supplication. It is mediation.

The Liquor Business.

The League and other young people's societies should give earnest attention to the study of the drink problem and its relation to Christian life and work.

It is hard to realize, yet is unquestionably true, that the capital invested in the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks in this country is as great as is invested in any of the great productive industries. Figures given by others impress us little, so look up for yourself and your local chapter the amount of money invested in the coal and iron business, in boots, shoes and leather, in cotton and woolen mills, in flour and breadstuffs and in meat. It is sobering to write these figures down. It is staggering to attempt to realize what it means when the cost of alcoholic liquors drunk in the United States last year is placed over against the cost of all food.

The liquor business is the largest in capital and influence of any line of trade in existence. It ought for the amount invested, work done and public privileges given it to be productive of great good. What do you think of its influence?

Ruskin's Bible Education.

Few men have affected their generation more profoundly than did John Ruskin. He tells us that his mother's teaching of the Bible he counted the most precious "and on the whole the one essential part of my education." This is the list of chapters he committed to memory, learning every syllable accurately: Ex. 15 and 20; II Sam. 1, 5, 17, to the end; I Kings 8; Ps. 23, 32, 90, 91, 103, 112, 119, 139; Prov. 2, 3, 8, 12; Isa. 58; Math. 5, 6, 7; Acts 26; I Cor. 13, 15; Jas. 4; Rev. 5, 6.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 17—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Christ, our high priest.—Heb. vii, 24-28.

In the topical reference we have the characteristics of Christ as a high priest set forth and the superiority of His priesthood over that of Aaron illustrated. It is shown that Christ is the real priest of mankind for whom all the nations of the world had been looking and longing. A study of the characteristics of His priesthood should help us to appreciate more fully Him and His work as our high priest.

1. The priesthood of Christ is unchangeable. "This man [Christ], because He continueth forever, hath an unchangeable priesthood." The Aaronic priests died. They had predecessors and successors. But though Christ died He continued forever, and His priesthood is unchangeable. Like Melchisedec, Christ had no predecessor and no successor.

2. The priesthood of Christ is effective. "He is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him." The sacrifice that He has made as a priest is acceptable to God, and it actually saves all those who accept it and come to God, through Him and His work for them. And that His work may be effective "He ever liveth to make intercession" for those for whom He died. He intercedes for us. We are guilty and condemned to death, but He is our advocate. He pleads our case before God, not upon our merits, but upon His merits and upon His work, and His intercession is always successful.

3. Christ's priesthood is superior to the Aaronic priesthood. (1) Christ's character is "holy, harmless and undefiled." He is absolutely sinless and needs not, therefore, to make sacrifices for himself. This was not the case with the Levitical priests. They had "infirmities;" they were human only and therefore weak and sinful, and before offering sacrifices for the people they were compelled to offer sacrifices for themselves. (2) Christ made but one sacrifice. The Aaronic priests sacrificed daily and the high priest once a year, on the day of atonement. But one sacrifice was enough for Christ, because he offered up Himself "a sacrifice to satisfy Divine justice." (3) Christ ministers in the heavenly sanctuary. Aaron ministered in an earthly tabernacle and his successors in perishable temples, but Christ performs the offices of His priesthood at the right hand of God in heaven. He is "a high priest who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, a minister of the sanctuary and of the true tabernacle which the Lord pitched and not man."

But with all the superiority of the priesthood of Christ it will avail us nothing unless we accept Christ as our high priest. He is able and willing to successfully intercede for us at the right hand of God, but we must also be willing and express our willingness to have Him as our advocate and mediator. We should be the readier to accept Him by the remembrance of the fact that today He is the only mediator between God and man, and if we have accepted Christ and His sacrifice our gratitude should go out to God for His goodness in providing us such a priest and sacrifice at such a cost, and we should show our gratitude by a life of devotion and consecration to God in Jesus Christ, our high priest.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a specially arranged programme, with prepared papers or address on the characteristics of Christ as a high priest.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xxviii, 1-43; Rom. viii, 32-39; Heb. ii, 17, 18; iii, 1, 2; iv, 14-16; v, 1-14; I Pet. ii, 1-5; I John ii, 1, 2; Rev. v, 9, 10.

Civilization and Religion.

Civilization cannot establish itself without the aid of a moral law. Its aim is to increase man's happiness, but man cannot become happier save by becoming better, and to become better he must feel himself constrained by an infallible authority to embrace duty even at the cost of pain and be thus, as it were, raised above himself. But how can such an elevation take place if man has nothing to rest on save himself? By the religions which he himself creates he seeks only to draw heaven over to the side of his own interests, his own selfishness. But how, indeed, could the religions made by man transform his nature? They have not given laws to conscience simply because to render righteousness binding on man's free will surpasses the forces of our nature.—M. Etienne Lamy in Revue des Deux Mondes.

The Thankful Heart.

For every weary worker there is a present rest; for every solicitude there is heart ease; for every cloud there is sunshine; in every vicissitude there is Christ. None of us should be depressed or discouraged in the greatness of the way, for it is of the Divine appointment, and our Lord is with us in it, going on before. They who keep the morning watch with Jesus, they who never omit their tryst with Him at night, will go from strength to strength. "When all the springs are dry," there are those who are filled at the Living Fountain.—Margaret Sangster.

A Walk Through the Woods.

A walk through the woods in September
Is bliss I can never define;
The red leaves that glow like an ember
Make gorgeous the tree and the vine.
With earth and the sky for my teacher
I worship with sun and with clod,
Forgetting the priest and the preacher,
For now I am walking with God.

The hills are as hymns of high pleasure,
The valleys as rosaried rhyme,
And set to the loftiest measure
The forest an anthem sublime.
No more on man's teaching dependent,
From cant and from creed I am free,
And Beauty and Truth are transcendent,
For God is now walking with me.

THE RUSSIAN AGREEMENT.

Manchuria to Be Under the Supreme Control of the Czar.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Such information as has come to the hands of officials indicates that the Russian agreement consists of 12 articles, not nine, as has been published. The chief concern of officials here has been to learn how far these articles affect the permanent future of Manchuria. On their face it is said they show a return of Manchuria to China, which would seem to be quite in keeping with the desire of all powers. But this is accomplished upon certain conditions imposed upon China, and it is understood that these conditions in effect establish a Russian suzerainty over Manchuria, with a Russian official occupying the chief executive position, quite similar to that of the British viceroy of India.

Comparing the situation with that in India, it is said that if the present agreement is consummated Manchuria will be much in the same position of one of the Indian states, having a certain degree of independence and yet conforming all its actions to the supreme authority over it.

Chinese affairs received considerable attention at the state department yesterday, as the Chinese minister, the British embassador and the Russian embassador followed each other in long conferences with Mr. Hay.

It is understood that in the informal discussion with Count Cassini an earnest intimation was conveyed to him that it would be most helpful in dealing with the subject if a clear and explicit understanding of Russia's plans in this particular matter were forthcoming.

A German View.

BERLIN, March 15.—The opinion is gaining ground in official circles here that the Manchurian question is nearing a peaceable solution, but that Russia, in order to secure her interests in north China against possible Japanese interference, will during the month increase her troops there, which now number in round figures 100,000 men. The North German Lloyd line has petitioned Count von Bulow to declare that in view of the importance of Shanghai to European trade an improvement in the condition of navigation in the Woo-sung river, now little better than a mere tidal channel, be included in the final peace negotiations with China.

China Objects.

PEKING, March 15.—China has strenuously objected to the limitations of the Manchurian convention respecting the importation of arms, the reorganization of the army and the practical control by Russia over Chinese officials. Advices from Newchwang assert that Admiral Alexieff has reinstated the Tartar general Tsing Chi in full command at Mukden, supported by 4,000 Russian troops. This is the Russian method of reinstating Chinese officials.

Prayer Beaten by Free Beer.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., March 15.—Yesterday was election day here, and it was a hotly waged contest between the saloons and Prohibition adherents. Methods never before tried here were in vogue. On the one hand the churches were open all day and hourly prayer meetings were held. Every hour the church bells rang and those engaged about the polls and unable to go to the churches knelt for a moment's silent prayer. The saloon men were not inactive by any means. Free beer was on tap everywhere for those who cared for it, and workers by the score were at the polls. The result was very close and in doubt until the last hundred votes were counted. The saloons won by 12 votes, and the temperance people say they will demand a recount and contest the election.

Shot Accidentally.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The body of W. W. Blackford, night operator in the tower house of the Lehigh Valley railroad at Parkview, near Newark, N. J., was found in the tower house early yesterday. It was at first thought that Blackford committed suicide, but subsequent developments lead to the opinion that he shot himself accidentally. Blackford answered a message on the wire at 2 o'clock, and at 2:25 he set the switches for an engine to go to the coal chute. When the engineer whistled for the return trip, he could not arouse the signalman and, going to the tower, found him lying on the floor dead, with a pistol shot wound near the right collar bone.

Cuban Trade.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The division of insular affairs of the war department has issued a statement of the commerce of Cuba for the first eight months of 1900 as compared with the same period of the preceding year. The total value of merchandise, gold and silver imported during that period of last year is set down at $48,308,801. For the same time in 1899 it was $47,449,771, an increase of $859,030, or nearly 2 per cent. The exports in 1900 were valued at $37,596,415 and in 1899 $38,509,809.

New Jersey Legislature.

TRENTON, March 15.—The house yesterday passed a bill fixing 60 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine as the penalty for kidnaping a child, a bill providing for the revision of the ward lines of Paterson, a bill providing for the publication of the names of applicants for liquor licenses and a bill permitting counties to create lake and park commissions. The house defeated the bill requiring bathing house keepers to maintain lifeboats for the rescue of bathers.

To Change New Hampshire Courts.

CONCORD, N. H., March 15.—After an all day struggle the New Hampshire house of representatives passed the most important bill which has come before it for consideration at this session, an act to reorganize the state courts. As passed the bill provides for a supreme court and a superior court, each to consist of a chief justice and four associates.

Unearthed Ancient Pottery.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 15.—A pottery, where earthenware is believed to have been made over a century ago, has been discovered on Ten Mile river, Sullivan county. It is located under a bank and appears to have been purposely hidden from view. The clay beds from which the material had been taken are half a mile away.

A Persecuted Senator.

TOLEDO, March 15.—Senator W. C. Gear of Upper Sandusky, who is quite prominent in state politics, has

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

In spite of the restraints of slavery the plantation darkey was not entirely deprived of the pleasures of life. His native pastimes, his cake walks, his camp meetings and festivities of every description all gave evidence of the leisure hours in which he was permitted to enjoy himself. It is a realistic portrayal of these characteristics incident to old plantation days, in a word, the representation of the darkey in his happy hour that makes "South Before the War," which will occupy the stage of Music Hall, Saturday, March 30, a highly acceptable entertainment. It gives employment to over fifty people, all of whom are engaged on account of their special talent, whether in singing, dancing or in dramatic skill.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DAY.

Held From Residence of Her Son, W. E. Day, of Grove Street.

The funeral services of Mrs. C. C Day, who died at her home in Mansfield, Mass., were held from the residence of her son, W. E Day, of Grove street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, of which the deceased was a member during her residence here, was the officiating clergyman. There was a large gathering of friends and a beautiful display of floral emblems. At the conclusion of the service the remains were taken to Hillside cemetery and interred beside those of her husband.

Those who acted as pall bearers were four former friends, Eugene Laing, A. J. Winckler, Frank Baily and William Van Winkle.

Working 24 Hours a Day.

There's no rest for those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always busy, curing Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Biliousness, Fever and Ague. They banish Sick Headache, drive out Malaria. Never gripe or weaken. Small, taste nice, work wonders. Try them. 25c at L. W. Randolph's.

Street Signs Expected.

The new street signs ordered by the Common Council a short time ago are expected to arrive every day. As soon as they are delivered by the makers the work of putting them up will be commenced by William H. Brokaw, the carpenter and builder, who was the lowest bidder for the privilege.

May Promote Lieut. Horn.

Among those who have been ordered to appear at Fort McPherson, Georgia, before a special board appointed by President McKinley to examine army officers as to their fitness for promotion, is Lieut. Tiemann N. Horn, of the Artillery Corps, formerly of this city.

DRUGGIST NAGLE WEDDED.

Married to Popular Young Woman of Perth Amboy Yesterday Afternoon.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Perth Amboy, March 15.—A quiet home wedding, which was a great surprise to the friends of both parties, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bloodgood, in this city, yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Bertha M. Bloodgood, was united in marriage to Clayton M. Nagle, a druggist, of Plainfield. The ceremony was performed beneath a beautiful arch of flowers by Rev. Trevena Jackson, pastor of the First M. E. church.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a bounteous supper was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Nagle departed amid a shower of rice for Plainfield, where they will take up their residence at 310 West Front street.

Mr. Nagle is a native of Pottstown, Pa., but has been a resident of Plainfield since January, 1900, when he purchased the drug business of Horsley Barker. He was connected for a number of years with the Grennelle Pharmacy Co., of Asbury Park.

The bride is a highly esteemed and very popular young woman of this place.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The love of country which springs from the soil and leads to the highest type of patriotism in the individual and nationalism in a people, makes it of the gravest importance to preserve inviolate those conspicuous features of natural scenery, which impress the beholder with reverence, which are a source of unfailing interest and enjoyment to the people and which engender a just pride in our native land.

Stimulated by this sentiment the National Government has reserved large tracts of the public lands of exceptional interest that they may be preserved in their natural attractiveness and beauty for the benefit of the people.

Among the States of the Union which have responded to the public sentiment, California has extended her protective care over the Yosemite Valley and New York over the Falls of Niagara, and is gradually obtaining possession of the wilds of the Adirondacks, and Canada, responsive to the action of the State of New York, has stopped the further encroachment of commercial interests on the Canadian side of the falls. These acts have met with the merited commendation of the civilized world. The State of New Jersey has yet to take her initial step in giving protection to any portion of her territory.

The feeble effort she has made to protect the "Palisades of the Hudson" by appointing a permanent Palisades Commission without means, and clothed only with inadequate authority to enforce the protection demanded, should be followed by more vigorous measures if she is sincere in her purpose. The additional power authority asked for by the Palisades Commission is so absolutely necessary to accomplish the object for which it was created, that no delay should occur in granting their appeal.—Jersey City Journal.

To Nominate Officers.

L. H. Biglow, Jr., Douglass Drake, Charles Conover, Miss Grace Yerkes, Miss Susie Woodland and Mrs. Hannah Flanders compose the nominating committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church. They will hold a meeting soon and report the result of their work at the annual meeting to be held Friday evening, March 22.

Death of Mrs. Doyle

Mrs Catherine Doyle, aged 33 years, of 534 West Fourth street, died last evening. The funeral services will be held from the late residence tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock and from St Mary's church at 8:30 o'clock. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Noel Has Returned.

Joseph A. Noel, of West Third street, who disappeared last Monday, returned home this morning. He is unable to give any coherent account as to where he was, as from the time he left home his mind has been a blank.

Fence to be Extended.

The iron fence that has been erected at the North Avenue Station is soon to be extended to the Park and Watchung avenue bridges. A gate will also be placed in the centre.

A QUARTER CENTURY OF CHURCH HISTORY

Park Avenue Baptist Church Celebrated Its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Yesterday.

TWO SERVICES WERE HELD.

CONGRATULATORY ADDRESSES AND CHURCH HISTORY WERE GIVEN.

Supper to Church Members And Guests Given Between The Meetings—Former Pastor, Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, Made Address—Other Speakers.

The anniversary exercises of the Park Avenue Baptist church commenced yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with a fair attendance at the services considering the extremely unpleasant weather.

Rev. W. L. Jones, of this city, invoked the blessing of God on the auspicious occasion and at the conclusion of the prayer a praise service was conducted for ten minutes by the church choir. Mrs. Alice C. Johnson, the first organist of the church, played very skillfully Guilmant's third Sonata.

The address of greeting was made by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, who, after extending hearty congratulations, spoke on the vision of Zacariah. He related how the Angel of the Lord had appeared unto Zacariah and told him to build a new Jerusalem. Two injunctions were given. First, the city was not to be built on the plans of the old, and this, said Mr. Goodrich, should be applied to church work. Don't follow in the old ruts because someone has built a precedent. Second, the city was to be built without walls for the Lord God was to be the defense. Harmony should dwell among Christians, and it did so dwell in Plainfield, where the people relied on the defense of God.

"The Holy City" was sung by Charles L. Lewis and Rev. George A. Francis, of Westfield, extended words of congratulation on the past, present and future of the church on behalf of the East New Jersey Baptist Association.

Thomas A. Cuming, the church clerk, sketched the history of the church during the quarter of a century it has existed.

For a long time, prior to the formation of the church, the need had been felt for the services of the church in the southern part of the city. The First and Second Baptist churches, the only ones of this denomination in the city, stood within a square of each other in the central part of the city. During the fore part of the seventy's, Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry, who had retired from active work, lead a small band in worship and Bible study at the Seventh Day Baptist church. From these meetings was formed the nucleus of the present congregation.

The church was regularly organized as the Central Baptist church, of Plainfield, at a special meeting called for that purpose Wednesday evening, March 15, 1876. At this meeting which was convened with Hamilton H. Salmon presiding and Theodore I. Runyon as secretary, 134 constituent members were received by letters of dismissal from other churches, including 95 from the Second Baptist church, since disbanded, and 15 from the First Baptist church.

Rev. Mr. Lowry accepted the call to the pastorate and shortly afterward, June 1, 1876, the council called to recognize the church was convened with Rev. W. Rollinson as moderator and Rev. J. C. Buchanan as clerk. The recognition services were held the same evening.

The introductory exercises were led by Rev. B. R. Black. An address was made by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes on the "Hand of Fellowship," and words addressed to the church were delivered by Rev. E. E. Jones. The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. J. S. Kennard.

The congregation worshipped for several years in the Seventh-Day edifice and it was through the generosity of one of Plainfield's most public spirited citizens, James E. Martine, in donating a valuable lot of ground at the corner of Park and Prospect avenues for the erection of a church building that the small congregation were enabled to have a church home of their own. Through the persevering, prayful and enthusiastic efforts of Dr. Lowry, the pastor, the church edifice was built and preliminary services were held in the chapel of the structure in May, 1880.

The formal dedication of the church

TO HOLD FAIR.

Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein Has Appointed Committee to Arrange For One.

The Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein has appointed a committee of arrangements for a fair to be held under the society's auspices during the fourth week of April. It is the intention of those having the affair in charge to make the affair as interesting as possible and several contests to stir up excitement are contemplated.

The committee on arrangements consists of M. Menzenbach, Paul Poetler, Henry Bergen, John Wirt, August Wolff, Wm. Clausen, Henry Hertel, A. Luthmann, John Richter, Mrs. H. Bergen, Mrs. C. Meyer, Mrs. H. Meyer, Mrs. Carl Filber, Mrs. H Hertel, Mrs. Peter Finger, and Mrs. Annie Weigman.

The committee will hold a meeting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the society's hall.

TROLLEY VICTIMS IMPROVING

BELIEVED NOW THAT ALL WILL EVENTUALLY RECOVER.

J. B. Holmes Is in a Critical Condition and Now Seems Worst Injured of Any of Those Hurt in Accident.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, March 16.—Rev. C. H Hawes and Mrs Theo. Kiemann, who were injured in the trolley wreck here Wednesday, are still at the North Avenue Hotel and are improving as rapidly as can be expected. They are under the care of Dr. Sherman Cooper, who has issued a bulletin saying that they will undoubtedly recover.

Albert Moffet, the proprietor of the hotel at Clark township, who was burned about the arm, is suffering from severe shock and his arm is badly swollen. The hot coals from the overturned stove fell into his sleeve and burned deep before he could shake them out.

J. B. Holmes, of Mountainside, who seemed the least hurt of the passengers, is now in a critical condition. He is suffering from shock and is the only one of the injured that has a fever, his temperature being above 100. He is at his home in Mountainside.

WANT CARS TO STOP.

Member of Westfield Township Committee Wants Street Legislation Regarding Trolley Cars.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, March 16.—At a meeting of the township committee, held last evening, Treasurer Wellington Morehouse, speaking, as he said, on behalf of the people of Westfield, explained that there were twelve curves on the trolley line of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Traction Company between the Garwood line and the Fanwood township line, and asked that an ordinance be passed compelling the company to issue orders to have each car come to a dead stop before turning any of these curves.

Township Attorney Paul Q. Oliver, who was present at the meeting, assured the committee that such an ordinance could not be passed, but Mr. Morehouse was sure that the laws of New Jersey allowed the passage by the committee of such an act. The matter was left to the attorney, with instructions to report Saturday evening, March 23.

SPOILED HER FACE.

Such Was Charge Against Christopher Madchen, But Judge Decided Mrs. Brown Had Ably Defended Herself.

City Judge Runyon this morning heard the case against Christopher Madchen, colored, of East Third street, who was charged with having attempted to disfigure the face of Mrs. Phyllis Brown, a neighbor.

The trouble arose over a children's quarrel and Madchen was taken to task by Mrs. Brown for having slapped her boy. Madchen made a counter charge that the Brown woman assaulted and to clear herself of this Mrs. Brown wished the court to hear the testimony of a witness who heard Madchen declare he had not been hit, for she was unwilling to swear that she had not landed a blow on him.

The court took the view that Mrs. Brown had evidently ably defended herself and dismissed the proceedings with a warning to the woman to conduct herself more peaceably in the future.

Accident Closed Works for the Day.

An accident to the boiler at the Aluminum Plate and Press Works this morning made it impossible for the engineer to start his engine. In consequence the entire machine shop force was compelled to quit work for the day. It is expected repairs will be made in time to enable the men to resume work Monday.

FEAR THAT TRADE IS GOING ELSEWHERE.

North Avenue Merchants Claim That Changes of the Station Have Affected Business.

CROWD GOES OTHER WAY.

PARTICULARLY OBJECT TO CLOSING OF THE OLD ENTRANCES.

And to Removal of the Ticket Office to South Side of Track—Want the Ticket Office and Old Entrances Reopened—A Remonstrance.

The opening of the new east bound station of the Jersey Central Railroad has had an effect which the merchants and property owners along North avenue did not contemplate. When the ticket office was removed to the south side of the track and the street doors to the old waiting rooms were closed to the public, it resulted in driving the great bulk of the crowd of commuters out of North avenue. This is what the merchants do not want.

Of course, the evening trains, which bring back the army of New York business men, deposit their passengers on the north side of the track and the great bulk of them have to pass out by the way of North avenue. The great throng which used to pass along there every morning has been greatly reduced in size, however, and the smaller number of pedestrians, who used to go to the station to take trains during the day, now go by the way of Park or Watchung avenue.

Such a state of affairs is bound to be the result of the opening of the new station but the North avenue merchants believe that it is greatly increased by the removal of the ticket office and the closing of the doors from North avenue into the waiting room of the old station. These are the particular things which they object to and are now planning to prepare a formal remonstrance against. This remonstrance will probably be presented to the railroad officials in a short time.

Under the old arrangements, the waiting rooms could be reached by two flights of stairs from the street which led up to two double doors. These doors have since been closed and large signs placed on them, marked "Closed," while boards have been fastened across the bottom of the stairways. Strangers, who have come to town and seen these entrances blocked, have immediately gained the idea that the old station has been entirely abandoned. The North avenue merchants are desirous that the doors be opened to the public again.

Among the hackmen, the change has found anything but favor. They are now compelled to watch both stations although the bulk of their business is received from the westbound trains. They are anxious to see the entrances to the waiting rooms reopened as now the hackmen who stand in front of the single entrance to the tunnel have practically all the show to capture the customers.

WANT NEW TRIAL.

Another Attempt to Save Wm. Lupton From Term in States Prison.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, March 16—Judge Cowenhoven, of New Brunswick, made application before Judge Schenck yesterday morning for a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted to Wm. Lupton.

Judge Cowenhoven said that after reviewing the evidence he might then withdraw his application and apply for a writ of error. Prosecutor Griggs opposed the application.

Judge Schenck announced that he would render a decision next Friday.

High Praise.

Franklin W. Hooper, director of Brooklyn Institute of Arts Science writes Miss McClaren: "I am glad that we had the opportunity of having you read, and I congratulate you on your very great success. We shall certainly wish to have you read for us again another season. It is not too much to say that your reading demonstrated before a large audience very unusual dramatic powers." Miss McClaren will appear with Miss May Vincent Whitney, pianist in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course on Monday evening next.

SURPISED TEACHER.

Pleasing Surprise Party Given Miss Anna A. Searing by Members of Her Sunday-School Class.

A pleasant event of last evening was the surprise party given to Miss Anna A. Searing, of 411 Orchard place, by her Sunday-school class from Trinity Reformed church. While the affair was arranged and given in honor of the teacher, it had a double significance, for one of the scholars, Miss Anna Holder, is soon to move away and it was the last time the class will assemble at such an affair with Miss Holder.

The teacher was completely surprised, as she had not the slightest intimation of the event. Before the young folks went home refreshments were served. Those of the class present were the Misses Katie Bodine, Florence Scribner, Minnie Nitschwitz, Anna Holder, Mazie Gray, Nettie Thompson, Lizzie Davenport and Nettie Zimmer. Others present included the Misses Florence White, Anna Bodine, Mamie Davenport.

CARS GO SLOWER.

Running Time of Plainfield-Elizabeth Trolley is Increased and Another Car Put On.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Westfield, March 16.—The accident on the trolley line of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Traction Company has resulted in a change of timetable on the road by which the running time of cars is reduced.

Under the old schedule cars made the return trip from Plainfield to Elizabeth in one hour and fifteen minutes, and now they have the time extended fifteen minutes, an extra car having been put on.

The runs have all been changed and there is some dissatisfaction among the employes who formerly had "star" runs.

UNION COUNTY WON.

Shoot Between Union and Middlesex County Teams Thursday Afternoon.

A large crowd of sportsmen interested in trap-shooting witnessed the match between teams representing Union and Middlesex counties, at the grounds of the Hotel Pines on the Metuchen road, Thursday afternoon. The former team defeated their opponents by five birds.

The men from Union county were Harry Campbell, Dan. Gavin, Percy Sandford, Thomas Brantingham and John Kindsey, of this city. The New Brunswick team was composed of Joseph Baaraem, Keron Kelley, John Belloff, James Gladden and George Strong.

Each man shot at 15 birds. The total score of the Plainfield men was 66 birds killed and 9 missed while New Brunswick killed 61 and missed 14. A return match will be played at Campbell's Clubhouse next Thursday afternoon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS.

Annual Meeting of the Teachers of First Presbyterian Sunday-school.

The annual meeting of the teachers of the First Presbyterian church Sunday-school was held last evening in the chapel. The reports of Superintendent E. M. Cave were presented, showing a substantial increase in membership and the school to be in a very flourishing condition. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Superintendent, E. M. Cave; first assistant, L. H. Gates; second assistant, Miss Jennie Abbott; secretary, E. G. George; assistant secretary, F. R. Hazeltine; treasurer, Freeman Shotwell; librarian, Warren Townley; assistant librarian, F. C. Knight.

Was Not Locked Up.

Concerning the arrest of Fred Bird, of East Front street, yesterday morning for non payment of taxes, it is but fair to Mr. Bird to state that he was not locked up after he was arrested but simply detained in the station house a short time until the hour for city court came. At no time was he placed in a cell.

Connett Paid His Fine.

The fine imposed on Frazee Connett Thursday by City Judge Runyon for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was paid by the prisoner yesterday, and he was allowed to vacate his temporary quarters in the station house.

To Call the Roll.

At the next church meeting at the First Baptist church the roll of all the members will be called. It is many years since this has been done, and it is hoped that so far as possible all the members will be present.

Paid His Fine And Was Released.

Peter Campbell, who was given the choice of a $5 fine or twenty days in prison by City Judge Runyon yesterday morning for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, paid the fine was released this morning.

FANWOOD WAS BEATEN BY A SINGLE POINT

Hillcrest A. C., of Summit, Won in a Fiercely Contested Game Last Night.

SCORE WAS 11 TO 10.

BASKET BALL SEASON AT FANWOOD ENDED LAST NIGHT.

Visitors Were Used to Rough Game—Game Was Followed by a Supper and Dance at the Fire House—Large Crowd Was Present

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Fanwood, March 16.—In the fiercest game of the year, the basket ball team of the Fanwood Athletic Club closed its season last evening with a defeat at the hands of the Hillcrest Athletic Club, of Summit, by a score of 11 to 10. The game was played in the Fanwood club house and was witnessed by a large audience.

While the Summit boys were capable of playing a fine game, they where not used to a strict observance of the rules governing fouls and their play was extremely rough. As a result, neither side showed much team work. In the first half the Summit official umpired and called but one foul, that on Fanwood. The result was that the play was hard and rough and men were frequently laid out. In the second half the officials changed places and the play tamed down considerably after fouls were repeatly called on the visitors.

Summit scored the first goal at the opening of the game and after that it was nip and tuck. At the end of the first half, the score stood 6 to 6. The Summit team had the advantage of superior height and weight which told considerably in the style of game they played. The team work of the Fanwood contingent was not up to its old standard and the goal throwing was inaccurate.

The teams lined up as follows:

FANWOOD A. C.		HILLCREST A. C.
Bonney	right forward	Wagner
Moraller	centre	Muchmore
Smith	right guard	Hawkey

Score—Hillcrest, 11; Fanwood, 10. Goals from the field Smith (2), Long, Wagner, Muchmore (2), Meller (2). Goals on fouls—Smith (4), Hawkey. Fouls—Fanwood, 3; Hillcrest, 0. Referee—Charles B. Morse, of Plainfield. Umpire—Henry Williams, of Summit. Timer—Edwin Faucher, of Fanwood. Scorer—Berry Egan, of Plainfield.

A supper and dance was given to the visiting team at the Fanwood firehouse after the game and a very pleasant evening was spent. The Summit boys left for home in their stage at 1 o'clock.

GARWOOD'S PROSPERITY.

Contracts Given Out For Ten New Houses, Which Will Be Built There at Once.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Garwood, March 16—Building operations in Garwood are soon to be resumed on an extensive scale. J. Roger Maxwell, president of the Garwood Land Improvement Company, has just announced that the company will start ten new houses here at once. They will be six and seven room frame cottages, and each will be equipped with all modern improvements. The contract for the erection of them has been given to the Peck Lumber Construction Company, of Jermyn, Pa.

Four out of the five houses built by the company last fall have been sold and there is hardly a vacant house in the place. The constant increase to the working force at the Aeolian factory is bringing more and more people to town and the new houses will be readily taken as soon as they are constructed. They will be sold and not rented.

Will Give Up Present Office.

Justice Mosher expects to give his present office in the First National Bank building April 1, and establish headquarters at his home. This change is made on account of the condition of Mr. Mosher's wife. She is much better than she was, but it is believed that she will always be an invalid. As soon as possible Mrs. Mosher will be moved to her home on East Fourth street.

Burglarly at Piscataway.

The home of Edward Smith, of Piscataway, Middlesex county, was entered by thieves last Thursday evening. The house was ransacked and a pair of trousers containing $20 in bills, $1 34 in change, some old coins, a gold watch and a worthless silver watch was taken; also some clothing, a gold chain, a new pair of shoes and a few other things.

BURIED IN UNIFORM.

Funeral of Rodman Brown, the Boy Killed by Train at Westfield Last Wednesday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, March 16—The funeral services over the remains of Rodman Brown, the boy who was killed on the railroad here Wednesday morning, were held from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Huffman Brown, on Dudley avenue, this morning at 10:30 o'clock. They were conducted by Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, assisted by Rev. Dr. James R. Danforth and Rev. Newton W. Cadwell.

The lad was a member of the United Boys Brigade of America and was, as he once requested, buried in the uniform of that organization. The members of the Westfield Company attended the funeral in full uniform. The body was deposited in the receiving vault at Fairview cemetery.

PLANNING GREAT CEMETERY.

CONFERENCE WITH RARITAN TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE TONIGHT.

Promoters Will Try to Secure Permission to Locate It Near Oak Tree.

The promoters of a New York syndicate, which contemplates establishing a model cemetery of the most modern type near Oak Tree, Raritan township, Middlesex county, are actively engaged in furthering the plans of the project.

$100 000 has been subscribed. The Isaac Lane farm, of 130 acres, on Woodland avenue, near Oak Tree, and the Tappen farm of 120 acres adjoining it on the east as well as the Reuben Potter farm, of 100 acres east of the Tappen plot, are under consideration as desirable land which the concern will purchase provided the necessary permission of the Raritan Township Committee can be obtained.

The State Board of Health has given its consent to the project. This evening the promoters will hold a conference with the Township Committee at Bonhamtown.

It is the purpose of the syndicate to lay out a cemetery which will excell anything of the kind in this country surpassing even the elaborate cemeteries near Boston and Cincinnatti which today are the finest in the United States.

IN COURT AGAIN.

Samuel Taynor Arrested Again Last Night for Being Drunk and Judge Runyon Fined Him $10.

Samuel Taynor, of Fanwood, after having been fined yesterday morning for alleged drunk and disorderly conduct was again in the toils of the law on the same charge last night.

Patrolman Lunger arrested him at the North Avenue station and this morning at the hearing he admitted having imbibed some liquor.

City Judge Runyon believed that he would have to increase the penalty inflicted at the former hearing and Taynor was left to choose between paying $10 fine and serving forty days. He paid the fine and departed.

DR. HARNEY SPEAKS.

Continuance of Evangelistic Meetings at Reform Hall Under His Charge.

The series of evangelic meetings, now being conducted at Reform Hall, was continued last evening with Rev. Gilbert Harney, of Maine, in charge. He took for his subject, "The Truth of The Bible" and delivered a discourse which kept the close attention of his hearers for nearly an hour. At the close he made the usual exhortation for the acceptance of Christ.

There will be no meeting this evening but tomorrow there will be two. In the morning Mr. Harney will speak on the subject, "Living Christ" and in the evening, "Christ in Modern Life."

Resigned From Police Force.

Patrolman John Winzenreid, who for the past two and a half years has been on the local police force, has tendered his resignation to take effect at once. In the future he will devote his entire intention to trucking and express work, having purchased the business formerly conducted by T. C. Carey & Son.

UNION COUNTY ALUMNI OF PRINCETON DINED.

Annual Meeting and Banquet of Princeton Club of Union County Last Evening.

WAS HELD AT ELIZABETH.

DR. HEDGES WAS THE RETIRING PRESIDENT AND TOASTMASTER.

Number of Plainfielders Were Present—Gov. Voorhees Could Not Go—Something of the Speakers and What They Said.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, March 16.—The Princeton Alumni Association, of Union county, held its annual banquet in the Isham building on Broad street, last evening. Forty sons of Old Nassau gathered around the festive board and sounded the praises of their alma mater in speech and song. Every son of Princeton acted as a jolly good fellow and from the time the first course of the delightful menu was served until the midnight hour arrived unrestrained merriment reigned at the gathering.

When the members had tasted the oyster cocktails, sweetbread patties, filet de Boeuf, punch a la Bruters, roast squab and nesselrode pudding and the coffee and cigars were brought on, Dr. Benjamin VanD. Hedges, of Plainfield, the retiring president of the association, rapped for order and the real fun of the evening began.

Dr. Hedges, both as toastmaster and president, delivered a few well-chosen remarks in a decidedly witty vein. He thanked the members for the honor they had conferred on him, and said that the proud distinction awarded made him feel more honored than the president of Princeton when arrayed in all the splendor of his silken gown and richly colored academic hood.

Shortly after being elected president, Dr. Hedges said that he happened to stop at a hotel in San Francisco and one evening at dinner was presented with a large bouquet, by friends who had heard of his position in the association. The bouquet was addressed to "Dr. Hedges, president of Princeton." He confessed he did not know for what purpose he was elected unless the members acted on the same idea that a small boy did who set a hen with thirty-nine eggs in order to see the blamed old thing spread itself.

The doctor received much applause at the conclusion of his speech and all the men joined in singing

Here's to Hedges, eighty-eight,
He ran this dinner—three a plate—
Tomorrow prescribes because we ate,
Here's to Hedges, eighty-eight,

Prof. Wm. F. Magie, of the University, responded to the toast of "Princeton" and spoke at some length on the past, present and future of the institution. Dickinson W. Richards, of Orange, a brother of Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, of Plainfield, answered the toast to "Yale" and dwelt upon the ties of friendship between the two rival institutions.

"The Princeton Club of New York" was the speech assigned to Robert Bridge, the editor of Scribner's Magazine and the literary critic of Life, but Mr. Bridges confined himself to the subject of the position of the college man in literature today. The speech was very interesting and was well spiced with clever witticism.

Wm. B. Wilder, a New York lawyer, and a former Plainfielder, spoke on the needs of advertising the college in the west and made a plea for the better support of Old Nassau by the alumni.

Rev. Dr. Wood Halsey, of New York, in his remarks, took occasion to refer to the prevailing undergraduate spirit at Princeton, and recommended a return to the democratic spirit among the men, such as existed in earlier days.

Another former Plainfielder, McCready Sykes, concluded the speech-making with a general talk which abounded with humorous anecdotes. The mention of Mr. Sykes' name brought forth this skit;

Here's to Sykes, of Ninety-four,
We've heard him many times before,
So go to sleep and give him the floor,
Here's to Sykes, of Ninety-four.

Governor Foster M. Voorhees was counted upon to respond to the toast "New Jersey," but he was unavoidably detained at Trenton by pressing official business.

In introducing each speaker, chairman B. VanD. Hedges made use of a happy faculty of getting off some very smart and timely sayings which were

TRADE CONDITIONS.

A Bright Picture Presented—Textiles Alone Dull.

NEW YORK, March 16.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Improving wheat crop reports, a pig iron production seldom exceeded, strong cash prices for all iron and steel products that can be delivered, heavy grain exports at good prices, activity in minor industries and a money market that imposes no hardship upon business comprise the bright side of the picture of the week. Threatening labor troubles seem more remote.

The textile markets, long backward, have again failed to respond to the general confidence in commercial circles.

Steel mills are still much behind their orders, and contracts for bessemer pig for July delivery indicate that the activity is not considered temporary. Yet the wide difference in quotation between immediate and distant dates suggests some feat that present high prices cannot be maintained. While the various pools and associations are extremely conservative about advancing nominal list prices, actual business continues to be transacted at premiums which vary according to the urgency of purchasers.

Failures for the week were 209 in the United States against 198 last year and 33 in Canada against 23 last year.

DARING BOY BURGLAR.

Fires at a Cashier—Caught After Exciting Chase.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 16.—Walter Atkinson, 16 years old, made a daring attempt at hold up in the general store of James Hewitt at Berlin, N. J. He went into the store and pointed a revolver at Charles McIlvaine, the cashier, and made a demand for money.

McIlvaine was alone in the place at the time, and he refused to give the boy any money.

Atkinson fired two shots at McIlvaine, both of which missed the cashier, and then he fled to the woods.

A posse was formed, and bloodhounds were secured. The dogs tracked the fugitive, and when the men had nearly overtaken the would be murderer he fired several shots at them which went wild.

He was captured, and some of the excitable members of the posse wanted to lynch him on the spot. Cooler counsel prevailed, and the boy was taken to jail, where he was charged with attempted murder.

A Swede Swindled.

ROCHESTER, March 16.—A Swede named Heinrick Olefson, en route from Malmoe, Sweden, to St. Paul, became stranded in this city and was assisted on his way by German friends here, to whom he appealed for help. Olefson left Jersey City Thursday morning. He was accosted by a stranger, who, after engaging him in conversation in the Swedish language, asked him if he had exchanged his money for American money at the barge office. Olefson said he had not, whereupon the stranger offered to do it for him. Olefson gave up $80 in Swedish money, receiving in exchange a $50 bill and three $10 bills in Confederate money. Olefson did not discover the swindle till he reached Geneva, where he tendered one of the bills in payment for a lunch.

American Soldiers Praised.

LONDON, March 16.—During the debate on the army estimates in the house of commons Lieutenant Colonel Arthur Hamilton Lee, Conservative, who was British military attache with the United States army during the Spanish-American war and subsequently was military attache with the British embassy in Washington, said the American recruits in physique and intelligence were superior to any other troops in the world.

Congressman Brosius Stricken.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 16.—Congressman Marriott Brosius last evening had a stroke of apoplexy which it is feared may result in his death. Thursday while assisting to move a heavy article of furniture in the garret of his home in this city Mr. Brosius severely bumped his head against a rafter. He suffered great discomfort from the accident, which, however, was not regarded as serious until the attack of apoplexy.

Italian Statesman's Sudden Illness.

ROME, March 16.—Signor Francesco Crispi, the celebrated Italian statesman and former premier, during an audience of Dowager Queen Margherita was attacked by a sudden illness and fell to the floor, slightly injuring his head. He received immediate medical attention and was able to return to his hotel. Late last evening it was reported that he was feeling better.

British Soldiers Desert.

LONDON, March 16.—The Daily Mail reports an enormous increase in the number of desertions at Aldershot, especially from the cavalry. It attributes this condition of things to the inadequate pay and to resentment in view of the fact that the yeomanry gets 5 shillings per day and the cavalry only 1 shilling.

Mail Bag Stolen.

CLEVELAND, March 16.—A mail bag filled with registered and unregistered letters was stolen from a postoffice wagon while en route from station C to the government building. The police are working on the case, and William Dichter, the driver of the wagon, is under arrest pending an investigation.

FATAL BOSTON FIRE.

Advertiser Newspaper Plant Badly Damaged.

THREE KILLED AND MANY INJURED.

Flames Started In the Basement and Reached the Upper Floors of the Building Through the Elevator Shaft.

BOSTON, March 16.—Three lives were sacrificed, nearly a dozen men were more or less injured and many thousands of dollars damage was the result of a fierce fire that started in the pressroom of The Daily Advertiser and Record in the seven story granite front building in Newspaper row, Washington street, last night. The dead are: James Richardson, Sr., of Boston, proofreader; Judson Craft of Cambridge, proofreader; Walter Luscomb of Salem, proofreader.

How the fire started is not known, but it was first seen in the pressroom, and like a flash it spread up the elevator well and darted to the top so rapidly that before the occupants of the two upper floors were aware that the building was on fire their rooms were filled with flames and smoke so stifling that it was with difficulty any one of them escaped. In the editorial room on the sixth floor there were but five men. All had to run for their lives.

One of the men in the editorial room managed to feel his way down the stairway to the street, which he reached in an exhausted state. The others ran to the fire escape on the southerly side of the building, from which they jumped to the roof of the building adjoining, occupied by Woodbury's cafe and billiard hall, through which they descended to the street. On the upper floor, occupied by the composing room, were some 18 compositors and proofreaders, whose situation was most critical. Panic stricken, they rushed for the windows leading to the fire escapes, and all but three of them succeeded in gaining the roof of the Woodbury building, where they remained for a time shouting to the crowd which had gathered in the street below and by whom they were warned not to jump, as help was at hand.

Long ladders were raised as quickly as the network of electric wires over the street would permit, but even before a ladder could be placed in position to relieve them the men had dropped through a skylight in the Woodbury building roof and reached places of safety. Except in the pressroom in the basement there was practically no fire in the building below the fifth story.

McKinley at Home.

CANTON, O., March 16.—Soon after lunch the president, who is stopping at the Barber home, drove up to the North Market street home, now closed, to look over the premises that he might be able to better give instructions about some changes that are to be made there. These changes are to be hurried as fast as the weather will permit, as the president and Mrs. McKinley hope to occupy the house a good part of the summer, beginning early in June. They will first take the western trip of six weeks and then go to several college commencements in New England, and if the state of public business will permit will come to Canton, the president returning to Washington at intervals.

The Indiana Sails.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The transport Indiana sailed for Manila yesterday. She has on board the Twenty-eighth infantry, Major Richard T. Yeatman, Twenty-second infantry, commanding, and Company D, Tenth infantry, Lieutenant C. N. Jones commanding. A squadron of the Fifth cavalry arrived yesterday from Fort Myer, Va., and will sail for Manila on the transport Meade today. The squadron is made up of Troops J, K, L and M in command of Colonel W. A. Rafferty.

The Bridge Trust Growing.

TOLEDO, March 16.—The Toledo Bridge works has passed into the hands of the American Bridge company, the latter company having purchased the plant on Thursday. The deal was consummated in New York, and the price paid was $750,000. With the acquisition of the local plant the American Bridge company controls 90 per cent of the plants of the country. An official of the Massillon Bridge company states that his company will remain independent.

Salisbury on a Bike.

LONDON, March 16.—Lord Salisbury in order that he may take exercise in London has obtained King Edward's permission to cycle in the grounds of Buckingham palace, which he is doing this week. Every morning he goes along the public thoroughfare from his residence in Arlington street to the palace. The premier is unattended save by his daughter, Lady Gwendoline Cecil, who also rides a wheel.

Germany's Growth.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The census office has received through the state department a consular report on the population of the German empire and its changes during the past century. That population is now about 56,000,000, larger than that of any country in Europe except Russia, which has in Europe alone over 106,000,000 subjects. This is an increase during the century of about 30,000,000.

Five Months In Ice.

JERSEY CITY, March 16.—As a result of the break up of the ice in the Hackensack river, which drains northern New Jersey, the body of a man was found firmly imbedded in a big cake of ice that was floating in the water close to the penitentiary docks in Hackensack. The body was promptly taken out of its frigid prison and now rests in Speer's morgue, this city.

Faith Did Not Save Him.

NEW HAVEN, March 16. Andrew C. Whitney, a preacher of a sect known as the "Household of Faith," is dead of consumption after a four years' illness, during which on account of his religious beliefs he has refused all medical attendance. Whitney was treated by laying on of hands, anointing with old and with prayer.

Cold Storage Plant In Operation.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 16.—The mammoth cold storage plant of the Ontario and Western railroad has been placed in operation here. The plant has a capacity of 128,000 tons.

SIXTY MEN BURNED.

Lone Survivor of Turpentine Camp Tells the Tale.

BELIEVES FIRE SET FOR REVENGE.

Near the Shanty Where the Workmen Slept Were Stored Six Hundred Barrels of Turpentine Which Fed the Flames.

MOBILE, March 16.—News has reached here that a turpentine camp across the bay in Baldwin county has just burned, and 60 persons, mostly colored, are supposed to have perished in the fire. So far as is known only one man survived, and he is so burned that it is only with great difficulty that he can tell of his experience.

The survivor is Frank C. Pressler, a white cutter, who was employed in the camp. After lying nearly all day in the swamp near the site of the camp he aroused himself sufficiently to row, naked, across the Mobile and tell his story. The exertion of pulling the boat and the pain caused to his burned hands were so great that he had to be attended by a physician before he could talk. After being revived by stimulants Pressler told of his experience. He said:

"Our camp was miles from any settlement and bounded on one side by a swamp and on the other by a forest. Our shack, or quarters, was one long frame building, and in it slept the whole force, 61 men, if I remember correctly. Partitions divided the colored and white men.

"The house was made of dry pine lumber and burned like tinder when the flames reached it. In a shed near us were 600 barrels of raw turpentine. The first I knew of the fire I was awakened by the intense heat and the crackling of the timbers around me. At first I thought the judgment day had come and the whole world was being destroyed by fire. The whole earth seemed ablaze. Fortunately I was sleeping near the door and instinctively rushed out. I didn't take time to make a close inspection of the room. It was full of a dense, thick smoke, such as pine timber gives out, but I believe none of my companions escaped. I am sure if I had not been right at the open door the smoke would have stifled me to death. I screamed with all my might as I ran from the burning house, but if any replies came I never heard them.

"The crackling of the burning houses and trees, though, could have drowned the strongest voice. I made a desperate dash through the flood of fire. I was undressed, and the charred timbers on the ground burned my feet terribly, and the smoke almost choked me, but I kept running toward the swamp, knowing I could escape if I reached it. More than once I fell, but managed finally to reach the swamp, where I lay down in a pool of water. Then I fainted.

"I don't know how long I lay there, but when I woke up I knew I must reach Mobile or die from my injuries. I made my way to a little landing where the camp had several canoes and rowed over here. I am sure our men must have been burned. Unless they escaped before I did they could not possibly have lived."

Pressler thinks that the fire was started by three negroes who were put out of the camp Thursday morning. The owner of the camp is James Holloway of Wisconsin.

The Castellane Duel.

PARIS, March 16.—The duel between Count Boni de Castellane and M. de Rodays, editor of the Figaro, as a result of Thursday's encounter between the two men will probably take place today. The count's seconds will be the Count de Dion and M. Gaston Ollivet. The conditions of the duel are that two shots from pistols shall be exchanged at 25 paces. Count de Castellane regrets that swords were not the weapons selected, as he is a first rate swordsman, but a wretched shot. The time and place of the duel have been kept secret. Even Count de Castellane himself does not know where or when the duel will take place and will only be informed at the last moment.

Dogs Watched Dead Woman.

ROCHESTER, March 16.—Neighbors found Mary Stranahan dead in the squalid room she called her home on Hill street. Some 20 dogs, whose care had seemed her sole comfort since the death of her husband two years ago, howled around the dead body when friends tried to approach. The woman is known to have had several thousand dollars in the savings banks here, but she lived in the most beggarly fashion, gathering refuse wherever she could to feed her pets, whose beds were shelves ranged round her humble quarters. She was shabbily clad always.

A Great Gould Railway System.

CHICAGO, March 16.—The Times-Herald today says: "Events of the past few weeks have made it certain that the Missouri Pacific is shortly to be made the greatest system in the southwest. With the Missouri Pacific as the nucleus, a system will be built up and placed under one management extending from Buffalo to New Orleans, El Paso and Salt Lake City. Such is the plan which is being worked out by the Gould family, and it is equal to the boldest scheme projected by the late Jay Gould."

Fighting In Algiers.

LONDON, March 16.—The Tangier correspondent of The Daily Chronicle, dealing with the reported French encroachments upon Moorish territory, says: "There has been severe fighting, although but few details are allowed to pass the censor. It is clear, however, that General Risbourg's column has established a French authority south of Figuig, although the rumor that Figuig had been occupied by the French is not confirmed."

Governor's Veto Stands.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 16.—In the state senate the governor's veto of the Evans bill was called up, and on motion as to whether the bill should pass, notwithstanding the veto, the vote was 9 to 9. The bill originally passed by a vote of 11 to 5, and 12 votes were required to pass the bill over the governor's veto.

Boer Leaders to Meet.

LONDON, March 16.—According to a dispatch to The Times, dated March 15 from Kaalspruit, it is reported there that Generals Botha, Delarey and De Wet will meet March 18 to discuss the situation.

A SMALL WAR CLOUD.

Russian and British Troops Face to Face.

LONDON, March 16.—A dispatch received here from Tien-tsin by Reuter's Telegram company, dated from that city yesterday at 3:20 p. m., says:

"The Russians are now intrenching in the disputed territory. A company of the Hongkong regiment, with fixed bayonets, is in front, while two companies of the Madras pioneers, under the command of Major Johnson, are held in reserve.

"Both the Russians and the British are awaiting instructions from their governments."

An earlier dispatch says: "The British and Russians are disputing over the limits of railway property in the Russian concession, and the guards of the two nations are in close proximity to each other.

"The British have been strongly reenforced, and trouble is imminent unless the Russians retire."

EVACUATION ORDERED.

Only 150 Americans to Remain on Guard In Peking.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—An order has been sent to General Chaffee for the evacuation of China by American troops, leaving only a legation guard of 150 men. The troops will be removed from China the last of April.

It was said at the war department that this clears up the Chinese situation so far as the war department is concerned, as the protection of the legation can in no sense be taken as occupation of Chinese territory, and the guard cannot be used for any other purpose.

THE HARRISON FUNERAL.

Arrangements Completed—A List of the Pallbearers.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 16.—The arrangements at the Harrison home for the funeral services Sunday are practically completed, and little remains to be done. The body was dressed and removed to the front parlor yesterday, where it lay until taken to the statehouse. The body was dressed in the customary black suit of Prince Albert cut which General Harrison always wore. The face of General Harrison is composed and restful, although very white, his illness having made no perceptible change in his appearance.

The body was viewed by the friends and family after it had been placed in the position selected. Mrs. Harrison went into the room alone and remained some time there.

The list of active and honorary pallbearers who will officiate at the funeral ceremonies of General Harrison was announced last night. Among the honorary pallbearers will be the members of General Harrison's cabinet who will attend. The active pallbearers chosen are A. L. Mason, James Whitcomb Riley, Evans Woollen, Harry J. Milligan, Clifford Arrick, William C. Bobbs, Harry S. Newhard Cale, John L. Griffiths, Newton Booth Tarkington, Hilton U. Brown and Samuel Reid.

MINERS IGNORED.

Anthracite Operators Again Invited to a Conference.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 16.—The convention went into executive session again yesterday afternoon; but, contrary to general expectation, the report of the scale committee was not presented.

The afternoon session was devoted entirely to a discussion of the failure of the operators to meet the miners in joint conference. The delegates were unanimous in expressing their disappointmnt and regret that all their friendly overtures had been ignored.

After a discussion of several hours a resolution was adopted instructing the officers of the convention to send the following telegram to the presidents of the nine coal carrying railroads:

"Six hundred delegates in convention assembled representing all anthracite mine workers instruct us to notify your company that a resolution was unanimously adopted demanding that the anthracite operators meet the delegates in joint conference tomorrow morning for the purpose of discussing the wage scale for the year ending April 1, 1902."

The telegram was sent as directed. It bore the signature of John Mitchell, chairman, and John P. Gallagher, secretary.

Applegate Was Murdered.

TRENTON, March 16.—Prosecutor Crossley has reached the conclusion that Thomas Applegate, whose body was found in his barn at Extonville Sunday morning, was murdered and has caused the arrest of Samuel Shinn on a charge of complicity in the crime. The prosecutor was not disposed to give any information as to the clews he had pointing to Shinn's guilt. Shinn is a young man about 25 whose father worked the Applegate farm on shares. The younger Shinn was said by Applegate some months ago to have threatened his life. Young Shinn does not live with his wife, and Applegate had always entertained the opinion that the young man was unduly intimate with his (Applegate's) wife.

An Editorial Excursion.

BUFFALO, March 16.—The editorial excursion to the Pan-American exposition, composed of about 175 editors and newspaper men from New York city, New York state, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, arrived here last evening at 7 o'clock. The excursion is tendered by the Lackawanna railroad. The visiting editors were welcomed here by Mayor Diehl of Buffalo and entertained at a banquet and later by a special theatrical entertainment, both given by the Buffalo Press club and the Pan-American concessionnaires. Today the editors visited the fair grounds, and the start home will be made this evening.

The Duke of Cornwall's Trip.

LONDON, March 16.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York left Victoria station at 3:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the first stage of their journey to Australia. The king and queen accompanied them to Portsmouth, where the duke and duchess boarded the steamship Ophir, which has been converted into a royal yacht. The ship will sail late this afternoon.

A Mirage In Ohio.

TOLEDO, March 16.—Montpelier (O.) citizens yesterday morning saw a mirage of a cluster of buildings, trees, streets, etc., which was easily recognized as the village of Edon, eight miles distant, on the line of the Wabash railroad, perfectly pictured out. Never before has such a sight been beheld in this vicinity.

TROOPS FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Transportation to and From the Islands Going Forward Promptly.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The officers of the adjutant general's and quartermaster's departments are devoting their attention to the sending of regular troops to the Philippines to replace the volunteers brought home. The main object of the officials is to prevent any material decrease in General MacArthur's army of 60,000 men. There are about 40,000 regular troops in the orient, including those now in China. In order to keep the strength up to 60,000 it will be necessary to provide about 20,000 fresh troops from the United States before July 1.

The transports Indiana, Meade and Pennsylvania will leave San Francisco in a day or two with battalions of the Tenth infantry, Fifth cavalry and battalions of five new regiments. Arrangements also have been made for the departure of other vessels as follows:

The Buford, with a capacity of 61 officers and 1,000 men, on the 25th inst.; the Hancock, 54 officers and 1,060 men, on the 1st of April; the Kilpatrick, capacity 61 officers and 1,000 men, on the 5th of April; the Warren, capacity 42 officers and 1,242 men, on the 12th of April, and the Logan, capacity 86 officers and 1,648 men, on the 15th of April. These vessels will be laden with regular troops, consisting of newly organized regiments or of home battalions of regiments serving in the West Indies or the Philippines.

RUN ON A BANK.

Caused by an Old Lady's Misunderstanding.

NATICK, Mass., March 16.—An old lady's misunderstanding of the words "closed for business" caused a run on the Natick Five Cents Saving bank. As the result of the rumor that the bank had failed the doors of the institution were blockaded yesterday morning with anxious out of town depositors, and on the run which followed $32,000 was drawn out. The rumor started from the visit of an old lady from Exonville to the bank Thursday, when she found the bank closed. She was told the bank had closed its doors for business and jumped at the conclusion it had failed, not taking into consideration that it was then 3:30 o'clock. The report rapidly spread to surrounding towns, and the inward bound electric cars were filled with depositors to draw out their deposits.

Fortunately the bank, which is considered one of the strongest in New England, had on hand $50,000 in cash and in addition was easily able to borrow $85,000 more from a national bank, so that there was much more than enough to pay the demands of all depositors who wished to withdraw.

Cashier Ryan's Murderers.

HARRISBURG, March 16.—Watson Keiper and Henry Rowe, alias James Leonard, of Lykens, the alleged murderers of Cashier Charles W. Ryan of the Halifax National bank of Halifax, Dauphin county, were given a hearing in the Harrisburg prison yesterday and held for court. F. B. Stoley of Lykens, who has confessed that he knew of the plans of Rowe and Keiper to rob the bank, waived a hearing, and it is probable that he will turn state's evidence. Keiper and Rowe will be indicted next Thursday for murder, and it is probable that they will be arraigned and tried the same day. They admit that they attempted to rob the bank and fired several shots at the cashier and other attaches in their efforts to escape after they secured the money in the vault.

Minister Wu's Trip.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The Chinese minister, Mr. Wu Ting Fang, left last evening for Buffalo, where he will address the ladies of the Twentieth Century club and later the Liberal club of that city. Mr. Wu goes thence to Chicago, where he will be the guest of President Harper of the Chicago university and will deliver an address on Chinese civilization. It is understood that elaborate preparations are making for Mr. Wu's entertainment in Chicago. Chinese cooks will prepare dishes likely to suit his taste, and a band will play Chinese airs.

Children Cremated.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Locked in a room scarcely larger than a box in a dingy little rear tenement set in an air well back of a Chrystie street tenement, two children were burned to death yesterday afternoon. Their mother had left them, as Yiddish and Italian mothers are wont to do, behind a bolted door, as she thought, for safety. While she was gone the stove set the place afire, or else the children got to playing with matches, and when the door was broken in after the house took up the alarm the inside was a mass of flame.

Smasher Fined.

KANSAS CITY, March 16.—Mrs. Prudence Smith and Mrs. Jane McNutt, who on Monday night last raided Eaton's "joint" in Armourdale, Kan., were fined by Police Judge McCamish $25 each. The judge offered to grant a stay of execution if the women would promise to desist from "joint" smashing, but their answers did not suit him, and he let the fine stand.

Mrs. Nation Arrested In Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, March 16.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who has been visiting here for two days, was arrested in Union avenue, near the Union depot, for obstructing the sidewalk, where she had stopped to harangue a crowd. She was released on her promise to depart on the next train for Topeka.

LARGEST OFFER YET

Carnegie Pledges $5,200,000 to New York City.

SIXTY-FIVE LIBRARIES PLANNED.

Munificent Gift Just Announced Was Made Before Sailing For Europe—City Officials Discuss the Great Work.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Andrew Carnegie, who since retiring as an active figure from the steel world has been able to devote his time exclusively to his other passion, the founding of libraries, has made his departure for Europe this spring memorable by the largest offer of that kind ever advanced. If New York will provide the sites and the maintenance, he has promised to give $5,200,000 to establish 65 branch libraries in this city.

The offer, made in a letter to Dr. John S. Billings, director of the New York Public library, last Tuesday, was made public last night as follows:

"Our conference upon the needs of Greater New York for branch libraries to reach the masses of the people in every district have convinced me of the wisdom of your plans.

"Sixty-five branches strike one at first as a very large number, but as other cities have found one necessary for every 60,000 or 70,000 of population the number is not excessive.

"You estimate the average cost of these libraries at, say, $80,000 each, being $5,200,000 for all. If New York will furnish sites for these branches for the special benefit of the masses of the people, as it has done for the Central library, and also agree in satisfactory form to provide for their maintenance as built, I should esteem it a rare privilege to be permitted to furnish the money as needed for the buildings, say $5,200,000. Sixty-five libraries at one stroke probably breaks the record, but this is the day of big operations, and New York is soon to be the biggest of cities."

Dr. John S. Billings said yesterday:

"Mr. Carnegie's offer to provide library buildings for Greater New York at a cost of over $5,000,000 is made with his usual conditions, that the city shall furnish the sites and make a satisfactory agreement as to their maintenance.

"If accepted, it will result in the greatest free public library system in the world. We may fairly infer that Mr. Carnegie's idea is that the whole system should be under one management, that of the trustees of the New York Public library, but this is not made one of his conditions.

"As to the question of sites, it is not improbable that a considerable number could be obtained without cost to the municipality through gifts by public spirited citizens.

"It is of the greatest importance that the system of public schools in the city should be supplemented by such a system of free public libraries as is proposed, and the sooner that work can be commenced upon the better it will be for the people and for the municipality as a whole."

Mr. George L. Rives said:

"Mr. Carnegie's proposal, I take it, looks to an agreement between three parties—namely, Mr. Carnegie himself, the New York Public library and the government of the city of New York. Mr. Carnegie has said in his letter what he would do. The trustees of the New York Public library will give their aid to the plan so far as they can, although if it is carried out through their agency it will involve very great additional labor and responsibility on their part.

"As to the city, we have seen the mayor, and he authorizes us to say that he is most heartily in favor of the plan and will do all in his power to carry out Mr. Carnegie's views."

A Million to St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, March 16.—While Andrew Carnegie is giving away a part of his great fortune in $5,000,000 sums, he is not confining himself to that figure, for he has just offered to build a public library for this city at a cost of $1,000,000. The conditions are that the city shall present a site and provide $150,000 a year to maintain the institution. The site already has been selected, and the other details are sure to be arranged.

Attorney General Harlan at Work.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 16.—The executive council has called upon the various emigration companies to file information showing the number and nationalities of immigrants. Mr. James S. Harlan, the newly appointed attorney general of Porto Rico, yesterday attended the session of the council, occupying his seat for the first time. Nine houses were destroyed by fire yesterday morning at Maloris.

The Governor's Canal Plans.

ALBANY, March 16.—As was anticipated, Governor Odell in the message which he submitted to the legislature yesterday regarding the various plans for improving the canals of the state favors the completion of the Seymour plan, sometimes known as "the $9,000,000 plan," and opposes the adoption of the plan for a barge canal. A canal for canalboats is thus favored, and not one for big barges.

President Remembers His Friend.

CANTON, O., March 16.—Judge George E. Baldwin of Canton, a lifelong friend of the president and his supporter and advocate in all of his campaigns, has received word from Washington that the president intends to appoint him consul at Nuremberg, Bavaria, to succeed Dr. Webber of Cleveland, the appointment to take effect June 1. The salary of the consul is $3,500 a year and fees.

Y. M. C. A. Debt Wiped Out.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The mortgage debt of $300,000 on the branches of the Young Men's Christian association in this city has been paid, it is understood, by gifts from J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller and William E. Dodge. Mr. Morgan subscribed $100,000 of this amount, and it is said that Mr. Dodge and Mr. Rockefeller gave similar amounts.

Russian Minister Dead.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 16.—M. Bogoliepoff, minister of public instruction, who, while holding a reception Jan. 27, was shot by Peter Karpovich, formerly a student at the University of Moscow, is dead of his wound.

Fanwood's Predicament.

County Attorney W. B. Codington, of this city, has referred the Fanwood authorities to Chapter 161, sections 24 and 25, of the New Jersey laws of 1897, as a possible solution of the troubles of that municipality over the mayoralty. While these sections have nothing to say about a tie, they refer to who shall fill the duties of chief executive of a borough when the mayor cannot officiate.

These two sections read as follows:

"The Council, at the annual Council meeting, shall, by the vote of a majority of said Council, elect from their number a president of the Council, who shall preside at all their meetings when the Mayor does not preside; he shall hold his office for the term of one year and until the next annual Council meeting; he shall have the right of debate and a vote on all questions before the Council; in case at said annual meeting shall fail to elect a president, the Mayor shall appoint the president from the Council, and in that case no confirmation by the Council shall be necessary.

"In case of the Mayor's absence from the borough for a period of three days, or in case of his inability to act by reason of sickness or other cause, the president of the Council shall perform all the duties of the Mayor during such absence or inability; provided, however, that it shall be the duty of the Mayor, in case of his intended continued absence from the borough for more than three days at any one time, to notify the said president in writing of such intended absence, whereupon the said president shall be and become acting mayor from the receipt of such notice and shall continue to act until the mayor's return."

From the text of these sections it will be seen that there is no direct reference to a situation analogous to to the present one. County Attorney Codington believes, however, that it can be interpreted to cover the present troubles. Other lawyers take a different view.

There is still one change that the problem may be solved without any question and without assistance from the Legislature. It will be comparatively easy to bring the case into the courts and ask for a recount. In that case the courts would probably appoint the county board of canvassers to make the recount. It would then be quite possible that some vote might be counted or thrown out, which would change the result and so do away with the tie which has been the cause of all the trouble.

No matter what business a man may engage in, his first object must be to let people know that he is prepared to deal with them, said the Philadelphia Record. That the best way to do this is through newspapering advertising is the opinion of the men who have had the most extended experience. It is estimated that the Centaur and the Hood companies expend half a million each every year for newspaper space; the Pinkham, the Ayer and another company a quarter of a million each, and a long list of other advertisers from $150 000 to $100 000 each. It is obvious that these concerns would not pay large sums without positive assurance of satisfactory returns, and it is equally obvious that the medium which serves them best will serve others best.

It is greatly to be regretted that the contest for office in Plainfield's new militia company has taken such a violent form. In such an affair as that the members should rise above personal feelings and choose for their commanding officers the men who are best qualified for the places. When the final election takes place this evening, it is to be hoped that the members will look to the interests of the organization rather than follow the request of some personal friend. When the officers are once selected, it will be very difficult to change them and it is better to take care at first and get the right men then.

This question of the changes at the city sewage disposal beds will undoubtedly come up for a decisive vote at the meeting of the Common Council Monday evening. While the ordinance providing for the changes recommended by Engineer J. O. Osgood will only come up for first reading and will not be finally voted on, the members of the Council will then have to take a stand one way or the other. It is therefore particularly important that all members of the Council should be present so that the people of Plainfield may know definitely just where they stand.

It is to be hoped that the necessary support of the public for the proposed open-air band concerts this summer will be forthcoming. The concerts held last summer were wonderfully popular and greatly assisted in entertaining many of the Plainfielders whose affairs would not allow them to seek relief from the summer heat by going to the mountains and seashore.

It will not be long before the annual summer invasion of tramps will spread over the suburban and rural districts of New Jersey, and then the various counties will have to struggle with that still unsolved problem of what to do with the tramps.

Twenty five years have brought many things to pass and the career of the Park Avenue Baptist church during that quarter of a century has not been without its important happenings.

The political inclined boroughites have not yet completed their discussion over the election of last Tuesday.

Already the golfers are beginning to think about their favorite sport.

Plainfield is considering a proposition for putting out the street sprinkling by contract. It is time that Somerville began to think of collecting the garbage and ashes as well as sprinkling the streets at the public expense. It would be much more convenient and much less expensive for citizens. — Somerville Unionist-Gazette.

The Republicans have at last reached a conclusion in the matter of the readjustment of the boundaries of the Congressional districts of the State. The problem of how the old Fourth district could be disintegrated without giving the Democrats a Congressman has been solved. Hunterdon and Somerset have been embraced in the "sphere of influence" of Mercer; Warren helps Morris and Union form a shoestring district extending from near Port Jarvis to the Amboys, while Sussex is the tail to Passaic's and Bergen's kite. The redistricting scheme looks all right for the Republicans on paper, but it would not surprise everybody if they miscued in some of their calculations.—Somerville Messenger.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Manager Maze Edwards has arranged for a big "White Rat Carnival," headed by George Thatcher and an all star support, to take place at Music Hall Tuesday night, 26th inst. This will be given instead of the vaudeville performances announced for Saturday, 23d inst., by the Frank Cushman organization, the "make up" of which was doubtful, and upon investigation was found to be premature, not having the sanction of the association Full particulars will be given in future issues, but a great bill is assured, and the many friends of George Thatcher will hail his appearance with great delight. Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at box office Monday.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. A QUARTER CENTURY OF CHURCH HISTORY took place in December, 1880 During the able pastorate of Rev. Dr. Lowry which ended in February, 1885, 179 new members were added to the congregation and two young men of the church were licensed to preach, one being H. M. Lowry, the pastor's son, and the other, Warren G. Partridge. Dr. Lowry died Nov 25, 1899.

Rev. Asa Reed Dilts took charge as pastor in October, 1885, and the recognition services were conducted by Rev. D. J Yerkes as moderator, Rev Dr. Lowry extending the hand of fellowship to the new pastor. With the assistance of Edward Kimball, the church mortgage was reduced during Rev. Mr. Dilts' pastorate from $15,000 to $3,000. In April, 1893, the pastor resigned. One hundred and nine new members was the work accomplished by Mr. Dilts in this field

The present pastor, Rev. John Wilbur Richardson, entered upon his duties in November, 1892. Rev. Mr Richardson has added 184 members to the congregation to date.

One member, George Poole, was licensed to preach 1898. On March 3, 1901, the individual communion cups replaced the ancient method of service. The present membership numbers 385, of whom 35 are original charter members. $18,908 has been raised and expended for benevolence in the past twenty-five years and the amount raised for other purposes has been $93.525. The amount paid in on church property has been $34 450, and the grand total for all purposes to date is $146 983.

A hymn composed by Rev. Dr. Lowry, "Shall We Gather At the River?" was sung by the congregation and the exercises closed with a postlude on the organ by Mrs. A. C. Johnson and benediction.

SUPPER WAS SERVED.

Following the exercises of the afternoon a delightful supper was served in the parlors of the church, where two hundred members and invited guests were seated at long tables. These tables were attractively decorated with flowers and plants, and the good things provided were very tempting.

Mrs. Theodore I. Runyon was in charge of the supper arrangements and those assisting her were Mrs. Nelson Runyon, Mrs. Walter Freeman, Mrs. F. T. Ostrom, Mrs. Americus Hellyer, Mrs. Tennent, Mrs A. D Phillips, Mrs. David C Smalley. Mrs. W. S. Lowry was in charge of the waitresses who were as follows: The Misses Adelia Runyon, Laura Runyon, Emily Runyon, Adelaide Runyon, Eleanor Runyon, Elizabeth Runyon, Ada Runyon, Nellie Giles, Mary Giles, Bessie Giles, Elsie Giles, Lillian Richardson, Ida Peterson, Lizzie VanWinkle, Violet VanWinkle, Henrietta Cuming, Florence Cuming, Cora Brokaw, Louise Whitney, Florence Hawkins, Charlotte Cushman, Hazel DeLaney, Lulu Stryker and Essie Thompson, Mrs. Frank Vail, Mrs. H. C. Runyon.

THE EVENING SERVICE.

The evening service opened with a praise service under the direction of D. E. Davis, organist, after which the organ prelude "March Upon Theme of Handel" was rendered by Mrs. Alice Coard Johnson. Owing to the inability of Rev. Dr. J. C. Buchanan to be present, the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Stiffler, pastor of the Roselle Baptist church. Then followed a pleasing solo by Miss Luella T. Harris, soloist at the First Baptist church.

Pastor Richardson, who presided, then introduced Rev. Dr. Yerkes, of the First Baptist church, who brought greeting from his church, and spoke in a reminescent mood, concerning the history of the Park Avenue Baptist church. He paid deserving tribute to Rev. Asa R Dilts, a former pastor, and Rev. J. W. Richardson, the present pastor.

Following Dr. Yerkes, the Plainfield Orchestral Society's string quartette, composed of M. A. Korff, A.S. Mosher, Dr. J. F. Berg and G. W. V. Moy, rendered a pleasing selection. Rev. Harry M. Lowry, pastor of the Rahway Baptist church, was then introduced, and while Dr Yerkes encroached somewhat on his subject "Reminescences," Mr. Lowry was not lost for material in looking backward. He infused not a little humor into his remarks and recalled many things that caused a number of those present to smile.

After another selection by the string orchestra, Rev. Asa R. Dilts, a former pastor, was introduced and engaged the close attention of all for a short time. His remarks were chiefly along the line of character building and the developing of that which is best in man and woman. He quoted many men prominent in the world's history to substantiate his thoughts and urged all to give their best efforts and time to serious consideration and acts in being that which is best the highest type of Christian manhood and womanhood.

After the singing of a hymn, the benediction was pronounced by Dr Yerkes and the postlude, "Triumphal March," by Buck, was rendered on the organ by Mrs Johnson.

WASHINGTON.

Three-day Personally-Conducted Tour via Pennsylvania Railroad.

Few short journeys are as interesting as a trip to Washington, the Nation's Capital; and such a trip can be made most satisfactorily by participating in the three-day personally-conducted tours of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The next tour of the season leaves Thursday, March 21. Round-trip rate, covering railroad transportation for the round-trip, meals en route, transfer of passenger and ordinary baggage to hotel, hotel accommodations, and guides, services of experienced tourist agent and chaperon, in short, every item of necessary expense, $14 50 from New York, $13 00 from Trenton, and $11.50 from Philadelphia, with proportionate rates from other points. These rates cover accommodations for two days at the Arlington, Normandie, Riggs, or Ebbitt House. For accommodations at Willard's, Regent, Metropolitan, or National Hotel, $2.50 less. Side trips to Mount Vernon, Richmond, Old Point Comfort, and Norfolk at greatly reduced rates.

All tickets good for ten days, with special hotel rates after expiration of hotel coupons.

SMASHED THE MASHER.

Husband Strikes a Well-Aimed Blow in a Street Car in Defense of His Blushing Wife.

The only woman in the Wentworth street car, says the Chicago Chronicle, fell under the eyes of the "masher" as he entered, and he promptly decided that she was fair prey. She was evidently alone, for the only man near her was reading a paper with his back half turned toward her.

The "masher" first sat down beside the woman, then began to ply his arts to attract her attention. She did not notice him for some time, but when he gently pressed her foot she edged away from him. This did not flustrate him, however, and in a moment he leaned toward her and made a remark intended to open a conversation. She turned from him with a vehemence that caused the man with the paper to look up. Inquiringly he looked at her, then at the man who had annoyed her. Her blushes told him the tale of his wife's irritation.

Slowly he folded up his paper, placed it on the seat beside him, arose with dignity and calmly walked over to the "masher." Grasping the fellow by the throat, with his right hand he planted a single stinging blow on his nose. With unruffled demeanor he then walked back to his seat, deliberately sat down, unfolded his paper and resumed reading. The incident seemed to have passed from his mind. At the first crossing the would-be "ladies' man" fled amid the taunts of his fellow passengers, but the husband paid not the slightest attention.

And the Knot Was Tied.

They sat on the old meadow bars.

"Shall we get married?" he asked, breaking off a twig of sassafras.

"I think we had better not," she whispered, blushing as red as a sumac.

He reached over and kissed her. Then he said:

"I think we had better knot."—Chicago Daily News.

"Horse and Horse."

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Der Weinertrag des letzten Herbstes war für die württembergischen Weingärtner der beste seit langen Jahren. Der Gesammtwerth betrug 18,876,906 Mark, gegen 7,670,692 Mark im Vorjahre. Die württembergische Weinbaufläche beträgt 21,599 Hektar, wovon im verflossenen Jahre 16,830 im Ertrag standen.—Die weitbekannte Firma Foehr, Hoflieferant dahier, beging vor Kurzem die Feier ihres 100jährigen Bestehens.

Eßlingen. Dahier erdrosselte der Fabrikarbeiter G. Maag Nachts das dreijährige, in die Ehe mitgebrachte Töchterchen seiner Frau. Maag hatte sich der Verhaftung durch die Flucht entzogen und wurde später in der Nähe der Stadt erhängt gefunden.

Heilbronn. Nach einem Berichte des städtischen Untersuchungsamtes erwiesen sich im vergangenen Jahre hierorts von 122 Milchproben 67 als gefälscht, und zwar durch Wasserzusatz in 20 bis 120 Prozent.

Schwenningen. Auf einem Acker des Bäckermeisters Jauch war ohne sein Wissen eine Telephonstange gesetzt worden, und Jauch hatte diese entfernen für gut befunden, weil er mit der Anlage nicht einverstanden war. Das Gericht erkannte auf fünf Wochen Gefängniß.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Zum Oberbürgermeister von Karlsruhe wurde der seitherige Oberbürgermeister Dr. Schnetzler wiedergewählt.—Anhier starb der frühere badische Minister Stoeßer.

Bühl. Der Schaffner Zehner aus Freiburg fiel hier im Bahnhof von dem Trittbrett eines Wagens, gerieth unter die Räder und fand den Tod.

Heidelberg. Der 1821 zu Neustadt, Hannover, geborene Marschendichter Hermann Allmers wurde zu seinem 80. Geburtstage von der philosophischen Fakultät der Universität Heidelberg zum Ehrendoktor ernannt.

Kehl. Bei dem amerikanischen Konsul Wood in Kehl kam plötzlich aus unbekannter Ursache Wahnsinn zum Ausbruch; der Vize-Konsul Adler nimmt einstweilen die Konsulatsgeschäfte wahr.

Mannheim. Das Ministerium des Inneren übernahm die Kosten der Errichtung der hiesigen Handwerkerkammer auf die Staatskasse und stellte für das Jahr 1901 der Kammer 5000 Mark zur Verfügung.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Straßburg. In Elsaß-Lothringen wurde jüngsthin durch Verfügung des Oberschulraths die Einjährig-Freiwilligen-Prüfung an den Gymnasien und Oberrealschulen aufgehoben. Die Versetzung in die Obersekunda erfolgt künftighin lediglich auf Grund eines Beschlusses der Lehrerkonferenz darüber, ob ein Schüler hinlänglich vorbereitet ist, um den Anforderungen der höheren Klasse zu genügen.

Mülhausen. Der frühere sozialdemokratische Reichstagsabgeordnete, Redakteur Fernand Bueb, wurde wegen einer in seinem Blatte begangenen Majestätsbeleidigung zu einem Vierteljahr Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Letzthin wurde der Herausgeber der „Fackel," Kraus, zu 1800 Kronen Geldbuße verurtheilt, weil er den Theaterdirektor Bukovics des Bruches des Ehrenwortes und den Schriftsteller Hermann Bahr der Bestechlichkeit beschuldigt hatte.—Der sechsjährige Sohn des Nachtwächters Fabian hantirte mit einem geladenen Revolver. Plötzlich ging ein Schuß los, und die Kugel drang der achtjährigen Schwester des Knaben in den Leib. Das Mädchen war bald darauf eine Leiche.—Gestorben ist, im Alter von 48 Jahren, der auf volkswirthschaftlichem Gebiet thätig gewesene Schriftsteller Otto Wittelshöfer.

Aussig. Unter dem Verdacht der Fälschung von Kreditpapieren wurden der Kaufmann Ambros Adler in Aussig, ein Komplize desselben in Leipzig und ein zweiter Komplize Namens Lederer in Karlsbad verhaftet.

Eger. Ingenieur P. Schleich in Brambach hat in der Nähe unserer Stadt ein großes Kohlenlager aufgeschlossen. Die Kohlen sind von bester Qualität.

The proprietor of a hotel in Pennsylvania says: "I have suffered for ten years from what physicians called dyspepsia. It made no difference what I ate, it lay heavily on my stomach, kept me belching for hours, and then it became very sour. I spent many dollars with different doctors, getting occasional relief, but the same old thing would come back again. A veterinary surgeon at Hatboro, Montgomery Co., Pa., advised me to take Ripans Tabules. After taking them three or four days I was very much relieved. To-day I can say I am cured, as I can eat anything and feel good. They are the only thing that ever gave me permanent relief."

Picturesqueness of the New Theater Garments

This Season Has Brought Out Many Charming Affairs Both in Gowns and Wraps

Theater Gowns and Wraps That Are Fashionable

DURING the stay of Bernhardt, when the famous French actress and "L'Aiglon" were the fads of the hour, theater parties, and, of course, theater wraps, were the vogue in the world of fashion. Many a charming garment was constructed especially for this event, and the modistes reaped a harvest from the fashionable women who made special preparations for the coming and stay of Bernhardt. It may be too late in the season for other women to copy the fashions of New York in this line, as the days of Lent are drawing near, when such frivolous things as the theater must be forgotten for a time, and our thoughts turned churchward, but it would be a shame to let the opportunity pass without giving a glimpse of the sumptuousness of the costumes which greeted the tragic French actress.

The noticeable feature of these theater garments were the gold and silver trimmings. They were upon everything, and to such an extent that one was inclined to say there was an abundance of it. It was worked into the hats, gowns, new sleeves, opera coats and capes, with charming combinations of colors. All had new ideas in which figured the gold and silver trimmings.

One startling, yet pretty, gown was of golden, yellow silk, with a black point d'esprit overdress. This having an applique of jet with a large scroll design, revealing the golden silk, and outlined with gold threads. A low-pointed decollete, with folds of white chiffon fastened with wee gold buckles. A gold girdle at the waist line. Long sleeves, with deep-pointed cuff of golden silk threaded with black and gold threads.

Another of the striking gowns worn during the Bernhardt season was made of white cloth and with small tucks over the hips, and cut in deep vandykes at the bottom, falling over a circular flounce. The flounce had five rows of black silk braid with gold threads run through it. There was a new arrangement of little stitched tabs of the cloth that fastened the gown down the front, each having a gold button at either end. A tucked yoke and stock of white chiffon, with revers of real guipure. A pointed bolero fastened with the stitched tabs. The sleeves were plain to just below the elbow, with puff of silk, and deep cuff of white and golden panne.

One of the picturesque evening coats was of pale blue cloth as a background for a design of gracefully-curved leaves and drooping berries appliqued in white panne, and all edged with a fine silken cord interwoven with threads of gold. The coat was finished at the extreme end with dark mink-tail fur. The high, rolling collar was lined with shirred and gathered blue chiffon, also the lower part of the sleeves that were turned back in a rolling cuff.

Charming Flower Costumes for Fancy Dress Balls

ONE method of entertaining of which that part of society that regulates our styles never seems to tire is the fancy dress ball. New York has seen several of these affairs this winter, and each of them has produced some charming and novel costumes.

Flower designs have been unusually popular this winter, and some hostesses have sent out invitations to "floral balls," and so in a way regulating the costumes instead of leaving them entirely to the fancy of the wearer. At one of these a success was scored by the costume of a white lily.

There was a skirt of pure white satin cut in lily-leaf shapes falling on a soft tulle foundation skirt; the green "cup" of the flower was in the proper tone, and was arranged partly falling in points over the skirt and partly turned back on the lower portion of the bodice of soft tulle. The headdress is always a very important feature of a flower design; it must reproduce the flower as closely as possible to be becoming to the face—the lily-leaves in soft white silk, the cup in green silk, and a bit of stem, forming a sort of aigrette, made this wearer's cap very effective.

A cornflower design that attracted considerable attention was less ingenious, inasmuch as the actual flowers were worn as a flounce; on a cornflower-blue silk crepe skirt; the bodice was shaped like the flower, with chenille ends set round the berthe to form the shredded tips that distinguish the flower; here again the cap, shaped like a half-opened blossom, was an important feature.

A fuchsia in mauve tulle underskirt with overskirt cut to resemble the petals in fuchsia-red velvet, and the bodice cleverly made in green tulle to represent the cup of the flower, was accompanied by a cap like an inverted fuchsia, with the mauve heart just peeping out. This was very effective; so was the lily of the valley in the proper shade of green chiffon, the bells forming a fringe round the skirt and finishing the berthe.

The Sash as an Adjunct to the Evening Dress

THE sash as a feature of evening dress is assuming considerable importance as the season draws near a close. They are of the most beautifully designed brocades and are worn with tulle and muslin gowns, giving to them both color and importance. Sometimes the ends are worn down the left side of the front, but most often by young women at the back.

A white tulle flecked all over with gold sequins, made very full over white glace silk, with a froth of flouncings round the feet, had a sash of yellow brocade, caught close against the hip at the left side by a pearl ornament; the tulle bodice was covered with a network of pearls, and had a twist for the bertha, and also shoulder straps of brocade.

In some cases the flowers of a brocade are cut away here and there, and the space left filled in with a motif of lace; gold lace was so used in an orchid purple brocade, the ground of which was corded silk and the flowers velvet—the occasional alternation of the gold lace in the orchid-shaped spaces where the velvet had been cut away gave lightness. However, such refinements of finery are useless and wasteful, for the brocades are beautiful enough to be left alone by the couturiere.

LENA WAS GRATEFUL

A True Story That Has Few Equals Even in Fiction.

When She Was a Child Boston Spidson Saved Her Life; Many Years Lafer She Secured His Release from a Vile Prison.

From Texas comes a story of a woman's gratitude and devotion to a man that has few equals even in fiction.

The story has been made public by the granting of a pardon to an American, Boston Spidron, who was sentenced to a long term for being in a fight between some cowboys and Mexicans.

The pardon was granted through the determination and unceasing devotion of a young woman, Miss Lena Trent.

Fifteen years ago, Miss Trent, a four-year-old orphan, was making a trip across the prairies of Texas with an old rancher, who was caring for her.

They were in the regulation prairie schooner and were nearing the end of their journey when Boston Spidron and a man of most evil appearance met them and asked for a ride in the wagon as far as the woodlands.

They had not gone far when the baying of a pack of mad wolves told them that their lives were in danger. The old rancher spurred the horses to their utmost speed, but the wolves were soon upon them and Spidron, with a standard that he had wrenched from the wagon, was engaged in a fierce fight with the bloodthirsty animals.

Spidron shouted to the stranger, telling him to get a standard and help to beat off the wolves. The man muttered some unintelligible words and then threw his cap back into the trail. "Ef ye could kill von de odder eat him," he said, "ve must throw him sometings."

Spidron was preparing to strike at the foremost of the pack when a sudden jolt of the wagon threw him to his knees. He thought the stranger had jostled against him with unnecessary energy, and as he rose to his feet a curious look in the man's eyes caused a hideous suspicion to flash across his mind.

Had the monster attempted to push

HELD HER HIGH IN THE AIR.

him out under the fangs and claws of the furious pack?

He turned upon the stranger and rebuked him for his cowardice.

Though the man's face was white and his knees were trembling with weakness caused by fear, he cast a threatening look at Spidron and said, plainly enough:

"I as so strong as three men like you, but not so strong as a tousend volves. Ef we save de life trow him sometings. Trow de brat, de ole man. Den we go to trees and go up de tree."

Spidron was amazed and so enraged that he was in the act of braining the man with his club when a wolf sprang into the wagon. He had only time to kill it and throw the carcass out before others were leaping against the hind end of the wagon box.

The fight was continued for several agonizing minutes when suddenly Spidron saw the stranger seize the child Lena and throw her out of the wagon for the hungry wolves to devour.

The young man, without a moment's hesitation, leaped after her, and holding her high in the air with one hand, fought off the pack with the standard and succeeded in regaining the wagon, just in time to save the old man's life.

The timely arrival of an armed cowboy saved the trio from a horrible death, and ever since then Lena Trent has been faithful to the gratitude she owes Spidron for saving her from the wolves at the risk of his own life.

When, about six months ago, she heard that Spidron had been sentenced to a long term in a Mexican prison, she determined to secure his pardon.

All alone, and against the advice of her friends, she journeyed to the capital, securing signatures by the hundred to her petition. Then, after overcoming insurmountable obstacles, she secured an audience with President Diaz and told him her story.

The old soldier heard her without comment and when she had finished he said:

"You are a brave little girl. The world would be better if there were more like you. Such courage and devotion shall not go unrewarded. Confident, if this man is not what you think he is, that you will make him a good citizen, if there is a spark of manhood in him, I will make you a present of Boston Spidron."

Legal Bar Put on Kissing.

Two young unmarried St. Petersburg couples appealed against the sentence of imprisonment for kissing each other in a restaurant, which the judge stigmatized as "shameless behavior in a public place." Counsel argued that kissing was a permissible expression of feeling, but the judge upheld the decision of the lower court.

GEORGE EDGAR VINCENT.

University of Chicago Professor to Be Made President of Northwestern University at Evanston.

Prof. George Edgar Vincent, who will probably be chosen president of Northwestern university in January, is an educator of international reputation. His connection with the great Chautauqua system for the past 12 years, first as literary editor of the Chautauqua Press, then as vice principal, and at present as principal of the system, has made his name known wherever English is read. He has traveled throughout this country and in Europe and the far east and has been a close student of the most improved methods in education. As professor of sociology at the University of Chicago he is considered a master of the subject and has collaborated with Prof. Albion W. Small in publishing a work on sociology. He is scholarly, cultured and broad and liberal in his views. His selection will meet with the approval of all Methodists, as his father is Bishop Vincent, of the Methodist church, and both he and his father are well liked in the denomination. It is commonly reported that he refused the presidency of the University of Illinois some time ago. Prof. Vincent is about 38 years old and lives with his family in a pleasant home in Lexington avenue, near the University of Chicago. As a member of the faculty he takes an interest in the athletics and social affairs at the university and is popular with the students. Prof. Vincent was graduated from Yale university in 1885, and after spending a year as literary editor of the Chautauqua Press went to Europe and the east. In 1888 he became vice principal of the Chautauqua system and has been connected with it ever since. Last year he was made principal. He came to the University of Chicago in 1892 and has been connected with its department of sociology up to the present time.

MEXICO'S PRESIDENT.

Mr. Diaz Seems to Have a Life Job as Chief Executive of Our Sister Republic.

For the sixth time Porfirio Diaz has been inaugurated or sworn in as president of the republic of Mexico. He was first elected president in 1876. In 1880 he was succeeded by President Gonzales, who served only one term. In 1884 Diaz was elected by a great majority, and the constitution of Mexico, which declared that no president should serve more than one term of four years, was changed, and that provision set aside for him. His recent reelection was no more of a contest than that which the American president, Washington, to whom all Mexicans compare Diaz, had. In the 45 years before President Diaz's first term there had been more than 200 revolutions and 50 different rulers. All this was changed by him and he has made friends with the United States. He has welcomed American railways, miners and money, and made the study of English a part of the public school system. In the 25 years he has ruled he has seen the population of Mexico increase one-half. He was 70 years old on last September 15.

He Sent Her to Jericho.

Dr. Stubbs, a dignified London bishop, was once importuned by a woman who, knowing of his travels in the Holy Land, kept on asking him what places she ought to visit, as she was starting on a trip to Palestine. After answering numerous annoying and useless questions, he was again asked: "But, really, what place would you advise me to go to?" "To Jericho, madam," said the bishop, sweetly.

MADE A QUICK TRIP.

Daring Adventure of Two Popular Wyoming Miners.

Coasted Down a Precipitous Mountain Side, Two Miles in Length, on Pan and Shovel—Dug Out by Their Friends.

It is difficult to imagine a more daredevil and thrilling adventure than that of two men sliding down a steep, ice-crusted mountain, one in a prospector's pan and the other on a miner's shovel. Yet such a hazardous undertaking was accomplished the other day by Pete McGoff and "Yankee Bill" Murphy, miners and prospectors in the Sierra Madre mountains, when they flew like the wind down one side of the treeless Quartsite mountain, a distance of two miles with a descent of about 35 degrees, and landed in 25 feet of snowdrift in the 40-foot chasm of Cow creek, a few miles west of Grand Encampment, Wyo.

Pete and "Yankee Bill's" love of adventure will brook perils of any kind and at any time for the pure love of sport—perils at which the tenderfoot would stand aghast. Both are known for the chances they take with their lives. The greater the danger, the more ready they are to enter into it. Peculiar "cusses" these two rough miners, and it was in jesting wager simply that they raced down the mountain, Pete in the pan and "Yankee Bill" squatting on the shovel, both finishing with a record-breaker and what might have been a neck-breaker.

They climbed to the top of the peak over two feet of snow on the day of the adventure to wash out a decomposed quartsite, which showed rusty iron ore, and which led them to believe would carry gold. In the afternoon it turned off cold and froze a crust on the snow, so that the surface of the mountain resembled glass. It was near sundown when the two men finished prospecting and started to retrace their way down the mountain. The slippery iced snow impeded their progress, making the journey slow and dangerous at best.

Less than 100 feet down Pete jesting-ly proposed to "Yankee Bill" that they slide down on the pan and shovel.

"I'll beat you down," said Pete, suiting the action to the word by getting into the pan.

"You can't beat me," replied "Yankee Bill," at the same time squatting down on his shovel, unmindful of the possible danger ahead.

At first both slid along in a jerky fashion, for they were obliged to push themselves along at times. Suddenly, however, the descent became much more abrupt, and the two men launched into ozone and shot down with accelerating speed like comets through space. The sensation they felt can neither be described nor imagined. They tore down the mountain side like an avalanche, each holding on to his metal sled with a vise-like grip. A mile was covered in apparently an instant, when a ridge formation turned them off their course, and they flew still faster at an acute angle. The 40-foot chasm of Cow creek was inevitable, and before they had time to realize the danger they had leaped over its edge, cleared Cow creek and, as if human drills, bored the snow drift 25 feet.

When dug out Pete and "Yankee Bill" did not exactly need the coroner, but there were not enough plasters and liniment in camp to soothe their bruises. They came up smiling, however, each stoutly maintaining victory. The shovel and pan will be exhumed next spring by nature.

Riding a Monster Shark.

One of the more wonderful fish stories of the century is told in the New York Press of Dr. Ralph Smith, a noted surgeon of Jacksonville. While in bathing in surf about up to his waist over on the east coast, a big shark swam between his legs forcing him to a sitting posture and swimming out to sea with its burden astride. The sensation nearly cost the doctor his hair and whiskers. He declares he was on the shark's back fully half a minute. When the monster got into deep water he slid off.

Vaccinated on His Nose.

One of New York city's official vaccinators, belonging to the bureau of contagious diseases, while vaccinating a patient in a tenement house thoughtlessly scratched a pimple on his own nose. There happened to be some vaccine virus on his finger, and he thus unwittingly vaccinated himself. It "took" beautifully; and in a few days the doctor had a very brilliant nose, displaying an effective combination of red, purple and blue tints.

SPORTING.

ON THE DIAMOND.

An important business meeting of the Plainfield Athletic Association, formerly the P. A. F. B. C., will be held at the Hotel Waldorf this evening. It is expected that arrangements for the perfection of the baseball will be completed.

The Hope baseball team, formerly the Arions, will play the first game of the season April 6 with the Plainfield High School team, on the the former's grounds. The members of the team were measured last evening for uniforms. Charles L. D. Smith has been elected manager and William Hardfelder, captain.

BURGLARS AGAIN.

This Time the Residence of Bernard Brady, of Central Avenue, Was Ransacked.

Burglars are supposed to have entered the residence of Bernard Brady at 935 Central avenue during the absence of the family in New York. Yesterday afternoon the attention of Roundsman Flynn was attracted by a light in the second story of the residence. An investigation was made by the roundsman who was accompanied by Patrolman Vanderweg and Detective McCarty. The first floor, it was found, had been ransacked and the appearance was one of disorder generally. The light on the second floor was used by Mr. Brady who happened to be in the house at the time.

The intruders, it is believed, entered the house through a rear window. The police department are at work on the matter, but are without any clue so far as is known.

Men's Meeting.

R. M. Honeyman, of New York, will speak and Prof. Geo. Stevens, of Philadelphia, will sing at the men's rally at Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. There will be violin, flute and piano trios in which Mrs. George W. Saums and Elmer Wheeler will participate. Bible classes of the general secretary and physical director of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at 9:30 a. m. and 5:15 p.m. All men interested are invited.

AGED CITIZEN GONE.

David C. Bird, of Elm Place, Died at the Hospital Last Evening.

David C Bird, aged sixty-one years, of Elm place, the youngest son of the late Elias Bird, of Mt. Bethel, died last evening at Muhlenberg Hospital after a short illness. A week ago Wednesday he contracted a heavy cold. Last Tuesday he was taken to the hospital. His condition was not considered serious, however.

Mr. Bird was born at Mt. Bethel and has lived in Plainfield about thirty years. At one time he held the position of train announcer at the North Avenue station. His wife died some time ago. He leaves five brothers and a sister, as follows: George Bird, of Somerville; Watson Bird, of Liberty Corner; Morgan C. and Lewis M. Bird, of this city; Elias Bird, of Mt. Bethel, and Mrs. Margaret M. Moulton, of this city. He also leaves three daughters, Mrs. William Miller, of New York; Miss Bessie Bird, of Trenton, and Miss Jennie Bird, of Philadelphia.

The body will be taken to the home of the sister on West Fourth street from which place the funeral services will be held, probably on Monday.

CARDS RETURNED.

Result of the Recent Evangelistic Meetings in Some of The Churches.

No complete returns of the cards signed during the recent evangelistic meetings have yet been made but the total number will aggregate about 900.

There were 150 without any preference which will be divided among the different churches. Hope and Warren chapels received a large number. Among the other churches were the First M. E. church, 57 net; First Baptist church, 168; Trinity Reformed church, 90; Park Avenue Baptist church, 27; to out of town churches, 20. The other local churches received cards in varying numbers.

Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches.

For destruction and complete riddance of Cock Roaches, Beetles, Wood and Water Bugs, Bed Bugs, Ants, Rats, Mice, etc., "Rough on Rats," though poisonous, if used with care is most effective. In fact it is the only thing that will permanently annihilate Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches. As an exterminator of Rats and Mice, "Rough on Rats" is the old reliable that never fails nor disappoints. They "don't die in the house." Is sold all around the world. Is used by all civilized nations of the earth. Is the most extensively advertised, the best know and has the largest sale of any article of its kind on the face of the globe. It gives satisfaction every time. Beware of imitations. I employ no peddlers. Have a suspicion of any dealer offering substitutes said to be as good. 15c. and 25c.

DEATH OF MRS. DUFFICY.

Died at Her Home on East Fourth Street Early This Morning.

Mrs. Winifred Duffiey, widow of Patrick Duffiey, aged 78 years, died this morning at her home 328 East Fourth street, after a long illness. She was born in Ireland and has been a resident of Plainfield sixty years.

She was a sister of Frank Conshee, and two sons and two daughters survive her. The sons are Patrick Duffiey, of Brooklyn, and Thomas Duffiey, of this city. The daughters are Mrs. James Killoran and Mrs. Fred August, both of Plainfield. The funeral services will be held from the late residence Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Washington and European Tours.

Mr. Honeyman's usual Easter vacation tour to Washington, of three days, is announced for April 18. Persons going may return at any time within ten days. First Pan-American Exposition tour, June 3. The first European tour goes June 13 to Russia, Denmark, Norway, etc., and is a beautiful one throughout. The tour to Europe June 21, to be accompanied by Rev. Dr. Snodgrass, is popular because only $265 and taking in all the British Isles. Circulars can be had at 181 North avenue.

NEW STORE.

Wm. W. Dunn Will Open Grocery Lincoln Place and Duer Street Monday Morning.

William W. Dunn, of West Fifth street, opens his new grocery and provision store at the corner of Duer street and Lincoln place Monday morning. Since the fire, which occurred in January, the store has been completly renovated. The floor has been lowered nearly even with the sidewalk and larger show windows have been added.

The room is finished with Georgia pine and it now presents a light, airy and commodius appearance. The stock is entirely new throughout and Mr. Dunn has taken much care in the selection of teas and coffee, of which he purposes to make a specialty.

Mr. Dunn has had the benefit of an extensive experience in the grocery business. For sixteen years he was an employe of George W. Rockfellow, the grocer, and for the past year has been the junior partner in the firm of Gulick & Company, who conducted a thriving business on the site of Mr. Dunn's new store. Mr. Dunn is aggressive, alert and responsible and certainly deserves a large trade in his new business.

OVER POLITICS.

George McCauley Held For Grand Jury on Charge of Assault and Battery.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, March 16—As a result of the turbulent primary held by the Republican party here last week and a subsequent tiff between George McCauley and Wm. H. Trayno, the former was haled before Justice Clark yesterday on a charge of assault and battery preferred by the latter.

Trayno swore out a warrant through Justice Moffett's court in this city, but when arrested by Constable Gjetelsen McCauley demanded to be brought before Justice Clark. The latter held him in $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. George R. Rockfellow, of Park avenue, who has been very ill has passed the critical point, and the attending physician, Dr. Endicott, now believes that she will recover.

Funeral of Mrs. Doyle.

The funeral of Mrs. Doyle, who died at her home on West Fourth street, Thursday, took place this morning. A service was held in St. Mary's church, which was conducted by Rev. Father McGeary. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery. The pall bearers were John Taylor, Patrick Gannon, Martin Whalen, Thos. McCauley, Patrick Dolan and Patrick Bergen.

Death of Louis Zugbaum.

The death of Louis Zugbaum, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Zugbaum, of Terrill road, occurred this morning after a very brief illness of pneumonia. He leaves one brother. The funeral services will be held from his residence, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Funeral of Mrs. Conklin.

Private funeral services were held over the remains of Mrs. Mary Conklin yesterday afternoon from the residence of her son, E. W. Conklin. Rev. A. C. Nickerson, pastor of All Souls church, was in charge. The body was taken to Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, this morning and interred.

Decision Day.

Tomorrow will be Decision Day at the Sunday-school session of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and at the regular meeting of the teachers in the church this evening for the study of the lesson there will be a prayer service for tomorrow's session of the school.

Non Suit Granted.

Justice Moss, of Metuchen, yesterday granted a non-suit in the case of Mrs. Amelia French against Peter Zimmerman. Wm. G. DeMeza and Codington & Swackhamer represented the plaintiff and Counsellor W. S. Angleman the defendant.

Dime Social Completed.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the German Reformed church continued their dime social last evening. Pastor Hausser entertained the congregation present with phonographic selections. The sales at the various booths were exceedingly large.

Meeting of Company K.

Company K will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in Central Hall, at which time all commissioned and non-commissioned officers, with the exception of captain, will be elected.

English Theatrical Statistics.

From statistics gleaned by Cecil Raleigh, of London, it is learned that about 25,000 persons are employed by theatrical managers in Great Britain, the average weekly salary being ten dollars. On a certain day designated by Mr. Raleigh there were being played "130 melodramas, 83 musical and farcical pieces, 33 plays and 2 Shakespearean plays."—Chicago Chronicle.

MANY WENT TO HEAR MR. DILTS PREACH.

Former Pastor of Park Avenue Baptist Church Addressed His Old Congregation.

TWO INTERESTING SERMONS

MANY PLAINFIELD FRIENDS OF REV. ASA REED DILTS THERE.

Preached Yesterday Morning and Evening in the Park Avenue Baptist Church—Interesting Discourses to Large Congregations.

The pulpit of the Park Avenue Baptist church was occupied at both the morning and evening services yesterday by Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, of Lowell, Mass. Rev. Mr. Dilts is well known to the people of this city as the pastor of the Park Avenue church from 1885 until 1892, and many personal friends outside as well as in the congregation were present to hear him preach.

At the morning service Mr. Dilts chose as the text for the sermon, Matthew vi, 33—"But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." He explained very lucidly why man should hold the remembrance of God first and foremost above all things in this world. The duty to seek the Master, said he, should be placed above that of business, of home and even of life.

Again at the evening service a large congregation listened to him expound the teaching contained in Matthew xvi, 24 "Then said Jesus unto His disciples, if any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me." The injunctions contained in this verse of scripture are three fold; first, to yield, second, to reckon, and third, to follow. To deny one's self is to yield or in other words to renounce the machinations of the evil one.

God commands full surrender before he will grant peace, rest, power and blessings. When one is seeking God the conflict is waged between the desires prompted by the devil and the renunciation of them ordered by the Master. To "take up the cross," Dr. Dilts said is equivalent to reckoning.

To Jesus this meant nothing less than Calvary, crucifixion, shame and death, and unto man it means to be dead unto sin. Sin itself will never be dead to one in this life, and it behoves man therefore to be dead unto sin. If an impulse rises to do evil pay no attention to it, but follow in the footsteps of Christ which is the third and last teaching of this Biblical paragraph. In conclusion, said Rev. Mr. Dilts, be able to say "Lord, wherever Thou goest I will follow." Christ leads and it is incumbent on man to follow Him.

Rev. Mr. Dilts is an able and polished speaker and his addresses were absorbingly interesting to those who had the good fortune to hear him preach.

WILL MAKE CHANGES.

Mayor Smalley Held Conference With Councilmen Regarding Appointments to be Made.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley held an informal conference with a number of the members of the new Borough Council Saturday evening in the Council chamber on Somerset street. The arrangement of the several committees was suggested by the Mayor and discussed on its merits by the Councilmen present.

There will be some important changes in the committees as at present constituted, but just what particular changes are to be made will not be known until the organization meeting of the Council tonight.

Somewhat of a shake up will be made in the list of minor borough employes, especially in the fire department. It is understood that the plans of the Mayor in respect to the contemplated make up of the various Councilmanic committees as well as the changes in the fire department meet with the hearty approval of the Councilmen.

The belief is widespread that at the Council meeting this evening His Honor will outline the future policy to be pursued by the new administration in the government of the borough.

Will Not Remain in Washington.

Rev. Dr. Charles R. Barnes, formerly pastor of the First M.E. church, but now of the M. E church at Washington, Warren county, where he has been for three years, does not expect to return to the pastorate there after the next M. E church conference.

—John Hand Camp, No. 28, S of V., will hold a regular meeting tomorrow evening.

NEW STEAM ROLLER.

Street Committee Decides to Purchase a New Buffalo-Pitts Roller This Spring.

After careful consideration and examination of the various makes of machines, the street committee of the Common Council, has decided to purchase a new Buffalo-Pitts steam roller, similar to the one offered the city by Contractor Meeker. It was thought that a new one would prove more economical in the end. The old machine now owned by the city will be taken by the makers in part payment and the new roller will have a guarantee of two years. It will arrive in time to be placed in service as soon as the spring work is commenced.

FINISH OF POOL TOURNEY.

THIS WEEK WILL COMPLETE THE EXCITING CONTEST.

Interest Now Centred in the Four Leading Men Who Are Melvin, Ammons, Moore and McLoughlin.

Unless a tie results between the leaders, it is expected the pool tourney which has been in progress at Krewson's parlors for the past two months, will be brought to a close next Wednesday night. Five more games remain to be played and when these are over the winner will be announced.

Sixteen of the most expert knights of the cue have been entered in the contest and its progress was watched with much enthusiasm, the games each evening being witnessed by large crowds. The players have gradually fallen into various places until now interest centers in four leading men, Melvin, Ammons, Moore and McLaughlin. The latter two have completed the series of fifteen games, but their positions cannot be determined until Melvin and Ammons have finished theirs. McLaughlin has won twelve games and lost three while Moore has won eleven and lost four.

Melvin has been the favorite since the tourney commenced and will no doubt remain in first place, which position he has held all along. He has been defeated twice and has two more games to play, both of which he is likely to win as the men are evenly matched. Ammons has one more to play and if he proves the winner he is sure of second place at least. If he loses it will result in a tie with Moore which will have to be played off.

The schedule for the remaining has been arranged as follows: Monday, Sutterlein 75, Beekman 60; Dodd 75; Melvin 60 Tuesday—Kingston 60, Coombs 55; Walsh 60, Coombs 55, Wednesday—Melvin 60, Ammons 55.

DEATH OF MRS. TUNISON.

Passed Away at Her Home on West Fourth Street Yesterday Morning.

The death of Mrs. Samuel Tunison of West Fourth street occurred at the hospital early yesterday morning, after an illness of less than one week. She was attending to her household duties as usual Monday but was taken ill late at night. Her condition became alarming and she was removed to the hospital Tuesday. It was seen at that institution that she was beyond medical aid.

Death was caused by a tumor.

Mrs. Tunison was twenty five years old and had resided in this city all her life. She leaves two children, Belle, aged seven and Roy, aged four. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. William Morecraft, one brother, John Morecraft, and one sister, Miss Eunice Morecraft, all of this city. She had been a member of Hope chapel for many years from which place the funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery.

Had a Delightful Visit.

Miss DeCamp, of Chester, Morris county, and Miss Force, of Duer street, returned from Washington, D. C., on Saturday evening, where they have had two full weeks of solid enjoyment, seeing the sights of that magnificent city, including the inauguration of President McKinley. They were the guests during their visit of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Laing, 35 R street, N. W.

Gate in Place Now.

The gate has been erected in the centre of the iron fence at the North Avenue station, and everyone is now obliged to use the tunnel or go around by Park or Watchung avenues.

Change at Postoffice.

James A Martin, of Westervelt avenue, will enter upon his new duties as assistant postmaster, April 1, at which time John Whitenack, the present holder of the office, will resign.

That Church Supper.

It is the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church that is planning for the supper to be given at that church Friday evening, March 29.

EARNEST WORDS FOR CHRIST.

REV. G. L. HARNEY PREACHED TWICE IN REFORM HALL YESTERDAY.

"Living Christ" Was His Morning Theme. Evening's Talk was on "Christ In Modern Life."

Two more helpful and interesting meetings took place in Reform Hall yesterday under the leadership of Rev. Gilbert L. Harney, the evangelist from Maine, who spoke to audiences at the same place nearly every night last week. In the morning Mr. Harney delivered a powerful sermon on the theme "Living Christ." It was given in his usual energetic way and was greatly enjoyed.

His subject in the evening was "Christ in Modern Life," and from it he drew a discourse which greatly impressed his hearers. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Harney said that four thousand years were necessary to prepare for Christ's coming and then he remained but a short time, yet thousands of men are learning of Him every day and His work is still going on. Christ came into the world to make it better, and, though it is not perfect yet, the time will come when there are no more industrial or social troubles common in modern times and men will lead purer and nobler lives.

At the close, the speaker said that Christ is just as willing to save the fallen today as He was when upon the earth, and he beseeched all to give their Hearts to Him.

This evening Mr. Harney's subject will be "Faith."

CAUSE OF TROUBLE.

Investigation Reveals the Cause of Illness at the Children's Home—Trouble Remedied.

Within the past week the inmates of the Children's Home have been greatly annoyed by nauseous gases, similar to those which prevailed during the recent epidemic of scarlet fever among the children. At that time the North Plainfield Board of Health declared the trouble was due to the cesspools, which were filled to overflowing. When the trouble arose again the members of the Health Board determined to make a thorough investigation, and with several workmen went to the place and tore up the entire line of pipes. With their unearthing the statement was first made by the Board was found to be true as the pipes were in a terrible condition and reeking with noxious odors. In some way the pipes had become clogged, thus forcing the gases back to the building and causing the sickness among the children.

The officials of the Home have admitted that the first theory was correct, and the system will now be overhauled and the pipes relaid.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Wm. Grogan, of Westfield, Just Escaped Serious Injury or Instant Death in Newark.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, March 18—Wm. Grogan, proprietor of the North Avenue Hotel at Westfield, had a narrow escape from death or serious injuries at the junction of Broad and Market streets, this city, Friday afternoon. A trolley car was going in one direction and a heavy dray drawn by a team of horses in the other. Mr. Grogan thought he could pass between them, but his foot slipped and he fell on his back. His hands were in his overcoat pocket and he was helpless.

It seemed certain that he would be run over, but both the trolley and the wagon were brought to a stop within one foot of where Mr. Grogan lay prostrate. He was picked up and taken to a nearby place of business, but beyond a few bruises and a severe shock, he was none the worse for his thrilling experience.

Trying to Save Injured Foot.

Although the hospital staff is making every effort to save it, it is not yet known whether Wm. Tobin, of West Fourth street, will lose his foot or not. It was badly crushed at the Pond Tool Works last week, and although medical attention was secured at once it has shown no signs of improvement and it is feared mortification may set in.

Called Away By Death of Her Father.

Miss Harris, the soprano soloist of the choir of the First Baptist church, was called from the service yesterday morning by a telegram announcing the sudden death of her father at his home in Elizabeth.

Looking For Williams.

As yet there have been no returns in Justice Huff's court of the papers issued in the case of Sachar against Williams, assault and battery. The constable has not yet found the accused.

CONFERENCE WAS HELD.

DR. HUNT, OF THE STATE BOARD WAS HERE SATURDAY.

Already the Flat Taste and Bad Odor to the Water in the Borough Has Disappeared—Believe Trouble is Ended.

In all probability the citizens of North Plainfield will in the future be enabled to enjoy purer and better water than that which they have been getting for months past. Complaints without number have been made about the supply which has been drawn from the large tank located on the mountains. The officials of the Plainfield Water Supply Company were notified.

The North Plainfield Board of Health sent for Dr. Hunt, of the State board, with whom a consultation was held Saturday. The result was the determination of the company to abandon the tank until a better course can be adopted which will prevent the water from becoming stale. This can be done by filling the tank from the top and allowing it to escape from the bottom the same as is done at the Netherwood tower.

The water has now been drawn off and the Health Board feels that the trouble will be permanently abated as the flat taste and bad smell have already disappeared.

COMPANY K CHOSE OFFICERS

ALL OFFICERS EXCEPT CAPTAIN WERE ELECTED.

John H. Lewis Will be Second Lieutenant—No Captain as Yet—Who The Other Officers Are.

Company K, Second Regiment, N. J. N. G., met in Central Hall Saturday evening and elected all commissioned and non-commissioned officers, with the exception of captain. That office will be left vacant for awhile. Lieut John Wehrley, of Somerville, will be in charge of the company for the present. The officers elected are as follows:

First Lieutenant, Dr. W. Kempton Browning; second lieutenant, John M. Lewis; first sergeant, John P. Mosher; second sergeant, Charles Peterson; commissary, Harry B. Kitchell; third sergeant, Dr. P. B Cregar; fourth sergeant, William R Townsend; quartermaster, Fred J. Pope; fifth sergeant, Albert I. Littell; corporals, Asa Randolph, Robert M Clark, Orra S. Rogers, John S. Johnson, Fred M. Masker, J. Stanley Mosher, Oliver R. Pierson and John F. A. Daley.

The officers will meet Thursday evening for instruction. It is expected that after the uniforms arrive the regular drill night will be Wednesday.

PLEA FOR WORK IN INDIA.

REV. DR DOWNIE, OF NEW YORK, PREACHED IN BAPTIST CHURCH.

Was Formerly a Missionary in India and Told Many Interesting Things Concerning That Country.

A large congregation was present at the First Baptist church yesterday morning to hear Rev. Dr. Downie, of New York, who talked on foreign mission work, chiefly in India. Dr Downie has spent some time in Inida and other foreign countries in mission work and he gave much valuable data concerning the progress being made in Christianizing the natives.

He spoke especially of the advancement in many places in India, how missionaries are being received and their teaching of Christ is welcomed. He also referred to the progress of teaching the English language in India, this being a great help to missianaries and all others traveling in that country. He said that an American could now travel in most any part of India and would experience little trouble in conversation. He urged more generous donations on the part of the people in giving money to help in the work, and the graphic way in which he told of the condition of the people and their needs brought forth a hearty response from those who heard him.

Last evening Dr. Downie again gave a talk on missions, telling more in detail of the condition of affairs in India. He described the people, their manner of living, their many religions and what progress the Christian religion is making. Dr. Downie's addresses were greatly enjoyed and proved a source of enlightment to all.

GETTING READY.

Plainfield A. A. Expect to Open Baseball Season the Last Saturday in April.

The meeting of the Plainfield Athletic Association, which was held in the parlors of the Hotel Waldorf, Saturday evening, was very well attended and several matters of importance came up for consideration. The members, who were appointed to secure players and arrange all preliminaries for the base ball nine, reported progress and stated that the first game would be played, in all probability, the last Saturday in April. Measurements will be taken for suits in a few weeks.

On Easter Monday night, it is the intention of the association to give a dance and for that purpose a committee of five was appointed to make all arrangements. At the close of the meeting six applicants were admitted to membership.

SENTENCE APPROVED.

President McKinley Confirmed Action of Court Martial in Dismissing Capt. Schwenck, of This City.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, March 18—President McKinley has approved the sentence of the court martial in the case of Captain Samuel K. Schwenck, United States Army, retired, of New Jersey, who was convicted recently of duplicating his pay checks, and sentenced to dismissal from the retired list of the army.

Captain Schwenck was appointed to the army from Pennsylvania, and had an honorable and creditable career during the Civil War and for many years thereafter, until retired for disability. Since his retirement he has been a citizen of Plainfield, N. J.

TALKED TOO MUCH.

And Their Language Was Not of a Particularly Pleasant Character.

Two laborers, named O'Brien and Sullivan, were brought before City Judge Runyon this morning on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct which occurred on Park avenue Saturday evening.

Patrolman Lunger testified to the facts concerning the breach of the peace and particularly regarding the profane language used by the men on the public thoroughfare.

City Judge Runyon left to the prisoners the selection of either $10 fine each or thirty days in jail.

Promised To Do Better.

John Dohldagren, a painter, was arrested Saturday evening by Chief of Police Kiely for drunk and disorderly conduct on Park avenue. At the hearing this morning City Judge Runyon took into consideration the appearance, deportment and good record of the man. Dohldagren was discharged on a promise to do better hereafter.

PLAINFIELD LODGE.

Second Preliminary Meeting of Local Machinists Held Saturday Night.

The second preliminary meeting of the local machinists who are forming a branch of the International Association of Machinists was held in the lodge rooms in Washington hall Saturday evening. Officers from the grand lodge were present and gave interesting addresses. Nearly fifty names are on the charter list. The new branch will be known as Plainfield Lodge.

Chester B. Dennis was made recording secretary and William Hangliter financial secretary but the regular election will not take place until Saturday evening.

BOROUGH SCHOOL MEETING.

WILL BE HELD IN SOMERSET STREET SCHOOL TOMORROW EVENING.

Only One Change in School Board Probable—What Appropriations Have Been Asked for by Board.

The annual school meeting will be held in the Somerset street High School building tomorrow evening. The terms of three members of the present board expire and these vacancies will be filled by a public election. Appropriations to defray the expenses of the coming school year will be considered at the meeting.

The members whose terms expire are S. St. John McCutchen, E. B. Waring and Dr. J. H Cooley.

By reason of the invaluable services of Mr. McCutchen as the president of the board his re election will, in all probability, be insisted upon by the citizens as will also the re-election of Dr. J. H. Cooley, who has shown much devotion to his duty as a member of the board. E. B. Waring has removed to Perth Amboy and consequently will not be a candidate before the meeting. This is the only real vacancy to be filled.

While there are a number of men in the borough well fitted for the office, few names have as yet been suggested. John Valiant, who has in many ways shown his interest in the schools, will probably be nominated.

Some mention has been made of Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan in this connection. Dr. Buchanan is a public spirited citizen of the first district and is considered a strong man influentially.

$15 700 is the sum total of the appropriation which the School Board will advise the meeting to make. If this amount, $12,900 is allowed for teachers' salaries and other current expenses, excepting text books and school supplies for which $1,400 is asked.

The manual training department will also require $1,400 of the total appropriation. If this is granted by the citizens, the board will be entitled to receive a like amount from the State for the training work and for this reason the members of the board are particularly anxious that the citizen approve the appropriation requested.

The interest manifested in the manual exhibition at the Somerset street school Tuesday is looked upon as an indication of a large meeting tomorrow evening.

FUNERAL OF WALTER DREIER.

Held From Late Home on West Front Street Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral services of Walter Dreier were held yesterday afternoon from the residence of the parents on West Front street and were largely attended. Rev. Dr. Max Fried, minister of the congregation, Adereth El, New York city, was in charge of the services. He spoke tender words concerning the life and character of the departed, of his long suffering and patience in sickness.

The interment took place in the Gateville cemetery, Bound Brook, and a service was held there. The pall bearers were Samuel Newcorn, of Philadelphia; Jacob Rosenthal, of New York; M. Leichtentritt and M. Abrams, of this city.

Death of Mrs. Anna H. Ross.

Mrs. Anna H. Ross, widow of the late Cornelius P. Ross, died at her home on Plainfield avenue yesterday morning after a two weeks' illness. She was in her seventy-third year and had been a resident of this city since 1875. She is survived by three daughters, all of whom live in Plainfield. The funeral services will be private.

In Court Again.

Peter Campbell was again arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. This time Patrolman Watson arrested him Saturday evening, on Front street. Before City Judge Runyon this morning Campbell took a vow to abstain from liquor for nine months, and was thereupon discharged by the court.

PLUNGED HEAD FIRST THROUGH STORE DOOR.

Exciting Finish of a Wild Ride Yesterday By Thomas H. Smith, of Rahway.

HE TURNED TOO SHARPLY.

HORSE AND WAGON STOPPED SUDDENLY AT THE CURB.

But the Driver Continued His Trip—Drove His Head Through Panel to Door in Lusardi's Fruit Store—Taken to Jail

Fondness for liquor and fast horses landed Thomas H. Smith, of Rahway, in the police station yesterday evening. Shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon Smith drove madly down East Front street and in an excited manner was urging his horse on to a terrific gait by incessantly whipping the animal.

When nearing the intersection of Somerset street Smith suddenly determined to change his course and drive over the brook, but the speed attained by the horse at this moment was too great to allow the horse to swing around properly, and instead the animal headed for the curb in front of Lusardi's fruit stand on Blatz's corner. Up went the horse and road wagon on to the pavement, where they stopped, and at the same time the sudden jolt of the wagon against the curb caused the driver, Smith, to be thrown head foremost against the door of the fruit shop at the corner.

Smith's head came in contact with the door so hard and suddenly that it went right through the lower panel smashing the thin board to pieces. The jar loosened the door from its hinges and the panes of glass in the upper section broke with a crash, and the oranges and other fruit were scattered about.

Smith received a badly bruised forehead but, fearing that his injuries might be serious, the ambulance was hurriedly summoned and the man was removed to the hospital. Here on account of Smith's drunken condition the authorities refused to receive him after ascertaining that he had only suffered a shaking up by the accident. The police authorities then placed Smith in the station house to sober up. It was found that the road wagon was badly wrecked.

This morning he was given a hearing by City Judge Runyon for drunk and disorderly conduct. The culprit made a frank admission of the details of the affair, and City Judge Runyon holding that the disorder and damage was more accidental than intentional was inclined to be lenient especially because Smith had never been in the toils of the law before and was willing to pay for the damage done. He was discharged on condition that he would make satisfactory settlement to Mr. Lausardi for the broken door.

MISS KINSEY WEDDED.

Quietly Married to Wm. H. Ferris, of Newark, Wednesday Evening.

Announcement has just been made of the marriage of Miss Pearl Kinsey, of this city, to William H Ferris, of Newark, which occurred at the rectory of St. James church, Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Curry, in the presence of a few intimate relatives and friends.

Mrs. Ferris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Uriah B. Kinsey, of Sycamore avenue, and is very popular among a large circle of acquaintances to most of whom her marriage will come as a complete surprise. The groom is also very well-known in this city, but has always resided in Newark. The young couple have taken up housekeeping at the latter place.

A. H. Moffett is Worse.

The condition of Albert H. Moffett, of Rahway, who was injured in the trolley wreck at Westfield, Wednesday, has steadily become worse. He was visited by his brother, Charles L. Moffett, of this city, yesterday and he says the victim is threatened with blood poisoning from the terrible burns he received on the arm. He is also injured very badly about the head and suffers great pain.

Suspended During Good Behavior.

John Smith, a young man who confesses to having a decided taste for liquor, was arrested Saturday evening by City Detective McCarthy for drunkedness. Smith, when given a hearing this morning, was in a repentent mood and City Judge Runyon imposed a sentence of $10 fine or 40 days, which was suspended during good behavior.

RUSSIAN STUDENT RIOTS.

Government Proclaims a State of Siege In Certain Towns.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 18.—In consequence of the riotous disturbances following the demonstrations promoted by university students the government has proclaimed a state of siege at Odessa, Kiev and Kharkoff. It is reliably reported here that a student died at Kharkoff from injuries sustained in the disorders of March 4 in that city.

Eight hundred students of the University of St. Petersburg, virtually all remaining here, met last Friday and resolved not to attend further lectures. The police subsequently arrested 16.

Four hundred students of the Technological school entered the courtyard of the institution to hold a meeting, and the police inscribed all their names.

The Mining academy is already entirely closed.

It is reported that Count Tolstoi, who ever since his excommunication has been loudly cheered wherever he has made his appearance, is taking an active part in the disturbances at Moscow, where the situation is complicated by a strike of the operatives of several large factories.

The official organ of the Russian ministry of finance threatens that Russia will make strict reprisals in case of any raising of duties by Germany on Russian products.

To Teach Hawaiians Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Jared Smith, who has been in charge of the offices of seed and plant introduction in the department of agriculture, has been directed to start in a few days for Honolulu to establish an agricultural experiment station there. As director his first work will be to teach the Hawaiian people how to grow garden truck. Most of the vegetables now consumed in the islands are imported from San Francisco. They will be taught also the value of dairy cows among poor families, butter and cheese making, the forage plants most economically produced for Hawaii an consumption and the value of poor families raising chickens and pigs. This agricultural missionary work in the interest of the common people of the islands will be essayed before other agricultural problems will be considered. There are 200 acres running from the coast to the top of a mountain set apart by the Hawaiian legislature for this purpose.

Platt Declares For a Police Bill.

NEW YORK, March 18.—United States Senator Platt at the Fifth Avenue hotel yesterday met a number of Republican leaders from Greater New York and different sections of New York state. Senator Platt said that he expected to meet Governor Odell some day this week and talk over with him different phases of the proposed new police bill for Greater New York. Being asked if in the event of Mayor Van Wyck appointing to the board of election commissioners certain Republicans supposed to be personally satisfactory to the local and state Republican organizations the proposed state legislation affecting the management of the police force of New York city would be dropped, Senator Platt again stated that a police bill would be passed by the legislature at Albany during the present session.

American Consul Imprisoned.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, March 18.—News has reached here that the United States consular agent at Barcelona, Venezuela, Mr. Ignacio H. Baiz, has been arrested by Venezuelan officials and imprisoned without adequate cause. This is the second time he has been treated in this fashion within the last five months, and he will resign unless protected by the Washington government. It appears that several sums of money have been forced from him by the Venezuelan officials under threats of imprisonment. The protests of Mr. Baiz to Washington seem to have met with no response thus far. Three months ago Mr. Loomis, the United States minister at Caracas, made a demand upon the Venezuelan government for an apology for the first outrage, but his communication was quite ignored.

Pan-American Conference.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Responses have now been received from practically all of the South and Central American republics accepting the invitation to participate in the conference of American republics which is to be held in the City of Mexico next October. The preliminary work of the congress has been directed from Washington, as the United States government has taken great interest in the meeting and has had the co-operation here of the representatives of the southern countries. Several of the republics already either have chosen their delegates or have names under consideration.

Well Known Writer Dead.

HARPSWELL, Me., March 18.—Rev. Elijah Kellogg, author and preacher, whose fame rested on his books for boys and his composition "Spartacus to the Gladiators," which nearly every schoolboy has learned at some time, died at his home yesterday in his eighty-eighth year. A constitution weakened by advancing years could not throw off the effects of bronchial pneumonia, from which he suffered for some days. He was a preacher's son.

St. Patrick's Day.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The formal celebration of St. Patrick's day in this city will take place this afternoon, when an immense parade will march through the up town streets. Yesterday there were a number of minor celebrations. The Emerald association of the Bronx gave a banquet, as did the United Irish league, and there were exercises at the Catholic protectory, where 1,200 boys and 600 girls gave a dramatic and musical entertainment.

Miss Morrison's Bond.

EL DORADO, Kan., March 18.—Miss Jessie Morrison's bond of $5,000 was approved Saturday afternoon, and Miss Morrison was given her freedom again. The bond is one of the strongest ever given in the county. Miss Morrison still refuses to talk about the case, the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle, for which she was tried last fall.

Challenge to English Athletes.

BOSTON, March 18. Harvard and Yale have challenged Oxford and Cambridge for a regular set of track games, to be held in New York during the early part of next July. The challenge was sent last week, and an answer by cable is expected in a few days.

AN EXPLOSION AT SEA

Liner New York Had an Unfortunate Trip.

TWO KILLED AND MANY INJURED.

Ammonia Fumes From Refrigerator Plant Invaded the Steerage—Port Shaft Broken When Off the Banks.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The American liner New York warped laboriously into her dock at 10:30 o'clock last night with only her starboard engine in commission and 15 of her steerage passengers and ten of her stewards recovering from injuries caused by inhaling ammonia liberated by the bursting of the bonnet of the condenser of the refrigerating apparatus aft. One of the stewards, John Kent, died 36 hours after the accident of pneumonia, according to the diagnosis of the ship's surgeon, Dr. R. C. Hutchinson, due partly, the doctor added, to inflammation of the respiratory tract. A steerage passenger, Carl Engkvist, an American citizen living in this city, died of heart disease immediately after the explosion of the condenser.

The surgeon says Engkvest's death was partly attributable to the inhalation of the ammonia fumes. The only man in the hospital when the liner got to her pier was a steerage steward, F. Colston, who was suffering from inflammation of the eyes and the respiratory organs. He was sent to a hospital in this city. All the rest of the injured stewards and steerage passengers were able to be about. This is the substance of the story of the ship's mishap as told by Vice President James A. Wright of the International Navigation company.

The condenser which caused the fatalities was in a compartment on the after part of the main deck on the starboard side. Some of the stewards and a number of steerage passengers were in an adjoining compartment at supper when the bonnet blew off. None of the first or second cabin passengers heard the explosion, and few knew of it until they were told by the ship's officers.

Many of the stewards and steerage passengers were made unconscious or momentarily blind by the blistering fumes. It was all over in a few minutes. Sailormen and stewards who had not been overcome helped to drag the helpless ones out of the compartment where they lay, and the ship's surgeon gave them attention. The bodies of Kent and Engkvist were buried at sea.

The tail shaft of the New York's port engine broke in the tube at 11:55 o'clock a. m. on Friday, when the liner was off the banks. The sea was smooth.

A boat was lowered, and engineers made an examination of the outboard part of the shaft tube and the propeller, which was apparently about to drop into the sea. Steel hawsers were passed under the propeller, hauled taut and made fast on deck. The ship was stopped several hours, after which she proceeded at three-quarters speed under her starboard engine.

She was less than a day late, considering the heavy weather she encountered on the first half of the voyage. She will not sail on Wednesday, as it will take some time to replace the tail shaft with a spare one the New York has aboard.

Anti-Jesuit Demonstrations.

MADRID, March 18.—Advices received here from Lisbon dealing with the anti-Jesuit demonstrations in the Portuguese capital and in other parts of the country say: "The Jesuits here urged a very wealthy young lady named Braga to leave her home and persuaded her to take the veil. Much excitement has been caused by a revelation of the facts of the case. King Charles consented to receive a delegation from Oporto strongly urging the suppression of religious congregations in Portugal and presenting a manifesto in favor of the establishment of a national church under papal authority, but with Portuguese priests. The Lisbon police have seized a manifesto in favor of the Jesuits and protesting against the demonstrations against them as 'persecution.' The radical papers continue to publish violent anti-Jesuit articles accusing the government of deliberately omitting to enforce the laws."

Woman Burned to Death.

BALTIMORE, March 18.—Mrs. Henry Posen, aged 60, was burned to death in her home, 1824 North Duncan alley. While alone in the house Mrs. Posen filled a coal oil lamp. It is thought that some of the oil was spilled on her dress and that while standing in front of a stove in the kitchen her clothing caught fire. When a neighbor, attracted by the woman's screams, entered the house, Mrs. Posen was sinking to the floor in a mass of flame and died a few minutes afterward. Nothing else in the room was damaged by the flames.

Galveston Relief Report.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The citizens' relief committee organized last September by the Merchants' association of New York for the relief of the Texas hurricane sufferers has issued its final report. This report gives in full what was done by the committee in the way of collecting cash and supplies. It contains a list of the supplies sent and shows also that the committee collected and forwarded to Texas cash and supplies which, with the expenses in transportation and collection, amounted to $164,247.14.

The Ito Cabinet Disliked.

YOKOHAMA, March 18.—The Japanese house of peers has passed the taxation bills of the government, but the hostility felt toward the Ito cabinet shows no abatement. The cabinet crisis at Seoul, capital of Korea, which arose out of the arrest of the acting minister of finance on the charge of having plotted to murder a number of the ladies of the imperial household, continues.

The Tariff Did It.

LONDON, March 18.—The Daily Mail, which makes a bid for tariff protection, declares editorially this morning that "the real causes of America's wonderful commercial success may be summed up in the words 'tariff and great alertness.'"

To Preserve the Giants.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The grove of giant red woods in the big basin in Santa Cruz county will be preserved. A bill appropriating $250,000 for its purchase has been approved by Governor Gage. The grove will be converted into a state park.

THE FINAL TRIBUTE.

Impressive Funeral Rites For Benjamin Harrison.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY A MOURNER.

Fifteen Thousand People, Including Many Men Prominent In State and Nation, Attend Obsequies at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18.—Surrounded by fully 15,000 of his fellow citizens the remains of Benjamin Harrison were yesterday interred in the family lot in Crown Hill cemetery. Close by the grave were the members of his family, President McKinley and other visitors of distinction and the more intimate friends of General Harrison. Back a distance of 50 yards behind ropes guarded zealously by a large force of police stood with uncovered heads the great multitude who knew him not so well as did they who stood beside the freshly upturned earth, but who honored him and admired him quite as much. It is doubtful if any public man, at least in this generation, has been borne to his last resting place among so many manifestations of respect. Of passionate grief there was little outside the members of his family, but the tribute of respect was universal. It came from all alike—from those of his own political faith and from those who differed with him concerning what is best for the nation's good, from men who have been his lifelong friends and from those who knew him merely by sight and to whom he had never spoken. It came from women and children, from white and black, from all conditions and kinds of people. There was no exception anywhere to the expression that the nation had lost one of its ablest men and the greatest man of his generation in his own state.

By the grave stood the chief magistrate of the nation, and behind the ropes were the street Arabs of General Harrison's city. Every grade of human life in America between the two was represented in the crowd, and among them all there was but the one feeling, that a man had died who was honest at all times with himself and with others and whose ability and character were such as the nation could ill afford to lose.

The weather, like that of Saturday, was splendid, bright sunlight, the warm breath of spring in every breeze and yet in the air a touch of winter that brought the blood to the cheek and a sparkle to the eye.

The services at the church and grave were simple in the extreme, all in most excellent taste, and, like the proceedings Saturday, there was an utter absence of friction in everything that was done. All was well ordered and well performed.

At the Harrison home before the remains were taken to the First Presbyterian church, where the full service was held, there were brief exercises for the members of the family and the more immediate friends of General Harrison. Possibly 150 people were present. Mrs. Harrison did not appear, but remained in her room until it was time to leave for the church.

President McKinley, accompanied by Governor Durbin, called at the house at about 1 o'clock. At about the same time came the members of President Harrison's cabinet, and others continually arrived until the short services were over. The people sat in the parlors, filled the halls and a number of them sat upon the stairs while Dr. Haines read a short passage from the Scriptures and made a few remarks touching the life and character of General Harrison, as did Dr. Niccolls of St. Louis, and after a brief prayer by Dr. Haines the services were over. The florist's wagon came to the house, and a number of the largest pieces were loaded into the vehicle preparatory to being taken to the church. Word was then sent to Mrs. Harrison that the time had come for the body to be removed to the church, and she at once came down from her room into the parlor.

The procession was to have left the house at 1:30, but it was fully 30 minutes later when everything was in readiness. The doors were thrown wide open, and the honorary pallbearers, who were General Benjamin F. Tracy of New York, John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, William H. H. Miller of Indianapolis, John W. Noble of St. Louis, Charles Foster of Fostoria, O.; General Lew Wallace of Indianapolis, Judson Harmon of Cincinnati and William A. Woods of Indianapolis, came slowly down the walk leading to the street. After them came the active pallbearers bearing the casket. They were A. L. Mason, James Whitcomb Riley, Evans Woollen, Harry J. Milligan, Clifford Arrick, William C. Bobbs, Harry S. New, Howard Cale, John T. Griffiths, Newton B. Tarkington, Hilton U. Brown and Samuel Reid.

While the casket was being placed in the hearse the honorary pallbearers stood to one side with bared heads.

Behind the casket came Mrs. Harrison with her brother, Lieutenant Commander Parker of the navy, and little Elizabeth Harrison. Then came Secretary Tibbott and Mrs. Tibbott, then Mr. and Mrs. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Harrison, then the other relatives of the dead ex-president. Directly after the members of the family came President McKinley and Governor Durbin and following them the friends of the family. The route of the procession was south on Delaware street, then one block east to Pennsylvania street and thence direct to the church, a total distance of 12 squares. Twelve mounted police led the way and cleared the streets.

There were several thousand people around the Harrison residence as the funeral procession moved away, but the crowd there was insignificant to that gathered around the church.

Two hours before the time set for the commencement of the services the people had begun to gather at this point, and by the time the funeral procession arrived there was a solid mass of humanity stretching a block away on every sidewalk. The streets were kept entirely clear by a detachment of police and Company C of the Second infantry, commanded by Captain Porter. Sentries patrolled the street just outside the curb, and nobody without being able to produce a card entitling him to admission to the church was permitted to step off the walk.

It was 2:30 o'clock when the procession arrived at the church, and for an hour and 20 minutes before that time the church had been packed to its utmost capacity. In fact, its capacity was stretched somewhat, and in places inside the building the people were wedged together much too tight for comfort.

Dr. Haines opened the church service by repeating:

"I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth on me, though he were dead, yet shall he live, and he that liveth and believeth on me shall never die."

Dr. Niccolls then read from 1 Corinthians, xv, 35-38, inclusive, after which Mr. Haines offered prayer. After the prayer the choir rendered the hymn "Rock of Ages" in a beautiful and impressive manner. This was General Harrison's favorite hymn, and it is said it is the only one he ever attempted to sing. Following the hymn Dr. Niccolls read portions of Scripture from the fourteenth chapter of St. John and the twenty-first chapter of Revelations, after which Dr. Haines delivered the funeral address. After the address Dr. Niccolls offered prayer. The services were closed with a barytone solo, "Hark, Hark, My Soul," rendered by Edward Nell, in which the entire choir joined in the chorus.

The party left the church in the same order in which it entered. For the most part those who attended the church services left immediately for Crown Hill cemetery.

Gathered around the Harrison lot in Crown Hill cemetery and standing in solid masses along the winding road which led to the place were the thousands of people who, with bowed heads and manifestations of sincere sorrow, watched the funeral procession take its way through the grounds. The reverend demeanor of the vast assemblage was more noticeable even than on the preceding day.

It was nearly 5 o'clock when the line of relatives and friends came up the graveled path to the tomb. The stillness of evening had come; there was hardly a sound in the air. On the arm of Lieutenant Commander Parker Mrs. Harrison took her place at the head of the coffin, which had been borne to the side of the grave by the pallbearers.

Near her on the left stood the general's son, Russell B. Harrison, with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. McKee. Colonel Harrison kept his eyes fixed upon the casket, never turning them away from it during the service.

President McKinley came to the grave with Mrs. Durbin and stood with her during the brief service. When the prayer was offered, the president was seemingly deep in thought and remained so with bowed head after the final word had been said. He stood with bared head immediately beside the stone monument of the Harrison family, and once when the weariness of the day had touched him seemingly he leaned against it for a moment.

The burial service was very simple and very brief. The Rev. Dr. Niccolls read the short committal and burial service, and the Rev. Mr. Haines followed with a prayer. The silence was so deep that the words of the speakers, pronounced in tones hardly above the ordinary, could be distinctly heard beyond those immediately around the grave and by those massed around the elevation on which the family and friends stood.

Instead of following the usual practice, which consists of dropping a handful of dust on the coffin, three white carnations were placed upon the lid.

When the last word had been said and the service was over, the attendants lowered the coffin to its place. To the last it bore the wreath from Mrs. Harrison and the bouquet of lilies of the valley from little Elizabeth. On the coffin was placed a heavy walnut cover, and then the granite roof of the tomb was lowered and closed.

The last resting place of ex-President Harrison is a tomb five feet deep, incased in granite four inches thick and covered with a granite top of the same thickness. On the reverse side of the cover is the simple inscription, "Benjamin Harrison, 1833-1901." The interior of the tomb was decorated with ferns, so profusely that no sign of earth or stone was visible. Dozens of exquisitely beautiful floral tributes were placed on the tomb and on the ground about it. As the people slowly left the cemetery the distant boom of cannon firing the national salute came to their ears, and by the time the last gun was fired the night was down and the grave alone.

Senator Frye Going to West Indies

NEW YORK, March 18.—It is announced here that Senator Frye of Maine, president pro tem. of the United States senate and chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, will sail Wednesday next for the West Indies. He will go first to San Domingo and after that to Cuba and other portions of the territory recently surrendered by Spain. It is said that the senator expects to investigate the possibilities for American capital developing the West Indies as well as ascertain the views of leading Cubans upon questions now up for settlement before the present constitutional convention at Havana.

Embezzling Cashier Captured.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Charles A. Johnson, the fugitive cashier of the First National bank of Niles, Mich., was captured yesterday in Columbus, O., by secret service officers. The bank recently closed its doors owing to Johnson's embezzlement, which, according to the warrant issued, amounted to $100,000, but is supposed to be much greater. He disappeared at the time the failure was announced and was located and arrested in Columbus by Secret Service Detective Porter of Chicago.

Woman Sat on a Burglar.

DENVER, March 18. — Georgiana Thompson, a pretty blond, sat on a burglar for half an hour, shrieking when he attempted on several occasions to free himself from her grasp and sticking him violently with a long hatpin whenever he tried to throw off the burden which rested upon him as he lay on the hall floor of a building on Seventeenth street. The burglar is now in jail. Miss Thompson is ill with nervous prostration, but within proud to tell of her experience.

Shamrock From Alexandra.

LONDON, March 18.—The new Irish guards regiment, stationed at Chelsea, was agreeably surprised yesterday on returning from church to find that an orderly had arrived at the barracks from Marlborough House with boxes of shamrock from Queen Alexandra and a note in her own handwriting requesting the colonel of the regiment to distribute the emblems to the men on parade.

A PREACHER-SHERIFF.

Cumberland County, Me., Has This Unique Combination in Rev. Samuel F. Pearson.

A minister of the Gospel who is at the same time a sheriff is a good deal of a novelty even in these days of political novelties. But Rev. Samuel F. Pearson, sheriff of Cumberland county, Maine, is a marked man because of other and more important considerations, for his election by one of the most phenomenal political landslides in the history of the state may have some far-reaching results. It is hailed by the prohibitionists as the beginning of a movement for a more rigorous enforcement of the prohibitory liquor laws of the state, and Mr. Pearson's victory is attributed to popular anger at their lax enforcement. Mr. Pearson was regularly nominated by the prohibitionists, and indorsement of his candidacy was narrowly prevented in the democratic convention. At the polls the temperance democrats and republicans rallied to his support, but his election was a surprise to all parties. He is the first prohibition party sheriff to be elected in the United States, so far as is known.

REV. SAMUEL F. PEARSON.
(Minister of the Gospel and Sheriff of Cumberland County, Maine.)

He is a man of strong individuality. He is a reformed drunkard, and in his early days reached a level of degradation from which since his conversion to abstinence he has done much to rescue others. He was probably the first man in Maine to vote the straight prohibition ticket. He voted it, indeed, if it be not paradoxical to say so, before there was a prohibition ticket in the field, by writing Neal Dow's name on a slip of paper. One of the election officers held it up and said: "This is 'Sam' Pearson's vote; we'll count it scattering." And young Pearson answered with spirit: "We'll scatter it till the rum shops of Maine are closed."

Mr. Pearson served with distinction in the civil war. After the war he came to Portland. In 1872 he began his Gospel mission work, and since that date he has held 8,229 services, conducted 357 funerals and 229 marriage ceremonies and, with Mrs. Pearson, has made 15,347 visits to the poor. In England he secured over 100,000 pledges to temperance. He is an indefatigable worker and a man of tremendous energy. What he will do now with the power of the sheriff's office at his back is awaited with interest, and with trepidation by not a few.

MONUMENT FOR BENTON.

Famous Missouri Statesman's Grave to Be Marked by an Appropriate Art Work.

As a further evidence that republics are ungrateful it is pointed out that the grave of Missouri's great senator, Thomas H. Benton, which is located in Bellefontaine cemetery, near St. Louis, is marked only by a small and crumbling stone, on which is carved simply the words, "Thomas H. Benton," with no reference to his great public services or even a mention of the dates of his birth and death.

There has just been introduced in the Missouri legislature a bill appropriating $5,000 for the erection of a suitable monument over his grave. It is expected that the bill will pass, as it has the support of prominent men all over the state.

Senator Benton was born in 1788, and served in the senate of the United States from 1820 to 1850 one of the most important periods in the history of the country. He died in 1858, before the war of the rebellion had begun.

Unique Street Car Line.

A curious street car line is that between Atami and Yoshihoma, two coast towns in the province of Izie, Japan, relates the New York Tribune. The line is seven miles long, the rolling stock consists of a single car, and the motive power is furnished by a couple of muscular coolies, who actually push the car along wherever power is necessary. When the car comes to a downgrade they jump on and ride. The bollies who work this unique road are said to be astonishing specimens of physical development. The fare for a round trip over the road, including the expected tips for the crevis 21 cents.

FIERCE FIRE IN PITTSBURG.

One Life Lost and Several Injured. Heavy Property Loss.

PITTSBURG, March 18.—During the progress of a fire yesterday at the corner of Duquesne way and Fort street one man lost his life and three others were badly hurt. The property loss will be fully $250,000, well insured. All of the injured men are in the hospital in rather bad shape, but all will recover.

The fire broke out in the boiler room of the Hiram W. French company's hair felt factory, just opposite the Exposition main building. Through some confusion no alarm was turned in for some time, and it was fully 20 minutes after the fire was discovered before the engines reached the scene. From the felt factory the flames jumped across the street, and in a very short time the Exposition building was burning fiercely. All the firemen could do here was to prevent the flames spreading. After hard work this was accomplished, and Machinery hall, with its valuable contents, was saved. The main building was a complete wreck. Two lumber yards adjoining the felt factory soon succumbed. Gallagher & Banker lost 1,000,000 feet of lumber and Henry Henk 350,000 feet of valuable hard wood. Three small dwellings near the lumber yards were destroyed, but as far as known all the inmates escaped.

William Miller and his fellow firemen were victims of a live wire. The intense heat melted the network of wires running in every direction, and one of them in falling struck a trolley wire, the other end crossing the brass nozzle of the hose held by Miller and Snyder. Both men fell as though they had been shot. Scheckler and Griffith, in going to the rescue, were also caught, and both were badly burned. When the prostrate men were reached, Miller was dead and two of the others unconscious.

The loss on the Exposition building will reach $100,000, fully insured. President Torrance says the structure will be rebuilt at once and be ready for the fall engagements.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Adelbert Hay, United States consul at Pretoria, arrived in New York.

The transport Kilpatrick, with 400 sick soldiers, arrived at San Francisco from Manila. Four privates died on the voyage.

A supplementary estimate issued by the British government shows that the expenses of Queen Victoria's funeral amounted to £35,000.

Representative Marriott Brosius, chairman of the Pennsylvania house committee on banking and currency, died from a stroke of apoplexy.

The sale of 21,000,000 acres of land by the Northern Pacific railroad lying west of the Missouri river for $40,000,000 was reported to have been consummated.

Many Girls Perished.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 18.—Search of the ruins of the Noyes Norman factory fire resulted in the finding of but two bodies, which have been identified. They are those of Nora Bates and Louise Blondeau. A portion of another body, believed to be that of a woman, was found, but there is no way to identify the victim, says the coroner. Considerable difficulty was experienced yesterday in getting at the bodies. It was late before the fire had been controlled sufficiently to begin work. It was learned that there was but one fire escape from the seventh floor of the building, and at least 25 girls were on this floor. One of the girls, who says she was the last to leave this floor, says there were probably four or six more girls left behind when she went down the fire escape, and she thinks all perished. The fire had been burning 15 minutes before the alarm to the girls on the top floor was given. Excuse is made on the grounds that the employees expected to put out the flames and gave the alarm when they discovered they could not succeed.

Two Transports Sail Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Troops F and G, Sixth cavalry, stationed at the Presidio, and Company H, Seventh infantry, stationed at Alcatraz, have been ordered to sail for Manila by the first transport available. They are expected to embark on the Hancock, scheduled to sail March 25. One squadron of the Sixth cavalry is in the Philippines, and the other is in China. The two troops which are now ordered to the front formed the home squadron. Two squadrons of the Fifth cavalry and two troops of the Fifteenth cavalry are to sail on the Meade today. The Pennsylvania, which is also scheduled to sail today, will carry seven companies of the Tenth infantry.

Sleeping Cars Burned.

PALATKA, Fla., March 18.—Two Pullman sleeping cars, Tabita and Elmer, of train No. 32 of the Plant system, Tampa to Jacksonville, were completely burned at an early hour yesterday morning at Buffalo Bluff, seven miles from this city. All that remains of them is a mass of twisted iron, the wheels and trucks. The sleepers were filled with tourists, and all of them were asleep at the time of the fire. So quickly did the flames spread that there was practically no time for saving clothes or valuables.

Shamrocks For Queen's Tomb.

WINDSOR, England, March 18.—With King Edward's special permission a deputation of the Royal Munster fusileers, including General Laurie and Colonel Johnston, visited the mausoleum at Frogmore and laid a beautiful Celtic cross of shamrocks and lilies upon the tomb of Queen Victoria in memory of St. Patrick and of Queen Victoria's command a year ago to the Irish soldiers to wear shamrocks.

McGovern Will Meet All Comers.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Terry McGovern, featherweight champion pugilist, who is matched to fight Oscar Gardner before the Twentieth Century Athletic club at San Francisco on April 30, says that it is his intention to meet all comers as soon as he gets to the Pacific coast.

Prospects Bright For Peace.

PRETORIA, March 18.—The prospects of peace are still considered hopeful. The Boer losses last month were 160 killed, 400 wounded and 1,000 captured and surrendered. Owing to the heavy rains General French's transport difficulties are still enormous.

Early Opening of the Mississippi.

DUBUQUE, Ia., March 18.—The ice in the Mississippi at this point has gone out, leaving the channel clear for several miles. This is the earliest for years.

LI A PHYSICAL WRECK

Death of the Brilliant Chinaman Seems Imminent.

LOSS NOW WOULD BE IRREPARABLE.

No Other Man Could So Well Represent China During the Present Trying Period of Her National Existence.

PEKING, March 18.—The health of Li Hung Chang is again a matter of grave consideration to the ministers of the powers. Mr. Rockhill, the American special commissioner, who visited Earl Li Saturday, says he is a physical wreck and apparently in a state of utter collapse, although mentally as brilliant as ever. Mr. Rockhill would not be surprised to hear of his death at any moment.

The removal of Li Hung Chang by death or any other cause at the present moment would be very unfortunate. M. de Giers, Russian minister, said yesterday:

"Li Hung Chang is a great diplomat, and his influence with the Chinese court is absolutely unique. No other man in China approaches him in this respect. This influence is not temporary, but it is particularly effective at important moments in the history of China like the present."

Senor de Cologan, Spanish minister and doyen of the diplomatic corps, said:

"The Chinese court could not appoint a plenipotentiary of the same caliber and having equal influence with the Chinese and the foreigners. Although many of the ministers of the powers object to his political methods and regard him as essentially a trimmer, nevertheless they realize that he is the best possible man to represent China in the present emergency."

Orders have been received by United States troops to depart next month, leaving behind only 150 infantry. The German headquarters' staff assert that these instructions are a "great mistake," alleging that it is necessary to retain a large body of foreign troops in the country for at least two years. Most of the ministers, however, take a different view of the matter, believing that the best course is to retain a few of the troops of each nation and to withdraw the rest.

THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN DISPUTE.

No Change In the Situation at Tientsin.

TIEN-TSIN, March 18.—There is no change in the situation developed by the Anglo-Russian railway dispute here. The Russian and British forces are still represented by small detachments, with officers, encamped on opposite sides of the railway siding. The utmost friendliness is exhibited toward each other by the opposing parties, but as a measure of precaution the guards have been reduced to 27 on each side in order to prevent any possible collision during the negotiations. A Russian general arrived from Peking Saturday evening. Owing to the persistent rowdyism of French soldiers in the British concession the British authorities have been reluctantly compelled to forbid the French to enter the concession unless on duty. Major Hockler of the British force was assaulted Saturday afternoon in the French concession.

The Russians continue purchasing land in their new concession.

A German reconnoitering party has returned to Tien-tsin with 30 captured robbers.

Count von Waldersee is expected to arrive here tomorrow.

Ready to Meet Russia.

LONDON, March 18.—Commenting editorially upon its Tien-tsin advices, The Standard reminds Russia that "the British fleet is as potent as ever and Japan is burning to second the efforts of any one ready to oppose the annexation of Manchuria," adding, "It is a painful task thus to be compelled even to hint at contingencies so vast and disturbing, but the perils of the moment are more likely to be overcome if it is thoroughly realized that we do not shrink from such action as would be best calculated to maintain our rights."

Canal Fight at Albany.

ALBANY, March 18.—The legislature during the week will devote itself to discussion of the Brackett bills amending the general corporation and stock corporation laws, New York city charter revision, the Stranahan mortgage tax bill and the preparation of a bill to submit the canal improvement question to the people along the lines of Governor Odell's recommendation. In fact, although it has come latest into the legislative field, the canal question bids fair in the three or four weeks remaining of the session to overshadow everything else. The legislature is practically divided into two camps on the question. It is a case of canal or anticanal. There will be a race between the partisans to see which can first pass legislation to progress or retard the canal improvement proposition.

Hale at 102 Years.

SYRACUSE, March 18.—John Tubbert, the oldest resident of Syracuse, celebrated his one hundred and second birthday with his family Saturday. He was born in County Battleford, Ireland, March 16, 1799. He has never ridden on a trolley car, worn an overcoat or overshoes or carried an umbrella. He has used tobacco all his life, but never drank intoxicants until he was 64 years old. He never rode on a railway but once.

Bulgarians on Trial.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 18.—It is officially announced here that the trial began at Salonika March 11 of 19 Bulgarians accused of belonging to the revolutionary committee at Sofia and of fomenting disorder in Salonika, Monastir and Kossovo.

To Bridge the Ohio.

MARIETTA, O., March 18.—The Williamstown Terminal and Bridge company has contracted for the construction of a bridge across the Ohio river at this place to cost $750,000 and to be used for railroad purposes.

Astor Military Company Disbanded.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 18.—The Astor military company of Rhinebeck, which was equipped by Colonel John Jacob Astor, has been disbanded because of lack of interest.

The Sewage Question.

One of the most important questions which the city of Plainfield has had to consider for several years will come up at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council this evening for action. It has been demonstrated that the city's sewage disposal beds, as operated at present, are not perfectly satisfactory and do not answer the requirements. That some change is necessary, every one who has carefully looked into the situation at the disposal beds agrees, but it is a question whether it would be best to enlarge the beds under the present filtration system or adopt a new plan.

For nearly a year, the members of the committee on streets and sewers of the Council have worked carefully and patiently in an effort to discover the most satisfactory solution to the problem. It is a question which the laymen cannot judge with certainty and he is compelled to depend to a greater or less extent on the expert testimony of those who have made a special study of the subject. Recognizing that fact, the members of that committee engaged the services of J. O Osgood, who was recommonded to them as one of the best authorities on the subject of sewage disposal.

Mr. Osgood investigated the situation at the disposal beds of the city and then prepared an exhaustive report on the subject, advising the use of the septic tank and contact beds in preference to a continuation of the old system under more favorable circumstances. Plans were prepared following out Mr. Osgood's suggestions and bids were advertised for.

Now the committee on streets and sewers has the draft of an ordinance, which has been approved by Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh, which authorizes the making of the changes recommended by Mr. Osgood and awards the contract for the erection of the septic tanks and contact beds to the firm which made the lowest bid. By a vote of the Council at the March meeting of that body, the draft of the proposed ordinance was advertised in the local papers so that everyone had plenty of opportunity to see just what the Council was considering.

Another meeting of the Common Council was set for this evening when this proposed ordinance will come up on first reading. Unless some radical defect is found with the ordinance, it is only reasonable to suppose that the vote on the ordinance will be the same on the final reading that it is on the first. The members of the Council will, therefore, be called upon this evening to take a definite stand on the question.

As far as the methods of the Council in going slowly and carefully are concerned, there can be little criticism. The subject has been given plenty of publicity and any citizen who objects to the proposed changes still has an opportunity of bringing his reasons to the attention of the members of the Council. As far as the wisdom of the recommendations of Mr. Osgood and the committee are concerned, it is impossible for the layman to criticise with intelligence. It would seem as if the Council had done its best and time only will show if its judgment in the matter was good.

Every day's delay on the part of the city authorities in failing to take some action in reference to the cleaning out of the stream which divides the city from the borough serves to show more plainly that somebody is either woefully forgetful or else hasn't a full realization of the importance of action. The North Plainfield Board of Health showed its good judgment by acting promptly. Similar action should be taken by the authorities on this side of the brook. If the members of the Board of Health of Plainfield do not know what a blot the present appearance of Green brook is to the city, let them take a minute or two and visit the new bridge over Green brook which now connects Madison avenue and Duer street.

After a trial of five years, the educational authorities of Hoboken have decided that the vertical form of handwriting is not a success. The Plainfield Board of Education is struggling with the same problem. The subject was discussed at the last meeting of the board and Secretary Lounsbury, in particular, was firm in his belief that this system was not successful. No action was taken at that meeting, however.

While the officials of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway declared that the serious accident of last week was not due to too fast running of their cars, but rather of failure of the brakes to work, they have taken very sensible action in increasing the running time of the cars between this city and Elizabeth so that the motormen are not compelled to run their cars at such high speed.

The basket ball season as far as the Fanwood Athletic Club is concerned is over for this spring. That team has made a good showing and had they played in some place easier reached from Plainfield, their audiences would have, no doubt, been greatly increased in size. As it was, the people of Fanwood gave them staunch support.

One of the members of the Westfield township committee wants an ordinance adopted which compels trolley cars to come to a full stop before turning curves within the bounds of that township. Due care should certainly be exercised by the motormen when approaching curves, but it seems like going a little too far to compel the car to stop entirely.

The Court of Errors and Appeals will today consider the question of the constitutionality of the Anti-Spring Election Law. While Plainfield will not be affected by it until next fall, the union of the county and charter elections will undoubtedly make an important change in local politics.

Everything is now ready for the placing of the new street signs in position. They will be a wonderful improvement to the city and the day cannot come too soon when they shall all have been placed in position.

The rapid growth of Garwood's industries is bringing prosperity to that place. New houses can hardly be built fast enough to answer the demand for them.

North avenue merchants are not pleased with the prospect of that thoroughfare taking a place of secondary importance.

City Collector Frank H. Smith has started his campaign against delinquent taxpayers, and he says that it will continue.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by L. W. Randolph.

Car Being Repaired.

Trolley car No. 71, which leaped a curve at Westfield last Wednesday, injuring eleven persons, is now at the barns on West Fourth street, where it will be repaird. One side will have to be practically rebuilt as it is splintered and bulged in its entire length. The trucks and motors are in good condition but the latter will need re-wiring before they are serviceable.

To Meet Those Who Came Out for Christ

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be at the church this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock and at 8 o'clock this evening to meet and confer with those who recently took a stand for Christ and wish to join that church.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

Scotch Plains, March 18—Stites M. Parse, one of the oldest and best known citizens of this place, passed away at his home last evening at 6 o'clock. He has been ill for some time. He was born in Westfield township eighty-two years ago. When a young man, he went to Newark and engaged successfully in the plumbing business working up a good trade. His health was poor, however, and thirty-one years ago, he sold out his business in Newark and came to Scotch Plains where he resided up to the time of his death. His health improved and he became quite active. Preceding his death, he was ill for some time. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. F. A. Miller, formerly of Plainfield, who has recently been living at his home. His father was Dr. Hendricks Parse, of Irvington, N. J., one of the first homeopathic physicians in this part of the State. The funeral will be held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A meeting of the Fanwood Borough Council will be held this evening when the new Council will organize. The members of the Council believe that the only way out of the difficulty is to elect a president of the Council and that he will, according to law, fill the place of mayor which is now vacant, the election having resulted in a tie. The Council will probably select Mr. Young as president which will, they declare, make him acting mayor.

The annual school meeting and election of three members of the Board of Education will be held in the assembly room of the public school tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

LOCAL SCHOLARSHIPS IN N. Y. U.

WILL BE AWARDED AT PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL THIS YEAR.

Two Offered. One in School of Applied Science and One in The Regular Collegiate Course.

Arrangements have been perfected between the authorities of New York University and the Plainfield High School whereby two pupils of the present graduating class of the High School will receive valuable scholarships in the New York institution of learning.

A scholarship tuition of $100 in the school of applied science for the coming collegiate year of 1901 1902 has been awarded as has also a much more valuable one in the college of arts and pure science which is the regular college course. This scholarship tuition represents $400, and covers the entire course from 1901 to 1905. A condition precedent to awarding college scholarship is that the recipent must graduate in the third foremost part of his class. The selection of the pupils to whom the scholarship will be given is left entirely to the discretion of Principal Ira W. Travell of the High School and will be awarded by him immediately after the spring examinations.

It is recalled in this connection that Ralph Campbell, of the class of '93, P. H. S., was awarded a prize for the best entrance examination to the N. Y. University by the faculty of that institution.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The big "White Rat" carnival which will be at Music Hall, Tuesday, March 26, will undoubtedly be the finest aggregation of vaudeville talent ever seen in this city. The company is under the immediate supervision of the White Rats Association, which in reality is one of the greatest organizations now in existence. By their actions in resisting the demands of the board of managers, they receive the heartiest approval of the working men, and are affiliated with the knights of labor. Apart from this and the excellence of the bill, the appearance of George Thatcher should draw a full house.

David Belasco's, "Madame Butterfly," continues to crowd the Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, Broadway and 28th street, New York. Though such is the case, Mr. Proctor will further increase the drawing powers of the programme by presenting Helen Dauvray, a favorite actress some few years ago, in J. B. Buckstone's farce, "Nights Out." A special production of the piece will be made, with careful attention to scenic environments and costuming. Miss Dauvray will be assisted by John W. Albaugh, Jr. Other well known numbers are: Jess Dandy, the Hebrew parody singer; O'Meer Sisters, famous acrobats; Willis Family, accomplished instrumentalists; Dupont and Lothian, comedy sketch artists; Kaimo, dancing expert; the Keatons, acrobatic nonsense, and a dozen more.

A. O H Ball.

The members of Division No. 4, A. O. H., are making preparations for receiving a large crowd at their twenty-sixth annual ball, Monday evening, April 8. Professor O'Reilly's full orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and the ball will no doubt eclipse all previous efforts. The committee, will be in charge, consists of John F. Casey, chairman, Patrick Harrington, John J. Goff, Sr., James Fosbre and James Ennis.

For Conference and Prayer.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D, of Trinity Reformed church, will be pleased to meet tomorrow evening, for the purpose of conference and prayer, all who have recently expressed a sincere desire to be true disciples of Christ, and a preference for Trinity church, as well as all others who have sought their Saviour.

..Complete Showing of Spring Merchandise..

THIS STORE NEVER CONTAINED SO EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE AN ASSORTMENT OF NEW SPRING MERCHANDISE AS IT DOES AT PRESENT AND WE EXTEND A HEARTY WELCOME TO ALL TO COME HERE AND MAKE AN INSPECTION OF THE STOCK. TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY ARE THE DAYS OF OUR FORMAL SPRING OPENING.

OUR MILLINERY

will naturally be the greatest attraction, and under the supervision of Miss Catherine Daly the display will be the most important we have ever made. Exclusive ideas prevail throughout the entire assortment which includes a good showing of French pattern hats at prices in keeping with the products of our own workrooms.

DRESS GOODS.

The word dress goods covers a bewildering assortment of silks, wool dress goods, silk and wool dress stuffs, linen dress materials and every conceivable kind of cotton dress fabrics, printed and plain colors. It would be simply impossible to describe all the new things shown in dress goods—we call attention to a few of special value:

75c Black all-wool Egyptian crepe cloth, 45 inches wide, a light weight, fine, sheer cloth.

1.00 Black all-wool silk finished "Tullo" cloth, 45 inches wide, one of the correct dress materials for this season.

1.00 Black all-wool "Tamise" cloth, 45 inches wide.

1.00 Black all wool canvas grenadine, a new light weight shrunk and sponged material.

75c Black satin striped all wool French challie.

50c All wool "Akola Foula," 27 inches wide, in the new spring colorings, especially designed for waists and house dresses.

90c "Cravina" cheviot, 54 inches wide, in five new shades especially adapted for hard ware, steam shrunk and sponged.

59c All wool albatross in twelve leading spring colors, 40 inches wide.

1.00 All wool light weight English broadcloth, steam dressed and warranted not to spot, 15 different shades, 54 inches wide.

35c American-made wool challies, printed designs and plain colors with self colored satin stripes, 30 inches wide.

75c All wool French challies in three and four tone printed designs in exclusive dress patterns.

IN OUR SUIT DEPARTMENT

we will make a special exhibit of spring suits during our opening days. Exclusive designs and styles in the latest products of several of the best makers. We have made arrangements to take special orders for garments of every description; fit and finish guaranteed.

SILK AND COTTON, LINEN AND COTTON DRESS STUFFS.

50c Brocha dotted and striped swiss mulls, a beautiful range of solid colors with silk embroidered dots, 30 inches wide.

25c Mercerized Chambrays, looks just like silk and retains the beautiful lustre, plain solid colors and hair-line stripes, 30 inches wide.

20c Superior quality dimity, very fine cloth, nearly 100 separate designs and colors.

15c Embroidered dotted swiss mulls, in lace striped designs and floral effects, very sheer and dainty.

NEWNESS AND RICHNESS IN CARPETS AND FLOOR COVERING.

Our carpet department is fully in line with the largely increased stocks in every department in the store and in keeping with the demands our largely increasing trade requires. Nothing but goods of worth and merit are shown—more than 100 different new patterns have been added for the spring business.

Preußen.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Die preußische Regierung hat beschlossen, die Forstakademien von Minden und Eberswalde zu schließen. Es handelt sich um eine Verlegung der forstwirthschaftlichen Lehrstühle an die Universitäten von Göttingen und Greifswald oder Berlin, die von einer Richtung in der Forstwissenschaft längst angestrebt wurde und wie sie in München, Tübingen und Gießen schon durchgeführt ist. Es würden dann in Deutschland nur noch zwei Forstakademien, Tharandt und Eisenach, fortbestehen.— Der Numismatiker Imhoof-Blumer in Winterthur, Schweiz, dessen Münzensammlung die hiesigen königlichen Museen im vorigen Jahre erwarben, schenkte der königlichen Akademie der Wissenschaften zu Berlin jüngst 100,000 Francs zur Förderung von numismatischen Arbeiten.—Der Bauvereinsdirektor Georg Cohnitz wurde auf Antrag des Staatsanwalts selbst von der Anklage des fahrlässigen Meineids freigesprochen. Cohnitz war des fahrlässigen Eides beschuldigt, weil er in Zusammenhang mit der Gründung des Theaters des Westens gegen den Maler Dvorak zeugte, welcher in Folge der Aussagen Chonitz' zu anderthalb Jahren Gefängniß verurtheilt wurde.

Groß-Lichterfelde. In einem Hause der Ringstraße war ein Dachstuhlbrand ausgebrochen. Die Gattin des sechs Häuser weiter wohnenden Kaufmanns Satmong eilte auf das Alarmsignal der Feuerwehr in's Freie und brach vor Schreck plötzlich todt zusammen.

Wriezen. Die Ofenfabrik von Karl Schalte beging neulich die Feier ihres 100jährigen Bestehens. Das Geschäft ward vom Großvater des jetzigen Inhabers begründet und hat sich aus kleinen Anfängen zu einem blühenden Etablissement entwickelt.

Provinz Hannover.

Lüneburg. Dahier starb im 84. Lebensjahre der Bankier S. Heinemann, Senior-Chef der besonders in der Provinz Hannover sehr bekannten und angesehenen alten Firma „Simon Heinemann."

Wilhelmshaven. Von dem Torpedoboot „S. 16" ist der Matrose Bergheff, aus Lehe bei Geestemünde gebürtig, nach Entwendung der Schiffskasse und unter Mitnahme geheimer Papiere über den Ozean entflohen.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Ems. Das israelitische Central-Waisen- und Mädchenheim, das vor vier Jahren von Limburg hierher verlegt wurde, nachdem die Baronin von Hirsch-Gereuth 40,000 Mark zum Ankauf eines Hauses beigesteuert hatte, ist durch eine neue Schenkung von 100,000 Mark durch den kürzlich in Nizza verstorbenen früheren Leipziger Bankier J. Plaut völlig gesichert worden. Plaut hatte der Anstalt schon früher über 20,000 Mark zugewendet. Das Heim hat augenblicklich etwa 30 Zöglinge.

Wabern. Die seit vorigem Jahre in Betrieb stehende „Gewerkschaft Arnsbach" bei Wabern hat die gehegten Erwartungen bei Weitem übertroffen. Es werden jetzt 103 Bergleute beschäftigt, die täglich 500 Hektoliter Braunkohlen zu Tage fördern. Da aber die Kohlenlager so stark sind, daß 600 Arbeiter Beschäftigung finden können, so steht eine wesentliche Vermehrung der Arbeitskräfte bevor. Um dem Wohnungsmangel abzuhelfen, sollen Arbeiterkasernen errichtet werden.

Hohenzollern.

Hechingen. Der Schriftsteller und langjähriger Redakteur der „Hohenzollerischen Blätter" Oskar v. Ehrenberg ist plötzlich gestorben. Insonderheit haben seine gründlichen wissenschaftlichen Arbeiten auf heraldischem Gebiete seinen Namen weit über die engen Grenzen Hohenzollerns hinaus rühmlich bekannt gemacht.

Provinz Pommern.

Köslin. Die Strafkammer erkannte gegen den Fleischermeister Heinrich Müller aus Zanow und seinen Schwiegersohn Georg Dumröse, die in Köslin tuberkulöses Fleisch verkauft hatten, auf drei Monate Gefängniß und 50 Mark Geldstrafe.

Wolgast. Der Bau einer normalspurigen Kleinbahn von Heringsdorf über Zinnowitz nach Wolgast ist so gut wie gesichert. Unternehmerin ist die Firma Lenz & Co.

Provinz Posen.

Posen. Die schwarzen Pocken fordern in der Provinz Posen, besonders in der Gegend von Gnesen, Inowrazlaw und Strelno noch immer Opfer. Auch ein Arzt wurde von ihnen dahingerafft. In dem Dorfe Brudzyn bei Janowitz wurde die Schule geschlossen, weil die entsetzliche Krankheit dort zu stark auftrat.—Die Strafkammer verurtheilte v. Siemiontkowski, Redakteur der polnischen Wochenschrift „Praca," wegen Verächtlichmachung von Staatseinrichtungen zusätzlich zu einer sechsmonatlichen Gefängnißstrafe. Das Vergehen wurde gefunden in einem Artikel über das Einschreiten der Polizei gegen den unerlaubten polnischen Privatunterricht, was als eine Schmach des Jahrhunderts bezeichnet war.

JOSEPH W. BAILEY.

Former Democratic Leader of the House Elected United States Senator from Texas.

Joseph W. Bailey, after two years of retirement, will reenter congress on March 4 next as a senator. He was elected the other day by the senate and house of representatives, sitting separately as the successor to Horace Chilton, United States senator from Texas.

In the senate Mr. Bailey received 47 votes and E. A. Atlee two. The house gave the former Gainesville congressman 110 votes, Mr. Chilton, two, and John M. Reagan and M. M. Crane, one each.

The election of Mr. Bailey followed a long debate in the house over the majority and minority reports of the Bailey investigating committee. The majority report exonerated Mr. Bailey from any moral or legal wrongdoing in the matter of securing a new permit for the Waters-Pierce Oil company, but severely criticised those who had seen fit to criticise Mr. Bailey and state officials. The majority report was adopted by a vote of 107 to 2.

(United States Senator-Elect from the State of Texas.)

Mr. Bailey made a unique record for himself while representing the citizens of the Gainesville district in congress. He was chosen leader of the democrats in the house at an age younger than that of any other man so honored. He continued while in congress to be one of the most remarkable figures in that body.

Mr. Bailey is a born Mississippian and is just past 37 years old. He was precocious in every way. At 20 he was graduated from Cumberland university. At 21 he was an elector on the Cleveland and Hendricks ticket, and at 27 he was elected to congress. Within six years he had risen to be the leader of his party in the house, and this in spite of his youth and the terrible temptations to one of his age to allow vanity and complacence to spoil his career. He goes to the senate one of the youngest men in that body.

MRS. GRANT AT HOME.

How the Widow of the Famous General and President Spends Her Declining Days.

Time has dealt gently with Mrs. U. S. Grant. In appearance she is still only "elderly." In her manner she is kind and motherly, showing a wonderful simplicity and naturalness when one stops to think of the artificial atmosphere in which she has lived so long.

She has recently been engaged in adding the finishing touches to a journal of her trip to California in 1894, which she intends to present to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ulysses Grant.

MRS. JULIA DENT GRANT.
(The Venerable Widow of America's Most Famous General.)

"When I am in the vein for it," Mrs. Grant says, "I write with great ease. My eyes have failed almost entirely, however, and spectacles being of no assistance, I can't read what I write. This makes revision difficult, and I decline many overtures from magazines and newspapers for articles. My poor sight, too, deprives me of the pleasure of going into society, which I should very much enjoy. It is embarrassing not to know people, and so I accept no invitations. Still, time doesn't hang heavy upon my hands. Mary reads the newspapers for me every morning, and I knit and take drives and loll about, and Nellie and I play patience and other games of cards."

Mrs. Sartoris and her family live with Mrs. Grant, and when they are all at home there are only two spare rooms. The house is not elaborately furnished, Mrs. Grant having used in it just what she happened to have when she moved in four years ago.

Rise of Dead Sea Level.

A marked rise in the level of the Dead sea has been noted. The ruin, El Bahr, that stood like an island near the mouth of the River Jordan, is now completely under water. A broad lagoon has formed on the north side of the Jordan delta. The water does not sink in summer and it is surmised that the whole bottom of the Dead sea has been raised by volcanic action.

A Philadelphia lady relates an experience of her own, saying that after suffering untold agony, her husband, who had heard Ripans Tabules very highly commended for persons suffering from lack of appetite or any complicated stomach trouble, strongly urged her to try them. Her stomach had seemed cold and she had had little appetite for many weeks. She determined to try the Tabules and to follow all the directions, but had little faith that there was any cure for the serious complications that appeared to have taken possession of her. It seemed to her hardly possible that a 50-cent package of Ripans Tabules would cure when a large doctor's bill of $50 had failed to confer any benefit. "But," she said, joyfully, "they did! and my husband noticed a marked improvement almost immediately and now I can truly say that my health is better than ever."

Pretty Underwear Daintily Made by Hand.

Elegance of underwear is not now denoted by a profusion of trimming. Rather is it indicated by fineness of material, simplicity of decoration and delicacy of workmanship. The nicest underwear is, of course, all made by hand, and the little tucks, etc., are marvels of dainty needlework. Women who are fond of sewing find this the prettiest and most satisfactory sort of fancy work, and as the material employed—fine batiste, cambric, etc., with no dressing in it—is very soft progress is by no means slow and the manufacture of a constant supply of dainty underwear no arduous task. Valenciennes lace is the trimming usually employed, although there are all sorts of fine open and embroidered insertions which are attractive and bear laundering equally well. Hemstitched ruffles of various widths are also pretty and much in vogue.

A picture is given of a dinner bodice of broche silk. It has a tight fitting back and a coat basque. In front it is caught up to the bosom and draped by a large bouquet of parma violets. The pointed vest is plainly fastened with small ornamental buttons and is of grosgrain silk matching the figures of the broche silk. The long sleeves of broche silk are tight and flare at the wrist. The decolletage is framed in a large collar or bertha of fur.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FANCY BALLS

Costumes of Various Sorts For Evening Entertainments.

The season of fancy dress entertainments is in full swing, and there are the usual motley collections of costumes available. The large number of glittering metallic and jeweled materials available this season affords, however, special scope to designers of fantastic dress and also suggests a preponderance of oriental and fairy tale gowns. A little glitter goes a long way in fancy costume, and very pretty things may be made at home with comparatively small expense. Among costumes of this sort may be mentioned the harlequin, which may be feminine as well as masculine and for which all sorts of odd scraps of silk and ribbon may be utilized, brightened by a judicious sprinkling of spangles.

The picture given today shows a Swiss peasant costume. The skirt of dark blue wool goods is bordered by two bands of bright embroidered galloon, and there is an apron of changeable silk, with lines of featherstitching across the hem. The high corselet of black velvet is trimmed with gold galloon and laced by cords and buttons. This is worn over a chemisette of white muslin, and there is a sort of yoke of black velvet trimmed to match the corselet and attached to it at the shoulders. The full sleeves are gathered in at the elbow by a black velvet band. The cap of black velvet has wings of black lace.

SPRING MILLINERY.

It Is Displayed In Full Glory, Preparatory to Easter.

Spring fashions are in full bloom, and the millinery displayed is of most varied character. The general effect of hats is low and broad, with the trimming well distributed and a tendency to large, flat masses of drapery and flowers rather than erect, slender decorations. Among hats all of flowers may be mentioned a new model in which the flat crown is composed of one enormous pink rose six or seven inches in diameter, while the brim is a wreath of green rose leaves, small but crowded thickly together in a mass. Then there are draped toques of all sorts of diaphanous materials—tulle, crepons, net, crepe de chine and mousseline de soie—and for trimmings lace of all kinds, thick and thin, flowers, metal decorations and less often feathers. Straw, horsehair braid and shirred taffeta are also used for hats, but in nearly all cases the soft draped effect is preserved, except in the case of outing hats.

The cut shows a gown of pearl gray cloth. The skirt has three stitched bands of cloth running around it horizontally and three others at each side running vertically and outlining the tablier. These terminate under buttons. The open bolero is trimmed with stitched bands to match, with revers and cuffs of stitched folds of capucine panne. The collar and the chemisette are of white linen, as are the puffs at the wrists. The wide corselet belt is of capucine panne. The hat of pearl gray silk is trimmed with a bow of capucine velvet. Pearl gray gloves are worn.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SILK PETTICOATS.

Taffeta Supplemented by Silks Having Woven Designs.

Broche silk petticoats of two colors, making a medium tone, are useful for general service and may accompany almost any sort of gown. Where several nice petticoats are obtainable of course one or two may be very light in tint and delicately trimmed. Satin is sometimes employed, but is lined with taffeta. Nothing is really prettier than very fine lawn or batiste skirts of pure white embroidered and trimmed with lace.

Taffeta petticoats have become rather common, and serviceable qualities of broche silk are now preferred. There is often a lining, which should match the petticoat as nearly as possible.

To accompany tailor made gowns full chemisettes and cravats are indispensable. They are made of mousseline de soie and lace rather than surah, although the latter is more substantial. Fancy collars, ornamented with velvet ribbons, having ends terminating in metal tips, are immensely employed.

The illustration shows a pretty bodice of nile green faille. The collar, small guimpe and narrow plastron are of plaited white faille, and the fastening is covered by loops of black velvet ribbon and little gold buttons. There is a sort of double collar forming tabs in front, and all the edges are trimmed with narrow black and gold passementerie. The sleeves are plaited and have a large puff at the elbow headed by a band of black velvet with a bow and gold buckle. There are cuffs trimmed with passementerie.

PRINCE OF MONACO.

Ruler of Gambling Principality Would Be Free Again.

Therefore He Seeks to Have His Marriage Annulled—His Present Wife the Daughter of a New Orleans Banker.

It is not a divorce which Prince Albert of Monaco is now endeavoring to secure from his American born wife, but an annulment of the marriage, which would not only liberate him from all financial obligations toward her, but, likewise, deprive her of the title of princess of Monaco, besides paving the way to his third marriage with some princess of the blood, the name of the widowed duchess of Aosta, only sister of Princess Louis and Victor Bonaparte, being freely mentioned in connection with this matrimonial project.

The grounds on which the prince is seeking to secure an annulment of his union to the daughter of the New Orleans banker, Michael Heine, are that there was a serious legal flaw in the marriage. His first matrimonial alliance was with Lady Mary Hamilton, sister of the late duke of Hamilton, the wedding taking place in the presence of Emperor Napoleon and Empress Eugenie in Paris.

This marriage was subsequently annulled ecclesiastically by the vatican on the ground that Lady Mary had been forced into the match against her will, the decree at the same time recognizing as legitimate the child born of the union, Prince Louis, who is now heir to the throne of Monaco. This decree was confirmed by the late prince of Monaco in July, 1880.

But Prince Albert's first marriage had been contracted in France while he was still heir apparent, and consequently entitled to no extra territorial privileges, ranking merely as a French nobleman; that is to say, as duke of Mazarin, of Valentinois and of Mayenne. But in 1880 there was no such thing as divorce in the French code the divorce laws now in existence only coming into operation several years later.

PRINCE ALBERT OF MONACO.
(Real Owner of the Gambling Resort at Monte Carlo.)

In 1889, says the New York Journal, Prince Albert married, in France, Alice Heine, widow of the French duke of Richelieu, without having taken any steps to have either the vatican decree of his annulment or the Monaco decree of his first marriage recognized and confirmed by the French divorce courts. Indeed, on the register of marriages of the eighth district of Paris, where the second marriage of the prince took place 11 years ago, the word divorce is not mentioned, the only reference to the prince's first wife being a remark that he had previously married Lady Mary Hamilton.

According to French law the prince was, therefore, not free to wed the widowed duchess of Richelieu in 1889, having neglected to take the necessary legal steps to liberate himself from his matrimonial bonds. Hence his second marriage is from the point of view of French law invalid, and even bigamous. It may be argued that the prince as a reigning sovereign is exempt from the jurisdiction of the French courts. But the very fact that he should have appealed to the latter to rid him of his American-born wife indicates that he is willing to recognize their competence, in which he is undoubtedly right. For, besides being prince of Monaco, he is, as stated above, a French nobleman and territorial magnate.

Both his marriages have been contracted in France. His principal residence is in Paris, and the principality of Monaco is within both the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the French courts.

The success of the project of the prince is regarded as assured. For by refraining from any opposition the princess will evade the scandal of a divorce suit and the legal associations of her name with that of the co-respondent. Being immensely rich in her own right, she can well afford to forego any alimony from the prince, while in losing the title of princess of Monaco and of duchess of Mazarin, she has a right to resume her former style as widowed duchess of Richelieu, which is assuredly a more illustrious name than that of either Mazarin or Monaco. Nor has she borne any children to the prince of Monaco since her marriage to him, so that she need not be influenced by considerations of that character.

HOW HE WON FREEDOM.

Jailer's Daughter and a Saw Help a Young Truant to Escape from a Calaboose.

A boy tramp of the variety that goes west to fight Indians every spring found himself incarcerated as a vagrant in a town some hundreds of miles distant from his native city of Chicago. In recounting his plight and his deliverance from durance vile he told a nice little romance to his friends on his return.

"I was in a loghouse prison," he said, "and could see dimly through the chinks. It was nightfall. I heard the soft accents of a female's voice outside the log against which my eyes were riveted. She was speaking to me. What she said was that she was the town marshal's daughter. That is to say, she was the daughter of my jailer I asked her whether she was placed a sentinel over me, to shoot me in case I tried to overturn the log house and attempt to make my escape. She replied that she would like to see me escape, but declared I had not sufficient strength to procure liberty in any other way except by sawing my way out. She handed me the saw, a tiny one that had just room to pass through the chink. In an hour I had cut a chunk out of the bottom log. I crawled out. The marshal's daughter was there to greet me. She said she liked my appearance when she saw her father lock me up. After getting my name and address and having told me she would write or visit me in Chicago she commanded me to run for my life. I ran. Her father was shooting at me in another second, but he missed every shot. I was near enough to him to allow the powder of his revolver to burn my coat. I afterward thought the reason he failed to hit me was because his daughter no doubt had substituted blank cartridges for bullets. What a bird she was! And won't I see her again soon? You bet I will. Jails have no terrors for a boy who wins such a sweetheart."

SEIZED POKER CHIPS.

Two Colorado Women Take a Novel Way to Collect a Debt from a Gambling Miner.

Two women recently visited a gambling house in the Redlight district of Leadville, Col., and got money from a delinquent debtor by taking forcible possession of his stack of chips.

W. H. Bauman, according to his creditors, Mrs. Shytte and Mrs. Sowa, refused to pay them, although he is earning good wages as a miner. He owed them, they say, for board and for taking care of his children. They learned that he was spending his money gambling. A policeman guided them to the place where Bauman was taking part in a game of poker, the only game that is permitted by the authorities. A porter tried to stop them, but was thrust aside. Entering the lair of the tiger, they found Bauman seated behind a big stack of ivory and at once demanded a settlement. Bauman paid no attention to them, as a big jackpot in which he was heavily interested had just been opened.

The two women, however, were equal to the emergency. One of them held her apron open while the other swept Bauman's chips into it. There were many players in the room, but none interfered. The dealer allowed the women to cash them, and they gave Bauman receipted bills for the amount due them.

Home for Divorced Women.

A club has been established at Vienna to provide women who divorced their husbands with home comforts. Legal aid will be given to intending divorcees, and a movement has been started to secure a repeal of the law under which uncontrollable sympathy is a valid ground for divorce. The foundresses of the club are 12 women whose divorces astonished Viennese society.

CUBA'S CONSTITUTION.

Plans an Independent Government Based on the Legislative Experience of This Country.

The Cubans are now hard at work making plans for a constitution or set of laws by which the business of Cuba as a free and independent state shall be carried on. When the war between Spain and the United States was ended, Cuba was freed from the government of Spain and the United States only took charge of her affairs as a sort of big sister until the Cubans could plan a form of government that gave promise of freedom to all the people and that would protect the interests of the United States, her nearest neighbor. The constitution that the Cubans are working on is planned on the constitution of the United States, and consists of 25 sections. The first one declares that Cuba is a sovereign or free state, having the same territory as when it belonged to Spain. All Cubans and those foreigners who fought for the freedom of Cuba shall be citizens—that is, they shall be allowed to vote. Plans are made for a senate, which shall have four members from each of the six states, or provinces. Each senator, like United States senators, shall serve six years. The house of representatives shall have one member for each 30,000 people, and they shall serve for two years. The chief executive officer of the Cuban republic, that is, the officer called the president, whose duty it is to carry out the laws made by the senate and house, is to serve six years, and is elected by a vote of the people directly. The president must be a Cuban, or have served ten years in the Cuban army, and is to have command of the army and navy. Each state or province is to have a governor, who shall serve three years. To help him carry on the business of his state, a body of men called an assembly is to be elected, one assemblyman for each 12,000 people.

(He May Be the First President of the New Cuban Republic.)

THE DUKE OF YORK.

He Is Now Direct Heir to the Throne and Will Soon Be Created Prince of Wales.

George, duke of York, and heir-apparent to the throne of England, is the second son of King Edward VII., and succeeded to his title on the death of Albert Victor, duke of Clarence, an event which, in 1892, plunged England into profound grief. The young prince was on the eve of his wedding to Victoria Mary, daughter of the duke of Teck, when he was stricken with a fatal malady, and after a suitable tim the duke of York married her. They have two sons and a daughter, and the young duchess is a great favorite in England, partly on her own account and partly on account of her mother, the broad-spirited and noble duchess of Teck. The duke of York has had service as a sailor in her majesty's navy and is one of the popular members of the royal household. He will in due season be created prince of Wales, the title so long held by his father.

GEORGE, DUKE OF YORK.
(Heir Presumptive to the Throne of Great Britain and Ireland.)

Contrary to general opinion, the duke of York does not at once become prince of Wales through the accession of his father. The title of prince of Wales becomes merged in the sovereignty, but the king will exercise his prerogative and confer the principality of Wales on the heir apparent. The new king was born on November 9, 1841, but he was created prince of Wales only on the following December 4. There have been six royal princes who have never been created prince of Wales. However, the duke of York becomes at once duke of Cornwall, and the duchess of Prince (Princess Louise of Wales) becomes a princess royal, as this capacity is treated by the law in much the same way as the mother of a queen consort.

Betrayed by Her Plunder.

A girl shoplifter stole a clock in a store in New York the other day, but the alarm went off before she reached the door and she was arrested.

QUEER FIRE STORY.

Flames Extinguished with Fine Old California Claret.

When the Water Gave Out a Resourceful Winery Owner Attached the Hose to Great Vats of Rare Zinfandel.

A great fire was put out with wine in southern California recently. It happened that the water had given out, but there was plenty of the fluid usually held in higher esteem. Strange to say, the wine proved a very effective fire extinguisher.

This incident is described in an interesting article in the Scientific American.

The fire recently occurred near the town of Wrights, in the Santa Cruz mountains, south of San Francisco. Here the fire was started, as in many instances, by an irresponsible rancher who was burning brush. The wind sprang up suddenly and swept the flames into the forest, and in a very short time a fierce wall of flame was rushing up the west slopes of the coast range, carrying destruction before it. The mountains were covered with a fine growth of old oaks, mazanits and mandrones—landmarks in the country—which fell like straw before the destroyer. The walls of flame swept to the summit and descended into the canyons, following these rivers of verdure in and out, rushing on in an ever-increasing volume.

In the pathway of the fire were the ranch and Mare Vista winery of E. E. Meyer, one of the largest winemaking establishments and vineyards in Santa Clara county. To protect it and the homes in the vicinity the people of the surrounding country assembled en masse, organized themselves into an efficient body of fire fighters and began a campaign in which striking acts of valor were performed. It was impossible to stay the flames, and as they went rushng down the canyon toward the winery destruction of the valuable property seemed inevitable.

Trees in advance were cut down, ditches of earth dug, and every expedient known to fire fighting of today was tried; but so fierce were the flames that they seemed to leap hundreds of feet into the air, bounding in lurid sheets over the breaks, and in an incredibly short time swept down to the winery, as shown in the accompanying illustration, and surrounded it. Under ordinary circumstances it would have seemed impossible to save the building, but the band of workers rallied under the intelligent lead of the Meyers, and men were posted on the roof who poured streams of water upon every portion. Young Mr. Meyer was held by ropes from a window while he used the hose upon the flames which were licking up the timbers at the base of the building, the heat being so intense that a stream had to be played upon his body.

It was believed that the winery could be saved, when, without warning, the water gave out. Some large trees, which were dropping in every direction, had fallen upon the supply pipes, crushing them in and clogging the reservoir. This was an unexpected catastrophe, but the resources of the fire fighters were by no means exhausted, though a desperate expedient was resorted to.

The owner of the winery gave the order to attach the hose to the great vats of Zinfandel wine which were stored in the cellar, and man the wine pumps. This was promptly done.

Four thousand gallons of this wine was thrown upon the flames in this way before the building was safe, probably one of the most remarkable and successful methods of fighting fire known. The method was somewhat expensive, as the wine retailed at 50 cents per quart when bottled, and $8,000 in wine was used, yet it saved buildings and machinery worth many thousand dollars and demonstrated that a winery has a protective against fire in its vats if the owner has the courage to use it.

Cotton Growing in Oklahoma.

It is believed by many that the dry climate of southern Oklahoma and the southern district of the Indian Territory is going to make that section the home for the finest grades of cotton. An item from Dennison, Tex., says: "During the season it has developed that the cotton grown in the Choctaw nation was of an extra good fiber, grading above the average and in great demand for export. A great deal has been shipped to Germany and England. Indian cotton hereafter will command the top price."

He Got Some Work to Do.

"Prisoner," said the learned magistrate to a lazy fellow before him, "this is the third time you've been here."

"But, your honor," pleaded the prisoner, "I've been trying to get work and couldn't."

"You wouldn't work if you could get it."

"Yes, I would, your honor."

"What kind of work?"

"Anything, your honor, so long as it was honest work."

"What kind of wages?"

"Wages is no object, your honor; all I want is work, with food, and clothing, and a shelter."

"And you'd work if you had that sort of a job?"

"Indeed, I would, your honor; only try me," and the tears actually came into his eyes.

"Very well," said the magistrate kindly, "we'll give you a job, with shelter, food and clothing combined. Six months' hard labor. Next case."—Tit-Bits.

Exploration of Lake Tanganyika.

An interesting exploration of Lake Tanganyika and the country north of it, finished recently, revealed the fact that while certain sea mollusks are found in this lake, it is the only one of all the large African lakes in which such phenomena are observed. This lake is only a short distance, some 80 miles, from the great Congo basin, much of which, without doubt, was once covered by the sea. The halolimnic fauna apepared to extend into the Congo valley, and it is believed that the lake at one time extended considerably to the west. Lake Nyassa, on the other hand, has every characteristic of a fresh-water lake, and the geological fauna does not indicate that this lake is of any great age.—N. Y. Post.

Observant Little Charles.

As has been said before, Charles is a very observing boy. Yesterday one of mamma's friends came to the house to call. Mamma was out and Charles opened the door.

"Mamma is not at home," he said.

"Will you please give her my card when she comes?" inquired the caller.

"Yeth, ma'am," said Charles.

The caller opened her card case, and as she withdrew the engraved pasteboard a bit of tissue paper fluttered down onto the steps. Very grandly Charles picked it up and handed it to her, saying:

"You dropped one of your cigarette papers."—Albany Journal.

Lilacs Came from Europe.

The common lilac, which is known to botanists as syringa vulgaris, has been in cultivation for over 300 years and its native home is said to be on the mountainous regions of central Europe, from Piedmont to Hungary, whence it was introduced to cultivation in 1597. Botanists recognize about 12 species of lilacs found in a wild state and these are native from southwestern Europe through central Asia and the Himlayas to Mongolia, northern China and Japan. None of the species are natives of the American continent.—N. Y. Herald.

A Scientific Scrap-Book.

Mr. L. O. Howard, chief of the division of entomology, felt somewhat flattered at receiving one day a letter from a gentleman asking him to send a copy of his report.

COUNCIL TAKES STAND ON SEWER ORDINANCE

Measure Providing For Changes at Sewage Disposal Beds Passed on First Reading.

VOTE WAS UNANIMOUS.

MESSRS. DUMONT, MELLICK AND CORIELL WERE ABSENT.

W. L. Hetfield Protested Against It By Letter—Was The Only Objector—Collector to Continue Martin Act Sales—Stone Contract Awarded.

The adjourned meeting of the Common Council held last evening was not a long one, but considerable business was considered. In the absence of President J. B. Dumont, his place was filled by Mr. VanHerwerden. The other members absent included Councilmen Coriell and Mellick. Mr. Lee came in late.

On a motion offered by Mr. Tolles the regular order of business was suspended and the ordinance providing for the improvements to the sewage beds was introduced and adopted on the first and second readings and ordered advertised. An opportunity was given for anyone to object to the passage of the ordinance. There was one remonstrance, from Former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield.

He cited the fact that the system proposed had been tried in Brooklyn and had proved a failure. He also spoke of the cost to date of Plainfield's sewage system, which had been experimental from the start. He considered the proposed improvements as such and advised that still further consideration be given the matter before any action was taken. Mr. Hetfield also spoke of the fact that Mr. Spangenberg had offered to give a similar system a trial free of cost and then give the city a chance to buy the same at a cost of $15,000 if it proved satisfactory. Here was something which would undoubtedly cost the city $50,000 more before the improvements are completed and then there are no reasonable assurances that it will be a success. He suggested that Mr. Osgood demonstrate the system before the people are asked to pay for the improvements. Mr. Hetfield's communication was filed and no further consideration was given to it.

The regular order of business was then taken up. The bond of George E. Rogers, as constable, was received, approved and filed. Mrs. James Flynn asked for permission to erect a porch at her store, corner of Plainfield avenue and West Third street, and the matter was referred with power.

Fred Coleman protested against the payment of a dog tax for the year 1901, and he asked to have the matter adjusted. It was referred to the finance committee. A number of remonstrances were received against the granting of a liquor license to Hans Hansen at 214 Richmond street. Later Mr. Gloak, chairman of the license committee, stated that Mr. Hansen desired to withdraw his application.

The board of directors of the Public Library communicated with the Council asking for $4,000 as the necessary amount for maintaining the library and reading room during 1901. The matter was referred.

The resignation of John Winzenreid was received and accepted by the Council. It is not likely that his place will be filled for the present. At this time Mayor Jenkins appointed Wesley Dunn as a call man in the fire department to take the place of George R. Townley, resigned. He also appointed William Harding and Edward Dobbs as special policemen. The appointments were confirmed.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh communicated with the Council informing the members that steps should be taken to sell lands for 1897 and 1898 taxes under the Martin Act, in accordance with the provisions of the Act. He stated that no deed could be given in selling until one year after date of sale. A resolution was then adopted directing the tax collector to proceed to sell such lands upon which taxes are owing for the two years named.

Mr. Lee made a motion that $85.49 as taxes paid twice by the Mutual Life Insurance Company be returned to the company; also that $20 be appropriated for payment of bills before the Legislature which are sent to the Corporation Counsel.

Mr. Tolles offered a resolution that the contract for crushed stone be awarded to A. I. & N. B. Smalley and the contract for sidewalks and curbing be given to Andrew Roach. He stated that the bid of Smalley Bros

LEDERER'S GREAT DISPLAY.

Millinery Opening at That Popular Store Will Open Thursday.

Isaac Lederer offers a larger assortment of fine goods in the millinery line than ever before. His spring opening will not occur until Thursday but already the display is magnificent. The most fetching shapes are in the stock.

A winning design is a hat of yellow and gold lace with flat crown covered with pale pink roses and foliage. The brim is faced with a large pink rose and the bow is a black velvet ribbon.

Dresden effects, satin taffettas, gold and silver materials are much used. Fifteen years' experience and the able management of Miss Casey, who is well known as a successful milliner, have largely contributed to the immense trade which Lederer's command.

FACTORY AMONG RESIDENCES

BOARD OF TRADE TRIED TO SECURE GLOVE FACTORY FOR PLAINFIELD.

But Members Were Horrified to Find Company Intended to Build on Washington Avenue, Near Brook.

To the great surprise and consternation of the majority of the members it was learned at the Board of Trade meeting last evening, that the Perrin-Freres Glove Company, to whom factory sites had been offered by several citizens, had rejected them all and purchased a plot of ground on Washington avenue, where in a short time it is their intention to erect a three story building for the manufacture of gloves. Half of the purchase price has already been paid and the titles are now being searched. When this is completed building operations will be commenced at once.

The ground was purchased of James Manning, the contractor and builder, and is situated on the east side of the avenue, between Front street and the bridge, almost on the borders of Washington Park.

With one accord the board agreed the erection of the building would result in a great depreciation in the value of property in the near vicinity with a corresponding loss to the owners, in addition to the annoyance of having this hitherto residential section turned into a glove-making center.

In their opinion the only way to prevent the company carrying out their plans would be to write to the officials and explain the disadvantages of the place for building purposes as it is not accessible for workmen and far from the railroad. The secretary was empowered to do this and John H. French was appointed a committee of one to see the original owner, Mr. Manning, and ask him to reconsider his action in selling the property, as it would in all probability prove detrimental to himself as well as others.

WIDENING STREET.

Street Commissioner Gavett's Men Are Working on Giraud Avenue Which is to be Made Fifty Feet Wide.

Street Commissioner Gavett is engaged in superintending the widening of Giraud avenue from Front street to the brook. The present width of the avenue at this point is thirty feet from building line to building line, and it is proposed to increase the width to fifty feet.

The gravel used for grading is being hauled from the excavations of the cellar of Smalley brothers' lot on North avenue and is furnished gratitutiously to the city by the Smalley brothers.

MILLINERY OPENING.

Crosby & Hill Have the Newest and Most Fetching Designs For Spring Trade.

Crosby & Hill commenced this morning to supply their extensive trade with the newest and most fetching designs in spring millinery. The average design in the gorgeous and varied collection is a flat pancake effect with trimmings low and broad.

The shades of ribbon and the straws are nile, blue and tuscan. The flowers are large roses backed with dark foliage. Taffeta silk or tucked chiffon are seen on the major part of the hats and wide laces also enter into the make up. A specialty offered is a $3.98 design in any color desired.

Miss Daly, the obliging superintendent of the department, has taken great pains to make this sale a record breaker.

Settled Fire Loss.

Insurance Agent W. A. Woodruff settled yesterday with John Logan, of Dunellen, for the damage to his furniture caused by a small fire Sunday.

SOME CHANGES IN BOROUGH OFFICIALS.

Appointed By Mayor Smalley and Council Promptly Confirmed Them Last Evening.

THE SALARIES WERE FIXED.

CHARLES L. LEE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

Mayor Appointed New Committees—Council Organized For Ensuing Year—Considerable Routine Business Transacted.

The Mayor and Council of North Plainfield met last evening in the Council chamber on Somerset street for the purpose of organizing for the ensuing year. The principal business transacted was the confirmation of the Mayor's appointees for the various borough offices, specifying their salaries, and the appointment of the councilmanic committees by His Honor. Administering the oath to Councilmen elect Charles L. Nichols and E. L. Northrop and an informal address outlining the policy of the administration by the Mayor, were two features of the meeting which attracted much attention.

The rules of order previously used were adopted on motion and the salaries of the borough officers were confirmed on motion with the exception of the chief marshal's salary which was increased to $60 per month. As amended, the salaries are: Borough clerk, $300; borough attorney, $350; borough physician, $125; chief marshal, $720; marshals, $600; special marshals, 25 cents per working hour or $2 per day; chief of fire department, $100; engineer of Warren Engine Company, $50; janitor, Warren Engine Company, $70; janitor, West End Hose Company, $25; borough electrician, $125; overseer of poor, $150; commissioner of highways, $2 per day, and recorder, $200.

Charles L. Lee was unanimously elected president of the Council and the first Friday evening of each month, at 8 o'clock was selected as the time for the regular monthly meetings.

$500 was the amount agreed upon for the marshal's bonds while the clerk will have to furnish a bond for $1,000. The borough engineers elected are F. J. Hubbard and H. L. VanEmburgh. The former will have charge of the borough work on the east side and the latter on the west side of Somerset street.

The Mayor's nomination of borough officers, all of which were confirmed without opposition, were: Marshals, Wm. Campbell, F. E. Winn, F. J. Emmons and Philip Voorhees; special marshals, L. W. Pope, Francis M. Whiteley, Israel Jones, Herman Klinsman, Richard McDonald, James M. Baglin, Emil Coley, Louis C. Wyckoff, Wm. Kiernan, Geo. Guenther, James Block, Patrick Reagen, Alexander G. Mair, George Weiss, Henry Meyers, Robert Carson, Daniel C. Adams, Thomas Rutledge, J. H. Buchanan, H. L. Potter, F. E. Woodruff, Lawrence Fahn and William Pangborn; borough clerk, Frank Rowley; borough attorney, Senator Chas. A. Reed; overseer of the poor, W. G. Debele; borough physician, Albert Pittis, M. D.; recorder, Thomas Dowd; chief of fire department, J. J. Stahl; first assistant chief of fire department, Charles Keller; engineer, Warren Engine Company, John Schenck; janitor of Warren Engine Company, George B. Stewart; and janitor of West End Hose Company, Frank Perry.

Wm. Campbell was appointed and confirmed as chief marshal.

The committees were then named by Mayor Smalley and they met with the approval of the councilmen. They are: On streets and public health, Clark, Coddington and Northrop; on fire, water and lamps, Northrop, Clark and Coddington; on auditing and finance, Nichols, Northrop and Lee; on licenses and marshals, Lee, Clark and Coddington; on stationery and supplies, Coddington, Swackhamer and Lee, and on laws, ordinances and taxation, Swackhamer, Nichols and Northrop.

The re-appointment of a committee on municipal ownership was held under advisement by the Mayor as was also the appointment of a street commissioner. Before adjournment a resolution was passed authorizing the street committee to advertise for bids for crushed stone, and flagging for cross-walks and side walks.

David Bree, of Asbury Park, has accepted a position as clerk at Hepburn's pharmacy.

MACK SAYS RICH WAS THE BURGLAR.

Two Men Locked up on the Charge of Breaking in Taub's Shop on Somerset Street.

BURGLAR BROKE IN WINDOW.

BURGLAR WAS DEPARTING WITH BOOTY WHEN TAUB ARRIVED.

Edward Mack Says That Wm. Rich Planned the Job and Forced an Entrance Into Shop—Rich Denies Story—Both Are Arrested.

A daring burglary was perpetrated just before 10 o'clock last evening at Samuel Taub's shoe and cigar store on Somerset street, and through the weakening of one of the alleged thieves, Wm. Rich, of 522 West Second street, and Eddie Mack, of Somerset street, are detained in the city police headquarters by Chief Kiely, charged with the commission of the burglary.

The stories of the affair told by the two prisoners differ somewhat. Rich, it is said, was to have ransacked the store while Mack stood guard. It is alleged that Rich entered the building by knocking out a pane of glass in a rear window and smashing an inside shutter. He unloosed the bolt and climbed into the store.

While this was going on Mack, it is alleged, became frightened and notified the people living next door to the store who in turn summoned the proprietor.

Taub hastened to the store and found the burglar leaving the rear door as he entered the front. The man, dropping a bag of booty, scaled a side fence and escaped. Mack at once laid the details of his version of the affair before Chief Marshal Campbell.

On the information received Chief of Police Kiely, of this city, ordered the arrest of Rich, who was captured early this morning by Sergeant Frederickson at his boarding place, 522 West Second street.

When examined by Chief Kiely Mack admitted having been with Rich last evening, but denied being an accessory to the burglary, while Rich contended that Mack planned the affair. Both men were held by the Chief. A large bag containing eight pairs of shoes was found last night in the rear yard of Taub's place, and this morning a heavy hatchet covered with chamois skin was picked up by Taub in his store.

In a search of Rich's room at 522 West Second street, two partially filled cigar boxes were found and these are claimed by Taub as his property.

Death of Mrs. Tobin.

The death of Mrs. Mary Tobin, wife of John Tobin, of West Third street, occurred at her home yesterday after a brief illness. She was fifty-two years old and was an old resident of this city. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. William Ross and Mrs. Samuel Hannigan, both of this city. The funeral services will be held from her late residence tomorrow morning at 8:30 and from St. Mary's church at 9. Interment will be at St. Mary's cemetery.

Social and Business Meeting.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Crescent Avenue church held a social and business meeting at the residence of Stanley M. Voorhees, on Kensington avenue, Saturday evening. The members decided that in the future they would use the Christian Hymns Gospel book introduced at the recent evangelistic services by Mr. Weeden.

No Meeting of City Committee.

Owing to the fact that the members of the City Executive Republican Committee were busily engaged last evening at various places, it was impossible to hold a meeting as scheduled. An effort will be made to hold the meeting in the near future. Due announcement will be given of the time.

To Receive Instruction.

There will be a school for the officers of Co. K Thursday evening. Lieut. Wehrley, of Somerville, who has been deputized to instruct the newly-elected officers, will be in charge. The members of the company expect to receive their uniforms in a short time.

Death of Mrs. Campbell.

Mrs. Carrie A. Campbell, wife of William Campbell, of Johnston avenue, died at her home yesterday. She was in her fortieth year and leaves an infant child. The funeral services will be held from the Bound Brook Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WHAT BOROUGH MAYOR WANTS TO ACCOMPLISH

Mayor Smalley Outlined His Policy for New Term at the Council Meeting.

HAD NO REGULAR MESSAGE.

CONSIDERED ELECTION AN ENDORSEMENT OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

Favored Wider Crosswalks and More Macadam Street—Necessity of Best of Everything—Declared Annexation Plan to Be Dead.

Mayor N. B. Smalley delivered an informal extemporaneous speech at the opening of the Borough Council meeting last evening and in it briefly announced the plans of the administration for the future management of the borough. No regular message was read inasmuch as the Mayor felt that in succeeding himself an informal talk would serve the purpose.

He declared that the election of one week ago could be taken as an approval by the citizens of the record made by the last administration. He announced that he would continue to work on the same lines with renewed efforts so that at the end of his second term the people might be able to say that the Mayor and Council had been good public servants.

He impressed on the councilmen the duty of advancing as much time as possible to the advancement of the borough's interests. In thanking Councilman Clark for his services, as chairman of the street committee, the Mayor said that he hoped the committee would widen the crosswalks to a width corresponding to that of the pavement, which is four feet. He advocated macadamizing all the streets that needed it at early date and particularly referred to portions of Westervelt avenue, Steiner place and Willow avenue, and advocated the constant repairing of the streets already macadamized.

The Mayor referred to the advantages and disadvantages of the close proximity of the borough to the city, and remarked that the amount of taxes contributed by the citizens made it a duty of councils to furnish the purest water, best electric light, streets, police and fire protection. The streets should be sprinkled and repaired.

In his efforts to have Somerset street widened the Mayor declared that he was working for the business community at large and not for the interests of the abutting property owners. He believed the time would come when the widening would extend from the borough line to the county line. The annexation craze, he ventured to predict, was dead and remarked that when at its height there were few who supported it.

In conclusion he again impressed on the councilmen the duty to faithfully discharge the trust reposed in them, for, said the Mayor, the responsibility is on your shoulders and the people expect a good administration.

Farewell Affair.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

South Plainfield, March 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Randolph, who have been residents of this place for thirty-five years, have decided to take up their residence in Plainfield. In honor of their long residence here a surprise party was tendered to them Sunday evening at their home. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and a very pleasant evening was spent in a social way. Before the guests returned to their homes a bountiful supper was served.

Col. Harris is Critically Ill.

In yesterday's Press a statement was made to the effect that Miss Louella Harris, of the First Baptist church choir, had been called from the service on account of the death of her father, Col. Chauncey Harris, of Elizabeth. The statement was an error, as Col. Harris is not dead but critically ill.

To Furnish Water For Engine.

The borough of High Bridge has contracted to furnish water for the engines on the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The water will be conveyed to the engines from a large stand pipe which will be erected at once.

Musicale and Tea.

The Golden Rule Circle, King's Daughters, will hold a musicale and tea Friday afternoon, March 29, from 3 to 6 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. John Valiant, 38 Myrtle avenue.

Special Salvation Army Service.

Major Walder, of Newark, will conduct a special service in the Salvation Army Hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

BEAUTIFUL DESIGNS.

Fine Display to be Seen at the Millinery Opening at Boehm's.

An elaborate event is made at the spring opening of the large millinery department of I. H. Boehm on West Front street. Today a valuable collection of hats and trimmings are shown to the crowd of patrons. A most stylish design is a flat effect trimmed with tucked web chiffon which is interspersed with roses in full bloom.

Velvet, gilt and striped materials are largely used in the make-ups at this establishment. Boehm claims to have the largest stock in the city and this year he is making a specialty of trimming hats while you wait, free of charge. Today, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are the days on which the display plays a particular part in the store's attractions.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE WED

MISS CORA SCULL AND FRED H. FIRSTBROOK MARRIED.

Ceremony Took Place Last Evening at Bride's Home in Presence of Relative and Friends—To Reside Here.

A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McB. Scull, of Central avenue, last evening, when their daughter, Miss Cora Scull, became the wife of Fred H. Firstbrook, one of Plainfield's popular and well-known young men. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. K. Newell, pastor of Hope chapel, of which the groom has been a member for many years, and was witnessed by one hundred and fifty guests from this city, Newark, Orange, Dover and Cranford.

The bride was attired in a gown of mousilin de soie over white taffeta silk and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Grace Adams, an intimate friend, who acted as bridemaid. The latter wore white organdie with blue trimmings and carried carnations. The best man was Randolph Marsh, also of this city.

The ceremony took place in the parlor to which the bridal party proceeded while Lohengrin's beautiful wedding march was played by Albert W. Pangborn, of this city.

At its conclusion a reception was held which lasted until midnight at which time the young couple took their departure. They will spend a week at Washington, D. C., and, on their return, will begin housekeeping in their own home on West Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Firstbrook received more than the usual number of presents, the beautiful array being greatly admired by the assembled guests.

THE WIND UP.

Finishing up the Affairs of the Defunct Union County Country Club.

Robert A. Meeker, as receiver of the Union County Country Club has sent notices to the creditors and members of the defunct organization that his final account as receiver is on file at the Chancery Chambers, Exchange place, Jersey City, where it may be inspected by them.

The account shows a balance in the hands of the receiver amounting to $1,212.94. An application for an order allowing and confirming the account, as well as fixing the compensation and counsel fee of the receiver at $325 will be made to the Chancellor Monday, April 15, at 10 o'clock. On the confirmation of the account the balance on hand will be distributed according to law after payment of all costs.

DEATH OF MISS SPICER.

Passed Away at Her Home Yesterday Afternoon After a Lingering Illness.

Miss Eleanor E. Spicer, daughter of Joseph D. and Elizabeth F. Spicer, of 125 West Fifth street, died yesterday afternoon. She was thirty years of age, and had been an invalid from rheumatism almost all her life.

Despite her long and intense suffering, she was a model Christian woman and she possessed a lovely character. Her mind was always very bright and active and, being a great reader, she was always well informed on many topics. During the last few months she failed rapidly, and her death was not altogether unexpected. She leaves one sister, Miss Ida Spicer, and a brother, Arthur J. Spicer.

The funeral services will be held from the late residence Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Took the Days in Jail.

Thomas Melville, of Westfield, was arrested last evening on West Front street by Patrolman Watson on a charge of drunkenness. This morning City Judge Runyon imposed a fine on Melville of $3, in default of which he will spend ten days in jail.

WANTED WEST-BOUND STATION OPEN TOO.

Board of Trade Appreciated The New Station But Didn't Like Present Arrangements.

HELD PUBLIC MEETING.

PROPOSED MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP DISCUSSION WAS POSTPONED.

Invited Speakers Could Not be Present—Lots of Talk About Jersey Central's Station—Geo. E. Lackey, of New York, Wants to Locate Factory.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Plainfield Board of Trade, which was held last evening, several matters of importance were brought up and acted upon by the members, of whom there were a large number present. It was the intention of the board to have several prominent speakers present for the purpose of having a public discussion of the municipal ownership question which was brought up at the public banquet held last February. Owing to previous engagements those invited were unable to attend and no definite action was taken in regard to the matter. It was the general sentiment of the board, however, that the city's wisest course in regard to the water question would be to renew its contract with the present company instead of conniving to control its own supply.

After acting upon the intention of the Perrin-Freres Company toward building a factory on Washington avenue, which is related in another column, the practical abandonment of the old North Avenue station formed the basis for an interesting discussion and subsequent action.

It was the opinion of nearly every member present that the railroad officials had made a mistake in closing the old structure inasmuch as it has not only proved unsatisfactory to the citizens, but it has proven a loss to the company in the sale of tickets.

According to the statement made by a number of members, scores of people would rather take the trolley to Bound Brook and proceed westward by way of the Lehigh Valley road in preference to making the toilsome journey through the underground crossing to procure a ticket for western points.

In addition to this it was declared that in its present state with closed doors and generally deserted appearance, the building presents anything but an inviting aspect to prospective commuters in search of a home during the summer. Even though it may be the intention of the company not to have a ticket office on both sides it was their opinion that the station should be opened as formerly.

After all present had expressed their views in regard to the matter, the secretary was instructed to communicate with Vice-President Warren stating the facts of the case and presenting the board's views relative to the opening of the station and the location of a ticket office for the sale of west-bound tickets. He was also requested to convey the thanks and appreciation of the board for the new station.

The only other matter of importance brought before the meeting was a communication from George E. Lackey, of New York, who is desirous of locating a factory for the manufacture of lace curtains. In his letter he stated that he would require 30,000 feet of floor space and a building where water power was obtainable, the latter being the most essential need. At the start the industry would employ fifty hands. The secretary stated that such a building was obtainable at Watchung and he had notified Mr. Lackey. The communication was placed on file, after which the meeting adjourned.

Drove Top Through Window.

Not thinking of their close proximity to valuable plate glass, a number of boys were spinning tops in front of the Y. M. C. A. building Saturday when one of the tops crashed through the Front street window of Leggett's pharmacy. The owner with true manliness, entered the store and acknowledged being responsible. On being communicated with, his parents agreed to pay for the damage. The window cannot be replaced for less than $30.

To Exchange Pulpits.

Rev. J. C. Chapman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Hackettstown, will exchange pulpits with Rev. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, Sunday morning and evening. While here he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, of Norwood avenue.

MR. HARNEY'S BOOK.

Evangelist Now at Reform Hall Has Written an Interesting Story "Philoland."

Rev. Gilbert Lane Harney, of Maine, who is now conducting evangelistic services in this city, is not only a preacher, but a writer as well. He has recently published a novel which is strikingly original in plot, uplifting in tone, and clear and interesting in style.

The title is "Philoland," which is the name of the ideal community described by the writer, and supposed to be located in a great valley surrounded by impassable cliffs, in the extreme north. The hero of the story is an American, carried thither by a subterranean river, and finds the people, who are descended from an eastern family living at the time of Christ, a remarkably progressive race, with a simple, literal faith in and worship of Christ, and a government that is an interesting study to the student of sociology.

Most astonishing, perhaps, are the extraordinary discoveries in science which have been made by the people, along such lines as thought transference, aerial and submarine navigation, house illumination, and transferring themselves from place to place in emergencies with the speed of thought. The whole book forms an interesting study in the possibilities of moral, social and scientific evolution, combined with an entertaining and romantic plot. The writer uses clear and forceful English, and holds the reader's interest to the last. The book is attractively printed and bound. It is on sale at H. M. Estil's book store.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1 00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1 00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

WASHINGTON.

Three-day Personally-Conducted Tour via Pennsylvania Railroad.

Few short journeys are as interesting as a trip to Washington, the Nation's Capital; and such a trip can be made most satisfactorily by participating in the three-day personally-conducted tours of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The next tour of the season leaves Thursday, March 21. Round-trip rate, covering railroad transportation for the round-trip, meals en route, transfer of passenger and ordinary baggage to hotel, hotel accommodations, and guides, services of experienced tourist agent and chaperon, in short, every item of necessary expense, $14 50 from New York, $13 00 from Trenton, and $11.50 from Philadelphia, with proportionate rates from other points. These rates cover accommodations for two days at the Arlington, Normandie, Riggs, or Ebbitt House. For accommodations at Willard's, Regent, Metropolitan, or National Hotel, $2.50 less. Side trips to Mount Vernon, Richmond, Old Point Comfort, and Norfolk at greatly reduced rates.

All tickets good for ten days, with special hotel rates after expiration of hotel coupons.

PEACE HOPED FOR.

But No Sign Yet From Pretoria of Its Approach.

LONDON, March 19.—Lord Roberts, in a letter to a correspondent, expresses a confident hope that Lord Kitchener will soon be able to secure peace in South Africa, but thus far there is no sign from Pretoria or Cape Town that peace is near.

The latest news is that General Fourie with 800 men, escaped Sunday from the British columns that were endeavoring to corner the commando east of Bloemfontein. Further big operations will be started in Orange River Colony within a few days.

General Ian Hamilton, addressing the Author's club in London last evening made the curious suggestion that the Boer prisoners should be sent to Canada to work on the railways, where they would learn the English language and become imbued with English sentiments Denominational Papers Sold.

BOSTON, March 19.—The proprietors of The Congregationalist and Christian World have sold their property to the Congregational Sunday School and Publishing society, which corporation will hereafter own and publish the papers. The Congregationalist has been carried on since 1867 by the firm of W. L. Greene & Co. Of the original partners only Mr. Greene survives, and he retired 15 years ago from active participation in the conduct of the paper. The sale to the Congregationalist Sunday School and Publishing society is made with a view to the more effective carrying out of the larger plans already initiated, particularly the new Christian World features which have been so cordially received on all sides.

The Truth Stated by Root.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Secretary Root has authorized the statement that the administration had entire confidence in the conduct of affairs in Cuba by Governor General Wood. The secretary of war moreover said that the recent course of General Wood in connection with the constitutional convention had been reported quite fully to Washington and that both the president and himself approved of General Wood's action up to this time. This statement was brought out by reports to the effect that the administration was dissatisfied with the course of General Wood and that some of the official information forwarded to Washington did not accurately reflect the real condition of affairs in Cuba.

Big Fire In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, March 19.—Perhaps the most disastrous fire in the history of the South Side yesterday afternoon burned the ice storage plant of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company, the repair shop of the American Car and Foundry company, together with a number of box cars; the factory of Stules & Co., pickle manufacturers; five rooming houses and a number of small sheds. The total damage is estimated at $100,000, the greater part of which is covered by insurance. Two employees of the American Car and Foundry company were injured, but not seriously. The burned district embraced two square blocks bounded by Zepp, Utah, First and Kosciusko streets.

Cuban Treasurer Appointed.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—In accordance with President McKinley's recent order that the treasurer of Cuba should be a citizen of that island Governor General Wood has cabled to war department that he had appointe Carlos Rolos as treasurer of Cuba. Mr. Rolos previously has been connected with the fiscal branch and is considered well qualified for this important post. Secretary Root confirmed the appointment.

Noted Editor Dying.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The Rev. Arthur Edwards, for 30 years editor in chief of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, is dying of heart disease at his home, 2818 Indiana avenue. He has been gradually sinking since last November. His condition became so alarming that his children were summoned to his bedside.

Missouri Town Scorched.

DE SOTO, Mo., March 19.—Fire destroyed more than half the business section of Bismarck, Mo., including ten business houses, two or three hotels and the Iron Mountain railway station. No estimate of the loss has yet been made. Several lives are reported to have been lost.

RUSSIAN DISORDERS.

Cossacks and Students In a Free Fight.

RED FLAG IN ST. PETERSBURG.

Demonstrators Cry "Down With the Czar!" and "Long Live Liberty and Free Government!"

LONDON, March 19.—Special dispatches from St. Petersburg describe fierce fighting between the demonstrators and the Cossacks. The latter charged the mob at a gallop, and the people replied with volleys of stones. A Cossack officer who was struck on the head by an iron bolt was unhorsed. The Cossacks, on seeing their leader fall, dismounted and engaged in a hand to hand fight, using their whips freely on the people, many of whom were injured seriously, although nobody was killed.

Altogether 800 students were arrested.

A number of students who had recently protested against the excommunication of Count Tolstoi assembled inside the cathedral and began smoking, shouting, throwing things at the holy images and whistling while the sacred elements were being prepared for the sacrament. Thereupon the congregation began to thrust the disturbers outside, and a general fight ensued.

One of the cathedral banners was seized by the students, who used it in the fighting outside the cathedral, where proclamations were thrown among the crowd containing such phrases as "Long live liberty and free government!" "Down with the czar!" and "Down with rotten officials!"

Finally the students unfurled a red flag, and an attempt by the police to seize it was the signal for a general fight.

A later dispatch says:

"The fight lasted for an hour and the disorders until evening. From 700 to 800 students were driven by the police and Cossacks into the surrounding yards, where they were detained for examination by the minister of justice.

"Faces were cut open by the whips of the Cossacks. Old women were crushed almost to death. A child was killed, and it is reported that there were other fatalities, though it is impossible to confirm the rumor. Further disorders are expected tomorrow."

Deported Editor at Home.

RED WING, Mich., March 19.—George P. Rice, the deported Manila editor of The Daily Bulletin, has arrived here. He is now visiting at his old home. He is not willing to discuss his plans. He said: "My business is now with the government. In Manila I asked for a military or civil trial, but was denied both. The military there all hang together, and, knowing that I could prove my statements, they were afraid that if I were allowed to remain I might also bring charges against others; hence I was characterized as a dangerous incendiary. I shall in a few days go to St. Paul and see the governor. I am satisfied that the evidence which I will produce will not only clear me and vindicate me, but give me redress, and I shall not rest until I obtain both."

Professor Woodbridge Resigns.

NEW YORK, March 19.—After a service of over 40 years the Rev. Samuel Merrill Woodbridge, professor of ecclesiastical history and government and dean of the New Brunswick Theological seminary, has tendered his resignation. Dr. Woodbridge is 82 years of age and graduated from the seminary in 1841. Since 1857 he has held chairs in it and has been dean since 1889. He has offered his resignation several times before this, but been persuaded to stay. The present resignation will be acted on by the general synod when it meets in June.

Negroes Start For Hawaii.

KNOXVILLE, March 19.—A colony of 100 negroes has left Knoxville for Hawaii under a three year contract to the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar company. The party was raised by S. R. Maples, an intelligent negro, who goes with the colonists. The negroes are to be used on a large sugar plantation. In raising the party an attempt was made to get whole families, for the reason that the company has had difficulty in keeping American negroes without families on the plantations. The attempt was partially successful.

Machinists and Boiler Makers Strike.

IOWA FALLS, Ia., March 19.—The machinists and boiler makers employed at the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern railroad shops in this city have walked out and will not return to work until the differences between the employees and officials shall be adjusted. This action follows that of the union men at Cedar Rapids, and it is reported it will be followed by the men at Estherville, Watertown, Albert Lee and other division points.

Boy Blew Up the House and Himself.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 19.—Thomas Conners, the 8-year-old son of Thomas Conners, coal miner, of Thomas, W. Va., had seen his older brothers set off powder in the yard for fun. His father kept a big keg in the house, and yesterday morning the boy went up stairs and lighted it. The explosion wrecked the house and instantly killed the boy, almost tearing him to pieces.

Wounded In a Philippine Fight.

NEWBURG, N. Y., March 19.—A letter from the Philippines says that George H. Nestell of Newburg, a member of Company M, Forty-fourth United States volunteers, had both eyes shot out in a battle in the island of Cebu and was captured by the insurgents.

Latest Ballot In Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 19.—The following ballot was taken yesterday for United States senator. Allen (Fusionist), 42; Hitchcock (Fusionist), 42; D. E. Thompson, 31; Crounz, 7; Currie, 11; Meiklejohn, 23; Hinshaw, 17; Rosewater, 17; scattering, 14.

Mr. Cleveland's Birthday.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 19.—Ex-President Cleveland spent his sixty-fourth birthday at home with Mrs. Cleveland and their children. He entertained no callers. Congratulatory telegrams in abundance from friends were received.

NO CLASH IN CHINA.

Anglo-Russian Dispute Has Been Exaggerated.

BOTH SIDES MAY WITHDRAW

English Papers Have Used Provocative Language, but Great Britain Is In No Shape For Another War.

LONDON, March 19.—The difficulty at Tien-tsin over the construction of a railroad siding will probably be solved by the withdrawal of both the British and Russian troops from the ground in dispute. It is believed here that too much has been made of the incident, and a more hopeful view of the affair is taken.

While hostilities are out of the question, however, it is not unlikely that diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Russia will become strained almost to the breaking point. Possibly British warships may be dispatched to bring pressure to bear upon Russia, but war will not result unless some fracas quite unauthorized by London and St. Petersburg occurs between the opposing forces at Tien-tsin.

This assertion is based upon exhaustive inquiries in London. A prominent British official, often the mouthpiece of the government, whose position makes it undesirable that he should be named in this connection, said last evening:

"It is useless for our newspapers to use provocative language. They forget that we have a great army in South Africa and that we have no other army nor the makings of one elsewhere. It is impossible to go to war with Russia."

A semiofficial statement was issued last evening to the effect that the much talked of assurances of the Russian foreign minister, Count Lamsdorff, to Sir Charles Stewart Scott, British embassador at St. Petersburg, were made Feb. 6 and evidently referred to the Russo-Chinese agreement concluded at Port Arthur last November and not to the Manchurian convention.

Inquiries at the Chinese legation yesterday afternoon were rewarded by the reply, "His excellency has gone to bed," which was presumably the Celestial equivalent of an assurance that the Chinese minister preferred to say nothing as to the most recent developments. The Japanese legation was equally noncommittal.

It is understood that one official view is that the dispute may eventually be referred to arbitration.

Von Waldersee Interfered.

LONDON, March 19.—The Times this morning makes the following announcement: "We learn that Count von Waldersee has interfered as commander in chief of the allied forces in China to put an end to the mutually hostile attitude of the British and Russian troops at Tien-tsin."

Philadelphia to New York by Trolley

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—A gigantic trolley scheme which is to give Philadelphia 3 cent fares and connect it directly with New York by means of an independent line of electric railway is being worked up by a number of capitalists and trolley promoters, with A. L. Johnson of New York and Robert E. Wright of Allentown at their head. "We will give to Philadelphia a local service with 3 cent fares and a universal transfer system," said Mrs. Johnson, "if the people will give us the right to place tracks on streets not now being used and permit us to operate our surface transit system. This local system we desire to operate in connection with our electric railroad between Philadelphia and New York. The New York line will be run at a guaranteed speed of 50 miles an hour, and the fare from this city to the metropolis will be 50 cents."

The Coming Police Bill.

NEW YORK, March 19.—A metropolitan police bill, to be passed and approved probably before the close of the current month, was agreed upon yesterday at a two hours' conference between Senator Platt and Governor Odell. The district to be embraced will include the counties of New York, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Nassau, Westchester and a part of Putnam. The latter territory will be taken in to give the new police force jurisdiction over the Croton watershed. The commissioner will be apppointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. The commissioner will have the appointment of a chief of police in each of the counties affected.

Suspected Poisoner Arraigned.

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., March 19.—Aldace Vondette, who was arrested on Saturday on suspicion of having sent through the mails poison which caused the death of Ida Fosburgh at Shoreham last week, was arraigned before Justice O. P. Moore. Nothing was done, however, an adjournment being taken to await the report of specialists, who have been requested to make an examination of certain parts of the woman's body. The prisoner says he is confident that he will be released as soon as he can be given a complete hearing.

Making Steel by Electricity.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Consul Nelson at Bergen, Sweden, in a report to the state department says that a successful attempt has been made to produce steel by electricity in that country. Experiments are being carried on in a factory there, and already about 25,000 pounds have been produced in six drafts daily. This steel is of an excellent quality and meets with ready sale at high prices. On account of the cheap method of production the profits are declared to be large.

Smashers Fire a Town.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 19.—As a result of the "joint smashing" crusade 10 residences, 2 saloons and 5 stores were wiped out by fire in Armourdale, Kan. It was plainly the work of incendiaries, who used gasoline to touch off Patrick Brosnan's "joint." A high wind did the rest. Just as the fire started two women were seen hurrying from the neighborhood. The loss approximates $40,000.

A Theft and a Threat.

KANSAS CITY, March 19.—A theft of $3,000 worth of diamonds from Edwards & Sloan, wholesale jewelers, and a threat to kidnap the young son of George H. Edwards unless $1,000 should be paid immediately for the return of the gems is a story with which the local detectives are wrestling. The boy is being guarded closely.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Ten Thousand Men In Line In New York City.

NEW YORK, March 19.—One hour late in starting, the St. Patrick's day parade swung up Fifth avenue from Forty-fourth street shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon amid the plaudits of thousands of spectators who lined the thoroughfare. The crowds were so dense about the starting point that the police had great difficulty in clearing a way for the procession.

Perfect weather and the enthusiasm characteristic of St. Patrick's day celebrations brought out great crowds. The parade itself numbered fully 10,000 marchers within its ranks.

One of the chief features of the parade was the appearance of the cadets of the Catholic protectory, who had never taken part in a St. Patrick's day parade before. Five companies strong, each company having its full quota of 100 cadets and headed by their band of 200 pieces, they elicited the most enthusiastic applause from the spectators.

The gallant Sixty-ninth never looked better or presented a more soldierly appearance. Colonel Duffy, Lieutenant Colonel Strong, Major Dennis Devlin, Major Michael Lynch and the other company officers were all present.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The witch hazel manufacturers have combined.

A new dervish movement was reported from the Sudan.

The February death rate in Havana was reported as 19.32 per thousand.

The kaiser's special envoy to Russia was coldly received at St. Petersburg.

Embassadors and ministers have presented their credentials to King Edward.

President McKinley hopes to establish civil government in the Philippines by May 15.

Governor Odell has signed bills taxing New York savings banks and insurance companies.

The United States supreme court is to take a fortnight's recess from Monday next. Decision of insular cases is not looked for until after the recess.

Warship Sent to Morocco.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Instructions have been sent by the state department by telegraph to Consul General Gummere at Tangier, Morocco, to proceed to the court of the sultan and, backed by the flagship New York at the nearest port, Mazigan, to demand an apology for the apparent discourtesy of the grand vizier and the minister of foreign affairs in an effort to defeat the purpose of the United States in dispatching a special mission to Morocco city, the Moorish capital, to arrange for the settlement of certain claims of American citizens. Mr. Gummere is also instructed to press the claims unadjusted after the payment by Morocco of $5,000 for the killing of Marcus Ezegui, a naturalized American who was murdered at Fez in June, 1900, by a mob.

General Harrison's Will.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 19.—Before the members of the immediate family of General Harrison leave the city a meeting will be held at which the general's last will and testament will be read before it is probated. Arrangements for this family meeting have been made. The will of the late ex-president now lies in a safety deposit box at the Fletcher National bank, with other private papers and securities of the estate. It is a holographic document, written by the general shortly before he left for Paris in the spring of 1899.

Gilman Will Contest.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 19.—After a long hearing in the probate court Judge Nobbs last night denied the application of Edward S. Percival and Edward L. Norton for appointment as administrators of the estate of the late millionaire George F. Gilman. The application was supported by a part of the heirs only, and a further hearing on the question will be held today. Mrs. Hall made no appearance, either in person or by counsel, and her alleged claims on the estate formed no part of the proceedings.

Dam Breaks at Stafford Springs.

UNION, Conn., March 19.—Five million gallons of water were released by the breaking of the dam at reservoir No. 2 of the Stafford Springs Water company yesterday afternoon, and hundreds of acres of meadow land were flooded to a depth of several feet. On account of the isolation of the plant practically no property damage was done aside from that to the dam and the immediaate adjoining machinery. The main works of the water company are some hundred feet from the reservoir and so escaped.

Another Kidnaping Threat.

TOLEDO, March 19.—At the next session of the Ohio general assembly Representative W. C. Gear of Upper Sandusky will introduce an antikidnaping bill. He has received three letters threatening to kidnap and mutilate his daughter unless $500 be left in an old shoe at a certain place. The writers threatened to put out the girl's eyes with a redhot poker and fire the Gear residence.

Swift Boycott Removed.

SYRACUSE, March 19.—A dispatch from President M. Donnelly of the Amalgamated Butcher Workmen and Meat Cutter Union of North America, dated at Chicago, announces that the boycott placed on the Swift Packing company of Chicago by the butchers and coopers has been declared off. The boycott was indorsed by the American Federation of Labor.

Jealousy Caused Tragedy.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 19.—Garr Tribble, aged 18 years, shot and seriously wounded Stella Snow, daughter of James B. Snow, in the front yard of her father's home near Perth. Tribble then committed suicide. Miss Snow will recover. Jealousy caused the tragedy.

Coach For Single Sculler.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 19.—C. S. Francis, now minister to Greece, has secured the services of James Ten Eyck to coach his son, John M. Francis, in single sculling this spring. The new coach will come in a private capacity and will reach Ithaca May 1.

Miles In Havana.

HAVANA, March 19.—Lieutenant General Miles, who intends to inspect the principal military posts in Cuba, has arrived here with his party from the United States.

STATE LAWMAKERS.

New York and New Jersey Legislators Resume Business.

ALBANY, March 19.—Assemblyman Price last night introduced a bill to enable New York city to accept the offer of Andrew Carnegie to give $5,200,000 for public library purposes. The bill provides:

"The city of New York is hereby authorized to receive any moneys, sites, buildings, books or property of any description appropriate for library purposes which may be donated, devised or bequeathed by any person. In connection therewith the said city, acting through the park board, with the consent of the board of estimate and apportionment, may enter into any agreement with such donor or his legal representatives affecting such bequests or devise as may be proposed or imposed concerning the same and with the said New York Public library, Astor, Lenox, Tilden foundations or its successors thereto. Any such agreement shall have the full and binding effect of a contract between the parties aforesaid. The said city is further authorized upon resolution of the board of estimate and apportionment to acquire the sites to any extension for a public library system which may be rendered necessary by reason of the acceptance of such donations, bequests or devises or which may at any time be deemed to be necessary by said board. For the purpose of meeting the expense of acquiring and paying for such sites the comptroller of said city, when duly authorized by the board of estimate and apportionment, shall issue corporate stock to such amounts as may be necessary from time to time."

New Jersey Legislature.

TRENTON, March 19.—The entire session of the senate last night was taken up with two matters exclusive of the ordinary routine. One was the committee report on Senator Wakelee's Palisades preservation bill. The bill was reported as introduced with the exception of an amendment which exempts from its operation the quarry property owned by Ross & Sanford. The purpose of the bill is to permit the Palisades commission to acquire the riparian rights in front of the Palisades so as to prevent their destruction. The bill was placed on the calendar for second reading. The second important matter before the senate was a lengthy debate between President Pitney and Senator Hudspeth on Mr. Pitney's bill for the appointment of a commission to investigate with respect to the wisdom of the proposed legislation authorizing the Lehigh Valley Railroad company to abandon the Morris and Essex canal, which it owns, and to sell the property.

Callahan Trial Tomorrow.

OMAHA, March 19.—James Callahan, the alleged kidnaper, and his attorneys have been served with an order of the court commanding them to produce at Callahan's trial tomorrow the original letter sent to Edward A. Cudahy demanding $25,000 ransom for his son. This letter was inclosed in the sack of gold deposited by Mr. Cudahy at the place signified by the abductors. The county attorney and police say they have evidence that Callahan has the communication. Fourteen new witnesses have been subpœnaed for the state, and all preparations are now being made to begin the trial tomorrow.

Three Dual Drownings.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 19.—Arthur Watson and George Gibson, lumbermen, were drowned in the Greenbrier river below Elkins. They were thrown from a rudely constructed raft, which jammed into a bridge pier. In the same locality two Italians named Ross and Raffi attempted to cross the river in a boat too small for such a burden and were drowned. The above cases, with the drowning of Miss Callan and John McDaniel, make the third fatality of the kind within a week.

Duke of Cornwall Delayed.

GIBRALTAR, March 19.—The steamship Ophir, which left Portsmouth Saturday afternoon with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on board, has probably been caught in the southeasterly gale that has driven several small vessels ashore and detained the peninsular and oriental liners and the Werra at Gibraltar. Rain has fallen steadily for five days, and the stand on which the Duke of Cornwall will review the garrison troops is now the center of a lake.

Death Also Claims the Widow.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., March 19.—William Haynes, postmaster of Hoosick Falls, a prominent Republican leader, died Friday, March 8, after a week's illness of grip and attendant heart failure, aged 72 years. The widow, Mrs. Delia Willis Haynes, aged 75, attended the funeral obsequies and within two hours after returning home was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage, followed by pneumonia, and died at 5 o'clock yesterday.

Dublin's Mayor Pelted With Oranges.

DUBLIN, March 19.—Volleys of oranges were thrown by the students of Trinity college at Mr. Timothy Harrington, the new lord mayor of Dublin, as the inaugural procession passed the college yesterday. This was the only hostile demonstration on the occasion of Mr. Harrington's inauguration as lord mayor. The police prevented the people in the procession from storming the college inclosure.

Heavy Rain In Porto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 19.—A heavy storm prevails here. Two inches of rain fell in two hours. The wind is 31 miles an hour from the northeast. The railroad is tied up by serious washouts. Telegraphic communication with the north and west shores is partially interrupted. The damage done by the storm is unknown. The storm is undoubtedly more severe in the interior of the island.

Civil Service Commissioner Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Hon. Mark S. Brewer of Michigan, a member of the civil service commission, is dead from a complication of diseases. Mr. Brewer had been at home sick for the last ten days, although for some time past his health has been poor. He was 64 years of age and leaves a widow. The funeral will be held at Pontiac, Mich., Thursday.

Illinois Village Fire Swept.

JOLIET, Ills., March 19.—Fire destroyed more than half of Minooka, a rural village of 600 inhabitants, ten miles west of this city. Help was sent from Joliet, as the place is without fire apparatus.

FILIPINO EDUCATION.

Complete System of Schools For the Islands.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE TO PREVAIL

One Thousand Trained Teachers to Be Taken From America—Sectarian Teaching Prohibited—A Normal College For Manila.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Quite a number of the acts of the Philippine commission as promulgated by the military authorities in the islands have been received at the war department. One of the most important, that for establishing a department of public instruction in the islands, already has been briefly reported by cable from Manila. It provides for a general department of public instruction, with a central office at Manila, under the direction of a general superintendent to be appointed by the commission at a salary of $6,000 per annum. Schools are to be established in every pueblo in the archipelago where practicable, and those already established shall be reorganized where necessary. The salaries of the division superintendents and teachers and the curricula for primary, secondary and other public schools are to be established by the superintendent. He also is to exercise general supervision over the entire department.

There are to be ten school divisions in the archipelago, each with a division superintendent, and there is to be a superior advisory board composed of the general superintendent and four members, to be appointed by the Philippine commission, who shall consider the general subject of education in the islands and make regulations, etc. According to the terms of the act the English language as soon as practicable shall be made the basis of all public instruction, and soldiers may be detailed as instructors until replaced by trained teachers.

Authority is given to the general superintendent to obtain from the United States 1,000 trained teachers at salaries of not less than $75 nor more than $100 per month, the exact salary to be fixed according to the efficiency of the teacher. The act provides that no teacher or other person "shall teach or criticise the doctrines of any church, religious sect or denomination or shall attempt to influence the pupils for or against any church or religious sect in any public school." Violation of this section is made punishable by summary dismissal from the public service.

The act also provides for a normal school at Manila for the education of natives in the science of teaching. It appropriates $400,000 for school buildings and $220,000 for apparatus and fixtures.

Filipino Atrocities.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The records in the cases of 34 Filipino natives charged with various offenses against military discipline in the Philippines, including murder, treason and other acts of violence, have been received at the war department. These records make plain the methods pursued by the insurgents to terrorize the native inhabitants of the islands and show cases of atrocities committed upon the latter where they declined to comply with the demands and the exactions of the so called Filipino government. In one case nine insurgent sympathizers, fully armed, seized in the night a family of five persons and killed them with bolos. The motive for the murder was the punishment of the family for refusing to pay taxes in support of the insurgent government. The guilty natives were sentenced to hard labor for 30 years.

Serious Train Wreck.

GRAND JUNCTION, Ia., March 19.—A Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train bound for Fort Dodge jumped the track going at full speed about two miles north of Grand Junction. The accident was caused, it is supposed, by the sinking of the rails, as no other cause was apparent. Two passenger and mail cars are lying on their side in a shallow pool of water, and the tender is also overturned, the engine sticking to the track. A large number were injured, a few seriously.

Three Boys Poisoned.

SHARON, Pa., March 19.—Three boys in search of wintergreen on Wintergreen hill about half a mile west of Sharpsville ate a quantity of poisoned berries and died in terrible agony about an hour later. They were Claud Morford, aged 15 years; Fred Morford, aged 17 years, and Howard Miller, aged 13 years. The boys gathered a large quantity of red berries and ate heartily of them. In a very short time the boys were thrown into terrible convulsions, and all died within an hour.

President Leaves Canton.

CANTON, O., March 19.—President and Mrs. McKinley left at 10:40 o'clock last night for Washington. They occupied a private car attached to the regular Pennsylvania train. The day was a quiet and uneventful one for the president. He only left the Barber home for an airing and a short walk about the house. There was a number of citizens to see him, and he had pleasant social visits with old friends.

Lumber Yards Burned.

NASHVILLE, March 19.—The extensive lumber yards and saw and planing mill plant of John B. Ransom & Co. in West Nashville, a suburb of this city, have been destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $140,000, with insurance of $115,000. The yards cover 20 acres of ground, and the fire raged fiercely for several hours. It is thought the fire originated from sparks from a locomotive.

Duelist In No Danger.

PARIS, March 19.—M. de Rodays, who was wounded last Saturday by Count de Castellane in a duel, is without fever and suffers no pain. The bullet has been located with the X rays and will probably be extracted today.

Brass Molders on Strike.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Brass molders in four of the largest foundries in lower Jersey City are out on strike. They want a nine hour working day instead of ten hours. There is no trouble about the wages.

Harris Beats "Pedlar" Palmer.

LONDON, March 19.—At the National Sporting club last night Harry Harris of Chicago defeated "Pedlar" Palmer of England on points in a 15 round boxing contest.

Council on Record.

All the members of the Common Council, except Messrs. Dumont, Mellick and Coriell, put themselves on record last evening as favoring the proposed changes to the city's sewage disposal works. Messrs. Mellick, Dumont and Coriell were all absent from the meeting. The meeting was one which promises to play an important part in the future of this city. At that time, the ordinance providing for the septic tanks and contact beds at the sewage disposal plant was unanimously passed on first and second reading and was ordered engrossed and advertised preparatory to final action.

There was only one objector to the proposed change and he was Former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield, a Democrat. He said that it was only an experiment for which the city would eventually have to pay nearly $50,000. It might or it might not be a success. He thought that the Council ought to take advantage of the offer of Former Councilman Spangenberg, who wanted to give the city a free trial of his system and would then be willing to sell it to the city for $15,000.

Either the people of Plainfield are satisfied with the course that the Council is pursuing or else they do not take enough interest to object. In either case, the members of the Council feel that they are justified in proceeding along the line of work they have planned.

Mayor Smalley's Policy.

Although Mayor Smalley had no formal message to present to the new Borough Council, he made a short speech at the meeting of that Council last evening in which he outlined his policy for the coming year and added a few suggestions as to what he thought the Council should do during the next twelve months.

The Mayor said that he felt that his re-election might be considered an endorsement of his policy of the last year and it undoubtedly was, for the campaign in the borough was waged chiefly on these same questions of policy and the result showed the feeling of the people. The Mayor had something to say on the widening of Somerset street, but the subject of the reduced police force was but slightly touched upon. One excellent recommendation made by the Mayor was that the cause of "good roads" should be advanced in the borough as fast as the necessary funds would warrant.

The speech was decidedly characteristic of the Mayor, sharp, agressive and to the point. Such has been the policy of Mayor Smalley during the past and he is not likely to change it. It has undoubtedly made enemies for him, but the vote at the last election showed that it had made friends as well.

North Plainfield will hold an important school meeting this evening at which three members of the Board of Education will be elected and the appropriations for the year decided upon. The borough is particularly fortunate in having excellent schools, but it costs money to maintain them, and the growth of the borough requires frequent enlargement to meet the demand. One of the chief questions to come up at the meeting tonight will be the appropriation for the manual training school. The building was supplied through the generosity of a resident of the borough, Charles W. McCutchen. If the borough contributes its share the State has a fund out of which North Plainfield will get a slice for the maintenance of the manual training department.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company has evidently realized that it is as much to its interest as it is to that of the borough of North Plainfield to maintain the old standard of excellence of its water supply. The company's action in emptying the storage reservoir on the mountain is to be commended and it is to be hoped that it will be so arranged that, in the future, no similar trouble will occur.

There is not any doubt but that spring is at hand. Already there is no end of talk about baseball. The national game promises to regain something like its old popularity during the coming season. A number of minor teams are being formed but there is little probability that Plainfield will have a representative team, either amateur or professional on the diamond this year.

The Evening Post of yesterday, in a strong editorial on the Palisades matter, said:—"The session of the New Jersey law makers is to end in a few days and what is to be done at Trenton must be done without delay." Again we urge the legislators of New Jersey to act in this matter. Delay will bring more destruction and ruin. Again we appeal to the legislators. Act and save the Palisades.

The city is to have a new steam roller. The street committee of the Council decided that it would be the most economical course to buy a brand new one instead of purchasing one second hand.

The roads are in good condition once more for wheeling, and the host of local wheelmen are beginning to appear on the city streets again.

When the street signs are up, the visiting public will be able to find its way about town once more.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and its Citizens.

The determination not to introduce the bipartisan police, excise commission and other bills of the same character at this session is generally regarded by Republicans in touch with the popular mind as wise. The Anti-Spring Elections law (known as the Meeker act) and the Congress Reapportionment bill, which will reach the Governor in a few days, are quite sufficient in the way of partisan legislation for one session of a legislature to enact, especially in a State where there is, owing to the diverse county and city conditions which obtain in in New Jersey, such a conflict of opinion as to public policy. Out of the two bills last named there certainly will largely grow the issues of the approaching State campaign, and upon them the Republican party must meet the Democrats on the common ground of public sentiment. Candidates will, of course, be important, but issues will be paramount.—New York Tribune.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Many complaints are being heard about the city concerning careless ash carters. They allow papers and refuse to drop along the street, and it gives a street anything but a pleasing appearance. A few days ago one of these carters, while in an intoxicated condition, ran his horse up and down Front street scattering papers and ashes along the route.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 19—This evening the citizens of the borough will assemble at the Whittier school building for the purpose of nominating and electing three members of the Board of Education. The present members whose terms are about to expire are T. J. Todd, Louis Schneider and Adam Herlick, the latter having been appointed to fill the unexpired term of W. R. Larkin. While no candidates have been making any extra efforts to secure the nominations several have been working quietly, but it is expected the retiring members will be re-elected.

As John Logan was about to strike a match at his home Saturday evening, the lighted head flew on a parlor chair igniting the inflammable material. With the assistance of a friend, who was visiting him, Mr. Logan carried the blazing chair out of doors, but in doing so another one caught fire. The second one was gotten out without any further damage.

An excellent entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and other pleasing features, will be given in the Methodist church Friday evening. A feature of the programme will be mandolin selections by Prof. W. C. Townsend, of Plainfield.

Henry Wiedenhaupt, who has conducted the Dunellen cash market for the past two years, has decided to retire from the business and will probably close his shop today. As yet Mr. Wiedenhaupt has no definite plans for the future.

Miss Elizabeth Gordon, of Junction, has returned home after a two weeks' visit with her brother, Everitt Gordon.

Alfred Wilson, of New Brunswick, was the guest of his father, J. Y. Wilson, Sunday.

Joel Giddis is the proud possessor of a new wheel, purchased of Adam Dealaman.

Paul Kratzel, of Bayonne, has returned after a brief visit with borough relatives.

Mrs. Annie Abbott spent yesterday with relatives at Metuchen.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, March 19.—The voters of the township will meet this evening for the purpose of electing three members of the Board of Education to fill the expiring terms of Dr. M. J. Whitford, W. F. Randolph and Taylor Jellife. The amount of school money to be appropriated will also be voted upon.

O E. Meeker and Charles Blackford are arranging for an invitation dance to be given in Friendship Hall, Wednesday, March 27.

F. B. Williams, of Brookfield, N. Y., who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis, returned home this morning.

Philip Jenner is confined to his home by a severe attack of the grip.

Mrs. E. S Ingham is confined to her home by illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 19.—There are now three marshals in Scotch Plains, but they do not remain on duty all the time. They are called upon to patrol the streets Sundays and occasionally Saturday evenings. This community is so quiet and free from disturbance that there is no need to keep the marshals on duty all the time.

E. A. Hall, of Fanwood, who was recently robbed of $80 while alighting from a Jersey Central train at the station, has not yet received any tidings of his money or the men who took it. He has given up all hope of getting his money.

Miss Emma Clark, assistant to Postmaster Dunn, will resign her position April 1. She intends to accept a position as typewriter and stenographer. She will be missed at the postoffice, where she is always so obliging and courteous.

Suckers seem to be plentiful and large in this vicinity. Eddie Heath, a young lad, captured two at Seely's Mills a few days ago. One weighed 2 1 2 pounds and the other 1 1 2 pounds.

The annual meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening, when three members will be elected to take the place of those whose terms expire. The chances are that there will be a re-election.

There will be an important meeting of the town committee Friday evening, when an organization for the coming year will be effected.

There will be "living pictures" at the Fanwood fire house Thursday evening under the auspices of the Fanwood Athletic Club.

Rev. G. M. Shott, a member of the New York Ministers' Association, attended the meeting of the association yesterday.

The members of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company met last evening and transacted routine business.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet Thursday evening and every member is urged to attend.

The Epworth Literary Society will meet as usual tomorrow evening and a full attendance is desired.

Mrs. Horace Young has been visiting Miss Susie Parse for a short time.

William Buckley is detained at his home with a severe attack of the grip.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

George Thatcher, who heads the list of "White Rats" who are to appear at Music Hall next Tuesday night, has an entirely new sketch which he will present for the occasion. Manager Maze Edwards is assured that the list of artists in support of Mr. Thatcher will be the cream of the profession. Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at box office.

* * * * *

The history of the American stage is punctuated here and there with child wonders. Little children have appeared, at intervals, who not only have astonished patrons of the drama, but have dumfounded critics. Many of these children have actually naturalized parts precociously enacted in a parrot like fashion. Perhaps the most interesting of these is Little Irene Myers, who with her own big dramatic and specialty company is booked for appearance at Music Hall the week of April 1. Although, but little past the age of twelve years, she has been a star for three seasons past. She has enacted no less than thirty-five different parts, some of which have been creations, making her foremost in the ranks of popular priced stars. During her forthcoming engagement she will be seen in such parts as Chucky Connors, in "The Stowaway;" Dot, in "The Ensign;" Louise, the blind girl, in "Two Orphans;" the title role in "Little Lord Fauntleroy;" Cigarette, in "Under Two Flags;" The Kid, in "The White Rat;" Jimmy Nolan, in "The Corner Grocery;" Sue Sterling, in "Maid of the Mill" and others of like consequence.

Conduct Bottling Business.

Henry Haurand will conduct a bottling business at the corner of Somerset and Chatham streets after March 25. The new establishment will be known as the Central Bottling Works.

Talked on Sunday-School Work.

WOMEN CHOSE CANDIDATES.

READY FOR THE SCHOOL MEETING AT CRANFORD THIS EVENING.

Many Candidates in Line For Positions on Cranford's School Board—Three Principal Tickets.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, March 19.—A close and exciting contest is looked for at the annual school meeting which takes place here this evening. The members of the Village Improvement Association and of the Wednesday Morning Club have agreed upon Mrs. F. E. Bates, of Eastman street, and Mrs. J. W. Banker, of Madison street, as the candidates to be balloted for against the men candidates. The former is the president of the V. I. A., and the latter is the president elect of the Wednesday Morning Club. Both women feel confident of winning, and those who know the many difficult things that these two organizations have done are sure that the men will take a back seat.

George G. Teller and E. W. Hart will be the running mates of the women, while the regular ticket will bear the names of F. N. Brundage, G. G. Teller, E. S. Everitt and H. F. Hill. Other candidates will be Frederick Park, I. V. S. Hillier, A. V. Hart and R. E. Clement. The last was the principal of the Cranford schools for many years and was ousted one year ago through the efforts of the Village Improvement Association.

COUNCIL TAKES STAND ON SEWER ORDINANCE.

and John H. Wilson & Co., was the same, 90 cents per ton for 1½ inch and 80 cents for larger sizes. It was the opinion of the committee the Smalley Brothers should have the contract. Mr. Roach was the lowest bidder for the flagging and curbing.

On the recommendation of Mr. Clifton, two electric lights were ordered placed on East Second street at the corners of Jackson and Leland avenues; also that the request for a light on Madison avenue, near the new bridge be refused as there is now plenty of light there.

After Mr Gloak succeeded in having the automobile ordinance adopted on its second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised, the Council adjourned.

TO LOCATE HERE.

Many Changes of Residence Effected Through The Mulford Real Estate Agency.

Armstrong Mulford, the real estate broker and insurance agent, has been kept busy of late in locating several out-of-town families in this city, while several changes have been made among local residents. The changes will take effect April 1.

Following are some of the more important deals made by Mulford: V. P. Davis, of Cranford, to 14 Norwood avenue; S. W. Dunning, of Bound Brook, to 40 Westervelt avenue; E. E. Gano, of Paterson, to 30 Norwood avenue; H. L. Smyre, of Martinville, to West Front street, opposite Washington avenue; W. F. Higgins, Hotel Imperial, to 437 East Fifth street; G. F. Earle, of LaGrande avenue, to 508 Central avenue; William Cuitbertson, of Bayonne, to 417 East Fifth street; W. E. Lough, of New York, to 9 Rockview Terrace; Alburtus Swalm, of West Front street and Plainfield avenue, to 965 West Front street; J. A. Layton, of East Fifth street, to 431 East Fifth street; R. O. Cumback, of Watchung avenue, to 407 East Fifth street.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., March 18, 1901.

AN ORDINANCE

to provide for the improvement of Sewage Disposal Works, Beds and Appurtenances of the City of Plainfield.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby determine, direct and order that the plan of improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances above referred to, and particularly set forth in the plans and specifications filed in the office of the City Clerk and adopted by the Common Council by resolution on the twenty-first day of January, 1901, providing for the construction of two septic tanks under one roof and eight bacterial contact beds, all to be placed in the present filter beds on lands heretofore purchased and acquired by the city under and by virtue of the acts of the Legislature above referred to, which filter beds are numbered 6, 10 and 14, as particularly described and set forth in said plans and specifications, to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty and the same hereby made a part of this ordinance, be and the same are hereby adopted, and that the improvement therein specified be and hereby is ordered to be made pursuant to the said acts of the Legislature and in accordance with said plans and specifications.

Sec. 2. That whereas the Common Council has duly solicited bids for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the making of said improvement, and caused due advertisement to be made calling for such bids as in said acts of the Legislature directed, and at the time and place specified in said advertisement, received numerous sealed proposals, and thereupon the Common Council proceeded to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council, and the bid deemed most advantageous for the city was also the lowest bid of any person offering satisfactory security, namely, the bid or proposal of Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company of Syracuse, N. Y., the aggregate of which bid was the sum of Thirty-Seven Thousand One Hundred and Eighty-Seven Dollars and Fifty-Seven Cents, and the surety proposed being United States Fidelity & Guarantee Company of Baltimore, Maryland; that said bid be and the same is hereby accepted and the contract awarded to said Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company, and that the Mayor and City Clerk be and are hereby authorized to execute the contract on behalf of this city in the form annexed to the above mentioned plans and specifications.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given, that the partnership lately subsisting between John H. Doane and Seeley Edsall, under the firm name of Doane & Edsall in the shoe and leather goods business at the west corner of Madison Avenue and West Front Street in the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, was this day dissolved by mutual consent.

The business will be continued at the same stand by John H. Doane.

All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by the said John H. Doane, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment.

Dated March 18, 1901.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Der Arbeiter Walther in der Kätteritzer Papierfabrik glitt in der Leimküche aus und fiel in den mit Leim gefüllten Bottich. Nach furchtbaren schweren Leiden erlag er den Brandwunden.—Hierorts starb, im 81. Lebensjahre, der Hofrath Karl Ackermann, Rechtsanwalt und Syndikus der Sächsischen Bank. Er war viele Jahre Vorsteher der Dresdener Stadtverordneten, Mitglied der 2. Kammer der sächsischen Ständeversammlung und Reichstagsabgeordneter.

Aue. Der Vorsteher des Sparvereins zu Aue, Schmidt, wurde wegen Unterschlagung von 17,000 Mark Spargeldern zu drei Jahren sechs Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Bautzen. Die reiche, 23jährige sächsische Gräfin Monika Stolberg-Stolberg, eine Doppelwaise, ist in Tournai, Belgien, in ein Kloster eingetreten und hat ihr großes Gut Räckelwitz der rheinischen Malthefer-Genossenschaft zur Gründung eines katholischen Krankenhauses übergeben.

Chemnitz. Das Stadtverordnetenkollegium bewilligte vorläufig 15,000 Mark zur Beschäftigung Arbeitsloser.

Glauchau. Kommerzienrath Schlüter in Dresden, ehedem Mitinhaber der hiesigen Firma Petzoldt, Schlüter & Kratz, ließ dem Bürgermeister Brink für Glauchau eine Stiftung in der Höhe von 30,000 Mark zugehen.

Löbtau. Dahier erschlug der Arbeiter Wenzel Kunte im Säuferwahnsinn seine Ehefrau und drei seiner Kinder mit einem Spitzhammer und verletzte sein viertes Kind, ein Mädchen, schwer.

Thüringische Staaten.

Gera. Der Gemeinderath genehmigte ein Ortsstatut, nach welchem der Fortbildungsschulunterricht auch für Mädchen obligatorisch eingeführt wird.

Gotha. Der Regierungsverweser unseres Landes hat für das Publikum sogenannte Audienztage eingeführt, wie sie auch in Meiningen bestehen. Dadurch ist den Landesbürgern Gelegenheit gegeben, an einem Tage in der Woche dem Staatsoberhaupte persönlich öffentliche Angelegenheiten vorzutragen.

Meiningen. Die Regierung von Sachsen-Meiningen stellte 350,000 Mark zum Bau von Arbeiterwohnungen bereit; 50,000 Mark davon spendete der Herzog.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Die Angelegenheit der vor einiger Zeit beschlagnahmten Goldsendung aus Transvaal kam jüngst nochmals vor dem Landgericht zur Verhandlung. Die Banken, welche die Beschlagnahme veranlaßt hatten, klagten auf Wiederherstellung derselben, da das Gold thatsächlich transvaalisches Staatseigenthum sei. Das Gericht wies jedoch die Klage ab.—Der Reichskanzler Graf Bülow schenkte für den Schnelldampfer der „Hamburg-Amerika-Linie" „Deutschland" eine seidene Standerflagge mit der gestickten Inschrift „Deutschland." In dem begleitenden Schreiben sagte er, er schenke diese Flagge in dankbarer Erinnerung dafür, daß er als Taufpathe des Schiffes ausgewählt wurde.—An hier wurde ein Institut für tropische Hygiene nebst Hospital und Laboratorium eröffnet.—Der frühere Hamburgische Bürgermeister Dr. C. E. Lehmann ist in hohem Alter gestorben.

Bremen. Zur Abwehr der Rinderpest ordnete der Senat besondere Vorsichtsmaßregeln für Schiffe an, welche von chinesischen Häfen, in denen die Rinderpest ausgebrochen ist, nach Bremen kommen.

Oldenburg.

Vechta. Kaum 30 Schritte von der Wohnung seiner Mutter entfernt wurde in Damme der Fettviehhändler J. Wulfekuhle todt aufgefunden. Er hatte sich an einer Feierlichkeit betheiligt, war auf dem Heimwege in der Nähe seiner Wohnung in den Chausseegraben gefallen und ertrunken.

Mecklenburg.

Parchim. In Sucow starb der allen Bienenzüchtern Mecklenburgs als sehr tüchtiger Imker bekannte Lehrer Timm. Er war der erste, der in unserem Lande den Mobilbaubetrieb der Bienenzucht mit großem Eifer verbreitet hat. Bereits im Vorjahre konnte er unter mannigfachen Ehrungen sein 50jähriges Dienstjubiläum als Volksschullehrer feiern.

Braunschweig. Anhalt.

Wolfenbüttel. Eine Belohnung von 75 Mark wurde dem Schuhmacher Julius Staats jun. hierselbst vom preußischen Handelsministerium für die gute Ausarbeitung seines Berichtes über die Pariser Weltausstellung, speziell über die in seinem Fache daselbst gemachten Beobachtungen zuerkannt.

Dessau. Das hiesige Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Pantoffelmacher Hein aus Alten, der in Kliecken den Gastwirth Kracht, von welchem er bei einem Einbruch überrascht wurde, ermordet hatte, zu lebenslänglichem Zuchthaus.

CHARLES S. FRANCIS.

New York Editor Who Has Been Appointed Minister to Greece, Roumania and Servia.

Charles S. Francis was born in Troy, N. Y., where he now lives. His father, John M. Francis, held three diplomatic missions—to Greece, to Portugal and to Austria-Hungary. Charles S. Francis acted as secretary to his father during the latter's three years' residence at Athens. It is an interesting coincidence that Charles S. Francis, editor and owner of the Troy Times, should be appointed minister to Greece by President McKinley just 30 years after his father, John M. Francis, editor and proprietor of the Troy Times, was appointed minister to Greece by President Grant, and that father and son should receive their first diplomatic honor at the same age. Mr. Francis was graduated from Cornell university in 1877.

CHARLES S. FRANCIS.
(United States Minister to Greece, Roumania and Servia.)

Before matriculation at Cornell he learned the printer's trade in the composing room of the Troy Daily Times, which was founded by his father in 1851. After leaving college he proceeded to quality himself further for a journalistic career by becoming a reporter on the Troy Times. Advancing step by step, he acquired a proprietary interest in 1881 and became manager of that paper. On the death of his father, in 1897, he succeeded to the editorship and sole ownership of the paper. Though Mr. Francis has been actively identified with the republican party, he has never held office. He served 11 years on the staff of Maj. Gen. Joseph B. Carr, Third division, New York national guard, and was an officer on the staff of Gov. Alonzo B. Cornell. He is an alumnus trustee of Cornell university, having been elected for two successive terms. He is a director of the United national bank of Troy and of the Albany Trust company, vice president of the New York Society for the Preservation of Scenic and Historic Places and Objects, a member of the Zeta Psi college fraternity, the Society of Sons of the American Revolution and of several Troy and New York clubs.

SIR HIRAM MAXIM.

American Inventor Who Has Just Been Made a Knight by the Queen of England.

Hiram Stevens Maxim, upon whom the order of knighthood has been conferred by Queen Victoria, became a naturalized British subject on September 16, 1899. He has lived in England since 1883, going thither because of the lack of appreciation shown by the United States government for his famous inventions in gunnery. Mr. Maxim, or Sir Hiram Maxim, as he must now be called, is not only the inventor of automatic guns, but has paid much attention to electricity and other branches of mechanical art. His time now is devoted largely to attempts to perfect a flying machine and he has spent no inconsiderable part of his enormous fortune in experimenting along this line. For his achievements in electrical experiment he was decorated in 1881 with the cross of the Legion of Honor by President Grevy of France. The new British knight is 60 years old and a native of Tangersville, Me.

Peculiar Set of Furniture.

Perhaps the oddest suit of furniture in the world is owned by a certain hotel keeper. For many years he has made it his business to collect match boxes, of which he has now a collection of 4,000. He ordered a skilled cabinet maker to equip a room with furniture made of these boxes. The outfit consists of a writing table with smoking apparatus, a fire screen, a cabinet, a chair and other smaller articles.

Europe's Sockless Armies.

French soldiers, when in active service, do not wear socks. German and Russian soldiers wear bandages on their feet instead of socks.

BOICE- RUNYON & CO.,
PARK AVE. AND RAILROAD

A well-known dealer in wines and liquors on Ninth Avenue, New York, has discovered a noteworthy circumstance in connection with his business. "I have been in the liquor business for the past ten years," he says, "and I find that drinking impairs my digestion and puts my stomach out of order. About three months ago I was induced to try Ripans Tabules, and since then I have no trouble with my stomach in the morning as formerly. I carry them with me continually and would not be without them. They are the only thing that ever relieved me."

WANTED: A man of good health in every town to take the agency for Ripans Tabules. Our new plan of selling RIPANS TABULES in 5c packages, 12 packages in a carton, 60 cartons in a box, makes it a profitable business. Any address for 5 cents, the price of one package, will be mailed to any address in the United States. Address, The Ripans Chemical Co., 10 Spruce St., New York.

IS THIS SO?

Plainfield People Can Decide.

You would not accept the word of an utter stranger as readily as that o a person whom you knew. The following statement is made by a citizen, perhaps a neighbor. Read it:

Mrs. M. A. Hall, of 219 Prescott place, says: "For several years I had a dull aching pain across my back, at times extending to my hips. I was compelled to lie in just one position all night and stooping, lifting or bending forward aggravated the pains. A kidney weakness which was very distressing and inconvenient also existed, and though I used different remedies that were recommended to me I obtained little if any relief. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly endorsed in our daily papers and procured a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. It was not long before I felt great relief and I was surprised how quickly the pain in my back disappeared."

For sale by all dealers, price 50c a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United State

THE MODE.

Newest Indications of Fashions For Warmer Weather.

Skirts are often quite unlined in order to keep them very soft and undulating. Of course the material composing them is of a firm, substantial character, else a drop skirt is required to give support.

Hats of the sailor style are much used for traveling and have a great deal of trimming. There are also curious novelties in dress hats, among which may be mentioned a sort of toque composed of one huge velvet rose, with a bunch of violets placed in front under the brim. Many variations of floral hats are seen in which the crown is covered with leaves and the brim with flowers, and vice versa. A very pretty model is made entirely of lilacs and foliage.

RECEPTION GOWN.

Light revers of guipure, silk or colored cloth are immensely used for decorating boleros and bodices.

The cut shows a costume having a trained redingote of black velvet. It is open in front, with a tablier of pink crepe de chine having an embroidery of black and gold at the foot. There are tabs of velvet across the chemisette of pink crepe de chine, with ornamented buttons on each tab. The revers and collar are of white satin embroidered with black and gold, and the velvet sleeves of elbow length have cuffs to match. Below these are puffs of pink crepe de chine. The belt is of pink velvet. The black velvet hat rests upon a sort of turban drapery of pink velvet, with a large knot at the side. Long gloves of cream kid are worn.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

PLAITED COSTUMES.

They Continue to Occupy a Prominent Place In Favor.

Plaited gowns will continue to be worn, and the thin, delicate tissues brought out for spring wear will be used for them. Although they have been essayed in cloth, such goods are really too thick to be successfully manipulated in that way, and so fashion has fallen back upon lighter materials. When warm weather really becomes established, we may look for a renewed vigor in plaited styles. Meanwhile flat, plain skirts are accepted, as they are sure to be at all seasons. They continue to be modeled to the figure at the top, while they flare largely around the foot, either through the medium of a deep circular flounce or by means of having the lower part of the breadths expand suddenly.

FAILLE BODICE.

An illustration is given which shows a new model for a silk bodice. The bodice itself is made of pink faille, accordion plaited. Over this is a bolero of the faille laid in stitched plaits, which run diagonally, trimmed with an application border of white panne dotted with gold cabochons. The collar and little guimpe are of the panne also, as is the wide corselet belt, which is fastened across the front by bands of velvet and gold buttons. The sleeves are of stitched faille, like the bolero, and have puffs at the wrists of the accordion plaited faille gathered into cuffs of the gold dotted white panne. Black velvet is laced across the guimpe by means of gold buttons, and the velvet ends terminate in gold tags.

THE COIFFURE.

The Fashionable Mode of Dressing the Hair Is Lower.

Medici collars are less worn than they were because of the change in the method of hairdressing. The coil is worn lower than it was. Indeed in the newest form it is placed almost at the back of the neck, which interferes with high collars. This style of arranging the hair is by no means universally becoming and is, of course, adopted only by those women to whose type of face it is suitable. The method of dressing the hair has more to do with personal appearance than has any other detail of the toilet, and most women are sensible enough to appreciate this and to settle upon some one style which is especially becoming and suitable and keep to it.

PRINCESS GOWN.

The cut depicts a princess gown of peau de soie. It closes diagonally, the line of fastening being ornamented by a band of guipure and choux of narrow black velvet, held by buckles and connected by strands of velvet. The skirt has a circular flounce, finished by a band at the edge and another at the top. The yoke and collar are of white moire, bordered with guipure, and there is a small lace cravat. The sleeves are of peau de soie as far down as the elbow, where there is a drooping puff of peau de soie headed by a band of guipure. A tight sleeve of guipure extends from the elbow over the hand. The hat is of tulle, with a large buckle in front and a cluster of geraniums.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION HINTS.

Suggestions With Regard to the Fashionable Wardrobe.

For young girls and young women the bolero is still in the ascendant and for cold days is composed of fur having a short frill.

The empire sack of cloth, with an embroidered yoke, is much worn. Innumerable feather boas are seen and fur collarettes also. Fancy muffs are, however, more carried than those of fur and are so much less expensive that several different ones are possible to the woman of moderate means. Velvet or satin is the usual material, with trimmings of ribbon, lace or even flowers.

White or very pale gloves are the only kind permissible for ceremonious occasions. Colored gloves are for ordinary wear.

Flowers are already seen on hats in anticipation of spring. After Lent begins winter is practically over, no matter what the temperature, and it is time to start upon warm weather gowns.

TAFFETA GOWN.

Today's illustration shows a costume of sky blue and white glace taffeta. The skirt, plain in front, is plaited at the sides and back and incrusted with large lace flowers. The tight pointed bodice has a plastron of lace application and the yoke and collar of waved pink mousseline de soie. A large pink satin bow is placed at the left side of the bodice. The sleeves, of elbow length, have applications of lace at the top and a frill of lace at the edge. The gloves are of cream suede. The hat is covered with the glace taffeta and trimmed with a light blue plume and pink roses.

CAUGHT BY AN ICEBERG.

For Three Weeks a Big Steamer Was Carried Along Safely in a Cradle of Ice.

Wrecked by an iceberg in one of the strangest of manners is the story of the steamer Whitelaw, ten days out of Belfast for New Brunswick.

The propeller shaft had broken and the screw had dropped into a mile of water. Helpless, the vessel rolled and pitched on the long swells of the Atlantic. There was fog. Then came wind and then drifting, day after day On the sixth day, there was fog again and suddenly out of the white mist rose the whiter outlines of an immense iceberg.

CARRIED BY AN ICEBERG.

There was no time to lower boats. The huge mass was overshadowing the vessel, when all at once it grated and grounded hard and fast on an underlying shelf of ice. Fast in this ice cradle the vessel drifted southward day after day, the crew expecting an overhanging cliff of ice to fall and crush the vessel or to have the whole ice mass "turn turtle."

But nothing happened. Only the steady southward drift of berg and steamer followed, and day by day, as warmer seas were encountered, the ice mass grew smaller.

For three weeks the huge iceberg dwindled, until, as it tilted, the Whitelaw was lifted out of the water. From this pinnacle the crew finally attracted the attention of the Cyrus, of Hamburg. Scarcely had the crew deserted the imprisoned ship when the berg turned on its side, carrying the Whitelaw down.

WOLF AND MAN FIGHT.

Whirling Process Adopted by Latter Left Both Dizzy and Rendered Them Hors de Combat.

Sam Vassar, a popular ranchman near Goodland, Kan., had an adventure with a wolf the other day which probably would have ended seriously had it not been for the ranchman's great strength and nerve. Vassar was looking for strayed cattle on the range and saw a wolf leave its den among the rocks along the creek. He started for the den to cut off the wolf's retreat, but the animal saw him, and in the race for the den the man and the wolf arrived at the same time. As the wolf was disappearing in its den Vassar caught it by the tail and after an effort dragged it into the open.

Vassar then commenced to turn on his heel and swing the wolf in a circle. He whirled around in this manner until he was dizzy and his arms almost tired out from holding the huge animal, when he stepped on a loose stone and fell. The wolf was also dizzy from the whirl and lay in a heap where it had fallen. It had almost recovered consciousness and was making feeble efforts to regain its equilibrium when Vassar crawled over to it and stabbed it to death with his pocketknife.

Vassar was so exhausted he could not move from the spot and was found there an hour later by his friends and taken home.

Antics of an Old Clock.

An antique clock, in Calcium, Pa., lately struck one, and almost caused a tragedy. It has been in the family of Mrs. Susanna Phillips for 160 years. While that lady was triyng to wind it, the clock tilted forward, falling upon her and crushing her to the floor. An aged invalid, Peter Koller, hearing her screams, crept to her assistance and managed to rescue her.

THE CROWD CHEERED.

Because a Bright Little Woman with an Umbrella Put a Cheeky Masher to Flight.

He stood for two hours one afternoon last week, says the Chicago Chronicle, ogling the women who passed the corner of State street and Jackson boulevard in busy throngs. He was not handsome, neither was his figure one that would gain him many points in a beauty show. Indeed, from his rotund person and the manner in which he occupied the sidewalk one naturally would suppose his place might more appropriately be at the live stock show.

One little woman, pretty, well gloved and booted and with a bewitching toque hat set jauntily on her head, passed the porcine individual several times. She evidently was hunting up a particular shade of ribbon or on the search for a peculiar style of lace, for her brow was puckered and she seemed perturbed.

Because she passed and repassed several times the masher thought it was due to his own charms. On her third trip past the corner the cad raised his hat. The little woman flushed indignantly and there was a dangerous sparkle in her eye, but she continued on her way. The masher looked after her, but decided to await her return. He took up even a more prominent place on the sidewalk.

When the little woman had come out of one of the big department stores and prepared to sail past the masher she evidently had mapped out a campaign of action. She unfurled her umbrella and raised it, although the rain was falling but lightly. There was a gleam of revenge in her eye as she sallied out, but the cad on the corner, when he saw her coming, smiled complacently to himself.

When just opposite the rotund masher the little woman lowered her umbrella, ostensibly to withstand a sudden blast. The steel rod of the parasol was pointing directly at the masher's third waistcoat button and when she charger home the cad howled for very pain. When, with seeming surprise, the little woman lowered her umbrella it was to see the fleeing form of her tormentor, and as he fled the laughs and jeers of the crowd followed him.

BRIDE KILLS HERSELF.

Drinks a Toast in Poison While Surrounded by a Company of Laughing Guests.

"Drink to my twenty-second birthday. I'll never see another," cried beautiful Lillian Schilling the other night to a score of merry friends whom Mrs. Henry Harris, 193 Scholes street, Brooklyn, whom she was visiting, had invited to surprise her.

With shouts of merriment and laughter at her prophecy the toast was drunk and Mr. Harris, the host, laughingly gave the young woman 22 blows on the back in token of the day.

"DRINK TO MY BIRTHDAY."

As the guests applauded the one in whose honor they were gathered sank back in a chair.

"I'll never see another," she moaned again. Her face turned livid and she fell to the floor.

"I've killed myself," she gasped as the wondering guests gathered about her. "I'll never see another birthday. I killed myself because all my happiness was gone."

They noticed then that her glass had fallen to the floor. The yellow liquid it had contained already was discoloring the carpet. The toast she had proposed she had drunk in carbolic acid.

An ambulance hurried her to St. Catherine's hospital, but just as she was put on a cot she died.

She was a bride of only a few months. Several weeks ago she quarreled with her husband and went to live with her friend, Mrs. Harris.

TEDDY SHOOTS A LION.

Vice President-Elect Roosevelt Brings Down a Big Catamount and Saves a Companion.

In a taxidermist's shop in Meeker, Col., the body of a mountain lion is being mounted. It is not unlike several other beasts which have been brought there from the neighboring county, but never before has one been brought in which attracted so much attention, for this animal was killed by Vice President-elect Theodore Roosevelt. There is a story connected with the killing of the lion, for in sending a bullet through its neck at just the right time Mr. Roosevelt not only brought to earth his first lion, but saved the life of one of his companions in the chase, Dr. Gerald B. Webb, of Colorado Springs. As it was, the animal fell upon the physician, knocked him to the ground and made several ugly wounds with its sharp claws.

Accompanied by John Goff, a guide, Gov. Roosevelt, Dr. Webb, "Dick" Stone and A. G. Wallihan started from Meeker for the Keystone ranch 36 miles northeast of there. Four miles from the city the hounds struck a scent and led the hunters on a hot chase of eight miles. When the dogs were overtaken the lion had sought refuge in a tree. Dismounting, the hunters stood near by and discussed who was to do the shooting. All wanted Mr. Roosevelt to do it, but he unselfishly declined. Finally lots were drawn and the vice president-elect pulled the longest straw. Meantime the lion had done some thinking, for just as Col. Roosevelt raised his rifle, the beast sprang straight for the men. A bullet from the colonel's rifle met it in midair, penetrating the brute's neck and breaking its backbone. It fell with tremendous force on Dr. Webb. "Dick" Stone brought the body of the beast back, and says the colonel is delighted with the trophy of the hunt. It will be mounted and sent to Oyster Bay.

THE FIREMAN'S MISTAKE.

In a Moment of Aberration He Thought the Manager of the Theater Was a Gentleman.

Frank Wyatt, the London artist, actor, singer and manager, has combined several professions for so many years that it is hard to say in which one he is most popular. He and Mrs. Wyatt (Miss Violet Melnotte) built and still own the Duke of York's theater. Mr. Wyatt succeeded George Grossmith in the Gilbert and Sullivan operas and his duke of Plazatora (in "The Gondoliers") was one of the most humorous performances ever seen at the Savoy.

THE FIREMAN CAUGHT HIM.

He has been 16 times to America, making a brilliant tour on one occasion with a company of Italian pantomimists.

The following blunder of a Drury Lane fireman occurred when Mr. Wyatt was playing in "La Fille de Mme. Angot." One night he left the Lane earlier than usual to go to an at home, having dressed in his room at the theater. He had just gone through the stage door, when he recollected a message that he had been commissioned to give to one of the ladies. So he turned and hurried back into the theater. "Stop! You can't go in there, sir!" exclaimed the fireman on duty. But Mr. Wyatt took no notice and ran across the stage, as the curtain was down, pursued by the fireman, who caught him up as he reached the opposite side, with the indignant protest: "You mustn't come here, sir. This is behind the scenes!" "I know it is!" said Mr. Wyatt, "but I'm a member of the company. Don't you recognize me? I am Frank Wyatt!" "Oh, I beg your pardon, sir!" exclaimed the fireman, "but I thought you were a gentleman!"

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

New Method of Discipline Adopted at the Chicago Bridewell Proves Very Efficacious.

"Plowing" has taken the place of spanking as a disciplinary method at the Chicago bridewell. The new punishment is not agricultural, but the boys who have "worked time" steadily for an hour or two say it has all the tortures of a day's tramp behind the plow.

In the large drill room, next to the manual-training department, the "plowing" is done and the youthful prisoners have dubbed it the "plowing room." The lads who are to be punished are brought into the room and placed in single file. The guard then orders them to stand erect with their hands clasped behind their backs.

NEW CHICAGO PUNISHMENT.
(Boy Prisoners Mark Time for Hours and Call It "Plowing.")

Then the order to march is given. A continual "tramp, tramp" is kept up and no talking or whispering allowed. That is more easily accomplished from the fact that not more than six or seven boys are disciplined at any one time, and they are forced to keep at least three feet apart.

The character of the offense limits the period of the punishment. In most cases where the marching extends over several hours in one day the lads fall asleep immediately afterward. There is some exhaustion, but the boys seem to be more impressed with the nature of the discipline than under the old method of spanking.

Every boy in the institution must stand on his monthly record. For the use of the pardoning board and the juvenile court Superintendent Sloan compiles a complete report each month.

"There is another feature in this report," said Mr. Sloan, to a Chicago Daily News man. "There are several boys in here now who I think were run into the juvenile court and by falsehood and other means were placed in the school. Two boys who were working in down-town establishments lost their positions and while seeking new jobs were thrown out of home and in a short time the parents ran them through the court by swearing to almost anything only to saddle the care of the boys upon the state."

JOSEPH RALPH BURTON.

New Senator for Kansas Is Noted for His Determination, Pugnacity and Rare Eloquence.

Joseph Ralph Burton, the next United States senator from Kansas, is an Indianian. He is 47 years old and has lived in Kansas since 1875. His home is Abilene, and he is a lawyer. He is the best known orator in that state, and is in demand all over the west. During the past campaign he spoke in 100 counties of his state, and for 25 years he has spent two to four months in every campaign. He is eloquent and impressive on the stump, and won his election by his voice. Six years ago he was defeated in the caucus by only one vote, and at once went to work for this election, now nearing the goal for which he has been for 12 years an avowed seeker. He will be as eloquent in the senate as was the late Senator Ingalls, but perhaps will not have the biting sarcasm that made the latter so noted. Mrs. Burton has traveled with her husband on all his speechmaking tours and has done much to assist him to win. They have no children.

JOSEPH R. BURTON,
(United States Senator-Elect from the State of Kansas.)

King Is an Early Riser.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy is an early riser. One morning recently at eight o'clock he arrived unexpectedly at the office of administration of the royal household, which is situated opposite the palace. He found one servant dusting and sweeping. The king lighted a cigarette and walked up and down, waiting. At 9:30 the first clerk arrived. The king asked at what hour the employes were expected to be at the office. "At eight o'clock, your majesty," replied the embarrassed official. "And now it is 9:30," remarked the king, taking up his hat and leaving the premises. Since then all the clerks and officials make their appearance promptly at eight o'clock.

VOLNEY F. GREEN DROWNED.

MET HIS DEATH WHILE DUCK SHOOTING NEAR DES MOINES, IOWA.

Was Studying Medicine at School of Osteopathy—He Was Very Popular in Plainfield, and Was Well Known.

A telegram was received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Green, of West Sixth street, last evening, telling of the death of their only son, Volney F. Green, who was drowned near Des Moines, Iowa, while duck shooting None of the details were given. The news was a terrible shock to the family and will be to the community as well, for Volney F. Green was one of the best-known and most popular young men in the city. He had hosts of friends, who will greatly mourn his untimely death.

Volney F. Green was born in Brooklyn, twenty-two years ago. He came to this city with his parents when a lad and most of his time was spent here. He attended the public schools and subsequently the Plainfield High School. After working in New York for several years, he decided to study medicine and began at the Medical School of Osteopathy at Philadelphia two years ago. He subsequently went to DesMoines, Iowa, where he continued his studies at the School of Osteopathy there.

He was prominent in local athletic circles and always took an active part in all kinds of sports. He was very fond of hunting. He was a member of the New Jersey Naval Reserve and went through the Spanish War on board the cruiser Badger. A recent letter to his parents said that he had just passed the mid-winter examinations with exceptionally high marks He leaves one sister, Mrs. Meredith Dryden, of West Sixth street.

ELECTED A PRESIDENT.

Fanwood Council is Trying to Get Out of Mayoralty Tangle, But Has More Trouble.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Fanwood, March 19.—An attempt was made last evening by the Borough Council to solve the mayoralty tangle. Some of the members believe that as long as the election for a mayor was a tie that the president of the Council will have to act in that capacity. The new Council met and elected one after much tribulation. Frank D. Warren was the man chosen.

Ernest C. Kieb, borough clerk, called the meeting to order. Thomas S Young, who stands tie with Alfred McKeowan for the mayoralty, was nominated as was John Stevens. The vote was three to three. Francis J. Palmer was named in place of Mr. Stevens and the dead lock continued.

Finally Frank D. Warren was named and elected five to one, the latter being his own vote. A communication from Township Attorney W. B. Codington stated that the easiest way out of the mayoralty tangle was to secure the enactment of a law by the Legislature settling the trouble.

LAST OF STAR COURSE.

Concluding Entertainment was of a Very High Character.

The concluding entertainment in the Star Course at the Y. M. C. A. was given to an appreciative audience last evening. The chief feature of the programme was Wilson Barrett's drama, "The Sign of the Cross," which was presented by Miss Gay Zenola McClaran. It was a difficult thing to present that thrilling story with its numerous characters, but Miss McClaran succeeded beyond all expectations. Her work was of an exceptionally high order and her hearers were enthusiastic in their praise.

She was assisted in the programme by Miss May Vincent Whitney, one of Plainfield's most talented pianists. Miss Whitney played with feeling and great correctness. Her selections showed her excellent ability.

PLANNING FOR CEMETERY.

Raritan Township Committee Passed That Ordinance on First Reading.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Metuchen, March 19—The Raritan Township Committee held a conference with the promoters of the big cemetery for Oak Tree at Bonhamtown Saturday evening. The necessary permission having been secured from the health authorities, the Township Committee passed on its first reading an ordinance which permits the location of the cemetery in the township. There were no votes against it.

This ordinance will come up for final action at a meeting of the Township Committee Wednesday evening.

Sent Over a Note.

The case of Charles Jensen against Robert Gardner was tried in Justice Huff's court yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff was represented by Francis J. Blatz, of the firm of Murphy & Blatz, while W. S. Angleman represented the defendant. The case was that of where the defendant gave a note for $150 to J. A. Blatz, and Mr. Jensen was the endorser, and finally had to pay the note, as, it is said, Mr. Gardner allowed it to go to protest. After much argument on both sides, Justice Huff reserved his decision until tomorrow noon.

Was Only Peddling.

City Detective McCarthy placed under arrest Morris Lutz, of Somerville, whom he caugut peddling without a license. Lutz alleged at the hearing this morning, before City Judge Runyon, that he was merely peddling. The court did not seem impressed with the defense and gave the prisoner the choice between $5 fine and twenty days in jail.

BOY WAS THRASHED IN JAIL.

GRANDFATHER ADMINISTERED PUNISHMENT BY ADVICE OF JUDGE.

Lad Was One of Three Who Helped Themselves to Sweets in Warnock's Bakery.

A sound thrashing was the punishment which City Judge Runyon ordered to be inflicted on Benjamin Harold and Adolph Davis, two wayward colored boys, who were found guilty this morning of having stolen sweets at Warnock's bakery on North avenue yesterday.

The two, accompanied by a third boy who made good his escape, entered the bakery yesterday, and while the Harold boy helped himself to the cream puffs, Davis sampled the coffee cakes. They were arrested and this morning brought before the court.

Chief Kiely informed City Judge Runyon of the bad reputation the culprits bore, and after they had make frank confessions, the court stated that in its opinion a severe chastisement would serve as a better lesson than imprisonment and he arranged with the grandfather of Harold and the mother of Davis to administer the whipping.

Harold's grandfather, losing no time in arming himself with a good whip, proceeded to the cell room and carried out the sentence of His Honor.

The mercy of the police authorities only prompted him to desist in the beating after the boy had received sufficient punishment. The Davis lad is scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon.

PARTNERSHIP DISSOLVED.

John H. Doane Has Bought Out Interest of Seeley Edsall in Well-Known Shoe Firm.

An important change in local business circles was made yesterday afternoon when John H. Doane, the senior member of the firm of Doane & Edsall, the well known shoe dealers, bought out the interest of Mr. Edsall and will continue the business hereafter alone.

Mr. Doane has long been identified with local business interests. Thirty years ago, he went into the shoe store of J. O Campbell on East Front street as a clerk. When Randolph & Sons bought out the business, he remained with them for a time and then entered the employ of Alex. Willett.

Fifteen years ago, Mr. Doane and Morris C. VanArsdale went into partnership and started a shoe store. Their business flourished for six years when Mr. VanArsdale sold out his interest to Seeley Edsall and went to Connecticut. The firm of Doane & Edsall then continued until yesterday when Mr. Edsall retired. The store is at the corner of Madison avenue and West Front street and is very popular with local shoppers.

Mr. Doane has many friends in the city who will wish him the success which his carefulness and energy are sure to win. He has worked up a splendid trade which will undoubtedly continue to grow.

Legislature Will Adjourn Friday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 19 —A concurrent resolution was passed by the Senate last evening which fixes Friday as day of adjournment. This will kill the Morris Canal abandonment bill, as it will be impossible to push it through this week. The bill providing for biennial sessions of the Legislature was passed by a vote of forty one to one in the House, the single negative vote being cast by Leon Abbett.

BOTH LEGS WERE CUT OFF.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO PETER THOMPSON ON JERSEY CENTRAL.

Fell Under Wheels of Moving Train at Elizabeth—Attempted to Board Car—Lived in Plainfield.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, March 19.—Peter Thompson, a young man but twenty one years old, who resided on West Fourth street, Plainfield, met with terrible injuries which resulted in his death, while attempting to board a moving train on the Jersey Central at the transfer station here early last evening. In some manner he slipped and fell beneath the wheels. Both legs were cut off above the knees and he was crushed about the upper part of the body. An ambulance was summoned from the Alexian Brothers Hospital, but he died in the vehicle before it reached the institution. In the man's pocket was found a note from ex-Alderman John J. Gardner, of this city, making an appointment with Thompson for last night, and it was this which brought the young man to meet his death.

Thompson came to this city from Bayonne three years ago and had been employed in the various shops as core maker. His last position was at the Pond Tool Works where he was very well known as he was also throughout the West End. He left Ponds last week as he expected to be laid off Saturday.

For the past year or more he boarded with Mrs. John Hill, of 941 West Fourth street. He was very well liked by the family and was always regarded as a sober industrious young man. He left the house yesterday telling Mrs. Hill that he expected to secure a position at Elizabeth and would be home early in the evening. His sweetheart was waiting for his return when a policeman brought the news of his death.

The funeral services will be held from his parent's residence at Bayonne where he also leaves a brother and a sister.

Fell Dead on the Street.

Bridget Longeram, an aged woman, dropped dead on West Fifth street, near Plainfield avenue, early last evening as she was on her way to her room on West Third street. The body was taken to Cole's undertaking parlors, as her identity could not at first be learned. She had no relatives and made a scanty living by scrubbing. She resided in this city for many years and was more familiarly known as "Bridget, the Tip," to which she strongly objected, but would seldom give her own name.

Sons of Temperance Entertained.

Under the auspices of Howell Division, S. of T., a musical and literary entertainment was given in their rooms in Washington Hall last evening. Songs and recitations were given by Prof. Stevens, of Philadelphia, Mrs. John Manly, Miss Try Mattox and Miss Ohl. There were also interesting addresses on the temperance question by Mrs. Jones and others of this city. The programme concluded with phonograph selections given under the direction of Mr. Armstrong.

Drunk and Begging.

Last evening City Detective McCarthy placed in the lockup Jas. Harold, of Newark, who it is alleged was drunk and begging at the trolley station on Watchung avenue. City Judge Runyon sentenced Harold to pay a $5 fine or undergo 20 days' imprisonment.

HOW DANTE PICTURES LIFE IN PURGATORY.

Prof. E. H. Griggs Delivered Fourth of Series of Lectures on Dante.

HIS WORK WAS DESCRIBED.

THE "PURGATORIO" PART OF THE DIVINE COMEDY CONSIDERED.

Interesting and Instructive Talk on That Great Composition of the Florentine Poet—Lecture Given in Vincent Chapel.

Prof. Edward Howard Griggs, whose talks on "Dante" are being so greatly enjoyed by the book lovers of Plainfield, delivered the fourth lecture of the series yesterday afternoon in Vincent chapel, before a very large audience. Proceeding with the study of the "Divine Comedy" which was begun with the talk on the "Inferno" given last week, Mr. Griggs spoke on this occasion of Dante's "Purgatorio."

He spoke first of the difference in tone in the "Inferno" and the "Purgatorio"; in the former reigned darkness, pain and despair; in the latter there was indeed pain, but pain which ends in joy, and about all there shone an ever-brightening light. For this very reason, however, as Mr. Griggs pointed out, the second part of the poem is weaker than the first; it is the tragic deeps of human life that make the greater appeal to the sympathies.

The speaker briefly described Dante's Purgatory, which the poet conceived as a great mountain, with its base on the earth and its top reaching to the heavens. It was divided into seven circles, in each of which was expiated a different sin, all of the sins being sins against love, such as pride, envy, anger. The descriptions of nature in this part of the poem, the speaker pointed out, are most similar to those of the world which we know, and its ethical teachings are the most helpful and applicable to men and women. Mr Griggs went on to say that as the path of virtue in this world is an endless climb, Dante had made the getting out of Purgatory into the Celestial Country the reward of the ascent of a mountain, where, as life, the hardest part was the first.

Mr. Griggs stated the underlying doctrine of the "Purgatorio" as the doctrine of free will; this land was one where the inhabitants were to free themselves by their own efforts. There was a penance that must be performed by themselves if they were to rise higher; if they sat supinely at the foot of the mountain no one else could raise them.

The punishment of each sin was shown to be appropriate to it, and one which was its logical outcome. For example, those who had committed the sin of pride were compelled to walk bowed down with heavy weights; the eyes of the envious were sewn together; the slothful were obliged to run day and night. All, as they suffered their punishment, heard a call to a higher life, and to the virtue corresponding to their sin. When one finished his course and went upward, all joined in rejoicing.

The last ideal of the Purgatory was passing through the wall of fire that encircled the terrestrial paradise, and which purged the soul from the last earthly dross. Through this Dante feared to pass until told by his guide, Virgil, that only that fiery barrier separated him from his old love, Beatrice, whereupon he plunged into the flames.

Mr. Griggs pointed out many of the finest descriptive passages of the poem and others in which were contained the most important ethical teachings. Among the latter was the charge given to Dante not to sit down with the discouraged shades at the foot of the mountain, but to press upward, and as he went extend a helping hand to others; the encouragement to help strengthen others by praying for them; and the emphasis given to the thought that spiritual things grow by using them and imparting them to others. He was, as on the previous occasions, thoroughly informed upon his subject, and made the great Florentine and the creations of his imagination live before the audience.

The lecture to be given Saturday of next week will have for its subject the third part of the Divine Comedy, the "Paradise."

Attended Uncle's Funeral.

David Rockafellow, a well-known resident of Somerville, died at that place last week at the age of eighty-seven. The funeral was held Sunday and was attended by a number from this city, including Constable George Rockafellow who was a nephew.

INJURED IN WRECK.

Ira VanBoskirk Is Slowly Recovering From Injuries Received in Trolley Accident.

Another victim of the trolley accident at Westfield last Wednesday, making twelve in all, and who has hitherto escaped mention in the reports, was Ira VanBoskirk, of West Second street. He was thrown forcibly against the sides of the car when it turned over and received bruises on nearly every part of his body. He has since been confined to his bed suffering from shock and has been under the care of Dr. Lufburrow. The latter hopes to have the patient out in a short time.

PONY FELL ON HILL.

Young People From Washington Park Had Narrow Escape From a Serious Accident Yesterday Afternoon.

Miss Mabel Hooley and Ray Hooley, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley, of 70 Rockview avenue; Miss Marjorie Howard and Miss Dorothy Howard, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Howard, of 97 Mercer avenue, had a lively experience yesterday afternoon. The young folks had a small two-seated wagon and a team of ponies belonging to the Hooley children. They were on their way home and in descending the Grove street hill from West Front street, one of the ponies in missing his footing fell and was dragged for a considerable distance.

The dashboard was wrecked and the one pony was quite badly injured about the front legs. The other pony remained quiet and probably averted a more serious accident. Ray Hooley was driving and he exhibited much skill in handling the ponies.

WORTHY OBJECT.

A Chance For Generous Plainfielders to Contribute Toward The Relief of an Unfortunate Case.

An opportunity for charitably inclined persons to contribute towards a worthy object is awarded by the Woman's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital. A little cripple at the hospital was unable to walk without the aid of a brace and this was bought for her by the board. In response to an appeal made the public have contributed $8 of the $40 which the brace cost and now the board again appeal for further contributions. An expense of this nature can not be met from the regular funds of the hospital.

FUNERAL OF MRS. TUNISON.

Held in Hope Chapel Yesterday Afternoon and Largely Attended.

Nearly every seat was occupied in Hope Memorial chapel yesterday afternoon with the sorrowing relatives and friends of Mrs. Samuel Tunison, over whose remains services were held at that place. They were conducted by Rev. G Kennedy Newell, pastor of the chapel, who spoke with great earnestness to the bereaved husband and family. The casket wherein the body reposed was nearly covered with beautiful floral tributes from intimate friends.

At the close of the services the remains were taken to Evergreen cemetery where interment was made. Those who acted as pall bearers were Howard Manning, Daniel Shea, William Westphal, Frank McInerny, Geo. Leland and John Sloyan.

Plains School Meeting.
(Special to the Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, March 20.—The annual school meeting was held last evening and was attended by nearly fifty citizens. There was only one ticket in the field and there was not the slightest opposition or trouble of any kind. The old trustees, A D Shepard, James Goodman and Ira G. Walker, were re-elected. George R. Nichol was chairman of the meeting and the district clerk, T. J. Nichol acted as secretary. The appropriation asked for $4,025, was granted unanimously.

Strong Association.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A new series will also be started which will be known as No. 8 This organization, which is now in its seventeenth year, is a Plainfield institution and has always been managed by Plainfield citizens with the result that it is now on a firm basis.

Funeral of Mrs. Tobin.

The funeral services of Mrs. John Tobin were held from St. Mary's church this morning. Rev. Father McGeary was the officiating clergyman. The pall bearers were Martin Kane, James Muldowney, Thomas Muldowney, Thomas Lyons, Aleck McGuigan, and Thomas Fahy. Interment was made at St Mary's cemetery.

ANNUAL REPORT OF PRESIDENT M'CUTCHEN.

Full Text of Report Presented at Borough School Meeting Last Evening.

VERY INTERESTING READING.

CAREFUL SUMMING UP OF EDUCATIONAL SITUATION IN BOROUGH.

What Has Been Done During Past Years—New Heating and Ventilating System—Manual Training Department—Fire and Its Results.

The following is the full text of the annual report of S. St. John McCutchen, president of the North Plainfield Board of Education, presented at the annual borough school meeting last night:

To the public of North Plainfield:

The school year just past has been marked by three events of more than ordinary interest: First, the installation of an approved and complete system of heating and ventilation in the Somerset street building; second, the establishment of a department of manual training and the erection of a suitable building for this work; third, a misfortune, the fire which occurred on October 13, 1900, in the basement of the Somerset street school.

Heating and ventilation—The installation of a new system of heating and ventilation was ordered at a meeting of the school district, held July 2, 1900, and the issue by the Board of Education of $5,500 of bonds of the district to pay for the same was then authorized. The contract for this work was awarded, after competition, to the Wills Heating and Ventilating Company, a concern of high standing in its field of business, and which had placed its plants in many school buildings in this State.

The plant in this school has now been substantially completed and paid for, except a small balance, from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds authorized to be issued. This issue of bonds consists of eleven bonds of the denomination of $500 each with interest at 5 per cent., and they were issued and sold to the firm of Jose Parker & Company, of Boston, for $5 766 90, a premium of $266 90. For the first time this building is now properly and and healthfully heated and ventilated.

Manual Training—For several years past the Board of Education has felt that it ought to urge upon the district the creation of a department of manual training. This is now well recognized as a valuable feature of every good system of public school education, and the generous attitude of the State toward it enables a school district to secure it at small expense. The policy of the State is to encourage it to the extent that to any school district which will raise, by tax, gift or otherwise, a sum up to $5,000, to establish manual training, the State will contribute from its general treasury, not from the State school fund, a like amount, and thereafter for the maintenance of the work will supplement any amount up to $5,000 per year with the gift of a like amount.

In this district, notwithstanding these inducements, in view of the large expense necessitated by the administration of the schools and the increase from time to time required to keep pace with the growth and progress of the schools, the Board of Education were reluctant to ask you to vote to raise by tax the amount which would be our share of the cost of establishing manual training. The matter was laid before a generous citizen of the borough, who promptly expressed a desire to contribute to the district for this purpose, a sum, which together with the amount which this gift would secure from the State, would enable us to build and properly equip a suitable manual training building in the rear of the Somerset street school lot, and to maintain it for the balance of this school year. We had estimated the total cost of this to be $5,000 C W. McCutchen has subscribed $2,500; the State has given us $2 500, and with these sums we have built, equipped and are operating the department, so far at no cost to the district.

It seems to us that nothing can better demonstrate the importance of and interest in public school education than that, not alone the State, but private citizens, heavily taxed already for county municipal and school purposes, give to develop and extend the facilities for such education. We sincerely hope that the citizens of the borough will visit and inspect the manual training school and realize what a valuable addition has been made to the school system without cost to them.

Fire—On the night of the 12th or in the early morning of the 13th of October last, a fire occurred in the basement of the Somerset street school. The cause of the fire has never been satisfactorily ascertained. The fire was kept by the fire department within narrow limits, and the damage was comparatively small. We have thought that the conduct of the fire department was unusually intelligent and effective, and that the fire was handled and overcome without any unnecessary and destructive flooding of water. The loss was promptly adjusted with the various insurance companies having risks on the building at $2,916 78; this amount was paid to us and therewith the building and furniture have been repaired and replaced. This unfortunate incident caused but a trifling disturbance of the sessions of the school.

Condition of school—On the educational side, the schools are prospering. Teachers are capable and zealous; pupils are apparently interested; the numbers are increasing and every mark of growth and progress seems to be present. Mr. Wightman, the superintendent, has the respect and confidence of the board. He is progressive; he keeps informed as to advances in educational matters and is constantly suggesting change and improvement wherever they seem to be needed.

Attendance — The attendance has largely increased. The average enrollment for the period since the school opened in September is 866. We have had present at one time 999 The average enrollment is 90 more than that for the corresponding period a year ago. This increase is extraordinary and not easily accounted for. It is far beyond what should have been expected from the normal increase in population. The poll lists and census do not show any growth of population to warrant the expectation of any such extraordinary increase in school attendance.

The reasonable explanation of it is that with the growth and improvement of the schools, the extension of its courses; its kindergarten; its manual training; its business course; its stenography and typewriting, new and larger opportunities are offered to the children of the borough in a larger variety of directions and they are availing themselves of these opportunities. Of course this increased attendance means increased expense.

Please remember that for every forty five new children you put into our schools, you compel us to employ a new teacher, and to pay a new salary, and that for increase of school expense necessitated by increase of school attendance you and not we are responsible. An increase of ninety new pupils means the employment of two new teachers at a cost for salaries of at least $1 000 for the two, and besides necessary books, school supplies, desks and other school equipment. We beg you to remember this when you come to notice the increased appropriations asked by us for the coming school year.

The average enrollment of the school for the period from September to February, 1898, was 676; September to February, 1899, was 746; September to February, 1900, was 776; September to February, 1901, was 866; that is, in 1898 there was an increase in average enrollment over the previous year of 3 per cent, in 1899, 5 per cent, in 1900, 4 per cent, in 1901, 11 1 2 per cent.

We have found it interesting to compare the present condition of the schools with that which prevailed ten years ago.

Within this period there has been developed the full High School course, the kindergarten course, the business course, including stenography and typewriting, systematic instruction in music, systematic instruction in drawing, better methods in teaching, better text books and educational appliances, and in fact progress and improvement at every point.

We have a large establishment, a better establishment, but an economically administered establishment, and one which I think you as citizens and voters, can be satisfied. Upon one committee of our board there has been placed this year great labor and responsibility The committee on grounds and building has had supervision and care of the placing of the system of heating and ventilation in the building, the erection of the manual training building and the repairs necessitated by the fire. Dr J. H. Cooley has been the chairman of this committee and as such has been charged with these responsibilities. His efficient and intelligent discharge of these responsibilities has placed the board, at least, in his debt, and we think that the district should know of his invaluable service.

WOMEN LOST FIGHT IN SCHOOL MEETING.

Greatest School Meeting Held at Cranford for Years and Won by the Men.

CONTEST WAS CLOSE ONE.

ATTEMPT TO ELECT TWO WOMEN TO SCHOOL BOARD WAS A FAILURE.

It Was After Midnight When the Counting of the Ballots Was Completed—Three Tickets in the Field—Result Was Close.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, March 20—The most exciting school meeting ever held in this town took place last evening when an attempt was made by the members of the Village Improvement Association and the Wednesday Morning Club to elect two women to membership on the Board of Education.

Long before the time for calling the meeting to order the large hall in the new school house was packed to the doors and even standing room could not be found. The regulars won the first round by having Louie E Coudert elected as chairman and N. F. Foster as secretary.

When nominations were called for R E. Townsend named the following ticket which was heartily applauded: Mrs. Fanny E. Bates, president of the Village Improvement Association; Mrs. Eugenia Banker, president-elect of the Wednesday Morning Club; George G. Teller and E W. Hart.

The regulars had as their nominees: G. G. Teller, Edward Everitt, F. N. Brundage and Horace F. Hill The independent ticket contained the names of William M. Sperry, Daniel H. Hopkins and Harvest Osbourn.

Nearly four hundred ballots were cast and so many were scratched and pasted that it was after midnight when the tellers had finished counting and then it was found that the women had been defeated by small margins. The vote is given below: Three year term—W. M Sperry, 115; D H. Hopkins, 111; H. Osbourn, 92; G G. Teller, 113; Edward Everitt, 61; F. N Brundage, 76; Fannie E. Bates, 101; Eugenea Banker, 90 One year term—E. W. Hart, 180; H F Hill, 76

Messrs Sperry, Hopkins and Teller were elected for the long term and E. W. Hart for the one year term. An appropriation of $9,950 was carried while a special appropriation of $5,000 was voted down.

WORKING FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

C. P. Sebring is Trying to Get Rock Avenue Macadamized.

Charles P. Sebring, a member of the North Plainfield Township Committee, is interesting himself in a movement to get the officials of this city, North Plainfield township and borough, to agree to macadamize Rock avenue, which extends from West Front street to Green brook road, in the three municipalities named. The road is, at present, in a poor condition, but is used extensively by teamsters and farmers. Mr. Sebring says that if this city will do its share the township will also, and the borough will no doubt complete the work.

EVENING AT EUCHRE.

Miss Agnes Graham Entertained Twentieth Century Euchre Club.

Miss Agnes Graham entertained the Twentieth Century Euchre Club last evening at the home of Mr and Mrs. John Campbell, of Westfield. The Misses Piker won first and second honors for the women, while Lorenzo Townley and George Conyne were given first and second honors for the men. Miss Lou Young, of East Front street, will entertain the club Thursday evening, March 28.

The members have decided to give an informal complimentary dance Tuesday evening, April 16, at the Camera Club rooms. One hundred invitations will be issued for the affair.

Mice at Work Again.

A slight fire occurred last evening at 9:25 o'clock at 18 Howard street, which is occupied by Charles Barry. The flames originated in a kitchen closet and the fire is supposed to have been ignited by mice getting at a box of matches kept in the closet. Warren Engine Company responded to the call and the flames were quickly put out by two small extinguishers.

Clearing Surplus Mud.

Street Commissioner Gavett's men were busy on Watchung avenue yesterday cleaning that avenue of the surplus mud. Other streets will be treated similarly very soon.

MORRIS DEFEATED.

Sebring's Forces Won Out at North Plainfield Township School Meeting Last Evening.

The citizens of North Plainfield township held their annual school meeting last evening, and elected August Mobus, E. Canning and Henry Kliner as trustees, the vote being as follows: Henry Kliner, 26; Wm. Morris, 2; E. Canning, 15; Duffy, 11.

August Mobus' nomination met with no opposition and he received the full vote. The fight against Morris, it is claimed was led by Charles Sebring in revenge for Morris' attitude towards Sebring in the election Tuesday, March 12

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Annual Election of The Women's Home Missionary Society of First Baptist Church Held.

The Women's Home Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of holding its annual election. The officers chosen for the ensuing year were: President, Mrs D J. Yerkes; first vice president, Mrs. J. D Runyon; second vice president, Mrs L H Biglow, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. Isabelle Milne; treasurer, Mrs. G H. Batchelor.

Mrs. DeWitt Brokaw was elected chairman of the work committee. The society is engaged in helping the missionaries in the west by supplying barrels of useful goods which are largely made up by the members of the society.

The anniversary meeting, at which the reports for the year will be read, takes place April 16.

MR. EDSALL RETIRES.

Has Retired Permanently From All Business Pursuits After a Successful Career of Over Thirty Years.

The announcement made exclusively in yesterday's Daily Press that Seeley Edsall had conveyed his interest in the firm of Doane & Edsall, the West Front street shoe merchants, to his partner, John H. Doane, caused much surprise in business circles in this city. The business will hereafter be conducted at the old stand, corner of West Front street and Madison avenue, by Mr. Doane, who will continue to handle a large stock of the newest and most reliable foot wear in the market.

It is the intention of Mr. Edsall to retire from all business pursuits permanently after a strenous and successful business career extending over a period of thirty years. His daring venture in starting a suburban commercial house devoted exclusively to the sale of all grades of foot gear at a time of general business depression and carrying it on successfully showed that he possesses wise business judgment.

Elizabeth Evening Times.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, March 20.—The new Democratic daily paper to be published at the county seat will be known as the Elizabeth Evening Times that name having been agreed upon by W. W. St John, the managing editor, and the others who are interested in the new venture. Those interested in the movement will hold a meeting this evening when the organization will be perfected by the election of officers.

Invitations Are Out.

Invitations were issued today to the marriage of Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, daughter of Mrs. J. Hervey Ackerman, of West Seventh street, and Arthur Murphy, youngest son of Rev. and Mrs. T. Logan Murphy, of this city. The ceremony will take place Wednesday afternoon, April 10, at 5 o'clock, at Grace Episcopal church. A reception will follow at the home of Mr. and Mr. Robert Rushmore, 732 West Eighth street.

Elected School Trustees.
(Special to The Daily Press.

Dunellen, March 20.—The voters of the borough assembled at the Whittier school last evening for the purpose of electing three members of the Board of Education to fill the expiring terms of Lewis Schneider, Adam Herlick and T. J. Todd. All three were re-elected It was voted to appropriate $3,300 for school purposes.

New Recorder's First Case.

Thomas Doud, the new recorder of North Plainfield held his first hearing last evening. A man named Hecker was arrested at the instigation of Mrs. Percy Ohl for annoying her on Belmont avenue yesterday. The case proved to be a trifling affair and Hecker was discharged.

Reported Resignation.

It is reported that William Haynes, of Somerville, for many years a conductor on the Jersey Central Railroad, has resigned. He formerly conducted the morning train which leaves this city going east at 7:50 o'clock.

HARMONY PREVAILED AT SCHOOL MEETING.

North Plainfield Voted For Appropriations With Hardly a Dissenting Vote.

JAMES R. JOY ELECTED.

S. ST. J. McCUTCHEN AND DR. J. H. COOLEY WERE RETURNED.

Only Contest was in the Election of Trustees and That Was Very Quiet—W. W. Howland Was Chairman of the Meeting.

A large and enthusiastic annual school meeting was held last evening in the Somerset street school building, of North Plainfield. The meeting was attended with two pleasing features, one being that the largest crowd on record was in attendance and the other being the most perfect harmony which characterized the proceedings.

The two invaluable members, S. St. John McCutchen and Dr. Justin H. Cooley, whose terms expired, were re-elected by a practically unanimous vote, and a new man, James R. Joy, who by reason of his unusual mental training was considered a strong addition, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of E. J. Waring. The appropriations advised by the Board for the ensuing school year were passed without discord.

The meeting was called to order by the president of the board, S. St. J. McCutchen and W. W. Howland was elected chairman and Frank Bowley, secretary. After a brief speech and the reading of the call for the meeting the chairman, Mr. Howland, named J. W. A. Bauersachs and Murray Burtis as tellers for the trustee's election and J. K. Arnold and John T. Green as tellers for the appropriation contest.

Nominations for trustees being in order, Mayor Smalley named S. St. John McCutchen and the nominations of Justices H. H. Cooley and Lambert Bodine were followed by that of James R Joy, whose name was placed before the meeting in a neat speech by B. A. Hegeman, Jr.

The polls were declared open and Robert M. Fountain, the district clerk, proceeded to read the financial report, an epitome of which is, as follows:

The result of the vote on the appropriations was:

Teachers salaries—For $12,900, 206 votes; for $11 900, one vote, and for $1,000, one vote.

Supplies—For $1,400, 207 votes and for $1,000, one vote.

Manual Training Department—For $1,400, 187 votes; for $400, one vote, and for $100, one vote.

In the trustees contest the vote stood: S. St. John McCutchen, 172; Justus H. Cooley, 214; James R. Joy, 185, and Lambert Bodine, 67.

Will Exhibit Monkey.

John P. Powers, the Somerset street druggist, has received as a present a South American monkey of the ring-tail species. For the amusement of the children in the neighborhood Mr. Powers intends to place the monkey on exhibition Saturday in one of the large windows of his drug store.

Case Continued.

In Justice Mattison's court the case on contrast brought by J. A. Smith & Brother, of West Front street, against Frank B. Strauss, of Grove street, was continued yesterday, pending settlement.

ABOLISH SCHOOL CENSUS.

ARGUMENTS PRESENTED IN FAVOR OF ITS ABOLISHMENT.

Communication From Mrs. Florence Howe Hall of State Federation of Women's Clubs.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The time fixed for the final adjournment of the Legislature of our State draws near, and it is to be hoped that ere it takes place the antiquated system of taking the school census may be done away with, thus saving $40,000 annually to the taxpayers, or still better, giving this sum for the education of the children of the State.

Official statistics show that the school census is not only expensive, but very inaccurate, owing to fraud in certain localities, and other causes. Some districts make false returns in order to secure a large share of school moneys from the State. In some the census enumerators add imaginary names, in order to increase their own pay, and in others, the difficulty of getting foreigners to answer questions prevents a proper computation.

While the population of our State is increasing from year to year, the school census increases sometimes and sometimes diminishes, in a way that is utterly at variance with the truth. Since it is supposed to represent the whole number of children in the State between the ages of five and eighteen, it ought not to vary as it now does.

We find from the official reports that in 1890 there were, according to the school census, 430 340 children of school age in the State. Twenty five thousand of these children disappear from view during the following year when 405,222 are on the record. Yet I do not remember to have heard of any massacre of the innocents, or begira to other States, sufficient to account for such a tremendous diminution in the number of children. In the next two years, 1892 3 and 1893 4 there were gains of 18 650 and 15 376 In 1894 5, however, the school census again dropped from 439,248 to 424 959 or 14,289. Surely the disappearance of such an army of little ones calls for an investigation. In the year 1898 99 3,149 children again disappear from view.

These diminutions directly affect the income of our public schools, since this is computed on the basis of the whole number of children living in the State, as reported for the previous year. During the years of which I have spoken, 1890 to 1898 '99, inclusive, the number of children enrolled at the public schools increased every year, yet their income was cut off by these strange falls in the school census.

Were the amount to be apportioned to each school to be determined by the actual number of days' attendance of the scholars, as is proposed, the result would seem much more just Such a change would, as has been pointed out, act as the best possible compulsory attendance law, since every one in the district would be anxious to have all the children attend school regularly. Truancy would affect unfavorably the pockets of the taxpayers of the district, since it would diminish the amount of money paid to the school by the State, and this loss would have to be met by the local taxpayers.

The plan now proposed is "to return to each county, as at present, practically the full amount of school tax it has paid into the State Treasury. To apportion to each district, as at present, $200 for each teacher employed for the full time the schools were maintained during the previous year, $80 for each short-term teacher and $600 for each supervising principal To apportion the balance remaining among the several school districts in proportion to actual days' attendance of scholars, instead of according to school census, as at present."

Some members of our Legislature have opposed the Palisades bill on the ground that it would diminish the future revenue of our public schools by the loss of profits from the sale of riparian rights. If these gentlemen are sincerely interested in the financial welfare of our schools, will they not abolish this clumsy and expensive school census, save $40,000 a year to the State and put matters on a modern and scientific basis? Let us hope they will see their way clear to do so.

LAXAKOLA
The Great Tonic Laxative

WATCH the children carefully. Their health, perhaps their lives, depend on keeping their bowels regular. Many parents make a mistake by giving their little children the old-fashioned, violent purgatives which are racking and griping, and are therefore not only unpleasant, but dangerous.

Laxakola does not gripe nor irritate. It is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative. It is not only a sure laxative, but it contains valuable tonic properties which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, and will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhœa, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as LAXAKOLA neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. It will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature, and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongue, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach it is invaluable. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or sent for free sample to LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, New York, or 356 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

A ROMANTIC CASE.

Deathbed Reunion of Husband and Wife After Many Years.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 20.—Within the past ten days in the beautiful country home of Charles P. Limbert, a prominent member of society and business circles, a drama has been enacted which was so realistically true that in a novel it would be discredited as bearing on the impossible.

It has been generally accepted for the past quarter of a century that Mrs. Limbert, the aged mother of Charles Limbert was a widow. Recently the aged lady was stricken with paralysis, and about two weeks ago while very low she began to call for her husband, asking to see him for but a few minutes. All attempts to soothe her were in vain.

One week ago an aged stranger drove up to the house and asked Miss Clara Limbert, who is the constant companion of her invalid mother, if he might see Mrs. Limbert. Miss Limbert refused on account of her mother's illness

"Are you Clara?" asked the old gentleman.

"Yes," was the answer.

"I am your father," he said, with a sob, and he was ushered in when Miss Limbert had recovered from the first shock. The old man was greatly agitated and sank in a faint into a chair, but revived and after consultation with the doctors was permitted to see his wife. The recognition was instantaneous, and as the two embraced the household withdrew to consider. The door was shortly shoved open, and, ashy white, the father staggered into the hall and sought the arms of the nurses as props. He rallied during the afternoon, but in the evening when he witnessed his wife's suffering again he collapsed and was carried to a bed in a semiunconscious condition. Later he became totally unconscious and never revived. Friday he died, and Saturday, with the greatest secrecy, he was buried in a country cemetery nearly ten miles out of town.

Before he became unconscious the venerable man said he was a ranch owner, with property in Colorado, and on his person was found a large amount of currency and some valuable papers. The funeral was conducted so quietly that the mother still believes the father live and is in the room opposite her own, ill. It is feared that she will not survive if the news of the death is communicated to her.

CONVICTS REVOLT.

Three Hundred Hold a Coal Mine and Their Guards.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March 20.—Nearly 300 convicts in the state penitentiary have revolted, captured a coal mine, are holding their guards as hostages and threaten to kill them if their demands are not granted. These demands include immunity for the ringleaders of the revolt.

The governor has been notified of the state of affairs and has ordered the militia to be ready to proceed to the place. It may be necesary to starve the convicts out. Any attempt to recapture the coal mine would be accompanied by terrible bloodshed.

The miners have threatened to wreck the mines, but the threat is laughed at by Warden Tomlinson, who says they would not attempt this, as such action would endanger their lives. He says he will starve them out.

A communication was received from one of the guards stating they were hungry and tired, but so far as he could learn all were alive.

The first outbreak in the mine took place shortly after the noon meal Monday and was started by the convicts in division No. 8. Of the 19 men in this division 16 seized the guard and overpowered him and announced that they had decided to strike. They told the guard that they had decided to mine two instead of three cars of coal as a day's work in the future and that they proposed to have better food.

A $9,000,000 Salt Plant.

DETROIT, March 20.—The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company, which purchased 138 acres of river frontage land adjoining Wyandotte on the south and west in 1898 and 1899, has concluded arrangements in Detroit for the erection on the property of a plant that when finished will represent an expenditure of $9,000,000. The buildings will cover between 60 and 70 acres of ground. One section, which will cover 20 acres and cost about $2,000,000, will be built this year, work to commence as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The buildings will be of brick, stone and iron and constructed in the most durable manner.

Naples Dock Hands Strike.

NAPLES, March 20.—Twenty-five hundred dock laborers here have struck, refusing to discharge the French steamer Massillia, which arrived at Marseilles March 14 from New York and was sent on from Marseilles to Naples on account of the strike at Marseilles. The dock laborers declare they will not discharge any vessel from Marseilles and will cease their work on other ships in the harbor if an attempt is made to discharge the Massillia.

A Curfew For Hamilton, N. Y.

HAMILTON, N. Y., March 20.—The Republican nominees for village offices were elected yesterday. The curfew ordinance was carried by 12 majority.

THE TROUBLE GROWS

Great Alarm Is Felt In St. Petersburg.

COSSACKS KILL SEVERAL STUDENTS.

Riots Continue With Increasing Fury—A Thousand Prisoners Taken, Including Many Women—All the Higher Schools Closed.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 20.—Alarm pervades high circles here. The police have notified house owners to have their dvorniks, or house police, report for duty and hold themselves in constant readiness. A sotnia, or company of Cossacks, passed the Moscow gate on the way to Tsarskoe-Selo, 17 miles south of St. Petersburg, where the czar has just removed to. The police said they would escort the czar back to the winter palace and that he would return by carriage instead of by rail. It appears more probable, however, that the Cossacks were merely sent to Tsarskoe-Selo as a precaution since his majesty is more easily protected there than here.

Serious riots occurred in St. Petersburg yesterday on the occasion of a solemn mass in the Cathedral of Our Lady of Kasan for the repose of the soul of M. Bogoliepoff, the minister of public instruction, who was shot and fatally wounded by Karpovich. The police fired their revolvers, and it is rumored that five students were killed and eight others either seriously or slightly injured.

Wholesale arrests, including many women, followed the rioting.

It is apparently confirmed that three students were killed Sunday. The Cossacks rode into the crowds on the sidewalk, and many faces were cut open by their knotted whips. Students and workingmen threw rubber shoes, canes and snowballs at the Cossacks. It is reported that one Cossack was killed.

An official of the political police said 1,000 prisoners were taken, among them being 350 women students. The presence of workingmen among the rioters rendered this demonstration more dangerous than any known in a generation.

After reading the manifesto the students threw their crumpled copies into the crowd and raised a flag inscribed, "For Liberty!" The students also shouted, "Help us get our rights!" and the mob responded with cheers.

All the higher schools of the city are closed, and all the police headquarters are filled with arrested persons. Others in custody who had been temporarily confined in the military riding school were taken to various prisons in omnibuses. They were cheered by the students as they passed.

The demonstration Sunday continued after the affair at the cathedral at other places, especially in front of the office of the detective police, where some of the persons arrested were taken; in front of the Litovsky prison and near the Mining institute and the Pontilaw factory.

A remarkable feature of the demonstrations has been the prominent part taken by women of the higher classes of the university.

India's Finances.

LONDON, March 20.—The viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, has telegraphed to the Indian office to the effect that the financial statement to be submitted to the legislative council today shows the surplus for the last fiscal year to be £1,640,000 in spite of the famine relief of £4,227,000. It is estimated that the surplus for this year will be £691,000. The general results are considered to be exceedingly good in view of the famine and the plague. As to the countervailing sugar duties, no conclusion is yet possible, but the importations from British colonies during the last ten months have shown a large proportionate increase.

Charles L. Roller Caught.

NEWARK, March 20.—A telegram received by Chief Hopper of this city from the chief of police of Los Angeles tells of the arrest at the latter place of Charles L. Roller. Roller was a young real estate dealer of Newark and is charged with forgery, he having, it is said, used the names of the most prominent business men of the city in his transactions. The alleged forgeries were in the shape of notes, which Roller discounted, and he is said to have left Newark with about $70,000.

Insurgent General Captured.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—General MacArthur, at Manila, has informed the war department of the capture of the insurgent general Diocino. His cablegram, dated March 19, is as follows: "General Robert P. Hughes reports Diocino, most troublesome insurgent general, Panay, captured March 18, wounded three times. Thinks this will end war in Capiz province, Panay. In my opinion will terminate hostilities in Panay. Transport Sheridan arrived today."

Steel Towboat Launched.

BATH, Me., March 20.—The large steel towboat Cuba, built for the Staples Coal company of Taunton, Mass., was successfully launched from the Bath Iron works yesterday. The Cuba is one of the largest and best equipped seagoing towboats ever built in this country. She will tow coal barges between Philadelphia and Cuban ports.

Negroes to Go to Liberia.

ATLANTA, March 20.—Four negroes representing, it is said, 1,000 of their race living in Elbert county, in the northern portion of this state, yesterday appeared before Governor Candler and asked that he furnish transportation to Liberia. It is said the negroes may ask aid of the national government.

Mrs. Blaine's Gift.

CHICAGO, March 20.—Mrs. Emmons Blaine, according to an announcement by President William Harper at the University of Chicago convocation, has given $1,000,000 to the University of Chicago School of Education, lately organized by the affiliation of the Chicago institute and the university.

Heavy Snow In the West.

OMAHA, March 20.—Over northern Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa and parts of Minnesota a heavy snow has fallen, accompanied by a strong wind. It is considered of much value to agricultural interests.

Dynamite Explosion.

BERLIN, March 20.—A severe dynamite explosion occurred yesterday at Darbeck, near Dortmund, which is believed to have been the work of a spy.

THE HARRISON WILL

Liberal Life Provision For Second Wife.

FIRST WIFE'S CHILDREN GET A SHARE

Grandchildren Remembered. Also Brothers, Sisters and Nephews. A Few Small Charitable Bequests.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 20.—The will of General Harrison was filed for probate late yesterday. He bequeaths to the Union Trust company as trustee if his wife shall survive him $125,000 to be invested, the interest to be paid to her during the term of her life.

At the death of his wife any earned interest not paid to her shall become part of his residuary estate. To his wife he also leaves $15,000 and to his daughter Elizabeth $10,000, to be paid to his wife as trustee. When Elizabeth becomes of age or marries, she is to have any unexpended balance. If she dies before receiving it, such unused balance shall go to her mother. He leaves $10,000 to be invested by the Union Trust company and to accumulate until his grandson, Benjamin Harrison McKee, shall become of age, when he shall have the principal and accumulated interest. The trustee is authorized, however, to use the interest in the support of the grandson if necessary. If the grandson dies before becoming of age, the fund shall become a part of the residuary estate. To each of his grandchildren, Mary Lodge McKee, Marthena Harrison and William Henry Harrison, he leaves the sum of $2,500 in addition to other gifts mentioned.

He gives to his sisters, Sarah H. Devin and Anna H. Morris, and to his sister-in-law, Elizabeth Scott Parker, each the sum of $500. He bequeaths to his sister, Bettie H. Eaton, an annuity of $600 to be paid to her by his executor each year during her natural life in quarterly payments. He bequeaths to his nephew and namesake, Benjamin Harrison, Jr., son of his brother John, $500.

To the Indianapolis Orphan asylum he leaves $500, to the Eleanor home $500, to the summer mission for sick children $100 and to his secretary, E. Frank Tibbott, $500.

He also gives to his wife for the term of her life all other articles of household used or owned by him at a period earlier than six months before and that were in the house at the time of his death, except such articles as are otherwise disposed of. He gives to his wife all horses, vehicles and stable furnishings. He directs that all the personal property left to his wife for her life shall at her death be divided among his surviving children, the issue of any that may have died taking the parent's share. His wife is not required to file any inventory of property nor to give any bond nor be liable for any loss. He leaves to his wife for the term of her life the North Delaware homestead. He also leaves to his wife and to her heirs six lots in Herkimer county, N. Y.

All debts owing to him by his son Russell are remitted, and the executor is directed to cancel any evidence of such indebtedness.

It is directed that the provisions made for his wife are in lieu of all her interest in the estate of his widow.

The rest of his estate is to be divided into as many equal shares as he leaves children and one additional share for the issue of any child that may have died leaving issue. One such share is given to his son Russell in trust for the children of Russell, to be used for the support and education of such children.

The will was drawn up April 20, 1899, and witnessed by W. H. H. Miller, Harry J. Milligan and Howard Cale.

A Deserter as Well as Bigamist.

NEW YORK, March 20.—It has just developed that Clarence F. Young, the evangelist, who is in jail in Newark awaiting trial on a charge of bigamy, is a deserter from the United States marine corps. As soon as the New Jersey authorities are through with him he will be taken in custody by Major A. C. Taylor of Brooklyn. The latter has identified Young as having enlisted in Boston Aug. 13, 1900, sent from there by Lieutenant Bonnell to the Brooklyn navy yard, employed at clerical work in the adjutant's office, ordered to the Philippines Oct. 17 and deserted Oct. 18. It was on the very next day, Oct. 19, that he married Mary Crinse, who now charges him with bigamy because on March 1 last he married Martha Snyder in Newark without having first obtained a legal separation. The finding of a photograph of Young in the United States marine uniform which he gave to wife No. 1 led to his identification as a deserter.

Seal Fishing Brisk.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 20.—According to the Southern Cross, which arrived here from the north, the Vanguard had 12,000 seals on board, the Algerine 7,000, the Leopard 8,000, the Virginia Lake 17,000, the Neptune 15,000, the Diana 18,000, the Nimrod 13,000 and the Ranger 16,000. Moreover, immense numbers of seals had been killed on the ice, and these, the Southern Cross reports, will be picked up daily until the ships are loaded.

Quarreled Over Ice Cream.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 20.—Because Willie Green received a larger dish of ice cream than Johnny Jackson at a social of the African M. E. Zion church the boys, 14 and 13 years old respectively, became involved in a dispute. Young Green drew a penknife and stabbed Jackson in the back, inflicting a severe wound. The doctors expect him to pull through all right. Both youngsters are colored.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 20.—A freight train on the Columbus and Rome branch of the Central railroad was wrecked on a trestle today near Chipley, Ga. Engineer W. A. Wright and Fireman Joseph Key, both of this place, were killed. Three brakemen were injured.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: New York—Coomer Station, Harmon Lindsay; Omro, G. C. Bodine. Pennsylvania—Argentine, Abraham Stone; Vail, G. W. Dayton.

A Postmaster For Chicago.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The president has appointed Frederick E. Coyne, now collector at Chicago, postmaster of that city.

THE COAL STRIKE.

If One Occurs April 1, It May Not Be a Calamity.

PHILADELPHIA, March 20.—The Record to-morrow will say:

It is no longer a secret that a strike of the anthracite miners on April 1, as threatened by President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers unless the operators consent to a conference with the miners, would not be looked upon as a calamity by certain operators. If the views and desires of these officials are respected, the question of a fight to a finish is up to President Mitchell.

There are but few operators who do not condemn the step taken at J. P. Morgan's dictation in conceding to the miners the advance in wages last fall when, as they contend, the strike if continued for several weeks longer would have resulted in the miners' defeat. These same operators admit that Mr. Morgan still dominates the anthracite situation and that whatever course the Reading and Lehigh Valley pursues the rest must follow. Some do not hesitate to express their fears that at the last moment Mr. Morgan will weaken and grant concessions asked for now.

Mr. Morgan besides trying to float the $1,000,000,000 steel trust has $32,000,000 worth of Erie railroad collateral 4 per cent bonds to sell, which have been issued for the recent purchase of the Pennsylvania Coal company. There is likewise $23,000,000 worth of Reading-Jersey Central collateral to be put on the market.

Miners Issue Another Notice.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 20.—As the result of conferences held yesterday between President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers and the three district presidents of the anthracite region communications were sent out from the United Mine Workers' headquarters to the presidents of all the coal companies and the large individual operators. These communications contained statements of the action of last week's convention in passing the resolution asking their attendance at the conference of April 1 and further expressing the acquiescence in that action by the national president and presidents of districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9.

Miners Leaving Hazleton.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 20.—The fear of another general anthracite coal strike on April 1 is causing a great exodus among the foreign speaking miners of the Hazleton region. Today 50 Italians will go to Johnstown, where they have secured work in the iron mills. Many Hungarians and Italians have engaged passage on outgoing steamers and will remain in Europe until the strike, if one occurs, is over. The probability of a strike has also caused stagnation in business circles.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Fierce snowstorms have swept over England.

President Diaz of Mexico is reported well again.

Eight men were killed by an avalanche near Lake Como.

Ten men were shot at a primary election in Caney, Ky., none fatally.

The senate at Trenton has voted to side track the Morris canal abandonment measure.

President McKinley and party have reached Washington on their return from Indianapolis and Canton.

So many offers of cash and sites for branch libraries have been made that Mr. Carnegie's gift may cost New York city nothing.

Governor Signs Anti-Ramapo Bill.

ALBANY, March 20.—Governor Odell has signed the bill of Assemblyman Morgan repealing the act of 1895 giving to the Ramapo company certain rights and privileges. It is reported that the charter revision commission bill will be reported favorably with an amendment centralizing school control in a general board of education, fixing maximum and minimum salaries. It will also include the present New York city police bill as a section and the New York city election bureau bill as another section. Otherwise there will be few changes from the report of the commission. Another hearing was given yesterday afternoon by the labor and industries committee of the assembly upon the Costello compulsory arbitration bill.

New Postmaster For Springfield.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The president has signed the commission of Lorin I. Wheeler to be postmaster of Springfield, Ills., and he will take charge of the office at once. Mr. Wheeler is now mayor of the city. An investigation of the office was made by inspectors recently, and charges, including failure to manage the office properly, were sustained against the present incumbent, L. H. Miller, who had served but a small portion of his term, and he was removed. The appointment of Mr. Wheeler was recommended by Senator Cullom, whose home city is Springfield.

Cloakmakers May Strike.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The Times this morning says: "Notwithstanding the fact that the Brotherhood of Cloakmakers passed a resolution last spring to the effect that there will be no strikes for a year, it was said yesterday that a general strike, involving from 10,000 to 12,000 cloakmakers, is pending."

Attacked by a Vicious Dog.

NYACK, N. Y., March 20.—Peter Hartwick, a prominent citizen of Haverstraw, was attacked by a fierce dog and bitten in the throat and face. He is in a serious condition. He was in his stable when the dog attacked him.

Deer In Danger.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 20.—Numerous wild deer are making their appearance in various sections of Orange county. Game Protector Kidd is making strenuous efforts to keep them from being dragged down by dogs.

England to Examine Our Methods.

LONDON, March 20.—The Midland Railway company is about to send two engineers, Messrs. Deeley and Wolliscroft, on a tour in the United States to examine into American engineering and electrical methods.

Thompson For Senator.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 20.—At the Republican senatorial caucus last night David E. Thompson of Lincoln was nominated for senator for the short term on the seventh ballot.

Indian Gunners Killed.

BOMBAY, March 20.—Seven gunners were killed by the explosion of a howitzer shell at Secunderabad, India, today.

THE MANCHURIAN CONVENTION

Russia Agrees to Certain Important Modifications.

LONDON, March 20.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Peking, says:

"Prince Ching received me today and confirmed the information as to Russia's modifications of the Manchurian convention. The Chinese minister at St. Petersburg officially reports that Russia has agreed to eliminate the clause granting her exclusive privileges in Mongolia and Turkestan and also to modify various other clauses objected to by China.

"Prince Ching warmly appreciates the assistance rendered China by the intervention of England, the United States and Japan, but he is not optimistic concerning the return of the court to Peking.

"The Russian amendments do not seem to modify sensibly the character of the convention as creating a permanent protectorate. The amended clause giving Russia the right to construct a railway joining the Manchurian line to the great wall declares that the concession of the railway between Shan-hai-kwan and Newchwang to a foreign company was a breach of a previous agreement between China and Russia.

The English Withdraw.

PEKING, March 20.—The English have withdrawn their guards from the railway switch at Tien-tsin, and the right of way incident which threatened to cause trouble recently is considered closed, so far as the authorities here are concerned.

BOTHA DECLINES.

Kitchener's Peace Terms Not to His Liking.

LONDON, March 20.—In the house of commons yesterday Mr. Chamberlain, secretary for the colonies, said that General Louis Botha, commander in chief of the Boer army, had informed General Kitchener that he did not feel disposed to recommend the British terms of surrender to the consideration of the Boer government. General Botha added that his government, through its chief officers, agreed with his views. Mr. Chamberlain said he would make Lord Kitchener's terms public at once.

The issuance of parliamentary papers on the negotiations between Lord Kitchener and General Botha is delayed. General Botha's refusal to accept the peace terms offered him is commented upon with an evident sense of relief. The idea that Lord Kitchener initiated the negotiations instead of General Botha, as had been supposed, is unpalatable to the British press. The Daily Mail, under the editorial caption "Our Rejected Suit," asks why the government instructed Lord Kitchener to sue for peace after the murder of the peace envoys and concludes as follows:

"Let the war be pressed to the utmost and let further re-enforcements be prepared, for they may be needed, but above all let us have no more 'negotiations.'"

Treasury Surplus Growing.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Despite heavy drafts made necessary by reason of large expenditures for the military establishment and other purposes, the surplus funds in the United States treasury have grown steadily since the beginning of the fiscal year on July 1 last. Early in the current fiscal period Secretary Gage estimated that the balance of government receipts over expenditures would reach $80,000,000 by June 30, 1901. But the payments growing out of the administration of the refunding act were larger than was expected, and there was a coincidence of other large expenditures near the close of the last calendar year that retarded the growth of the surplus. Since Jan. 1, however, the increase in surplus funds has been almost phenomenally rapid, until the treasury balance yesterday reached the total of $36,542,006 for less than nine months of the fiscal year.

More Naval Desertions.

NORFOLK, March 20.—More wholesale desertions from the ships at the navy yard are reported. The men who deserted from the Topeka have been apprehended and will be tried by summary court martial. Meantime many of the apprentices and seamen aboard the cruiser Dixie have escaped from the ship. An interesting fact in connection with these desertions is that the men are all of the class of inland lads and lake sailors. The report that a heavy draft of the men from the Dixie was to be sent to the Asiatic station is the probable cause of the desertions that have taken place of late.

Fatal Railway Collision.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., March 20.—In a head end collision between a passenger train and a freight on the Burlington and Missouri road near Johnson last night one man was killed and three others injured. Both trains were badly wrecked. A relief train was sent from here. The wreck occurred on a curve and was caused by the crew of the passenger train being unable to see the freight train on account of the blinding snowstorm.

To Trot For a Fortune.

BOSTON, March 20.—Thomas W Lawson, owner of the trotter Boralma states that the match between his horse and The Abbot has been arranged practically in accordance with the terms of his first offer. The only difference is that instead of Mr. Lawson naming the charities to which the entire gate receipts of the track are to go Mr. Scannell is to name a charity to which one-half of the receipts is to go.

Death Sentence Commuted.

OTTAWA, March 20.—An order in council has been passed commuting the death sentence passed on George St. Cyr of Dawson City, convicted of shooting James Davis, to imprisonment for life. Both were woodchoppers and had a quarrel. The jury and trial judge recommended mercy. St. Cyr was to have been executed on June 7.

Big Pay For Detroit's Mayor.

LANSING, Mich., March 20.—The bill to increase the salary of the mayor of Detroit from $1,800 per year to $5,000 which passed the house last week, has now passed the senate by a vote of 24 to 1 and has gone to the governor for approval.

British Gunboat Ashore.

SHANGHAI, March 20.—The British gunboat Plover is ashore in the Yang-tse river below Kiu-kiang. The British consul general here announces that indemnity claims against the Chinese government must be filed before May 1.

The Victoria Memorial.

LONDON, March 20.—It has been decided that the national memorial to Queen Victoria shall be erected in front of Buckingham palace.

WU TALKS IN CHICAGO

A Strong Defense of Chinese Civilization.

ISOLATION HAS GIVEN INDIVIDUALITY

Civilization Does Not Consist of Railways, Telegraphs, Electric Lights and Rapid Fire Guns, Says the Chinese Minister.

CHICAGO, March 20.—Wu Ting Fang, Chinese minister to the United States, delivered the convocation address of the University of Chicago at the Studebaker theater yesterday afternoon before the faculty of the institution and an audience that packed the theater to the doors. Mr. Wu took for his subject "Chinese civilization." His defense of the civilization of his native country in his comparisons with that of the civilization of the occident was much applauded. In beginning his address Mr. Wu said China had been to other nations like the recluse community in the heart of a mountain, as told by a Chinese writer 1,500 years ago, a community that, fleeing from the persecutions of the Chin dynasty, had found peace and tranquillity and, content with their lot, had no desire to emerge into the turmoil and excitement of a more active life.

"This mountain community may be said to be China in miniature," Mr. Wu continued. "To her isolation she undoubtedly owes her long freedom from foreign domination.

"Far from the conflicts and strifes of the west, the Chinese have been able to give through the past centuries almost their exclusive attention to internal development. They have accordingly solved their political problems in their own way and worked out their destiny without foreign interference.

"True it is that China's isolation has served to strengthen the nation's character and given it a marked individuality, but this has not been gained without great losses. The most serious is that the nation has not been able to profit by the trials, experiences and achievements of the rest of the world. This is especially true with scientific knowledge and mechanical inventions. It must be admitted that today China is centuries behind the age in her knowledge of chemistry, electricity, steam navigation, rapid transit and other arts and sciences. All these things she must learn from other nations before she can hope to put herself abreast of the times.

"But does civilization consist of railroads, telegraphs, telephones, electric light, battleships, rapid firing guns, magazine rifles and a thousand and one things which are regarded as necessary for a progressive nation? This would be a very narrow interpretation of the word. Civilization has, I believe, a broader meaning, with intelligence, order, morality and refinement for its essential elements. Such a civilization China undoubtedly has—a civilization different, to be sure, from that of the west, but a civilization nevertheless.

"There has lately been a great deal of newspaper talk about civilizing China. I give credit to those people who advocate such a course for their good intention, but its desirability, to say nothing of its difficulty, should not be overlooked. China has already a civilization of her own. It is the growth of time. Long before the ancestors of the people of the west ceased to be naked savages and emerged from the primeval forests of central Europe the Chinese had already known the use of the compass and the art of printing. Now for the people of the west to turn around and then ask the Chinese to put away their old civilization is rather novel."

Gilman Will Contest.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 20.—The first step in what may prove to be prolonged litigation over the estate of millions left by George F. Gilman, the tea merchant, was taken yesterday afternoon, when at the conclusion of the hearing before Judge Nobbs in the probate court it was announced that the counsel for those heirs who desired the appointment of Edward L. Norton and Edward S. Percival of New York as administrators would appeal to the superior court from the probate judge's decision. The ruling of Judge Nobbs is that the Bridgeport Trust company shall act as sole administrator, the motion for the appointment of George W. Smith, a nephew of the dead millionaire, as coadministrator being denied.

Abbey to Paint the Coronation.

LONDON, March 20.—The king has commissioned Edwin A. Abbey to paint the coronation scene in Westminster abbey. Sir Francis Knollys has informed the artist, at Morgan Hall, Gloucestershire, of the king's wishes and also the dimensions of the canvas, which will be 15 feet long. The selection of this artist will cause great satisfaction in the Royal academy, where Mr. Abbey is not only without a rival as a painter of historical scenes, but is also deservedly popular. It is also an exceptional tribute to American art from the British crown which will gratify all Americans.

Galveston Forts Not Badly Injured.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—General Wilson, chief of engineers, has returned from an inspection tour of forts along the Atlantic and gulf coasts. He found the forts at Pensacola and Mobile in very excellent condition. At Galveston, where the cyclone did so much damage, he found a better condition than he expected. He thinks that nine-tenths of the fortification work can be repaired.

Union Depot at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, March 20.—Officials of the Lake Shore, Pennsylvania and Big Four railroads are quoted in interviews as stating that if the lake front case is compromised these roads will soon start to build a union depot at a cost of from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000 on the site of the present union depot, which has been built for 25 years or more.

Snowstorm In Michigan.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 20.—It is again snowing in northwestern Michigan, where the big storm tied up traffic last week, and the railroads are preparing for another siege. Freight trains on the Pere Marquette and Grand Rapids and Indiana have been ordered to make convenient sidings and not risk being snowed in.

Broke Jail.

NYACK, N. Y., March 20.—Frederick Slocum, serving a long term for grand larceny, broke out of the Rockland county jail and escaped. Search is being made by officers.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MAR. 20, 1901.

Borough School Meeting.

There is no doubt but that the borough of North Plainfield possesses excellent public schools. The men who have served that municipality as members of the Board of Education have done their work well. It is a thankless position at best to serve any municipality in such a position. But the school trustees, who were returned to office last evening by a vote of the borough citizens, have been faithful public servants and the public seems to be aware of that fact.

The past year has been a very important one in the history of the borough schools. It was a time when there was plenty of opportunity to make mistakes even with the very best of intentions. The manual training department has been equipped and started and the regular work of the schools has been greatly advanced In all this, the members of the Board of Education may have made a few mistakes. The members are but human after all. But their efforts have been directed toward securing the best possible results for the community and they have succeeded well.

The annual report of the board, as presented by its president, S. St. John McCutchen, is of such great interest to every citizen of the borough and all others who are interested in the progress of education, that the full text of it is published in today's Daily Press. Mr. McCutchen has been one of the most efficient of the officials of the borough and has greatly aided in carrying out the work of the board to a successful outcome.

North Plainfield is to be congratulated when a man of his ability and knowledge of the subject consents to devote so much of his time to the interests of the borough. Dr. J. H. Cooley has been another member of much value and his return to the board shows that the people of North Plainfield are aware of that fact.

The Palisade Bill.

All praise to the Senate of New Jersey. They have passed by a decisive vote the "Palisade Bill." This insures the preservation of that wondrous formation that skirts the noble Hudson on New Jersey's boundaries.

It is with no little pride that we make this note for The Daily Press has persistently pressed the measure, and our fellow townsman, J. E. Martine, through pen and voice on the platform, was among the first and most persistent of Jerseymen to urge the passage of some measure that might save from distruction this mighty wall of trap rock, that it might stand unmoved and unharmed as a great silent teacher of the mighty forces of nature.

A great step in advance, for culture and education has been made. Again we say all praise to those who aided in the accomplishment.

The introduction of manufacturing establishments in the residential sections of the city is certainly not exactly desirable, particularly when there are so many sites which would answer the purpose just as well and not offend the members of the community. While it was a piece of enterprise to secure the Perrin-Freres Glove Company for this city the location of its factory on Washington avenue just south of Green Brook, would undoubtedly be strongly objected to by the residents of that immediate neighborhood and of Washington Park. There are plenty of good sites in other portions of the city which ought to answer the purpose just as well and could be obtained at as reasonable a figure.

The important position as head of the street committee of the Borough Council has again been given to Councilman Robert Clark Jr. His appointment to that position is undoubtedly a direct result of the very satisfactory work which he did at the head of that committee last year. The Council decides on the size of the appropriation for streets and it rests largely with the committee to see that it is spent to the greatest advantage. The present excellent condition of most of the borough streets speaks well for the work done by that committee during the past year.

"Without the aid of the newspaper—by which I mean advertising—we would have perished," said John S. Carey, the head of one of the largest business establishments in New York. "To advertising," he continued, "we owe the success which, without exaggeration, I may call phenomenal If I had to restrict myself I should use only the morning newspapers. They live four or five times as long—in fact, all day, and very often a man takes his copy home to be read in the evening."—Philadelphia Record.

While the law does not provide for the whipping of youthful offenders, it is one of the privileges of the parents of the children to see that they are properly chastened for their wrongful actions. City Judge Runyon secured the co-operation of the parents of two offending lads and thereby administered a punishment which was probably more effective in its way than any of the means of punishment which the law regularly provides.

This is the great season for the milliners. The Plainfield establishments have presented an unusually attractive display, and the women of this city have been able to find just as varied and stylish an assortment without leaving the city as a trip to New York would bring to their view. Plainfield has some excellent stores and the people of this city are beginning to appreciate that fact.

While Councilmen Dumont, Mellick and Corlell were not present when the first vote was taken on the ordinance providing for the changes at the city's sewage disposal beds as recommended by Mr Osgood, there is no doubt but that all three of them will support the measure when it comes up for further consideration.

North Plainfield is to have a recorder again. Mayor N. B. Smalley has filled the duties of that office for the past year and has passed judgment on many score of offenders. This year, he has appointed Thomas Dowd as borough recorder and the latter will hereafter administer justice in the borough.

It must be admitted that the present appearence of the old North Avenue station is not particularly prepossessing. Either the railroad company should brick up the doorways and remove the stairways or else open them to the public and the public would undoubtedly prefer the latter course.

The citizens of North Plainfield are taking a deep interest in the progress of the borough schools as was made evident by the remarkably large attendance at the North Plainfield school meeting last evening.

On account of the prominent part taken by the women, Cranfold's school meeting last evening assumed unusual importance and the results of the contest there were watched with much interest.

Politics played no part at all at the North Plainfield school meeting last evening and it was right and proper that they should not do so.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by L. W. Randolph.

Sebring Will Not Move.

W. H. Sebring, the clothier, will not remove his business from West Front street as he expected. His landlord, M. Weinberger, has decided not to allow Mr. Sebring to leave his present store and in addition he will make several necessary improvements in the store for Mr. Sebring, including painting, papering, lights for the show windows, etc.

Dime Social.

Star of Plainfield Lodge, Shepherds of Bethlehem, will hold a dime social at the residence of Mrs. V. W Nash, on Prospect avenue, Friday evening. An interesting programme of vocal and instrumental music will be given.

New Store to Open

The Star Clothing House, 207 West Front street, will open Saturday with a full and complete of men's, boys' and children's clothing and furnishings. A good luck souvenir will be given free to every caller.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 20 —According to the decision of the Borough Council at their special meeting held Monday evening, Lewis Schneider will remain a member of that body, the tie which resulted between him and Joel Giddis at the recent election having been decided in his favor. The recently-elected officials were sworn in and W. H. Cole was reappointed overseer of the poor. The appointment of marshal, street commisioner and engineer was laid over until the next meeting. The various committees will remain as they have been.

The store in the Dealaman building, made vacant by the retirement from business of Henry Weidenhaupt, will shortly be occupied by Charles Tharp. The latter has been in business for some time past in the Laible building on North avenue.

Garretson & Gray, the contractors, had a force of men and several teams at work on Washington avenue yesterday giving a thorough scraping. The expense is born by the contractors.

The Card Club was entertained in a very pleasant manner at the home of Mrs. Frederick Archer last evening. After the usual time was spent in playing refreshments were served.

Lud Frazee has been at work on the exterior of Mrs. Taylor's house on Grove street for the past few days getting it in shape for occupancy by Mr. Clark, of Brooklyn.

The Misses Jessie and Rose Haynes visited New York friends yesterday.

Mrs. Morris Barick spent yesterday with her relatives at Freehold.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, March 20 —Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the township school meeting was called to order with a good attendance of voters. After A. Tappen had been made chairman and H. C. Cathers secretary, the election of three members of the School Board was taken up. The nominees and the votes each one received were as follows: William Fitz Randolph, 50; Dr. M. J. Whitford, 45; David J. Perrine, 43; Joseph E. Kelley, 24; Edward Schenck, 14. The appropriation of $4,500 was sustained by 57 out of 65 ballots cast. A resolution was also passed to the effect that hereafter the Board of Education should cause to be published and distributed, not less than ten days before school election, a detailed report of all the receipts and expenditures, when made and for what purposes.

The committee in charge of the arrangements are making preparations for an extra large crowd at the New England supper and entertainment to be given in Friendship Hall next Tuesday evening. The affair will be under the auspices of the Farther Light and Women's Foreign Mission Bands.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 20—A week of prayer is being observed this week in the M E. church. The pastor, Rev Mr Bright, is in charge and conducts the services. The first meeting, held Monday evening, was very well attended and the service last evening was also well attended. Much interest is manifested and the services bid fair to be productive of much good.

F. C. Langhorne and G Thorn, two well-known Plainfield photographers, visited Seely's Mills yesterday afternoon and tried their luck in catching suckers. It is said that they caught a number of small ones, and that they will photograph them on an enlarged plate so that their many friends will appreciate their work.

The funeral services of the late Stites M. Parse were held from the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. G M. Shott, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated, and there was a very large attendance of relatives and friends. The interment took place in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

A number of improvements are being planned for the Baptist church parsonage, including the painting of the fence and the making of such other repairs about the property as are needed.

Charles Layton, who has been a patient at the Plainfield hospital under treatment for rheumatism, returned to his home yesterday afternoon, much improved.

The usual prayer-meeting service for the study of the Sunday school lesson will be held at the Baptist church Friday evening. Pastor Shott will be in charge.

Injured by Fall of Iron Bar.

Stephen Murphy, of West Third street, met with a painful accident while at work in the safe factory yesterday afternoon. In some manner a heavy bar of iron fell upon his foot injuring it severely. He was assisted to his home where medical aid was procured and the member dressed. No serious results are anticipated.

Date Has Been Set.

The annual spring supper under the auspices of the Woman's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church will be held in the church parlors Wednesday evening, March 27.

PERSONAL JOTTINGS COLLECTED IN CITY AND BOROUGH.

Daily Doings of Plainfielders and Their Guests Carefully Collected and Tersely Told.

Lawyer William Newcorn was called out of town yesterday to look after some legal business.

Miss Waldron, of West Fourth street, has been visiting Dunellen relatives for a short time.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass attended the funeral of Edward H. Ashbrook yesterday in Philadelphia.

Miss Minnie Force, of Carlton avenue, who has been visiting Brooklyn friends, has returned home.

Mrs. Edward Vermeule, of Jackson avenue, who has been visiting New York friends, has returned home.

Mrs Edward VanBuren, of Central avenue, who has been detained at home by illness, is much improved.

Miss Vic Martin and Miss Etta Schroeder, of New York, are spending a week with Miss Gertie Tier, of Bank place.

Harry Milligan, who has been visiting relatives in Plainfield, has returned to Pennsylvania, where he will remain indefinitely.

Frank McIntyre, of Seton Hall College, returned to his studies yesterday after a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, of North avenue.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The following is a partial list of artists who will appear in the big "White Rat" Carnival at Music Hall next Tuesday night: The famous Juggling Johnsons, Hines and Remington, Sam Edwards, Maximillian and Shields, Fannie Fuller, Rae and Brosh, Lawrence Sisters, with others, headed by "The Dean of Ministrelsy," George Thatcher. The above are considered stars par excellence, and such an aggregation of talent is rarely seen outside the metropolis. Seats are on sale at box office.

A generation has passed since the good old anti bellum days were with us, and with the decades now buried forever in the dim past has disappeared the good old plantation darkey, at least that interesting ebony individual has gone from actual life and lives now only in his counterfeit presentment on the ever-productive stage. Those who knew the "South befo' de wah," as children of Ham put it, and knew what plantation life really was before our great intercine struggle, and such as can recall the happy days and pleasant nights spent by the darkies on the cotton fields and cane brakes, will have an opportunity of seeing and living over again those happy times by witnessing the inimitable performance given by Martell's big "South Before the War" company which will be seen at Music Hall Saturday, March 30. The company is a very large one, some fifty odd people.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Y. M. A. Arranging Affair.

Under the auspices of the Young Men's Association, an excellent entertainment will be given in Hope chapel Friday evening, March 29. Among those who will contribute to the enjoyment of the occasion will be Roeani, the manipulator, and Miss Taylor, in monologues. The proceeds of the affair will be added to the mortgage fund.

Working 24 Hours a Day.

There's no rest for those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always busy, curing Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Biliousness, Fever and Ague. They banish Sick Headache, drive out Malaria. Never gripe or weaken. Small, taste nice, work wonders. Try them 25c at L W. Randolph's.

AN ORDINANCE

to Regulate the Use of Automobiles and Similar Vehicles.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all automobiles, locomobiles and similar vehicles when in use on the public highways, streets or places of the city, are hereby required to have a lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards attached thereto, and kept lighted between one hour after sunset and the following sunrise.

Sec 2. That all automobiles, locomobiles and similar vehicles shall carry an alarm bell, horn, gong or whistle securely attached thereto, which, when sounded, may be heard one hundred feet distant. That such bell, horn, gong or whistle shall be sounded as an alarm by the person in charge of such vehicle upon approaching another vehicle from the rear, or upon approaching pedestrians crossing the street, or upon the approach of another vehicle on the same street or on a street intersecting the street ridden upon.

Sec. 3. That no person in charge of any automobile, locomobile or similar vehicle shall cause or permit the same to be propelled through any of the streets, alleys, highways or public places of the city at a speed greater than the rate of ten miles per hour.

Sec. 4. That any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, on conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding Twenty Dollars for each offense.

Adopted by the Common Council March 18, 1901.

Approved by the Mayor March 19, 1901.

OLIN L. JENKINS, Mayor.

Attest: JAMES T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Der Verwaltungsbericht der Bürgermeisterei für 1899—1900 ergab einen Ueberschuß der Aktiven über die Passiven von 730,107 Mark, wovon 371,096 Mark für 1901—1902 verfügbar sind.

Bingen. In dem neuen Adreßbuch deutscher Weinhändler sind für Bingen 99 Weinhändler, 23, die Weinhandel nebenbei betreiben, 31 Gastwirthe und Hotelbesitzer, 2 Kognakbrennereien und 25 Weinkommissionäre aufgeführt; für Büdesheim 22 Weinhändler.

Friedberg. Martin Schlösser, ein 46jähriger armer Arbeiter in Sörgenloch, fällte einen alten Weidenbaum. Ein Ast des Baumes traf im Fallen Schlösser an den Hinterkopf, so daß der Tod bald eintrat.

Mainz. Gestorben sind dahier der Geheime Justizrath Oberamtsrichter Johann Baptist Volk, sowie der Geheime Justizrath Dr. Karl Reinach, zweiter Vorsitzender der Anwaltskammer.

Nieder-Olm. Hier wurde ein Arbeiter verhaftet. Derselbe war mit seiner Frau in Streit gerathen. Um seine Mutter vor Brutalitäten zu schützen, warf sich der 20jährige Sohn zwischen die beiden Ehegatten. Darüber aufgebracht, ergriff der Vater ein Messer und stieß es seinem Sohne in die Brust. Der junge Mann war tödtlich verletzt.

Bayern.

München. Die Stadt baut ein „Volksbad," das bereits 1,700,000 Mark gekostet hat und noch nicht fertig ist. Fortgesetzt kommen neue und zum Theil schwere Nachforderungen, ein Beweis daß städtische Bauamt nicht oder nicht entsprechend gedacht hat. Kürzlich beantragte das Bauamt im Magistrat, es solle die Wäsche nicht immer nach dem Gebrauch gleich völlig gereinigt, sondern nur durch eine Bügelmaschine gezogen werden. Der geniale Vorschlag wurde denn doch abgelehnt. Ein Seitenstück dazu ist, daß schweres Geld ausgegeben wird, um den Bau durch Koksöfen auszutrocknen. Jüngst hat sich nun herausgestellt, daß man bei dieser Heizarbeit die Dachluken nicht geschlossen hatte.—Der berüchtigte Raubmörder Kneißl, auf den die bayerischen Behörden schon seit einem halben Jahr Jagd machten, ist bei Geisenhofen in Oberbayern von Gendarmen ergriffen worden. Er war angeschossen worden und konnte sich in Folge dessen nicht schnell genug fortbewegen.

Aschaffenburg. Der Prinz-Regent hat die Abtrennung der Gemeinde Leider von dem königlichen Bezirksamte Aschaffenburg und deren Vereinigung mit dem Verwaltungsbezirk der unmittelbaren Stadt Aschaffenburg genehmigt.

Augsburg. Nach dem neuen Schematismus befinden sich in der Diözese Augsburg folgende männliche Orden, beziehungsweise Kongregationen: Benediktiner mit 106 Mitgliedern, Kapuziner mit 73 Mitgliedern, Franziskaner mit 30 Mitgliedern, Barmherzige Brüder mit 58 Mitgliedern, St. Benedittus-Missionsgesellschaft St. Ottilien mit 71 Mitgliedern.

Bamberg. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte einen hiesigen Bäckermeister wegen Vergehens gegen das Nahrungsmittelgesetz zu 200 Mark, weil er Milch, in der Ratten ertrunken waren, zum Teiganmachen verwendete.

Bayreuth. Ein zu einer Verhandlung am hiesigen Landgerichte als Zeuge geladener Taglöhner von Löhlitz wurde auf dem Wege in Folge der Anstrengung, mit der er sich durch den Schnee durchzukämpfen hatte, von einem Schlaganfall getroffen und blieb todt am Platze.

Deggendorf. Die hier lebende Privatiere Therese Baier wurde kürzlich von einer Verwandten bestohlen. Das ging der alten Frau derart zu Kopf, daß sie nun in dem Wahn lebte, es werde ihr Alles gestohlen, weshalb sie in die hiesige Kreisirrenanstalt eingeliefert werden mußte.

Hof a. S. Dahier verstarb Stadtbaurath Thomas im 76. Lebensjahre. Er ist ununterbrochen 40 Jahre im Dienste der Stadt gestanden.

Kulmbach. Schon vor 30 Jahren hat man in der benachbarten Mangersreuther Gemarkung nach Kohlen gesucht. Die Nachgrabungen sollen in diesem Jahre wieder aufgenommen werden.

Langenpreising. Unlängst wurde der Austragsgütler Thaler von Aleipertsdorf zu Grabe getragen. Auf dem Wege zum Gottesacker sank ein Träger der Todtenbahre, der Austräglers Geimeier, vom Schlage gerührt, todt zur Erde. Der Sarg fiel mit großer Heftigkeit auf den Boden. Die Aufregung der Leidtragenden war groß.

The largest retail drug store in America is that of Hegeman & Co on Broadway in New York City. A reporter who went there to learn how Ripans Tabules were selling bought a five-cent carton and asked:
"Do you have much call for these?"
The head of the department replied: "The sale of Ripans Tabules is constant and is increasing. Almost every third customer asks for them. Satisfaction with them is very general. When once they are begun I notice that a permanent customer for them is made. This, I believe, is through their intrinsic merit. I think them specially useful in the general run of stomach troubles."
WANTED—A cure for bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One tablet gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on the package and take no substitute. RIPANS is for sale by druggists, or by mail if the price (60c. a box) is sent to Messrs. Ripans Chemical Co., New York. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, for which send to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

SPRING FASHIONS.

No Decided Changes Nor Very New Ideas as Yet.

As yet no very great novelties have been advanced for spring styles. The circular flounce and ruffle continue to play a prominent part in the fashionable wardrobe, and there is no indication of a diminution in the favor shown to them. Skirts remain very close and plain around the upper part and very soft and ample around the foot, and no stiffening whatever is now added around the hem. Circular flounces are not an inevitable part of the skirt, many straight skirts being seen and plaited skirts also. Stitching is a favorite ornamentation for skirts.

The bolero is worn more and more and is trimmed to match the skirt. It may have round, pointed or square revers, but these should not be too large. They must always be stiffened, so that they may preserve their shape and position.

The "aiglon" collar is a novelty and is worn with a cravat of liberty satin, lace or mousseline de soie.

An illustration is given of a new model for an evening bodice. It has a low, square decolletage and a closely fitting back of black lace spangled with jet. Half of the front is also of the spangled black lace, incrusted diagonally upon the other half, which is of white net embroidered with dots over straw silk. The short draped sleeves are of the dotted net and have incrustations of spangled net at the edge. The wide corselet belt is of mandarin velvet, and a cluster of yellow flowers is placed at the left side of the bodice.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

LONG SKIRTS.

The Train Is an Established Thing For Nice Gowns.

The skirt with demitrain is that now universally seen except when the costume is designed specially for out of door walking use. Nothing is in worse taste, because nothing is dirtier, than a trailing skirt dragging along a sidewalk. In the course of half a block of walking it becomes draggled and dusty for several inches up from the hem, and as the essence of elegance is perfect neatness and immaculate cleanliness the entire costume is vulgarized by the soiled border of the skirt. For the house, the carriage, etc., nothing is prettier nor more graceful than the long skirt, which adds grace and refinement to any figure and gives an aspect of dignity. Like all attractive fashions, it is liable to abuse by those who are uncultivated in the niceties of dress. Nevertheless its charm is not to be controverted nor its advantages descried.

The cut shows a wedding gown of ivory satin. The lower part of the front of the skirt is open over a panel of point de venise, and there is a long train. The tight bodice of satin has a collar and guimpe of plaited mousseline de soie, and there is a draped bolero of satin fastening under a cluster of orange blossoms and finished by a large collar of point de venise. The rather short sleeves of satin have embroidered cuffs, and below them are puffs of point de venise gathered into close satin bands at the wrist. The veil is of illusion.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

LINGERIE.

It Is Pure White and of the Most Dainty and Expensive Quality.

Fashionable lingerie is entirely white and is of the most delicate description, being entirely handmade and of fine batiste or linen. Nothing can be daintier than the newest corset covers, in which minute tucks, fine hemstitching and dainty embroidery are combined with narrow lace and insertion of real valenciennes. Very often the corset cover terminates at the waist line, but in that case it is of little protection to the corset. The chemise of the moment is fitted somewhat to the figure by darts in order to avoid fullness about the waist and hips. For evening wear it is supported simply by a ribbon across the shoulders, having no sleeves whatever.

In handkerchiefs also the best taste always selects pure white, except for mourning, when a black design or hem is permissible and in good taste. The newest handkerchiefs have no hem, even the narrowest, the lace edge being worked into the linen.

The picture shows a new model for a walking gown. It is of iron gray cloth, and the tablier of the skirt is stitched over at each side to form a sort of plait. The decoration consists of cords of gray silk applied to form scallops, with little gray silk buttons, and the stitching is also gray. The plain bodice has a plastron to match the tablier and, with the tight sleeves, is decorated with scallops of gray cord, buttons and stitching. The collar and tiny yoke are of guipure embroidered with silver threads. The gray felt hat is trimmed with choux of black velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE FASHIONABLE GOWN.

The Fit and Quality of the Lining Essential Considerations.

The most essential thing for a costume, if it is to be really elegant and fashionable, is a perfect fit. To insure this the lining of the bodice must be carefully cut, basted and boned, and when this is done the general style and decoration are of comparatively little account. Faille or taffeta is considered the best lining and may perhaps be so for skirts, but a silk lining for a bodice is less satisfactory than might at first appear, because silk is totally inelastic and does not give in the least.

For skirt lining strong silk, moreen or brilliantine is undoubtedly preferable to any sort of cotton goods, which become stringy very quickly and soon wear out.

Today's picture shows a costume having a correct skirt of mouse gray cloth, with narrow black beading over the seams and a band of black lace insertion set in above the hem. The top of the skirt is continued to form a rather deep corselet. The bodice of garnet grosgrain has lengthwise bands of guipure over white satin, and there are bows of white satin in front with metal ends. The half length sleeves have large cuffs and are supplemented by deep puffs of guipure gathered into a narrow band at the wrist. The hat of spangled and puffed net is trimmed with bise guipure coques of satin.

William's Idea of a Monarch.

Not long ago an American professor attended a reception in the royal palace given by the kaiser to an association of scientists, at which William appeared in the gorgeous robes of royalty, preceded by liveried chamberlains bearing the crown and insignia. It was a most impressive display, and when the professor came away he said to a friend: "I am a republican to the backbone, but I believe that if monarchs are necessary they should be monarchs to the last bit of gold lace, just as William is kaiser." The next day his friend had an audience with the kaiser, and in the course of the conversation told him what the American professor had said. The kaiser laughed heartily. "That is exactly what I believe," he said; "Dom Pedro of Brazil illustrated the folly of trying to be a republican on a throne."—Chicago Times-Herald.

French Peasant Workers.

The striking fact to the American mind is the large predominance of the class of women employed as farm laborers in France—2,700,000 women engaged in farm labor! The sight of a woman, generally in combination with a dog, usurping the place of the horse as motive power—a frequent one in certain portions of la belle France—causes all properly constituted American hair to stand on end with horror, so repugnant is it to the Anglo-Saxon idea of womankind. This deeply-rooted prejudice against the employment of women in rough out-of-door work does not exist in France, and the peasant, pure and simple, constitutes one of the strongest types of French womanhood—the backbone of the nation.—N. Y. Post.

An Earl by Fifteen Minutes.

Somewhere in the Highlands twins were born at the meeting of the centuries, with the odd result that one opened its eyes in the nineteenth century and the other in the twentieth century. There are two men in England who will read of the birth of these century twins with special interest—one a peer and the other a member of the house of commons. The peer is Lord Durham; the M. P. is Hon. F. W. Lambton, member for southeast Durham. Both were born on June 19, 1855, the earl coming into the world 15 minutes before his brother. Those 15 minutes were worth an earldom and 30,000 acres to the lucky baby.—St. James' Gazette.

Gigantic Lunar Mountains.

During the eclipse of the sun in May, 1900, an English observer, Mr. Evershed, as reported at a recent meeting of the Royal Astronomical society, noticed a point on the edge of the moon where the sun was shining through a very deep valley, and where the lunar mountains seemed to be about 35,000 feet in altitude. This exceeds by 6,000 feet the estimated height of Mount Everest, the loftiest mountain on the earth. The edge of the moon is so broken by peaks, ridges and valleys that the length of totality during a solar eclipse is affected by them.—Youth's Companion.

Aluminum Notepaper.

It is stated that experiments with aluminum as a substitute for paper are now under way in France. It is now possible to roll aluminum into sheets four-thousandths of an inch in thickness, in which form it weighs less than paper. By the adoption of suitable machinery these sheets can be made even thinner, and can be used for book and writing paper. The metal will not oxidize, is practically fire and water proof, and is indestructible by worms.—London Invention.

Where Ignorance Was Bliss.

"But, after all, don't you think a good education is essential in business success?"

"Not much," replied the wealthy man. "It was my poor education that gave me a start. I done a job o' work for a rich fellow, and made out my bill for 'too dollars.' Besides the bad spellin' I forgot to cross the t. He sent me a check for $100."—Philadelphia Press.

Artificial Loin Chops.

That our food will some day be built up chemically from nitrogen, carbon and other necessary elements is a fascinating theory upon which most scientific men look skeptically. M. Berthelot, however, is cited as an eminent believer, and he is stated to foresee both artificial meat and artificial bread.—Invention.

His Decorations.

"What's dem spots on you all's forehead?" asked Mr. Erastus Pinkley.

"My wife done gimme dem," answered Mr. Simkins Colliflower. "Dat's the stylishes' kin' o' decorations. Dem's poker dots."—Washington Star.

An Effect Spoiled.

"After the ceremony the bride wept."

"Grief at leaving her home?"

"No; she forgot herself and held up her beautiful long satin train going down the aisle."—Detroit Free Press.

Dog with a Broken Bone.

The long bones of the dog are those which he is most liable to break, or, rather, to have broken for him, as the injuries are usually traceable to direct violence. When the parts of the broken bone are properly brought together, the reparative process is almost always remarkably rapid in the dog, because he seems to understand that he must not interfere with the injured limb, and willingly keeps quiet. John Woodroffe Hill, the noted English veterinary surgeon and a writer of authority on "The Dog; Its Management and Diseases," says of fractures that "the treatment consists in reducing the separated portions to their proper position and maintaining them there, when so reduced, by the application of splints and bandages. Splints may be composed of wood, pasteboard, leather, or gutta percha, the first three of which are retained in position by bandaging, but the last is made soft by hot water and then molded to the limb. To take the place of splints, bandages may be soaked in gum, starch or plaster of paris."—Our Animal Friends.

Freaks of a Tornado.

A tornado started near Moon lake, in Coahoma county, Miss., about 2:30 p. m. on November 20, 1900, of which various freakish actions are recorded. Unpicked cotton was stripped from the stalk and scattered broadcast over the country and in some cases to distant forests, whose trees were so covered with the deposit as to make them look as if they were covered with snow. A tin sign bearing the inscription, "Johnson Brothers, Lula, Miss.," was picked up at Lagrange, 80 miles distant. A small piece of rotten wood was driven half through a heavy oak plank at Lagrange, and the Methodist church there was wrecked in singular fashion. Each of its four walls fell inward, forming a succession of layers, and the layers were surmounted by the steeple. The eight tornadoes of this day destroyed property to the value of over $500,000, killing 88 persons and injuring many more.—N. Y. Sun.

Turning Champagne Bottles.

An expert worker will turn as many as 60 bottles a minute and maintain this rate for ten hours a day, handling 36,000 bottles in a day's work. Is it any wonder that after years of this monotonous drudgery these men develop all kinds of strange moods and fancies? They become gloomy and taciturn, and get the strangest ideas into their heads. Some of them persist that the vaults are haunted and profess to see eyes glaring at them from obscure corners and figures flitting past them—possibly the eyes and figures of men who have turned bottles before them, and cannot refrain from visiting the haunts of their earthly days.—Tit-Bits.

Diplomacy Illustrated.

"What is this here diplomacy?" asked the grocery loafer.

"It is like this here," said the grocer. "For instance, if I wanted to call you a liar, I'd jist do so right out; but if I wanted to be diplomatic, I'd go at it sorter roundabout an' jist say to the surroundin' air that, while I wasn't namin' no names, I reely did believe that a certain red-nosed, squint-eyed cuss that had et at least ten pounds of my best cheese without ever payin' a cent was not so keerful with the truth as he orter to be. See?"—Indianapolis Press.

SUES FOR SKELETON.

Chicago Woman Wants Back the Bones Her Hubby Sold.

Traded It for a Ton of Coal—Purchaser Declines to Restore It and Family Peace Without Stiff Compensation.

The Chicago Daily News says that while his wife was away one day he traded a skeleton, which she had had since her college days at a West side medical school, for a ton of coal. Now she is going to sue the coal dealer because he will not return the memento of her former days. The coal man, turning a deaf ear to the pleadings of the husband that family peace be restored, puts a good price on the skeleton. And the neighbors about the Bowden home in Rhodes avenue, near Thirty-seventh street, have an interesting topic of gossip.

During the honeymoon several years ago, they relate, Mr. Bowden came home early one afternoon, and the scene that greeted his vision has never left his memory. The parlor was covered with bones from two incomplete skeletons, and down on her knees, engrossed in completing one, was his bride of two months. He quietly left the house and went to the nearest restaurant.

It was a bit dark when, returning, he stood at the front door flirting with the keyhole. Once inside the house he glanced furtively around from room to room in search of the hideous combination of bones. Mrs. Bowden had retired. With halting steps he descended to the basement, where he was to fix the furnace before retiring.

In a corner of the stone foundation a gas jet burned dimly. Tremblingly he hastened to turn it up, and just as he passed the furnace he bumped into the skeleton suspended from the timbers above. With a shudder and a groan his arms involuntarily tightened about it, the fastening gave way, and with a crash the two fell to the cement floor.

Desperately he clung tighter and tighter until above his groans and the cracking of bones he heard his wife at the head of the stairs. Meekly he begged of her to come to his assistance. He remained at home just one week to "square" himself and to repair the skeleton.

Since that time it is said he had bravely tolerated its presence in the house, although with every spell of indigestion he had sworn to get rid of it. At times his wife would painfully amuse him with discourses on the human frame, which he endured as well as he could. When she began to drag the bony frame out before his company the pressure became too great, but remonstrances with her were of no avail.

Whether in a fit of anger, or because the temptation was too great, he made the proposition to the coal man and the deal was made. The ton of black diamonds was delivered, duly installed in the bin and the wise merchant carried away the skeleton hidden in a horse blanket.

The following day his wife was frantic when she missed it. He braced up his courage and told her the circumstances. She decided that so long as it remained away from the house he was to be served with cold breakfasts. He is willing to undergo that to keep it away.

Mrs. Bowden is determined to have it again and has given the coal dealer a few days to return it in as good shape as he got it. She has consulted a lawyer and says she means business.

Golden Carpets at Auction.

According to a Lisbon correspondent two magnificent carpets, presented by the Infanta Donna Sanche to the royal convent of St. Antonio in 1500, have just been sold by auction at the municipal chamber to pay for repairs at the convent and church. The sale of the carpets, which were Persian, about 18 feet square, embroidered with real gold, caused much excitement. The most eager bidders were two groups, French and German. Bidding began at $4,440, and the Frenchmen secured the prize for $8,540, which is regarded as nearly $5,000 below the real value. Two other equally splendid carpets from the Estrella convent were also announced for sale, but public feeling has become so strong that the sale has been countermanded.—N. Y. Sun.

GOOD PROGRAMME.

Old Glory Council, D. of L., Held an Enjoyable Entertainment Last Evening.

The rooms of the Old Glory Council, D. of L., in the Babcock building were filled with friends of the council last evening, when an excellent entertainment was given by the members. I consisted of selections by Charles Suhr's Imperial orchestra of six pieces; selections by a quartette composed of Mrs. Andrew Stiglitz, Miss Smith, Miss Martin and Mr. Moore; piano selections by Samuel Lassner, Miss Cosner and Miss Stiglitz; selections on the mandolin and banjo by the Jenrenaud Brothers; recitations by Miss Try Mattox and John Manly; vocal selection by Clarence Rittenhouse; piano duet by Mrs. William Chamberlain and Miss Lottie Chamberlain and a dialogue, "A traveling salesman" in which the parts were taken by Mrs. Stiglitz, B. W. Hand, and Miss Try Mattox.

At the conclusion of the entertainment the room was cleared and a dance was held until after midnight. A supper was served at 11:30.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Ben Moore, chairman, Mrs. W. C. Chamberlain, Mrs. George Demarest, Mrs. John Haberle, John Kettenring and Walter Walker.

TO LUTHERANS.

Plea For Support For St. Peter's Lutheran Church on Grove Street.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Evangelical Lutheran St. Peter's congregation wishes to thank all persons who assisted them in their efforts and who favored them with donations towards their fair, recently held. Their efforts have been blessed in every respect and they are very grateful for it.

At their last meeting the women resolved to pay off $200 on the mortgage. This sum with the interest on the mortgage was handed over to the treasurer of the church and now the mortgage is $200 reduced.

The members are naturally rejoicing over this accomplishment. They are working hard to gain lost ground and therefore kindly invite all Lutherans, both English and German speaking, to unite and co-operate with them

If all Lutherans of Plainfield would arise and hold up their grand Lutheran banner of confession and faith, St. Peter's church would soon be too small. May these lines serve as an invitation to all Lutherans of Plainfield and vicinity and direct and bring them to the Lutheran church on Grove street.

Lutherans come, hear, get acquainted with the Lutheran pastor, for he is trying hard to get acquainted with you, and join with us in worshipping God as our fathers worshipped Him. Wm. Trebert, pastor.

Death of Adolph Bresselmair.

The death of Adolph Bresselmair, who formerly conducted a photographing studio on East Front street, occurred this morning at the home of his father-in-law, Conrad Brosi, of Wilson avenue. He had been ill about three weeks. He was about thirty years of age and leaves a wife.

Want to Pay Their Taxes He Says.

Frank Chapot, of the firm of Chapot & Sons, informed a Daily Press reporter this morning that the firm had never received a notice from the tax collector regarding their taxes, and that the first intimation they had of the recent levy made on their property was in the Plainfield papers. Mr. Chapot says that the firm has money enough to pay their taxes and no such stringent measures are needed in their case.

Known in Plainfield.

NO FACTS OF GREEN'S DEATH

POLICE AND STUDENTS ARE SEARCHING FOR THE BODY.

Meredith Dryden Left For Des Moines This Noon—Believed That Green Was Caught in Quick Sand.

As yet no tidings have been received by Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Green, of West Sixth street, as to how their son, Volney F. Green, was drowned at Des Moines, Iowa, and the parents and sister, Mrs. Meredith Dryden, are prostrated with grief.

The family received a telegram this morning from the chief of police of Des Moines, and one from the School of Osteopathy, where Mr. Green was a student. The telegrams state that the police department as well as all the students at the school are working constantly to find the body. Information was also received that the Des Moines River, where Mr. Green was drowned, is rising, and it may be several days before the body is found.

Meredith Dryden, Mr. and Mrs. Green's son in-law, left to-day at 12 o'clock by the Black Diamond Express from South Plainfield for Des Moines. He will go by the way of Chicago, reaching his destination Friday morning.

D. W. Littell, of North avenue, who is assisting Mr. and Mrs. Green in every way possible, has learned that the bed of the Des Moines river is largely composed of quick-sand and the chances are that the young man was caught in it. Being heavily dressed with boots, cartridge belt, thick clothes, the chances are that he was so greatly handicapped that he could not save himself, although he was a good swimmer. More details concerning the accident are expected to reach Plainfield by Friday at the latest.

GIVEN A HEARING.

Police Investigating Records of Two Colored Men Charged With Robbing Taub's Store.

Wm. Rich and Eddie Mack, the two colored men charged with having robbed Samuel Taub's store on Somerset street Monday evening, were given into the custody of Chief Marshal Campbell by Chief Kiely yesterday. The prisoners' likenesses were taken by Photographer Lancaster and their records are being looked into by Chief Kiely.

Rich, it seems, was released from the Reform School in June, where he was sent for a robbery committed four years ago in Elizabeth.

Justice Mattison gave a hearing this morning to Eddie Mack, who was held for the Grand Jury. Rich was also held, he having confessed to being guilty of the theft.

Recruits Wanted

Corporal William Walsh, of the Eleventh Infantry, Company B, is here looking for recruits in the U. S. Cavalry, for service in the Philippines. He will remain here for three days and and will make his headquarters at the Hotel Imperial. Captain Silas A. Wolf, of the Fourth Infantry, is in charge of the local detail.

Injured in Runaway.

Nathan Blackford was found in a dazed condition near Hillside cemetery Monday night. He was brought to the police headquarters and was taken home by his son Tuesday morning. Mr Blackford lost control of his horse and was thrown from the carriage, which was badly wrecked.

Mrs. Loweree, of the borough, is spending a few weeks with Brooklyn relatives.

Wm. Buckley, of Scotch Plains, who was taken ill a few days ago with the grip, now has pneumonia. Dr. Westcott is in attendance.

WORKING FOR CHRIST.

Large Congregation Present to Hear Rev. Gilbert L. Harney's Evangelistic Preaching.

A large and interested congregation was in attendance at Reform Hall last evening when Rev. Gilbert L Harney, the Maine evangelist, continued his services in the cause of Christ.

His subject was "A Life in Christ," and in his usual apt way he pointed out to his hearers the way to a better life by accepting the Saviour. At the conclusion of his discourse a solo, "I Want To Be There," was sung by Miss Mears in a very effective manner. This evening Mr. Harney will answer the question "Whom Does Christ Save?" Miss Mears will also sing.

Infant Child Dead.

GOVERNOR'S BILL WAS PASSED BY ASSEMBLY

Was Designed to Aid in Enforcement of Constitutional Amendment Against Gambling.

SENATE TO ACT AT ONCE.

GOVERNOR SIGNED LAW PROVIDING FOR CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

Other Important Business Considered at One of the Remaining Days of the Session of the New Jersey Legislature.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 21—Popular interest at the State House yesterday centred in the bill which Mr. Lewis introduced into the Assembly at the request of Governor Voorhees. Its object was to enforce the constitutional amendment against gambling at Long Branch and other resorts. The measure was railroaded through the lower House and was passed, Leon Abbott, of Hudson county, casting the only vote against it. It is expected that the Senate will act promptly on the bill today.

Another matter of general importance was the signing by Governor Voorhees of the act which divides New Jersey into ten Congressional districts after the manner decided upon by the Republican leaders of the State. That measure has now become a law and the Congressional election in 1902 will be conducted on the new lines.

Mr. Francis' bill providing that when a judgment had been obtained for a debt for necessaries of life the court may require payment in instalments was passed by the Senate after considerable debate. Mr. Francis argued that the bill would not affect a debtor without means, but would reach the man who has money, but refuses to pay. Mr. Martin feared that the bill would mean a return to the old practice of imprisonment for debt, inasmuch as the courts might not be able to determine a debtor's ability to pay and might commit him for contempt.

Mr. Marks opposed the Newark Plank Road bill in the House, contending that the people of Jersey City did not want the road, and that it would be placing a burden on Hudson county for the sole benefit of residents of Newark and vicinity. Mr. Tennant also opposed the bill, which was passed by a vote of 31 to 19.

The House passed without even the formality of an explanation the current resolution embodying the proposed constitutional amendments made by the State Bar Association relative to the reorganization of the higher courts. The House also passed Mr. Lewis's Pure Food bill as amended in the Senate. Among other bills passed were:

Providing for an additional battalion fire chief in Jersey City; requiring bathing house proprietors along the coast to keep a lifeboat in readiness to rescue bathers; providing for the appointment of a female factory inspector; providing for the payment of wages of employers every week, and fixing the terms of the treasurer and receiver of taxes of Newark at three years.

Among the Senate bills passed were: Permitting congregations of Protestant Episcopal churches to incorporate a mutual fire insurance company, and providing for the sewering of the lowlands and flats in Hoboken.

BASE BALL AT HIGH SCHOOL.

EXCELLENT PROSPECTS ON PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL.

Will Open The Season at Martine Common But They Will Have to Finish Elsewhere.

There is every prospect that the Plainfield High School will be represented on the baseball diamond this spring by a strong nine, which will make even a better showing than did the team last year. Very few of the old players have been lost and the year's practice has made a wonderful improvement in the playing of some of the boys. While there is very little new material, there are plenty of candidates for the positions and enough rivalry to get out a good crowd for practice.

A. B. Meredith, of the High School faculty, will coach the team again this season. Cyrus H. Kinsman is the manager and Townsend Mason captain. At the start of the season, Manager Kinsman has secured Martine Common for practice and match games, but it is probable that Mr. Martine will open a street through there this spring, and in that case the team will complete its schedule on the grounds of the Hope baseball nine on Sherman avenue.

The first regular practice was held Tuesday afternoon on Martine Common. There was a good turnout. For pitcher, Arthur Denton, Townsend Mason and Fred VanAuken are all candidates. All were tried in the box last season with more or less success. Fred Mason was put in as catcher the last of last season and did well. He is in line for the place behind the bat this year. The other candidates for that place are Cyrus Kinsman, Harvey Moynihan and Herbert Monroe. On the bases H. K. Doane, David I. Pond, R. W. Meeker, J. Stanley Mosher, Peter L. Ughetta and Harold Davis are possible men, while Louis Bock, A. K. Brakeley, Clarence Brokaw, Claude A. Cubberly, B. F. Fosgate, M. Moynihan and Harry Scull are candidates for places in the field or may be tried on the bases.

For the first time, the High School team will have regular uniforms which will be purchased with funds raised at the benefit entertainment given by the athletic association last winter. They will be of first rate quality. The boys are purchasing their own jerseys and caps. Those who are entitled to wear the school insignia, "P. H. S," are having them put on the new jerseys.

Beside the High School team, it is probable that class teams will be formed which will play a series of games during the latter part of the spring.

CLASS NUMERALS.

These Who Are Entitled to Wear Them at Plainfield High School.

At a recent meeting the board of directors of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association it was decided that the following persons are entitled to wear their class numerals: C. A. Brooks, Shepard Randolph, Edward A. Janes, Clarence LaRue, E. Whitney, Irwin B. Leland, L. W. Bridgeman, Fred Lounsbury, V. B. Miner, Lawrence Whitall, Edson Davis, Louis Bock, A. D. Beers, Harry Thompson, John Foster and Frank Lock.

The same privilege is also given to all those who may wear the school insignia.

Residental Changes.

BURNED BY MOLTEN IRON.

David Bowden Badly Injured in Accident at Pond Tool Works Yesterday.

David Bowden, of West Fourth street, met with severe injuries while at work in the foundry department of the Pond Tool Works yesterday afternoon. In company with another workman he was engaged in carrying a ladle of molten iron when the latter stumbled and fell, throwing the metal in all directions. Bowden attempted to jump, but he was too late, and drops of the iron the size of a silver quarter fell on his left arm and side, burning the flesh to the bone.

The injured man was attended to by the shop physician, after which he hurried to the hospital, where the burns were properly dressed. He is now confined to his home, and although suffering greatly, no serious results are anticipated.

FAVORS PLAN.

President Dumont Will Support Measure Providing For Changes at Sewage Disposal Beds.

On account of the recent death of his wife, President J. B. Dumont, of the Common Council, has not been present at the last few meetings of that body. Mr. Dumont has taken such an active participation in city affairs that much interest was expressed in his probable attitude on the proposed improvements to the sewage disposal beds.

To a Daily Press reporter, this morning, Mr. Dumont said that had he been present at the last meeting of the Council, he would have voted in favor of the ordinance which provided for the changes to the disposal beds. Mr. Dumont explained that he had followed the subject very carefully and was greatly pleased that a man of the capabilites of Mr. Osgood could be secured to give his unbiased recommendations regarding the necessary changes. He was convinced that Mr. Osgood's suggestions were the best that the city could follow and now that the State Board of Health had given its emphatic approval of the plan, he was perfectly willing to vote in favor of the measure which provided for it.

DEFEATED OLD MEMBER.

School Meeting at Somerville Elected James Brown, Jr., Trustee.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, March 21—At a meeting of the citizens of Somerville, held in the school building Tuesday night, James Brown, Jr., manager of the Somerville Woolen Mills, was elected a member of the Board of Education for three years defeating William H. Long, who had been a member for the past fifteen years.

The sum of $8,500 was voted for school purposes. No action was taken on appropriating money for a new building. The board is waiting for the report of a New York architect, who was employed to examine the old buildings and report whether it would be cheaper to enlarge or build new.

PEACEFUL ENDING OF BRIGHT YOUNG LIFE.

Mrs. George A. Rockfellow Passed Away at Her Home Yesterday Afternoon.

WEDDED BUT TWO YEARS.

HAD A PREMONITION THAT DEATH WAS AT HAND.

Was Conscious to the Very Last. When The Family Gathered at Her Bedside—Leaves a Husband and Infant Son.

Mrs. George A. Rockfellow, of Park avenue, died last evening at 5:30 o'clock, following a critical illness of several days. Ten days ago a son was born to her. A fever followed, but Mrs. Rockfellow recovered from that and was improving steadily until Tuesday evening, when intestinal strangulation developed and finally resulted in death. The child still survives.

The circumstances surrounding the life and death of Mrs. Rockfellow are particularly sad. She was the daughter of Appolos and Lettie S. Potter, of Rahway, and was twenty-four years old. December 29, 1898, she was a bride in a double wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stack, of Park avenue, being the other couple. Just prior to the wedding Mr. Potter's home was robbed and burned and Mrs. Rockfellow's wedding garments were mostly destroyed.

This chain of unfortunate circumstances seemed to impress itself indelibly on her mind, and for some time past she had a premonition that she would not live. In view of this she wrote a letter to be opened after her death. This letter was opened last evening and revealed the fact that the writer had made every arrangement for her funeral, the kind of a casket she was to be buried in. She also expressed the desire to be buried in her wedding gown, and it was her wish to have her body laid away in Hazelwood cemetery, Rahway. She made disposition of her belongings to her loved ones.

Mrs. Rockfellow was conscious to the very last. Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock she called everyone of the family to her bedside and told them she was dying and wanted to bid all good-bye. She kissed each one affectionately and passed away as calmly and peacefully as though she was just going to sleep.

Mrs. Rockfellow was a most estimable woman and was loved and admired by all who knew her. She was of a genial and jolly disposition and a host of friends will sympathize with the bereaved ones in the severe loss sustained. She and her husband had planned to go to housekeeping April 1, and had rented a home.

The funeral services will be held from the residence, corner of Park avenue and Ninth street, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and the interment will be in Hazelwood Cemetery, Rahway.

DIED AT HOSPITAL.

Andrew Wahl, of Jackson Avenue, Passed Away Yesterday Morning.

Andrew Wahl, of Jackson avenue, died yesterday morning at the hospital. Preparations were being made to perform a serious operation on Mr. Wahl but he sank rapidly and passed away shortly after the operation had been performed.

Mr. Wahl was an employe of Charles Tallman, of Somerset street, and resided with his widowed mother, Mrs. Helena Wahl. The funeral services will be held from his late residence on Jackson avenue Saturday, March 23, at 9 a. m. Mass will be said in St. Joseph's church at 9:30 o'clock.

Adjourned For a Month.

At the request of counsel for the defendant, Justice Nash yesterday adjourned the case of "The Ladder of Life Company" against J. J. Walshe et als, for one month. W. G. DeMeza represents the defendant, while Lawyer Davy and William Nash represent the plaintiff.

J. W. Bothem, of Jersey City will address the meeting for men at Y. M. C. A. Hall on Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. William Holmes and Martin A. Korff will render vocal and violin solos. Mr. Botham is an exceptionally interesting speaker.

Lenten Services.

Lenten services will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Church of the Holy Cross. Services will also be held at the same hour in Grace church and Rev. F. B. Reazor will be the preacher.

GOOD WORK DONE.

Annual Meeting of the Boys' Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue Church Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Boys' Mission Band and Earnest Workers was held in the Sunday school room of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. The yearly reports were read and an election of officers held.

The officers for the ensuing year are: President, Richard Lovell; secretary, Van Wyck Brooks; treasurer, Alden Moore.

The secretary's report showed an aggregate contribution to foreign missions amounting to $120, divided equally between the Lodiana mission in India, the Syrian school in Syria and the Hanchow mission in China. According to the treasurer's report the total receipts for the year were $190 40, and the expenses $187.73.

SETTLING TAXES.

Notices Served by Constable Rogers Have The Desired Result in Bringing in Money.

Constable George E. Rogers, who has charge of the work of serving warrants upon delinquent taxpayers, under the direction of Collector F. H. Smith, started his work yesterday, but thus far he has had smooth sailing. The delinquents he found at home all promised to call at the collector's office at once and settle, and they did. At several houses Mr. Rogers found no one at home, and he will be obliged to call again. The work was started in the Crescent avenue district, and it is the intention of Mr. Rogers to work certain sections of the city at a time.

TALK TO TEACHERS.

Dr. Carman Will Address Borough School Teachers at Somerset Street School Today.

The teachers of North Plainfield's public schools will meet this afternoon in the Somerset street building to discuss school work. A programme of special interest has been arranged for the occasion.

Dr. J. H. Carman, the schools' physician, will make an address on "Symptoms of Contagious Diseases." Dr. Carman visits the borough schools weekly and examines such pupils as the teacher may request, and this lecture is given in order that the teachers may be more able to detect any indication of a contagious disease among the pupils.

Superintendent W. J. Wightman will speak on "Our Educational Creed," which will embody a discussion of the underlying principles of the educational system of work in North Plainfield public schools.

PREACHING THE GOSPEL.

Strong Evangelistic Services at Reform Hall by Rev. Mr. Harney.

Considering the weather there was a good attendance at Reform Hall last evening, when Rev. Gilbert L. Harney, the evangelist, conducted the service. He preached a sound Gospel sermon on loyalty to Christ and the great necessity of accepting Him as a personal Saviour. He said that he could not neither would he attempt to argue mysterious things in the Bible, but one thing he was sure of, that is that Christ saves to the uttermost. He urged all present to give their hearts to Christ at once and be saved from their sins.

At the close of the service Miss Mears sang effectively a new version of "Nearer My God to Thee." This evening the regular Reform Club meeting will be he held with special features. Tomorrow evening Mr. Harney will again be in charge.

Residental Changes.

Through Mulford's real estate agency Mrs. J. Ringel, of Brooklyn, has leased the residence at 1008 Putnam avenue, and will take possession May 1. Mrs A. MELVIN WON POOL TOURNEY.

CONCLUDING GAME WAS PLAYED IN KREWSON'S PARLORS LAST NIGHT.

Melvin Was First and McLoughlin Second—Ammons and Moore Tied For Third Place.

After one of the most exciting games since the commencement of the series, the pool tourney at Krewson's parlors was finished last evening. The contestants were Melvin and Ammons, both leaders in the contest. The former proved the winner but only by one point, the score being 60 to 54, as Ammons is a 55 class man.

In winning the game Melvin also won the tourney, having secured thirteen out of the fifteen games in which he engaged. By losing last evening's game, Ammons tied with Moore for third place, each man having won eleven games and last four. Second place was secured by McLaughlin, with only three defeats against him.

Each of the four winners will be awarded substantial prizes. This, however, has been a secondary matter in the tourney, the spirit of rivalry having been the incentive which made the contest one of the best yet played in this city. Sixteen men entered at the start all of whom remained to the finish with but one exception. The games each evening were witnessed by large crowds of enthusiasts who assembled to encourage their favorites and watch the numerous clever shots.

The contestants and their respective scores are as follows:

	Won.	Lost
Melvin	13	2
McLaughlin	12	3
Moore	11	4
Ammons	11	4
Pope	10	5
McCann	10	5
Kingston	8	7

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Given to Little Miss Beatrice Young by Her Young Friends.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Young, of Watchung avenue, was the scene of a pleasant gathering Tuesday evening, when forty little friends of Miss Beatrice Young, tendered her a surprise party in honor of her eleventh birthday. The young guests enjoyed themselves with numerous games among them being the amusing pastime of dressing the new woman, the prize being awarded to Martin Flatley. When thoroughly tired the little folks adjourned to the dining room where they partook of supper.

The decorations for the occasion were very tasty, consisting of crepe paper and cut flowers.

RECEIVED INTO CHURCH.

Many Applied For Membership in Local Baptist Churches Last Evening.

The regular weekly prayer service was held at the Park Avenue Baptist church last evening, at which time seven young persons presented themselves before the church for membership. They related their experiences. They wil be baptized Sunday evening.

At the regular weekly prayer service of the First church last evening fourteen persons, mostly young people, came before the church for membership. After relating their experiences the church received them. They will be baptized Sunday. All of these persons were converted in the recent evangelistic services.

How to Earn Money.

Money is a good thing to have, and most people have to earn it. The "International Correspondence Schools," of Scranton, Pa., will help you to make plenty of it. James E. Bailey, of 26 Manning avenue, is the local representative of the schools. There are 7,000 students in New Jersey. The courses include everything useful and needful for a person to know. See the advertisement in another part of The Daily Press.

To Study the Lesson.

The Sunday-school teachers of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet Saturday evening at the home of Miss Cora Brokaw, in the Babcock building, and Rev. G. M. Shott, pastor of the Baptist church at Scotch Plains, will teach the lesson.

"Neal Dow" Day will be observed at the W. C. T. U. rooms this afternoon with appropriate exercises.

NO DECISION AS TO OAK TREE CEMETERY.

Promoters of Big Burying Ground Met With Raritan Township Committee.

WILL MEET AGAIN SOON.

ORDINANCE PASSED FIRST READING BUT AWAITS FINAL ACTION.

Cemetery Is So Large That It Will Be Officially Known As Three Separate Cemeteries—Opposition From Highland Park.

The new syndicate, which proposes to establish a model cemetery near Oak Tree, Raritan township, in Middlesex county, the details of which were announced in The Daily Press, some days ago, succeeded in having the Raritan Township Committee pass ordinances granting the desired franchises on their first readings Saturday evening.

Last evening the representatives of the syndicate again met the committee at Bonhamtown and a lengthy discussion took place. Nothing definite was accomplished, however, and the conference adjourned until tomorrow evening, at which time another meeting will be held in Oliver's Hotel, Bonhamtown.

The promoters have already obtained the consent of the township Board of Health. The only hindrance to getting the permission of the latter body would have been a possibility of streams used for water supply flowing near the contemplated cemeteries, but it was found that no streams flow near the property.

Owing to the magnitude of the cemetery planned by the syndicate, it is necessary for the company, in order not to violate the State law, to sub-divide the large tract of land into three separate cemeteries. These will be known as the Cedar Heights, the Woodland Heights and the Oak Tree cemeteries.

For some time Highland Park, near New Brunswick, in the same township, was seriously considered as a site for a cemetery, but some question arises now the company has decided to establish the three-named whether one can be lawfully established at the Highland Park site. The company claims it can find a way to successfully evade the law, and the people of Raritan township are anxiously awaiting the outcome.

EXCITING TIMES.

Numerous Fights at the Warren Township Annual School Meeting Tuesday Night.

The Warren township annual school meeting was held in the schoolhouse at Warrenville Tuesday. One hundred and thirty-five voters were present at the meeting which resulted in a defeat for the administration. The candidates of the opposition for Trustees won out by a good margin. The vote stood: R. Coddington, 102; William Way, 95; Joseph Zeglio, 85; George Bowers, 41; Adam Betzold, 48. Bowers and Betzold were backed by the friends of the trustees.

The appropriations recommended by the board were $350 for supplies and $250 for repairs to the school houses. A movement against furnishing the pupils with free text books became formidable at the meeting and polled 36 votes for an appropriation of $25 for supplies for the five schools. 99 voted for the $350 appropriation.

The amount finally fixed for repairs was $150. An effort was made on the part of the board to have the meeting increase the monthly salary of the teachers from $35 to $40 but this move met with an overwhelming defeat.

Underdrains Repaired.

Sometime ago Street Commissioner Gavett had underdrains installed at the corner of LaGrande and Woodland avenues and at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. The recent heavy rains has caused them to become depressed. This together with a stoppage of ice, etc., has prevented them from working properly. This morning Mr. Gavett had the drains fixed so that no furtner trouble will be experienced for some time.

P. Ludwig Conde's Concert.

The annual orchestral concert of P. Ludwig Conde will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening. Mr Conde will be assisted by talent of unusual excellence and the programme will be a very enjoyable one. The tickets have been selling well, as Mr. Conde is popular with Plainfield audiences, and the fact that he has arranged the affair will vouch for its excellence.

LITERARY.

In variety and value of contents McClure's Magazine for April will be a notable number. Timeliness, literary worth, historical researches, analysis of character, studies in natural history, and life next to the soil, in the metropolis, in the Orient, all these and more will distinguish the forthcoming issue, and it will be adorned throughout with illustrations contributed by the best artists and reproduced with the extreme of skill in art-process.

Ida M. Tarbell will tell of "The Disbanding of the Confederate Army," an article of strongest interest and, too, of historical importance. "Walks and Talks With Tolstoy," by Andrew D. White, Ambassador to Germany, will give a realistic picture of the great Russian genius. In fiction this number will contain matter of striking excellence: An installment of "Kim," by Rudyard Kipling; a story of amusing imagination in childlife, by Josephine Dodge Daskam; a brilliant narrative of a Wall street deal, by Edwin Lefevre, and other stories. The illustrations will be remarkably abundant and of great merit. Among the artists who will contribute are Edwin Lord Weeks, Lockwood Kipling, Maude Cowles, Orson Lowell, A. Radclyffe Dugmore, F. Y. Cory, Frederic Dorr Steele and W. L. Leigh.

The April number of The Smart Set is crowded with articles and stories that command public interest. The leading novelette is entitled "The Taming of Sylvia," and is by Elizabeth Duer, who is perhaps better known to Knickerbocker society as Mrs. James G. King Duer. Julian Gordon (Mrs. VanRensselaer Cruger) contributes to the number a long short story, "In Palace Gardens," that was awarded $250 in the recent prize contest in this magazine. Mrs. M. E. W. Sherwood has an interesting article, entitled "Certain Patriotic Exiles," on the American colony Paris. Another brilliant article in the number is "The Lovers of the World," by Edgar Saltus. There are stories by Mrs. Poultney Bigelow, Clinton Ross, Douglas St. George Huntington, Guy Somerville, Francis M. Livingston, Kate Jordan, Katharine de Wolf, Marvin Dana and H. A. Keays.

A Horrible Outbreak

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes O. D. Isbill, of Morgantown, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve competely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

Gone Into Real Estate Business.

William Stimpson, formerly of The Daily Press, but late of the Trenton Times, has resigned his position to engage in the real estate and insurance business in that city.

—The lingering cough following grippe calls for One Minute Cough Cure. For all throat and lung troubles this is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Prevents consumption. L. W. Randolph.

Improvements at Sewer Beds.

The work of improvements on the sewage beds will be commenced about the latter part of April. After the ordinance is advertised two weeks, the Council will have to adopt the same on its third reading. The preliminary work will require several weeks before the actual work can be started on the beds.

—Like Oliver Twist, children ask for more when given One Minute Cough Cure. Mothers endorse it highly for croup. It quickly cures all coughs and colds and every throat and lung trouble. It is a specific for grippe and asthma and has long been a well-known remedy for whooping cough. L. W. Randolph.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

The union sociable held under the auspices of the Elizabeth Christian Endeavor Union on the 11th instant was one of the most successful in the union's history. Fully 350 Endeavorers, Epworthians and members of other young people's societies enjoyed a delightful programme of music and recitations and the very "social sociable" which followed.

The department conferences held each month by the county union are increasing in interest. The next one, which will be held in Elizabeth, will be in charge of the superintendent of Junior work, and it is likely that the speaker will be Rev. George C. Horter, State superintendent of that department.

With only 6,000 Protestants in a population of over 70,000 Quebec has four staunch Christian Endeavor societies.

The missionary work of the Illinois State Union is now conducted by a committee of five, instead of by a superintendent and assistant as formerly. Much effective work is done.

Christian Endeavor in Egypt is in a flourishing condition. In Alexandria a society for native young men is performing an excellent work and the girls's school at Cairo there is a society of fifty active members, each of whom takes part in every praying meeting. An unorganized society in the college at Assiout contains many earnest young men. These gather for a prayer meeting twice a week and on Sundays they go out two and two and preach in ten villages within a radius of eight miles of the city. A fully organized society in the girl's day school at Bulak is doing very effective work. In addition to these native societies, there is also in Cairo a society for English speaking people. During its several years of existence it has steadily grown, until at the present time the meeting room is filled every Sunday with earnest young men and women speaking many different tongues as they go about their daily work, but who, in those Christian Endeavor meetings, speak solely in English.

From every direction come tidings of the conversion of Juniors and their reception into the Senior society and the church. The work among the children is broadening and deepening and many States have superintendents whose places it would be hard to fill.

Christian Endeavorers will be glad to know that Rev. F. B. Meyer has arrived in this country for his series of meetings covering a part of March and April. He will visit a part of the country in which he has not previously been heard, the cities which will be favored being Richmond, Atlanta, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Omaha and Allegheny. Mr. Meyer sails for home April 17.

—Prof. Ivison, of Lonaconing, Md., suffered terribly from neuralgia of the stomach and indigestion for thirteen years and after the doctors failed to cure him they fed him on morphine. A friend advised the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and after taking a few bottles of it he says: "It has cured me entirely, I can't say too much for Kodol Dyspepsia Cure." It digests what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

Will Nominate Officers.

The Exempt Firemen's Association will hold an important meeting Friday evening at which time officers will be nominated. A full attendance is requested.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by L. W. Randolph.

Magaphones on The Reading.

The magaphone seems destined to become a feature in connection with the Reading Railway's train service. This innovation was introduced in the working of the Pennsylvania avenue subway by Superintendent Beach, of the Philadelphia division, and so satisfactory has it proven that its use will be extended to other points on the division. The magaphone is used to enable towermen to transmit train orders to conductors of freight trains, and obviates the necessity of conductors climbing up into the tower as heretofore and thereby holding up their trains for a time.

—Counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are liable to cause blood poisoning. Leave them alone. The original has the name DeWitt's upon the box and wrapper. It is a harmless and healing salve for skin diseases. Unequalled for piles. L. W. Randolph.

IN THE REALM OF SOCIETY.

PERSONAL JOTTINGS COLLECTED IN CITY AND BOROUGH.

Daily Doings of Plainfielders and Their Guests Carefully Collected and Tersely Told.

Arthur Williams, of Plainfield avenue, has recovered from a recent illness.

Mr. Snyder, of East Millstone, has been visiting Plainfield friends for a time.

Robert Barnes, of Staten Island, has returned home after a visit with relatives in this city.

Former Councilman Seymour G. Smith, of Putnam avenue, is seriously ill at his home.

Miss Anna Wilson, of Cleveland, O., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dodge, of Lincoln place.

Dr. J. H. Cooley, of Westervelt avenue, left yesterday on a business trip and will be away for a week.

Daniel Dodge, of Lincoln place, who has been traveling for a New Brunswick firm, has resigned his position.

Horace J. Martin, Jr., of Philadelphia, has been spending a few days with his parents on Jackson avenue.

Miss Jessie Roberts, of Brooklyn, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D S. Roberts, of Prospect place.

Miss May VanFleet, of East Third street, has returned home from Somerville, where she has been visiting Mrs. Bauer.

John H. Tier, Jr., of Bank place, who has been in the employ of the Jersey Central Railroad Company, has secured a position with the United States Express Company.

Mrs. Isaac P. Runyon and daughter, who have been ill at the home of Mrs. Runyon's parents, Pluckamin, are now able to be about the house, and they will soon come to their home in the borough.

Mrs. T. Logan Murphy and daughter, Miss Annie Murphy, who have been traveling abroad for some time past, will sail from Southampton on the American Liner, St. Louis, Saturday, for home. They are expected to arrive during the latter part of the following week.

BOARD WILL ORGANIZE.

New Board of Education, of North Plainfield, Will Hold Its First Meeting Monday Evening.

The new Board of Education of the borough will meet Monday evening for organization. The law requires that the board meet within ten days after the annual public school meeting, and the first Monday night after the election happens to be the regular meeting night for the North Plainfield School Board.

Some important business will be transacted. At least three vacancies are expected to occur in the teaching corps and these will be immediately filled with candidates already selected.

Miss Alice Thompson, the present teacher in the Fifth grade, will tender her resignation. Miss Thompson has arranged to take a professional course in the Oswego, New York, State Normal School.

As the board has been informally notified to this effect, her successor here has been chosen. No announcement will be made, however, until after the Monday evening meeting. S. St. John McCutchen will be re-elected president of the board.

No Changes in Local Pastors.

No change is expected to be made at the Newark Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Hoboken next month in the local pastoral appointments. The principal work of the conference, as can be seen at this time, will be the adoption of a plan to raise sufficient revenue to furnish the new building of the Hackettstown Institute.

Will Remain at Chicago.

A rumor has gained circulation in this city to the effect that George E. Vincent, a former Plainfielder, had accepted the presidency of the North Western University. Mr. Vincent declares the story to be without foundation, and says he has no intention of relinquishing his chair in sociology at the University of Chicago.

Address by Missionary.

The twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will be held in the lecture room of the church Friday afternoon. It is expected that Miss Fay, a returned missionary, will be present and make an address.

One Motor Out of Business.

One of the trolley cars had to be run from Scotch Plains to Plainfield Tuesday afternoon with one motor, the other one having been disconnected in someway between Westfield and Scotch Plains.

Will Raise Tax Rate.

A prominent citizen of the borough said that the extra appropriation of $1,400 made at the school meeting last evening means an increase in the present tax rate of six points.

BEGGARS MISS CARNEGIE.

Crowd of Applicants Awaited Millionaire's Arrival at Southampton.

SOUTHAMPTON, March 21.—A strong northeasterly gale in the channel somewhat delayed the American line steamer St. Louis, which did not arrive until 2 o'clock this morning. A crowd of interviewers and gold seekers had long awaited her coming, hoping to obtain an audience with Andrew Carnegie, who was one of the passengers.

Mr. Spence, the company's manager, was pestered all day yesterday with requests to arrange interviews with Mr. Carnegie as soon as the St. Louis arrived. It is needless to say that such applications were ignored.

When the steamer arrived, Mr. Carnegie was asleep. His instructions were that he was not to be disturbed on any account, and his wishes were strictly respected. After a few hours' waiting after the arrival of the steamer the inquirers unwillingly withdrew.

Among them was the local agent of a London bank, who was intrusted with an important letter to be delivered personally at the earliest possible moment.

It is intimated that Mr. Carnegie will leave by train for London at 7 o'clock, when doubtless he will have to run the gantlet of the correspondents and delegations from charitable and educational institutions. The latter include a party from the College of Southampton.

Among the personal beggars is a Frenchman named Adam, from Havre, who has come to demand $1,000,000 for the purpose of raising an army to aid the Boers.

Michael Hogan, an Irish patriot, asks for only $5,000,000 with which to free Ireland from British tyranny. He is modestly willing to accept this sum in small installments.

A Winchester man supplicates a donation to buy his brother an artificial leg.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Andrade is believed about to lead an insurrection in Venezuela.

The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York reached Gibraltar.

Trouble has again broken out between cattle and sheep men in Colorado over grazing lands.

Sigmund Hertz, alleged to have stolen $100,000 from his employers, was brought to New York from England a prisoner.

All the Russian warships in Japanese waters have sailed for Korea, and the Japanese squadron is mobilizing to follow at once.

Cosgrove Gets Away.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The American Surety company, at whose instance Charles E. Cosgrove, State Senator McCarren's nephew, was arrested in the City of Mexico on the charge of embezzling $14,000, has received a telegram that the judge before whom Cosgrove was arraigned to await extradition had discharged him without notice to the company, allowing him to escape. The telegram also says that Cosgrove is on the way to Vera Cruz, with an inspector of the Surety company close at his heels, and that the latter hopes to overtake the fugitive before he gets out of Mexican territory and have him held for extradition.

An Indian Election.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A general election in the Cherokee Indian nation, in Indian Territory, to ratify or reject the Cherokee treaty with the United States government for allotting lands in severalty and winding up the tribal affairs has been called for April 29 next. Principal Chief T. M. Buffington, the head of the Cherokees, telegraphed last night from the territory that the proclamation calling the election was issued yesterday and added, "Treaty prospects are no better." The treaty was ratified by congress and approved by President McKinley on March 1.

Wisconsin Floods.

MILWAUKEE, March 21.—As a result of the rain territory more than a mile square in the Menominee valley, in this city, is under five to six feet of water. The shops of the Milwaukee road at West Milwaukee were partly covered on the shop floors, and business had to be suspended, while the water rushed into the shops of the Falk Manufacturing company and flooded the furnaces, putting out the fires in the foundry department and stopping all work. A portion of the grade of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road, built across the valley, was washed out.

To Start a Cat Farm.

WINSTED, Conn., March 21.—A company is being organized here, with a capital stock of $1,000, to raise black cats. Edward A. Nellis, high sheriff of the county; H. MacD. Allen, a stockbroker, and Burton E. Moore, a real estate dealer, are the promoters of the enterprise. The skins of black cats are quoted at 50 cents, and, there being no law to protect felines and the fact that they are not subject to taxation, has led the promoters to believe that a good profit can be realized in breeding them.

Iron Manufacturers to Meet.

PITTSBURG, March 21.—One of the largest and most representative meetings probably ever held by iron manufacturers will take place at Cleveland next Wednesday for the purpose of adjusting the prices on ore for the next 12 months. All the largest manufacturers in the country will be represented. This meeting will be the first at which representatives of the United States Steel corporation will be present. Most of the prominent independents will also attend the gathering.

Big Exhibition in London.

LONDON, March 21.—The Daily Mail says this morning, "It is reported in high circles that King Edward contemplates a big exhibition on the lines of the Paris exposition, the idea being to inclose the Thames from Westminster bridge to Albert bridge, including the whole of Battersea park."

American Boxer Won.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, March 21.—In a 20 round contest at catch weights in the Standard theater, in this city, last evening Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia cleverly knocked out Jack Thompson of Newcastle in the second round. The American quite outclassed his opponent.

Librarian Appointed.

NEW YORK, March 21.—At a meeting of the directors of the Brooklyn Public library held in Brooklyn F. P. Hill of Newark, N. J., was appointed to succeed A. C. Bostwick as librarian. Mr. Hill's salary will be $5,500.

PANIC IN MARSEILLES

Aggressive Attitude of Strikers Causes Alarm.

SHARP CLASH WITH THE MILITARY.

A Volley of Stones Thrown by the Mob Injures Several Soldiers. Two Hundred Women Take Part.

MARSEILLES, March 21.—The situation here is very disquieting owing to the increasingly aggressive attitude of the strikers. During the disorders yesterday the panic spread to the townspeople, and stores, restaurants and cafes were hurriedly closed. The Rue de la Cannebiere and the other leading thoroughfares of the city were deserted. It was feared that the mob, which was charged by mounted gendarmes and hussars, would attempt to pillage. A crowd numbering 2,000 burst through a cordon of infantry along the dock side. The cavalry charged and drove the strikers back. A volley of stones was then thrown in all directions, and a brigadier, two gendarmes, a hussar and several infantrymen were injured. One gendarme was stunned, thrown from his horse and trampled upon by the cavalry. He was removed to the hospital, where he lies in a critical condition.

The soldiers were greatly exasperated, but their officers succeeded in controlling them.

The strikers are irritated at the refusal of the premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, to receive the Socialist mayor of Marseilles, M. Flaissieres, who sought to obtain government pressure to force the masters to negotiate, the masters having declined to do so on the ground that the strike was unjustifiable and a breach of a previous agreement.

Two hundred women, several with babes in arms, took part in the demonstration in spite of the rain. With the exception of the Socialist organs the press shows little sympathy with the strikers. The public generally recognizes that the strike has already done an immense amount of injury and may completely ruin the port.

The government is in an extremely embarrassing position, especially M. Millerand, the minister of commerce, as the Socialists demand that the government should intervene in favor of the strikers and are disgruntled at the employment of troops.

The Gilman Will Contest.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 21.—In an interview with regard to the $10,000 suit brought against the First National bank of this city by Mrs. Helen Hall for alleged refusal to cash a check drawn by the late George F. Gilman, Senator Seeley, the president of the institution, said that Mrs. Hall had never presented such a check to his knowledge. "Mrs. Hall came to the bank after Mr. Gilman's death," said Mr. Seeley, "and asked if she would be allowed to draw on Mr. Gilman's account, inquiring at the same time how large the account was. We of course refused to allow her to draw, and she intimated that she had a check on Mr. Gilman's deposit for the amount of $10,000. This is all that I know about the matter and the extent of our dealings with Mrs. Hall." Among the parties conversant with the situation the feeling is growing stronger that the litigation now started will before its conclusion seriously threaten the Gilman fortune.

Maryland Census Frauds.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Regarding irregularities in the census enumeration in Maryland, Director of the Census Merriam said: "I have been simply amazed at the irregularities we have discovered. It is too late to change the figures of the tenth census, but it will be the policy of this office to punish every offender. St. Mary's and St. Charles counties were the districts in which the worst irregularities occurred. In one county of one of the districts 500 names were wrongfully and intentionally added by the enumerators. The total population, including the padded names, aggregated 18,136. The enumerator, S. F. Abell, has been arrested, and his case will serve as an example. The penalty involved is $5,000 fine and two years' imprisonment."

Our Locomotives Praised.

CHICAGO, March 21.—After devoting several months to personal observation and study of American railroads and the methods by which they are operated, E. Sonokichi and Y. Yamato, respectively traffic manager and mechanical superintendent of Japan's longest and most important railroad, extending from Tokyo to the northern extremity of the main island, have started back to the eastern empire. The American locomotives found the warmest spots in the hearts of the oriental officials. Mr. Sonokichi said that the American engines, which cost fully one-third less than those bought in England, did better work with the use of less coal.

Wolcott to Succeed Hitchcock.

PUEBLO, Colo., March 21.—The Daily Chieftain says today that it is definitely known that ex-Senator Edward O. Wolcott of Colorado will in a few days be appointed by the president to be secretary of the interior, to succeed Mr. Hitchcock. The news has been received by friends of Mr. Wolcott in this city, the statement being made unequivocally, and it is indicated that the announcement will be made in Washington today.

To Test Explosives.

LONDON, March 21.—The committee recently appointed by the admiralty and war office to discover the best powder for guns and small arms and the best high explosives for shells has just issued an invitation to manufacturers to submit explosives for trial under a guarantee that their secrets will not be probed by the government manufacturers.

To Command in India.

LONDON, March 21.—King Edward has approved the appointment of General Sir Arthur Power Palmer as commander in chief of the forces in India. General Palmer has been provisional commander in chief for a year. This disposes of the rumors pointing to Lord Kitchener or the Duke of Connaught for the post.

Charged With Abduction.

TOLEDO, March 21.—The police have arrested Manuel Schneiderman, a barber, who, it is alleged, is wanted in New York on a charge of abduction. Schneiderman has been working here for several weeks.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; westerly winds.

STILL FACE TO FACE

Russians and English Hold Fast at Tien-tsin.

GREAT BRITAIN EXPECTED TO YIELD.

Hands of That Government Are Tied Because of the South African Troubles—British Troops Re-enforced.

BERLIN, March 21.—In German official circles it is asserted that British and Russian guards still occupy the land in controversy at Tien-tsin and that a satisfactory adjustment of the matter may be expected. The press does not consider the Tien-tsin incident vital. All the papers express a belief that Great Britain will yield. The Vossische Zeitung says that England cannot now afford to engage in a serious conflict with Russia. The Kreuz Zeitung, which takes a similar view, adds:

"It would be indeed deplorable if from a mere local controversy there should grow up serious differences, because that would induce the Chinese to show greater powers of resistance."

In an able weekly review the Kreuz Zeitung mentions a series of Russian advances in the far east, including the acquisition of territory at Hankow by means of which Russia invaded the Yang-tse district, adding:

"All this England has had to endure because the South African war paralyzed her aggressive powers."

Commenting upon President McKinley's proposal that the powers should demand joint damages from China, each of them taking a share of the same, the Berliner Tageblatt points out that Count von Bulow, speaking in the reichstag March 15, had already declared this to be the best method, adding that there exists consequently a complete agreement between the German and American points of view.

BRITISH FORCE STRENGTHENED

Ninety Marines Sent to Tien-tsin to Replace Indian Guards.

PEKING, March 21.—The British reenforcements, consisting of 90 marines, which arrived at Tien-tsin Tuesday night from the Taku forts to replace the Indian guards on the disputed land, are explained as due to a fear lest any incident arising out of the Russo-British land question should cause the French troops, whose conduct has given much trouble, to precipitate a collision. The British commanders desire to have enough troops in Tien-tsin to preserve order in the streets.

General Bailloud left here yesterday morning to inquire into the conduct of the French troops at Tien-tsin.

At a conference of the foreign ministers general matters only were discussed, and no conclusions were arrived at.

Waldersee's Arbitration Refused.

LONDON, March 21.—"General Wogack has refused to accept Count von Waldersee's arbitration at Tien-tsin," says the Peking correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring yesterday, "and demands that the British not only withdraw, but apologize for removing the Russian flag. General Barrow refuses to do either and in so refusing has the support of the British government. British re-enforcemens are being sent."

Great Amount of Smuggling.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Collector of Customs Bidwell of New York was in the city yesterday conferring with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding regarding the reorganized conditions at the New York custom house. He brought figures to show that the duties collected from passengers on four steamers arriving last Thursday, Friday and Saturday were $22,000 greater than from passengers aboard steamers of the same lines on corresponding days last year. The extent of the smuggling disclosed by the new system in New York has almost dumfounded the treasury officials, and steps are being taken to apply the New York system as far as practicable to other ports of entry.

Married and Died.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—A private cablegram received here from Brussels announces the marriage and death Tuesday in that city of Ursula Rose Boudinot, daughter of the late Elias Lewis and Elizabeth Coleman Hall Boudinot of this city. The cablegram stated that Miss Boudinot had been married to Henry Gacharsin-Lafite of Paris and had died suddenly a few hours later. The Boudinot family is prominent in society here and abroad.

A Newspaper For Porto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 21.—Senor Abnil, editor of La Democracia, has left for New York to purchase a plant with which to start the new paper of the Federal party. Senor Munez Rivera, who will sail May 1, will edit the paper, the object of which will be to create among Americans a more intelligent interest in Porto Rican affairs.

Mines to Run Ten Hours.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 21.—Notices were posted by the Delaware and Hudson company notifying the employees that beginning today all the mines would work ten hours a day. The other big companies are expected to post similar orders. The miners think this is a move upon the part of the mine owners to stock up in anticipation of a strike.

Shirt Waist Man In Trouble.

BOSTON, March 21.—L. V. R. Adams, who claims to be the original shirt waist man and who, the police say, is an adroit swindler, known all over the eastern states, was held in $4,000 on a forgery charge and in $200 for alleged larceny. The details of his alleged operations in Boston will come before the next grand jury.

Callahan's Trial Postponed.

OMAHA, March 21.—On motion of the county attorney the trial of James Callahan in connection with the abduction of Edward Cudahy, Jr., which was set for yesterday, was postponed until April 1.

Landslide Wrecks Railway Station.

CARRARA, Italy, March 21.—Owing to the effects of the heavy rains in one of the famous marble quarries here, a landslide of 2,000 cubic yards occurred, destroying the railway station.

Meat For the Army.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Contracts for furnishing the United States army with nearly 1,000,000 pounds of meat for use in the Philippines have been awarded to Chicago packers.

BOER CAPTIVES SHOT.

Kitchener Orders Executions For Treason and Murder.

LONDON, March 21.—A dispatch from Cape Town says that P. Minaber, S. Minaber and J. A. Neuwoudt have been shot at De Aar for treason and murder, in pursuance of the sentence of a court martial. The death sentence was passed a week ago, in connection with the wrecking of a train near Taasbosch, by which five men were killed General Kitchener confirmed the verdict The garrison was paraded, and the prisoners were led out at sunset. Death was instantaneous. A Dutch minister and relatives remained with the prisoners until the end. Two others concerned in the train wrecking were sentenced to terms of five years' penal servitude.

A dispatch from Cradock, Cape Colony, says that Colonel Gorringe's force engaged Kritzinger's force of Boers on March 15. The latter lost nine men killed and had seven men wounded. The British loss was one man killed, and ten men were wounded.

Sulphur Treated Fruit Not Wanted

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The state department is in receipt of a communication from Consul General Guenther, at Frankfort, Germany, stating that under the German law dried fruits which have been treated with sulphur are considered injurious to health and are subject to confiscation. In several cities this actually has taken place. The consul general also says that two reports of the chemical technical and hygienic institute of Frankfort have been shown him relative to samples of dried California apricots, one of which samples showed that it contained 0.03376 per cent of sulphurous acid and the other 0.182 per cent. These samples were not shipped direct from California, but were procured from middlemen. If the authorities become aware of the use of sulphur, says the consul general, not only the fruit will be confiscated, but the dealers, rather than get into trouble with the German authorities, will discontinue the trade.

Mother Drowned Her Daughter.

MILFORD, N. H., March 21.—While mentally deranged Mrs. William H. Wilkins drowned her 11-year-old daughter Maud yesterday afternoon in the Souhegan river. She left her home with the girl, walked to East Milford, about a mile distant, passed through the Riverside cemetery and went to the bank of the river, where she committed the deed. Mrs. Wilkins then crossed the river, proceeded to the house of Edward Nichols and told him what she had done. Mr. Nichols drove to Milford and notified Chief of Police Dodge, who, with others, recovered the child's body, it having floated down the river and lodged against the piers of the railroad bridge. Mrs. Wilkins was brought to her home in a state of collapse.

Noted Wall Street Operator Dead.

NEW YORK, March 21.—John Pondir, for 25 years one of Wall street's most picturesque figures and one of the most influential and prominent operators in the "street," is dead at his residence in this city. He had been in feeble health for several years. Mr. Pondir prior to 1885 was one of the most conspicuous figures in Wall street. As broker for Trenor W. Park and engaged with Jay Gould in the affairs of the Union Pacific railroad he made his presence felt in the "street" when he became a member of the Stock Exchange on his arrival here from California. Mr. Pondir was one of the "forty-niners" and was also instrumental in launching the Sutro tunnel scheme.

Murder Confessed.

CHESTER, Pa., March 21.—Joseph Brown, colored, who is serving a 27 years' sentence for being connected with the murder of Mrs. Ann Leonard and the murderous assault upon her husband, has confessed that he beat the aged woman to death. When Brown was placed on trial, he accused Minus Delaney, a companion, with the crime, but the latter was acquitted. Brown confessed to Chief of Police Leary in jail. He said he and Delaney intended to rob the Leonard hen roost. The old couple came out, and he killed the aged woman.

Wrestling Match Arranged.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Nouroulah, the Turk, and Tom Jenkins of Cleveland have been matched to contest in a wrestling match at Madison Square Garden on the night of May 7 next. Martin Julien represented the Turk, while George V. Tuohey acted for Jenkins in making arrangements. It was decided that the contest shall be decided on two out of three falls, pin falls only to count and all holds to go. Charley White was agreed upon by both sides as referee. The style of wrestling was not decided.

A NEW PROVINCE.

Taft Commission at Work In Panay Welcomed by the People.

ILOILO, Island of Panay, March 21.—Negotiations are being made for the surrender to the American authorities of the insurgent leader Fullon, in the interior of the island.

The Philippine commission was welcomed on its arrival here by General Hughes and his staff, and cadres were duly organized by the Federalists and a gathering of citizens.

The Iloilo province is prepared for organization, and the other provinces, it is believed, will be ready by the time the commission returns from the south. Panay is nearly pacified.

The commission then formally examined the position of Panay. The members will proceed to Negros, where they will remain three days.

The islands of Masbate, Ticao and Burias, with a population of 40,000, have been constituted the province of Masbate.

Masbate island has been impoverished by the rinderpest, which has killed the cattle, the raising of which is almost the sole industry of the inhabitants. The people welcome the idea of civil government and promise to extend their timber and agricultural operations.

For reasons of economy the commission has decided upon no salaries for the provisional officials. Senor Serrano, a native, has been appointed governor of the province, George Landers, a New York soldier, supervisor and Lieutenant Snyder of the Twenty-seventh infantry treasurer. The duties of the fiscal of Romblon will be extended to the Masbate province. Arrangements have been made for the establishment of schools, of which there has heretofore been practically none in the province.

The Ladrones are the only insurrectionists remaining in Masbate.

Claims to Be Jesus Christ.

BOSTON, March 21.—Dr. Theodore Nicolesco, son of General Nicolesco of Bucharest, Roumania, is now at the insane asylum in Worcester. Nicolesco created a slight sensation at Trinity church last Sunday after the afternoon service by insisting upon seeing Dr. Donald and claiming to be Jesus Christ. The man was followed, detained, examined by medical experts, declared insane and sent to the state institution. Dr. Nicolesco is only 26 years of age, highly talented, of good birth, breeding and education, withal a genius. His father is a high official of the royal household. Young Nicolesco came to this country about three years ago and until the last eight months has been traveling through the United States and Mexico. When the money he brought with him gave out, he supported himself by working as a draftsman. He has the cards and autographs of President McKinley, President Diaz of Mexico, Hon. John Sherman, General Miles, Assistant Adjutant General Wagner and Mayor Zugenheime of St. Louis. When his religious delusion first developed is unknown.

American League Schedule.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—The schedule meeting of the American League of Baseball Clubs was held here last night. Most of the magnates arrived shortly after noon, but President Ban Johnson was delayed by a wreck on the railroad and did not reach this city until 5 o'clock. The only business of importance transacted was the consideration of the schedule as arranged by President Johnson. The schedule was not adopted in full, but the games for the opening day, Memorial day and Fourth of July were agreed upon.

Harvard Law School Additions.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 21.—Work is to be begun at once on two large wings which are to be added to the Harvard Law school building. One wing will contain a stockroom for 300,000 volumes. The other will have a reading room on the top floor, with lecture rooms and rooms for the professors on the two lower floors. The reading room will have 8,400 square feet of space and will be one of the largest and finest in the country.

The Fosburgh Murder.

PROVIDENCE, March 21.—Robert S. Fosburgh and Detective Sherman visited the state prison yesterday and saw William, alias "Tug," McCaughey. The latter repeated his story to the effect that he heard Patterson and Bly talking over the killing of May Fosburgh and again asserted that Bly and Quinn did the killing. Nothing else of any value was obtained from the prisoner.

Election Returns In Three Minutes.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 21.—Complete returns of the election Tuesday at Lestershire were given in three minutes by a voting machine used in the village election for the first time. The proposition to bond the village for $16,000 for constructing a reservoir was carried by a majority of 80 votes.

Dual Courts For New Hampshire.

CONCORD, N. H., March 21.—Governor Jordan has signed the bill to establish a dual court system in New Hampshire. The act takes effect April 9. The governor is to appoint five judges for the trial court and the same number for the law court, but he states that he cannot say when he will name them.

Olympia to Be Ready June 1.

BOSTON, March 21.—The Olympia Admiral Dewey's flagship, was placed in the drydock yesterday to be scraped and painted below the water line. The government is spending about $500,000 on her for alterations between decks and routine repairs. She should be ready for sea about June 1.

Henderson Will Re-enlist.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 21.—Private Henderson, who participated in the engagement in which General Lawton was killed in the Philippines and who had his horse shot under him, has just returned home here. He announces his intention of re-enlisting for the Philippine service.

Editors to Meet In Buffalo.

ALBANY, March 21.—The executive committee of the New York State Editorial association met in this city and decided to hold the next annual meeting of the association at Buffalo June 10 to 14, when the National Editorial association will also meet in that city.

Oil Found In West Virginia.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 21.—The first discovery of oil in the southern portion of this state has been made in a 300 barrel oil well drilled at Milton, in this county.

ODELL DEFIES PLATT

Will Not Sign Senator's Police Bill.

GOVERNOR NOT TO BE TRIFLED WITH

What Effect the Announcement Will Have Remains to Be Seen—Canal Men Confer, but No Plan Decided Upon.

ALBANY, March 21.—Governor Odell has positively and formally declined to sign any police bill, has repudiated the new bill drawn by Senator Platt and his friends and said last night that if the bill came to him he would veto it, even if it was made plain that it would be passed over his veto.

Frank Platt, son of Senator Thomas C. Platt, arrived here last night with the newly prepared bill. It provides for the re-enactment of the metropolitan police bill of 1857, but including some territory contiguous to New York city.

It also provides that without disturbing the present conditions in New York city the governor shall appoint a commissioner, the question of whose right to the office shall be carried immediately to the courts and who in the interim shall not interfere with the present police arrangements in New York city. If the bill be declared constitutional, then the state shall at once assume control of the police.

Mr. Platt told the governor that the bill had been decided upon by those representing the organization and that he desired a decision as to the governor's attitude on the measure. His suggestion was that the governor should send in a message suggesting the passage of the measure.

The governor replied that he could not see the reason for such legislation at this time. He had repudiated general legislation in his annual message, and the party had agreed with him. He had signed a New York city police bill, and the party had agreed with him. He added:

"I will not send in a message urging such a bill. If possible, I will remain on friendly terms with Senator Platt, but if such a bill comes to me I will veto it.

"If the legislature cares to take the responsibility of passing the bill over my veto, very well, but I refuse to be a man of clay, and I will not stultify myself."

Then Governor Odell went to the banquet of the Republican Editorial association and made merry.

A conference of state leaders has been called in New York by Senator Platt for Saturday. Governor Odell has positively refused to attend.

A conference in the interests of the canals of the state was held in this city yesterday and will be continued As yet no plan of action has been decided upon as to the position the canal advocates will take on the improvement question. There is a unanimity of opinion that the proposed barge canal should be constructed, but in view of the position which the governor took on the improvement question in his message to the legislature there is indecision as to whether it would not be wise to accept the proposition to complete the work begun under the $9,000,000. There are many of the conferees who are inclined to oppose it if it will defeat the proposed barge canal scheme for all time.

There are present representatives at the conference from New York city and all of the cities along the route of the Erie canal.

Well Known Editor Dead.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Rev. Arthur Edwards, D. D., editor of The Northwestern Christian Advocate and widely known in Methodist Episcopal church circles, died last night at his residence in this city, aged 66 years. Dr. Edwards was born in Norwalk, O., and was graduated from the Wesleyan university of that state, soon after entering the Detroit conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. At the outbreak of the civil war he went to the front as a chaplain, but resigned after the battle of Gettysburg to become colonel of a cavalry regiment. In 1864 he left the army and became assistant editor of The Northwestern Christian Advocate, in which position he continued until 1872, when he became editor in chief. Dr. Edwards was a delegate to the ecumenical conference in London in 1881. The cause of Dr. Edwards' death was heart trouble from which he had been ill for several days.

The Big Race Off.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The representatives of Fire Commissioner John J. Scannell, owner of The Abbot, and Thomas W. Lawson, owner of Boralma, met to arrange the details of the much talked of race between these horses. After ten minutes' consultation William L. Marks, who spoke in behalf of Mr Scannell, and J. J. Roche, Mr. Lawson's manager, agreed that they could only disagree, and the race is off. The difference arose as to the number of heats to be trotted. Mr. Scannell wanted three in five to constitute victory, while Mr. Lawson stood out for four in seven.

New Jersey Legislature.

TRENTON, March 21.—The house yesterday afternoon passed the bill which the governor submitted with his special message calling attention to the existence of gambling in the state. The bill passed 49 to 1. The single negative vote was cast by Mr. Abbott (Dem., Hudson) who said that the bill centralized power and practically made the governor chief of police of the state. The duty of suppressing gambling, he said, rested with the prosecutors in the different counties, and if they did not perform their duties they should be removed and others put in their places.

Pork Takes a Jump.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Pork for May delivery was sold at $16.90 a barrel on the board of trade yesterday, or 42 cents higher than the price for which it sold Tuesday. Shorts were bidding for it all through the session, but holders seemed not at all anxious to sell, only small lots being offered now and then when the price became tempting. The anxiety of shorts was owing to the fear of a possible "squeeze." Armour & Co is said to be in a position to manipulate the market.

To Protect Rhine Scenery.

BERLIN, March 21.—The Prussian diet has adopted a resolution calling upon the government to prepare a bill directed against disfiguring signboards along the Rhine and at all other picturesque points in Prussia.

News of the Sports.

Spring is at hand and the baseball enthusiast is already beginning to gossip about the probabilities of the national game in town. The golfer has taken a few preliminary swings to limber up for the opening of the season. All branches of outdoor athletics have taken a boom and there is a renewed interest among the people of Plainfield in the gossip of the various summer sports.

As in past years, The Daily Press will this season devote much space to news of the diamond, golf links, tennis court and track. Full returns of of all local games will be published and any items of interest, regarding local teams will be gladly published in these columns. The Daily Press is particularly anxious to keep fully in touch with the various baseball nines which will be organized here this season and the officers of these teams should keep The Press reporters fully acquainted with their plans.

Scholastic sport promises to take an important part this spring and the gossip of the school boys on diamond and track will be given to The Press readers fairly and promptly. In another page will be found an account of the Plainfield High School baseball team and articles of the same nature will appear in these columns at frequent intervals.

Nobody doubts the necessity of great care in looking after the city's milk supply and the Board of Health should give that subject careful attention. It does seem, however, as if the members of that board might spare a few moments some day in the near future and examine the present condition of Green brook, as viewed from the new bridge, which connects Madison avenue and Duer street. Thousands of people will cross that bridge this summer and it will not add to Plainfield's reputation as a beautiful city if they view it as it now is with the bed of the stream littered with rubbish and delapidated old sheds on its banks. A little attention by the proper authorities would work wonders there.

The defeat of the women at the school meeting in Cranford was rather a surprise to many as it was supposed that the factional differences among their sterner rivals would so split up the votes of the men that they would not be able to win. As it was, the two women, who were candidates for positions on the Board of Education at Cranford, were beaten by a few votes. How successful the women would have been in those official positions, it is impossible to say, but the general impression is that they ought to be well qualified to look after the interests of the children as well as the men. Judging from the result, the people of Cranford do not seem to view the situation in that light.

In another column an interview with John B. Dumont, president of the Common Council, is published. While Mr. Dumont was not able to be at the last Council meeting, he was thoroughly in sympathy with the action of the majority in passing the ordinance providing for the changes at the sewage disposal beds, on first reading. Mr. Dumont will undoubtedly vote for the measure if he is present when it comes up for final consideration.

The advertising manager (Arthur D. Ferris) for the house of W. O. Loftus & Co., of New York, said to a representative of Printers' Ink: "It is our intention to use the daily newspapers extensively and almost exclusively this year—every day, with double space on Sundays. We prefer the morning newspapers, which carry decidely more weight than others and are kept longer. We spend not less than $25,000 a year for our advertising."

One of Plainfield's oldest merchants, Seeley Edsall, has permanently ended his business career. Mr. Edsall has done much toward giving the people of Plainfield a high class of stores so that they may gratify all their wishes without making a trip to New York necessary. Plainfield is equipped as few suburban cities are with business establishments of remarkable excellence.

South River is even in a worse predicament than Fanwood. At South River there are two mayors and each refuses to give way to the other. There are also two Councils and the people of that borough are having no end of excitement in trying to straighten out their troubles and get the municipal government in unit form once more.

Every citizen of the borough should give careful attention to the annual report of S. St. John McCutchen, president of the North Plainfield Board of Education, which was published in full in The Daily Press yesterday. There were some facts in it which were well worthy of careful consideration.

James R. Joy, the new member of the North Plainfield Board of Education, is eminently fitted to fill the position. Mr. Joy is not a politician in any sense of the word and will undoubtedly fulfill his duties looking only to the welfare of the borough and its citizens.

Local lovers of basket ball will be glad to see the change of policy which will result in a continuation of basket ball games at Fanwood for another month.

The heavy sentence given to the two men who broke into Reedy's house at Lincoln will be a salutory lesson to criminals of that stamp.

Charles P. Sebring has again demonstrated that he is still an important factor in the political affairs of North Plainfield township.

So far the Elizabeth Daily Journal has had very little to say regarding its prospective Democratic rival at the county seat.

PERSONAL.

Wm. Bradley, of North avenue, entertained relatives from Brooklyn yesterday.

Miss Lou Daly, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Miss Mary Daly, of Manning avenue.

Miss Hattie Johnson, of Elizabeth, is visiting her aunt Mrs. J. E. Bailey, of Watchung avenue.

Miss Edna Bowers, of Basking Ridge, is the guest of Miss Bessie Martin, of Jackson avenue.

William Jukes, of East Second street, expects to leave next week for England to be gone several months.

Mrs. E. M. Dwight, of New York, formerly of Rockview avenue, spent yesterday with Plainfield friends.

J. A. Robinson, of Madison avenue, who has been ill for some time, shows signs of steady improvement.

Mrs. John Clapp, of Mercer avenue, who is spending the winter in New York, visited in Plainfield, yesterday.

The Misses Sarah and Katie Kane, of East Third street, are spending two weeks with their cousins, the Misses Paden, of Brooklyn.

Among the guests registered at Hadden Hall, Atlantic City, the past week were Mr. and Mrs. John Bushnell, of Central avenue.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 21.—When Freeholder P. C. Staats becomes ensconced in his new home on Dunellen avenue, he will, in all probability, have to furnish it with new furniture as that which graced his former residence fared rather badly while it was being transferred Tuesday. It was all on account of the unwillingness of the horse engaged for the hauling to stand still. The animal darted away on Dunellen avenue while the wagon was piled high with household goods. The latter were strewed along the street and what few remained were badly smashed when the vehicle collided with a tree on Jefferson avenue. The runaway came to a halt in front of the freeholder's former home on North avenue. The wagon was badly wrecked but the horse was uninjured.

From all accounts the school election, Tuesday evening, was a most farcical proceeding. There were but fifty-nine voters present which was less than half present last year, and there were nearly as many names mentioned in the ballots as there were men in attendance. Ballots were cast, merely in fun, for residents of the borough who never attended a school meeting in their lives and are entirely ignorant of what is required of a member of the Board of Education. From such it may be inferred that the borough citizens are either satisfied with the way school matters have been attended to, or that they are utterly indifferent as to what the board does.

A rapidly moving automobile was the cause, yesterday, of another runaway in the borough which resulted more fortunately than the one on the previous day. The new fangled machine proved too much for the usually staid animal, attached to W. H. Coles' delivery wagon. The result was that it bolted at Gallaghers' corner, throwing the driver, Robert Johnson, to the ground with great force, bruising him badly. The horse continued into the borough despite all efforts to stop it and was captured in front of Mr. Cole's office by the owner.

Among some of the well known artists who will appear at the entertainment in the Methodist church tomorrow evening will be Miss Mary A. Luckey, elocutionist, and W. C. Townsend, mandolin soloist. Another feature will be the "Sunbonnet Drill."

Postmaster Adam Dealaman, who has been confined to his home for the past few days by illness, is greatly improved. An operation was performed by Drs. Adams and Endicott, of Plainfield, Tuesday.

George Hoffman and family will remove next week to Plainfield, where they will reside on West Fourth street.

The Spendthrift Bowling Club met on Taylor's alleys last evening and held several practice games.

Mrs. A. F. Sampson spent yesterday in New York.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, March 21.—Mrs. Bray, of Brooklyn, has returned to her home after a short visit with relatives at this place. Next month she expects to start for England to visit her old home and various relatives residing in that country.

A number of "suckers" have been caught in the New Market pond during the last week. Clarence Sofield seems to be the most successful angler in this locality.

Phillip Jenner, who has been confined to the house by an attack of grip and rheumatism, is again able to be about.

Mrs. Samuel Giles has sold her place to Mr. Fritch, of Elizabeth. The new owner will take possession April 1.

The Friendship circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Wm. Dunham, on Wednesday, March 27.

J. E. Meeker, of this place, is working upon a contract job in New Brunswick.

W. J. Davis is confined to his home with rheumatism.

PLAINFIELD AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 21.—Rev. G. M. Shott, pastor of the Baptist church, who conducted the funeral services of the late Stites Parse, yesterday afternoon, was assisted by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Plainfield, and Rev. Dr. Parks, of this place. Dr Schenck offered prayer, and Dr. Parks made a few remarks concerning the long life of the deceased. Mr. Shott also spoke concerning the departed. During the service Elmer E Runyon sang a favorite selection.

The prospects for summer residents are excellent. The local real estate dealers report that many inquires are being made by city folks concerning houses and as soon as the pleasant weather arrives a number of new families will probably come to town.

William Buckley, who is confined to his home with pneumonia, is somewhat better. The attending physician, Dr. Westcott, finds that one lung is slightly inflamed, but he believes that with careful nursing the disease will be overcome in a short time.

There will be a meeting of the Township Committee Saturday evening, at which time an organization for the coming year will be effected. It is not expected that much change will be made from last year's organization.

John Marsh, who lost $400 a short time ago, has about given up all hope of ever getting his money back again. He received the money in Plainfield, but he does not know whether he lost the money there or on the way home.

City Judge Wm. N. Runyon, of Plainfield, has agreed to attend the special services at the Methodist church this week and assist in the work by singing several solos. He will also speak.

The special services were continued last evening at the Methodist church by Rev. Mr. Bright. Several persons signified a desire to live Christian lives by going up to the altar.

E. L. Hand and "Tony" Alberts spent yesterday at "Great Swamp," near Stirling, where they went in search of ducks. They had good luck.

A number of local fishermen spent yesterday at Seely's Mills fishing for suckers. Every fisherman was well rewarded for the time spent.

"Mine Host" Anderson has been entertaining a few friends from New York for several days.

Miss Ethel Kyte, who has been seriously ill, is reported as slightly improved.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, March 21—Miss Mabel Smith was tendered a surprise party upon the occasion of her thirteenth birthday. The guests met at the home of the Misses Lettie and Josie Randolph, who arranged the affair which took place Tuesday evening. Miss Smith was the recipient of many valued presents.

Jesse Dayton and family are to move April 1 to a farm near Oak Tree. Mr. Green, their landlord, has sold the property, and it is rumored that a large factory is soon to be built on the premises.

The women of the Baptist church are making preliminary plans for an egg social to be held during Easter week.

Mrs. R. B. Manning is confined to the house by illness. Dr. Fritts, of Plainfield, is in attendence.

W. FitzRandolph and Dr. Whitford were re elected to the Piscataway Board of Education.

Richard Elliot is still confined to his bed by an attack of nervous prostration.

Albert Manning has contracted to build a barn for Peter J. McDonough.

Chas. Maltby, of Plainfield avenue, is the owner of a new runabout.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Cake Sale.

Mrs. Alfred Giddis' Sunday school class of Grace M. E. church will hold a cake sale Saturday at J. A. Smith & Bro.'s store.

Sermon By Dean O'Grady.

Dean O'Grady, of New Brunswick, preached last evening at the services in St. Joseph's R. C. church.

SENTIMENT IN COURT.

Very Often It Helps Hardened Criminals to Escape the Punishment They Richly Deserve.

"There is nothing more successful in swaying a jury and especially a jury of farmer's, than the proper application of sentiment," said the old lawyer to a Kansas City Star reporter. "I remember when Ralph B. Turner, who was sent up from Kansas City for larceny, was tried in Topeka. Turner defended himself. He did the same in the trial of which I was thinking, and after all the testimony was in, and it was damaging evidence, too, Turner made his plea.

"'Gentlemen,' he said, 'it is impossible that I could have committed that crime. Gentlemen, my old father lies buried on the hills of New Hampshire, and many years ago, when that godly old man was on his deathbed, he put his hand on my head and said: 'My boy, you have always been my stay and my comfort, never do anything to disgrace your old father's name.' And the prisoner's voice was choking, but he continued: 'And it was not many years ago that my saintly old mother laid her head down to rest. I was called in sorrow to her bedside, and there in the presence of the Awful and Unknown my mother took my hand in hers, which already was growing cold, and whispered: "My boy, as you pass through this life, with all its failures and temptations, remember that your old mother is watching you." Gentlemen of the jury, I could not commit a crime.'

"Turner was quite overcome with his emotions. But back in the courtroom was his brother-in-law, and he turned to me and said with a smile:

"'Did you hear that fellow? Why, his father and mother are both living.'

"But the jury turned him loose."

The old lawyer told another story in which the sentiment game was made a little too strong.

"A young man," he said, "was on trial for murder in the first degree. He was charged with killing his father and mother, and the proof was conclusive against him. The jury returned with a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was called before the court to be sentenced, and, as is the custom, the judge asked:

"'If you have any reason why sentence should not be passed upon you, you may give it now.'

"'I haven't any, judge,' said the prisoner, 'excepting that I think you ought to have pity on a poor orphan.'"

BOY SHOT BY RABBIT.

Peculiar Hunting Incident Which Has Caused Wonder and Excitement in West Virginia.

"Br'er Rabbit" has been outdone in real life. Near Parkersburg, W. Va., the other day a rabbit of the cottontail variety fired a load of No. 8 shot into the leg of a 14-year-old boy and cut for tall timber before any other member of the hunting party could take aim.

Peter Frees and his son Louis, together with Chris Reich, had gone out rabbit shooting. The dog chased one of the little creatures into a brush pile and the excited boy rushed up, laying his gun on the ground and taking up a stick with which to punch the rabbit out. The weapon was cocked, and when bunny ran out in an unexpected place his hind foot struck the trigger of the gun, sending the charge of shot into Louis' leg. In the excitement both the father and Reich forgot to fire and the rabbit family in that section of country has a real hero.

England's Queer Libel Law.

There are some remarkable peculiarities about the libel laws of England. If you call a man a thief and cannot prove your assertion, you are responsible for damages. But if you ornament the objectionable noun with an illustrative adjective, such as a "durned" thief, or a "blooming" thief, or a "grasping" rogue, the addition of the descriptive word shows that you have lost your temper, and you are not legally actionable.

DECIDED DAMAGE WAS DONE.

SETTLEMENT BETWEEN R. H. DEPEW AND S. D. DRAKE.

Board of Arbitration Heard Evidence as to Alleged Damage—By Cutting Down Lawn and Sidewalk

Eight hundred dollars damages was the award in favor of Henry Depew and against the S. D. Drake Realty Company made by a board of arbitrators yesterday after a trial lasting half a day. The arbitrators were Martin I. Cooley, J. Hervey Doane and J Augustus Smith.

The question in dispute was whether the company had damaged Mr Depew's lot, situated on the corner of Hillside and Evergreen avenues, by cutting down the sidewalk and the part of the lawn and destroying a tree, and, if so, to what extent.

The company admitted the cutting, he claimed to have legal authority for lowering the sidewalk, and that the lot was improved by having the front of it sloped off as had been done. Evidence was submitted on both sides and the arbitrators personally viewed the premises.

S. B. Drake conducted the defense for the Real Estate Company, and convinced those present that he had decided gifts as a cross examiner and in summing up. Craig A. Marsh was counsel for Mr. Depew, to whom the award is required to be paid by May 20.

Miss Landregan's Funeral.

Although having no relatives, Miss Bridget Landregan had numerous friends who nearly filled St. Mary's church this morning when funeral services were held over her remains. A solemn high mass was chanted by Rev. Father Smyth, for the repose of her soul. The pall bearers were Patrick Muldoon, Patrick Whalen, Richard Lorton, Bernard Brady, Patrick Waters and Patrick Moran. Interment was made at St. Mary's cemetery.

Annual Appropriations.

It is expected that the annual appropriations will be made at the April meeting of the Common Council. The various committees have about completed their estimates to be submitted to the finance committee.

E. E. Anthony, of West Front street, has returned from a business trip to Boston.

Sydney R. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, returned this morning from Alfred University.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Das Ergebniß der im Oktober vorigen Jahres abgehaltenen Lehrer-Anstellungsprüfung für die Pfalz ist neulich bekannt geworden. An der Prüfung hatten sich 69 Expektanten und 23 Expektantinnen betheiligt. Drei Expektanten waren im Laufe der Prüfung zurückgetreten. Bestanden hatten 64 Expektanten und sämmtliche Expektantinnen. Zwei Expektanten hatten die Prüfung nicht bestanden.

Neustadt. Der Ausschuß des Pfälzischen Sängerbundes wurde einstimmig wiedergewählt. Er besteht aus den Herren: Professor Dr. Hammerschmid, Vorstand; Musikdirektor Schefler, erster Dirigent; Lehrer Rieger, zweiter Dirigent; Architekt Jester, Schriftführer; Hauptlehrer Betsch, Bibliothekar; Zahlmeister Frank, Schatzmeister; Kaufmann A. Gerard, Tafelmeister. Das pfälzische Sängerfest wird in den ersten Tagen des August in Neustadt stattfinden.

Schifferstadt. In der hiesigen Eisenbahnstation war der Bahnverwalter Gerlach von einem Personenzuge überfahren und getödtet worden. Als die Schwester Gerlachs die telegraphische Nachricht von dessen Tode erhielt, traf sie ein Herzschlag, der sie tödtete.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Im Jahre 1900 betrug bei den württembergischen Sparkassen der Ueberschuß der Einlagen über die Zurückziehungen im Ganzen 12,466,406 Mark, gegen 11,092,917 Mark im Vorjahre.—Die Kastenfächer für abzuholende Briefe (letter boxes), die jetzt bei der Reichspost eingeführt werden sollen, bestehen auf dem hiesigen Hauptpostamt schon seit 20 Jahren.

Altensteig. Dahier sprang der geistesgestörte Müller Ehnis in das Räderwerk seiner Mühle und wurde als gräßlich verstümmelte Leiche nach stundenlanger Arbeit herausgezogen. Ehnis sollte in's Irrenhaus überführt werden.

Göppingen. Die Gelatinefabrik der Gebrüder Köpf, eines der größten Unternehmen dieser Art, brannte bis auf den Grund nieder. Die Feuerwehr mußte sich darauf beschränken, eine benachbarte Papierfabrik zu schützen. Der Verlust des Waarenmagazins beträgt über 800,000 Mark, der Gesammtschaden wird auf annähernd 2,000,000 Mark geschätzt. Die Ursache des Brandes, der in den Lagerräumen ausbrach, wird auf Warmlaufen der Transmission zurückgeführt.

Heilbronn. Bei der Bürgerausschußwahl hatte Oberbürgermeister Hegelmaier die auf den Kandidaten Weingärtner Karl Drautz gefallenen Stimmen für ungiltig erklärt, weil es hier verschiedene Träger dieses Namens gibt und die nähere Bezeichnung nicht angegeben war. Obwohl nun nirgends ein Zweifel darüber bestehen konnte, welcher Drautz gemeint sei, hat doch das Oberamt die Einsprache, die Rechtsanwalt Rosengart im Auftrag der demokratischen und sozialdemokratischen Partei gegen die Ungiltigkeit erhob, verworfen. Die Angelegenheit wurde nunmehr vor das Ministerium gebracht.

Krailsheim. Im Gemeindewalde zu Roßfeld wurde der Einwohner Helmrich beim Baumfällen von einem Stamm so unglücklich getroffen, daß er an den Folgen der erlittenen Verletzungen verstarb.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Der flüchtige frühere Waagmeister Johann Greiner von der Eisenbahnhauptwerkstätte, der eine Wagenladung Kupfer im Werthe von circa 12,000 Mark unterschlagen und verkauft hatte, wurde in Baden in der Schweiz verhaftet.

Baden-Baden. Orkanartige Stürme knickten im Gemeindewald Altschweier Holz im Werthe von 70,000 bis 80,000 Mark um, und in den Waldungen der hiesigen Stadt ist der Schaden ein noch größerer. In dem Orte Bühl riß der Sturm das Steighaus der Feuerwehr zusammen. Auch der von Touristen viel besuchte Aussichtsthurm auf dem Käferwaldkopf bei Kappelrodeck im Acherthal ist dem Sturm zum Opfer gefallen. Derselbe liegt total zertrümmert auf der Bergeshöhe.

Heidelberg. Hierorts ist der berühmte Historiker Professor Bernhard Erdmannsdörffer im Alter von 68 Jahren aus dem Leben geschieden.

Schwetzingen. Beim Hantiren mit einem Revolver hatte der 13jährige Sohn des Bierverlegers Uelzhöfer sein dreijähriges Brüderchen schwer verletzt. Aus Furcht vor Strafe erschoß sich darauf der Knabe.

Weicher. Dahier erschoß der Landwirth Robert Schmidt aus Eifersucht den Landwirth Michael Bellm. Der Thäter wurde verhaftet.

A gentleman living on Vermont avenue, in Atlantic City, N. J., relates the interesting though somewhat painful case of a young man who is clerk in a ladies' suit department in that city. "The young man lived with me," the gentleman explains, "and for years he suffered from indigestion. After trying many co-called cures for this trouble, none seemed to help him and he was almost discouraged. I read of Ripans Tabules, and he concluded, as a last hope, to give them a trial; and you ought to see the good the Tabules have done him. Previous to taking them he could scarcely eat anything. Now he eats like a laborer. Before, he did not sleep. He now sleeps like a top. We had quite a number of people staying with us this summer, and when any complained of feeling out of sorts I merely gave them a Tabule, and they all use them now and speak highly of them. I am pleased with the 48-cent package, which will enable me to be more liberal in supplying the family with them."

FASHION ITEMS.

Hints Regarding the Detail of the Fashionable Toilet.

Old fashioned scarfs of black lace may now be utilized by adding all around the edge a plaiting of mousseline de soie, headed and bordered by a tiny ruche of mousseline de soie.

Sleeves remain always tight to the elbow. They may remain also tight to the wrist, terminating in cuffs or in a flare which extends over the hand, or the forearm may be covered by a full puff gathered into a band at the wrist.

The effort to entirely suppress the petticoat has proved, as ever, unavailing, even when the present closely molded skirts were offered as an excuse. The petticoat has been reduced in amplitude, but not abandoned. For the street medium or dark colors are chosen, and black is perhaps most generally useful. Pinked ruffles are abandoned to evening petticoats, as being unserviceable, and corded ruffles or flounces trimmed with velvet bands and galloon are preferred.

HOUSE GOWN.

The cut illustrates a house gown of maize liberty silk. It has a princess foundation, but is loose in front and is draped across to the left side. It is lavishly trimmed with incrustations of cream lace over pink taffeta and has a yoke of lace over pink taffeta. There are half length sleeves of the silk, accordion plaited and trimmed with the applications, and beneath them are long, tight sleeves of lace over pink silk. A little bunch of pink roses fastens the drapery in front. This same idea might be well carried out in crepe de chine. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE TAILOR MADE GOWN.

As Usual, It Occupies an Important Position.

Stitching and stitched straps continue to be the chief ornamentation of tailor made gowns. Sometimes the straps are of cloth, sometimes of silk. The jacket with a very short basque or the bolero is the usual bodice, and as wrap the loose, straight sack is employed, of half or full length. The severity of the ensemble is modified by a pretty neck decoration of velvet, gauze or satin, with long ends.

There are many varieties of cravats and dainty arrangements to go inside the open bolero or bodice. Wide scarfs of mousseline de soie with incrustations of lace are worn. Sometimes the scarf has a deep flounce of lace at the ends, the pattern of the lace being followed by a profusion of tiny ruches of mousseline de soie.

Those little tabs of lace which our ancestors called "barbes" may now be utilized as an application on the ends of satin ribbon, serving as a cravat.

The picture shows a tailor made costume of black cloth. The skirt has a circular flounce, entirely stitched, headed and crossed by wide stitched bands of cloth, the ends being decorated by gold buttons. The bolero is closed in front by stitched tabs and gold buttons and has lines of stitching simulating a corselet. The two pelerine collars and the high collar are heavily stitched, as are the cuffs of the tight plain sleeves. The little guimpe and the belt are of white satin. The hat accompanying this gown is of black straw with flat bands of black velvet and a black velvet chou with a fancy buckle. JUDIC CHOLLET.

BATS OF GREAT SIZE.

In Some Parts of the Philippine Islands They Form a Part of the Poor Man's Diet.

The horrible bat of the islands grows in many cases to the size of the American chicken hawk, and is eaten in some sections of the Philippines. The best classes of natives, however, says the Scientific American, do not eat the bats. The mode of catching the bats is peculiar. The cities, towns and barrios of all the islands of the Philippine group are quite overrun with bats, which fly through the streets in large numbers. They fly slowly and seem incapable of dodging articles in their path. Therefore, the native takes a long pole, puts a sort of combination hooked arrangement at the top and takes position in a street, and with the pole held erect waits for bats to come along and bump into the hooked portion. As the native sees a bat coming he plans to have the hook in its path, and as he moves the pole, so as to bring the hook into contact with the head of the bat, the latter usually strikes it with a bang and drops to the earth stunned, when the native proceeds to promptly put the bat to death. After standing in this position for an hour or more, the native has a pile of bats at his feet. These he takes to market the next day and receives about two cents each for them. The bats are eaten only in small part. The wings, head, and, in fact, all but a small portion of each side is thrown to waste.

KATHARINE SCHRATT.

Rumor Has It That the Popular Vienna Actress Is to Marry Emperor Francis Joseph.

Telegrams from Paris and Vienna assert that Emperor Francis Joseph will soon abdicate in favor of Archduke Ferdinand in order to marry Mme. Katharine Schratt, the actress. It is said that Mme. Schratt has obtained from the pope a promise to dissolve her marriage with Baron Kisch, which will leave her free to become the wife of the head of the house of Hapsburg. The former actress on her visit to Rome was accompanied by the sister of Empress Elizabeth. Francis Joseph, it is said, will elevate the actress to the nobility before the marriage. Mme. Schratt for 20 years has been the favorite actress of the imperial family of Austria. She has been upon terms of most intimate association with the emperor, the empress and their relatives, and this friendship has been the occasion of comment and praise. The beautiful comedienne of the Ring theater visited America several years ago, but did not attract widespread attention. She appeared as Cyprienne in the French comedy, "Divorcons."

Drink Plenty of Water.

Hot water quenches thirst in most instances better than cold. Taken regularly at the rate of one glassful half an hour before meals it promotes digestion, and in catarrhal conditions of the stomach it is recommended by physicians. It has also been tried as a remedy for insomnia. Constipation is frequently the result of an inadequate supply of water. One of the reasons people thrive at springs is that besides any medicinal properties the springs may possess, they drink much more water than at home.

Giving Definite Invitations.

That old-time and usually very unsatisfactory invitation, "Come and give us a nice long visit," is no longer comme il faut, the more sensible English fashion for invitations having taken its place. Now one says "come" at such a date "and spend a week," "two weeks" or "a month," as the case may be, thus leaving both hostess and guest to formulate and carry out individual plans. Only exceptional circumstances should induce a guest to prolong her stay beyond the limit originally fixed.

IS THIS SO?

Plainfield People Can Decide.

You would not accept the word of an utter stranger as readily as that o a person whom you knew. The following statement is made by a citizen, perhaps a neighbor. Read it:

Mrs. M. A. Hall, of 219 Prescott place, says: "For several years I had a dull aching pain across my back, at times extending to my hips. I was compelled to lie in just one position all night and stooping, lifting or bending forward aggravated the pains. A kidney weakness which was very distressing and inconvenient also existed, and though I used different remedies that were recommended to me I obtained little if any relief. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly endorsed in our daily papers and procured a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. It was not long before I felt great relief and I was surprised how quickly the pain in my back disappeared."

Oh My Poor Back!

Thousands upon thousands suffer from weak and lame back and do not know the cause. Keep this fact firmly fixed in your mind: When your back begins to ache, your kidneys have become infected with disease, and when your kidneys are affected, your very life may be in immediate danger.

Watch your kidneys; they are the keystone of the arch of health. With good, healthy kidneys you should not know a sick day from any cause, because they are so vital to the general health.

Dr. Holtin's Kidney Tablets are beyond doubt the surest cure for any and all forms of kidney and bladder ailments now before the public. They are made from the private prescription of a physician who thoroughly tested them in his practice, and with them saved hundreds of lives. They are purely vegetable, easy and pleasant to take, and can readily be carried about with you, thereby enabling you to take them at exact intervals—a rule so necessary to be observed in ailments of the bladder and kidneys.

Dr. Holtin's Kidney Tablets are a sure and certain cure for backache, diabetes, gravel Bright's Disease, congestion of the kidneys and inflammation of the bladder. They act quickly and cure speedily, and can be thoroughly relied on in every way. Be sure to remember to get

MODERN CHRISTIAN ART.

It Has Recently Received a Valuable Addition from the Hands of Ezio Ceccarelli.

In 1831 Pope Gregory XVI., a man of artistic tastes and considerable culture, thought it would be well if the public could be induced to take more interest in Christian art as manifested in painting, sculpture and architecture, and with the object of attaining this laudable result he instituted what is known as the "Concorso Gregoriano," or Gregorian competition, which is held at regular intervals, and the specific object of which is to stimulate modern artists to produce works which are more or less based on the doctrines of Christianity. Handsome prizes are awarded to the successful competitors, and to win one of these prizes is regarded as a high honor.

CECCARELLI'S MAGDALEN.
(Sculpture That Took the Gregorian Prize Not Long Ago.)

The subject chosen for the recent competition in sculpture, which was open to Catholic sculptures of all countries, was that scene described in the Gospel of St. John in which Mary Magdalen appears to Christ after He has risen, and is about to approach Him when He stops her with the words: "Touch me not." These two figures were to be reproduced in a piece of sculpture which was not to be more than 70 centimetres high, and a gold medal worth 1,000 lire was to be the reward of the successful sculptor.

This splendid prize was awarded a few days ago to Ezio Ceccarelli, a sculptor of Florence and the author of a statue of Christ which won the prize at the international competition in Turin last year. His new successful work is entitled "Noli Me Tangere" ("Touch Me Not"), and is regarded as one of the finest specimens of sculpture that have been wrought in Italy in modern times.

Mr. Gamble is noted for his scholarship and his liberal views upon questions of national importance.

Ants Dependent on Slaves.

The curious fact has been demonstrated by Sir John Lubbock that certain kinds of ants are unable to exist without keeping other ants as slaves, though why this is so he has not found out. On removing the slaves from a nest of 50 slave-holding ants he found that the latter immediately commenced to die off and were speedily reduced in number to six. When the slaves were returned the mortality ceased.

Young Teachers for Manila.

Fifteen young women in the girls' normal school of Philadelphia have informed Prof. Atkinson, superintendent of education in the Philippines, of their willingness to accept the government's offer to become school-teachers in the islands.

Shorthand Taught to Soldiers.

The French minister of war proposes giving shorthand lessons to soldiers in all the French garrisons.

SPORTING.

GOLF.

According to Paul Wilcox, representing the Golf Club, of Montclair, and president of the New Jersey State Golf Association, there is no likelihood that the golfers will be asked to play over a short course when they assemble at Englewood in June for the annual championship of the association. As it stands now the course measures about 6,400 yards, but Dr. J. A. Wells declares that by putting the tees back the playing distance can be increased to 6,000 yards. Formerly, Englewood had a nine-hole course, but now it is able to present about as difficult a full circuit as can be found anywhere in the State. Part of the links runs along the side of a steep hill and it takes a clever player to adapt himself to the situation, as some of the hanging lies one secures are unusually hard to negotiate.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The fourth class of the Plainfield High School met yesterday and perfected a baseball organization for the coming season, Harold Davis was elected captain and Charles Robert, manager. There are fifteen candidates for positions on the team.

Swedish Lutheran Service.

Norwegians, Danes and Swedes are cordially invited to attend the meeting to be held in the German Lutheran church tomorrow evening at 7:45. This being the first Swedish Lutheran service it is hoped that there will be a large number present. Rev. Mr. Aaron, of Portland, Me., who will lead the meeting, is now being entertained by John Gjetelsen, of East Front street.

Verdict Rendered.

Justice Huff rendered his verdict yesterday in the case of Charles Jensen against Robert Gardner, for the consideration of a promissory note. Judgment was given the plaintiff, who was represented by Francis J. Blatz, for $165.19, which is the full amount and costs.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Dramatic accessions to the vaudeville ranks are of frequent occurence lately and one of the most recent is Sam Edwards, brother of Manager Maze Edwards, who will appear at the big White Rats Carnival, announced for next Tuesday night. Mr. Edwards is a prominent member of the now famous White Rats Association, and has been identified with the Frohman, Belasco and Whitney companies, his latest and best remembered work, being the character of "Nero" in the great production of "Quo Vadis" at the Academy of Music, New York, a month ago. Mr. Edwards will be seen in an original sketch, entitled "The Modern Philosopher," which is said to be unique and pleasing. George Thatcher will have a new subject and happy suprise for his many friends here, and the other members of the great programme will be of unequalled merit. The advertisements and posted bills announce "An aggregation of Vaudeville Stars such as you have never seen before," and from the assurances of the management, an entertainment of super excellence may be anticipated.

Harry Martell's successful production, "South Before the War," will appear at Music Hall Saturday, March 30. It is a novelty and one that has won fame and many dollars for its originators. It is so different from anything of the kind that was ever attempted that its success is not to be wondered at, after it has been seen. The company is composed of some fifty people, including four quartettes, a score of buck and wing dancers, a coterie of cake-walkers and a grand chorus of fifty voices. A grand street parade is a feature of the show.

Imitators in everything that is successful spring up and that is why several houses have followed the example of Messrs. Sire Brothers and reduced the prices of their houses. The fifty cent for the best orchestra seat policy at the New York Theatre, New York city, has made a success of that beautiful theatre and one visit from a stranger has proven the best advertisement possible. The character of the entertainment provided at the New York is equal that given at houses where the prices range from $1 to $2 and people wonder how the New York management do it; the secret is a big house that is always filled to its utmost capacity and that the public know a good thing when they see it. The bill for this week includes the celebrated Propper Troupe of acrobats fresh from the Palace and Alhambra, London, after a two years' run; the patriotic "March of Old Glory," in which 200 young women take part and a company of the Second Providence Regiment scale two high walls and plant the colors on a miniature Morro Castle.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

In 1800 Sweden had a population of 2,350,000, and at the present time, in spite of the large emigration, which has given 1,000,000 people to the United States, the population is 5,450,000.—Chicago Tribune.

A Weak Kind of Force.

Education in Berlin.

Berlin has conceived a novel plan of furthering the right development of children. This provides for an interchange of city and country children. Thus the poorer classes of Berlin, who cannot afford family outings, are enabled to send their children to the country, and in exchange they receive the children from the country home, who thus are provided with the liberal education town life affords. Reciprocal selfish interest in their own prompts considerate treatment of the visiting children in each home. The plan works so successfully the intention now is to extend it, and make it international, establishing an exchange of children between different countries. The question arises in the American mind: Why have homes at all under this system? Turn children over to state institutions, and let the work of modern education merrily proceed without the slightest obstacle which preservation of the family ideal imposes.—Harper's Bazar.

Photographing the Clouds.

Photographing clouds has recently become a recognized branch of practical meteorology. It also affords beautiful pictures for the collections of amateur photographers. The French astronomer, M. Antoniadi, of the Juvisi observatory, who has had much experience in cloud photography, says that all kinds of cameras, large and small, mounted and unmounted, can be employed for the purpose, but considerable practice is required to determine the proper time of exposure. In order to quench the blue of the sky and bring out the contrast between the clouds and their background yellow screens, preferably composed of thin cells containing a chemical solution, are employed. Exposures vary from a small fraction up to one-third of a second.—Scientific American.

Kites and Telephones in War.

In the Monthly Weather Review is given an account of recent experiments at Chicago intended to demonstrate the usefulness of kites in effecting telephone communication between a besieged town and its friends beyond the enemy's lines. The suggested plan is to send up from the town a very large box kite carrying a telephone fastened at the end of a wire running through a pulley. When the kite has attained the desired position, the besieged are supposed to slacken the wire and drop the telephone to the ground, while the kite remains in the air. There are manifestly many practical details not provided for in the scheme as thus outlined, but it is at least an interesting suggestion.

Observant Little Charles.

Charles is a very observing boy. One day one of his mamma's friends came to the house to call. Mamma was out and Charles opened the door.

"Mamma is not at home," he said.

"Will you please give her my card when she comes?" inquired the caller.

"Yeth ma'am," said Charles.

The caller opened her cardcase, and as she withdrew the engraved pasteboard a bit of tissue paper fluttered down onto the steps. Very grandly Charles picked it up and handed it to her, saying:

"You dropped one of your cigarette papers!"—Albany Evening Journal.

Business Methods in Japan.

Japanese business methods are in the less important places of a very go-as-you-please description. At Nagasaki the other day a foreigner, calling at the branch of one of the chief shipping companies, found the whole place deserted. It appeared that, the day being fine, the manager and staff had gone out on a mushroom-hunting expedition. Mushroom-hunting is a pursuit that appeals to every true Japanese.—N. Y. Sun.

Old Weapons in the Vatican.

A dispatch to a London newspaper from Rome says that the pope has ordered that about 150,000 old swords, halberds, spears and battleaxes in the Vatican armory be melted and the iron sold. A furnace for the purpose has been erected in the Vatican gardens. The weapons are useless except as curios, and cost a great deal to keep them polished.—N. Y. Journal.

Beyond the Pale.

"Of course, you quite understand that I shall call upon Mrs. Whiffler for your character," remarked Mrs. Taggetly to the girl she had just engaged.

"Certainly, m'm," replied the girl "although I would rather you didn't for Mrs. Whiffler is so eccentric that she is not always to be relied upon."

"In what way is she eccentric?"

"She insists that her husband is quite a model father and husband, and that her children have never caused her a moment's anxiety."

"H'm, not much in that."

"Then she says that she is perfectly content with one new dress and one new hat each season."

"H'm, she is eccentric, then!"

"And, finally, she has never attended a bargain sale, and says that the only things sold at them are the women who buy!"

"Oh, the woman's mad! I shan't trouble her for your character; you can come in when you like!"—Cassell's Magazine.

Flowers of the Sea.

The sea has flowers as the land has, but the most brilliant of sea flowers bloom not upon plants, but upon animals. The living corals of tropical seas present a display of floral beauty which in richness and vividness of color and variety and grace of form rivals the splendor of a garden of flowers. The resemblance to vegetal blossoms is so complete that some persons find it difficult to believe that the brililant display contains no element of plant life, but is wholly animal in its organization. Among the sea animals which bloom as if they were plants are included, besides corals, the sea-anemone and the sea-cucumber. Dr. C. M. Blackford, Jr., remarks that among the coral gardens the birds and butterflies of the upper world are replaced by fishes of curious forms and flashing colors, which dart about among the animal flowers.—Science.

The Resemblance.

They watched little Eva pass away for the millionth time and then resumed their cooing, much to the disgust of the bald-headed man, who sat behind.

"What beautiful hair the child has!" the girl rattled on.

"Yes," answered the pale young man, "and do you know, dear, your hair reminds me so much of little Eva's."

"Really! You think it does? Why so?" gurgled the girl.

At this juncture the bald-headed man leaned forward.

"Because little Evas dye so many times," he hoarsely whispered.—Indianapolis Sun.

Making Light of Misfortune.

Bishop Tugwell, of England, now on his missionary travels in the Sahara, sends an account of water "too dirty for us to clean it with our bodies. It made excellent coffee, however." Tapleyistic resignation of this sort might be copied by British troops at the front or explorers. "House burnt down by natives in the night. Cheerful blaze and wonderful warmth; thanked them formally in the morning. Slept soundly all night on a prickly pear tree."—Chicago Chronicle.

No Official Utterance Overlooked.

The emperor of Germany is followed wherever he goes by an official shorthand writer, Herr Engel, the chief of the staff of the reichstag. Since 1889 Emperor William has delivered more than 700 speeches and addresses, which have been published in the official gazette. Herr Engel says that the emperor speaks with great rapidity, and often utters 275 syllables a minute, and at high pressure has even reached 300.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Their Taste Goes Wrong.

Even the best judges of tobacco can't always be depended on. Sometimes their taste goes back on them, so to speak, and remains blunted for a week at a stretch. Professional samplers of tobacco take a week off every few months and never look at the weed until they return to duty. In that way they keep in condition.—Chicago Chronicle.

BITTER THINGS SAID ON ASSEMBLY FLOOR.

Stormiest Time of Present Session of Jersey Legislature was Yesterday.

OVER MR. M'CARTER'S BILL.

EXCITING CONTROVERSY BETWEEN SENATOR AND ASSEMBLYMEN.

Lie Was Passed and Much Excitement Followed—Retaliation by Senator M'Carter—Palisades Preservation Bill Passed by House.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 22—The stormiest session that has marked the winter meeting of the New Jersey Legislature was held in the State House last night. A bitter controversy arose between Senator McCarter and the Assemblymen from Hudson county over a bill introduced by the Senator.

It was discovered that in the passage of Mr. McCarter's bill creating the lower Passaic Valley sewering district the constitutional mandate requiring acts of a special character to be advertised beforehand had not been observed. Mr. McCarter introduced a bill to remedy this defect and providing that notice should be published in several of the State papers this morning, it being his intention to have the bill again passed today. This bill finally passed the Senate.

Senator McCarter's bill was reported in the House by Mr. Bacheller, of Essex. It was opposed by Mr. Lewis, who said that it was injustice to Passaic, Essex and Bergen. The Hudson delegation, which had been counted on to assist the measure, swung over to Mr. Lewis, and the bill was defeated by 26 to 22, thus effectively disposing of it for the present session.

Learning of the fate of his bill, Mr. McCarter openly accused the Hudson members of being loafers and of bad faith. Mr. Lewis threatened to have Mr. McCarter put off the floor of the House. The lie was given on both sides, and a scene of confusion ensued. McCarter threatened to prevent the passage of all Hudson county measures in the Senate, and at the same time said he would have the bill providing for an additional fire battalion chief for Jersey City reconsidered, having urged its passage with other measures upon the understanding that the Hudson delegation would support the Passaic bill.

True to his promise, McCarter had the bill reconsidered and referred to the committee of which he is chairman, where it will rest unless he relents. The fight was renewed when Mr. Tennant, of the Hudson delegation, came into the Senate, on the floor of which a bitter altercation ensued between himself and Mr. McCarter. Mr. Tennant was the one member of the Hudson contingent in the House to vote for the Passaic bill, and he disclaimed bad faith on his part. It is said that the action of the Hudson delegation was prompted by a desire to retaliate for the passing of the Newark Plank Road bill.

Senator Hudspeth introduced a joint resolution last night providing for a joint legislative committee of two Senators and two Assemblymen to investigate the charges in the Governor's message that gambling houses are being run without hindrance in several places in the State. The resolution was referred to the judiciary committee.

The House passed the Palisades Preservation bill, for which a conditional appropriation of $50,000 is allowed in the appropriation bill. Both houses were in session until a late hour, and adjourned to this morning.

Mr. McCarter's bill regulating the method of conducting meetings of stockholders of corporations and providing what shall consitute a quorum passed the Senate by a vote of 12 to 3

Planning For New Church.

Rev. Gilbert Harney, the evangelist, has been in New York for the past two days. He will return for the meeting to be held at Reform Hall this evening. There have been plans under way for the formation of a church of the Disciples of Christ in this city, but as yet it is not definitely decided whether such an organization will be formed There are at present about twenty persons willing to unite with such an organization.

MILKMEN'S CERTIFICATES.

Plainfield Board of Health is Now Ready to Issue Them to Those Who Conform With Rules.

The Plainfield Board of Health is now prepared to actively continue its campaign to secure pure milk. According to the provisions of the ordinance passed last year by the board, certificates will be given to such milk dealers as comply with the very strict rules of the board which will ensure perfect protection from infected milk and cream. While the board cannot compell milkmen to obey these rules, they can issue certificates to those who do.

These certificates are now ready and already one milk dealer has agreed to obey the rules and has secured his certificate. Many others will doubtless follow. Applications can be made at the office of the board, 201 Park avenue.

FUNERAL OF MISS SPICER.

HELD FROM THE RESIDENCE ON WEST FIFTH STREET YESTERDAY.

Touching Tributes to Her Memory by Rev. A. E. Main and Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis—Beautiful Flowers.

The funeral services of the late Miss Eleanor E. Spicer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D Spicer, were held yesterday afternoon from the residence of the parents, 125 West Fifth street, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. A. E. Main, of the Seventh Day Baptist church, officiated, and was assisted by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis. Mr. Main read appropriate Scripture selections, after which he spoke concerning her beautiful Christian character.

Dr. Lewis, who had known Miss Spicer during most of her life, followed Mr. Main, and paid a rich and touching tribute to her high Christian character. He spoke of her unselfishness, and how during years of suffering she was always patient and cheerful.

During the services three beautiful selections "Asleep in Jesus," "Lead Kindly Light," and "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy," were sung by Mr. and Mrs. David E. Titsworth, Miss Nan Randolph and Elmer E. Runyon.

The floral tributes were very handsome. The casket was surrounded with palms, white roses and carnations covered the casket. A beautiful picture of Miss Spicer, surounded with smilax, occupied a prominent position.

The interment took place in Hillside Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Dr Frank Clawson, Frank J. Hubbard, Asa Randolph and Orra S. Rogers.

MOCK WEDDING.

Feature of an Entertainment Given by Young People of Calvary Baptist Church.

An enjoyable entertainment was given at the Calvary Baptist church last evening under the auspices of the young people. There was a programme of vocal music and recitations, concluding with a mock wedding.

The first number was a vocal selection by the Martin brothers, followed with a recitation by Miss Alice Cary. Lewis Peterson then sang a popular selection, after which Miss Emma Allen gave a recitation. A vocal solo by Miss Julia Basfield was followed with a recitation by Miss Rosa Ramsey. Another popular vocal selection was given by Walter Peterson. Miss Alice Cary and Miss Alice Boles gave a dialogue. A select recitation by William Stone preceded a vocal solo by Miss Norma Reed.

Following the programme, there was a mock wedding. William Johnson was the groom and Miss Hooper the bride. The other members of the bridal party comprised most of those who took part in the musical and literary programme. The wedding was amusing and was mirth provoking. After the entertainment refreshments were served in the Sunday school room.

Neal Dow Day.

The members of the local W. C. T. U. held an important meeting yesterday in observance of the anniversary of the birth of Neal Dow, the great temperance advocate. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, the president of the union, presided. Extracts from the writings of Mrs. Stevens, president of the Maine W. C. T. U., and also the National President, were read. Next Thursday the members will have an important meeting at which an interesting subject will be discussed.

MUSIC LOVERS HEARD A FINE PROGRAMME.

Annual Orchestral Concert of P. Ludwig Conde Held at Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Night.

HIS PUPILS ASSISTED.

PROGRAMME ALSO INCLUDED SELECTIONS BY PROFESSIONALS.

Was a Delightful Entertainment And Much Enjoyed—One of Conde's Own Selections Played—All Artists Were Well Received.

The annual orchestral concert given under the direction of P. Ludwig Conde last evening in the Y. M. C. A. Hall was a brilliant performance. The large audience showed its appreciation of the entertainment by constantly encoring the performers. The Plainfield pupils of Mr. Conde to the number of sixteen, as well as three more from adjacent towns, assisted in the concert, as did also W. Paulding DeNike, a remarkable 'cellist, from New York.

As an opening number, the orchestra played a new march by John Philip Sousa, entitled "Hail to the Spirit of Liberty," which evoked much applause. The Misses Emma Almer and Edna Scheidt Conde, Masters George Linke and Freddie Conde exhibited the careful training they have received by performing as a violin quartette "Adagio, Prayer from Der Freischuetz," (Weber), and "Allegro," (Pleyel). Both pieces were meritoriously rendered.

One of the choicest features on the programme proved to be a baritone solo sung by Louis Schnepel, entitled "Erl King," (F. Schubert). Mr. Schnepel was aided by Miss Lillian A. Force as accompanist. The audience was so enchanted by their work that after receiving much applause, Mr. Schnepel sang "Could I" as an encore.

Miss Blossom Fitz Randolph and Mr. Conde rendered as a violin duet "Ave Maria" (Gounod Bach) and the "Serenade" (Godard). Vincent Sokol acted as accompanist and the masterly execution of the two selections received a hearty recognition from the audience.

After the entire orchestra played the "Pilgrim Chorus" from "Tannhauser," W. Paulding De Nike, of New York, accompanied by Mr. Sokol, enchanted those present by rendering as 'cello solos "Larghetto" and "Scherzo," by Van Goens.

"Gavotte" from "Mignon," was played by the orchestra with Miss Florence Cahoone as accompanist and met with marked favor.

Miss Virginia Ketcham's violin solo "Legende" (Wieniawski) elicited a storm of applause and she responded with an equally well rendered number, a concert "Mazurka," of Mr. Conde's own composition, which was received with much enthusiasm.

One of the hits of the hits of the evening was a baritone solo by Louis Schnepel entitled "For All Eternity." Mr. Schnepel was again accompanied by Miss Force, and a violin obligato was the assistance lent by Mr. Conde to the vocal solo. Responding to an encore Mr. Schnepel sang Dudley Buck's "Where the Lindens Bloom."

Selections from "Faust" by the entire orchestra served as a fitting climax to the musical entertainment. The pupils taking part in the concert were the Misses Blossom FitzRandolph Elizabeth Cahoone, Katherine Langhorne, Emma Almer and Edna Scheidt Conde, of this city, and Miss Virginia Ketcham, of Westfield, and Miss Mamie Alpaugh, of High Bridge, and Lewis Minford, Richard Minford, Dykman Winckler, Clarence Mills, Wyckham Beekman, Edward Loizeaux, George Linke and Freddie Conde, of this city, and Andrew Weber, of Bound Brook. The special performers were Louis Schnepel, baritone; Miss Virginia Ketcham, violinist; W. Paulding DeNike, 'cellist; Miss Florence Cahoone, Miss Lillian A. Force and Vincent Sokol, accompanists.

The painstaking instruction of Mr. Conde was evident in every number rendered and the pupils' exhibition showed that their master is indeed a musical instructor of the first rank.

In most of the selections Mr. Conde accompanied the performers on his violin and his skillful handling of the instrument was an entertainment in itself. As the orchestral leader, Mr. Conde conducted the performance with great ability. He had perfect control and under his direction the harmony was excellent.

JERSEY CENTRAL FINED.

Sentenced By Judge Schenck to Pay Fine of $250 For Maintaining Nuisance.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, March 22.—Wm. Lupton, the Bound Brook colored man, charged with atrocious assault and battery on Alfred Paniel, was arraigned this morning before Judge Schenck for sentence. His counsel, W. V. Steele, presented a lengthy petition asking the Court to suspend sentence. Judge Schenck sentenced the prisoner to two years and six months at hard labor in State Prison. The Judge said the crime was too serious to permit leniency.

The Jersey Central Railroad Company was also sentenced this morning by Judge Schenck to pay a fine of $250 and abate the nuisance at Middah avenue, where there is a crossing without gates. A. A. Clark, counsel for the company, received the sentence. He stated that the company had given orders that all violations on the part of employes would be dealt with severely.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS.

Annual Meeting of Sunday-school of First Baptist Church Held.

The teachers of the First Baptist church Sunday-school met last evening, elected officers and transacted routine business. The yearly reports of the treasurer and various committees were read and approved.

The report of the committee on revision of the constitution was held over for future consideration. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand amounting to $241.16.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Superintendent, George H. Batchelor; secretary, H. B. Rittenhouse; treasurer, Frank W. Jones, and librarian, B. J. Shreve. The only new member of the board of officers is Mr. Rittenhouse, who fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of John G. McLaughlin.

REFORM CLUB MEETING.

Weekly Meeting and Entertainment at Reform Hall Last Evening.

The regular weekly meeting and entertainment under the auspices of the Reform Club was held last evening in the hall on West Second street There was a very large attendance and a profitable time was spent. E. P. T. Smith, president of the club, occupied the chair, and made a few remarks at the opening of the meeting. There were temperance addresses by W. C. Smith, C. M. Raybert, Mrs. Jones, David Bush, Andrew Wilson and John Goodman, and a pleasing recitation by Beulah VanWinkle. Miss Margaret Sheppard presided at the piano.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Annual Meeting of the King's Foreign Missionary Circle, of Warren Chapel.

The King's Foreign Missionary Circle, of Warren chapel, held its annual meeting in the chapel parlor yesterday afternoon. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Lewis C. Ely; first vice president, Miss M. D. Mair; second vice-president, Miss Hattie Taynor; third vice president, Mrs. H. Thompson; treasurer, Miss M. Gulick; and secretary, Miss M. Randolph. The annual reports of the retiring officers were read and the meeting informally discussed the work of the year.

MASTER MECHANICS MET.

Their Association is Steadily Growing in Strength and Numbers.

A largely attended meeting of the Master Mechanics' Association was held last evening. The committee on by-laws presented its report. A number of applicants were admitted to membership and several were received. A meeting of the arbitration committee will be held Monday evening when the trouble between W. H Brokaw and union workmen will be settled. Another meeting of the association will be held this evening.

Hackmen in Court.

Peter Seader and Michael Kennedy, hackmen at the depot, were arraigned before City Judge Runyon this morning on the familiar charge of soliciting passengers beyond the limits prescribed by the city ordinance. The customary fine of $5, with suspension during good behavior, was imposed on both offenders. They promised to respect the ordinance in the future.

Likely to Be Settled.

Hetfield & Hetfield, representing Mrs. H. C. Drake, caused a distress warrant to be issued this morning to recover rent in arrears due by Antonio Lusardi, on the premises, 126 North avenue. The difficulty will probably be settled amicably.

INCREASE IN MANY LOCAL WATER BILLS.

Official of Plainfield Water Supply Company Explains Why It Was.

NO INCREASE IN RATES.

SIMPLY MADE ALL BILLS CONFORM WITH COMPANY'S RATES.

No Regularity of Changes Was Formerly Observed—Many People Were Very Indignant When They Received Their Bills.

When the bills of the Plainfield Water Supply Company went forth yesterday, they were the cause of much indignation in hundreds of Plainfield homes. The bills showed in many instances, an increase of from five to forty per cent. The consequence was that the office of the company was besieged this morning by those who wanted to know why the rates had been raised.

To a Press reporter this morning an official of the company explained the situation. There had been no increase, he said, in the regular rates of the company. The trouble was, he explained, that owing to certain conditions in the bookkeeping of the office, houses with exactly the same equipment, had been paying entirely different rates. There had been no proper adjustment of the rates for some time and so the company had prepared new bills and sent them out. If there were any changes which should not be made, the company would be very glad to rectify them.

Despite this explanation, there are many citizens who will probably believe that the water rates have been advanced. A copy of the company's rules accompanied every bill and shows the charges for each faucet and connection.

COMPANY K'S ARMORY.

Will Be Located On Top Floor of Smalley Brothers' New Building on North Avenue.

A school of instruction for the officers of Company K was held last evening in the office of Lawyer Robert M. Clark, who is one of the corporals of the company. Lieutenant John E. Wherley and Sergeant Richardson, of Company M, of Somerville, were present and took charge. Several applications for membership were received and will be considered. It is expected that the members will receive their uniforms in about two weeks.

The question of an armory was practically settled. It will be on the top floor of the new building to be erected by Smalley Brothers on North avenue and the floor will be especially constructed for the purpose. It was decided to fix Wednesday night as the time for regular drills. Much enthusiasm is now being manifested by the members and it is the purpose of all that the company shall be among the best in the State.

"THE BOATING PARTY"

A Cantata Given at Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church Last Evening.

"The Boating Party," a cantata, was given at Mt Zion A. M. E church last evening by a chorus of thirty voices, under the auspices of the stewards and stewardesses of the church. There were vocal solos by Miss Jennie Lewis, Miss Hattie Wood, Miss Lulu Lewis and a duet by Miss Fanny Olden and Edward Blair. Several pleasing chorus selections were given, interspersed with recitations by Preston Clay and Pearl Webster.

Those who had charge of the entertainment consisted of Alfred White, William Grobes, Miss Fanny Olden and E. B. Maynard. After the entertainment refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Alletta Maynard, Mrs Henrietta Grobes, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, Mr. Mary Laing, Mrs. Martha Hooper and Mrs. Laura Coles.

Will Reside in New York.

Mrs. Abbie L Fellows, of Westervelt avenue, left yesterday for New York, where she intends to reside in the future. Her son, Townsend Fellows, is a tenor soloist of note in that city.

The writ in a case on contract, brought by John M. Jones against George R Smith, was issued today by Justice Mattison. The summons is returnable Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Secured a Patent.

H. D. Hibbard, one of the owners of the Hibbard Rodman-Ely Safe Co., Works, has secured a patent for toughening manganese steel.

MEETING TONIGHT.

Evangelistic Services at Reform Hall Will Be Resumed By Rev. Mr. Harvey This Evening.

The evangelistic services in Reform Hall, which were suspended last evening on account of the regular meeting of the Reform Club, will be resumed this evening.

The meeting Wednesday evening was especially interesting and the solo "Nearer My God, to Thee," by Miss Mears, was most appropriate and rendered in an excellent and touching manner and added much to the service.

This evening Mr. Harvey will speak on "Christ the King." Miss Mears, professionally known as Miss Mira Marisona, will conduct the singing of the service, besides giving one or two solos These meetings are deepening in interest and an especially interesting and spiritual time is expected this evening. All are cordially invited.

HOW VOLNEY GREEN DIED.

PARTICULARS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED BY LETTER FROM DES MOINES.

Every Possible Effort is Now Being Made to Recover the Body But So Far Without Avail.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Green, of West Sixth street, have received a letter from Col. A. B. Shaw, a professor at the Dr S. S Still College and Infirmary of Osteopathy, at Des Moines, where their son was a student. Prof. Shaw writes concerning the death of Mr. Green by drowning.

He says that Mr. Green received his gun from home last Monday morning and in the afternoon he, accompanied by Mr. Burd, a schoolmate, went to Valley Junction, a surburb of Des Moines, duck hunting. They walked along the bank of the Des Moines river

The young men were separated some distance. Mr. Burd heard a report from Mr. Green's gun, and a little later he started back to where Mr. Green was. He then saw him struggling in the water and going down for the last time. He threw a log to his unfortunate companion, but it was too late. He went down and the rapid current carried him away.

Col. Shaw writes that one hundred and fifty students have been out for many hours searching for the body. Special trains with boats have been sent out and another detail of students are watching the dam, over which the water is running strongly.

The writer also states that a blizzard is now prevailing with a heavy fall of snow. The students build fires along the river bank to keep warm and dynamite has been used through the river in many places. Patrols will be stationed to watch if the body should rise. Fear is expressed that the body may have been caught in the brush or many little trees over which the water runs swiftly. The river is rising constantly owing to the heavy snowfall.

PLAINFIELD DEFEATED.

Trap Shooters From New Brunswick Defeated Them in Return Match.

A return pigeon shoot between New Brunswick and Plainfield teams was held at Campbell's Club House at Avon Park yesterday. The shoot was for fifteen birds per man for the cost of the birds. The Plainfield men were defeated by a score of 67 to 65. The men comprising the teams and the individual scores were: New Brunswick, Captain Bunks 14, Firman Bissett 15, John Belloff 13, James Gladden 14, Thomas Kelly 11; Plainfield, Percy Sandford 12, Harry Campbell 12, John Lindsey 14, Thomas Brantingham 13, William Terry 14.

Funeral of Morris Geary.

The funeral services of Morris Geary, who had numerous relatives in this city, were held from the Catholic church at Metuchen yesterday. The pall bearers were Maurice Higgins, Michael Higgins, John Geary, John Higgins, Cornelius Heenan and Wm. Hogan. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, this city.

APPROPRIATION BILLS BEFORE THE SENATE.

Introduced by Senator Stokes, Chairman of Joint Committee on Appropriations.

ONE IS SUPPLEMENTAL BILL.

LARGE PORTION OF STATE FUNDS TO GO FOR STATE SCHOOLS.

Will Reduce State School Tax About Ten Per Cent—Extraordinary Appropriations Provided For—$50,000 for the Palisades.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 22—The most important duty remaining for the Legislature before its final adjournment tonight is to pass upon the report of the joint committee on appropriations, which was submitted yesterday in the form of two bills introduced in the Senate by Mr. Stokes, the chairman of the committee. The annual bill for 1902 calls for appropriations amounting to $2,380,516 32, an increase of $145,576 over that of last year. The supplemental bill introduced amounts to $391,569, an increase of $40,014 over that of last year.

The most important action taken by the committee was the diversion of $813,750 from the State funds toward the payment of the State school tax. This, it is believed, will mean an average reduction of about 10 per cent in every local taxing district. Provision is made for the payment of this amount in both the annual and supplemental bills, so that it will be operative next year as well as this.

The extraordinary disbursements provided for in the supplemental bill are as follows:

New Jersey Reformatory	$ 68,250 00
Pan American Exposition	25,000 00
State Hospital at Trenton, for sewer	22,500 00
County superintendents	22,740 00
State House Commission, for furnishing etc	20,000 00
State Hospital at Morris Plains, for improvements	44,531 03
Home for Disabled Soldiers at Kearney, purchase of land	14,700 00
Emergency	10,000 00
State Home for Girls, improvements	8,691 10
New Jersey troops at the inauguration of the President	10,000 00
New Jersey Home for Disabled Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Their Wives, improvements	7,700 00
Gloucester County Lunatic Asylum	7,140 00
Home for Feeble-Minded Women at Vineland, improvements	6,997 75
State Oyster Commission, for survey	2,700 66
Farnum Preparatory School, for repairs	1,500 00
Soldiers' medals	1,000 00
Village for Epileptics	31,765 00
Total	$305,215 54

In the annual bill, the amounts in which become available at the opening of the fiscal year, Nov. 1, the following extraordinary disbursements are provided for:

Civil War debt	$ 71,000 00
New Jersey Reformatory	65,800 00
Trenton Armory	50,000 00
County superintendents	25,000 00
New Jersey Home for Feeble Minded Women at Vineland, constructing a sewer	3,500 00
State Oyster Commission, for making survey	1,000 00
Village for Epileptics	19,000 00
Palisades	50,000 00
Total	$286,300 00

The appropriation of $50,000 for the preservation of the Palisades is made upon the condition that sufficient funds are provided from other sources to complete the proposed scheme.

Stone Crusher Starts Work.

The large stone crusher of A. I. and N. B. Smalley, on the side of the mountain, was put in operation today, breaking blue trap rock. A gang of fifteen men are employed at the works and the crusher turns out, on a average, 100 tons of stone a day. Smalley Brothers have the contract to furnish all the stone to be used this year in macadamizing Plainfield streets.

Changes at Pond Tool Works.

Frank Batson, who has been head shipping clerk at the Pond Tool Works for a long time, has resigned his place being filled by George B. Lindsbury who has been transferred from the stock room department, where he was assistant clerk for some time.

Duplicate Whist at Casino.

A party of friends was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the Casino by Mrs. Andrew N. Selter, who is stopping for the winter at the Park Avenue Hotel. Duplicate whist was played, after which refreshments were served.

Endeavor Meeting.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet this evening. Miss Cora Brokaw will be the leader. There will be special music.

NEW BUILDINGS COMPLETED.

LARGE ADDITION TO STATE HOSPITAL, MORRIS PLAINS, FINISHED.

Took Six Years and Cost $500,000—Connected With Old Building by a Tunnel—Description of Building.

At last the new building of the New Jersey State Hospital at Morris Plains is completed—after six years of labor, and by the expenditure of $500 000, and it is now occupied. It is a magnificent structure of granite and red sandstone. The building is four stories high and covers about an acre of ground.

In the basement are rooms for the general work of the hospital also a fine rain bath. On the first floor are the dayroom, assembly dining hall, kitchen and amusement hall. The second and third floors are devoted to dormitories and the fourth story to an attic. The building will hold 800 patients, but at present only 100 male patients are quartered there.

The dining room is a large affair, in which all the patients can be fed at one time. It is contiguous to the kitchen, so that all the meals can be served hot. The patients enter the dining room in two files, take their places behind their chairs and at two taps of the gong all are seated. After the meal the exit is made in the same way.

Connecting the main building and the new one is a tunnel 1 600 feet long, eight feet wide and ten feet high. This tunnel was dug for half its length through solid rock and is all underground. The grade in it is very heavy. The tunnel is used for the transportation of supplies, steam, heat and electricity. At present the cars in the tunnel are run by a cable system, but it is expected ultimately that they will be propelled by electricity, each car having its own motor. This tunnel alone cost $16,000

Although the building is now occupied the formal opening will not take place until some time this spring, when the Governor and his staff will be present. The day will be named by the Governor.

—Vaults and cesspools are cleaned day or night in a satisfactory manner by T. M. Ingraham, P. O. Box 635.

—Try the City Hand and Steam Laundry, 23 Somerset street, and you will be convinced that they are up to-date and give good satisfaction.

—Counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are liable to cause blood poisoning. Leave them alone. The original has the name DeWitt's upon the box and wrapper. It is a harmless and healing salve for skin diseases. Unequalled for piles. L. W. Randolph.

Ben Johnson, of Manning avenue, is still on the sick list.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Regarding George Thatcher, the celebrated minstrel, who is to appear here at Music Hall Tuesday evening, the Philadelphia North American says concerning his appearance in that city: "Then there was George Thatcher. George is about ninety-three years old now, but age cannot wither him. He had one or two new stories yesterday, but the old ones were just as good; for it's all in the telling with this jolly minstrel. The audience was reluctant to dismiss him."

* * * * *

There promises to be a splendid attendance at the big White Rats Carnival at Music Hall Tuesday night, and the merits of the entertainment is such that it is deserving of excellent patronage. Very seldom, if ever, has there been such a galaxy of high priced talent, seen in one bill at the local playhouse. Each and every one are "head-liners," all ranking alike in degree of excellence and one and all will undoubtedly please. Of course the regular amusement seekers are well acquainted with the work of their fellow townsman, George Thatcher. He is a host in himself, and on this occasion will be seen to good advantage in an entirely new creation. No more popular performer exists than Mr. Thatcher and his many friends hereabouts are looking forward with much delight to his coming appearance. In the leading vaudeville houses in New York, the only musical accompaniment a performer has, is that furnished by a piano, but for this occasion, Manager Maze Edwards will provide an effective orchestra.

* * * * *

David Belasco's "Madame Butterfly" still reigns as the chief feature of the Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, Broadway and 28th street, New York city programme, and it is needless to say that no attraction has ever played the continuous houses that has proven such an artistic treat for the patrons. Valerie Bosiere's "Cho-Cho San" is still the hit of the performance and her acting has been praised wonderfully by the Metropolitan press. The typical continuous entertainers are: Joe Welch, the Hebrew impersonator; Clarice Vance, the Southern singer; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Farrell, in "An American Duke;" Hale and Frances, novelty club jugglers and hoop rollers; Newell, Chinjulia and Dunufrio, musical act; Ingram and Jacklin, illustrated melodies; and some dozen more. The prices are always 25 and 50c. Box seats, $1.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by L. W. Randolph.

DATE OF GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

STATE EVENT WILL BE PLAYED ON JUNE 27, 28 AND 29.

Extra Cup Will Be Offered—Additional Handicap to Be Played—Change In State Secretary.

The New Jersey Golf Association has decided upon June 27, 28 and 29 as the dates for its annual championship tournament, to be held over the links of the Englewood Golf Club. In discussing the subject yesterday Paul Wilcox, of Montclair, and president of the association, intimated that there would be a number of changes in the conditions of the next tournament as compared with the first championship held at Essex county last year.

There will probably be an extra cup offered for competition among the eight players who are defeated in the first championship match play round, as it is the desire of the association to hold the players together, so far as possible, for the three days. The final event will be an eighteen-hole medal play handicap, but only those who hand in cards in the preliminary round for the championship will be eligible to take part in the handicap.

B. F. Keimmund, of the Englewood Golf Club, has been appointed secretary-treasurer for the ensuing season. He succeeds L. St. Clair Colby, of the Essex County Country Club. The change was deemed advisable by the association, as the duties of the official in question became so exacting as the date for the tournament approaches that it will be necessary for him to be a member of the club over whose course the event is to be held.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Springer, of Red Bank, are spending a few days with Plainfield relatives.

Mrs. E. D. Moffett, of Orchard place, has returned home after a two weeks' visit with her daughter at Trenton.

A Horrible Outbreak

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Isbill, of Morgantown, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve competely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

Charles Woodland, of Trenton, has been visiting Plainfield relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapot, of Great Bend, Pa., have returned home after a visit with Plainfield friends.

Randolph Dunham, of Madison avenue, who has been seriously ill, is no better and his relatives are anxious concerning him.

Eighth Series.

The Plainfield Building and Loan Association . . . .

has proven itself one of the best, if not the best in the State. The stockholders of the Second Series having matured their shares and received their money in ten years and five months. The third series will mature in a few months. State and National Associations have not, and cannot do it in so short a period. The Plainfield Building and Loan Association does not take the first two years of the poor man's dues to pay officers' salaries and agents' expenses. A demand having been made for the opening of the Eighth Series of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association, and parties desiring shares should at once apply to any of the following named directors:

L. E. Barkalew, President.
Henry Liefke, Vice-President.
W. R Codington, Treasurer.
B. F. Cortell, Secretary.

Louis Kline, Jacob Voehl, James P. Homan, W. A. Woodruff, C. H. Rugg, J. E. Flannery, John Hickey.

The Annual Election of Directors will be held March 25, at 8 p. m.

A new series will on that date be opened.

KILLS HER CHILDREN

Mother Slays Six and Attempts Her Own Life.

NO REASON GIVEN FOR TERRIBLE DEED

Father Returns From Work to Find His Little Ones Dead and His House a Bloody Spectacle.

COLDBROOK, Mass., March 22.—Mrs. Lizzie Naramore, while in a fit of insanity, killed her entire family of six children at her home, a farmhouse half a mile from this village, and then tried to take her own life. The children ranged from 10 years to a babe of 10 months, and their lives were taken by the mother with an ax and a club. Then she laid the blood drenched bodies on the beds, two on one bed and the other four on a bed in another room. This terrible sight met the eyes of the husband and father, Frank Naramore, when he returned home late yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Naramore then attempted to take her own life by cutting her throat with a razor, and when discovered she was in the bed on which the bodies of the four children were lying. Although she cut a deep gash in her throat and suffered the loss of much blood, it is believed she will recover.

Frank Naramore and his happy family lived on the Babcock farm, so called, a short distance from the village of Coldbrook, just over the town line of Oakham, but in the town of Barre, on the road to Hubbardston. Mr. Naramore left his home at the usual hour yesterday morning to go to his work at the sawmill of the Parker Lumber company in Oakham, and at that time his wife did not attract his attention by acting strangely.

It is supposed the crime was committed shortly after noon, the discovery being made by George Thrasher, an employee at Parker's grocery store in Coldbrook village. Mr. Thrasher visited the Naramore house for the purpose of delivering groceries that had previously been ordered by Mrs. Naramore. He was unable to get in the house by the door he usually entered, and an examination showed him that it was barricaded. He made a noise, but was unable to raise any one about the premises. He then looked in a window and noticed blood on the floor, while Mrs. Naramore was lying on a bed. He was somewhat surprised also at the absence of the children, whom he was accustomed to greet and see playing in or about the house, and the circumstances made him suspicious that something had happened. He thereupon returned to this village and told of what he had seen and what he suspected.

A party was made up, and a hasty visit was made to the Naramore house. An entrance was made without delay, and the mutilated bodies of the six children in two beds were found. Mrs. Naramore was alive, but was very weak from loss of blood. She was stretched across the bed on which were four bodies. Medical Examiner Walcott of Barre was summoned and took charge.

Father Kills His Children.

CLINTON, Me., March 22.—Jacob Dearborn Marr, a farmer, living eight miles from this village, killed his three children, Alice M., aged 13; Elwin, aged 9, and Helen, aged 7, with an ax shortly after the family, in happy mood, had risen from the dinner table. Mr. Marr had been despondent for some time, but his actions were not such as to make his wife believe that he had any serious trouble on his mind to brood over.

The Harrison Estate.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 22.—Ex-President Harrison left $40,000 in life insurance. This fact was announced last night by the president of the Union Trust company, which is executor of General Harrison's will. He said: "General Harrison had four policies of $10,000 each in force. The box containing the policies has not been opened yet. Our appraisement of the Harrison estate gives its total value at $380,000. This includes all real estate, railroad bonds, stock in the Union Trust company, the law building here and other securities."

American League Schedule.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—With the adoption of the schedule for the season of 1901 the meeting of the American League of Baseball Clubs came to an end late yesterday afternoon. There were but five changes in the dates as arranged by President Ban Johnson, and they were immaterial. The entire session was devoted to the consideration of the schedule, and it was unanimously adopted. The schedule contains 56 dates which conflict with those of the National league, 25 at Boston, 10 at Philadelphia and 21 at Chicago.

Stable Boys Strike.

NEWMARKET, England, March 22.—Three hundred stable boys held a meeting here last evening and decided to go on strike unless the trainers increased their wages, now 20 shillings a week, to 25 shillings. The speakers argued that an honest living was impossible on such a pittance paid for the care of animals valued at thousands of pounds.

Former Railroad President Dead.

BOSTON, March 22.—A cablegram received by C. Peter Clark, general superintendent of the eastern district of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, announced the death of his father, Charles P. Clark, former president of the road and president of the Boston Terminal company, at Nice, where he had gone in search of health.

Cars and Car Barns Burned.

CINCINNATI, March 22.—One of the car barns of the Cincinnati Traction company, situated on Ohio avenue, was totally destroyed by fire last night. Thirty-five street cars, aggregating a loss of $70,000, were consumed. The building was valued at $20,000, making the total loss $90,000.

Emperor William Out.

BERLIN, March 22.—Emperor William, who has again resumed his public appearances, has invited the presiding officers of the Prussian diet to meet him at the Schloss this afternoon at 1 o'clock, when they will congratulate him upon his recent escape at Bremen from serious injury.

Mrs. Nation to Lecture.

TOPEKA, March 22.—Mrs. Carrie Nation has signed a contract for six lectures to be given in Cincinnati. She will receive $100 for each of the lectures and all her expenses.

POLICE BILL DEAD.

There Is No Sign of a Revolt Against Odell's Leadership.

ALBANY, March 22.—The situation on the police bill closely diagnosed after talks with leaders in all factions is that the proposed conference in New York city called for Saturday will not materialize in a sufficient degree to be called a party conference and that the proposed police bill will not be forced against the wishes of Governor Odell.

This much is absolutely certain. Nothing will be done by a majority of the party against the wishes of the governor. The very contrary interviews of Senator Platt and Mr. Frank H. Platt printed in the evening papers are a subject of comment here.

One of the contradictions given to the interview with Senator Platt is as to the statement that Frank Platt had an interview of one and a half hours with Governor Odell on other subjects following his demand for the acceptance of the police bill. It is not true. He talked with Governor Odell standing up, and the interview was very brief. In the same room was Senator Mills, Charles H. Babcock and Timothy L. Woodruff. It was with the latter that the hour and a half talk took place after Governor Odell had positively refused to accept the proposed bill. A solution of the difficulty, it is said, may be found in the removal of Police Commissioner Murphy on charges preferred by District Attorney Philbin, but this is regarded as doubtful, because Murphy's successor might still refuse to remove Devery.

Platt Calls Sunday School.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Senator Platt wound up a busy day at the Fifth Avenue hotel by sending 30 telegrams last evening to Republican politicians all over the state requesting their presence at the hotel on Sunday afternoon. Senator Platt explained he had called a conference of Republicans to decide whether or not a metropolitan police bill should be introduced at Albany. The senator gave out a statement last night. Among other things he says: "Some newspapers are trying to make a quarrel between the governor and myself. They will not succeed. While I have decided views about police legislation, the governor is an honest and capable man, whose only desire is to do what he believes to be best, and no difference of opinion about any question of policy can disturb the relations which have existed between us for so many years."

FEAR ATTEMPT ON CZAR'S LIFE

Locks on Doors of His Rooms Changed—Bedroom Lined With Steel.

COLOGNE, March 22.—The Koelnische Volkszeitung prints a letter from St. Petersburg declaring that the police who are intrusted with the safety of the czar do not quite trust all the members of the imperial household. The mechanism attached to the doors of his majesty's bedroom and study has recently been altered so that only two or three persons know how to open the doors from the outside.

The study is provided with five writing tables, which the czar uses indiscriminately, so that nobody will know exactly in what part of the room he is sitting. The walls of the study and bedroom have been lined with steel plates and also provided with several secret drawers.

The correspondent asserts that there is great socialist activity in Warsaw. Many arrests have been made, and the prisons are overflowing. Large quantities of revolutionary pamphlets and proclamations have been seized.

General Bates Ordered Home.

OMAHA, March 22.—General John C. Bates, now in command of a force of volunteers in the Philippines, has been ordered to return to the United States to relieve General Merriam, in command of the department of the Missouri. He will sail within a week and will probably be at his new post in Omaha by the latter part of April. He will be accompanied by General S. B. M. Young, who is to assume command of the department of California in place of General Shafter, retired.

Representative Hull Going to Manila

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Representative Hull of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on military affairs, saw the president yesterday. Mr. Hull will leave here early next month for the Philippines, where he will study the situation in order to equip himself with information at first hand for the debates next winter. Several other representatives are talking of accompanying him, among them Representative Overstreet of Indiana.

Explosion In the Tunnel.

NEW YORK, March 22.—A tremendous explosion in an excavation for the rapid transit tunnel on Amsterdam avenue near One Hundred and Eighty-first street yesterday afternoon shook up houses and broke windowpanes for blocks around and seriously injured four men employed in the shaft. The excavation at this point is what is known as a heading shaft, and the digging has gone down about 120 feet.

One Cent Rate For G. A. R. Meet.

CLEVELAND, March 22.—An important meeting of railway men was held at the Hollenden hotel in this city, at which the 1 cent a mile rate promised for the Grand Army of the Republic national encampment to be held in Cleveland next September was formally promulgated. This fixes the railroad rate absolutely and finally.

Sight Restored After Many Years.

BALTIMORE, March 22.—Valentine Botz of Buffalo has had sight restored to him as the result of a surgical operation performed in this city after having been totally blind for 28 years. Mr. Botz is 32 years old and had been blind since 4 years of age from the effects of smallpox, which left him with spots on his eyeballs.

Enormous Crop of Oranges.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Officials of the Santa Fe railroad today confirmed reports from California that millions of dollars' worth of oranges in that state are rotting in the packing houses and on the grounds of the groves because of lack of transportation facilities to move the enormous crop.

The Kentucky a Flagship.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The battleship Kentucky, which recently arrived at Cavite from the United States, has been assigned by the navy department to be the flagship of Rear Admiral Kempff in place of the Newark, which has been ordered home to be repaired at the New York navy yard.

CUBANS WEAKEN.

May Accept the Platt Amendment After All.

HAVANA, March 22.—An element of doubt now exists as to what will be the final attitude of the Cuban constitutional convention. The preponderance of public opinion in favor of the Platt amendment during the last few days is having its effect upon the radical members, and General Sanguily's press utterances further tend to weaken the strength of the radicals. General Sanguily was the most radical of all the delegates. He favored dissolving the convention when the United States congress adopted the amendment.

Recently he had expressed in private the views to which he has now given public expression, but few expected him to maintain the stand. He now says:

"A literal interpretation of the Platt amendment might mean the loss of Cuban independence, but the liberal view which President McKinley and the convention would give would leave nothing to be feared by the Cubans. I do not believe that by waiting we would get better terms from the next congress. Independence with some restrictions is preferable to a continuance of military rule, which would surely follow a rejection of the Platt amendment.

"If the Americans want the Isle of Pines, I am in favor of giving it to them. I am also in favor of establishing coaling stations on some of the keys or at some of the small ports. The presence of the authority of the United States will be a guarantee of our independence so far as exterior safety is concerned and will save us the enormous expense of maintaining an army and navy."

WANT MARK TO RECANT.

Missionaries Hurt by His Article In North American Review.

PEKING, March 22.—The Missionary association held a meeting here and unanimously voted to telegraph The North American Review a demand that Mark Twain shall recant his "libelous attack" in that magazine on Missionary W. S. Ament of the American board of foreign missions.

The Rev. Messrs. Scheffield, Wherry and Tewksbury expressed indignant surprise that such a man and such a review should thus slander the Rev. Mr. Ament without examining into the facts. The Rev. Mr. Reid said the trouble began because a Peking dispatch to a New York newspaper of Dec. 22 on the same subject had been left unrefuted.

The Rev. Mr. Ament has left here for the United States. A large party of Chinese accompanied him to the railway station.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

General MacArthur is to be relieved July 1 by General Chaffee as commander of the army in the Philippines.

Transatlantic Wireless Telegraphy.

PITTSBURG, March 22.—Nikola Tesla, the inventor, is in Pittsburg placing a contract with the Westinghouse Electric company for the manufacture of certain mechanical devices to be used in his experiment on wireless telegraphy across the Atlantic ocean. Mr. Tesla states that the success of his latest enterprise is more assured now than ever before, and within the next six months his invention will be given a practical test. He hopes to establish the proof that it is not beyond the range of possibility to establish communication across the ocean without the aid of wires.

A Serious Chicago Blaze.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Fire last night totally destroyed the large warehouse of J. S. Ford, Johnson & Co. at Sixteenth street and Wabash avenue. The building and everything inside was ruined. The north, south and east walls of the building collapsed while a number of firemen were inside fighting the fire. They were compelled to drop their hose and run for their lives. Several were badly bruised by falling bricks. A panic was created among the thousands of spectators, and in a wild rush to escape injury by the falling walls many women and children were knocked down and trampled upon.

The Illinois Coal Combine.

CHICAGO, March 22.—A special to The Times-Herald from Springfield, Ills., says: It has developed that the Harriman syndicate controlling the Chicago and Alton and Illinois Central railroad systems is back of the movement to consolidate the coal mining properties of Illinois into a $75,000,000 combine. The capitalists of this syndicate will lend their financial support to the consolidation project and will hold a majority of the stock in the enterprise.

Korean Crisis Settled.

YOKOHAMA, March 22.—Advices from Seoul, capital of Korea, announce that the Korean cabinet crisis which arose out of the arrest of the acting minister of finance on the charge of having plotted to murder a number of the ladies of the imperial household has been settled and that one official has been beheaded.

Navigation to Open Tomorrow.

CATSKILL, N. Y., March 22.—Navigation on the upper Hudson will be reopened tomorrow. River men say a stout steamboat could go through from New York to Albany today without serious hindrance. A fortnight ago 14 inch ice was being harvested from the river.

TROUBLE IS AVERTED

British and Russians Withdraw From Disputed Ground.

TIEN-TSIN SIDING FIGHT OFF.

Question Will Now Be Settled In Diplomatic Circles and Without Bloodshed—Marines to Return to the Ships.

PEKING, March 22.—Count von Waldersee, General Barrow and General Wogack have been in consultation, and General Wogack has agreed to withdraw the Russian troops from the disputed ground at Tien-tsin provided the British also withdraw. He insisted also upon a guarantee that work on the railway siding should not proceed until the matter had been diplomatically adjusted. This proposal and stipulation were satisfactory to General Barrow and were accepted by him.

Consequently the British and Russian troops will be withdrawn at 5 o'clock this morning, thereby avoiding all trouble at present.

Orders have been issued, however, that no British officer shall leave or even "sleep out" at night or go to dinner without furnishing his address to the adjutant.

The marines will return to the ships. Admiral Seymour objects to any of the Australian naval brigade who volunteered for service on the railway remaining. The military authorities say he does not understand the situation, that his interference is uncalled for and that the Australian marines are just the men needed.

The Russians have ordered a regiment to proceed from Port Arthur to Tien-tsin.

Arrangements made by General Bailloud, the French commander, are regarded as completely satisfactory, and all danger of a collision between the British and French is considered obviated.

Yang Yu, the Chinese minister at St. Petersburg, recently reported that slight modifications of some of the articles of the Manchurian treaty had been conceded by Russia, these being intended to avoid placing obstacles in the way of the sovereignty and independence of China.

The modifications were forwarded by the Chinese plenipotentiaries to the court at Singan-fu. An edict has been received here in reply stating that the treaty cannot receive imperial sanction.

No Serious Quarrel.

BERLIN, March 22.—"Negotiations are now being calmly carried on between the St. Petersburg and London cabinets," said a high German official, "to adjust peaceably the Tien-tsin affair. There is no reason to indulge in serious fears. Perhaps also other mediating influences will be brought to bear to prevent the differences becoming acute, but even now it is certain that Great Britain and Russia will not quarrel seriously over a strip of land at Tien-tsin."

A Secret Treaty.

LONDON, March 22.—"It is generally believed that Russia will produce a secret treaty with China," says the Peking correspondent of The Daily Mail, "fully establishing her prior claim to the disputed concession at Tien-tsin. Unfortunately, this dispute is only an isolated instance of the friction of interests between the two powers. The other instances have not obtained such prominence."

To Relieve Porto Rico's Distress.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 22.—The San Juan Chamber of Commerce has called a mass meeting for Sunday of the principal planters, bankers, agriculturists and merchants with a view to agreeing upon some feasible plan for the relief of financial depression. The outcome of the meeting will probably be a petition to Governor Allen to call an extra session of the legislature and to authorize a loan of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 for the benefit of agriculture. The promoters of the meeting hope to impress the governor with the expediency of such a measure.

To Except Y. M. C. A. Property.

TRENTON, March 22.—The senate tonight passed the senate bill providing that Y. M. C. A. property shall be exempt from taxation where it is used exclusively for Y. M. C. A. purposes. Also the senate bill giving national guardsmen $1.50 when in actual service or when in encampment. The bill as originally drawn provided that the guardsmen when in service for more than 30 days should receive regular army pay only, but this provision was afterward eliminated.

A Heavy Casting.

ANSONIA, Conn., March 22.—What is thought to be the heaviest casting ever made in New England lies nearly completed at the works of a machine company in this city. It is an engine bed for the public pumping station in Philadelphia, and its weight is estimated at 80,000 pounds. The casting is 22 by 9½ by 8 feet in size and is in one piece.

Four Miners Crushed to Death.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 22.—Bert Kelley, Dan Preston, Richard Battle and Cornelius Davis, negro miners, were killed at the Sloss-Sheffield No. 2 ore mine by a fall of ore. The men had loosened 220 tons of ore and, thinking all of it had fallen, entered the mine. As soon as they were in the great mass fell, crushing them to death.

Ducal Fetes Spoiled.

GIBRALTAR, March 22.—The fetes arranged for yesterday in honor of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York were spoiled by a heavy rainstorm. The military review was canceled. The duke and duchess took luncheon on board the flagship of Vice Admiral Sir Harry Rawcon.

Floods In Italy.

ROME, March 22.—Serious inundations have occurred in the northern part of Italy. The river Po has caused damage along the valley, while the provinces of Bergamo, Alexandria, Venice and Lucca have large tracts submerged.

Public Library For Detroit.

LANSING, Mich., March 22.—The house has passed the bill authorizing the city of Detroit to issue $1,000,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of buying a site and erecting a public library building.

Clyde Light Plant Destroyed.

LYONS, N. Y., March 22.—The electric department of the Clyde Gas and Electric plant has been ruined by fire. The cause is supposedly spontaneous combustion.

The Palisades Are Saved.

Good citizenship, education, culture and progress alike are advanced through the legislative action to preserve the Palisades. It is a most remarkable fact that the great men of our country, whether in statemanship, law or finance, were reared in the country, where fields were green, where brooks ran and where the rocks and hills were left as the hand of nature's God left them. There seems to be something in the study and contemplation of nature's hanpiwork that fits the human mind, not only for great thoughts but for great accomplishments.

If the list of great men with great minds is to continue in the future we hold that nature's great works must be preserved, not defaced or destroyed. New York City and the adjacent parts of New Jersey, the metropolis of the western hemisphere, and ere long to be metropolis of the world in her giant strides, will be the home of millions of people. It is then meet that these and similar works of nature should stand unharmed, that they may teach a giant people to grapple with the problems that will confront the future generation.

The strict utilitarian asks "will it it pay?" While their value cannot be measured in dollars, yet we say unqualifiedly "yes! it will pay." To preserve and make accessible such features of God's handiwork will make a grander and better race of men, inspiring them with nobler thoughts and loftier ambition.

To drag the matter of dollars into the question is too small and selfish for a great and mighty people. The United States Government stretched out her potent hand and saved the marvelous "red woods" of the Yosemite valley, California. The great Empire State of New York and the colonial government of Canada likewise have spared the stupendous cataract of Niagara. What citizen regrets such action? Who would vote to abandon protection of these great features of our land?

Each day, as the wheels of time goes on and population becomes congested in this our land of liberty, progress will make the people bless those whose forethought bade them act in the matter of the preservation of the Palisades.

With the bright spring days, all the local merchants have noted a steady increase in their business. When the people get out again, they find many things to attract them. This is the season when the wise advertiser carefully places a list of his attractions before the public through the medium of the newspaper.

City Collector Frank H. Smith is going steadily forward in the work of collecting the back poll and personal taxes. He reports that the delinquents are paying up remarkably well in most cases.

It is no new thing when the voters of Warren township manage to make things a trifle warm politically. The school meeting in that township developed no end of excitement.

The actual results of the great evangelistic services which so stirred the city are being shown in the numbers of young people who are joining the local churches.

The location of a huge cemetery at Oak Tree will have its effect on Plainfield in that it will bring many visitors to this section who would not otherwise ever see it.

A man in Somerville made an unpleasant mistake. He shot himself through the hand while preparing to go on the warpath against a cat.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—A large variety of the best quality of canned goods at low prices at Neuman Bros.

—A trial of Leggett's Demulcent Cream always results in a second purchase. It never fails to give satisfaction.

—When you are bilious, use those famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers to cleanse the liver and bowels. They never gripe. L. W. Randolph.

—The "steel shod" brand of shoes for boys and girls VanArsdale sells are great wearers and have helped him to build up a good business in that department.

—J. W. VanSickle, the North avenue butcher, has a choice supply of chickens, capons, and all kinds of seasonable games, as well as choice cuts of the best beef. His prices are always reasonable and you get the best.

DIDN'T LECTURE.

Dr. Carman Will Deliver Talk to the School Teachers Next Week.

The lecture on "Symptoms of Contagious Diseases," which was to have been delivered yesterday afternoon by Dr J. H. Carman before the teachers' meeting in the Somerset street school building, was postponed owing to the inability of Dr. Carman to be present.

The lecture will be delivered some afternoon next week. Superintendent Wightman spoke on "Our Educational Creed," and at the conclusion of his interesting remarks, an informal discussion was held on the methods and practice of school work.

Funeral of Andrew Wahl.

Owing to a mistake in dates the funeral services of Andrew Wahl, the young man who died at the hospital Wednesday, were announced to take place Saturday. They were held instead this morning from St. Joseph's church and were very well attended. Rev. Father Miller officiated. The floral tributes were so numerous, a double tier was placed on the casket. The pall bearers were Thomas Flynn, Daniel McNamara, Edward Connors, John Butscher, John Cashin and Charles Fruchs. Interment was at St. Mary's cemetery.

Working 24 Hours a Day.

There's no rest for those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always busy, curing Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Biliousness, Fever and Ague. They banish Sick Headache, drive out Malaria. Never gripe or weaken. Small, taste nice, work wonders. Try them. 25c at L. W. Randolph's.

Edward White, of this city, has returned after spending several months in California.

William Jukes, of East Second street, states that he has no intention of leaving for Europe as was noted in yesterday's Press.

INTERESTING NOTES FROM PLAINFIELD'S SUBURBAN TOWNS.

Daily Budget Of News Gathered By The Daily Press Corps of Special Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 22—Whether or not there are enough energetic citizens in the borough or not, who are capable of constituting a Board of Trade, will be decided upon at the public meeting which has been called for that purpose this evening. It will be held in the borough building and a cordial invitation is extended to every one to be present. There is no doubt but what such an organization will be helpful to Dunellen and promote its growth with great rapidity. In case the meeting this evening should result in the formation of a board, one of the first things to be taken into consideration will be the building of a number of dwelling houses on the co-operative plan.

The entertainment to be given in the Methodist church, this evening, will, no doubt, be the most pleasing affair that has been given in the borough in some time. It is said the "sunbonnet" drill is well worth the price of admission alone. The latter has been fixed at twenty-five cents.

Louis Thomas, the borough representative of a Plainfield newspaper, will shortly resign that position in order to devote his entire time to New York and Philadelphia correspondence. He will reside at Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bruch have taken up their residence in the house on Front street, recently vacated by Mahlon Mulford. The latter has moved into the Barclay house on Fairview avenue.

Conductor Charles Dodwell is confined to his home with painful injuries received by striking his knees against the steps of a car.

Miss Virgie Tunison has returned after spending a few days in New York and Jersey City.

Mrs. Morris Barick has been entertaining her mother from Freehold.

William Brokaw was the guest of friends at Metuchen yesterday.

Mrs. Henry Garretson is entertaining company from out of town.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, March 22—At the meeting of Lakeside Council held last evening, delegations from New Brunswick, Bound Brook and Dunellen Councils were present and were entertained in a pleasant manner. A number of the State officers including S. C. Elizabeth Packer and S. V. C, Sarah Rellstab, also attended.

Miss Georgianna Reusch, of Cranford, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. John Otto.

John Otto is making preparations for moving into the Laire house in a few days.

Clarence Sofield has taken a position in Charles Day's printing office.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 22.—A very important real estate deal has just been effected by Thomas Paff, the local real estate broker. He has sold the hotel property owned by George Marsh, and now occupied by Lynus Walpool, near the trolley line, to Mr. Walpool. The latter will commence at once the work of improvements and intends to make a model hostelry of the place. This hotel was erected eighteen years ago by Mr. Paff, on what was then known as Schuyler's Corner. It is one of the oldest landmarks in town. Another deal effected yesterday by Mr. Paff was the leasing of Dr. Cole's house on Stout avenue avenue to R. H. Manefield, an electrician, who has been living at Westfield.

The regular prayer-meeting for the study of the Sunday-school lesson will be held this evening at the First Baptist church. Pastor Shott will be in charge. Tomorrow evening Mr. Shott will teach the lesson in Plainfield before the teachers of the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday-school.

Tomorrow evening the members of the Methodist church will meet at the church to rehearse special music for Easter. A very pleasing programme is being arranged, including solos, duets and chorus parts. Rev. Mr. Bright, the pastor, will have charge of the music.

One of the large trolley cars on the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company line jumped the track yesterday afternoon and somewhat disarranged the running schedule. It was nearly an hour before the car was again placed on the track.

The special services that have been held at the Methodist church will come to a close this evening. They have been productive of much good and not only have the members of the church been revived but unconverted people have been led to live for Christ.

William Buckley, who is ill at his home with pneumonia, was not so well yesterday. He was delirious most of the time. It is thought, however, that the crisis of the disease has about been reached, and that there will be a turn for the better soon.

Special Easter music is to be given at the Baptist church and Pastor Shott now has under consideration an entertaining programme of music to be presented by the choir of the church and Sunday school.

A number of Knights of Pythias from this town will attend the meeting of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., at Plainfield, this evening.

A regular meeting of Fanwood Council, Royal Arcanum, will be held Tuesday evening of next week.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met last evening and transacted routine business.

Miss Sadie Regar leaves for Rahway tomorrow, where she will visit friends for a time.

Mrs. James Buckley, of Plainfield, was in town yesterday calling on relatives.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, March 22.—Workmen are busy moving back the gates at the Lehigh Valley Railroad crossing. They are to be upon a line with the new tower and will be raised or lowered by the tower-man. Under the new arrangement, after the gates are down, they will remain so, until all signals show a clear track. It is expected that Dorgan, the present gate man, will be transferred to the new gates, which are to be installed at the crossing on the other side of the depot.

The silver anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Goodman will be celebrated this evening by their friends.

William Connett and Charles Monsell, of Plainfield, were initiated into Camp, 41, P. O. S. of A., last night.

Thomas Terrell, under the care of Dr. Nelson, is rapidly improving from a severe attack of pneumonia.

The choir of the Baptist church will meet tomorrow night for the purpose of practicing Easter music.

After a few day's visit with his brother, Walter Thuma, has gone to his home in Michigan.

More of the walks on Lehigh avenue are to be laid with flagging.

The new barber has placed his sign and awaits customers.

Frank Brown is unable to work on account of illness.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1 00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Straßburg. Im 16. Armeekorps ist vom 1. April d. J. ab die Verabreichung von Branntwein an Soldaten in den Militärkantinen verboten. Die Inhaber von Kantinen haben sich schriftlich verpflichten müssen, von diesem Zeitpunkt an jeden Verkauf von Branntwein an Militärpersonen einzustellen.

Metz. Wie groß die Unsicherheit für Leben und Eigenthum durch die zahlreichen italienischen Arbeiter (etwa 50,000 in den Kreisen Metz und Diedenhofen) allmälig geworden ist, dürften die Schwurgerichtsverhandlungen beweisen. Von im Ganzen zwölf Fällen betreffen fünf Körperverletzung mit nachgefolgtem Tode, und in vier Fällen davon sind die Angeklagten Italiener. Annähernd kann man ausrechnen, daß etwa 80 bis 100 Italiener in lothringischen Gefängnissen sitzen. Bei dem hiesigen Landgericht hat ein eigener italienischer Dolmetscher angestellt werden müssen, und die Polizeibeamten und Gendarmen in den Hüttengebieten des Kreises Diedenhofen erhalten auf Staatskosten Privatunterricht im Italienischen.

Mülhausen. Hier starb kürzlich das frühere Mitglied des Landesausschusses, Kaufmann Rösch. Er war seiner Zeit Notar und Bürgermeister von Altkirch und schied aus seinen öffentlichen Stellungen, nachdem er wegen einer Anzahl Betrügereien, zumeist zum Nachtheil ärmerer Leute, zu drei Jahren Gefängniß verurtheilt worden war.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Eine Verordnung des Finanzministeriums wegen ausnahmsweise nachträglicher Einlösung der bereits außer Umlauf gesetzten Silberscheidemünzen zu 20, 10 und 5 Kreuzer österreichischer Währung verfügt, daß die Staatskassen die bezeichneten Münzen noch bis 15. Februar 1902 einlösen dürfen.—Der Pfarrer an der Altlerchenfelderkirche, Ernest Lutgeber, welcher sich allseits großer Beliebtheit erfreut, beging sein 50jähriges Priesterjubiläum.—Der bekannte Komiker Karl Blasel, Direktor des „Kolosseums," hat durch die Konkurrenz des Barnum & Bailey'schen Cirkus in der Praterrotunde so gelitten, daß er den Konkurs anmelden mußte.—Hier wurde der einäugige Schwindler Caspar, der 1880 in Straßburg zehn Monate Gefängniß erhalten hat und von Berlin aus steckbrieflich verfolgt ward, verhaftet; er gab sich hier als Burenoffizier aus.

Brixen. Der Bürgerausschuß beschloß auf Antrag des Lehrers Bonell, im heurigen Jahre eine Millenniumsfeier für Brixen, das urkundlich im Jahre 901 gegründet wurde, zu veranstalten.

Bielitz. Von hier haben sich einige Mittelschüler wegen schlechter Semestralzeugnisse auf die Flucht gemacht. Die jungen Leute wollten nach Transvaal zu den Buren, und sind auch in der Richtung gegen—Wien abgereist, wo sie, auf telegraphische Ordre ihrer Väter hin, von der Polizei in Empfang genommen wurden.

Budapest. In der Abgeordnetentafel des Reichstags verursachten neulich zwei bekannte Sozialisten dadurch ziemliche Aufregung, daß sie von der Zuhörertribüne herab eine Anzahl Pamphlete mit dem Aufdruck: „Brod und die Volksrechte" unter die Abgeordneten warfen. Beide wurden verhaftet.

Graz. Das Aerar hat die Sprengmittelfabrik des kürzlich verstorbenen Anton Jahn, in welcher der Sprengstoff „Janit" erzeugt wird, angekauft. Die Fabrik liegt im Uebelbacher Graben bei Peggau.

Kreibitz. Die Firma Anton Schuß' Söhne in Neudaubitz, Baumwoll-, Zwirn- und Garnerzeugung, errichtet daselbst eine neue Fabrik mit Dampfbetrieb.

Oedenburg. Im Sopronschacht des Kohlenbergwerkes Brennberg wurde der Bergarbeiter Karl Krause von herabfallendem Kohlenschutt verschüttet. Bis es gelang, den Bedauernswerthen aus dem Schutt hervorzuziehen, war er bereits eine Leiche.

Prag. Die nationalsoziale Buchdruckerei in Prag ist um die Pfändung der Diäten des Reichsrathsabgeordneten Wenzel Klofac eingeschritten. Die exekutive Forderung beträgt 2000 Kronen.

Schweiz.

Bern. Die Zahl der Israeliten in der Schweiz hat sich seit 50 Jahren von 3145 Seelen auf 12,399 vermehrt; alle Kantone weisen eine Zunahme auf, mit einziger Ausnahme des Kantons Aargau, wo ihre Zahl von 1562 im Jahre 1850 auf 1010 Seelen im Jahre 1900 zurückgegangen ist.—Der Amtsnotar Aeschbach in Bern beging Selbstmord. Er war durch Spekulationen in Verlegenheit gekommen; so hatte er eine größere Anzahl von Aktien des „Schweizerdorfes" auf der Pariser Weltausstellung gekauft und konnte das Geld nicht auftreiben, um den Ausfall zu decken.

Zürich. Der Regierungsrath untersagte die Verwendung von Benzin als Brennmaterial in Haushaltungen als feuergefährlich.

Complexions are properly built from within.
To get rosy cheeks and a cuticle clear
Take Ripans Tabules—they're without any peer.
Clara Hosbach, living at 442 East Girard Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I am twenty-two years old and do housework without much chance for outdoor exercise and have always felt more or less run down. Reading the advertisement of Ripans Tabules in "The Record" I thought I would try the Tabules, and can say they did me more good than all other medicines I took put together. Formerly I had frequent bilious attacks, my skin was very sallow and at times broken out in pimples. Since taking Ripans Tabules my color is bright, the pimples have disappeared, and I feel like another person. I shall always be a firm believer in and a staunch friend of Ripans Tabules.

WHERE TIME IS LONG AND MEN ARE SCARCE

St. Heliers, Isle of Jersey, Feb. 25.—Time is long in the isle of Jersey, British channel. Nobody ever hurries under any circumstances, and nothing ever changes except feminine fashions. Daughters of Eve will keep up with the styles in Jersey or Jibberaray.

Jersey is one of the loveliest spots of earth, picturesque as well, with a climate like that of California just north of San Francisco. The island is not wildly hilarious or entertaining owing to the set prejudices of the inhabitants, but it is a sweet and wholesome spot, with rare green lanes and ivy grown wails.

And yet this island is ahead of the rest of Great Britain in some respects. It enjoys home rule, and it long ago legalized the marriage with a deceased wife's sister, a point which the British have been tussling over in parliament ever since I can remember. Again, the isle of Jersey is the only spot I ever found where women boarders are as welcome as men. Indeed in the advertisements in the pretty rose pink Jersey newspapers one often finds a special request for respectable lady boarders.

Perhaps, again, landladies would not get any lodgers at all if they did not accept women, for men are scarce as angels in Jersey. So soon as they are old enough Jersey men mostly go up to London, a few of them to Canada, leaving the girls stranded and wishing they could go too. They cannot, however—at least they think they cannot. They remain in Jersey and go to tea with one another of afternoons and exchange embroidery patterns and promenade by the beautiful sea and watch the sun go down behind the foam covered cliffs. So they vegetate and grow old and wither. I have been at a Jersey evening card party where there were seven women and one man, at another where there were nine women and one man. That is about the ordinary proportion.

Gently and quite in accordance with the rules of established propriety the women of this Adamless Eden advance year by year down the corridors of time, promenading each sunny day by the sea. They are as fixed in their notions as a Chinaman. One might conclude that they are the reincarnations of souls that were set in their ways and sent back to learn better, only these old girls of Jersey seem so content and so well satisfied with themselves that there is no possibility of their learning any better.

Naturally, leading this serene vegetable existence, the women who walk by the sea live to be very old, sometimes more than 100. There are more old women in Jersey than in any other place I ever saw. I don't know what becomes of the old men or if there are any. Jersey is the paradise of old women. Fifty, 60, 70 years ago they promenaded along the walk with the brisk, springy step of a girl. Mayhap in that long ago time one or two walked with a sweetheart. Now they shuffle along softly in their heelless cloth shoes or sit hour after hour in the sunshine watching the glinting waves, but they recall tenderly to this day that springtime picture in which a young man was in the foreground.

Sometimes these ancient dames become too feeble to walk. Then they are conveyed to the same promenade in wheeled invalid chairs. Occasionally the dame in the invalid chair is a widow, married in the days when there were young men in Jersey. She is wheeled adown the beautiful sea walk by gray haired daughters who themselves would be elderly women only that their mother is so much older. Occasionally one of these ancients, maid or widow, visits the walk for the last time. Her acquaintances miss her, and they open the pretty rose pink afternoon paper to read among the death notices, perhaps, an announcement like this:

"On Monday, Feb. 25, Miss Mary le Quesne, in the ninety-first year of her age. Deeply regretted."

ALEXANDRA COSMO.

Outline of Negotiations Between Kitchener and Botha Made Public.

LONDON, March 22.—The Daily Chronicle, professing to be able to give an outline of the negotiations between Lord Kitchener and General Botha, says:

"The chief obstacle to a settlement was Lord Kitchener's refusal to grant complete amnesty to the leaders of the rebels in Cape Colony. He offered self government on the lines of Jamaica immediately upon the cessation of hostilities, with legislative bodies partly elected by the burghers.

"The government agreed to provide £1,000,000 to compensate the Boers for property destroyed and articles commandeered by the Boers on commando provided the signatures of the officers who commandeered the goods were forthcoming. He also offered to grant loans on easy terms for rebuilding and restocking farmsteads.

"Moreover, he agreed that children should be instructed in English or Dutch at the discretion of their parents. The government undertook to make no claim on church property or funds or upon hospitals or hospital funds or upon private investments.

"No burgher of either state was to be allowed to possess a rifle except by special license.

"General Botha was generally in favor of these conditions, but he dissented strongly from a proposal to give the full privilege of citizenship to properly domiciled and registered blacks. He was also greatly concerned about the position Jewish capitalists would occupy in the country and was told that Jews and Christians would enjoy equal rights, no distinction being made in the matter of concessions."

The parliamentary papers on the subject are still delayed, but will probably appear today.

A correspondent of The Times who is near Bloemfontein gives a report that General De Wet, General Botha and two other Boer commanders, addressing a force of burghers at Senekal Sunday, said they were still well able to continue the war, but were ready to accept annexation on condition that the British would guarantee joint education in Dutch and English, liberty to retain sporting rifles on license, indemnity to the amount of £3,000,000 for burned farms, no franchise for natives and amnesty for all belligerents still in the field.

General De Wet, according to this correspondent, has gone north to the Transvaal after ordering a suspension of active operations until his return.

French Captured and Slain?

ANTWERP, March 22.—A singular and utterly improbable rumor is in circulation here to the effect that the Boers, after capturing, then liberating and subsequently recapturing General French, finally executed him for not keeping a promise to refrain from fighting against them again.

Another Gilman Claimant.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 22.—Another claimant for a share in the Gilman estate has come to the front in the person of Miss Katherine Kupfer, the daughter of the dead millionaire's former barber. Miss Kupfer became a protegee of Mr. Gilman a number of years ago, when she developed a talent for art, and was sent abroad to study painting, after a course in this country. She claims that she has in her possession a deed to what is known as the Blenner studio, a part of the establishment at Black Rock. The studio was originally built for the artist Carl Blenner, to whom the tea merchant was devoted for some years, finally ending his relations with Mr. Blenner because the latter found the social requirements of the Black Rock household too exacting to be compatible with his artistic work. It is most elaborately fitted up and a very valuable piece of property.

The Massachusetts Aground.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 22.—The flagship Kearsarge, battleships Alabama and Massachusetts left their anchorage at the navy yard yesterday in charge of a pilot, and the Kearsarge and Alabama safely crossed the bar and proceeded to sea. The Massachusetts does not answer promptly to her wheel. She took a turn to one side, and before she could be brought to she left deep water and stuck her nose into a spit of sand to the eastward of the entrance to Caucus channel, just opposite Fort Pickens, and went aground. The pilot steamer Florida, United States steamship Sebago, collier Leonidas and two harbor tugs pulled on her all the afternoon, but she is still stuck. It is thought, however, that she will be floated at flood tide. The vessel is not injured in the slightest and is in no danger.

Fatal Brooklyn Fire.

NEW YORK, March 22.—C. Boyne died last night as a result of injuries received in a fire at the foot of Sixty-fifth street, South Brooklyn, from which two other firemen were taken with him to the Norwegian hospital. The two are not expected to live. The fire was in the Sea Beach terminal dock and totally destroyed the building. Six firemen were injured by the falling of timbers. The fireboats New Yorker and Seth Low fought the flames. A number of Brooklyn Heights trolley cars and 200,000 new railroad ties were destroyed. The damage was $70,000.

Heavy Snow In Germany.

BERLIN, March 22.—Severe snowstorms are raging in many parts of Germany. In Saxony, Silesia, Posen and north Bavaria the snow interferes with railway traffic. In Berlin the temperature is at freezing point, and there has been a slight fall of snow here.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 24—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—What I owe to Christ.—II Cor. viii, 9; I Pet. ii, 21-25.

The individual as well as humanity at large owes a debt to Jesus Christ—a debt that can never be estimated and a debt that can never be paid. It is well for us to consider our individual indebtedness to Christ. What do I owe to Christ? And when we try to fathom this great indebtedness and realize that we can never pay it we should throw ourselves into His arms of everlasting mercy, and we will find that it will be increased by being freely and fully forgiven. "What a wonderful Saviour is Jesus, our Lord!"

The topical influences suggest that—

1. We owe Christ for spiritual riches. II Cor. viii, 9, "For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor that ye through His poverty might become rich." Christ gave up heavenly riches for earthly poverty that we might become rich. The riches that He thus brought us are not temporal but spiritual riches, the present and future blessings that come to us through the gospel of Christ. And what riches indeed! God's love, reconciliation with God, forgiveness of sin and eternal life, all these we owe to Christ, and that we might have them He gave up heaven for earth, a crown for a cross. What an indebtedness for spiritual riches!

2. We owe Christ for a perfect example. I Pet. ii, 21, "Christ also suffered, leaving us an example that ye should follow His steps, who did no sin, neither was guile found in His mouth." In urging servants to patiently endure persecution and mistreatment Peter appeals to the example of Christ, who acted in this way under even worse circumstances. In patient endurance and in all things Christ has left us a perfect example. He knew no sin. He was tempted, yet without sin. He is the only One who ever lived a perfect life, and this should make His perfect example all the more valuable to us. Had Christ not lived we should have had no perfect life as an encouragement, an inspiration and a guide. A Christian life would thus have been lived under more difficult circumstances, for it is easier to copy a perfect model than to be directed simply by precepts. Our debt to Christ here is great, and we should try to pay it by imitating His example in all things.

3. We owe Christ for a vicarious atonement. I Pet. ii, 25, "Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree." Peter here refers to the death of Christ for us. Christ did not die simply to leave us an example of self sacrifice. He died to atone for our sins, as our substitute. Our sins were placed upon Him on the cross, and He bare them in our stead. Had He not done so it would have been impossible for us to be saved. We would have been compelled to bear the debt of sin ourselves — eternal separation from God. But Christ paid our debt on the cross. Here we see our greatest indebtedness to Christ. All else sinks into insignificence in comparison to the debt of the cross. To pay it in kind is impossible. Christ does not ask it. All the pay that He asks is that we accept the sacrifice and that we devote the lives He thus saves to His service. Can we do less than that? Is He not a gracious creditor, who will accept such payment for such a debt?

But drops of tears can ne'er repay
The debt of love I owe.
Here, Lord, I give myself away;
'Tis all that I can do.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a testimony meeting. Let each member testify concerning his individual indebtedness to Christ.

BIBLE READINGS.

Eccl. xii, 13, 14; Isa. liii, 1-14; Math. viii, 19, 20; xxii, 36-40; John iii, 16; Rom. xii, 1, 2; I Cor. vi, 19, 20; Phil. ii, 1-11; Col. iii, 17.

Capital and Character.

Capital, say some modern economists, justifying what is termed the capitalistic age, is accumulated by self denial. It is brought into being when an individual defers present enjoyment in order to secure a better one in the future. So, too, is character produced. Character is potentiality of appreciation and enjoyment kept in check, the reserve force of the individual looking to secure the higher happiness, the more permanent, in preference to the lesser, the unstable and the fleeting. It will not barter a calm and reasonable enjoyment in consonance with ideals for mere sensation that leaves one weak and dissatisfied. Character may be termed the exalted economy of the soul.—American Hebrew.

Bringing About Reforms.

It is truth, not soft sentimentalities, that bring reformation. It was truth, not music, that pierced the heart of Luther with conviction of sin and led to the reformation. It was the light from heaven that struck Saul blind and helpless on the way to Damascus and led to his ministry, by which the world has been made better in all ages. Why are men so reluctant to resort to the power of God for the salvation of man from all his corruptions? They will hunt in vain for a substitute. Their labor will be in vain till they return to the old paths of God's word for the salvation of the world.—Christian Instructor.

Unjust Criticism.

To criticise is easy. It requires no scholarship, no industry, no great labor to become an unmerciful critic. The smallest man can point out faults in the greatest. Small people often indulge in this kind of dealing with their brethren. Perhaps they are peculiarly tempted to do so my their very smallness.—Christian Advocate.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 24. "What I Owe to Christ"—Text, II Cor. viii, 9; I Pet. ii, 21-25.

"Though he was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor, that ye through His poverty might be rich."

We are so accustomed to think of the boundless power and perfection of God that it is most difficult to realize the cost to Him of the incarnation of Jesus Christ. We repeat the Apostles' Creed and in a faroff sort of way believe it, but the depth of its reality does not often come home in force to our hearts. Our own suffering and privations are rarely voluntary. They come without our consent, and we endure with more or less of patience and feel that the lot is hard, and if we are not discouraged and fault finding under them, we are really worthy of much praise. To have wealth and then through fault of others to become poor, to have fraud deprive us of hard earned money and reduce us to want, is apt to make us harsh and bitter of soul. Have you ever known any one who from choice after the possession of affluence laid it all aside that the privations and sufferings of poverty might be experienced? If so, the reason of it all might sustain the soul in the midst of all the self assumed lack of comfort, and the end to be reached would be an incentive to endurance. Such a one would have some faint idea of the spirit of the Christ in laying aside Divine power and blessedness and whatever was needed for the Eternal Son of God to become Son of man. The contrast of the fullness of God and the emptiness of man can be known only to him who has shared both. What depth of love must have been His to lead Him to lay aside the heavenly blessedness and take up the earthly barrenness!

"Christ also suffered for us"

The higher the nature and culture the keener the suffering. The more insensible one is to pain the coarser is the fiber of the whole being, the more sluggish the mind, the more cruel and brutelike. The higher we rise in the scale of life the more acute and sensitive become all sensibilities and the more susceptible of pain.

What capacity for soul suffering must He, the perfect man, have had! Keener than driven nails in hands and feet must have been the crucifixion of soul from the rejection by lifelong playmates and neighbors at His village home to the betrayal by trusted companion and charge of blasphemy by the highest authorities of the n

SPORTING.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Middlesex Junior base ball team, of South Plainfield, will cross bats with the New Market team Saturday. The game will be called at 2 o'clock. Randolph, c. f., and P. Smith, l. f. A. McDonough is the present captain of the Middlesex Juniors and B. Randolph acts as manager.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

This evening on the alleys of the Cranford Casino, the bowling teams from the Roselle Casino and the Westfield Club will do battle for the handsome silver cup to be given to the winner in the Press Bowling League by the Plainfield Daily Press. Westfield and Roselle are tied for first place and the three games this evening will decide as to who will hold the cup for the coming year. Roselle won last year so, should she win this time, the team will have to win it but one year more to own it, a condition of the league being that a team must win the cup three times in succession.

THE REPORTS WERE READ.

YOUNG LADIES' MISSIONARY BAND UNITED WITH THEM.

After the Business Session, An Address Was Made by Miss Watson, a Returned Missionary From Burmah—A Social Hour Followed.

The twenty eighth annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church was held in the parlors of the church yesterday afternoon. The members of the Young Ladies' Missionary Band met with the other society and their reports were also presented for the year.

Mrs. Reuben Knox, president of the foreign missionary society, presided and opened the meeting with Scripture reading, after which Mrs. D. J. Yerkes offered prayer. Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Jr., then sang "Here and There," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Isabelle Milne.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. B. J. Shreve, was very interesting, showing the amount of work accomplished by the society during the year. There had been $100 contributed to help missionary students in foreign lands and $22 50 was contributed to assist two young women who are now in a medical college in Philadelphia preparing to engage in mission work. In many other ways the members have assisted the cause of foreign missions.

Miss Ida Yerkes, treasurer, reported that over $500 had been raised during the year, all of which had been sent to the Board of Foreign Missions in New York. Additional amounts were subscribed at the meeting, one member giving $25 toward the work in memory of her late husband. Other amounts will be received within a short time.

Miss Laura J. Runyon reported an increase of twenty-two in membership. Various members have assisted in securing the new members.

At this time the report of Miss Bertha Thorn, as treasurer of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society, was presented by Miss Sue Woodland. It showed that $221 had been collected during the year, of which amount $106 was given for foreign mission work, and $48 for home missions.

The following officers were reported as having been elected at a recent meeting: President, Miss Harriet Shreve; first vice-president, Miss Sue Woodland; second vice-president, Miss May Batchelor; treasurer, Miss Bertha Thorn; recording secretary, Miss Edith Cairns; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank Jones; superintendent of collections, Mrs. R. W. Barnes.

This concluded the business, and Miss Watson, a returned missionary from Burmah, was introduced and made an address. Miss Watson has been a missionary in Burmah since 1867, and this is the third time that she has visited her native home. She will return to Burmah in a short time. She told graphically much about the work in the foreign field, of the progress being made and of the discouragements. She urged hearty support on the part of those at home in assisting in this grand work among those living in heathen lands. At the conclusion of Miss Watson's talk, Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, of Elizabeth, gave a short talk. She enthused the members to greater effort and interested all in what she had to say.

Before the meeting closed a solo was given by Mrs. DeWitt C. Brokaw, accompanied by Mrs. Milne on the piano. A social followed during which tea was served by Mrs. Frank Jones and Miss Ella Serrell, assisted by the members of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society.

Six Candidates Were There.

Six candidates were put through the first and second degrees at the meeting of the Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28 I. O. O. F., Thursday evening. Last evening a number of the members visited a sister encampment at New Brunswick and the third degree will be administered to the six new members of the Noah Dove encampment.

In Justice Mattison's Court.

Justice Mattison yesterday issued a summons in a case on contract against Samuel W. Doty at the instigation of Frank Wikoff and Andrew Stigliz, partners trading as Wikoff & Stigliz. The trial is set for Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MR. HARNEY'S MEETINGS.

Very Interesting and Helpful Services Held in Reform Hall—Continued Tomorrow.

At Reform Hall last evening the evangelistic service was most interesting and helpful. The sermon on "Christ, the King," was strong and helpful, and the singing by Miss Mears of "Shall You? Shall I?" and "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," was most appropriate and well received.

The sermon was a practical lesson concerning Christ as the actual King of this world, having all authority over it, but ruling only in the hearts that give themselves to him entirely, and requiring only a loving and loyal obedience. This was illustrated in various ways.

No meeting will be held this evening. The subject tomorrow morning at 10 30 will be "The Christian Aim" and tomorrow evening at 7 45 "Shall We Know Our Friends in Heaven?" Miss Mears will sing appropriate songs and interesting and helpful meetings are anticipated. All are invited.

WIDENING SOMERSET STREET.

WORK WILL BE STARTED AFTER APRIL COUNCIL MEETING.

One Side of Street to Be Completed at a Time So As Not to Obstruct Traffic.

Immediately after the meeting of the Borough Council, April 5, work on the widening of Somerset street will be commenced.

It is the intention of the committee to begin the work on the west side of Somerset street at the intersection of Park place, and complete the regrading down to the borough line, in order to allow traffic on one side of the street at a time.

The pavement and curb will first be adjusted. The present width of the street is thirty feet and it is now proposed to add five feet on each side of the roadbed by cutting off five feet from the width of the distance from the building line to the curb.

The present measurement from the building line to the curb is ordinarily nineteen feet and this will leave fourteen feet after the improvement is made. The pavements will be graded on either side of the flag stones which are to be from four to five feet in width.

As soon as the pavement is finished and before the street is graded the telephone wires will be arranged underground near to and parallel with the curb. The wires will be strung in conduits arranged by the telephone company.

The electric light wires used in lighting the streets will be removed and the poles taken away. These wires will be strung along the trolley poles. The electric light wires connecting with the private residences along the street will be removed entirely and new connections for this purpose will be made direct to the houses from the rear streets. The stumps, mostly being outside the proposed curb line, will not be removed until work on the roadbed is commenced.

The work will be in charge of William Emmons. It is the intention of the committee on streets to rush the improvement as fast as possible. No regular street commissioner has been appointed, and until one is selected the work will continue under the supervision of Mr Emmons.

DEATH OF MRS. GIDDES.

Passed Away Last Evening at Home of Son Near Bound Brook.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, March 23—The death of Mrs. Martha Giddes, one of the oldest residents of Harris' Lane, occurred last evening at the home of her son, Abram Giddes. She was the widow of Amos Giddes, and was nearly eighty years of age. The greater part of her life was spent in Mt. Horeb, near Warrenville, but since the death of her husband a few years ago, she had lived with her children in Plainfield and Harris' Lane.

She leaves seven children, Mrs. Henry DeMott, and Mrs. W. J. Conroy, of Plainfield; Abram Giddes, of Harris' Lane; Amos E. Giddes, of Bound Brook; Isaac T. Giddes, of Dunellen, and Jacob Giddes and Mrs. Lewis Perrine, of Dead River.

The funeral services will be held from the M. E. church at Mt. Horeb Tuesday afternoon next at 2 o'clock and the interment will take place in the cemetery at that place.

Passed Proper Resolutions.

Resolutions of condolence have been adopted by Wetumpkan Tribe, No. 229 I O R M., on the death of Mrs. Dike, wife of a member, and a copy has been ordered sent to the husband. Preparations are about complete for an entertainment to be given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall by the Wrens, April 8.

PRESS TROPHY WON BY ROSELLE CASINO.

Deciding Series of Games Rolled Last Night on Cranford Casino Alleys.

TWO STRAIGHT GAMES.

WESTFIELD CLUB BATTLED HARD BUT LOST THEM BOTH.

Roselle Won the First Easily But Second Was Westfield's up to the Last When Great Work Saved the Day for Roselle.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, March 23—The greatest excitement prevailed at the Casino last evening when the bowling team from the Roselle Casino and the Westfield Club team tied for first place in the Daily Press Bowling League, met for the deciding game. The alleys were lined with men, women and children from the three towns and every play at all out of the common was loudly applauded.

The first game started with both teams tied in the first frame but in the second frame Roselle gained twenty-two pins, W. S. Smith and Townley getting splits and C. D. Smith a break. In the third frame the Westfield's cut Roselle's lead down to ten pins, Townley pulling the Westfield's score up with a double header. In the fourth the Roselle's again gained a few pins, but in the fifth Westfield bowled in fine form and went ahead by six pins. Three breaks in the sixth, again put the Roselle boys ahead and in the seventh and eighth made such big gains that they were assured of the game. The roar that went up as the final score was called out showed that Roselle had many friends in the large audience. Roselle won by 129 pins.

The second game opened with Westfield leading with twenty pins in the first frame and in the second frame they increased this to forty five pins. In the third, three pins more added and in the sixth, a double by Harbison and a triple by Townley increased the lead to such an extent that the Westfield "rooter" almost went wild and the noise made was something new for the staid old Cranford Casino. The Westfield team led by ninety pins but in the seventh game they went to pieces and big bowling by the Roselle team put the cup holders within three pins of the Westfielders, and from then on it was a steady gain on the part of Roselle and a case of "rattle" on the part of Westfield. Roselle won by thirty six pins and thereby won the handsome silver cup offered by The Daily Press for the second year. Harbison took W. S. Smith's place in the second game.

The score:

ROSELLE.

	1st game.	2d game.
Patterson	134	142
Miller	177	139
Mulford	160	204
Smith	202	148
Warner	189	167
	862	799

WESTFIELD.

	1st game.	2d game.
Forster	142	125
Condit	168	164
W. S. Smith	118	140
R. I. Townley	169	188
C. D. Smith	136	146
	733	763

FOURTH CLASS WON.

First of Inter-Class Baseball Games Among Boys of Plainfield High School.

The ball teams of the Third and Fourth classes of the Plainfield High School played a practice game on Martine's Common yesterday. While it was not exactly exciting, it was very close throughout, and ended with a score of 5 to 1 in favor of the Fourth class.

The battery for the winning team was Alfred Eagan and Harry Scull and for the Third class H. Monyahan and Fred VanAuken. Before the teams are permanently organized for the season several more games will be played in order that all candidates may show their abilities.

In Court Twice in Twenty Years.

Patrolman Langer early this morning arrested Joseph Miller for drunkenness and disorderly conduct at the North Avenue station. Before City Judge Runyon, Miller pleaded for a chance to conduct himself more orderly and claimed that he had only been before the bar of the court twice in twenty years. City Judge Runyon suspended sentence.

HIRED ROSENBAUM'S LICENSE

YOUNG PEDDLER THOUGHT TO OBEY THE LAW AND SAVE MONEY.

Arrested For Peddling Without a License—While Rosenbaum Lost His License Forever.

A peculiar method of the use made of city licenses came to light in the City court this morning. Nathan Narder, a young peddler, while vending his wares in Plainfield yesterday, was stopped by Chief Kiely and requested to produce his license. The youth exhibited a license made out in the name of Samuel Rosenbaum and was promptly arrested for violating the peddling ordinance.

At the hearing before City Judge Runyon, this morning, Narder frankly confessed to the court that he made an agreement with Rosenbaum whereby he was to have the use of the license upon payment of $5 down and 25 cents a day for every day he used it.

Narder claimed that Rosenbaum had guaranteed the license to be valid for the purpose desired and he, himself, was innocent of any intentional wrongdoing.

The court looked upon the matter as a very pernicious practice and one that should be speedily stopped. The license of Rosenbaum was confiscated and revoked, the court announcing that as a further punishment no license would be issued to Rosenbaum in the future.

The frankness and apparent truthfulness of Narder's story lead the court to discharge him with a reprimand.

YEAR'S WORK OF ENDEAVORERS

ANNUAL MEETING OF SOCIETY AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Interesting Reports Were Received and Election of Officers Took Place.

The annual business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church was held last evening. In the absence of the president, George F. Brown, the chair was filled by J. Herbert Case, the vice-president.

The reports of all the committees were received and showed excellent progress.

The corresponding secretary, Miss Alice Woodland, reported the addition of seven in the membership. Miss Jessie Saxton, treasurer, reported that $76 had been collected during the year, and there is a balance of $1 15. The Westfield Fresh Air Camp received $7 and $30 was contributed to mission work. Mr. Henderson, a missionary in India, received $25. The balance was used for expenses.

Miss Grace Yerkes, superintendent of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society, presented an exceedingly interesting and favorable report. The nominating committee, composed of L. H. Biglow, Jr., Mrs. Hannah Flanders, Miss Florence Marsh, Charles Conover and N. Douglass Drake, presented the following names for the various offices and the election was unanimous:

President, N. Douglass Drake; vice president, George F. Brown; recording secretary, Miss May Serrell; corresponding secretary, Miss Alice Woodland; treasurer, Miss Florence Marsh. The heads of the various committees were then announced as follows: Look out—J. Henry Crane; prayer-meeting—L. H. Biglow, Jr.; missionary — Miss May Batchelor; social—Miss Ella H. Serrell; music—Miss Deborah Winn; flower—Miss Sue D. Woodland; welcome and press—Fred Emmel.

Recovered Full Amount.

The goods of Mrs. Nellie S. Clark, milliner, were sold by William R. Mattox, bailiff under the distress proceedings instituted by Frank S. Neal. Mr. Neal was represented by Lawyer John H. VanWinkle, Jr. William Newcorn appeared for Miss Louisa A. Daly, an attaching creditor. Miss Mary E. Norton was represented by Mr. White, of Perth Amboy. Mr. Neal recovered the full amount of his claim.

Guessed Identity of Notables.

Under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the church, the young people of All Soul's Unitarian church passed several hours in a social gathering last evening. Those in attendance busied themselves in guessing the indentities of the notable portraits and the titles of books given by illustration. Refreshments were served at the close.

Special Evangelistic Service.

A special evangelistic service will be held at Warren chapel tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at which Rev. J. O. McKelvey and Fred H. Andrews will make addresses. The Gospel campaign hymn book will be used.

VALUABLE TRUMPET FOR THE EXEMPTS.

Won By Auguste Saltzman at Fair in 1879 and Given By Him to Exempts.

CARRIED THROUGH EUROPE.

NOMINATIONS OF OFFICERS WERE MADE AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Silver Trumpet Presented By Mr. Saltzman in a Speech—L. E. Barkalew, the President, Responded—Other Business.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association, which was held last evening, the members were most agreeably surprised in being presented with what was probably one of the handsomest trophies ever secured by a local fireman. I was the costly silver trumpet won by Auguste Saltzmen at a fair given under the auspices of St. Mary's church in 1879. Nearly every firemen in the city contested for the prize, but Mr. Saltzman proved the lucky contestant and it has been in his possession ever since.

During his recent tour in European cities, Mr. Saltzman carried the trumpet with him and it was admired wherever seen. At Geneva, Switzerland, it was fitted with silken cord and tassels which added to its beauty. The trumpet was on exhibition at the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876, and attracted a great deal of attention.

In presenting the association with the memento, Mr. Saltzman stated that he wished it to be regarded simply as a remembrance of him as within a short time it is his intention to depart for Europe to remain some time. The only condition he imposed upon its acceptance was that if any time in the future, the association should disband, the trumpet should at once become the property of the Plainfield fire department.

President L. E. Barkalew accepted the gift in behalf of the association with a few appropriate remarks and the members were afterward allowed to inspect the trophy more closely and also read an account of the fair and the manner in which Mr. Saltzman secured the trumpet as given in detail in the Plainfield Bulletin of the time. The paper was also included in the gift.

The rest of the evening was spent in listening to addresses by members and also by Mr. Chrystie, of the Bayonne Exempts, who extended an invitation to the association to participate in their parade which is to be held May 15.

The only other business of importance transacted was the nomination of officers which resulted as follows: President, L. E. Barkalew; vice president, J. C. Blimm; recording secretary, G. Thorn; financial secretary, George Clark; treasurer, E. M. Laing; trustees D. W. Littell, E. M. Laing, J. F. Hubbard, W. A. Woodruff, E. A. Vermeule; relief committee, Edward Mosher and G. Thorn; representatives to convention, E. A. Vermeule, J. E. Flannery, J. C. Blimm, W. A. Woodruff, E. M. Laing and D. W. Littell.

BAD LANGUAGE.

Caused Trouble in the Household of Charles Jenkins at the Breakfast Hour.

Charles Jenkins, colored, of Cottage place, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault upon his brother, Oscar. Oscar, at the breakfast table yesterday, it is alleged, used some profane language to Charles' wife and was ordered to leave the house.

A general melee ensued in which Oscar was pretty well battered up and, it is said, more or less cobble stones were thrown by the members of the household.

City Judge Runyon suspended sentence at the hearing this morning.

Youthful Peddlers.

Adolph Shankle and Louis Stick, two youthful peddlers, were arrested yesterday for vending their goods without a license. On account of his youthfulness City Judge Runyon discharged Stick with a warning but Shankle, the older of the two lads, was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 or serve ten days in jail.

If they succeed in winning two out of three with Leal's he will contribute $10 to the association fund. The officers of the association have accepted the offer and will arrange the games as soon as possible.

Their own team is rapidly getting in definite shape and will soon be permanently organized. Among the candidates who are now being tried are as follows: For pitcher, Armstrong and Crite; catcher, George and Emmons; in-field, Jacot, Blatz, Townsend, Conover, Hamilton, Armstrong and Lewis; out-field, Emmons, Overton, Lewis, Stevens, Woodland, Hamilton and Messersmith.

PAYING OFF CHURCH DEBT.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS OF GRACE M. E. CHURCH GAVE ENTERTAINMENT.

Was to Get Funds Promised by Class Toward Paying Off Debt of That Church.

A pleasing entertainment was given last evening at the residence of Mrs. Edward A. Vermule by the Grace M. E. church Sunday class of Mrs. J. C. Pierson. The object of the event was to raise the amount the class promised to contribute towards defraying the present indebtedness of the church on the occasion of its anniversary some weeks ago.

The forepart of the evening was devoted to a musical recital and at its conclusion a children's play was enacted by several members of the class. During the evening delicious home made candy and cakes were sold and a clipping sale was also conducted.

Four little girls, Nettie Steiner, Alice Lippicott, Jeanie Davie and Alice Mason sang a humorous song entitled "The Chickens." Miss Winifred Carroll rendered in a sweet voice "My Margaruite," and received much applause. "The Black Hawk Waltz," a lively selection was played on the piano by Alice Mason in an extremely creditable manner.

Miss Mabel Stevens cleverly recited "The Boastful Butterfly" and this part of the evening's programme was concluded with a selection, "The Holy City," sung by Alexander Dreselt.

"Little Women," a two-act play, adopted from Louisa Alcott's story, by Elizabeth Lincoln Gould, was performed by the young folk in a way that showed careful study of the lines. In the caste were: "Meg," Miss Bertha Hill; "Mother," Miss Marion Pierson; "Grandfather Lawrence," William Pierson; "Joe," Miss Beth Winter; "Annie," Miss Jessica Hill; "Beth," Miss Edith Taft, and "Laurie Lawrence," Harold Level.

The members of the class contributing to the evening's amusement were the Misses Nellie Vermeule, Maud Wohlman, Nettie Bauersachs, Florence Layton, Nettie Layton, Alice Davie, Catharine DeMott, Mabel Stevens, Jennie DeCamp and Grace Martin.

The class succeeded in raising at the entertainment the full amount pledged to the liquidation fund.

DIDN'T PEDDLE.

James Webley Was Simply Out After Orders—Judge Discharged Him.

James Webley, colored, of West Fourth street, was brought before City Judge Runyon this morning on a charge of having peddled coal without a license. Webley claimed that he merely solicited; did not deliver the coal immediately on getting an order.

The court ruled that, inasmuch as Webley returned to his place of business before filling any order obtained, he had not violated the city ordinace. Webley was discharged.

Football This Afternoon.

The officials of the Plainfield Athletic Association received word by telegram yesterday that the football team of the steamship "Oceanic" would arrive in Plainfield this afternoon for the purpose of playing a second football game. The local team made preparations at once to meet the sailors and the game will be played on the Clinton avenue grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

LOCAL MILK DEALERS AFTER CERTIFICATES.

What They Are Required to Do in Order to Obtain Them From the Board of Health.

RIGOROUS RULES PROVIDED.

BOARD OF HEALTH CANNOT COMPEL DEALERS TO OBEY THEM.

But Hope That Dealers Will Comply in Order to Secure Certificate—Have to Give $200 Bond to Insure Performance.

The Board of Health has commenced issuing to applicants the preliminary certificates under the provisions of the ordinance passed in July, having for its purpose security against infected milk and cream. Already a number of milk dealers possess these certificates and are now anxiously awaiting the necessary examination of their cows by a veterinary and the inspection of the sanitary conditions of the stables in order to obtain the final certificate, which states that the dealer has complied with all the regulations in regard to the production, care and manner of sale of milk and cream.

As the owners of these certificates are sure to post them conspicuously and also to advertise the fact that they are authorized to do business under the conditions of the pure milk ordinance, it can be readily seen that in a very short time nearly all of the milk dealers will desire to possess them. Those who have given any thought to the subject claim that the ordinance will have the effect of increasing the business of one having the Board of Health certificate while it will also place at a disadvantage those who decline to comply with the restrictions.

To obtain a certificate, the dealer must make a written application on a blank furnished, containing a number of pertinent questions, the answers to which must be sworn to before a proper official. Among the conditions with which the applicant must agree to comply are: That the milk sold is obtained from cows officially examined and found to be free from disease; that the owner will report any addition to his herd; that, in case of sickness in the herd, the board be immediately notified; that cows suffering with tuberculosis be disposed of and the stable disinfected, and that both the stables and business places of the dealer be open to the board at all times.

In case any person connected with the milk business, or a member of his or her family, should be stricken with a communicable disease notice must be given and no further business done without special authority. Another important feature of the ordinance is that the owner must have his cows examined once a month by a veterinary appointed by the board at his expense.

Before any business is done, the dealer must furnish the board with a statement setting forth where the milk is produced; the persons from who it is purchased, and the names and addresses of regular costumers. This statement must be renewed four times a year.

The cow stables must be of a certain size and condition and the sanitary requirements are particularly stated. The food of the cattle must be wholesome and the water pure. The care of the cow, the milk and the utensils used are all elaborately detailed.

The dealer is required to furnish a $200 bond for the faithful compliance with the ordinance before the certificate is issued to him. A book, open to public inspection, containing a list of all those to whom certificates have been issued will be on file in the Board of Health office, and, in case of revocation, notice will be sent to the customers and advertised in public print.

The cost of the certificate is trifling and the benefits obtained are believed by the local health authorities so desirable to the milkdealers that in a very short time they are confident that few will be without them.

It should be borne in mind that the board has no authority to compel the dealer to obtain the certificate by fulfilling the requirements enumerated in the ordinance, with the exception of those pertaining to the protection of the public health. These it can and will enforce regardless of this particular ordinance.

THROUGH TROLLEY.

Surveying the Line Between Philadelphia and Trenton—Plans For the System.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, March 23—Johnson Brothers, the Ohio street car magnates, have obtained the right of way to operate a local trolley system in connection with their proposed New York and Philadelphia through line of trolleys. The syndicate not only promises to this city a 3 cent fare, but also the most improved type of car and up-to-date service.

In order to connect their line with the trolley system recently constructed between Trenton and Princeton, the Ohio people have purchased the Calhoun street bridge and a considerable strip of land from the New Jersey end of the bridge.

A great reduction in fare is promised on the through line. From this city to Philadelphia the time will be an hour and the fare fifteen cents, and from New York to Philadelphia in three hours for fifty cents. Civil engineers are engaged in surveying the route of the proposed trolley line between this city and Philadelphia.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

This is an age of great expectations. A farmer who sent 10c. to Mr. Lee, general passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley Railway, for "A Book on Travel, with Ten Steel Plates," has been heard from with a vigorous "kick." He thought he was to receive ten steel plates for his dining table.—Printer's Ink.

* * * * *

The Palisades Park bill, as it passed the Senate, was amended so as to make the southern terminus of the proposed park the southerly boundary of the borough of Englewood Cliffs, in Bergen county, which is about a mile and a half above Fort Lee. This removes much of the objection urged against the measure, that it would sacrifice the State's large riparian interests on the Hudson River. The bill carries no appropriation, and it is doubtful if the appropriation committee makes any beyond what is necessary to meet the expenses of the commission.—New York Herald.

* * * * * * *

The improved roads movement, which has made greater headway in New Jersey than in any other State up to this time, there being now more than a thousand miles of stone roads in the State, will experience a setback this year. It was hoped by the friends of the movement that last year's appropriation of $150 000 would be nearly doubled this year, in view of the enormous surplus in the treasury, of the durable character of such improvements and of their great and lasting benefit to the public. A bill was introduced fixing the appropriation at $250 000 and this was regarded as a compromise on the $300 000 originally asked for. But the appropriations committee has sternly set its face against making any increase in the amount appropriated last year, and $150 000 will be the appropriation.

This will mean that the building of improved roads will be brought to a halt in the counties of Essex, Middlesex and Mercer, and almost so in Monmouth, these counties having almost so in Monmouth, these counties having already, in their zeal and enthusiasm for good roads, expended all of their quota of this as well as of last year's appropriations. Somerset and Union counties will not suffer much from the deprivation, as their roads are naturally strong and good. But in counties where new roads are greatly in demand, and where the progressive spirit of improvement is abroad, there will be keen disappointment. Many think that, while the public are in the mood for making these improvements and the State's strong box is full of money, now is the time when these roads should be built. The surplus cash could not be used, it is urged, in a wiser or more profitable way than in equipping the State with good roads.—New York Herald.

LOCAL WOODMEN.

Attempt Being Made to Start a Local Lodge of Woodmen in Plainfield.

An effort is being made to organize a camp of the Woodmen of America in Plainfield. W. E. Carpenter, of Boston, the district organizer, has been at work in the city for some weeks past endeavoring to elicit the support of business men in the movement.

So far at least thirty men have signified their intention of joining the organization.

The first meeting will be held in the fore part of April but no definite date has as yet been fixed. The Woodmen of the World have a total membership of over 200 000 and claim to have a surplus fund of $300 000.

—Prof. Ivison, of Lonaconing, Md., suffered terribly from neuralgia of the stomach and indigestion for thirteen years and after the doctors failed to cure him they fed him on morphine. A friend advised the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and after taking a few bottles of it he says: "It has cured me entirely, I can't say too much for Kodol Dyspepsia Cure." It digests what you eat. L. Change in Mail Deliveries.

Postmaster Bird has again shown his executive ability and his fitness for the office of postmaster by making another important change in the delivery of mails at the West End which are now delivered at 8:30 o'clock in the morning instead of 11:30. Residents of the West End fully appreciate this change and are well pleased with the same, and thank the postmaster very much for it.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by L. W. Randolph.

Getting Ready For Races.

So soon as the ice breaks from Cayuga Inlet, Cornell will have her candidates at work in the shells. The second 'Varsity eight that will row against Columbia and Pennsylvania May 30 will be formed immediately. The eight will be worked alongside of the first crew, and will engage in daily spurts with the veterans. The men will then be in first class condition for their two-mile spurt on Decoration Day.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers 56 Warren St., N.Y.

MANY GOOD SHOWS COMING.

PROGRAMME FOR END OF SEASON AT MUSIC HALL.

Past Week Has Been a Quiet One But Activity Resumes Tuesday With Vaudeville Show.

Because of the inability to secure suitable attractions to take the place of sudden cancellations and breaking up of attractions booked for appearance at Music Hall, as before noted in these columns, Manager Maze Edwards was unable to present any dramatic performaces the past week. While this perhaps is a matter of regret, on the other hand it was good policy on the part of Mr. Edwards to close his doors to the offerings of questionable companies and his judgment in this respect, is commendable.

After this week, however, and up to the end of the present regular season the middle of May, there is a series of good bookings and attractions and "breaks" are not likely to occur.

The first event of the coming week, is the big White Rats Carnival, which, in other words, will be a vaudeville performance of highest degree of excellence, presented by some of the leading lights of the now famous White Rats Association, which is guarantee of their superior efficiency in the amusement line. The carnival is under the immediate direction of the association and George Thatcher, a fellow townsman, heads the list of artists. His name and work, is probably the best known to the local theatre goers. He is undoubtedly one of the most popular artists who has ever appeared here, but all are assured the work and offerings of the others whose names figure as "head-liners" in the bill, are deserving of greater praise and an entertainment excelling all other vaudeville performances seen here, may be anticipated.

An attraction that will call for more than passing attention from theatregoers is Harry Martell's realistic southern production, "South Before the War," which will appear Saturday afternoon and night of next week. The play introduces a number of scenes that are suggestive of the south in slavery times. The negro is represented by negroes in widely different environments. Jubilee songs, buck and wing dances, visions of an old time camp meeting, introducing all the characters usually seen there, a cake walk for gold and silver prizes are a few of the novelties introduced. The lovable and bright side of negro life, living in a village of plantation cabins, is shown, and the sum total of the entertainment is a scene of animated rural simplicity in Dixie, as pictured by the pens of writers famous in history and romance. The company presenting this interesting play is a very large one, numbering somefifty colored and white artists, all the leading roles being played by white people. They travel in their own $12 000 palace car.

One of the season's events in the line of popular priced amusements is the appearance of the charming little child star Irene Myers, who begins a week's engagement Monday, April 1. Contrary to the custom pursued by the average popular priced attraction, Manager Will H. Myers, under whose direction the company is offered, believes in giving his patrons new and novel features each successive season, and has therefore provided an almost entire new repertoire of plays, many new specialty acts and an entire new outfit of scenery and mechanical accessories.

One of the many attractive features of the plays to be presented this season, is the abundance of conspicuously strong parts, afforded Little Irene. They offer opportunity for displaying her versatility in a manner that will surely be appreciated. She will be seen, Monday evening as Chucky in "The Stowaway," followed by other good plays in which she will be seen to great advantage.

Jos. K. Emmett and Lottie Gilson in a splendid production and "At Piney Ridge" will be seen in the week of April 8. Vogel and Deminge Minstrels, Thos. Jefferson in his father's version of "Rip Van Winkle," "Monte Cristo" and "Quo Vadis" are attractions to follow.

A Horrible Outbreak.

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Isbill, of Morgantown, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25 cents at L. W. Randolph's.

Wants To Be a Citizen.

Charles Peterson, of Clinton avenue and Greenbrook road, has made application to the Court of Common Pleas of Somerset county for naturalization papers. Mr. Peterson is forty years of age and is a farmer by occupation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Firstbrook returned yesterday from Washington, D. C., where they have been spending their honeymoon. They will take up their residence on West Fifth street.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT

New Jersey Lawmakers Finish Their Work.

MANY IMPORTANT MEASURES PASSED

A Great Rush of Bills During the Closing Hours—Presentation to Officers—Legislation Reviewed.

TRENTON, March 23.—The final adjournment of the one hundred and twenty-fifth New Jersey legislature took place about 11 o'clock last night, although the nominal hour for the dissolution of the session was fixed for 3 o'clock. Just before that hour the hands of the clock in the two houses were set back, and the passage of bills continued until nearly 6 o'clock, when a recess was taken in order to give the governor an opportunity to consider the bills that had passed both houses, but had yet failed to receive his signature. The governor this year carried out the policy which he inaugurated two years ago of signing no bills after the legislature had finally adjourned.

Scores of bills passed both houses, and so great was the anxiety of members to get their pet measures through that there was practically no debate.

Governor Voorhees sent to the senate in the afternoon a large batch of nominations, all of which were confirmed under a suspension of the rules. Among the nominations was that of Senator Edward C. Stokes of Cumberland county, the governor's close personal and political friend, to succeed Lewis A. Thompson as clerk of the court of chancery. The appointment is for five years, and the position pays $6,000 annually.

The assembly before its adjournment had an informal session when Speaker Bradley was presented with a handsome gold watch by Mr. Marks, the Democratic leader, on behalf of the members of the house. Other officers of the house also received presents.

Among the important measures that were enacted by the present legislature were the antispring election bill, the congressional redistricting bill, the bill appropriating $50,000 for the preservation of the Palisades, Assemblyman Lewis' pure food bill, the bill placing the members of the state board of arbitration on a per diem basis, the bill authorizing the governor to appoint commissions to change the ward lines of cities, the Trenton armory bill, the bill providing for two additional vice chancellors and the resolution providing for constitutional amendments, reorganizing the judiciary system of the state and providing for biennial sessions of the legislature.

Another important action of the legislature was the diversion from the surplus of the state treasury of $800,000 to be used toward reducing the state school tax this year and a like amount for the same purpose next year.

The Pork Corner.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Rumors were rife on the board of trade yesterday that Armour interests were engineering a deal in May ribs that bids fair to produce broader results than the persistently reported "squeeze" in May pork. During the day speculative interests that have centered about the market for hog products for several days were diverted from pork and fastened on the big deal in ribs which Armour & Co. are credited with having under way. The Armour purchases of May ribs during the day amounted to more than 5,000,000 pounds, which is near the limit of the supply in the city available for delivery on May contracts.

Independent Furnaces to Combine.

PITTSBURG, March 23.—It is learned that a project is on foot and likely to be carried to a successful issue whereby all of the independent furnaces in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys will be combined in one company. The object of the combine is to protect the interests of the independents against the encroachment of the United States Steel corporation. Options are rapidly being secured, and the new company is expected to be in operation shortly with a capitalization of $15,000,000. This information comes from a prominent and reliable furnace man interested, who objects to his name being used.

Nouroulah Defeats McWeeney.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Nouroulah, Martin Julian's Turkish wrestling protege, had an easy task set him last night when he tackled James McWeeney of Chicago in a catch as catch can wrestling match at the Grand Central Palace. Nouroulah weighed 320 pounds and McWeeney 190 pounds. The Turk was by far too heavy and strong for the western man, and from the start it was easily seen that the Chicago man had no chance against the big fellow. Charley White refereed all four bouts and was the recipient of a generous welcome when he entered the ring at the beginning of the contests.

A Three Cornered Race.

BOSTON, March 23.—A race for a $50,000 purse, made up of $10,000 a corner and $20,000 added by Thomas W. Lawson, between Charley Herr, Cresceus and Boralma is announced by Mr. Lawson. A statement issued by the latter says that the race will be at Readville in the week beginning Sept. 16, all the gate receipts to go to charity. The race will be handled by the New England Trotting Horse Breeders' association.

Fosburgh Remains Disinterred.

RUTLAND, Vt., March 23.—The body of Ida Fosburgh, the Shoreham woman who died as the result of a drug alleged to have been sent to her through the mail by some unknown person, has been disinterred at Pittsford to permit a more thorough examination than was made at the time of Miss Fosburgh's death. State Attorney Donaway and Drs. W. R. Berry and G. E. Wood of Waterbury are conducting the examination.

Maxey Long Retires.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Maxey Long, the international champion sprinter, announces that he will race no more. He will from now on devote himself to business. Long won the international championship at the Paris exposition. On his return he broke all records.

Brazil to Resume Cash Payments.

RIO JANEIRO, March 23.—The Brazilian provisional treasury balance of 1900, after deduction for funding loan certificates, shows a surplus of £350,000, and the government will undoubtedly resume cash payments, with interest, in July.

NO QUARREL SAYS ODELL.

The Governor Gives Out a Statement of His Police Bill Views

ALBANY, March 23.—Governor Odell last evening issued a formal statement in which he declares that he is opposed to a metropolitan police bill because he does not believe that present exigencies would justify its enactment and for the further reason that he does not believe that it would be constitutional.

He refers to the respective positions which have been taken on the question by Senator Thomas C. Platt and himself and declares that they are simply honest differences of opinion and do not in the slightest degree constitute a quarrel.

The statement was given out by the governor shortly before he left the capitol for the executive mansion. The statement is as follows:

"I have read with great interest Senator Platt's authorized interview in this morning's papers. His reasons for and my objection to further police legislation are in the main correctly set forth. I, however, go still further, for I believe that a metropolitan police law not only would not be justified by present exigencies, but I should decline to approve such a measure on the condition that in my judgment it would be a violation of the spirit if not the letter of the constitution.

"That men may differ is self evident, but that such differences should mean the sundering of friendships which have covered a long period of years is ridiculous. There is no quarrel between Senator Platt and myself, nor can there be, because while we differ at times on questions we each have absolute faith in the integrity of purpose of the other and are broad enough in our views to recognize the right and the duty as well of each to act according to the commands of his judgment."

Governor Odell signed the bill of Senator Krum amending the transfer tax law, this act abolishing the fees which the county treasurers in certain counties now receive for appraising estates under the transfer tax law and authorizing the appointment of appraisers by the state comptroller. The comptroller is also given power to make several appointments to the inheritance tax bureau in his office. He is given patronage to the amount of about $65,000. It is estimated that the law will save the state $100,000 per year.

COMMITTEE DISAGREE.

Cubans Seem Likely to Finally Accept Platt Amendments.

HAVANA, March 23.—The committee on relations of the Cuban constitutional convention met yesterday to consider the report drawn up by its secretary, Senor Juan Gualberto Gomez, on the Platt amendments. In substance the report rejects four clauses, the clauses dealing with coaling stations, foreign relations, the right to intervene to preserve peace and the entering into treaties covering the points in question. The other clauses are treated on the lines of the previous report, the cession of the Isle of Pines being virtually agreed to.

Three of the five members of the committee objected to the rejection in toto of the four clauses mentioned, and it is believed that some consideration should be given them. No vote was taken, but a majority was opposed to acceptance. The committee adjourned until Tuesday next.

The committee's action is taken as a forerunner of the final acceptance of the Platt amendment. A member of the committee said this evening:

"The general tone of the people has changed, and this is having an effect upon the delegates. I do not believe that the convention will accept the report as it stands."

Many of the delegates have talked today with Senator Proctor, but he gave them no encouragement to believe that the next congress would modify the amendment. On the contrary, he told them it was clearly for the interest of the Cubans to accept the amendment.

The papers in the postoffice fraud case have been ordered turned over to the fiscal, who hereafter will be the only representative of the government in the prosecution. Messrs. Rubens and Lamar, who were preparing evidence, will retire. This move is said to indicate an early trial.

The New Hebrides Hurricane.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 23.—The steamer Miowera, which has just arrived here, brings advices of a terrific hurricane which swept over the New Hebrides islands with destructive effect. New Caledonia in particular suffering from its devastating effects. The wind drove several vessels ashore and played havoc with the nickel company's property. Trees were uprooted, plantations destroyed and houses wrecked, although there was no loss of life. At Tonga four good sized ships were driven ashore and completely wrecked. The steamer Miowera also brings a tragic story of the obliteration of a native village near Kumusi, New Guinea. The little settlement was completely wiped out by hostile natives from the interior. About 30 were killed, and 40 prisoners were carried off, the latter being women and children. The same band of marauders shortly afterward attacked a mining camp in the goldfields.

Big Demonstration Planned.

LONDON, March 23.—The Moscow correspondent of The Standard, in a communication dated March 18, says: "A great demonstration of 20,000 students and workmen was planned for yesterday, but possibly on account of the elaborate police and military precautions it has been postponed until the body of M. Bogoliepoff, the victim of Karpovich, is brought here for burial. For the last ten nights the troops of the Moscow garrison have slept in their clothing, ready for instant action. It will be surprising if matters are finally settled without bloodshed."

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 23.—Engineer Tobe Green of Montgomery and his fireman were killed and 20 cars were wrecked in a head on collision of freight trains half a mile north of Wilcox on the Montgomery and Mobile division of the Louisville and Nashville road. Both engines were badly damaged, and several cars were smashed to splinters.

Children Burned to Death.

ROCK ISLAND, Ills., March 23.—Fire yesterday in John Holling's farmhouse, on Big island, near the mouth of the Hennepin canal, destroyed the house, burned two children to a crisp and injured Mrs. Holling and her father, Henry Sebrandt. A third child is not expected to live.

Pale Weak, Run-down Overworked Women half sick, nervous, tired out with household and maternal cares, constipated, liver torpid, with blotched, muddy, sallow complexions, blood thin and impure, need building up and a thorough renovation of their systems. This is the time you need such a great nerve and stomach builder as the great tonic laxative. It gently moves the bowels and thus removes the causes directly upon the liver and kidneys, keeping them active and supplemented by its marvellous tonic properties clears the complexion, stimulates the appetite, quickens the circulation, increases the flesh, brightens the eye; the nervous exhaustion speedily disappears, and the entire system recuperates and tones up under the influence of perfect and permanent health.

Laxakola, the great tonic laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, as it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other laxative at any price. At druggists, 25c and 50c, or free sample of THE LAXAKOLA CO., 350 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Give the children Laxakola. It is absolutely safe, being purely vegetable, containing nothing of a harmful character. It builds the little ones up instead of tearing them down. It reaches every organ, cleanses and strengthens the liver and kidneys, purifies the blood and makes them hearty and strong. It tastes good. Children like it and ask for it.

ANGLO-BOER TERMS.

London Comment Regarding Recent Negotiations.

WHAT GENERAL KITCHENER OFFERED

Civil Administration In the Form of a Crown Colony With Representative Government as Soon as Possible.

LONDON, March 23.—The latest dispatches from Bloemfontein show that the 200 Boers who were reported captured near Thabanchu were refugees who surrendered voluntarily. They were in a bad plight and had recently been fighting under General De Wet and General Fourie.

With the exception of the pro-Boer organs all the morning papers comment upon the peace negotiations and recognize that the government has gone to the utmost point of leniency. The Daily Mail, which denounces the "weakness of the government" in the severest terms, says:

"It is startling to find that the government has capitulated on so many vital points. The ministers have been willing to concede as much as any 'little Englander' administration would dare to grant and have thereby administered a severe shock to the country's confidence. Our task in South Africa will now be harder than ever."

The Morning Post points to the significant fact that Lord Kitchener and Sir Alfred Milner, "the strong men on the spot," were ready to go further in conciliation than Mr. Chamberlain.

The Times, which calls the terms "extraordinarily liberal," thinks that no parallel can be shown to such indulgence to a vanquished foe, and it expresses a hope that the government's offer, although rejected, when once it becomes known to the mass of the Boers will make for peace.

The pro-Boer Daily News, after observing that "the overtures made from the British side are not in the most dignified manner," says:

"The reason for their rejection is quite plain. General Botha discovered, as Mr. Kruger did 18 months ago, that Mr. Chamberlain would raise his demands as fast as they were accepted."

The papers in general criticise most strongly the dual language concession.

The terms of surrender as shown by the correspondence between Botha and Kitchener made public yesterday are briefly summed up in the following letter written the Boer general under date of March 20:

"In the event of a general and complete cessation of hostilities and the surrender of all rifles, ammunition and cannon the British government is prepared to immediately grant amnesty for all bona fide acts of war committed during recent hostilities.

"British subjects belonging to Natal and Cape Colony, while not compelled to return, will, if they do so, be liable to be dealt with according to laws specially passed to meet the circumstances arising from the present war. As you are aware, a special law passed by the Cape legislature has greatly mitigated the penalties for high treason.

"The prisoners at St. Helena, Ceylon and elsewhere on the completion of the surrender will be returned to the country as quickly as possible. Military administration will cease at the earliest practicable moment, and civil administration will replace it in the form of a crown colony. Each colony will have a governor and an executive council, consisting of a number of official members, to which they will be nominated by the unofficial element."

Lord Kitchener added: "The government desires to add a representative element as soon as circumstances will permit and ultimately to concede self government. On the cessation of hostilities a high court will be established in each colony to administer the law independent of the executive.

"Church property and public trusts and orphans' funds will be respected. The Dutch and English languages will be used and taught in the public schools and allowed in the law courts.

"The government cannot undertake liability for the debts of the republics, but is prepared to provide £1,000,000 to repay the Transvaalers and Free Staters for goods requisitioned by the late governments or subsequent to their annexation by properly authorized commandants."

Boers Avoid the British.

CAPE TOWN, March 23.—The Boer raiders in the eastern part of Cape Colony are, with the exception of almost daily skirmishes, keeping out of the reach of the British. Colonel Scovell engaged Commandant Fouche and Commandant Malan near Blaawkrantz March 20. Three British were killed and four wounded, and four Boers were killed. Commandant Kritzinger is marching steadily northward. It is officially reported that General De Wet's command has been broken up for the present. This is probably to give the men a rest.

Kitchener's Conditions Harsh.

BERLIN, March 23.—The German press severely criticises Lord Kitchener's condition. "No wonder the Boers reject them," says the Berliner Post, "for such conditions would put the Boers on a level with West Indian mulattoes and mestizos." The National Zeitung in an elaborate discussion of Mr. Paul M. Botha's pamphlet, "A Boer to the Boers and the English," recommends it as "wise and imperial."

Boers and Supplies Captured.

BLOEMFONTEIN, March 23.—The result of the combined movements against General Fourie near Thaba N'Chu was the capture of 200 Boers, 140,000 sheep, 5,000 horses and a host of cattle. The Boers broke southward to the right and left.

New Hampshire Legislature.

CONCORD, N. H., March 23.—The house of representatives voted 184 to 107 against a resolution declaring for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. The legislature adjourned sine die yesterday afternoon. There was a stubborn and successful fight against the Franklin Pierce statue bill in the senate.

Quick Work With Bank Thieves.

HARRISBURG, March 23.—Watson Keiper and Henry Rowe of Lykens, who shot and killed Cashier Charles W. Ryan of the Halifax National bank of Halifax last Thursday in an attempt to rob the bank, were yesterday each convicted of first degree murder.

WILL OPPOSE RUSSIA

Japan Will Resist All Encroachments Near Korea.

NO SECRET TREATY WITH CHINA.

Japanese Government Will Not Rest Satisfied Until the Integrity of the Chinese Empire Is Assured.

LONDON, March 23.—The foreign office takes a pessimistic view of the immediate future in the far east, in spite of the settlement of the Tien-tsin incident, and entertains grave fears that the relations between Japan and Russia may shortly reach the danger point.

Judging from information obtained in various official quarters in London, Japan has confided to at least some of the powers her determination to oppose at all costs any secret agreements made between Russia and China by which the former could secure territorial or other advantages contiguous to Korea.

The British government has received no official confirmation that the Japanese fleet is mobilizing, but it would not be surprised to learn that such were the facts. A highly placed British official said:

"All Japan wants is a free hand against Russia. This she has got so far as England and Germany are concerned and, I presume, so far as the United States government is concerned, although I do not imagine for one moment that any of the powers mentioned would be drawn into a war between Japan and Russia. If Japan sees nothing for it but to fight, she would have the moral support of objections committed to paper by at least two other powers against secret treaties with China. That is all, but Japan seems to consider it sufficient to provide against interference."

Confirmation of the foregoing definition of the situation was afforded by the secretary of the Japanese legation, who said in the course of an interview:

"While rejoicing at the fact that England and Russia have reached a pacific settlement over the minor issue, the main question, the integrity of the Chinese empire, remains unsettled. In response to pressure brought by Japan upon Russia it was announced that Russia's secret treaties with China had been modified, but the terms have been withheld. Until we see the treaties we will not be satisfied that the modification does not consist of words merely, without any alteration in the spirit. In this contention we believe other powers will support us."

It appears that Great Britain would be quite willing to refer the whole Manchurian matter to arbitration on the lines of The Hague conference. The Tien-tsin siding affair is not considered important enough to be disposed of in this way, and it will immediately become a matter of diplomatic interchange between St. Petersburg and London.

PIRACY IN CHINA.

Ships Attacked Even In Sight of Canton.

PEKING, March 23.—Robert M. McWade, the United States consul at Canton, reports a great increase in piracy on the West river. Ships are attacked by the pirates even in sight of Canton, and their cargoes are stolen. Three pirates have been captured and beheaded in the presence of the foreign consuls, and at the same time a ship was being robbed within three miles of the city and a steam launch belonging to the Dutch consul was stolen.

The British headquarters here report the withdrawal of both Russian and British troops from the disputed territory at Tien-tsin.

M. de Giers, the Russian minister to China, believes that everything will be amicably adjusted at London and St. Petersburg and doubts the possibility of further trouble in the matter.

General Voyron, commander of the French troops, has ordered a new regiment to Tien-tsin to replace the one now there. French officers here think it was a mistake to leave a regiment recruited in a city at Tien-tsin. This regiment was composed of a tough Paris element.

At the meeting of the foreign ministers held yesterday morning the only question considered was that of policing the legation quarters.

A committee of ministers has been appointed to discover China's resources and report on her ability to pay the indemnity to be demanded by the powers. Many ministers are strongly opposed to China's having to pay to keep an army of 10,000 to 12,000 men here for the next two years, thinking this entirely unnecessary. Even those ministers who were here during the siege are tired of seeing Peking a military camp. They hope China will be put upon her feet as soon as possible.

The Russian Version.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23.—A dispatch from Peking, giving the Russian version of the affair, says: "The British military authorities have acknowledged that the disputed land was at the time under the protection of the Russian detachment and that three Russian boundary posts had been removed without their knowledge. The difference will now be peacefully settled by judicial investigations."

Cotton Compress Burned.

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 23.—The Greenville cotton compress has been burned, together with 1,500 bales of cotton, valued at $70,000. The compress was damaged to the extent of $15,000. The fire crossed the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad and destroyed the New Hope First Baptist church and then ate its way into Steels alley, destroying in all 17 tenement houses and most of the contents. The loss of the church and the tenement houses added to the loss on the compress and cotton runs the total to $100,000. Several people were badly burned, but none fatally.

A Million For the Naval Arch.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The city will be asked to appropriate $1,000,000 for the naval arch to be erected in Battery park. This statement is made by Park Benjamin, chairman of the naval arch committee. Until now the committee has been unable to state definitely what the cost will be. Mr. Benjamin says $1,000,000 will cover every expense in connection with building the arch and the beautifying of the park surroundings.

Press Congress Postponed.

March 24—I. W. Bothem, of Jersey City, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting in the afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. William Holmes and Martin A. Kurff will render vocal and violin solo.

March 25—Meeting of Board of Governors of of Muhlenberg Hospital.

A Successful Pastor.

It is the custom in the Methodist church of America for the various conferences to appoint the clergymen to their charges annually. There was originally in New Jersey no limit to the number of annual appointments of any one clergyman to a particular church. About the middle of the last century, however, the number of annual reappointments was limited to three. In 1888, that was changed to five and last May, the limit was again removed entirely.

Rev. Dr. Winfield C. Snodgrass has now been pastor of the First M. E church, of this city, for four years and the officials of that church have just extended a call to Dr. Snodgrass for a fifth year. The Newark Conference will undoubtedly confirm the appointment.

In Dr. Snodgrass, the First M. E church has had an exceedingly able and faithful leader and under his charge that church has grown and prospered during the four years he has been its pastor. During the recent Gospel campaign, Dr. Snodgrass was chairman of the committee from the Ministers' Association in charge of the meetings and again demonstrated his ability. The First M. E. church is to be congratulated on retaining a pastor of such character and ability. The length of time of his service here will now only be determined by the relations between pastor and congregation.

Those who are frequently called to board the cars of the Plainfield, Elizabeth and Central Jersey Street Railway Company at the North avenue transfer station long ago discovered that there is plenty of mud in that particular neighborhood. Whenever the day is at all damp, passengers are compelled to wade through several inches of mud to reach their cars. It would be well if the company made some provision which would obviate that usual muddy encounter. While a platform would be out of the question as it would block the street for traffic, a stone walk close to the tracks would relieve the situation to a great extent. What is really needed, however, is a regular station on private property so that the street can assume its old importance as a thoroughfare.

While the Plainfield Board of Health cannot force the local milk dealers to conform with their new rules, they have taken probably the most effective means of securing the desired end The members believe that the best patronage of the city will go to the milk dealers who are able to show Board of Health certificates, and they are confident that the milk dealers themselves will take the same view of the subject. The Daily Press today publishes a more detailed statement of the working of the new Board of Health ordinance under which these new certificates are issued.

At Perseverance Lodge.

The members of Perseverance Lodge, No 74 K. of P., met last evening and after the business was transacted an entertainment and social time was enjoyed. Past Grand Chancellor D. S. Rockafellow, of Somerville, was present and made an interesting address. A instrumental quartette, composed of members from Unity and Perseverance lodges rendered several pleasing selections.

'Twas Only a Flickering Light.

The deceptive appearance of a flickering light from a stove in a dwelling at the corner of Essex street and Spooner avenue, was the cause of a still alarm being turned in last night at 10:30 o'clock. Chief Doane's eagle eye quickly detected the mistake.

Organist at Tremont.

Clarence Sears, late organist of Holy Cross church, in the borough, recently accepted a position with the Methodist church at Tremont, N Y. Besides being organist for the church he has a chorus choir of thirty voice under his instruction.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.

Mrs. George Giebelhouse Stricken While at Her Home on Arlington Avenue Last Evening.

On returning home from work shortly after six o'clock last evening, Fred Koch, of Arlington avenue, was startled to find the inanimate figure of his aunt, Mrs. George Giebelhouse, lying on the parlor floor. Becoming alarmed he called his uncle, Mr. Giebelhouse, who had been working about the garden and together they made an examination, which resulted in the calling of Dr. Fritts, the family physician. It needed but a glance on the part of the latter to see that the woman was dead. The cause of death was heart failure.

Mrs. Giebelhouse had been in the best of health during the day and a short time before her body was found, her husband heard her playing the piano. She was alone at the time and from appearances she must have felt the attack coming and attempted to call him from the garden but succumbed before reaching an outer door.

She was fifty-nine years old and had resided in this city for a long time. She leaves no family but has always taken care of three of her brother's children.

The funeral services will be held from St. Mary's church Tuesday morning at 10:45. Interment will be at Woodlawn, N. Y.

LUTHERAN SERVICE.

Was Largely Attended and Rev. A. Aaron, of Passaic, Preached Sermon.

A large attendance of Lutherans was present at the service held in the German Lutheran church last evening and all were greatly pleased with the sermon delivered by Rev. A. Aaron, of Passaic. The text for the evening was taken from Zicheil xiii:7, the theme for the sermon was "Smite the Shepherd" and the speaker divided it into three parts: "Smite the shepherd," "the sheep shall be scattered" and "I shall gather the scattered ones."

The close of the sermon the congregation cordially invited Mr. Aaron to visit them again, which he intends doing at his earliest possible convenience to form a Lutheran church.

The meeting was closed by benediction from Rev. William Trebert after which a vote of thanks was extended to him and the members of St. Peters church for their kind assistance.

Successful Dime Social.

The members of Star of Plainfield Lodge, Shepherds of Bethlehem, held a dime social last evening at the home of Justice and Mrs. V W. Nash, Prospect avenue Suur's Imperial Orchestra was present and rendered a a number of selections and also played for the dancing later in the evening. Miss Josie Murphy gave several recitations and Marcus Hoyt gave rag-time selections on the piano. Refreshments were served at midnight, after which dancing was enjoyed until early this morning.

No Armory in Smalley Bros. Building.

The Daily Press was informed yesterday by an officer of Co. K that arrangements had been made for an armory to be located in Smalley Brothers' new building on North avenue. This is an error. The top floor of the new building is to be used for lodge rooms and the proposition for an armory has never been considered by Smalley Brothers. This statement is made in justice to those who are erecting the building

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, March 23—The musical and literary entertainment given in the Methodist church last evening was a decided success in every particular. It was greatly enjoyed by a large audience whose expectations were more than realized. The "sunbonnet" drill, in which twenty-four young women in appropriate costumes took part, was very unique and a decided novelty, intricate movements and figures being enacted with almost military precision. The recitations of Miss Mary A. Luckey, the mandolin selections by W. C. Townsend and the singing of the Somerville quartette composed of Messrs. Reusswig, Voorhees, Totten and Johnson, merited the long applause which each received. In addition to these the remaining numbers on the programme were given by Mrs. R. L. Giddes, Miss Lulu Glee, Miss Irene Day, Miss Emma Nelson, Miss Josie Dealaman, Miss Josie Dunham and Fred Wilcox.

For the past week or more, a dog poisoner has been at work among the canines belonging to residents of the borough in the vicinity of the Whittier school. A number of valuable animals have already died in a mysterious manner and complaints are being made daily.

The contract case of the Paul T. Norton Co. against Ludivici, which was to have been tried in Justice Warden's court Monday, has been settled out of court. The plaintiffs were represented by Craig A. Marsh, of Plainfield.

The members of the Board of Education will meet this evening for the purpose of organizing for the coming year. The president and clerk will be elected. The committees will be appointed by the president at a later meeting.

Charles Tharp, the butcher, transferred his business from the Liable building to the store in the Dealaman building formerly occupied by Henry Wiedenhaupt.

H. C. Gaskill is making a number of improvements about the premises of A. N. Randolph, including the erection of a new grape arbor.

Mrs. Everitt Gordon entertained relatives from Elizabeth yesterday.

Augustus Bonnell, of Junction, was the guest of W. H. Cole yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. Terry was the guest of Westfield relatives.

PLAINFIELD AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, March 23—William Field, coachman for A. D. Shepard, is detained at his home with a contagious fever. In view of this fact it has been decided that it will be best to have the school children vaccinated. This is now being done by local physicians. A number of school children submitted to the unpleasant performance yesterday, and more will be treated likewise today. There is, however, no cause for great alarm. The action is taken as a precautionary measure to save further trouble.

The Town Committeemen will meet this evening to organize for the coming year. It now looks as though the organization with T. J. Nichols, chairman, and Theodore Bruckman as treasurer. E. L. Hand will undoubtedly be clerk another year. Perfect harmony exists in the committee, and the chances are that many improvements will be made in the township this year. One great improvement will be the laying of more sidewalks and the repair of roads.

Harry Gynette will soon move from this place to Essex Fells, Essex county, where he will establish headquarters for thoroughbred trotting stock. He will also build a fine half-mile trotting track.

Seeley's paper mill is kept running steadily every day at present and a busy season is looked for. It is possible that before long the mill will be run nights.

Miss Emma Clark will graduate from the Ruth School at Plainfield April 1, after which she will take a position as stenographer and typewriter in an office.

The Misses Shott and Miss Addie Johnston, of Peddie Institute, returned to their homes yesterday to spend the Easter vacation.

Wm. Buckley, who has pneumonia, was reported as improved yesterday. His fever was not so high and he was rational most of the time.

The regular services will be held at the Baptist and M. E. churches tomorrow and the pastors of each church will occupy his pulpit.

There will be a rehearsal of Easter music this evening at the Methodist church. A full attendance is desired of all members.

Since the death of Stites Parse his widow has been quite ill at her home on Front street. Her trouble is nervous prostration.

Relatives from Newark are stopping at the home of Mrs. Stites Parse on Front street.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, March 23—The sidewalk between New Market and Dunellen has been greatly improved during the past week. With the exception of three or four places the walk is now in good shape, but the muddy spots stand out in strong contrast to the cinder walks adjoining and the paved walks just over the borough line.

Mr. Hays and son, of Brooklyn, were in town yesterday inspecting their recently-purchased property.

William Fitz Randolph, who has been confined to his bed by grip, is now able to be out.

Mr. Weber, of Bound Brook, purchased a horse of C. T. Rogers yesterday.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, March 23—A "rubber" social will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society Monday, April 1. To secure admittance one must present some kind of rubber or rubber goods, from the sale of which it is expected to realize a good sum of money.

The leader for the Christian Endeavor meeting tomorrow evening will be Joseph H. Cubberley. The topic will be "Helps on Christian Endeavor Prayer Meetings."

It is expected that invitations will soon be out to a farewell party, upon occasion of the removing from South Plainfield, of Jessie Dayton and family.

Thomas Brantingham is deepening his well, the supply from it sometimes falling short. Albert Manning and Joseph Eckart are the contractors.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society met this afternoon in the church. The topic was "Companions of Christ."

Parties have begun to try their skill at gigging some of the mud suckers which come up the brook after dark.

The P. O. of A. are to give an invitation dance in Washington Hall, Wednesday of the first week in April.

The choir of the Baptist church will meet this evening at the church for practice of some new Easter music.

Miss Gussie Clawson has returned home after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Tingley, of Dunellen.

Plans are being made for a progressive euchre meet to take place some time in the near future.

The house occupied by George Smith is undergoing extensive repairs.

Cornelius Young is recovering from his recent severe illness.

—Rev. Mr. Bailey, recently State Superintendent of Home Missions of the State of Washington, will address the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church tomorrow evening at 7:30.

—Rev. W. L. Jones, of Westervelt avenue, will conduct the East Third Street chapel meeting tomorrow evening.

—The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. L. W. Randolph.

Gave a Dance.

Miss Carrie Bullman, of Manning avenue, entertained thirty of her friends at a delightful dance given at her home last evening. Music was furnished by Professor Naylor. Refreshments were served after the midnight hour.

Berlin. Im vergangenen Jahre kamen 55,427 Dampf- und Segelschiffe in Berlin an, 54,513 gingen von Berlin ab, und 4130 berührten Berlin auf der Durchfahrt. Die Zahl der ankommenden Schiffe blieb gegen die des Jahres 1899 um etwa 2000 und die der abgegangenen um 1000 zurück, während die Zahl der durchfahrenden Schiffe nahezu unverändert blieb.—Nach einer Berathung von Vertretern der Verkehrspolizei, des Magistrats und der Firma Siemens & Halske wurde die Weiterführung der Untergrundbahn der Firma Siemens & Halske vom Potsdamerplatz über den Hausvogteiplatz, Spittelmarkt bis zum Alexanderplatz gesichert.—Die Frauenrechtlerin und Schriftstellerin Gräfin Marie v. Schlieben, die unter der Anklage stand, ihre Villa bei Berlin, nachdem sie dieselbe hoch versichert hatte, in Brand gesteckt zu haben, wurde vom Schwurgericht trotz belastender Zeugenaussagen freigesprochen. Als der Obmann der Geschworenen das freisprechende Verdikt verkündete, fiel die Angeklagte in Ohnmacht und mußte aus dem Gerichtssaal hinausgetragen werden.

Christianstadt. Der Konkurs des Bankiers Müller in Breslau hat auch unser Städtchen in Mitleidenschaft gezogen. Die hiesigen Müller'schen Fabriken haben den Betrieb eingestellt, wodurch ungefähr 400 Arbeiter brodlos wurden.

Köpenick. Weil er von seinem Vater gezüchtigt worden war, erhängte sich der 13jährige Sohn des Arbeiters Fr. Wolck. Auf einem hinterlassenen Zettel, der mit der Adresse seiner Mutter versehen war, hatte der jugendliche Selbstmörder das Motiv der That noch ausdrücklich angegeben.

Provinz Hannover.

Geestemünde. Der Fischdampfer „Primus," der Hochseefischerei-Gesellschaft „Nordsee" in Nordenham gehörig, ging am 10. Januar d. J. mit einer Besatzung von elf Mann in See und ist nicht wieder heimgekehrt. Es ist leider kaum noch zu bezweifeln, daß er ein Opfer der Stürme in der Nordsee geworden ist.

Osterode. In Teichhütte hatte sich die Ehefrau des Kutschers Lossie kurze Zeit von ihrer Wohnung entfernt und ihre vier kleinen Kinder unbeaufsichtigt allein zurückgelassen. Die Kinder spielten inzwischen mit Streichhölzchen und erlitten schwere Brandwunden. Das kleinste, 1 Jahr 6 Monate alte Kind starb nach kurzer Qual.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Kassel. Der dahier wohnhafte Bankier Kersten wurde wegen fauler Geschäftspraktiken zu 4 Jahren 6 Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Ems. Die Stadtverordnetenversammlung genehmigte die Erbauung eines Schlachthauses und Einführung einer modernen Schwemmkanalisation mit Abwässerung. Die Kosten sind auf über 600,000 Mark veranschlagt.

Geisenheim. Wer in Zukunft als Eleve in die hiesige Lehranstalt für Obst-, Wein- und Gartenbau eintreten will, muß die Reife für die Obertertia eines Gymnasiums, Realgymnasiums oder einer Oberrealschule oder für die Sekunda eines Progymnasiums, Realprogymnasiums oder einer Realschule zweiter Ordnung haben. Der Unterricht ist zweijährig. Für die Gartenbauschüler genügt der Besuch der Volksschule und eine zweijährige Lehrzeit.

Provinz Pommern.

Stettin. Einen Vortrag über seine Erlebnisse in Transvaal und im Burenkriege hatte hier unter großer Reklame der „Afrikareisende Paul Sauer" angekündigt. Ein zahlreiches Publikum hatte sich eingefunden. Der „Afrikareisende" erschien aber nicht, er war längst mit dem an 400 Mark betragenden Eintrittsgeld verschwunden. Das Publikum war einem Schwindler zum Opfer gefallen.

Swinemünde. Auf dem Regierungsdampfer „Blitz" schoß der Maschinist Lange mit einem Tesching nach Möven. Dabei traf er den Matrosen Bülter, der todt zusammensank. Der unglückliche Schütze, ein Mann nahe den Sechzigern, stellte sich sofort der Behörde.

Provinz Posen.

Posen. Die Errichtung einer Maschinenbauschule in Posen ist gesichert. Die Bauarbeiten sollen demnächst beginnen.—Der Inhaber der Firma Antoni Rose, Valerian und Chrzanowski, war vor dem Schöffengerichte angeklagt, Postkarten zum Verkaufe gestellt zu haben, die das Bild eines polnischen Adlers, sowie die Bilder von Polen trugen, die im Jahre 1831 die Waffen gegen Preußen getragen hatten. Es wurde gegen den Angeklagten auf eine Geldstrafe von 30 Mark und Einziehung aller vorhandenen Postkarten erkannt.

Wreschen. Der frühere polnische Parlamentarier Rittergutsbesitzer v. Janta-Polczynski ist in Komorze gestorben.

BOICE-RUNYON & CO.,
PARK AVE. AND RAILROAD

A lady living at Lawrence, Mass., describes an interesting condition of affairs in her household. When she first heard of Ripans Tabules she was having an awful spell with her stomach. She had had them off and on all her life and had swallowed enough medicines to stock up a drug store. "I was losing flesh every day," said she. "Some days I was so weak I couldn't get out of bed. I know if I hadn't got relief I wouldn't be here now." Two dollars' worth of Ripans Tabules was all she ever used, and they made her a well woman. Her husband says she looks better now than he ever saw her. She made him take the Tabules for biliousness and they acted just as well in his case. Ripans Tabules are a regular stand-by in that family now.

WANTED—A case of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. 10 for 5 cents, may be had at the drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, for inquiry to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

THE ATTRACTIVE HOME.

Bedrooms and Their Possibilities in the Way of Decoration.

Here are two striking ways of furnishing a bedroom. One is to have the woodwork white, the walls covered with ribbed English cretonne and the white framed furniture upholstered in the same goods. This is a prevailing fad just at present, and it gives a very pretty effect, especially in a yellow and white combination. When this idea is carried out, of course the bed is brass or white enamel. The dressing table can be draped in the same flowered goods also, and a very Parisian effect can be given by the addition of silver candlesticks with fluffy shades matching the tints of the flowers.

The other way is to have a colonial room. To make this effective an old fashioned mahogany four poster is a necessity. This occupies the place of honor in the room. Across the foot lies a patchwork quilt of silk. If Aunt Abby or Hepzibah has bequeathed you one of these treasures, all the better for you, but if she has not any fashionable woman's exchange will provide you with one if you pay the price, usually a sum in three figures. The woodwork of your room should be mahogany or cherry, the paper any light old fashioned design. Many people favor the pale blue and white figures. The furniture should be antique if possible, but if not a few simple pieces of mahogany or cherry will do if they follow the colonial lines. An antique wardrobe or a highboy will add to the effectiveness, and a small table should stand by the bedside holding a silver candlestick and an old fashioned snuffer. A brass warming pan ought to hang on the wall, and the fireplace must have old fashioned andirons and brass studded bellows. Of course the floor should be waxed and polished to a degree, and if you can scatter over its surface a few braided rugs in artistic colorings your room is perfect.

R. DE LA BAUME.

WORK FOR A RAINY DAY.

Dressy Trifles Which Can Easily Be Made by Clever Fingers.

Every spring we need a thousand and one little extra things to wear with our gowns—ties, stocks, belts and fancy fronts for tailor mades. We cannot get along without them, yet they cost a lot of money when bought ready made—a great deal more money frequently than they are really worth. Any woman of ordinary skill can make just as pretty things at one-half the cost. Take this handsome little front, for instance. Can anything be simpler? Pale lavender chiffon is accordion plaited and laid over a bloused lining of taffeta of the same shade. The collar is of the same material, and so is the bow, which is edged with a ruching of the chiffon. The rippled arrangement is made of cream mousseline de soie with a gilt figure. The rippled effect is easily made by taking a square piece of the mousseline, tacking it down the center in two deep plaits and letting the edges fall as they will. The edges, by the way, are finished with the lavender chiffon ruching. The belt shown is made of white satin stretched over a stiffened foundation. Tiny gilt beads are sewed over its surface. The buckle is of gold and green enamel.

TO WEAR WITH TAILOR MADES.

PORTO RICO IMPROVED.

Governor Allen So Reports—He Will Visit Washington Soon.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 23.—Governor Allen in the course of a fortnight will leave for Washington to confer with President McKinley. Among other matters he will discuss with the president the question of the customs fund held by the treasury which is due to Porto Rico, and he will ascertain the president's desire with respect to the disposal of this fund.

Mr. Allen will also advocate public improvements here, including roadmaking, and will call attention to other matters affecting local administration.

Speaking of his recent trip into the eastern parts of the island, the governor said he did not see much poverty or distress. Indeed it seemed to him that the conditions in that section of Porto Rico had improved since his previous visit. He remarked that, judging from the records of the imports, the people were now able to buy more than ever before since 1872.

PANAY PACIFIED.

The Visayan Insurrection Seems to Have Entirely Collapsed.

BACOLOD, Negros, Philippine Islands, March 23.—During the present week there has been an almost thorough collapse of the Visayan insurrection. There have been 800 surrenders in Leyte, and the insurgent commander in Panay handed in 180 rifles. Besides this, Diocno, the insurgent leader in the island of Panay, who was wounded and captured, has sent orders to his subordinates to surrender their arms. This practically ends the disturbances in the island of Panay.

The Philippine commission held a conference yesterday with a splendid representation of citizens. The commissioners carefully explained to the citizens the method by which it was proposed to adjust the provincial civil government law to the unusual conditions here, where the people have had a territorial or state government for 21 months. There will be numerous discussions in order to simplify the question.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Two Princeton students were fined $20 for creating a disturbance in Trenton.

The battleship Massachusetts, which went aground at Pensacola, Fla., was floated.

Of two insane convicts who broke out of the Matteawan State hospital one was recaptured.

Domestic rates of postage between the United States and Cuba will go into effect April 1.

Plots against the czar involving high officials were said to have been discovered in Russia.

New Tenants at Black Rock.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 23.—At a time when the self appointed guardians of the Black Rock mansion of the late Millionaire George F. Gilman were absent in New York the Bridgeport Trust company, through the persons of Sheriff Fenelor and Officer Wright of the local police last night took formal possession of the property. The officers went out to the estate shortly after supper last night and at the door met Edward Sanborn, whom Mr. Percival had left in charge of the portion of the premises over which he had assumed control. Sanborn had received instructions to admit no strangers, it is said, but he did admit last night's visitors without objection. Within the house Messrs. Fenelor and Wright were met by Mrs. Potts, the mother of Mrs. Hall, and she, like the guardian of the outer door, smilingly turned over the house to the new arrivals. Fenelor and Wright have installed themselves comfortably at Black Rock and state that they propose not to be driven from their vantage ground.

A Tribute to Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Lincoln Emancipation league of the District of Columbia, an organization of colored men, will send a representative to Springfield, Ills., with a fitting tribute of respect to be presented in the name of the league and its friends in the District of Columbia on the occasion of the removal of the remains of Abraham Lincoln to the national Lincoln monument in Oak Ridge cemetery and the formal dedication of his tomb on May 30.

New Rifle Sight For the Army.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The ordnance department of the army has arranged to equip all the United States Krag-Jorgensen rifles with a new sight, developed by the department after years of careful experiment. The feature of the sight is the combination of the ordinary hinged elevating eyepiece with a side movement controlled by a simple and strong friction clamp, which turns the sight into a very effective graduated wind gauge.

Chartered For a Transport.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—In order to expedite the transportation of troops between San Francisco and Manila the war department has chartered the steamship Ohio of the Empire Transportation company of Philadelphia for use as a troopship. It is estimated that she can be made ready in two or three weeks for the trip across the Pacific.

Three Bullets From His Head.

MONTREAL, March 23.—Three bullets were extracted yesterday from the head of Arthur B. Townsend, the New York clubman who attempted to commit suicide at St. Lawrence hall on March 13. The operation was a delicate one. It is expected that Townsend will be able to leave the hospital in a short time.

Disorders Continue In Marseilles.

MARSEILLES, March 23.—Late yesterday the strikers attacked and wrecked two street cars on the Cannebiere. The engineer and conductor were roughly handled. A detachment of gendarmes and hussars succeeded in rescuing the engineer and conductor amid the hooting and stone throwing of the crowd.

The Palisades Safe.

TRENTON, March 23.—Governor Voorhees has just signed the Palisades commission bill. It gives the commission the right to eminent domain from Nyack down to a point opposite Fort Washington. It also appropriates $50,000 for expenses. The act insures preservation of the Palisades.

SUSAN CAUGHT JIM.

How a Mountain Girl Brought an Old Lover to Time.

By a Pretty Little Feminine Scheme the Big But Bashful Fellow Was Nerved to Do What He Most Wanted To.

The best looking girl in the Pine mountain country was Susan Natter and Susan was extremely, not to say foolishly, fond of Jim Davis, a young man who was my chief timberman in the season, and who owned and conducted a good farm in the river bottom as a side issue, says the New York Telegram. Jim was the catch of the mountains, and, like other men in that happy class, he was careless and stood a fair chance of losing what ought to be his because he was too sure of it. Susan was just the girl for him, but he had almost worn out her patience by his dillydallying policy, and one day I thought the end had surely come, and it was all up with Jim, who was a favorite of mine, as the winner of the Susan stakes.

"I want to see the best dress pattern you've got in the store, colonel," she said to me as I sat out in front of the commissary one day, "and bein' mighty pertickler, I want you to wait on me," she added, with a smirk not usual to Susan.

"Oh, indeed," I said, chaffingly, going around behind the counter, "something must be going to happen."

"I reckon thar is," she admitted frankly.

"Good for you," I laughed, "and I'm glad that Jim has got to his senses at last."

"Jim," she sniffed, disdainfully. "Tain't Jim ez fer ez I know."

"Not Jim!" I almost shouted, for Jim was my choice for her. "Not Jim? Well, who is it?"

"Oh, that's for me to know and you to find out, colonel," she laughed, provokingly, and gave me no further satisfaction. She bought the goods and went away, and two hours later Jim came in from work and said he was going over the mountains that night with one of the Martin girls to a dance.

"By the way, Jim," I said, "did you know Susan Natter was going to get married?"

"Thunderation, colonel, no!" he blurted out. "Ner she ain't, is she?"

"I guess she is. I sold her a wedding dress this afternoon, and she told me she was."

"Who's she goin' ter marry, colonel?" he asked, anxiously.

"I don't know. She wouldn't tell me."

"Well, she'll tell me, colonel," he said, with the lines getting hard across his face and little wrinkles of doubt and fear showing between. Jim was facing a possibility that had never presented itself to him in its full strength. He went out of the store and up the road leading to old man Natter's place. The next morning he stopped at the store on his way to work.

"Did you find out who it was?" I asked him at once, for I was interested more than he had been.

"Course I did," he answered, with confidence.

"Who is it?"

"Me," and he laughed the short laugh of the man who had been made to do what he knew he should have done and what he most wanted to do.

"Oh," I exclaimed, "is that it?" And later I discovered that Susan had devised a pretty little feminine scheme to bring Jim to the point, and by my unwitting, but by no means unwilling, assistance, she had succeeded fully.

Liquid Reciprocity.

America drinks to Germany, and Germany drinks to America, each in the beverage of the other. The Fatherland sent us beer, which we soon learned to like, and after awhile became exceedingly fond of, as the brewery interests of the land bear witness. And now we hear strange things. The commissioner of internal revenue tells us that Germany is rapidly becoming a nation of whisky drinkers. More distilled spirits are exported from here to Germany than to any other foreign country, and the Germans prefer bourbon whisky to rye. During the last fiscal year 411,489 gallons of bourbon and 137,578 gallons of rye whisky went from our distilleries to Germany.—N. Y. Herald.

Peace in Servants' Hall.

No servant of the marquis of Salisbury complains to him twice of a fellow-servant. When a complaint is made the marquis dismisses the complainant. He keeps about 70 servants, and if he interfered in their squabbles he would have little time for affairs of state.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Retail Operations Generally Active, Textiles Still Dull.

NEW YORK, March 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

The position of general business is satisfactory, being marked this week by increased activity of retail operations throughout the west and in some Atlantic seaboard cities, which is considered the forerunner of a generally good spring trade. New enterprise is reflected in the largest demand for many months for builders' hardware and general materials, and contracts for prompt delivery of all structural goods are very difficult to place. Collections are prompt, and railroad tonnage is well maintained. Earnings of all railroads for the month of March to date show a gain of 10.8 per cent over last year and 36 per cent over 1899.

The gains extend to practically the whole country. The textile industry alone does not improve.

Quotations of pig iron and finished steel tend toward a higher level. There is still the wholesome element of conservatism, which prevents violent fluctuations and keeps the advance at a moderate rate, but the tendency of the market is undeniably toward better things. The most conspicuous strength is apparent in bessemer pig, which now commands $18 at Pittsburg, while steel billets have sold at $24, and high carbon billets reached $30.

Leather is in good demand, particularly for sole, but quotations are unchanged, although stocks are light. Hides at Chicago have declined almost steadily for two months, the net fall in the average of ten grades amounting to 7.2 per cent. Despite the weakness in domestic lines, foreign hides are tending upward.

Special reports telegraphed to Dun's review this week indicate that the winter wheat crop is in good condition, and an unusually heavy acreage was planted in the southwest, while ravages by Hessian fly have been exaggerated.

Failures for the week numbered 224 in the United States against 188 last year and 33 in Canada against 27 last year.

Havana a Healthy City.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—A report has been received at the war department from General Wood showing that the death rate for the city of Havana for the month of February was 19.32 per 1,000, which is said to be below the average of most American cities. The death rate, it is stated, steadily decreases, and this is taken as an indication of improved sanitary conditions. The death rate is considered remarkable. During the last February of Spanish rule in 1898 it was 82.32 per 1,000. The particular object of the report is to endeavor to correct what are said to be erroneous impressions concerning the sanitation of Havana, and attention is called to the fact that that city now can be classed among the healthy cities of the world.

Large Southern Shipments of Coal.

PITTSBURG, March 23.—More coal has been shipped south by river this month than in any other month in the history of the Pittsburg river coal trade. All previous big records have been left glimmering, and the coal men are pleased. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company has already sent south during March from Pittsburg 600 coal boats and 400 barges, and this amount will be swelled before April 1 by the shipment of an additional 200 boats and 100 barges. The total shipment for the month will approximate the enormous amount of 30,000,000 bushels of coal, or about 1,200,000 tons.

Sensation at Murder Trial.

SALEM, Mass., March 23.—The last witness of the day in the Bailey murder case was W. H. Stiles, brother-in-law of Best, the accused, who made the sensational statement that Best had given him a plan of the barn on the Breckheart Hill farm and indicated a spot at which would be found a watch. Best instructed him to get the watch and said, "For God's sake get rid of it, for if it is found I am a lost man!" The state officers proceeded at once to the farm and soon found the watch claimed to be Bailey's and some money in the Breckheart Hill farm barn at the spot described by Stiles in his testimony.

Transfer of Carnegie Stock.

PITTSBURG, March 23.—The shares of all the holders of stock in the Carnegie company will likely be transferred before the first of next week to J. P. Morgan & Co., syndicate managers for the United States Steel corporation. President C. M. Schwab, who has been in Pittsburg since last week, returned to New York yesterday. It is understood that he carried with him the stock of all the stockholders who are not now in New York and that they will be exchanged for the new securities as soon as details can be completed.

Piano Factory Burned.

MILWAUKEE, March 23.—Fire which started shortly after 10 o'clock last night gutted the big piano establishment of William Rohlfing & Sons on Broadway between Wisconsin and Main streets. The loss is est

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1 00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1 00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Claimed He Was Robbed.

Chas. Cottis, of South Second street and Manson place, was given a hearing by City Judge Runyon on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct at the station house yesterday morning. Cottis had called on the chief of police to lodge information against a person whom, he alleged, stole his watch. When told to come again when sober Cottis became very profane and was locked up. City Judge Runyon gave him the choice between paying $3 fine and undergoing ten days imprisonment.

TAX RATE WILL GO UP A FEW POINTS.

Result of Increase in the Appropriations For Several of the City Departments.

PREPARING THE BUDGET.

FINANCE COMMITTEE WILL PRESENT IT AT NEXT COUNCIL MEETING.

More Money Will Go to Police Department, Board of Health, Sewer Beds and Public Schools—Increase Will Be Slight, However.

All of the committees of the Common Council have sent to the finance committee of that body the amount of the appropriation they will require in their particular department of the city government during the coming year and it is expected that the annual budget will be presented to the Council at the meeting next Monday evening. The finance committee is now preparing it and will report, according to the usual custom, at the April meeting of the Council.

There will undoubtedly be an increase in the budget over the figures of last year, but it will not be a large one. In four departmnnts of the municipal machinery is there prospect of an increase. For five years the requirements of the police department have remained the same. During the past year the police department has been located in suitable headquarters and an increase of two men made to the regular force. This will make it necessary for the Police Board to have more funds.

One of the chief objections to the proposed improvements at the city's sewage disposal plant was that it would require considerable money to make these changes. The members of the Council have now taken the view of the situation that something has got to be done there and that it will be economy to install the best plant possible as they now consider the one recommended by Mr. Osgood to be. The funds to meet this expenditure will be raised by the issuance of bonds but it will necessitate a small increase in the appropriation for that work. Then, too, there will be an increase in the appropriation for the Board of Health.

There has been a steady growth in the local school system which has been made necessary by the fact that more and more children are going to school each year. Then there is the new High School which is to be built as soon as the troubles over the new school law are settled. While that expenditure will be met by a bond issue, it will naturally have its effect on the size of the appropriation for the Board of Education.

The fact that the Legislature has decided to pay part of the State school money from the surplus in the treasury will tend to reduce the State school tax. Then there is the natural rise in the total assessed valuation of property which comes with the growth of the city which will allow for a slight increase in the total amount to be raised by taxation without a consequent rise of the tax rate.

At present the tax rate in Plainfield is 2 46, which is ten points lower than it was a year ago. While the city officials have no figures as yet on which to base their calculations with any degree of certainty, it seems probable that the tax rate will be advanced slightly, possibly to 2 50. It is doubtful, however, if the tax rate equals the figures of a year ago when it stood at 2.56. As soon as the total amount of the year's budget and the demands of county and State are known, the city officials will be able to figure pretty closely as to just what rate Plainfield property owners will have to pay during the coming year.

Next School of Instruction.

The next school of instruction of Company K will be held tomorrow evening at the home of First Lieutenant, Dr. W. WAS HOME MISSIONARY DAY

REV. A. J. BAILEY SPOKE IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH YESTERDAY.

Told of the Work of the Home Mission Society in the West and Related Some of His Personal Experiences.

Yesterday was observed as Home Missionary Day at the Congregational church. The speaker at both morning and evening services was Rev. A. J. Bailey, formerly superintendent of home missionary work in the State of Washington.

In his sermon at the morning service, Mr. Bailey referred to the fact that this year is the "diamond jubilee" of the Home Missionary Society, the society having been organized seventy-five years ago. He told of the beginnings of the society's work, and how it had been increased and extended He also described some of the methods of work carried on by the organization, which goes into the new towns and sparsely settled districts of the west and plants Sunday-schools and churches. The great need of even greater work along these lines was emphasized, Mr. Bailey telling stories of churchless settlements and of country districts where no clergyman was available even to conduct a funeral service.

In the evening, Mr. Bailey spoke again before the Christian Endeavor Society of the church. This address was more informal than that of the morning, and consisted largely of incidents of home missionary life in the great west. He referred to the stories of "Sky Pilot" and 'Black Rock,' and said that the incidents in them were not overdrawn but often happened in careers of the lives of home missionaries.

MONDAY'S BATCH IN COURT

CITY JUDGE RUNYON DISPENSED JUSTICE TO A NUMBER OF OFFENDERS.

Most of the Offenders Had Been Drunk and Disorderly—Two Hackmen in Court.

City Judge Wm. N. Runyon speedily disposed of the usual number of Monday morning cases at the police headquarters this morning. With the exception of two alleged violations of the city hack ordinance, all the charges were based on drunk and disorderly conduct.

John Lehan, of Brooklyn, who has been resting in the station house since Saturday morning, was first heard by the court. Drunkenness, disorderly conduct and begging were the charges to which he had to answer. City Judge Runyon thought Lehan had been sufficiently punished and he was discharged.

Frank Meeker was the next to face the Judge. He, according to the patrolman, was drunk and disorderly on Watchung and North avenues. The court recalled a suspension of sentence of sixty days imposed for the same offense in November, and Meeker will now serve a couple of months at Elizabeth.

Another drunk and disorderly charge was that against Charles Callaghan, who was arrested by Patrolman Lunger yesterday, The court decided to inflict a punishment of $10 or forty days for the offense.

Thomas Burns and Cornelius Guinee were brought before the court for alleged violations of the city hack ordinance. Both men had stood within the prescribed limits as specified in the ordinance, so a rival hackman thought, and a demand was made on Patrolman Vanderweg to arrest them. The court ascertained that the men had stood at the curb of the North Avenue station but neither had relinquished his hold on his horse's neck. City Judge Runyon deemed this to be no violation of the ordinance and Burns and Guinee were released.

ST. MARY'S NINE IS READY FOR SEASON.

Team Has Rented Ground at Corner of West Front Street and Darrow Avenue.

THOSE WHO ARE TO PLAY.

WILL BE ONE OF STRONGEST TEAMS IN THIS SECTION.

Schedule is Now Nearly Complete—Uniforms Will be Grey With Red and Black Jersey and Stockings—Fred Winn Engaged as Pitcher.

The clear and bracing weather of last Saturday was the means of bringing out numerous base ball teams for practice games, among them being the nine from St. Mary's Athletic and Literary Association better known as St. Mary's Base Ball Club. This team was one of the most closely watched all last season and from present prospects it will be one of the foremost Plainfield nines during the coming summer,

The manegement has rented from E. M. French, the large lot at the corner of West Fourth street and Darrow avenue, opposite the West End fire house, where all local games will be played. In a few days the work of removing the several trees which now grace the premises and the laying out of the regulation diamond will be commenced and hurried to completion in order to use it during the pleasant spring days. The grounds are probably the most centrally located and easily reached of any in the city. Trolley cars pass directly in front of them while the Grant avenue station of the Central railroad is but three blocks away.

While the schedule is about completed, several minor dates yet remain to be filled and Manager James Monahan expects to have these taken before another week. Games have been arranged with strong amateur and semi-professional teams from New York, Brooklyn, West Brighton, S. I., Philadelphia, Newark, Jersey City, Westchester, N. Y., Roselle and other places.

The team itself is rapidly being gotten into shape and strengthened at every weak point. One of the most well known and expert local pitchers, Fred Winn, has been engaged and will play exclusively with the St. Mary team during the season. The second pitcher will be Thomas O'Keefe while the remainder of the players will probably be as follows: Catchers, Joseph Barry and George Kean; first base, Dennis Kilbride; second base, Fred Winn and James Madden; third base, George Kean and Peter Fleming; short stop and captain, Thomas Mack; right field, George Taylor and John Madden; centre field, Harry Angleman and Thomas O'Keefe; left field, Peter Fleming. Where two names are mentioned the men will alternate in playing.

The club uniform will consist of grey suit with red and black jersey and stockings. "St. Mary's" in red letters will be placed in a neat manner across the front of the shirt. In order to assist the team in practice and to provide players in extremities, a second team has been formed with John Carty as captain which will also play dates with local and other nines.

TALKS TO FARMERS.

Quarterly Meeting of County Board of Agriculture This Afternoon.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, March 25—The quarterly meeting of the County Board of Agriculture was held in the Court House, Somerville, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Addresses were were made by the following: Charles Howell Cook, of Trenton, "Dairy Matters;" Dr. Ward, of Lyons Farms, "Growing Fruit;" Wm. Hamilton, of Somerville, "Raising Corn;" Wm. H. Rogers, of North Plainfield, "Fertility of the Soil." Joseph Fitzga made an exhibit of grass seeds.

Hearty Response Made.

The appeal made to the generous public through The Daily Press by the Women's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital for contributions to defray the expense of a brace for a little cripple in that institution met with a hearty response. The board has already received sufficient funds for the purpose and it now desires to thank the donors for their generosity.

Dispossess Proceedings.

Dispossess proceedings were commenced in Justice Smalley's court Wednesday by Benjamin G. Elliott to recover possession of the premises, 13 Pearl street now occupied by Frank Hull. The distress warrant is returnable tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

GLEN GARDNER SWEPT BY RIVER OF FIRE.

Double Disaster Resulted in Destruction of Business Portion of That Town.

OIL CARS WERE WRECKED.

TANKS EXPLODED AND BURNING OIL FLOODED THE MAIN STREET.

Loss Will Amount to Fully $25,000—No One Fatally Injured—Train Broke in Two and Sections Collided Right by the Town.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Glen Gardner, March 25—At an early hour yesterday morning the business section of this town was almost totally destroyed by fire caused by the wrecking of an oil train on the Jersey Central Railroad, the tracks of which are located on a spur of the mountain directly over the houses on the main street. Before the flames could be extinguished, a loss of $25,000 resulted.

An east bound mixed freight, drawn by engine No. 427, broke in two a half mile west of the town. The engineer attempted to draw ahead of the rear section but was unable to do so and when directly in the village, the two parts collided. The rear end was composed of twenty three oil tanks of the Columbia Oil Co., filled with crude oil, of which thirteen were involved in the subsequent disaster.

The foremost tank was hurled lengthwise across the tracks and the remainder were piled in all directions. Several close succeeding terrific explosions ensued, setting the contents on fire and sending a river of flame into the town, igniting building after building.

The terrified inhabitants were barely able to escape from their homes in scanty appeal, before seven frame buildings were a mass of flames and a pillar of fire one hundred feet high was sweeping down the main street. The heat was intense and scores of people were badly burned.

As soon as the citizens recovered from their panic the work of staying the progress of the flames was commenced, but, as the town was without a fire department, the work was necessarily slow. Water only added fuel to the flames and assisted the oil in spreading, so other means were resorted to. High embankments of earth were thrown up, checking the burning oil and allowing it to burn out. Word was sent to Somerville and Washington and the fire departments of both places hurried to the scene on special trains. With their arrival the work of extinguishing began with renewed vigor and continued throughout the day.

The oil tanks on the railroad continued to burn with unabated fury and for a quarter of a mile the tracks in both directions were torn and twisted by the heat. Traffic for the time being was suspended, but being Sunday it was not as heavy as ordinarily. Under the supervision of the railroad officials the work of removing the wreckage and making repairs was commenced as soon as the men were able to get near the tracks. The oil tanks burned until nightfall.

Some of the buildings located in the path of the burning oil and which were totally destroyed were the post office, the carpenter shop, hardware store and lumber yards of Judge Martens, John Crouse's meat market, William Swayze's coal yard, the railroad company's coal dumps, the large store house of John Carling, including fifteen hundred bushels of wheat and one dwelling. Numerous other dwellings were partially burned or badly scorched. All the parties affected are in moderate circumstances and the loss will be heavily felt.

As near as can be estimated at present, the combined loss will not amount to more than $25,000. Of this $15,000 is placed on the buildings, $3,000 on the oil belonging to the Columbia Oil Company and $400 each on the thirteen tank cars destroyed. A conservative estimate places the total insurance at $15,000

SAILORS WERE BEATEN AT FOOTBALL GAME.

Plainfield Association Football Club Defeated Boys From "Oceanic" 3 to 2.

GAME WAS AN EXCITING ONE.

SAILORS MADE A GOAL BUT IT WAS NOT COUNTED.

Game Played on the Clinton Avenue Grounds Saturday Afternoon—Second Time Plainfield Team Defeated Sailors From "Oceanic."

With an almost perfect day in regard to weather and a large crowd in attendance, the second association football game between the P. A. F. C. and the team from the steamer "Oceanic" was played on the Clinton avenue grounds Saturday afternoon. The result was the same as the preceding one inasmuch as it ended in favor of the Plainfielders although it was won by a narrow margin, and but for an unfortunate foul made in the last half by an "Oceanic" man, it would have resulted in a tie. The score was 3 to 2

Both sides played better than in the first game and goals were made only after the hardest kind of work. Each side secured one in the first half, Cowly scoring for the home team after a clever bit of playing. During the latter part of the first half the ball was kept in Plainfield's territory almost constantly but it ended without the sailors being able to score again.

In the second half the playing was very brisk and in a short time the score was made 3 to 2. In spite of clever team work on the part of the "Oceanic" men, they were unable to make it a tie. They succeeded in getting a goal but, unfortunately for them, the referee declared it to be a foul. Nothing daunted, they continued the game but the referee's whistle blew with their opponents one in the lead.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

P. A. F. C.		OCEANIC.
Dodd	goal	E. Duff
Nicholson	fullback	Angus
Turner	fullback	Taylor
M. Comb	halfback	Smith
McCallagh	halfback	Masters
Head	hal back	Barlow
Campbell	right wing	Cody
Cowly	right wing	Griffith
McNeil	left wing	Bickitts
Parks	centre	Maloney

Referee—R. Gow; linesmen—Hendry and Connolly; time of game—one hour and forty minutes.

STREET SIGNS HERE.

Expected They Will Be Ready to be Placed in Position Inside of a Week.

The new street signs ordered by the Common Council arrived Saturday evening and are now in the hands of W. H. Brokaw, the carpenter, who is fitting them with wooden bases. The latter will afterward be treated to two coats of paint in order to make them more durable after which the work of erecting them will commence under the supervision of Street Commissioner Gavett. It will probably require a week's time to complete the preliminary work.

QUIET WEDDING.

Miss Minnie B. Martin and Edward F. Stoeckle Married Saturday Evening.

The marriage of Miss Minnie B. Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Martin, of Manson place, and Edward F. Stoeckle, of this city, but formerly of Newark took place in a quiet manner Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G Kennedy Newell, pastor of Hope chapel, at the latter's residence. Miss Anna L. Martin and David B. Martin, sister and brother of the bride, accompanied the young people and acted as bridemaid and best man.

At the conclusion of the cermony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents by the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Stoeckle will reside in this city.

Musical Entertainment.

Tuesday evening, April 2, a musical entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Monroe Avenue Epworth League at the Monroe Avenue church.

Among those who will take part in the programme will be "The Young Ladies' Orchestra," of Dunellen. As in the other entertainments in the Epworth League Entertainment Course no admission price will be charged. All are welcome to the enjoyment of this evening of music.

Gospel Campaign Committee.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Gospel campaign will be held in the Y. M. C. A. parlor Tuesday evening. All members are urged to be present.

MANY ALMOST PERSUADED.

REV. J. O. MCKELVEY TOLD HOW MANY ARE LIKE AGRIPPA.

Evangelistic Service Held in Warren Chapel Last Evening—Pastor and F. H. Andrews Spoke.

A very interesting and helpful meeting in the form of an evangelistic service was given in Warren chapel last evening. The attendance was unusually large.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of the chapel, made the first address and talked at some length, taking for his theme the words found in Acts xxvi: 28, "Then Agrippa said unto Paul, 'Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.'" In the course of his remarks Mr. McKelvey said it mattered little whether Agrippa said this in sarcasm or in truth, the thing which is of greater importance is that there is just such a class of people today. They realize the Saviour died for them; they admit they are sinners, yet they refuse to accept the love so freely given, although without any reasonable excuse for doing so. In closing, Mr. McKelvey said there was but one time for unbelievers to accept and that is now; but one place, wherever God is; and but one way, through Jesus Christ.

Mr. McKelvey was followed by F. H. Andrews, who furthered the pastor's remarks with a heartfelt talk, drawn from the life and teachings of Daniel. At the close of the meeting a number arose and announced their belief in Christ, and stated they were not afraid to make known their convictions before men as Daniel was not before kings.

SEARCHING FOR GREEN'S BODY

RIVER IS GOING DOWN AND EVERYTHING POSSIBLE IS BEING DONE.

Meredith Dryden Reached Des Moines Friday And Is Now in Charge of the Search.

Despite the fact that every possible effort is being made, no trace has yet been found of the body of Volney F. Green, of this city, who was drowned in the DesMoines river, near Des-Moines, Iowa, a week ago. Meredith Dryden, his brother-in law, reached there Friday and a letter has just been received from him.

He found the college authorities doing all they could and he immediately joined efforts with them in the search. They had offered $100 reward for the recovery and Mr. Dryden added $100 more. Boats were kept on the river during daylight grappling for the body. At the dam, six miles below the point where the accident occurred, a rope with hooks affixed every six inches, has been stretched across the river. It was proposed to use a drag chain the entire width of the river. The river had also been dynamited for a distance of two miles.

A telegram from Mr. Dryden says that the river is returning to its normal proportions and that they hope to find the body now very soon.

The parents of the young man have received hundreds of letters of sympathy, many of them coming from the friends the young man had made since his arrival at DesMoines. It was evident that his earnestness in his work and the manliness of his character had made him a general favorite with all who knew him. A copy of resolutions of condolence, passed by the sophomore class of the S. S. Still College of Osteopathy, was also received by Mr. and Mrs. Green.

TWO FRANCHISES GRANTED.

Third of Proposed Cemeteries at Oak Tree Will Probably Secure One, Too.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Metuchen, March 25—Franchises were granted at the meeting of the Raritan Township Committee Friday evening to two of the three cemeteries which propose to locate at Oak Tree. The franchises were given to the Oak Tree Cemetery Association and the Woodland Heights Cemetery Association, and it is expected that the Cedar Heights Cemetery Association will secure a franchise at the next meeting.

Former Judge C. T. Cowenhoven, of New Brunswick, was present at the meeting and protested against the granting of the franchises, but refused to tell who he represented.

EARNEST ADDRESS BY CITY JUDGE RUNYON.

Took Charge of the Service at the First Methodist Church Last Night.

IN ABSENCE OF PASTOR.

URGED CORDIAL RECEPTION TO NEW MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH.

Related His Own Experience While at College—Duties of Church Members to Their Pastors—Should Give Him Encouragement.

A very large number of worshippers filled the First M. E. church last evening, when City Judge William N. Runyon was in charge in the absence of Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, the pastor. The latter preached in Rev. Theodore S. Henderson's church in Brooklyn. Numbered among those in the audience were a great many young men, all personal friends of Judge Runyon.

There was special music by the choir and a song service. There was also a selection by a quartette composed of Mrs. A. B. Meredith, Miss Templin, Charles L. Lewis and Dr. C. B. Lufburrow.

Following the musical part of the service, Judge Runyon offered a fervent prayer. He then talked for a half hour earnestly and enthusiastically concerning the cause of Christ. He spoke plainly and impressively. In his opinion the recent evangelistic services had resulted in a deeper and wider spiritual interest than any he could remember. The time had now arrived when all Christians should do their utmost to assist the young Christians, who decided for Christ recently.

Continuing Judge Runyon talked in part as follows: "It seems to me that if there are any that the Master cares for more than others it is the young Christians just entering His service, and they should be treated tenderly and with every consideration. They are going to try an experiment and it is our place to help them become strong Christians. Give them a cordial welcome, make a place for them in the church and thus help them to feel a responsibility."

He related his own experience on entering college, and of his visit to a Baptist church there, where his welcome was so cold that he never went back.

"Most of us have one talent," he said, "but we are held responsible for that one, and we should try and make the best of it. We are either for God or against Him and I believe that the idle man is worse than the man who is known to be working against God. Let us all join forces in working for God and in helping to save souls in Christ's name."

Judge Runyon then spoke of a habit certain people have of criticising ministers. He said that these people hold their pastors up to ridicule and never give him any encouragement. After he works a whole week putting his best thoughts and efforts into his sermons for Sunday, there is not one word of encouragement and he is not even told that they were a blessing. He did not believe that when a minister put on cloth he put off flesh. He was human and needed the sympathy and help of his people The speaker urged all to unite their forces and work constantly for the salvation of souls.

In conclusion the speaker had a word for the unconverted, some of whom were young men in the congregation whom he had learned to love as he would a brother. He urged them to give their hearts to Christ and live for Him. If they had been through the mill, had become dissatisfied with the world, he begged them to try living for Christ.

After the singing of the doxology, the service closed with a brief prayer by Judge Runyon.

Reception to Parents.

The Plainfield High School teachers will hold an informal reception in the Franklin building Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at which the parents of the pupils have been invited to attend. An address will be made by Dr. Ellis W. Hedges, on "Right Conditions of Health for High School Students," and Superintendent Maxson will speak on "The Home and the School." A large attendance is expected.

Will Tell of China.

Rev. James Henry Openshaw and wife, missionaries from Western China, will speak tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Park Avenue Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Openshaw will dress in the native Chinese costume and will sing in Chinese.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by L. W. Randolph.

—Hosiery at Peck's will be appreciated by the boy who wears them, by the mother who sees them and by the father who pays for them.

—Grand Foreman V. W. Nash has returned from Camden, where he has been attending a conference of A. O. U. W. Grand Lodge officers.

—Twenty persons have been received in Grace M. E. church on probation, as a result of the recent evangelistic services held in this city.

—Like Oliver Twist, children ask for more when given One Minute Cough Cure. Mothers endorse it highly for croup. It quickly cures all coughs and colds and every throat and lung trouble. It is a specific for grippe and asthma and has long been a well-known remedy for whooping cough. L. W. Randolph.

Edward Preger, of New York, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Samuel J. Unger, of 79 Summit avenue.

Miss Mildred Nile, of North Adams, Mass., a niece of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Wean, of West Fourth street, is very ill with diphtheria. She recently came to Plainfield for a visit and was taken ill last Friday. Her parents were sent for Saturday.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

In the space devoted to "Notable Men in the World of Finance," Thursday's New York Herald has a picture of Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, of East Front street, president of the Atlantic Trust Company and various other corporations.

It has been suggested that it would be an excellent idea if the postal authorities should place a letter box near the new railroad station. A great many people now travel on that side of the tracks and a box would be a convenience for them.

* * * * *

It is considered by many that the Jersey Central Railroad Company has made a mistake in not having the underground crossing at the North Avenue station open outdoors instead of inside of the two stations. Yesterday morning, as well as several other mornings, there has been an almost unbearable smell of foul gas in the tunnel and it has filled the waiting room at the new station to such an extent that patrons have been obliged to go outside. Yesterday morning the ticket agent was obliged to open the ventilators to get rid of the smell. As previously stated, an electric fan is located in one end of the tunnel and this is supposed to drive out the bad air. This it partially accomplishes, but the trouble is that the bad air is driven from the tunnel to the waiting rooms, there being no outside ventilation.

EX-MAYOR KILLS HIMSELF.

Tragedy Follows the Disgrace of an Intimate Friend.

NILES, Mich., March 25.—W. J. Gilbert, former mayor of this town, reputed to be wealthy and one of the best known and most respected residents of Barrien county, was found dead in a storehouse in the rear of his residence, where he had ended his life with a bullet.

Grief over the misfortune of a bosom friend is believed to have caused the suicide. Warm personal relations existed between Mr. Gilbert and Charles A. Johnson, cashier of the First National bank, who fled a few hours before the failure of that institution and was brought back under arrest from Ohio a few days ago, charged with wrecking the bank.

Mr. Gilbert was Johnson's legal adviser and trusted him unreservedly. The two were much together, and their regard for each other was a matter of common knowledge among their associates. How far Mr. Gilbert's business affairs were affected by Johnson's operations and the collapse of the First National bank only a full investigation of that institution's condition can disclose.

Mr. Gilbert had been missing since Friday morning, when, after breakfast, he started toward town.

THE NAVY'S EXHIBIT.

Extensive Preparations For the Buffalo Fair at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The naval exhibit for the government building at the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo will be a unique affair. It consists of an 8 by 20 foot map of the world, on which will be designated the principal maritime ports of the world and the United States navy yards and stations at home and abroad.

The map will cover the globe from the sixtieth parallel north to the sixtieth parallel south, and upon it will be placed 307 miniature lead models, each representing a battleship, cruiser, monitor, gunboat, torpedo boat, submarine boat, sailing vessel, collier or tug of the United States navy in commission, in ordinary, under repairs or under construction. The models of cruising vessels will be painted white, the torpedo boats green, the colliers and sailing vessels black and the tugs and yardboats orange.

The largest of the models is not more than 1½ inches in length. The position of each model on the map will show the location each day of the corresponding vessel of the navy.

Freight Rates to Go Up.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Journal of Commerce today says: "Material advances in rail and lake rates on west bound traffic are to take effect with the opening of navigation, and canal men look upon these advances as very significant in view of the present canal situation. At a recent meeting of representatives of trunk lines and their connecting lake lines it was practically decided to advance the rates, and the independent lake lines and canal lines, according to a prominent official of one of these independent companies, have been informed that they will be expected to make similar advances. A meeting of the lake and canal line associations will be held in Buffalo this week, when an advance in rates on those lines will be considered."

Attorney General Griggs Resigns.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Attorney General Griggs has handed his resignation to President McKinley, to take effect on March 31. He will be succeeded by Philander C. Knox of Pittsburg, unless something occurs between now and next Saturday to change the mind of the president. The present understanding of the members of the cabinet is that Mr. Knox has been definitely decided upon and that his appointment will be announced late in the week. If this programme is carried out, Mr. Knox will be able to take charge of the department of justice as soon as Mr. Griggs relinquishes his office. Attorney General Griggs will leave Washington next Saturday to resume his residence in New Jersey.

Fierce Blizzard In the West.

OMAHA, March 25.—Horace G. Burt, president of the Union Pacific railroad, and other Union Pacific officials are in a snow bank near Ogallala. A terrific blizzard is raging there, and it extends to Cheyenne. The snow is ten feet deep in places. All trains have been laid up since 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There are three at Julesburg, Colo., and four west bound trains at Ogallala. A dispatch from Ogallala says the storm was so violent that the trainmen could not see 50 feet and that the mercury was down nearly to zero.

Marseilles Strikers Quiet.

MARSEILLES, March 25.—The proposed arbitration of the differences involved in the strikes has led to a general relaxation in the situation. The measures of the police are now less strict. All troops have been removed from the streets and other public places, although retained under arms in barracks. Yesterday morning the street cars began running intermittently, and a regular service on all lines is promised. The strike of the bakers has not proved serious. Bread was delivered to all customers yesterday.
